A good collection was taken in aid of mission work. After the programme the Charlotte street ladies served refreshments to their visitors and thus concluded a very pleasant evening.

Millbrook.

Ven. Archdeacon Allen Vindicated.

A meeting was held in St. Thomas church, Millbrook, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 10th, of members of all the congregations of the parish of Cavan. The following amongst others were present:—A. Wood, T. G. Kells, Thos. McCamus, Jos. Clark, Jas. Fair, Johnston Fair, S. Jeffery, Wm. Syer, Simpson Shaw, W. H. Wood, W. H. Wood, Jr., N. Fallis, S. Benson, Wm. Williamson, A. Maycock, Jas. Fisher, G. T. Elliott, Thos. Medd, Robt. Vance, Wm. Vance, W. W. Needler, Geo. Needler, J. E. Fanning, A. Leech, A. E. Hayter, R. H. Kells, Jos Craig, J. C. Kells, W. G. Wood, Dr. H. Turner, Geo. Fowler, J. A. Preston.

Ven. Archdeacon Allen addressed the meeting, referring at considerable length to the newspaper reports of certain divorce proceedings in Chicago in which his name had appeared. He denied in the most emphatic terms all the charges made against him directly or indirectly and explained the origin of some of the idle and groundless rumours which had been circulated about him. Several other gentlemen also spoke briefly and all expressed themselves as having entirely disbelieved the vile accusations from the first and that they were pleased to know that every ground for suspicion had been cleared away.

The following resolution was then unanimously passed: Moved by Mr. McCamus, seconded by Mr. Robert Vance, that this meeting, comprising a large representation of members of all the congregations of the Parish of Cavan, having heard Ven. Archdeacon Allen's emphatic denial of the charges recently made against his character, and his explanation of all the matters connected therewith, desires to express its entire confidence in his integrity, and its firm conviction of his complete innocence of all the charges made against him.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 11 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

HAVE NOT LOST A SINGLE DAY

Address and Presentation.

Mr. George Gilchrist Kindly Remembered by the Members of the Y.M.C.A.

Last evening after the meeting of the devotional and invitation committees in the parlour of the Y.M.C.A., a pleasant affair occurred which will not soon be forgotten by those present. Mr. George Gilchrist, who for the past few years has been prominently identified with the Y.M.C.A. in various capacities, and latterly as the genial chairman of the invitation committee was made the recipient of a handsomely illuminated and engrossed address by the members of the Y.M.C.A.

Mr. R. J. Colville, General Secretary, read the address and made the presentation. The address is a most beautifully engrossed specimens of penmanship. The caligraphy was executed in Toronto through the influence of Mr. Harry Grundy. It was contained in a valuable and handsome leather case.

Peterborough Young Men's, Christian Association.

TO MR. GEORGE GILCHRIST.

DEAR SIR AND BROTHER,—We the members of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association, have heard with sincere regret of your removal from amongst us, your sterling Christian character has endeared you to us by that blest tie which binds our hearts together in Christian love and fellowship and has been an incentive in our work for Christ among young men. As chairman of the Invitation Committee your faithfulness to duty has shown your intense interest in our work and has been greatly blessed of God to the gathering of young men to our meetings where our Lord and Master has been lifted up and many drawn to him, and eternity alone will reveal the fruit of your faithful service in this important position. We commend you to the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ which is able to sustain and help you where'er he leads and you shall always have a warm place in our hearts and at the throne of grace we shall remember each other; and if we do not meet on earth again we have blessed hope of meeting with Jesus in the sweet bye and bye. Now the God of peace that brought again from the dead our Lord Jesus Christ, the Great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant make you perfect in every good work to do His will, working in you that which is well pleasing in His sight through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory forever and ever. Amen.

Done on behalf of the Association.

R. J. COLVILLE, General Secretary. GEO. J. EARLY, President.

Peterborough Feb'y 1892.

Mr. Gilchrist, who was taken entirely by surprise, made a brief address, thanking the members for their kindness, and expressing the happy relations and blessed ties which had ever existed between them. Though absent in body he would be ever present with the organization and its work in prayer and sympathy.

Mr. Gilchrist who has been for the past three years baker for Mr. Wm. Bacon, town, left this morning for Vancouver, B.C., where he will settle, His services will be greatly missed by the Y M C A.

ANOTHER TRIBUTE.

The same evening at the Y M C A rooms, Mr. Gilchrist, was presented on behalf of the South Ward Baptist Mission Sunday School, in which he has been a teacher, with the following address (to which he made a suitable reply), accompanied with the gift of a handsome gentlemen's companion:—

Peterborough South Ward Baptist Mission Sunday School.

TO MR. GEORGE GILCHRIST.

DEAR BROTHER,—We cannot permit you to depart from our midst without expressing our love and esteem for you. Your untiring zeal in the work, and cheerful Christian bearing have endeared you to us all—teachers and scholars. While we regret the loss we sustain, we cannot murmur, as we are satisfied that our Heavenly Father is leading you; and our prayer are, and shall be, that "He who guides the feet of His saints," may in all things direct your course.

Please accept the accompanying present as a small token of the love of the Mission School for you.

Signed on behalf of the school.

M. H. MINORS, Secretary. H. GRUNDY, Superintendent.

Peterborough, 23rd February, 1892.

After the presentation an adjournment was made to Mr. Harry Long's restaurent where an oyster supper was provided Mr. Gilchrist by a number of his fellow committee men. Short speeches were made by various members, expressing regret at his departure, and wishing him God speed in his new field of labour. A large number of his friends went down to the C.P.R. station this morning to see Mr. Gilchrist off on the 7.10, train for Vancouver, B. C.

Ashburnham's Voice is Heard.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—As there is quite a discussion going on among the ratepayers of Peterborough in reference to the temperance question, I thought it would be advisable to draw the attention of the authorities of Ashburnham to the necessity of decisive action being taken to rid the village of the disreputable house near the the C. P. R. "diamond." We residents have always been proud of the fact that Ashburnham is one of the healthiest villages in Ontario, but of late, I am sorry to say, the moral atmosphere of the village has become polluted by the existence of such a house in our midst. The house in question is situated within a block from our two churches and public schools, and its existence is by no means a secret among the youth of the village. The frequenters of this place are not the tough element of the village and Peterborough, but young men occupying respectable positions in society and commerce, and if their names were published I am quite safe in saying that many respectable families would be disgraced. A few nights ago as many as six shots were fired by the man of the house, at a number of young men from town. It is also known for a fact that intoxicating drink can be procured there. Will the authorities move in the matter? Something must be done to wipe this place out of existence, and show outside towns that we are a moral people. Will the council not act in the matter, and urge our constable to do his duty? If not the ratepayers will move and drive it from the village. This is a question of morality, on which all will agree, and it is to be hoped that, in the interests of the moral welfare of the village, immediate action will be taken and the "stain" wiped out. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space, I am

Yours truly,
A RESIDENT.

Norwood Races.

Another Large Crowd and a Good Day's Sport Enjoyed.

The second day's race at Norwood passed off yesterday even more successfully than the first. There was a tremendous crowd present, scores standing upon the ice while hundreds lined the shore. The track was very deep and soft, huge pools of slush and water lying upon its surface, consequently no time was taken. The judges were Messrs. Torney Spellman, Hastings, Wm. Morgan and Mr. Bartlett, Lindsay. The interest in each race did not prove to be very keen or exciting. In the open race "May Flower" "Volunteer" and "Minnie Bell" kept well together throughout the three straight heats. "Sunday" who is owned by a gentlemen from Dundas was "out of it" being distanced in the first heat. The following are the names of the horses entered in the open race and their owners "May Flower," Jas. Dixon, Toronto; "Volunteer," Mr. Collins, Toronto; "Minnie Bell," F. J. Daly, Peterborough.

Each horse took the race in three straight heats coming in in the order named. "Minnie Bell" being a pacer did not stand so good a chance as the trotters on account of the bad condition of the track. She was driven by Mr. Tim Hayes, of Lindsay. "Sunday" although left away in the rear in the first heat, before the race commenced, was by all odds the favorite in the pool box.

In the named race, there were only three entries, "Harold Hartwood," Alex Patterson, Ashburnham; "Laura Cook," Silas Cook, Toronto; and "Fred S," Connor Bros., Peterborough. In the pool box there was even money put upon each horse. There were three heats trotted in this race also, each horse coming his respective place in three straights.

Horse.	Driver.
Harold Hartwood	Alex Patterson	1	1	1
Laura Cook	Mr. Collins	2	2	2
Fred S	Jas. Connors	3	3	3

This brought the races to a close. A Sweepstake Race was on the tapis, but did not materialize. There were only two horses entered for it, "Gladstone," owned by John Newhall, Peterborough, and "Volunteer," owned by Mr. Collins, Toronto, consequently the race did not come off,

The afternoon's sport was brought to a close at four o'clock, and thus ended a two days' successful meet.

NOTES.

In the open race yesterday there was a purse of $100, 1st $75, 2nd $50 3rd $25.

The green race was for a $50 purse, 1st $30, 2nd $20, 3rd $10.

Mr Martin Connors received word yesterday that the Cobourg races which were to have been held to-day and to-morrow had been postponed until Friday and Saturday.

The winter races at Sterling were held yesterday and to-day on the Oak Hill pond. The three minute trot and the green race were held yesterday. To-day there is the free for all and a match race between two ponies. No horses from this vicinity are entered.

A local sportsman said last night that he would give fifty dollars towards getting up two days races in Peterborough. This is a generous offer.

A large number of local sports intend taking in the Cobourg races.

"Fred S," who took part in the named race yesterday, is a four year old colt. He has a record before him.

CONGRATULATIONS.

JOY IN HEAVEN OVER ONE SINNER THAT REPENTETH.

Rev. Dr. Talmage Preaches on the Lost Sheep and the Ninety and Nine Just Persons—A Powerful Presentation of the Glad Tidings.

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, February 21, 1892.—Dr. Talmage preached here to-day to an enormous audience. He expects to be absent from home about ten days, during which period he speaks in as many cities. The subject of his sermon was "Heavenly Congratulations." His evident intention was to make worlds that seem a great way off from each other appear very near. His text was taken from Luke 15:7: "Likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine just persons that need no repentance."

A lost sheep! Nothing can be more thoroughly lost. I look through the window of a shepherd's house at night. The candles are lighted. The shepherd has just placed his staff against the mantel. He has taken off his coat, shaken out of it the dust and hung it up. I see by the candle light that there are neighbors who have come in. The shepherd, fagged out with the long tramp, sits down on a bench, and the wife and children and the neighbors say to him: "Come now, tell us how you found the poor thing." "Well," he says, "this morning I went out to the yard to look at the flock. No sooner had I looked over the fence than I saw something wrong. The fact was they did not count right. Ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven, ninety-eight, ninety-nine—only ninety-nine. M'Donald, you know we had a hundred. And I wondered which one was gone, and I began again, and I counted ninety-five, ninety-six, ninety-seven, ninety-eight, ninety-nine. Well, I whistled up the dog, and I started on the fields and across the bridges, and I tracked the moors, and I leaped the gullies, but no bleating of the poor thing did I hear, I said to myself: "The lamb must have fallen into a ditch, or a pack of wolves from the mountains must have torn it to pieces and sucked its life out." But I could not give it up. You see it was a pet lamb. It was that one with the black spot on the right shoulder that used to come and lick my hand as I crossed the field, and somehow I could not give it up. So I went on and on until after a while I heard the dog bark, and I said: 'What's that?' Then I hastened to the top of the hill, and I looked down, and there I saw the poor lamb. It had fallen into the ditch, and as I came where it was and bent over the ditch, and stooped down to lift the poor thing out, I wish you could have seen the loving, and imploring, and tender way it looked at me. I lifted it out, and it was all covered with the slush and the mud. It was an awful thing to do, but I lifted it out, and it was so lame and so weak it could not walk along, so I threw it over my shoulders, and I started homeward; and the condition of that lamb you may judge of from the coat which I have just hung up. But I tramped on and on until it is safe in the yard, poor thing! Thank God, thank God!" Then the shepherd's wife spread the table and brought out the best fare that the cabin could afford, and they sat up very late that night, and they talked, and they laughed, and they sang, and they ate, and they drank, and they danced, and told over and over and over again the story of the lost sheep that was found.

With such tenderness and rusticity of illustration does Christ represent the soul's going off and the soul's coming back, when he says: "Likewise there is joy in Heaven among the angels of God over the sinner that repenteth more than over ninety and nine just persons that need no repentance." To repent is to feel that you are bad, and to be sorry about it, and to turn over a new leaf, and to pray for forgiveness and help. Just as soon as a man does that, they hear right away of it in Heaven. There are no gossips in glory going around to chatter and laugh when a man falls; but there are many souls in glory who are glad to run about and tell it when a man is saved. The news goes very quickly from gate to gate, and from north wall to south wall, and from east wall to west wall, and in three minutes every citizen of Heaven has heard of it; for "there is joy in Heaven among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." I can very easily understand how there should be joy in Heaven over a Pentecost with three thousand souls saved in one day—no mystery about that; I can understand how there should be joy in Heaven over the Parish of Schotts, when four hundred souls were saved under one sermon of Mr. Livingston; I can understand how there should be joy in heaven over the great awakening in the time of Harland Page, when in one year four hundred and seventy-three thousand souls were brought to God in the United States; I can understand very easily how there should be joy in heaven over five hundred thousand souls converted in 1857, in this country; but mark you, my text announces there is joy in heaven among the angels of God over one, just one sinner that repenteth.

Some cathedrals have one tower; some cathedrals have two, three, four towers. Did you ever hear them all ring at once? I am told that the bell in the cathedral of St. Paul rings only on rare occasions, for instance, at the death or the birth of a king. Have you seen a cathedral with four towers? and have you heard them all strike into one great chime of gladness? Here is a man who is moral. He is an example to a great many professors of religion in some things; he never did a mean thing in his life; he pays all his debts, and is a citizen and a good neighbor, but he says he is not a Christian. Some day the Holy Spirit comes into his heart and he sees that he cannot depend upon his morality for salvation. He says: "O Lord God, I have been depending upon my good works; I find I am a sinner, and I want Thy salvation. Lord, for Jesus' sake, have mercy on me." And God pardons him, and immediately one of the towers of Heaven strikes a silvery chime, for there are four towers to the heavenly temple. Here is a man who is bad; he knows he is bad; and everybody else knows he is bad; but he is not an outcast, far from being an outcast. He moves in respectable circles. But one day, by the power of the Holy Ghost, he rouses up to see his sinfulness and he says: "O Lord, have mercy: I am a wanderer, and without Thee I perish. Have mercy." God hears him, and immediately two of the towers of heaven strike a silvery chime. But here is an outcast. He was picked up last night out of the gutter and carried to the police station. He has been in the penitentiary three times. He is covered and soaked with loathsomeness and abomination. Arousing from his debauch, he cries out: "O God, have mercy on me. Thou who didst pardon the penitent thief, hear me cry for mercy." And the Lord listens and pardons, and no sooner is the poor wretch pardoned than three of the great towers of heaven strike up a silvery chime. But here is a waif of the street. She passes under the gas-light, and your soul shudders with a great horror. No pity for her. No commiseration for her. As she passes down the street, she hears a song in a midnight mission, and as she listens to that song she hears:

All may come, whoever will,
This Man receives poor sinners still.

She puts into that harbor, she kneels by the rough bench near the door, she says, "O, Lord! Thou who didst have mercy on Mary Magdalen, take my blistered feet off the red hot pavement of hell," God says, "My daughter, thy sins are forgiven thee: go in peace." Now, all the four towers of heaven strike a silvery chime, and they who pass through the celestial streets say, "What's that? why, the worst sinner must have been saved. Hear all the four towers ring, and ring, and ring." "And there is joy in heaven among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."

My subject impresses you, I think, with the thought that it is possible for us to augment the happiness of heaven. People think that souls before the throne are as happy as they can be. I deny it. Look at that mother before the throne of God. When she died she left her son in this world a vagabond. That son repented of his iniquities and came to God. The report of that salvation has reached heaven. Do you tell me that mother before the throne of God has not her joy richly augmented? There is many a man in this house to-day who could go out with a torch and kindle a new bonfire of victory on the hills of heaven. If you would this day repent and come to God, the news of your salvation would reach them, and then, hark to the shout of the ransomed. Your little child went away from you into the good land. While she was here you brought her all kinds of beautiful presents. Sometimes you came home at nightfall with your pockets full of gifts for her, and no sooner did you put your night-key into the latch than she began at you saying, "Father what have you brought me?" She is now before the throne of God. Can you bring her a gift to-day? You may. Coming to Christ and repenting of sin, the tidings will go up to the throne of God, and your child will hear of it. O, what a gift for her soul to-day! She will skip with new gladness on the everlasting hills when she hears it.

My subject also impresses me with the idea that heaven and earth are in close sympathy. People talk of heaven as though it were a great way off. They say it is hundreds of thousands of miles before you reach the first star, and then you go hundreds of thousands of miles before you get to the second star, and then it is millions of miles before you reach heaven. They say heaven is the centre of the universe. That is not the idea of my text. I think the heart of heaven beats very close to our world. We measure distances by the time taken to traverse these distances. It used to be a long distance to San Francisco. Many weeks and months were passed before you could reach that city. Now it is six or seven days. It used to be six weeks before you could voyage from here to Liverpool. Now you can go that distance in six or seven days. And so I measure the distance between earth and heaven, and I find it is only a flash. It is one instant here, and another instant there. It is very near to-day. Do you not feel the breath of heaven on your face? Christ says in one place it is not twenty-four hours' distance, when he says to the penitent thief, "This day—this day—shalt thou be with Me in Paradise." It is not a day, it is not an hour, it is not a minute, it is not a second. O! how near heaven is to earth. By oceanic cable you send a message. As it is expensive to send a message, you compress a great deal of meaning in a few words. Sometimes in two words you can put vast meaning. And it seems to me that angels of God who carry news from earth to Heaven, need to take up this hour, in regard to your soul, only two words in order to kindle with gladness all the redeemed before the throne, only two words: "Father saved," "mother saved," "son saved," "daughter saved." And "there is joy in Heaven among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth."

My subject also impresses me with the fact that the salvation of the soul is of vast importance. If you should make $200,000 this year, do you suppose that news would be carried to heaven? It would not be of enough importance or significance to be carried heavenward. If at the next quadrennial election you are made President of the United States, do you suppose that news should be carried to heaven? Do you suppose that the news of a revolution in France or Spain would be carried to heaven? These things are not of enough importance, but there is one item that is sure to be carried. It is the salvation of your soul, it is your repentance before God.

Having found in my own experience that this religion is a comfort and a joy, I stand here to commend it to all men. In the days of my infancy I was carried by Christian parents to the house of God and consecrated in baptism to the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost; but that did not save me. In after time I was taught to kneel at the Christian family alter with father and mother and brothers and sisters, the most of them now in glory; but that did not save me. But one day the voice of Christ came into my heart saying, "Repent, repent; believe, believe," and I accepted the offer of mercy, and though no doubt there was more joy in heaven over the conversion of other souls because of their far-reaching influence, I verily believe when I gave my heart to God there were some spirits in heaven the gladder for the deed. "There is joy in heaven among the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth." Turn this day to the Lord who bought you. Let this whole audience surrender themselves to Jesus Christ. If for ten, twenty, fifty years you have not prayed, begin now to pray. "O!" you say, "I can't pray." Can you not say, "God be merciful to me a sinner?"

There were ninety and nine that safely lay
In the shelter of the fold:
But one was out on the hills away,
Far off from the gates of gold,
Away on the mountains wild and bare,
Away from the tender Shepherd's care.

"Lord, Thou hast here Thy ninety and nine,
Are they not enough for Thee?"
But the Shepherd made answer "This of Mine
Has wandered away from Me;
And although the road be rough and steep,
I go to the desert to find My sheep."

But none of the ransomed ever knew
How deep were the waters crossed:
Nor how dark was the night that the Lord passed through Ere he found His sheep that was lost.
Out in the desert He heard its cry,
Sick and helpless, and ready to die.

"Lord, whence are those blood-drops all the way,
That mark out the mountain's track?"
"They were shed for one who had gone astray Ere the Shepherd could bring him back."
"Lord, whence are Thy hands so rent and torn?"
"They are pierced to-night by many a thorn."

But all through the mountains, thunder-riven,
And up from the rocky steep,
There arose a cry to the gate of heaven,
"Rejoice! I have found my sheep!"
And the angels echoed around the throne,
"Rejoice, for the Lord brings back His own!"

Railway Amalgamation Rumours.

From Toronto comes a rumour that negotiations are on foot for the amalgamation or union of the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railway companies, and that when the consolidation is completed the Intercolonial and its branches will be handed over to the new corporation. It is quite possible that this report is well founded. On one occasion when Parliament was granting assistance to the Canadian Pacific Company, Sir Charles Tupper inserted a clap-trap clause in the bill providing that the Government should never amalgamate with the Grand Trunk, but Mr. Blake pointed out at the time that such an obstacle could be very easily evaded if an amalgamation was found desirable. It will be very easy to repeal the clause in question at the coming session if Mr. Van Horne so orders.

French Politics.

Such a Government crisis as that through which France is passing to-day, would, a few years ago, have created alarm for the stability of the Republic. No such danger seems to exist now. Boulanger in his fall dragged down not only his own party, but the Bourbons and the Bonapartes also, and now the enemies of the Republic are utterly impotent. Both within and without France the Republic is regarded as safe until after the inevitable war. What will come then is beyond conjecture.

The Discharge of Hands.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, chief engineer of government railway, this morning confirmed the reports telegraphed from Moncton, N.B., of wholesale dismissals of employes on the International railway. The reduction of the staff was, he said, intended to be permanent, and was carried out with the view of reducing the expenses of working the the road without in any way impairing the efficiency of the service. The step had been contemplated for some time and was taken now because the time was believed to be opportune.

The Next Gerrymander.

One of the measures to be considered by parliament at the coming session will be a redistribution bill necessitated by the results of the recent census. If the measure follows the statistics closely New Brunswick will loose two seats and Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island one each, while Manitoba will gain two, but it is believed that some endeavor will be, as well, made to give the cities the extra representation to which their population entitles them. In that case a wholesale gerrymander may be looked for.

Women who suffer from nervous and physical debility find great help in the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It produces the rapid effect of a stimulant, without reaction—the result being a permanent increase of health and vigor, both of mind and body.

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lubon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flushes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1. dw

Hidden Foes.

Among the many foes to human health and happiness dyspepsia and constipation are enemies greatly to be feared. With B. B. B. to drive them out of the system, however, no danger need be anticipated, as every dose brings the sufferer a long step further on the road to perfect health and strength, and a permanent cure always results. dw

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. All nations and tongues declar St. Leon perfection to assist digestion, purification of the blood, the assimilation of the food, circulation and promote healthy vigor life-long. St. Leon Water has no compeer. For sale all over. dw

A Wonderful Change.

GENTLEMEN,—For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B. B. B. I can eat heartily of any food, and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

HOW AN OXFORD TUTOR BLACK MAILED NOBLEMEN.

An Ingenious Scheme Which Landed Its Perpetrator in Prison The Proposed Gladstonian Home Rule Bill Baron Roberts of Candaahr — Mrs. Montagu and the Murder Charge.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—In the Bow-street Police Court yesterday the case of Maitland Morland, who is described as an Oxford tutor who is charged with an attempt to blackmail Lord Hothfield, was resumed.

The evidence developed the fact that the prisoner had engaged in systematic attempts to blackmail noblemen by writing letters purporting to have been written by a woman.

Lord Chesterfield, Lord Ormathwaite and others testified that they had received letters similar to those received by Lord Hothfield.

The solicitor representing Earl Russell, whose wife recently unsuccessfully sued for a divorce, produced a letter signed "Ruth Morland," which was received just before the Earl married Miss Scott It read:

"You are to be married next week. What would Miss Scott think of you if she could read your letters that are in my possession? It is altogether impossible that she may see them before Thursday, and that hundred you owe me, of which you have not paid a penny, may so anger me that I will put the letters in my husband's hands, and confess my adultery with you and cause myself to figure in the Divorce Court. Send an answer by return post or I will know what to do legally."

COST $50,000 A SHOCK.

And There Were 2388 Shocks All Told, 79 of Them Very Severe.

YOKOHAMA, Feb. 24.—The prefectures of Gifu and Aichia are still visited by earthquake shocks, only two days having been entirely free from oscillations since Oct. 28, the date of the great one, when 55,006 houses were destroyed and 4957 persons killed.

Two thousand three hundred and eighty-eight shocks were felt in Japan during the past three months, says The Japan Mail of Feb. 6, 79 of which were quite severe. Money for the relief of sufferers by them was subscribed at the rate of 73,367 yens ($51,000) per shock.

An orphan home for children orphaned by the October earthquake was opened in Yokohama Feb. 5.

It is proposed to reform the mode of house building in Japan to give better protection in case of earthquake. It is also proposed to build fortifications in Japan by reducing the standing army by one-third and applying the money thus saved to the work of construction.

Discovery of a Plot to Blow Up the Spanish Embassy.

PARIS, Feb. 24.—The French police claim to be on the track of a gang of dynamite conspirators preparing for Mayday. The police connect this conspiracy with a recent robbery of 75 pounds of dynamite from the Seine stone quarries. Early this morning under a magisterial order domiciliary visits were made to all suspected houses.

Altogether 360 houses were searched. Only a few of the missing cartridges were obtained, most of which were found in the lodgings of a man named Borgier, who was known to be an Anarchist. When questioned Borgier declared that he knew nothing whatever about the cartridges.

The Journal des Debats says that the Prefecture of Police has information that the cartridges were designed to blow up the Spanish embassy in Paris in order to avenge the recent execution of four Anarchists in Xeres.

Judges' Salaries.

OTTAWA, Feb. 24.—A deputation consisting of Hon. Edward Blake, Q.C., T. D. Barwick and others, representing the Law Society of Ontario, had an interview with the Minister of Justice on Saturday and presented to him the resolutions recently adopted by the bar recommending an increase of salary for the judges. Sir John Thompson gave the usual promise that the matter should receive consideration; but of course no intimation of the Government's intention in the matter will be given until after Parliament meets.

Minister Charged With Blackmail.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—A sensation has been caused in East St. Louis by the arrest of Rev. J. M. Laird of Gillespie, Maconpin & Co., on a charge of attempted blackmail preferred by Frank B. Bowman, the largest land-owner and probably the wealthiest man in East St. Louis. Mr. Bowman received two letters from Rev. Mr. Laird, charging him with undue intimacy with Mrs. Laird and offering to compromise the offence on payment of $1000 cash. Rev. Mr. Laird acknowledges writing the letters and declares that the charges are true.

Machray Will Return.

OTTAWA, Feb 24.—Harry Cooper, manager for Mr. Robert Machray, states that Mr. Machray has been heard from by friends here, and it is believed he will return home in a few days and settle matters up Robbed the Peddler.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 23.—A jewelry peddler named Goldon, hailing from Montreal, who has been selling watches in the lumber camp in the vicinity of Rat Portage, had his valise stolen yesterday. It contained 100 watches valued at $3000. There is no clue to the thief.

DEFENDING MRS. MONTAGU.

Said to Be Persecuted On Account of Her Religion.

BELFAST, Feb. 24.—A decided sensation was created yesterday at Portrush, five miles from Coleraine, by the action of the parish priest, Father McDonogh, who warmly espoused the cause of Mrs. Ann Margaret Montagu, accused of feloniously slaying her little daughter.

Father McDonogh, after mass yesterday, declared that the coroner's jury which heard the evidence furnished against Mrs. Montagu, and which found her guilty of causing her child's death, was composed entirely of Protestants, and that they were persecuting the lady referred to on account of her religion. She attended mass regularly, and the healthy, happy appearance of her children was generally noted and most favorably commented upon.

DALY AND EGAN.

Member of Parliament Redmond Visits Them in Portland Jail.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Mr. John E. Redmond, Member of Parliament for Waterford and present leader of the Parnellites, has visited the imprisoned dynamiters in Portland jail.

His first interview was with Daly, with whom he conversed for over two hours. Daly was eager to obtain information regarding Mr. Parnell's death and expressed gratitude to those Englishmen who had voted to support Mr. Redmond's appeal for mercy.

On being seen, Egan declared that he would rather serve out the entire period of his sentence than compromise the fate of his fellow-prisoners.

DUBLIN, Feb. 23.—At the regular meeting of the National League held here to day Mr. Edmund Leamy, member of the House of Commons for South Sligo, said that the Nationalists were now sure that Mr. Gladstone knew what kind of home rule was necessary for Ireland. Although some of the Irish members of Parliament had declared their readiness to take whatever the Liberals gave, none dared to say they would ultimately take less than provided for in Mr. Parnell's program.

Though the Parnellites were in the minority against the McCarthyites it was Parnell's voice that the English Liberals listened to. Any Gladstonian measure had no chance of acceptance unless it was laid down on the lines shown by Parnell.

The Duke Successful.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—Application was recently made to the court by the Marchioness of Blandford to compel her former husband, the Duke of Marlborough, to increase the sum paid by him for the support of the Marquis of Blandford, their son and the heir of the Duke, and to make life provision for him. The court after hearing argument to-day refused to grant the order asked for. The Marquis of Blandford will not be of age until November of the present year. He now receives £300 per annum from the Duke.

Close Vote on Disestablishment.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—In the House of Commons to-day Samuel Smith, member for Flintshire, moved the disestablishment of the church in Wales. The motion was rejected by a vote of 267 to 220.

De Cobain to Be Expelled.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—In the House of Commons Mr. Balfour gave notice that on Friday next he would move that Mr. De Cobain, having fled to escape justice, be expelled from the House of Commons.

Where Marriage Proved a Failure.

OTTAWA, Feb. 24.—The following are the applications for divorce which will come before the Dominion Senate this session:

James Albert Aikens, Winnipeg, asks for divorce from his wife, Martha Berth Aikens, now said to be in the State of New York.

James Doyle, barrister, Toronto, for the same reasons, applies for divorce from his wife, Augusta L. Doyle.

Ada Donigan, Compton, Que., on the grounds of cruelty and desertion, seeks separation of the marital tie which binds her to her husband, Joseph Albert Donigan.

Hattie Adele Harrison of Tilsonburg, Ont., asks for divorce from her husband, Henry Bailey Harrison, telegraph operator, who married a young lady in Ottawa during the last session of Parliament while his first wife was living in the West. Bigamy is the grounds for application.

Mead Herbert Remnington, Pincher Creek, N.W.T., applies for divorce for the reasons that his wife, Louise Mead, has deserted him and is now said to be living at Waterbury, Conn.

Valentine Sitter Rainham, Haldimand, charges his wife, Almeda Sitter, with adultery and desires divorce.

James Wright of Donald, B.C., on grounds of adultery and desertion, seeks divorce from his wife, Sarah Ann Wright, or McDougald.

Their Wages 5 Cents Per Day.

MUNICH, Feb. 24.—At a libel trial held yesterday the fact was revealed that an embroidery manufacturer had in his employ women, who, under the "sweating" system, received only 5 cents per day.

Federation in New South Wales.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Feb. 24.—The Premier of New South Wales announced in the Assembly to-day that a federation bill will be introduced at the next session.

The Quebec Commission.

QUEBEC, Feb. 24.—At 10.25 this morning His Honor Justice Pagnuelo and Messrs. McMaster and Masten, Royal Commissioners, ascended the bench. The secretary read the indictment which is based on the issue of certain letters of credit, promises to pay certain sums, etc., by the members of the late Mercier Government to Messrs. Langelier, Valbere and others, also several sums and subsidies to the Baie des Chaleurs Railway, the Drummond Railway and the Montreal & Sorel Railway.

H. T. Mackin, assistant provincial treasurer, was called in the witness box and sworn. He recollected having issued a check to the order of J. C. Langelier in November, 1890, for the Baie des Chaleurs Railway. The warrant of the Lieut.-Governor in Council is acquitted by Hon. Mr. Mercier. The check was endorsed by Langelier and Mercier.

TERRIBLE ITCHING

Used Everything Five Months. In Three Weeks not a Scar or Pimple. Cured by Cuticura.

When my baby was three months old his cheeks and forehead began to break out with white pimples on red surface. In a few days itching commenced, which was terrible. After he would rub it, matter would ooze from the points. In a short time it spread over the top of his head, then scabs soon formed on head and face. We used everything we could hear of for nearly five months. It grew worse all the time. I saw your advertisement of the CUTICURA REMEDIES in the "Chicago Weekly." We purchased CUTICURA REMEDIES and commenced their use. In three weeks' time there was not a sore or pimple, not even a scar, on head or face. He is nineteen months old now, and has no signs of the disease. His scalp is healthy and he has a beautiful head of hair. (See portrait herewith.)

MRS. OSCAR JAMES, Woodston, Kan.

My infant, eighteen months old, was afflicted with skin eruptions on his hips. Bad sores came on other parts. All remedies failed until I procured CUTICURA. Cured a year and no return of disease.

MRS. A. M. WALKER, Carsonville, Ga.

Cuticura Resolvent

The new Blood Purifier, internally (to cleanse the blood of all impurities and poisonous elements), and CUTICURA, the great Skin Cure, and CUTICURA SOAP, an exquisite Skin Beautifier, externally (to clear the skin and scalp and restore the hair), have cured thousands of cases where the suffering was almost beyond endurance, hair lifeless or all gone, disfigurement terrible. What other remedies have made such marvellous cures?

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.50 Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, 50 illustrations, and 100 testimonials.

REAL ESTATE!

Our List is too Long and our Bargains too Big for detail in our space

Come to our office if you want to Buy, Sell, Rent, or Exchange Real Estate of any kind. Remember this is money, and you can save both by calling on us because we have property for Sale, Rent and Exchange in every locality. If you want to buy a home, we can suit you. If you want a business stand, we have them in the right places and at correct prices. If you have a few dollars, a few hundred, or a few thousand invested at from 3 to 6 per cent and that your intelligence shows you that if you were to invest that money in Peterborough Real Estate with its present bright and future brilliant prospects, you could make more money in one year than would accrue at above rates of interest in ten years. Life is short and if ten years' work can be done in one, why not adopt the new plan? Example—Two men are going to Toronto, one adheres to the old way and walks, occupying three days, the other takes the train and arrives there in less than three hours. Who would like to be compared to No. 1, and yet where is the difference in the case of those who are willing to accept 3 to 6 per cent. interest and refuse 20 to 50 per cent You say the latter cannot be safe nor honest; we reply, call at our office, and we will prove it safer than the former and perfectly honest.

But there are two necessary conditions to be observed to prevent you from counting your loss instead of your gain. You must have a guide, and he must be honest and he must thoroughly understand his business if you desire profit instead of loss. We have had several years practical experience in handling Peterborough real estate, and hundreds of our patrons can testify as to the value of our advice. We have never been as well prepared to serve our patrons as at present, and we are determined to make 1892 a memorable year in our real estate transactions as the one from which future millionaires will date their first stride, guided by our advice. Rich and poor, old and young, male and female, all, are most cordially invited to come to our office and see what we can do in the way of helping you on the road to riches. You can invest any amount you please with perfect safety. Any person wishing to sell their property quickly, can place it with us on reasonable terms, providing they are willing to sell AT OR UNDER VALUE.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

PERRY PLANS AN ESCAPE.

IT IS NIPPED IN THE BUD BY A DETECTIVE.

His Father Communicated With Him by Means of a Kiss Through the Bars of His Cell, and Yesterday He Gave His Father a Sketch of a Key and a Note, Which Were Confiscated.

LYONS, N.Y., Feb. 25.—Oliver Curtis Perry, the noted American express train robber, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Theodore Fries yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock and held for the grand jury.

When Perry and the deputy were about to leave the court room for the county jail Perry's father, Oliver H. Perry, came hurrying in from the railroad station from his home in Syracuse. The prisoner seemed much affected. Stepping up to him he said, "Hello, father," and kissed him. The father showed much emotion, and the prisoner seeing it said, "Don't cry, father, it will be all right."

Express Messenger McInerney is reported to be doing as well as could be expected after the wounds he received in his desperate encounter with Perry on Sunday morning. He rested quietly yesterday, and all his symptoms are favorable to recovery.

It is reported that Perry has a wife at Batavia, a daughter of James Lathe, whom he deserted.

Part of the Plunder Found.

Yesterday afternoon, when the man who represents himself as the father of Oliver Curtis Perry visited him at the county jail, the prisoner seemed very anxious regarding a hand satchel which he had left in some place in Syracuse and which his father promised to secure.

When Perry, senior, left for Syracuse last night he was followed by a detective, who traced him to the place where the satchel had been left. When he left the house the detective took it from him and brought it to Lyons this morning. When it was examined, among the contents was found the ear of a human being, which was preserved in alcohol and enclosed in a glass bottle, and two bands of gold battered from some of the jewelry stolen in the express robbery near Utica last September.

The sheriff showed the ear to Perry and asked him where he got it. He stated that he cut it from a colored man's head and intended to use it as an ornament on his mantel at home. Still he was very much excited over the affair and seems to think that he is playing in hard luck

An Affectionate Father.

Another suspicious occurrence took place at the same corridor door this evening after the prisoner returned from the Police Court. He was accompanied to the jail by his father, who was admitted.

The deputy-sheriff detected the prisoner pass a scrap of paper through the iron bars to his father. After the conversation had been finished Collins requested the elder Perry to step into the office, proceeded to search him and was rewarded by finding the scrap of paper, and on it was drawn an exact outline of the key which unlocks the corridor door.

Jerry Collins is of the opinion that the prisoner expected to have a key made by his father which would fit the lock and after opening the corridor door, to file the heavy steel bar which is on the outside and to which is attached a padlock out of reach from the inside. During the visit his father gave him some canned fruit and oranges. They were taken from him after his father's departure and will be examined for the purpose of ascertaining whether anything is concealed inside of them.

Persons connected with the jail seem to entertain the opinion that the man who represents himself as his father and who was so affectionately kissed by Perry after the hearing in Police Justice Carver's office today is not his father at all but an accomplice.

The more Perry's astounding crime, that unparalleled locomotive duel and the cross-country chase are discussed the greater becomes the wonder at Perry's astonishing nerve. The crime stands absolutely alone in the history of highway robbery in America. In all the wild and savage attacks on railway trains in the west there is nothing that compares with it for desperation on the part of the robber or for exciting incident in the robber's pursuit and capture.

Never before, probably, in the world was there such a duel fought as that between the two flying locomotives, the one manned by the desperate criminal and the other by the two railway employes, who were pursuing him. It was in a way like a running fight between two modern ironclads. The two engines backed and filled and passed and repassed each other and every time they passed each poured a volley into the other at such close range that the combatants could almost have clubbed each other with their weapons. The glass windows in the cabs of both engines were smashed in and the frame work around them was riddled with shots.

Oliver Curtis Perry is described as 28 years old, 5 feet 6 to 7 inches tall, of slight build, weighing about 130 pounds, with dark brown hair, brown eyes, high white forehead, with wrinkles between the eyes, giving his face a troubled, thoughtful expression; thin lips, rather long nose, slim white hands, with enlarged knuckles caused by hard work. He has a scar about three inches long upon the upper part of his forehead, which can be plainly seen when his hat is off. He also has a scar on his left arm and another on his right breast. At times he wears a small sandy mustache.

He is as unlike the desperado of yellow-covered literature as could be imagined. There is nothing ruffianly about his appearance or demeanor. He is gentlemanly and polite, and even a little effeminate. A nervous uneasy carriage is a noticeable characteristic.

Another thing, totally different from the ordinary desperado, remarkable in Perry is his voice. He speaks in tones that are almost girlish.

In dress he is neat and always tasteful. He is usually attired in dark clothes of fashionable cut and invariably wears gloves.

He was born in this state and began his criminal career, so far as the records show, when 14 years old. At that age he was arrested for burglary in Amsterdam, N.Y., and sent to the reformatory and afterwards to Rochester. After his release he went to Minnesota and signalized his advent there by robbing his uncle's store. For this offence he was sentenced to three years in the prison at Stillwater. While there he learned the trade of shoemaking, but as far as can be learned he never put that knowledge to any good use. Since then he traveled all over the country. While out west he tried his hand at the cowboy business. In Miles City, Mont., he received a pistol shot wound in the breast and was sent to the almshouse for treatment. He refuses to say how he was shot.

Notwithstanding his mild manners and feminine voice, Perry has a temper, and a hot one too. He demonstrated that fact when in the Montana almhouse by throwing a metal spittoon at another inmate and crushing the latter's skull. The man died the next day. Perry was tried and acquitted.

In addition to his accomplishments in the train-robbing line Perry has achieved some fame as a pseudo revivalist. He professes religion and ingratiates himself with ministers and church people generally. It is said that he has on several occasions shone as an exhorter. He has served as a freight and passenger brakeman on railroads, and it was while engaged thus that he acquired his knowledge of trains and learned how to handle a locomotive. During his railroad career he attended services at the church missions and frequented the free libraries for railroad men.

He has been variously known, while sneak thief, burglar, cow boy, brakeman and evangelist, as Oliver Curtis Perry, Haswell, Van Allen, Havens, Hamlin, Allen, Gavens, James, James Curtis, James Perry, James Curtis Perry and Oliver Moore.

The Assistant Postmaster at Hull Steals Registered Letters.

OTTAWA, Feb. 25.—Thomas Paquin, for 12 years assistant postmaster at Hull, Que., was arrested by Inspector O'Leary yesterday morning on a charge of opening and stealing registered letters and appropriating their money contents. Paquin is a newly-married man, and the full extent of his peculations is not known, but it is thought to be large.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

Deliverance by Gen. Foster on the Subject at New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—At the annual dinner of the New York Board of Trade and Transportation at Delmonico's last evening, Gen. J. W. Foster, the gentleman who, with Secretary Blaine, met the Canadian Reciprocity Commissioners at Washington recently and who has negotiated the reciprocity treaties with various nations under the McKinley Act, delivered an address.

Mr. Foster said Reciprocity is inseparably united to protection. It is impossible under the system of free trade. It is only when a country maintains a protective tariff that it is in a position to offer to other countries valuable concessions for specific products in return for exceptional favors for its own products. The country which breaks down the protective system and opens up its markets freely and without price to all nations is in no condition to secure exceptional favors from other countries.

The commercial reciprocity treaties recently negotiated between Germany, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and Belgium are based upon a recognition of this principle, and they effectually dispose of the question of free trade on the continent of Europe for the next 12 years at least—the period of duration of those treaties.

We have entered upon a similar policy in this country and if consistently steadily adhered to and not broken down by our own partisan action it bids fair to give to this nation a predominating commercial influence on this hemisphere, which will redound greatly to our prosperity and our national pride.

But, it may be asked, if this be true why not extend it to our Canadian neighbors on the north?

The first answer is that with our tropical neighbors, whose products are so dissimilar to ours, reciprocity is a simple matter, but when we come to deal with a country having thousands of miles of coterminous territory and with like products and industries the question becomes more complex.

But this is not the insuperable difficulty. The fact that Canada does not possess the right of negotiating her own treaties, but must have them negotiated for her by a distant power, which is controlled by economic principles entirely different from those of both United States and Canada, constitutes the chief barrier to any arrangement So long as other interests than those of Canada are to control negotiations for commerical relations with such of our neighbors as recognize American (in its broadest sense) as paramount to European influence on this hemisphere, to all such countries we should open the doors of trade as wide and as freely as the interests of our own established industries will permit. Beyond that the spirit of genuine Americanism does not require nor permit us to go."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Sherman asked that the Committee on Foreign Relations, if not incompatible with public interests, inform the Senate of the proceedings recently had with the representatives of the Dominion of Canada and the British Government as to arrangements for reciprocal trade with Canada. Agreed to.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—The State Department to-day issued a warrant for the Canadian Government for the extradition of Thomas Williamson wanted for forgery.

A YORKSHIRE CALAMITY

A SCORE OF FEMALE OPERATIVES KILLED.

A Massive Chimney Sixty Yards High Crashes Upon a Roof of a Factory Killing and Wounding the Employes—Fire Adds Its Horrors to the Affair—Many Bodies Recovered.

LEEDS, Feb. 25.—The manufacturing town of Clockheaton, in the West riding of Yorkshire, eight miles from Leeds, was yesterday the scene of a frightful accident, resulting in the loss of a number of lives.

A massive chimney 60 yards high at Marsh Mills' machinery and flannel factory in that place collapsed and fell on the roof of the factory just as a number of young women operatives were leaving work.

The fall of the chimney converted the wing of the factory on which it crashed into a heap of debris made up of fragments of masonry and the shattered remnants of machinery.

Fire Adds its Horrors.

The piteous cries of those caught in the ruins could be heard, and the horror of the scene was soon augmented by the breaking out of fire, in which numbers of the imprisoned victims were more or less burned.

A force of workmen and the fire brigade of the town speedily got to work to move the tons of debris.

The number already extricated includes eight killed, all women, and many injured by having limbs crushed.

Twelve of those who were in the building at the time of the disaster are still missing.

"Steeple Jacks," who have been occupied for a week past in repairing the chimney, found it was collapsing and made their escape.

The factory manager states that an expert examined the foundation of the chimney at 3 p.m. and declared it to be in a safe condition.

It is reported that the cause of the disaster was the removal of a number of defective bricks for the purpose of making repairs, which caused the structure to thus become unduly weakened.

A girl who was rescued from the garret was found with her head jammed between two beams. She gives a horrifying account of the spectacle presented by the ruins beneath her.

Five women are still missing.

The Death List Growing.

LEEDS, Feb. 25.—At 3 o'clock yesterday 12 bodies have been extricated from the ruins. Two of the wounded persons have succumbed to their injuries and another is in a dying condition.

Fifteen Men Entombed.

LISBON, Feb. 25.—An explosion occurred in a quarry pit near the royal palace of Ajuda.

Fifteen men are known to be entombed in the pit and all may have been killed.

The Cannes Sensation.

CANNES, Feb. 25.—At the inquiry in the Deacon shooting case, M. Baumann, the secretary of the Hotel Splendide, who was with Mr. Deacon when he burst in the locked door of Mrs. Deacon's room, testified that when he and Deacon entered the room Mrs. Deacon was undressed.

Mrs. Deacon's maid was also examined. She corroborated the testimony of M. Baumann, that Mrs. Deacon was undressed while Abeille was in her room.

Woman's Work Sometimes Done.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—In the House of Commons yesterday the bill amending the shop hours regulation bill, so as to include women, passed its second reading by a vote of 172 to 152.

A workshop as defined in the bill includes saloon, restaurants and drapershops and limits women's work to 74 hours weekly, including meal times. At present there is no law regulating the hours women shall be employed in shops.

Absconder Franck's Accomplice Sentenced.

BERLIN, Feb. 25.—Herr Schwieger, a stock broker of this city, who was convicted of being an accomplice of Herr Franck, the absconding bookkeeper of the Deutsche Bank, who is accused of having defrauded that institution out of 3,000,000 marks, was to-day sentenced to four years' imprisonment.

Her Case in the Commons.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—In the House of Commons Mr. Patrick O'Brien asked why Mrs. Robert Montagu had not been arrested until a week after the charge had been made against her. The Home Secretary replied that the arrest was perfectly regular. He declared that it was untrue that Mrs. Robert Montagu, in order to avoid trial, had attempted to leave the country.

One Deaf Mute Kills Another.

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 25.—Two deaf mutes named R. G. Bennett and R. I. Thompson, employed as firemen aboard the steamship City of New York, now in the Birkenhead dock, became involved in a quarrel to-day, in the course of which Bennett inflicted mortal wounds on the head of Thompson.

Begged Not to Fire Upon the People.

BRUSSELS, Feb. 25.—The drawing of the numbers for service in the army began yesterday, and last night anarchistic bills were posted all over the town, calling upon the conscripts to desert, or, if they remained in the army, to fire into the air when they were ordered to attack the people.

Lady Evelyn Has a Mishap.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—Lady Evelyn Gordon-Lennox, while hunting with the Goodwood foxhounds yesterday, had her collar-bone broken and was severely bruised.

George Meredith, LL.D.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The honorary degree of Doctor of Laws has just been bestowed by the University of St. Andrew's upon George Meredith, the novelist.

Mme. Karaveloff Acquitted.

SOFIA, Feb. 25.—Mme. Karaveloff and her two alleged accomplices were yesterday acquitted of the charge of treason.

The Loss of the Pearl.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The ship Pearl, bound for Iceland, has been lost near Peterhead. Twelve of the crew were saved and arrived home.

Healy and The Freeman's Journal.

DUBLIN, Feb. 25.—It is understood that Timothy Healy has purchased all the shares in The Freeman's Journal, formerly owned by the mother of the original proprietor, Mr. Gray.

THE NEW SENATOR.

As announced in yesterday's impression, the senatorial vacancy for this district was filled by the appointment of Mr. John Dobson, of Lindsay. While the EXAMINER has no fault to find with the personnel of this appointment, it regrets that the claims of Peterborough have been again overlooked. So long as the government make it a rule to appoint only Conservatives to the Senate, our local patriotism demands that this town and county should not be ignored, nor the claims of the leading representative of our best type of citizenship. From the standpoint of party services, the claims of Mr. James Stevenson are of the strongest character. He has been a faithful and untiring worker in the interests of his party for years, and has earned the comparative rest which a senatorial position implies. By his political experience, by his civic experience in the mayor's chair for years, by his business ability, developed in a long and prosperous commercial career, by his public spirit as a citizen, by his fidelity to the interests of his party and by many other considerations the government has ample warrant for knowing that in appointing Mr. Stevenson to the Senate it would have met with popular approval, and served the public interests in as complete a manner as any other appointment that could be made from the ranks of the Conservative party. This county has a right to complain that the Dominion Government has in a second instance ignored its paramount claims to representation in the senate. They seem inclined to accept all the support which this county so humbly and faithfully gives without rendering a quid pro quo. Men who have fought their battles, and done yeoman service for the party, are overlooked for men whose services and claims to recognition are of comparative insignificance. Seeing that the Government will not select a Liberal for the position of senator, they have lost a golden opportunity of doing justice to this town and district by omitting to appoint Mr. Stevenson.

Uncle Sam's Modest Sailors.

It is evident that United States sailors have no mean opinion of themselves. The indemnity demanded for the thumps and bumps distributed among them by the Chilian mob is put at no less a sum than $1,305,000. Two men went $150 000 each, one $100 000, one $75 000, one $60,000 and other sums range down to $30,000. Milton might well say "Peace hath its victories," for if these "ocean warriors" succeed in enforcing their claims they will make more out of an afternoon's spree than many an old sea-dog could earn in a lifetime of warfare.

If you are troubled with hawking and spitting, dull headaches, losing sense of taste or smell, you are afflicted with catarrh, and to prevent its development into consumption, Nasal Balm should be used promptly. There is no case of catarrh which it will not cure, and for cold in the head it gives immediate relief. Try it. All dealers. dw

Greatly Benefited.

DEAR SIRS,—I have been using B. B. B. for cancer of the breast during the last two years and four months, both externally and internally, and have been greatly benifited. Have had cancer over seven years, and no medicine ever did me as much good as B.B.B. I feel sure that sufferers from cancer can obtain relief or even cure from B.B.B., and will be pleased to answer any questions as to the use and benefit received from this remedy. MRS. A. Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

An Ontario Natural Park.

A petition is in circulation in the County of Kent praying the Ontario Government to establish Rondeau Point as a Provincial park. This movement possibly has been suggested by the proposal to establish a park in the eastern part of the Province at the headwaters of the large rivers that flow into Georgian Bay, Lake Ontario and the Ottawa River. Rondeau Park is a scheme worth considering, too. It is already a place of great resort, and a little expenditure of money might do much to beautify it. Thirty-five or forty years ago the late Col. Prince sought to establish it as a game preserve, having obtained a long lease of it for that purpose, but the colonel lost his hold of it through failure to keep the conditions of the lease. Perhaps also he found it impossible to keep poachers off his reserve, for in those days deer were plentiful on the Point, and the marshes lying to the west of it were famous grounds for duck. Why might not the Point be again stocked with deer, turkeys, quail and other game, and protect these as well as waterfowl under some such licensing system as is in force say in the forests of Maine? By some plan of this sort the Rondeau Park might be made self-supporting, and certainly it could be made a very attractive and popular resort during the summer season. There is no more delightful location in the Province for summer cottages than the eastern coast line of the Point, except perhaps Pelee Island.

That Tired Feeling.

Is often the forerunner of serious illness, which may be broken up if a good tonic like Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken in season. This medicine invigorates the kidneys and liver to remove the waste from the system, purifies the blood and builds up the strength.

Constipation is caused by loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore the action and invigorate the liver.

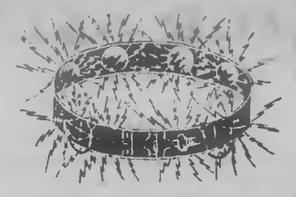
Self Application of Electricity FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—198 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Application. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCY, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. sod w

Bridgenorth.

Another Poetical Tribute.

A couple weeks ago Sir,
In your paper I copied
A Greenhorn's sketch on Bridgenorth,
Which filled my heart with pride.

For with all the prose and poetry
That has been wrote by men,
None ever gave a word of praise,
Till our poet gave it then.

I think our famous poet thought,
We might need a word of cheer
To help us bear the burden
As we toiled from year to year.

His words, indeed, do courage give,
Then let us while we may
Toil on, and striving honestly
Our every debt to pay.

I hope his good intentions
Will never be forgot;
Thanks, for his good opinion
Of this pleasant, little spot.

But both our noble butchers,
He left entirely out,
They can give you shank or ham,
Or gristle, tall or snout.

And for any line of woodwork,
You need not pass us by,
Or for turning steel or iron
We can make the shavings fly.

And anything we undertake
We'll endeavour to compete
With the most learned and skilful—
And do it just as cheap.

And now my rhyme is ended,
How inferior, you exclaim;
That must be a real greenhorn
I'm sure, it's not the same.

N. G. BELL, Bridgenorth.

Dummer.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Dummer Council met in the Town and Agricultural Hall, Warsaw, on Saturday, February 20th, 1892. Edward Hawthorn, Deputy Reeve, in the chair, H. A. Moore and T. Webster Councillors. Minutes of the last council read and with no objections signed, after which the following business was transacted Viz:—Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by T. Webster, that the Clerk procure a map of Stony Lake from the County Registrar showing Islands in said lake belonging to the Township of Dummer.—Carried. Received from W. J. Kidd, Treasurer of Patrons of Industry, of Warsaw, $25.00 in compliance with motion passed by the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society and endorsed by this council entitling the Patrons of Industry to use the Town and Agricultural Hall, Warsaw. Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by T. Webster, that the Auditor's report, as now checked by council, be received and adopted and that the Clerk have 200 copies printed in sheet form for distribution, and that orders be issued on Treasurer for $5.00 each to Edward McIlvena Sr. and Henry Edwards as Auditors.—Carried. Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by T. Webster, that in the event of the conviction of the Storms family being quashed, and said family returning to Dummer, that the council appropriate $25.00 for their maintainence and that we appoint Charles Nicholl to look after them and to apply this money either to clothing the children or providing food or shelter as he thinks the case demands.—Carried. Moved by Thos. Webster, seconded by H. A. Moore, that the clerk notify the collector to return the collector's roll of this township forthwith—Carried. Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by T. Webster, that the township of Dummer assume the total amount of repairs as now done on the Town and Agricultural Hall, Warsaw, viz., $198.75, being composed of as follows:—By W. Jas. Kidd, contract for woodwork, $160; B. James, jr., painting hall as per contract, $25; A. F. Choate, hanging lamps, etc., $6.75; W. Watson, carpet, etc., $4 15; Allan Kidd, lamphooks, 15 cts; Doughty Bros., pipes, wire and work, $2.70; total, $198 75; and that this council look to the Dummer and Douro Agricultural Society for one-third amount of repairs as now done less proportion to their credit paid by Patrons of Industry, $6 33—Carried. Moved by H. A. Moore, seconded by T. Webster, that the the following orders be drawn on Treasurer for the following amounts, viz. To W. J. Kidd, balance as per contract, $60; B. James, jr., painting per contract, $25; Geo. Payne, jr., member of Building committee to pay in dental account, $13.75; total, $98 75.

Council adjourned to meet again on Saturday, March 19th, 1892.

Archbishop and Actor.

The Archbishop of Canterbury once put the following question to Betterton, the actor:—"How is it that you players, who deal only with things imaginary, affect your auditors as if they were real; while we preachers, who only deal with things real, affect our auditors as if they were imaginary?" "It is my lord," replied the player, "because we actor speak of things imaginary as if they were real, while you preachers too often speak of things real as if they were imaginary."

A man of nervous temperament may be convinced in a few moments that he is in bad health, by the joking remark of some friend; then his troubles are purely imaginary. The real sufferer shows the symptoms of disease in his face, his eyes, as well as by his walk and actions. The nervous, sleepless, morose, dyspeptic, rheumatic and the neuralgic, can be pointed out at a glance by any observant individual. The actions and peculiar looks of such sufferers speak as forcibly as any confession they might make, and cannot be hidden from public gaze. When you meet a man or woman who looks languid, wearied, weak, listless and lifeless, with black circles under the eyes, cheeks pale and hollow, eyes dim and sunken; then be assured that disease has entered and is doing its terrible work. All this should be checked at once; the best and safest measures must be adopted to cure quickly and permanently. Sci ntists and physicians have found to their satisfaction that no agency can do the work so well as Paine's Celery Compound. For all the troubles that we have alluded to, this grand remedy is the safest and most powerful cure for old and young. No other medicine can boast of such an unbroken record of successful cures disease and death, and no other can give the same strong guarantees. It is the physicians favorite, and the trusted and faithful home-guard of health. Paine's Celery Compound is now one of the most valued agents in the medical profession, and its extended reputation has been gained only by honest and wonderful results.

Stolen Fees.

Among the many foes to human health and happiness dyspepsia and constipation are notorious greedy to be feared. With K. D. C. to drive them out of the system, however, no danger need be anticipated, as every dose brings the sufferer a long step further on the road to perfect health and strength, and a competent cure always results. dw

Worms cause serious sickness. Dr. Low's Worm Syrup destroys and expels all kinds of worms quickly and surely.

Mr. Harty Elected.

(Kingston Whig.)

Kingston has honored itself in honoring Mr. Harty, whom it has elected a member of the legislature by a startling majority. Mr. Harty fits the place, and in it, with his qualifications for effective service—with talents which even his opponents admit, and energies which have never been publicly misdirected—Kingston will receive a prominence which it has not had in the Ontario parliament for many a year.

The Whig did not, from the opening of the campaign, doubt for a moment what the result would be. The issue was largely a personal one—against the government no serious complaint could be made—and of course the liberal candidate had the preference. The opposition to him was indeed factious, and in it the great many conservatives had no sympathy. The abuse to which certain prominent men were subject because they supported Mr. Harty, the attempt to brow-beat the electors, the wholesale slander and misrepresentation to which some misguided individuals resorted at the last moment, may not be easily forgotten, but they can be forgiven. Mr. Harty suffered at the hands of the slanderers, but they set about their work too soon, and ere the voting began his friends were able to destroy the effect of the more vexatious rumors put in circulation. He can now afford to treat his opponents generously, and he will do it.

In his election the people have, (1) declared the administration of Mr. Mowat a success; (2) pronounced the proceedings in connection with the new parliament buildings perfectly fair and regular; (3) relieved themselves satisfied with the provincial ballot; (4) expressed their sanction of the school system as conducted and cared for; (5) repudiated the falsehoods about the officials of the province; (6) thrown back in the face of the offenders the insinuation that the government desired to bribe them with a school of science; (7) and disowned all the other charges which, in the heat of the conflict, were dealt with in the press and at the election meetings.

Practically the electors have meant the exaltation of a man who deserves it and the humiliation of another who has been working for it. In the return of Mr. Harty, Kingston sends to Parliament one of her ablest men; and in the rejection of Mr. Drennan, a kindness has been done him, and a snub administered to J. H. Metcalfe which he will do well to remember.

The great majority of so called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.

Rheumatism Cured.

SOLDIER'S COVE, N.S., Jan. 30, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR:—Your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the best medicine for rheumatism that I have ever used. Last spring I was troubled greatly with it in my leg; I used one box of Morse's Pills, and was cured.
Yours gratefully,

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia and indigestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

My wife and I had dandruff and lots of it, accompanied by almost continual itching of the scalp. Ayer's Dandruff entirely relieved us from both annoyances, and we think that it is the best preparation known to clean out dandruff, tone the hair and act as a dressing, without giving an unnatural appearance.

Sufferers

FROM Stomach and Liver derangements—Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Sick-Headache, and Constipation—find a safe and certain relief in Ayer's Pills. In all cases where a cathartic is needed, these Pills are recommended by leading physicians.

Dr. T. E. Hastings, of Baltimore, says: "Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic and aperient within the reach of my profession."

Dr. John W. Brown, of Oceana, W. Va., writes: "I have prescribed Ayer's Pills in my practice, and find them excellent. I urge their general use in families."

"For a number of years I was afflicted with biliousness which almost destroyed my health. I tried various remedies, but nothing afforded me any relief until I began to take Ayer's Pills."—G. S. Wanderlich, Scranton, Pa.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for the past thirty years, and am satisfied I should not be alive to-day if it had not been for them. They cured me of dyspepsia when all other remedies failed, and their occasional use has kept me in a healthy condition ever since."—T. P. Brown, Chester, Pa.

"Having been subject, for years, to constipation, without being able to find much relief, I at last tried Ayer's Pills, and deem it both a duty and a pleasure to testify that I have derived great benefit from their use. For over two years past I have taken one of these Pills every night before retiring. I would not willingly be without them."—G. W. Bowman, 26 East Main st., Carlisle, Pa.

"Ayer's Pills have been used in my family upwards of twenty years, and have completely verified all that is claimed for them. In attacks of piles, from which I suffered many years, they afforded me greater relief than any medicine I ever tried."—Thomas F. Adams, Holly Springs, Texas.

Those who kindly loaned flags for the occasion, also received the thanks of members of the lodge.

A Rumour Contradicted.

A rumour was circulated around town today that Earnest Goldsmith, son of Dr. Goldsmith, who is attending Albert College, Belleville, had died of a severe attack of diphtheria. This, we are happy to state, is not true. The death evidently was that of Mr. Perry Goldsmith, of Castleton, a nephew of the doctor's, who died this morning. He was a promising young man of twenty-one years of age.

Why Buy Cheap Tea?

A good cup of tea whether green or black, is one of the most refreshing beverages known, but the idea of people putting into their stomachs the trash sold as tea at six or seven pounds for a dollar is simply beyond understanding; far better leave it alone. Kirk's cheapest Japan, and it is a fine one, is 25c. per pound or 4½ lbs for a dollar; try it and you will get a tea worth drinking. W. C. Kirk, Ashburnham. Ontario telephone, No. 6, Bell Telephone, No. 312.

Of Interest to the Ladies.

Among the largest dealers in London, Paris and New York it is quite an established thing to contract certain patterns and mixtures and in fact in many instances the manufacturers produce only one costume at dress length, thus avoiding any sameness in fine fabrics. Mr. J. J. Sheehy informs us in his advertisement of to-day that he has been fortunate enough to make arrangements whereby he can show to the ladies of Peterborough a most tasty assortment of dress goods and while the range is large and includes all the latest novelties. No two patterns are alike. This not only means that if you buy your dress from Mr. Sheehy you get the only one he has, but you get the only one of the style, shade and pattern in Peterborough. This is certainly a step in right direction for one does not care to be wearing what anyone else has.

CRAMPS—The best known cure for cramps, which always accompany the cholera, is Dr. Sey's Remedy, taken in large doses. Its action is marvellous.

—John McCoy, of Hastings, was arrested yesterday afternoon at the G. T. R. station by Chief Rossel. McCoy, who has been in the lumber camps all winter, had received his wages and was enjoying a big "blow in." At the time of his arrest he was daring those around him to "put up their dukes," and if any man dared to do so, he said he would soon "put him to sleep." The prisoner was released this morning.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, Feb. 25th.

There was a small crowd at the police court this morning, there being only one case on the docket.

Wm. Millick was charged with vagrancy. Millick, who hails from Toronto, came into the police station at a late hour last night and asked for protection. He had been imbibing pretty freely of the "bug juice" and was very abusive.

MAGISTRATE.—Wm. Millick, you are charged with vagrancy and drunkenness. Are you guilty or not guilty?

PRISONER.—I admit that I was under the influence of liquor, but I deny being a vagrant. I have plenty of places to go to.

MAGISTRATE.—How long will it take you to get out of town?

PRISONER.—About fifteen minutes will take me out.

MAGISTRATE.—You can either take your choice of leaving town at once or take six months in the Central.

PRISONER.—(with a relieved grin and sigh)—I guess I'll git.

The court adjourned.

Resolution of Sympathy.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR:—Will you kindly give space in your paper for the following resolution which speaks for itself:—

W. E. COOPER, B. D.
Secretary R. D., of Northumberland.

Moved by Rev. Canon Spragge, and seconded by Rev. J. E. Cooper, and resolved—That the clergy of the Rural Deanery of Northumberland place on record the great loss they have sustained in the death of the late Rev. John Davidson, M. A., Canon of St. Alban's Cathedral, Toronto, Rural Dean of Northumberland, and Rector of Colborne. He was a man of earnest piety, unflagging energy, and kindly heart, who identified himself with the interests of his deanery and the church at large. We also desire to convey to Mrs. Davidson and her family our heartfelt sympathy in their great trial and bereavement.

A Fortunate Young Lady.

The young lady whose picture appears above is Miss Eva Watson, 66 Close Ave., Toronto, who has derived considerable of a reputation as the winner of THE CANADIAN QUEEN'S prize piano in their competition for January, Miss Watson being the one to send in the first correct reply. Miss Watson has received her piano and states to the reporter that she is delighted with it, it being one of Mason & Risch's fine-toned uprights, valued at $325. THE QUEEN'S new Prize Problem will be announced in the principal daily papers on Saturday next.

Report of Ladies' Auxiliary of Y.M.C.A. for Year Ending 1891.

In presenting the annual report of "Ladies' Auxiliary" we might say that altogether our year has been a successful one, also that the report represents 18 months, as the auxiliary year formerly began in June and it was decided after this to make a change and begin the Auxiliary year in January. The number of meetings held were 16. The average attendance 13, there have been 5 new members added and the interest in our regular meetings has been greater. Placing the electric light in the rooms during the year has made a great improvement which was thoroughly appreciated in the reading room. One concert was given in the new market building, notwithstanding the evening proving very unpleasant, the entertainment was a decided success. Two receptions were also given by the ladies, one to the printers of the town, and the other to the Edison employes soon after their arrival here. The usual New Years' "At Home" was also given when a substantial lunch was provided, and a card given to each caller with New Years' greetings from the Ladies' Auxiliary. Then our last work of the year was the furnishing of the new parlors. The Association has been congratulated by visitors from other towns on the very pretty and home-like appearance of the rooms. We hope that during this year many more will see it a duty and a pleasure to join us in our work, for while doing good to others we receive a blessing ourselves.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla, as he had used it and cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

REAL ESTATE!

Our List is too Long and our Bargains too Big for detail in our space.

Come to our office if you want to Buy, Sell, Rent, or Exchange Real Estate of any kind. Remember this is money, and you can save both by calling on us, because we have property for Sale, Rent and Exchange in every locality. If you want to buy a home, we can suit you. If you want a business stand, we have them in the right places and at correct prices. If you have a few dollars, a few hundred, or a few thousand invested at from 3 to 6 per cent. and that your intelligence shews you that if you were to invest that money in Peterborough Real Estate with its present bright and future brilliant prospects, you could make more money in one year than would accrue at above rates of interest in ten years. Life is short and if ten years' work can be done in one, why not adopt the new plan? Example—Two men are going to Toronto, one adheres to the old way and walks, occupying two days, the other takes the train and arrives there in less than three hours. Who would like to be compared to No. 1, and yet where is the difference in the case of those who are willing to accept 3 to 6 per cent. interest and refuse 20 to 50 per cent. You say the latter cannot be safe nor honest; we reply, call at our office and we will prove it safer than the former and perfectly honest.

But there are two necessary conditions to be observed to prevent you from counting your loss instead of your gain. You must have a guide, and he must be honest and he must thoroughly understand his business if you desire profit instead of loss. We have had several years practical experience in handling Peterborough real estate, and hundreds of our patrons can testify as to the value of our advice. We have never been as well prepared to serve our patrons as at present, and we are determined to make 1892 a memorable year in our real estate transactions, and the one from which future millionaires will date their first strides, guided by our advice. Rich and poor, old and young, male and female, all, are most cordially invited to come to our office and see what we can do in the way of helping you on the road to riches. You can invest any amount you please with perfect safety. Any person wishing to sell their property quickly, can place it with us on reasonable terms, providing they are willing to sell AT OR UNDER VALUE.

Alberta's Ambassador.

Visit of Calgary's Plenipotentiary to Peterborough—The Climate, Soil, Mining, Agricultural and Commercial Possibilities of Alberta.

Mr. R. A. James, representative of Alberta's agricultural and dairy interests, is in Ontario in the interests of the Board of Trade and the town council of Calgary. He has come east to lay before the people of Ontario, facts relating to the resources of Alberta. Mr. James is in communication with the Board of Trade of Peterborough, and will at an early date address a public meeting in Peterborough in relation to the interests he represents. Senator Longhead will also deliver an address at the same time. Mr. James called on the EXAMINER to-day and in a short conversation stated a few facts relating to Calgary and Alberta.

Naturally the weather—or rather the climate engaged attention. Alberta lies under the eastern shadow of the Rocky mountains, and is largely within the Chinook belt. This covers an area of 120,000 square miles. The "Chinook" winds which pour over the Rocky Mountains, warmed by the waters of the Pacific "gulf stream," to a delicious mildness. There is properly speaking no winter in Alberta—that is no snow to speak of. For six or seven months from September there is no rain and the clear air is accompanied by continuously cloudless skies. This is the home of health and consumption in its first stages cannot co-exist with residence in Alberta. The rich grass that springs from the richer soil, is cured naturally by the climate, and all winter stock can feed outside and thrive on this rich food. It is even better and richer than ordinary hay.

This fact explains the measureless adaptability of Alberta to cattle raising and horse breeding and in these respects it has already achieved no mean record. Last year there were shipped 5,000 head to England via Montreal, and 1,000 to British Columbia and there are ranched under the shadow of the mountains 200,000 head of cattle and horses. Last year 1,300 mares imported from England were turned loose on the rich acres of Alberta, and at the agricultural exhibition last fall, there were shown 4 stallions, including 21 thoroughbred Clydesdales, of which 8 were imported. Since 1884 the horse herds of Alberta have increased from nil to 70,000. Horses can be raised in the open field all the year round. As a stock raising country Alberta cannot be beaten in the word. Preparations are being made for the erection of a cold storage establishment to cost $50 000, in order to meet the requirements of the dressed meat trade with Great Britain.

At the same time Alberta is

as witness a soil full of inexhaustible richness, showing it quality by producing wheat at 60 to 65 lbs. per bushel, and oats at from 40 to 50 lbs. per bushel, and all other grains and farm products in proportion.

The future of Alberta is bright. With all the advantages enumeral it has abundant deposit of splendid coal, the only anthracite mines west of Pennsylvania. It has the C. P. R. railway, the Calgary and Edmonton railway and a new line to the Kootenay district. It has every element of growth and greatness. Calgary, the metropolitan town, has grown from a hamlet to a city within a few years, and it would seem that there is no part of the Dominion that gives so diversified and substantial inducements to settlers as the fertile district of Alberta.

Tourists

Whether on pleasure bent or business, should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 75c. bottles by all leading druggists.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. If it never fails. dw

THE FORESTERS SURPASS

Every Former Festal and Society Effort.

Grand Gathering of Robin Hood's Merrie Men and Their Friends—Enthusiastic Reception of the Right Worthy High Chief Ranger—Addresses of Welcome—An Interesting Programme—A Great All Round Success.

Nothing could possibly have exceeded in fraternal cordiality the welcome and reception tendered by the Peterborough Foresters in the opera house last evening to Right Worthy High Chief Ranger Towe, of London. The event was one long to be remembered in the history of Forestry in Peterborough. The following courts joined hand in hand in marking the occasion of High Chief Ranger Towe's visit with becoming significance and enthusiasm:—Court Peterborough, No. 29, C.O.F.; Court Little John, No. 92, C.O.F.; Court Langton, No. 344, C.O.F.; Court Young Peterborough, No. 5, C.O.F.

Bradburn's Opera House was gaily and artistically decorated in honor of the festive occasion. On either side of the stage hung Union Jacks in graceful folds and over it was strung the banner inscribed in applied letters "Welcome Our High Chief Ranger." The front of the platform was profusely and tastefully decorated with flowers, bunting and evergreens, the whole presenting a brilliant and picturesque appearance. Mottoes of Forestry significance, adorned the walls at various places, while their Along the walls were inscribed: "Success to the Foresters," "God Save the Queen," "Liberty, Benevolence and Concord," "True in the Past we Trust you in the Future," "A Foresters' Welcome to One and All," and other mottoes expressive of the order, its teachings and its welcome. The decoration committee who did all the work, giving the Opera House its artistic finish and inviting appearance, deserve the greatest credit for the success of their efforts.

Long before the appointed hour anxious crowds might have been seen eagerly wending their way to the place of welcome, so that eight o'clock the main floors and galleries were literally packed with humanity, and standing room was at a premium.

Bro. Henderson Nesbitt, District Deputy High Chief Ranger,

FILLED THE POSITION OF CHAIRMAN

with a grace and dignity befitting the occasion. To his right was seated the guest of the evening, Bro. Edward Towe, R.W.H.C.R., and associated with him on the platform were Jas. Stevenson, Esq., M.P., and Bros. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., G. Carpenter, C.R., F. J. Jameson, P.C.R., R. Robertson, P.C.R., A. McNeil, P.C.R., A. Carpenter, P.C.R., A. D. Russell, P.C.R., and J. Metheral, P.C.R., of Court Peterborough; R. Mulligan, C.R., W. M. Green, P.C.R., G. Rose, P.C.R., E. A. Kemp, P.C.R., R. H. Lithgow, P.C.R., and S. Cooke, P. C. R., of Court Little John; A. Clegg, P. C. R., James Fuller, C. R., R. E. Layfield, V. C. R.;—Libervean, W. Marris, of Court Langton; Dr. Rose, P. C. R., of Court Rob Roy, Norwood; W. M. Graham, P. C. R., R. Q. Denob, P. C. R., G. Hilliard, P. C. R., Court Lakefield, and others.

District Deputy High Chief Ranger Nesbit, in opening the evening's proceedings, said he was glad to see so many present. He was sure they had all come to do honor to the Right Worthy High Chief Ranger, on this, his first official visit to Peterborough. He then called upon the Peterborough orchestra to favor the large company present with an overture which they did in an agreeable manner.

The chairman stated that it had been the intention to have Mayor Kendry move an address of welcome on behalf of the citizens of Peterborough to the High Chief Ranger, but owing to the unavoidable absence of the mayor in Montreal ex-Mayor Stevenson had kindly consented to take Mayor Kendry's place.

Mr. STEVENSON on coming forward stated that it gave him very great pleasure indeed to have the honor of tendering Mr. Towe a right royal welcome to our town. If apprised in time he would have had a suitable address written out.

ON BEHALF OF THE CITIZENS of Peterborough then, he tendered the High Chief Ranger a hearty welcome to our town—not city, as he said we had not been premature in our ambition as some other places to attain that much-coveted distinction. Peterborough proposed to have the present number of her inhabitants doubled before being incorporated a city. He thought she was not behind any other town in Ontario and many cities of to-day were little, if any in advance of her. He felt grateful that the High Chief Ranger had come here to pay the town a visit.

Mr. J. R. STRATTON said he felt it a source of extreme gratification to have the pleasure of presenting on behalf of the Foresters of the town and county of Peterborough an address of welcome to their respected High Chief Ranger. He was sure that the large audience present appreciated the order with which he was connected. During his three years of office it had progressed rapidly. Nowhere were the members more loyal, intelligent and devoted than they were in the town and county of Peterborough. The membership of the courts in the town and county numbered over 725. Three years ago they had only four courts comprising a membership of 325. To-day they had six courts in the county and four in the town. Such rapid progress showed that the people appreciated the order with which Bro. Towe was connected. He would not dwell upon the aims and objects of the order as he felt sure they would be clearly and conclusively dealt by the guest of the evening. On behalf of the Foresters he again extended Bro. Towe the right hand of fellowship.

THE HIGH CHIEF RANGER'S ADDRESS.

The reception which the audience accorded Mr. Edward Towe, R.W.H.C.R., H.C.O.F., on his coming forward was flattering in the extreme. He stated that it afforded him very great pleasure in acknowledging their kind words of welcome. He had been favorably impressed from what he had seen of Peterborough and her people. He lauded her natural beauty and enterprising spirit, and said there was no town in the Dominion he liked better than her. He had been agreeably surprised in his afternoon's drive, at her imposing public buildings, her beautiful parks, and her kind and generous people. He appreciated the kindness he had received very much. It sank deep into his heart. He hoped to say something of use and benefit to the Foresters and he felt the responsibility of the position which he occupied. In 1879 the Foresters thought that Canada could maintain a national society. They met in the city of London and decided to sever their connection with the Independent Order of Foresters in the United States. On Nov. 2rd in the same year in Brantford the first Canadian Order was organized with a membership of 365 members. To-day the Foresters had in Canada 14,500 members all in good standing. The Canadian Order is managed under three general principles: selection of lives, investment of monies and the prompt settlement of death claims. From 1879 to 1885 we charged each member fifty cents a month irrespective of age. We in time began to see the injustice of charging old and young the same amount. The matter was duly considered at the meeting of the High Court held in Peterborough some six years ago when the present rate of fees for membership was carried.

Up to 1885 we were able to pay all our demands and had a surplus of $6,000. The increase in the number of courts which we have organized since 1887, their membership, endowment receipts, death claims paid, and increases in reserve funds are:—

	Courts organized.	Membership.	Increase.	Endowment Receipts.	Death claims paid	Increase on Reserve Fund.	Reserve.
1888	32	7,361	1,504	$56,501	$30,000	$23,473	$56 812
1889	25	8 625	1,384	65,223	41,000	25,501	80,285
1890	51	10,282	1.657	79 428	51,000	27.718	108,014
1891	69	12,514	2,232	96,419	60,000	36,419	144,000

At present we have a reserve fund of $182,000 in cash. He denied the statement of the Rev. Dr. Parsons, of Toronto, who asseverates that secret societies are against the churches. The Order could well withstand these statements. He would call upon the three hundred and fifty widows of deceased members for their testimony. They would answer the reverend gentleman well. He had all due respect and regard for churches. It was the greatest institution the world has ever known. But he denied the charge that any secret society was against the advancement of the churches' influence, power or welfare. True they had grips, pass-words and signs, not because the Order was secret, but because they did not wish their meetings and sessions disturbed by those not members. If they were lazy the Order and its members would not work with such an unselfish disposition and unflagging energy to support the widow and the children, those whom they are promising to render assistance. Societies collecting on the death roll among its members, are not on as proper a basis as those collecting according to age. The C.O.F. was above any order charging on death basis. It had, in his opinion, a better record than any sister society in Canada. Life assurance companies charged nearly twice as much as they did. They had no large salaries to pay officials and could therefore afford to allow the members the benefit of their saving. The Canadian Order of Foresters had always been able to pay all death claims within ten days and he was now hoping the order would be able to pay all death claims within three days after the papers were in his hands. Life insurance companies through their agents said all these societies would soon go to the wall. He thought their past financial record alone was enough to scatter every atom of that argument. They were just as careful in the selection of their members as the life assurance companies were and even more so as the records would show. The death rate per thousand among life insurance for the last ten years had been 9 members per thousand during each year, while among the Order of Foresters it was only 5.12—a little more than half as many. The Canadian Order of Foresters had a large surplus fund and this was steadily increasing, and no money could be taken out of this fund until all the members of the Executive Board had signed the check. The question had often been asked him why the Foresters did not make a deposit of $50 000 with the government. They were ready at any time to do so, as an investment, but their rates were not sufficiently high to set aside a sum to provide for paid up policies, or cash surrenders. The Order carried the risk so long as the individual remained a member, but as soon as he left, their responsibility ceased.

In case of sickness a member was cared for by brother members. He received free medical attendance and a weekly benefit of from $3.00 upward. The widow received a funeral benefit of $30, and the beneficiary, a sum of $1,000 or $2,000, the amount of the Endowment as the case might be. In conclusion the speaker said he considered it the bounden duty of every man to join some insurance society, and as he believed the Canadian Order of Foresters was the best society in the country, he would ask all his hearers, not already members to make application at once.

After the address an interesting programme of unusual merit and ability was pleasingly and successfully carried out. The first number was a violin solo, "Witchis arrangement of Home Sweet Home," by Miss Louise Yokome, in which she fully sustained her already high reputation as a clever violinist. She responded to an encore. Then came an instrumental duet by Misses Edith Hall and Eva Wrighton executed in excellent style and finish. Mr. W. F. Harris followed in a song, Miss Harris accompanist. He was fervently applauded and compelled to respond to an encore, Master Addie Ferguson and Miss Yokome favoured the audience with a violin duet, Mr. Fred Clark, accompanist. This was Masters Ferguson's first appearance and his performance which gives promise of great proficiency was creditable to both himself and his teacher, Miss Yokome. Miss C. Greer and Miss Annie Fawcett sang a duet in a charming manner. They gracefully responded to an encore. Mr. J. R. Cobb then gave an exhibition of illuminated club swinging, introducing many movements. Messrs. F. J. Daly and Mr. Bell then rendered a banjo duet, which was heartily greeted. They responded to an encore. Miss Annie Fawcett sang a pleasing solo, after which Mr. Fenwick Umpleby and son rendered an instrumental duet, which was warmly received. By special request, Mr. W. F. Harris sang a humorous song entitled "I Went Wid Him." It immensely delighted the large audience, and he responded with "McCarthy." This brought the interesting proceedings to a close at 11 o'clock, after which the floor was cleared and some sixty couples engaged in the whirl of the many dances until two o'clock in the early morn. The Peterborough Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. W. Butcher, furnished excellent music. Mr. Jas. Coughlin was master of ceremonies. He was ably assisted in his duties by Mr. J. H. Smith. During the evening refreshments were served in an adjoining room. A large crowd repaired thither and did ample justice to the viands provided.

ASSURANCE CO. OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, - - - - MONTREAL.

The year 1891 has been the Banner Year in the History of the Sun Life.

The Gross Applications for the year in the Life Department amounted to the enormous total of $5,901,000.00, an amount greatly exceeding that touched by the Company in any previous year, and it is believed no other Canadian Company has ever totaled a like amount in any one year.

THE SURPLUS PROFITS

have increased to even a greater extent than the new business, thus plainly indicating that the unbounded confidence placed in this great Financial institution by the Canadian public, has not been misplaced.

TWO ANECDOTES OF SPURGEON.

He Could Not Preach With His Wife Looking at Him.

Among the cloud of apocryphal anecdotes concerning Mr. Spurgeon, let me record two for which I can personally vouch. At the Surrey Gardens Music Hall, if I mistake not, in the year 1856, where I heard Thackeray's four lectures on the Georges, and where Spurgeon preached regularly before the Tabernacle was built, there were French windows opening out into the grounds. The place was crammed one hot Sunday morning, and these windows were many of them left open, so that a fringe of the congregation was standing half in and half out of the great building.

New comers gradually edged some of the others onto the floor, some of whom remained covered, as they were justified in doing so long, and no longer, as their standing ground was in the gardens. These unfortunates Mr. Spurgeon spoke at thus from the pulpit before beginning his sermon, in an easy, friendly manner, but in those magnificent tones which vibrated through the building: "I regret to see that there are some present who are so unaccustomed to attend public worship that they have quite forgotten it is the practice to take off their hats." This I heard, and shall never forget its effect, in the immediate doffing of male head-gear, and in a sort of smothered hum of amused approval from the crowd.

Another personal experience of Mr. Spurgeon was at the Crystal Palace, where he preached to 25,000 people. Seated near to the pulpit, I observed Mrs. Spurgeon take her place just before her husband appeared, and that she was visibly affected by the mighty concourse of souls, all with upturned faces and fixed gaze upon one man, and all about to be thrilled to the core by that man's impassioned appeals to them to be saved alive.

While Mrs. Spurgeon was concealing her emotion as best she might—in other words, dealing furtively and ably with her pocket-handkerchief—I saw the pastor beckon far off with his forefinger to one of the deacon's, a stout and solemn gray-haired man, of rubicund complexion, and with a defect in one eye, which I remember made me speculate whether it was natural or acquired. He was in the very glossy black which was the orthodox Dissenting uniform in those far-off days, and walked with a limp which made his progress up the pulpit, or rather platform, stairs tantalizing slow.

Some brief, but evidently important instruction was at last whispered by Mr. Spurgeon in the lame man's ear, and 25,000 people were at once agog with curiosity to know what this could possibly be at such a time when the whole vast place was quivering with anticipation and suppressed emotional excitement. I happened to be seated so near to Mrs. Spurgeon that when the worthy deacon "made for her" in his crab-like, ponderous way, it was unavoidable that I, at least, out of that vast and silent crowd of expectants, should hear what had delayed the pastor, and what the urgent matter was he had, at such a critical moment, to communicate.

In a hoarse, fleshy whisper I heard this: "Mr. Spurgeon says" (could I help listening?—the interlude was serious, and even dramatic, and my ears craned that way whether I would or not)—"Mr. Spurgeon says, please will you change your seat, so that he will not be able to see you; it" ("it" was doubtless Mrs. Spurgeon's obvious emotion) "makes him nervous"; and the lady moved immediately to another seat not visible from the preacher.—Edmond Yates, in London World.

The Color of the Eye.

The color of the iris is not uniform in any eye. Some eyes have spots, others stripes, still other blotches of white, green, blue, yellow and black, and the eye takes its color from the predominance of one hue. An eye that is considered gray will often be composed of black and yellow. An eye that is thought to be brown will be very dark red, with spots of yellow or blue.

A Carat of Gold.

Twenty-four carat gold is all gold; 22-carat gold has 22 parts of gold, 1 of silver and 1 of copper; 18-carat gold has 18 parts of gold, and 3 each of silver and copper; 12-carat gold is half gold and has 3½ parts of silver and 8½ of copper. Its specific gravity is about 16; pure gold is 19.

White Tar.

White tar is one of the latest inventions or discoveries. It will not become soft under the sun's rays in any climate, and is expected to be used largely in calking the deck seams of fine yachts.

Lovage for the Grip.

"That's a bad cold you've got," said a benevolent-looking old gentleman to a young fellow he had met casually.

"Worst I ever had," answered the young man.

"Try a pinch of this," urged the other, fishing in his vest pocket for a little box. There was a fine powder in it, and he offered it invitingly. "It is no 'kill-or-cure' thing. See how it goes."

The young man snuffed a tiny pinch up his nose. In five minutes he felt relieved. "That's wonderful," he said. "If you've got a monopoly it's the same as a fortune to you."

The old man smiled indulgently. "This is one of the commonest of herbs," said he. "It is so cheap that it can be bought by the ton if you want that much. It cured me of the grip, and I believe it is the best thing going."

"What do you call it?"

"German lovage. All the druggists have it. For a dime you can get a box of it powdered, large enough to cure a whole family of the grip. It is so common that its value has been overlooked. You try it and you tell all your friends. German lovage is a sure cure for the grip." -New York Times.

Sir Edwin Arnold's Way.

Although a newspaper man by profession, Sir Edwin Arnold has declined to be interviewed by newspaper men since his arrival in New York. He is uniformly courteous to the fraternity and gracefully excuses himself from talking about himself on the plea of modesty or lack of time. A young literary man who was doing his best to earn a livelihood by that uncertain means known to the newspaper business as "free-lancing" called on Sir Edwin the other day and asked for an interview about Japan, saying that it would mean money to him and that his circumstances just then were not as prosperous as they might be.

"I cannot break through my inflexible rule about interviews," replied Sir Edwin, "but I cannot send you away empty-handed. Here are a few verses I have just written. Make whatever use of them you please."

Thereupon the author of "The Light of Asia" handed his visitor a short manuscript poem on a religious subject, which the "free-lance" promptly sold to a religious weekly for $50.—New York Herald.

Crossing the Feet.

The way people cross their feet is often indicative of character. Neat people usually put their right foot over the left, while disorderly people generally put the left foot over the right. Everybody knows how much character is expressed in the wearing of the hat, and why should it be thought surprising if a man should tell what he is by the way he places his feet?

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1. dw

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few days after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief." ⑦

Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness,

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The last two or three bright warm days have removed a great deal of the snow.

The Royal Templars intend to have a "basket social" next Monday evening in the Temperance Hall.

The Rev. John McEwen will preach the annual sermon to the members of Court Lakefield, No. 43, C. O. F.; next Monday evening in the Presbyterian church.

Word was received on Monday of the death at Vancover, B. C., of Gabriel Domen, formerly of this village. He was a member of Court Lakefield, C.O.F., so that his widow will receive the sum of $1,000 from the High Court.

Mr. Earnest Burgess, who has served his time with Mr. T. J. Bird, druggist, received a position in a drug store in Pembrooke, and left last Saturday to enter on his new duties. We wish Earnie every success in his new home.

Now the assessors for 1892 have begun their work it behooves the owners of islands in Stony Lake to scan their assessment schedules and if not correct, to at once appeal to the Township Clerk so as to be able to carry them before the judge if necessary. Some of the Burleigh island holders bled so freely last year that the operation will be repeated. The south ward wanting two more schools, the funds required are expected in a great measure to be furnished by the aforesaid unfortunate island holders.

A committee of the whole council was held in the clerks office, on Tuesday evening, when it was decided to try and bring the advantages of Lakefield with its splendid water power to the notice of manufacturers, by advertising in the large dailies and also in some of the trade journals, and the clerk received instructions to such end,

In my correspondence last fall, I brought up the subject of low water in the river and lakes last summer, and pointed out some of the causes and how to remedy them, the chief cause being that the water in the large back lakes was allowed to run off in the spring causing high water then, and low water when the lumbermen and steamboat owners required a full supply. The Peterborough Board of Trade took up the subject and representations were made to the Dominion Government who, I believe, promised to attend to the matter. We have not heard of anything yet being done, and the time is fast slipping by when anything can be done, to save the water for the coming season, which, should it prove dry, will again bring about all the loss and annoyances to which the mill owners and other water users were put to last season. Mr. Haslit will be driving Massasaga Creek, and the Lakefield Lumber Co., Eels Creek, so that they will keep the water back for their own use. But Jack's and Deer Bay Creek should receive attention. Very little expenditure would put the dam at the outlet of Stoplog Lake, on Deer Bay Creek, into good shape, and as there is ten to twelve feet of a head there, a large body of water could be kept in reserve for summer use. The dams in the outlet of Jack's Creek cannot be in bad repair, as it is only two years since Messrs. Gilmour and Strickland overhauled them and others on the creek, making them as good as new. Jack's Lake contains a large body of water, which if carefully husbanded and let off as required, would be of untold value during the autumn months. Some of the smaller dams, such as those at Cox's and Crane Lakes, were in fair condition last fall, and if repaired before the lakes open, would all help to keep up the needed supply.

Filling up the Vacancies.

Mr. John Dobson, of Lindsay, the Tory leader in Victor county, and Mr. A. C. P. E. Landry, of Quebec, the chief proprietor of the Beauport lunatic asylum and the right hand man of Mr. Pelletier, have been called to the Senate. Mr. Dobson has not had any legislative experience, but Mr. Landry did fill the Commons seat for Montmagny for two sessions. Dr. John Ferguson, ex-M.P. of Niagara Falls, arrived from the west this morning. It is reported that the announcement of his appointment to the Senate, in the place of the late Mr. Plumb, will be made in a few days.

It is not what its proprietors say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that makes it sell, and wins the confidence of the people.

Small Sugar-coated Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They are mild and effectual.

Nothing More Pleasant

Than to feel a soft white hand. Any lady using Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses will always have soft white hands. Try it. W. A. DYER & Co., Montreal. 6d44

Harassing headaches make many lives miserable, needlessly so, when a prompt cure the Burdock Blood Bitters is obtainable.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic, either one renders you miserable, and these little Pills cure both. dw

Itch, Mange, and Scratches of every kind, on human or animals, cured in 20 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

A French Girl's Suicide

PARIS, Feb. 24.—At Nancy on Saturday, the beautiful daughter of Gen Tallien of the French Army, a girl barely 16 years of age, committed suicide. She had become engaged to a young lieutenant, Filot by name, without the knowledge of her parents. The young people laid the matter before the general on Saturday, whereupon he flew into a rage, and kicked the lieutenant out of the house. This preyed so upon the girl's mind that she procured a heavy cord, went to her bedroom and tied the cord to the iron balcony, slipped her neck into a noose on the other end, leaped and there hung for the rest of the night. At 8 o'clock on Sunday morning people in the streets discovered the body dangling from the third story balcony.

Baron Roberts of Candahar.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—General Frederick Sleigh Roberts, R.A., G.C.B., G.C.I.E., LL.D., V.C., Commander in Chief of the forces in India, whose elevation to the peerage was announced in December last, has been gazetted as Baron Roberts of Candahar and the City of Waterford.

General Roberts led the Candahar relief army of 9000 picked men in the Afghan war, 1879-80.

British Arms Successful.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—A despatch from Upper Burmah says that Captain Davies' column after sharp fighting expelled the Kachyens from their stockade positions and relieved Sadona. The British loss was four natives killed and 26 wounded, including Lieut. Munn. Capt. Davies will attack the principal stockade to-day to enable him to join the Yule column.

The Queen at Windsor.

LONDON, Feb. 24.—The Queen arrived at Windsor Castle from Osborne. This is her first visit to the mainland since before the death of the Duke of Clarence. Her Majesty did not appear to be enjoying her usual good health. She had some difficulty in walking. She was accompanied by Princess Beatrice and Princess Louise.

A Bit of Nautical Lore.

Do you know what a "pea-pod" is, in marine parlance? It is a boat much in demand among the Maine lobster fishermen, being alike at both ends and about fourteen feet long on top, built of cedar with oak timbers.

Beating the Butchers.

There is a man at Catasauqua who roasts cats and eats them; not because he wants to rid the town of the cats, but because they are good eating, and, when steak is 20 cents a pound, cheap, too.—Allentown (Pa.) Critic.

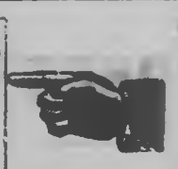
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are very small and very easy to take. One or two pills make a dose. They are strictly vegetable and do not gripe or purge, but by their gentle action please all who use them. In vials at 25 cents five for $1. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail.

READY FOR MAY-DAY.

THE PARIS ANARCHISTS STEAL SOME DYNAMITE

Wherewith to Convince People That They Are Right—The Police Recover a Lot of Explosives—An Anarchist Conspiracy That May Make Trouble on May-Day

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The theft of dynamite from the state factory has had the effect of waking the police up to the fact that Anarchists are making early preparations for May Day.

The domiciliary visits which begun yesterday in virtue of an order issued by a magistrate were continued to-day.

The police place some confidence in the report that the Anarchists intended to attempt to blow up the Spanish embassy in Paris, and they have consequently placed a close guard about that building.

ROUVIER'S CABINET.

The Former Minister to Become Premier of France.

PARIS, Feb. 25.—The selection of M. Rouvier by President Carnot to form a ministry has afforded great satisfaction to the party of the right, because when he held the office of Premier in 1887 he advocated an entente with that party and opposed the Radicals' support of Boulanger.

Before accepting the task entrusted to him by the President, M. Rouvier stipulated that he should be permitted to dissolve the chambers and have a fresh election if he deemed it desirable.

The Probable Cabinet.

M. BURDEAU, Minister of Public Instruction and the Fine Arts.
M. RAYNAL, Minister of Marine.
FELIX FAURE, Minister of Public Works.
M. LOUBET, Minister of Justice.
M. CONSTANS, Minister of Interior.
M. DE FREYCINET, Minister of War.
M. ROUVIER, Minister of Finance.
M. RIBOT, Minister of Foreign Affairs.
JULES ROCHE, Minister of Commerce.
M. DE VELLE, Minister of Agriculture.

The rejection by M. Rouvier of M. Bourgeois, Minister of Public Instruction in the last Cabinet, is significant as showing that the Premier does not intend to count upon the support of the Radicals.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A Lull in the Storm of Legislative Discussion.

TORONTO, Feb. 25.—Yesterday afternoon's session of the Local House was short and uninteresting.

Mr. Barr moved for returns showing the number of persons confined in the different jails of the province as indigent persons, unable to support themselves, and the length of time each person has been confined. He also wishes to ascertain at the same time the number of insane persons confined in the jails of the province, the length of time each person has been confined and the reason for being so confined. In support of the above a short speech was made, in which he characterised the principle of commiting respectable persons to jails owing to enfeeblement, being unable to sustain themselves properly, as manifestly unfair and tainted by a spirit of mediævalism. Responding Mr. Mowat remarked that everything possible had been done for the ample protection of the aged and infirm in the various communities, but owing to the large numbers accommodation had in some instances run short. He had, however, no objection to making the returns asked for

CUT HIS THROAT.

A Despondent Young Man Suicides in Toronto.

TORONTO, Feb. 25.—Charles Hebden, boarding at No. 42 Dundas-street, suicided early yesterday morning by cutting his throat. He had been despondent for several days. The young man retired to his room about 10 o'clock. Shortly after 1 his roommate heard a heavy fall. On investigating he was horrified to find Hipton lying on the floor with blood flowing profusely from a terrible gash in his throat, that had been evidently inflicted by Hipton with a razor that was picked up near the body. Hipton died in a few minutes. Coroner Lynd was notified and an inquest will be held to inquire into the circumstances

HAS TWO WIVES.

Married the Second One at the Point of a Pistol.

ROCHESTER, Feb. 25.—The case of John Bishop, charged with bigamy, who was to have been examined in the Police Court yesterday, was further adjourned till to-morrow morning. It is probable that he will waive examination, as he does not deny having a wife living in Canada at the time he married his present wife in Rochester, but says he was compelled at the point of a revolver to marry the latter. Bishop is about 30 years of age. It is stated his first wife will come to Rochester to testify against him.

DUNN IS DEAD.

He Had a Remarkable Career as a Criminal and Missionary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Michael Dunn, 66 years old, died yesterday in the Home of Industry, which he founded, at Hoyt and Livingston-streets, Brooklyn.

Dunn, who had lived a criminal life for 35 years, was converted in Jerry McAuley's mission several years ago. Since then he had devoted himself to reforming criminals.

He founded the Home of Industry for the reformation and employment of ex-convicts in Brooklyn a few months ago.

Dunn was born on Sept. 15, 1826, of "ungodly parents," as he himself phrased it, in Manchester, Eng.

He was taught to steal, and before he was 12 years old he had served five terms in prison. He was imprisoned after that in Van Diemen's Land, the British penal colony; in the Old Bailey, London; in Manchester, in Western Australia, in Gibraltar, in Philadelphia, in Montreal, Boston and in Sing Sing. He had been a sailor, a counterfeiter, a garroter and a seaman in the navy. He once escaped from Blackwell's Island by swimming to the Long Island shore.

It was upon being released from Sing Sing that he became converted. He established a Home of Industry for convicts in Water-street and traveled all over the United States as a convict.

A LETTER FROM MARTIN.

He Resigns His Pastorate in a Letter to a Churchwarden.

CHATHAM, Feb. 25.—Yesterday Churchwarden Heyward received a letter from Rev. N. H. Martin formally tendering his resignation as curate of Christ Church.

Heyward declined to divulge the contents of the letter except that it resigned h a position.

Later a gentleman who had also received a letter from Mr. Martin dated Fargo, Dakota, said: "I am of opinion that the letter to the churchwarden was written at Morris, Man."

Sons of England Officers.

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The officers elected by the Grand Lodge Sons of England at this morning's session were:

Supreme Grand President—W. R. Stroud, Ottawa.

Supreme Grand Vice-President—Thomas Elliott, Brantford.

Supreme Grand Secretary—John W. Carter, Toronto.

Supreme Grand Treasurer — Benjamin Hinchcliffe, Toronto.

Supreme Grand Auditors—Henry Symonds and William Barker, Toronto.

Asbestos Mining Fatality.

RICHMOND, Que., Feb. 25.—A serious accident occurred yesterday afternoon at Mr. Jeffery's asbestos mine, about three miles from Danville, in which two men, Joseph Boisvert and Godfrey Laurendo, lost their lives. As they were hoisting a large piece of rock to the surface it broke and part fell back, killing the two men and injuring another, Ulderic Perreault.

Brigand Rodriguez Executed.

HAVANA, Feb. 25.—A despatch received in this city from Santa Clara contains the information that Medesto Rodriguez, the noted kidnapper, was executed in that place to-day. Rodriguez had become famous in Cuba through his many daring acts of brigandage in seizing and carrying off wealthy residents of the island to his mountain retreat and then demanding large sums for their ransom.

Died While on a Visit.

GUELPH, Feb. 25.—A very sudden and sad death took place at the residence of Mr. W. H. Smith, Cambridge-street, last evening. Mrs. W. Hayden came into the city from Marden on Monday to visit the family, took sick that evening at 5 o'clock and died on Tuesday at 7 o'clock. She had only been married five months.

Suicide Follows Sickness.

HALIFAX, N.S., Feb. 25.—William Keith, aged 71, a prominent resident of the community, was found in a barn near Mineral Springs, a property at Havelock, with a bullet hole in his right temple and a revolver by his side. Cause supposed to be depression caused by sickness. Deceased was in good financial circumstances and held several prominent offices.

Cattle Have Wintered Well.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 25.—Reports from all parts of the province and territories go to show that cattle on ranches have wintered remarkably well and are in good condition.

Prohibition Plebiscite in Manitoba.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 25.—At next session of the Manitoba Legislature largely signed petitions will be presented praying that at the forthcoming general election a vote be taken as to whether the people desire to have an act passed prohibiting manufacture and sale of liquor in this province.

Mount Vesuvius is again in a state of eruption. A stream of lava issues from the base of the Great Cone and flows into the Atrio del Cavello.

Terrible snowstorms are raging in Galicia. The snow is piled up in immense drifts and traffic on the railroads is almost wholly suspended. Wagon roads are also badly blockaded.

Stumbled Upon $1,000,000.

CREEDE, Col., Feb. 25.—Brandt, a poor prospector, while going over Batchelor Mountain found a vaulted tavern whose sides are rich with silver ore worth $1000 a ton. Brandt was offered $100,000 cash for his claim, but it is thought to be worth $1,000,000.

Another Keeley Patient Dead.

DWIGHT, Ill., Feb. 25.—Harry H. Ansley of St. Joseph, Mich., has died at the Keeley Institute. He was 32 years old and a dipsomaniac.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 25.—Luther Benson, the temperance orator, went on a spree a few weeks ago and then into the Plainfield Keeley cure for treatment. He says he fears he has been driven crazy by the bi-chloride of gold injections. He has slept only two hours in five days.

Earthquakes in California.

SANTA ANNA, Cal., Feb. 25.—Eight shocks of earthquake were felt here last night. Clocks were stopped.

At San Bernardino a heavy shock was felt, lasting 1¼ minutes. The vibrations were northeast and southwest. No serious damage was done, but the shock was followed by light trembles all night.

Ate a Babe's Flesh.

ATLANTA, Feb. 25.—News of a horrible murder and cannibalism near Ray's Mill has been received. Lucy President, a degraded and idiotic negro woman, left her home and 9-months-old infant in charge of her two older children, Mark and Linda, aged respectively 9 and 11 years.

Securing an ax, Mark deliberately knocked the babe in the head and mangled its body in different places. Not content with the crime he had already committed, he took a fork and gouged out the eyes of the little one, which he roasted, and then taking a slice out of either jaw he and his sister sat themselves down to a feast.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE FORMAL ADDRESS OF THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

The Bill of Fare For the Session—The Reciprocity Negotiations — Why the Ministers Went to Washington—Redistribution of Seats—The Seal Fisheries.

OTTAWA, Feb. 26.—Yes, said Col. Tyrwhitt to Dr. Landerkin as the western contingent drove up from the Pullman car to the Russell in the early morning, "It is a beautiful day. Mr. Abbott chose a very good day." Whereat everybody laughed.

The weather of the morning, "frosty yet kindly," continued through the day and the consequence was there was a grand turning out of the lieges to see His Excellency open Parliament.

Ottawa people seem never to weary of the annual pageant. They look forward to it with all the eagerness of a girl for her first proposal, and when the occasion at length comes it finds her flushed, trembling, but radiant.

This is a day when the Senate after months of neglect comes to the front with a rush in the people's affections. The plebeian Commons was treated with contumely to-day, while the doors of the Senate were besieged by a wriggling, pushing, squeezing multitude, all armed with tickets of admission to the various galleries. And when they got there they had presented to their gaze a sort of daylight nocturne, if the paradox may be permitted—a study in lady's loveliness.

The atmosphere of the chamber was decidedly hot, but the whispering, fluttering crowd in the gallery endured the temperature with unfaltering fortitude until His Excellency arrived, his coming foreshadowed for 15 minutes previously by the booming of cannon from Nepean Point.

Then began the mystic work of that wonderful personage, the Usher of the Black Rod (not the Rusher of the Black Hod, as some irreverent western heathen called him).

After a series of bows and genuflexions timed by heart beats, the busy and bald little gentleman departed for the other chamber to inform the Commoners that His Excellency daired to see them.

He was not long in returning with Speaker White in his train and the unbridled hosts of the people's representatives.

When the Speaker had rested his front against the brazen bar, looking as if he desired to enter a plea of not guilty, His Excellency communicated the following facts to him and such others as might be interested in the matter:

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE, GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS,—It affords me much gratification to meet you at the commencement of the Parliamentary session and to be able to congratulate you upon the general prosperity of the Dominion and upon the abundant harvest with which Providence has blessed all parts of the country.

"The lamented death of His Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence aroused a feeling of profound sorrow. The sympathy with Her Majesty and their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales in their bereavement which has prevailed in the Dominion on this melancholy occasion has found expression in respectful messages of condolence from my Ministers, from the Provincial Governments and from many other representative bodies.

The negotiations with respect to seal fishing in Behring Sea have been continued with a view to the adjustment by arbitration of the difficulties which have arisen between Her Majesty's Government and that of the United States on that subject. Commissioners have been appointed by both Governments to investigate the circumstances of seal life in Behring Sea, to report thereon, and to suggest the measures, if any, which they may deem necessary for its proper protection and preservation. The commissioners are proceeding with their deliberations in Washington, and the results will shortly be communicated to Her Majesty's Government. I trust that their investigations, and the determination of the arbitrators who are to be appointed, may lead to a just and equitable settlement of this long-pending difficulty.

The meeting which had been arranged with the United States Government for a day in October last for an informal discussion on the extension of trade between the two countries and on other international matters requiring adjustment was postponed at their request. But in compliance with a more recent intimation from that Government three of my ministers proceeded to Washington and conferred with representatives of the administration of the United States on these subjects. An amicable understanding was arrived at respecting the steps to be taken for the establishment of the boundary of Alaska and for reciprocity of services in cases of wreck and salvage. Arrangements were also reached for the appointment of an international commission to report on the regulations which may be adopted by the United States and Canada for the preservation of destructive methods of fishing and the pollution of streams and for establishing uniformity of close seasons and other means for the preservation and increase of fish. A valuable and friendly interchange of views respecting other important matters also took place.

In accordance with the promise given at the close of last session, a commission has been appointed to investigate the working of the Civil Service Act and other matters connected with the civil service generally. The report of this commission will be laid before you during the present session.

The conclusions of the commission on the manufacture of beet root sugar will also be laid before you.

It is desirable that the fishery regulations in British Columbia should be examined and revised so as to adapt them better to the requirements of the fisheries in that province. A commission has been issued with that object.

An important measure respecting the criminal law, which was laid before you last session, has been revised and improved, as a result of the expression of views elicited by its presentation to Parliament and will be submitted to you.

Your attention will also be directed to measures for the redistribution of seats consequent upon the census returns; the establishment of the boundaries of the territories and the amalgamation of the Departments of Marine and Fisheries. Bills will also be presented to you for the amendment of the Civil Service Act, the acts relating to real properties in the territories and of those respecting the fisheries.

GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS,—The accounts of the past year will be laid before you, as well as the estimates for the ensuing year. These estimates have been prepared with a due regard to economy and the requirement of the public service.

HONORABLE GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE, GENTLEMEN OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS,—I commend these important subjects and all matters affecting the public interests which may be brought before you to your best consideration, and I feel assured that you will address yourselves to them with earnestness and assiduity.

His Excellency then bowed to three sides and the ceremony of opening Parliament was completed.

About the throne Cabinet Ministers were conspicuous by their absence. The Premier, Mr. Abbott, was attired in the gorgeous Windsor uniform and Senator Frank Smith in the sober dress of a Cabinet Minister. War Minister Bowell, Sir John Thompson and Mr. Tupper spent their time in the Commons in business suits, shaking hands and exchanging greetings with the members, not alone of their own party but of those of the opposite party.

Hon. Mr. Foster is ill, and to-night his illness is described as somewhat serious.

Mr. Charlton, though not present to-day, has forwarded two notices of introduction of bills, one to secure better observances of the Lord's Day Act, and the other to suppress the publication and dissemination of obscene literature. There is good authority for stating that this latter is not aimed as alleged at the circulation of literature.

Mr. Edgar is in search of information with respect to what the Imperial Government is likely to do in respect of the favored nation clauses in Imperial treaties.

The names of the prohibition commission will probably be announced in a day or two.

The Western contingent which came down on the C.P.R. last night was on the whole a very jolly one. There was any amount of good-humored chaffing interchanged between the members of the two parties. At Peterboro' Sam Hughes and Mr. Fairbairn came aboard, and there was great cheering on the part of the Conservative faction. The campaign, with its joys and sorrows, was fought all over again until a late hour in the morning.

TRAIN ROBBER PERRY.

He Denies That His Caller was A Bogus Father.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., Feb. 26.—A reporter had a long interview last night with Oscar Curtis Perry, the Train Robber.

Oliver Curtis Perry, the express robber, in the jail at Lyons. The prisoner told the story of both robberies.

He indignantly denied that the man who called to see him and attempted to aid him in his escape was not his father.

His story with respect to entering the car and shooting the messenger and the events which followed differ little from what is now ancient history.

MAY PROVE FATAL.

Young Men Who Didn't Know an Empty Dynamite Keg Was Loaded.

AMHERSTBURG, Feb. 26.—Several young men at Grosse Isle found an empty nitro-glycering keg frozen in the ice last night and proceeded to make a bonfire of it.

After it had burned a few minutes Oliver Reaume, 19 years old, advanced and gave it a kick. There was a terrific explosion and next instant Reaume was minus his right hand and his left leg was so shattered that amputation will be necessary, even if he does not die. Reaume was blown into the air fully ten feet and all the others present were knocked down and stunned.

The keg undoubtedly floated from the lime kiln crossing, where nitro-glycerine and dynamite are used in blasting, and was probably thrown out as empty, although a little of the explosive remained within.

The Earl of Aberdeen's Ranch.

DONALD, B.C., Feb. 26.—Over 16,000 small fruit plants, shrubs and canes will be set out between the fruit trees on the Earl of Aberdeen's estate at the Mission, B.C., in the spring. The plans for the jam and canning factory are being prepared by an English architect. The factory will probably be located at Vernon, as a large quantity of fruit is certain to be cultivated in the Spallumcheen Valley.

A NICE MOTHER THIS.

A FIEND GUISED IN THE GARB OF WOMAN.

Lord Montagu's Daughter-in-Law Was Anxious For the Souls of Her Children so She Scarred Their Little Bodies—Tale of Cruelty.

BELFAST, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Annie Margaret Montagu, wife of Robert Montagu of Coleraine, County Londonderry, and daughter-in-law of Lord Montagu, was again arraigned yesterday.

The first witness called was Miss Dosell, the governess. She repeated the evidence she had given before the coroner's jury to the effect that the little girl had committed some misbehavior for which she, the governess, had placed her in a bare, dark room. She afterwards informed Mrs. Montagu of what she had done, whereupon the latter, who was evidently much incensed at her daughter's action, went to the room and tied the little girl's arms behind her back with a stocking. She then tied her up with a cord to a ring in the wall and left her. At the expiration of four hours, when Mrs. Montagu went to the room, she found that the stocking, in some unaccountable manner, had slipped up around the child's neck and she had been strangled to death.

Further evidence was submitted to prove that Mrs. Montagu was guilty of the first count—manslaughter. She was held in £700 bail to await trial on that charge.

The She Devil's Victims

The hearing on the second count, charging her with cruelty to children, was then proceeded with.

Miss Wallace, formerly in the employ of Mrs. Montagu as a governess for her children, testified that Walter Montagu, the 4-year-old son of the defendant, was upon one occasion tied to a tree in the morning and allowed to remain till late in the afternoon. His dinner was taken from the house and put on the grass before him.

On another occasion Miss Wallace missed the boy from his usual place in the house and she saw nothing of him for eight days. When she saw him again the backs of his hands were puffed up and looked as though the blood had stagnated. He had bruises on his face and neck. She had also heard Mrs. Montagu beating the child badly in the dark room.

Mrs. James, formerly a nurse in the Montagu household, testified that she had seen Gilbert Montagu, five-year old, with marks of cord around his elbows and with pieces of flesh cut out of his toes. Austin Montagu, another son of the accused, had also been locked in a dark room. Mrs. Montagu had said to her that this was her way of punishing her children. She did it to save their souls; she did not mind their bodies.

Dragged Feet First Along the Floor.

The nurse, Mrs. James, deposed that she once saw the accused dragging her son Austin along the corridor by his feet, his head trailing along the ground. This testimony caused a sensation.

A housemaid named Campbell deposed that she saw Gilbert Montagu stripped naked and beaten with a scourge until his whole body was lacerated, that he was then thrust into a dark closet, where he lay moaning all night, and that she was unable to sleep on account of the moaning and pleaded with the accused to let Gilbert out of the closet.

Mrs. Montagu was committed for trial on the second charge.

Mrs. Montagu was attired in deep mourning and a heavy veil concealed her face. Her husband and brother sat beside her through the whole proceedings.

The Right Hon. Lord Robert Montagu, P.C., is the uncle of the present Duke of Manchester, the husband of Miss Consuelo Yznaga.

Lord Robert Montagu married first in 1853 Ellen Mary, only daughter of John Cromie, Esq., of Cromore, County Antrim. By this marriage he had a son, Robert Acheson Cromie Montagu, who was born in 1854, formerly a lieutenant in the Royal Navy, who in 1880 married Annie Margaret, daughter of Gilbert McMicking, Esq., of Miltonise, Wigtownshire. Mrs. Robert Montagu, nee McMicking, the woman mentioned in the foregoing despatch, is thus the daughter-in-law of Lord Robert Montagu, and Helen Mary, her victim, is the youngest of her seven children.

THE PRINCE AND HIS VICTIM.

A Canadian Farmer's Infatuation for the "Flying Roll" and His Whiskers.

DETROIT, Feb. 26.—Mrs. G. N. Avery, wife of the long-haired latter-day Israelite who was arrested last week on a charge of burglary, says her husband was all right until he met "Prince Michael," the leader of the sect, two years ago. Since then he has neglected his farm at New Durham, Ont., and has spent most of his time reading the "Flying Roll" and letting his hair and whiskers grow. Two weeks ago he left his home to join the colony and is now entirely bereft of his senses.

MRS. HESLOP DEAD.

A Most Important Witness in the Ancaster Murder Case Gone.

HAMILTON, Feb. 26.—Mrs. Heslop, widow of the murdered treasurer of Ancaster, died at her home, near Ancaster village, yesterday. The venerable lady had been very ill for a week, suffering from congestion of the lungs, brought on by an attack of the grip. Her daughter had been her sole companion since the murder of her husband about a year ago.

The death of Mrs. Heslop will embarrass the case in the approaching trial of the supposed murderers. She would have been a very important witness.

Mrs. Heslop was a daughter of the late John Aikman, who lived in Ancaster for many years. She married Mr. Heslop 50 years ago. She was about 70 years old.

Another row occurred last night near the Brandenburg gate, Berlin. About 300 men out of employment assembled with the intention of holding a demonstration, but they quarreled among themselves instead and a free fight ensued. They were finally dispersed by police. Many shops were looted during the row.

The distribution of food by the editor of The Vienna Volkspress to the starving men, women and children has been stopped by the police, who give as their reason for so doing that the assembling of thousands of the poor constitutes a public danger. The editor of The Volkspress, assisted by Herr Frey, a socialist, made it his business to visit the many bakeries of the city and appealed to the proprietors to give him bread to help the starving. This, too, failed to meet the approval of the authorities and both the editor and Herr Frey have been arrested.

Patrons of Industry.

The Annual Meeting—Address of the President of the Grand Association—Report of the Secretary.

At the annual meeting of the Grand Association of the Patrons of Industry, the grand president in his opening address extended a warm welcome to the members, and said he felt that their association was filling a long felt want, in providing an organization which has power and authority to speak and act in their behalf. In spite of the immensity of the resources of the Ontario farmers, the industry and intelligence of the agricultural population, he came to the conclusion that they were not so prosperous as they ought to be. Land had risen in value so that man with money enough to pay for stock and equip a farm could find a better investment, and a poor man was obliged to go so deeply into debt that in many cases he could not redeem himself, and consequently failed. Another reason for the existing state of affairs is that produce has to find its way to foreign markets, and therefore has to be entrusted to other hands not always honest. The produce has to pay a living to every person engaged in handling it, and has to pay duty before being admitted into some of the foreign markets. Thus the balance left to the Ontario farmer is insufficient remuneration for his labor. On the other hand, almost everything that the farmer has to buy is supplied by combinations and monopolies, and an amount is extorted from the farmers above and beyond the intrinsic value of the article he pays for. This showed the imperative necessity for the farmers of Ontario to unite their forces in their own defence. His opinion was that their salvation must to a great extent come from themselves, and he therefore hailed the advent of the Patrons of Industry. If any legislation was required the association affords the means whereby a united demand could be made, and their united influence could not be set at naught. They had been accused of being in antagonism to the merchant and the manufacturer, but if there is any such antagonism it was not of their seeking. Much good work has been done by the organizers, though he sometimes had found fault. He concluded by expressing the hope that their labours would contribute to the progress and prosperity of the order, to the lasting benefit of the great industrial class they represented, and to the general good of their native land.

The Grand Secretary's report dealt with the financial affairs of the order, which he showed to be in a healthy condition. He then made reference to the question of supplies for associations, and outlined the proper method of dealing with the matter. He next dealt with the question of dues and organization. This part of the report showed an increase in the past year from ten county associations to three times that number. There are now 1,400 associations in good standing, and 30 000 of a paid up membership returned to the grand office. The remainder of the report deal with details, and concluded by showing that the prospects of the order were bright and promising.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

Ontario's Finances.

The Toronto Evening News (Conservative) of yesterday says:—

The point is not whether the expenditure of the Ontario Government is greater than can be met out of the normal revenues of the year, but whether the sums expended have been economically administered and applied to necessary purposes. Judged by this standard, while insignificant leaks may be pointed to here and there, no serious fault can be found with the Government's financial record. As Mr. Awrey showed yesterday, had the scale of expenditure adopted in 1873 been continued, the total outgo since then would have been reduced by nine millions. But how would the provinces stand to-day? We would not have our magnificent systems of asylums, deaf and dumb institutions and places of correction and punishment, nor would so much have been done to build railways, encourage agriculture and assist in the great work of public education.

The Government is rather to be commended for its wise and progressive policy than to be condemned for its failure to go on hoarding up a surplus when the public interest required that the money should be applied in reducing the burdens of municipal taxation and developing the resources of the province.

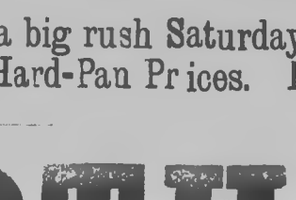
Self Application of Electricity FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Ontario Educational Interests.

Digest of the Report of the Minister of Education.

The Minister of Education in his annual report, which by the way is a very fine volume, shows that the number of pupils attending school in the province this past year was 496,465, while the number last year was 500,815. The average daily attendance of the year was 251,307.

The average attendance of rural pupils was 47 per cent. of the registered attendance, while in towns it was 59 per cent. and in the cities 62 per cent. The County of Haldimand furnishes the highest average—54 per cent. —for the rural districts; the town of Niagara Falls furnishes the highest average—viz., 72 per cent.—for the towns; and the city of Hamilton the highest average—viz, 72 per cent.—for the cities. The other extremes are reached by Haliburton with 31 per cent., Dufferin, Glengarry, and districts 59, Gore Bay and North Toronto 42, Penetanguishene 46, Sadawich 44, London 53, Belleville and Brantford 58 per cent. The average for the province as a whole is 51 per cent., the same as last year. The divisor used to ascertain this average attendance is in all cases the legal number of teaching days. With regard to compulsory attendance the Minister says:

"In previous reports I have called attention to the power conferred by section 209 of the Public School Act upon trustees to compel the attendance at school of children between 7 and 13 years of age for a period of at least 100 days each year. From the statistics it is quite evident that these compulsory powers are not exercised. In 1882 the number of absentees between the ages named was 87,444; in 1890 they numbered 83,609 From a more detailed for 1890, it will be seen that 68,860 of these were from counties or rural districts having a gross registered attendance of 347,783. That is to say 20 per cent. of the rural school population attended school less than 100 days in the year. In towns the absentees numbered 9,259 out of a registered attendance of 70,242, or about 13 per cent.; in cities they numbered 5,490, out of a registered attendance of 78,540 or about 7 per cent."

Female still continue to gain on male teachers, being 67 per cent. of the entire number employed. There is a gratifying increase in the better class of certificates; second-class provincial have advanced from 1,304 to 2,969, equal to 1,665 in 14 years, other and inferior certificates declining. While salaries in cities and towns have gone up considerably, in the rural districts there is not much improvement. The number of teachers taking advantage of the Normal schools is 1,776 better than in 1877, and is 35 per cent. of the total number of persons engaged in teaching the Public schools. Waterloo pays the highest average salary to male teachers, $447; Essex leads for females with $334; Frontenac the lowest, $290 for male; and Haliburton $204, for female teachers. There are now 5,768 school-houses in the province. The log school house is fast disappearing, there being only 597 in 1890, as against 1,466 in 1850. In the same period brick school-houses have increased from 99 to 2,162, being 39 per cent. of the total number; 5,647 school-houses are freehold, and 121 rented. The number of maps now used amounted to 52,013. In 1850 there were only 1,814.

AS A GENERAL RULE THE SCHOOLS

throughout the province are open the full year; 3,564, or 66 per cent., of the Public schools use the authorized Scripture readings, 41 per cent the Bible, 97 per cent. of the schools are opened and closed with prayer. Notwithstanding the large expenditure for school sites and buildings, and the large increase to the teaching staff of the country, the cost per pupil has but slightly advanced in fourteen years. The average cost per pupil on the number enrolled in 1890, for counties, was $7 38; for cities, $14.46; and for towns, $9.70, or an average of $8 67 for the province. In 1877 the average cost was, for counties, $6 01; for cities, $7.52, for towns, $6 51, or an average of $6 26 for the province. Of the receipts, 5.67 per cent. is furnished by the Government, the balance by the people. The expenditure under all the headings for 1890 was large, showing the general interest that is taken in the progress of the Public schools, and the determination of the ratepayers to support them generously. The number of S parate schools has advanced from 175 to 259 in fourteen years; the expenditure has increased $174,897, and the teachers 235 during the same period. For eight years the number of High schools (including Collegiate Institutes) stood at 104, in 1884 there was an increase of two, now they number 120 Collegiate Institutes have advanced to 31 in 1890. The most gratifying feature, however, of our High school system is the large increase in the attendance, the numbers having more than doubled in fourteen years. Having regard to the numbers and standing of the teachers employed now as compared with 1877, it is worthy of note that the cost per pupil, taking expenditures of all kinds into consideration, is much less than it was fourteen years ago. In 1877 the cost per pupil was $37 24; in 1890 it was $32 34 per pupil; or if we make the test the amount paid for teachers' salaries, which is the main item of expense, it will be found that in 1877 the cost per pupil was $22 92, in 1890 it was $20.93 per pupil.

THE HIGH SCHOOLS,

(including Collegiate Institutes) are classified as follows:—Schools with two masters, 32; schools with three masters or over, 88 The largest Collegiate Institute is Hamilton, with an enrolment of 677; then Toronto (Jarvis street) with 634; Toronto (Jameson avenue) with 454; London with 441; Owen Sound with 423. There is an average of over 6 teachers to each of the Collegiate Institutes. The average number of pupils to each High school teacher in the province is 43 The percentage of average to total attendance is 59 From table G it will be seen that fees amounting to $82 614 were received. In 1877 the fees collected amounted to only $20,753. In 1890, 482 pupils matriculated, 349 joined the learned professions such as law and medicine, 1,018 left for mercantile life, and 795 for agriculture. In 1877 only 3,621 pupils, or 40 per cent. of the whole number, studied commercial subjects such as book-keeping; in 1890 this subject was taken by 14,261, or 74 per cent. of the whole attendance. On the other hand, Latin in 1877 was studied by 4,955 or by 50 per cent; in 1890 the number of pupils in Latin was 7,114, or 36 per cent. of the number in attendance. The number studying Greek has diminished from about 10 per cent. of the whole attendance to 6 per cent. In French and German the numbers are relatively the same. There has been a large increase in the number studying drawing, the total in 1877 being 2,755, and in 1890, 14,667. Phonography is taught in 9 schools to 433 pupils, the largest class (80 pupils) being in Brampton, and the next largest (74) in Petrolea. Music is taught in 15 schools. The total number of pupils who passed a university matriculation examination was 482 Of these the Toronto (Jarvis street) Collegiate Institute passed the highest number (31), and Hamilton the next highest number (21). The highest salary paid a headmaster was $2,500 (Toronto Jarvis street Collegiate Institute) The average salary of headmasters for the province was $1 138, of assistant masters $804 or all masters $892. Of the masters, 183 were graduates of Toronto University, 53 of Victoria, 37 of Queen's, 11 of Trinity, 2 of McGill, and 4 of British universities. The whole number of teachers employed was 452. In 1887, the first year in which the department took the entrance examinations in charge, the number passed was 3,270; in 1890 it was 9,391. In 1877 only 6,248 wrote for entrance to the High schools, in 1890 the number had risen to 18,279. The papers for this examination are sent out by the department. In 1891 204,000 papers were required. The grand total number of pupils attending all schools and colleges in the province was 517,319, and the total amount expended $5,284,980.

Keeping Hotel in Jerusalem.

A Philadelphia man keeps the only hotel in Jerusalem. He says he doesn't have many commercial travellers, but he is long on pilgrims nearly every day in the year. It sounds funny to hear the clerk yell: "Front, go and find Mustapha Effendi and tell him that Col. Bloodroot of Room 207 wants to be guided to the Pool of Siloam and the Mount of Olives this morning, and be quick about it." Guides are kept who know more about the Bible than Prof. Brigg's opponents say he does, and who are ready at a moment's notice to pilot good-paying infidels to any spot from Dan to Beersheba. And the discussions around the hotel tables, in which Moses, Jacob, Pharoah, Paul John, and other figures of sacred history form the chief staples of conversation, are said to resemble very much those of a minister's weekly meeting.—New York Tribune.

He Got It.

First Clerk—"I'm going in to strike the old man for a raise."

(Ten minutes later.)

Second Clerk—"Well, did he raise you?"

First Clerk—"I should say so! Didn't you see me come through that door?"

Household Novelties.

Table knives are now made to match the china of the different courses. The handles are china, and beautifully painted. For the poultry course downy chickens, and ducks; for the game—the partridge, snipe and quail, with their beautiful plumage.

A Bit of Dentistry.

A horse has forty teeth, a mare only thirty-six, wanting the tusks or so-called wolf teeth. The ox and the sheep tribes have only thirty-two, wanting the eight incisors in the upper jaw. The pig has forty four teeth, the dog has forty-two and mankind only thirty-two.—Boston Globe.

The great majority of so called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.

A Crying Evil.

Every crying evil should be promptly removed. Sick headache is a crying evil effecting thousands of Canadians, which can easily be removed by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the best known stomach, liver and bowel regulator and cure for sick headache from whatever cause arising. dw

Hidden Foes.

Among the many foes to human health and happiness dyspepsia and constipation are enemies greatly to be feared. With B. B. People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attowell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Why Buy Cheap Tea?

A good cup of tea whether green or black, is one of the most refreshing beverages known, but the idea of people putting into their stomachs the trash sold as tea at six or seven pounds for a dollar is simply beyond understanding; far better leave it alone. Kirk's cheapest Japan, and it is a fine one, is 25c. per pound or 4½ lbs for a dollar; try it and you will get a tea worth drinking. W. C. Kirk, Ashburnham, Ontario telephone, No. 6, Bell Telephone, No. 312.

Oddfellow Notes.

Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I.O.O.F., had a crowded hall at their meeting last night, on which occasion they received a visit from Canton Peterborough, in uniform. Two candidates received the third degree, the team under Bro. Pierce, their instructor, working like a charm and receiving great praise from all present, for their excellent work. Next meeting being the first in the month will be devoted to initiation, for which rehearsal will be held on Tuesday night.

Sunday Evening Address.

That eloquent orator John R. Clarke has been engaged by the Epworth League of Charlotte street Methodist Church to give his thrilling and brilliant temperance oration "Moral Heroism" in the church on Sunday evening next, and to lecture on Monday evening on "To and fro in London." (Particulars will be given later.) A silver collection will be taken up at the doors on Sunday evening so as to facilitate the ushers in their duties. Everybody that can, should try and hear this orator of orators.

Militia Temple.

A special Pullman car will arrive at eight o'clock this evening via C.P.R. from Toronto, conveying the officers and a number of Sir Knights of Geoffrey de St. Adlemar Preceptory of Toronto. They come on a fraternal visit to Moore Preceptory and Priory No. 13, of Peterborough, to assist in the exemplification of Templar work, at an emergent chapter to be held this evening in the Masonic Hall, Water street. Visiting fratres from Cobourg, Belleville, Port Hope and Whitby are also expected to be present. The visiting fratres will be banqueted by the local Preceptory at the close of the official business.

A Relic of Old Days.

Mr. Charles Cameron has been dusting his book shelves, and among other literary lumber he unearthed a copy of the Cobourg Star and Newcastle General Advertiser, bearing date "Cobourg (U.C. Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1832." The paper is of eight small pages, altogether about the size of one page of the present issue of the daily EXAMINER. There is of course no telegraphic intelligence, but an interesting couple of pages of debate in the legislature on the motion for the sale of the clergy reserve lands. In evidence of the primative habits of the people of Cobourg in those days (which they have not perhaps entirely outgrown) a meeting of the "Cobourg Bible Society" is called by advertisement, to be held "at 6 o'clock precisely, W. S Conger, Secretary." An editorial paragraph refers to the "expulsion (from the House) of Mackenzie," and adds that "our representatives have had time to attend to the legislative duties." It appears that Cobourg was "on the make" also for the same paragraph says that among the measures sanctioned during the past week which demand our warmest admiration and thanks, is the vote of "another £20,000 for roads."

New Novels.

The latest issue of John Lovell & Son's "Star" Series of Choice Fiction, are "A Fatal Silence," by Florence Marryat, price 40c.; and "The Princess Mazaroff," by Joseph Hutton, price 40c. — both capital and entertaining writers. Matrimonial.

WALTON—DAVIDSON.

One of those happy events of evergreen social interest, a wedding, took place at the residence of Mrs. Samuel Davidson, Edinburgh street, when her daughter Jennie, was united in marriage to Mr. J. L. Walton, of St. Thomas, Dakota, another instance of the annexation movement. The ceremony was performed by Rev. D. N. McCamus, in the presence of a few of the immediate relatives and friends of the bride. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Bella Davidson, and Mr. Wm. C. Crossley, of Peterborough, was "best man." The popularity of the bride was shown by the very numerous and elegant bridal presents she received. After the usual wedding feast the newly-wed left on the 9 o'clock G.T.R. express for St. Thomas, Dakota, which will be their future, and their many friends hope and wish, their happy home.

LYLE—DUNK.

A happy event transpired on Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. Thos. Dunk, Campbellford, when his daughter Elizabeth, was united in holy wedlock to Mr. M. W. Lyle, town, before a large number of friends. Rev. Mr. Edwards tied the nuptial knot, Miss Jennie Dunk, sister of the bride, attended her, while Mr. John Alford helped the groom through the momentous occasion. The number of presents received evinced the high esteem in which the bride was held by her numerous friends, who will wish her a long life of connubial bliss. Mr. and Mrs. Lyle will reside in Peterborough.

An Afternoon Mishap.

Yesterday afternoon Miss Wallis, daughter of Capt. Jas. Wallis, and Miss Macklin were out enjoying a pleasure drive. While attempting to turn round at the toll gate school, about a mile from the town, the cutter upset throwing the ladies out in the road. The horse became frightened and started off at a furious rate, following the gravel road, and Charlotte to Water, up Water to Brock, thence down George street when the runaway on rounding the corner of George and Simcoe streets was captured by P. C. Adams in front of Mr. C. N. Brown's grocery. The horse and rig were taken into Phelan's hotel yard where it was found that the cutter was badly demolished. Both shafts were broken off short and also the runners and braces which were broken and twisted in many places.

Seizure of Bread.

This morning Chief of Police Rouzel and Police Constable Adams made a descent upon the eleven bakers of the town. The result of their investigation into the required weights of bread was that the loaves of two bakers were found not to be the required weight. According to the by-law the requisite weight should be four pounds to the loaf or two pounds to the half-loaf, an allowance of two ounces being made where the bread has been baked more than twenty-four hours before the weighing or seizing. After the officers had satisfied themselves that the bread was light weight it was seized by them and removed to the police headquarters where it now remains awaiting the action of the court. The case will come up for hearing at the police court to-morrow morning. Some sixteen loaves were confiscated from one baker, and eighteen from the other—thirty-four large loaves in all. The bread of one or two bakers was found to be slightly overweight, which the citizens will be glad to learn.

Police Court.

FRIDAY, Feb. 26th.

There was only one case on the docket at the police court to-day.. Mrs. Mary Duval laid complaint against Briden Weese a thirteen year old youth for disorderly conduct. Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defendant. Mrs. Duval resides on Park street and owns a small dog which occasionally barks at passers by. She complains that young Weese in passing her house often let fly those tempting missiles—snowballs—not at the dog alone but also at the house and children, and last Sunday the climax was reached, she could tolerate his conduct no more and laid a complaint against the youthful molester for disorderly conduct in a public place contrary to statute. The magistrate fined Weese $2, in default ten days in gaol.

REAL ESTATE!

Our List is too Long and our Bargains too Big for detail in our space.

Come to our office if you want to Buy, Sell, Rent, or Exchange Real Estate of any kind. Remember this is money, and you can save both by calling on us, because we have property for Sale, Rent and Exchange in every locality. If you want to buy a home, we can suit you. If you want a business stand, we have them in the right places and at correct prices. If you have a few dollars, a few hundred, or a few thousand invested at from 3 to 6 per cent. and that your intelligence shows you that if you were to invest that money in Peterborough Real Estate with its present bright and future brilliant prospects, you could make more money in one year than would accrue at above rates of interest in ten years. Life is short and if ten years' work can be done in one, why not adopt the new plan? Example—Two men are going to Toronto, one adheres to the old way and walks, occupying three days, the other takes the train and arrives there in less than three hours. Who would like to be compared to No. 1, and yet where is the difference in the case of those who are willing to accept 3 to 6 per cent. interest and refuse 20 to 50 per cent. You say the latter cannot be safe nor honest; we reply, call at our office and we will prove it safer than the former and perfectly honest.

But there are two necessary conditions to be observed to prevent you from counting your loss instead of your gain. You must have a guide, and he must be honest and he must thoroughly understand his business if you desire profit instead of loss. We have had several years practical experience in handling Peterborough real estate, and hundreds of our patrons can testify as to the value of our services. We have never been as well prepared to serve our patrons as at present, and we are determined to make 1892 a memorable year in our real estate transactions, and the one from which future millionaires will date their first stride, guided by our advice. Rich and poor, old and young, male and female, all, are most cordially invited to come to our office and see what we can do in the way of helping you on the road to riches. You can invest any amount you please with perfect safety. Any person wishing to sell their property quickly, can place it with us on reasonable terms, providing they are willing to sell AT OR UNDER VALUE.

Sad News Received.

Mr. John Irwin this morning received by telegraph the sad intelligence that the wife of his son Fred, (Ella Stewart, well known in town,) had died this morning at San Jose, California. The death must have been sudden, for in a letter written to his father on the 18th, Mr. Irwin said that both he and his wife were in good health. The remains will be brought to Peterborough for interment, and Mr. Irwin is expected to arrive with the body on Friday next. The deceased lady who was about twenty-three years of age, was married three years ago, was well known here and her death will bring sorrow to a wide circle of relatives and friends.

Getting Ready for Spring Before the Winter is Ended.

With the City Clothing Store the season has been one of unprecedented activity. Since the removal of H. LeBrun & Co., into their splendid new establishment their business has been continually increasing, and everybody in the building has had to work hard to keep up with the demands of trade. And now, before winter is ended the spring goods come pouring in. Boxes and bales are being unpacked, and the store will soon be transformed from its heavy, wintery looking fabrics into the welcome displays of spring and summer wear. By advertisement in another column gentlemen are invited to take an early look at some of the new importations just opened out for their inspection.

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

Rose, Shamrock and Thistle.

Interesting Lecture in the Opera House Last Night by John R. Clarke—A Large Attendance.

A large audience assembled in the opera house last evening to hear Mr. John R. Clarke, the boot-black orator of Boston, give his famous lecture on "The Rose, the Shamrock and the Thistle." As the subject chosen could give offence or prejudice to none, the large audience present was composed largely of the English, Irish and Scotch element of our town. The lecturer was some twenty minutes late in arriving. He expected to arrive in town at noon yesterday from Buffalo, but missed connections and was delayed in reaching Peterborough until 8.15 o'clock last evening. Mr. Clarke comes here under the auspices of Caswell Lodge I.O.G.T. No. 312.

Before the lecture Miss Nellie Wrighton favoured the large company with an instrumental solo, charmingly executed.

Dr. Goldsmith ably filled the position of chairman, and in a few well chosen words welcomed Mr. Clarke again to Peterborough on this, his third, visit. He stated that the lecturer needed no introduction, as his fame and reputation as a clever, brilliant and eloquent exponent of temperance principles, was already established.

Mr. Clarke on coming forward was loudly greeted. He stated that he was glad to get back to address Canadian audiences after a two years' absence across the border. He then launched out into a glowing description and graphic portrayal of those three mighty emblems, the Rose, the Shamrock and the Thistle, at whose sight the heart beats with a quicker throb, and the eye gleams with a brighter glow as each countryman sees in the emblematic symbol of his nation that which causes love and hope, patriotism and loyalty to spring up in his breast and fills his heart with pride for his own native land. The rose of "merry England," the thistle of "bonnie Scotland," and the shamrock of "old Ireland" were entwined in one loving embrace and gorgeous hope. The great three were like himself, the living embodiment in one. He was born in Ireland, had English parents and married a Scotch lady. The lecturer had visited every nook and corner of the three great nations, could speak their dialects in native brogue and knew all the characteristics and eccentricities of her people. Mr. Clark then in florid eloquence and effusive oratory gave the company present a vivid portrayal of England and Englishmen, her towns and cities and her colleges. He mentioned the names of all her great statesmen, orators, poets and historians and graphically illustrated their homes and childhood scenes by verbal pictures and vivid imagination. England was composed of forty-two counties, counting the twelve in Wales. True she was not great in territorial expanse, but Emerson had said that it was not a large area of land which made a nation, but what you saw while travelling through it. England was one of the mightiest and potential powers on the earth to-day. In childhood on the streets of London he belonged to the literary profession, selling newspapers, and he polished up men's understandings in order that they might be better able to understand the news of the day—blackened boots. He then landed Eliza Cook, the rural poetess of England, and Sir Joseph Paxton's gigantic design, the Crystal Palace. He expatiated on the scenes of Garibaldi the great Italian warrior on his first and only visit to England. He described Gad's Hill in Kent, the home and birthplace of that immortal novelist, Charles Dickens. He then took his company into Norfolkshire, where Coke, the eminent lawyer was born, to Cambridge with her fourteen different colleges, 1002 years old; to Northampton the home of Dryden the poet, Paley, the author, and Carey, the great Baptist missionary. He then led the entranced throng through Lincolnshire, the home of Isaac Newton, the great discoverer of nature's laws, of John Wesley, the mighty pillar of Methodism, and of Alfred Tennyson, the revered poet laureate of England. Old Yorkshire, the home of Wm. Morley Punshon, the greatest ecclesiastic of modern age; Durham, noted for her unmarried ladies, divinity and muskets; Northumberland, the birthplace of Geo. Stevenson, whose clever brain evolved the use of steam. Mr. Clarke stated that it was in Northumberland county that he first took to the stage, and for ten years was a histrionic artist. He gave humorous exhibitions of songs and recitations, such as he used to sing and recite in Scotch, Irish or English brogue as occasion demanded or sentiment prompted. Wiltshire was the home of Joseph Addison, the perfecter of English prose, Devonshire the birth place of the eccentric Samuel Taylor Coleridge. He would like to dwell upon the nobleness, the patriotism, the ability and the devotion of such reigning personages in history, art, law, state, philanthrophy and theology as Baxter, author of "Saints Rest," John Milton, of "Paradise Lost," Fox, the lion hearted Quaker, Geo. Herbert, Oliver Cromwell, John Howard, Wm. Wilberforce, Dean Stanley and many others whom England was proud to call her own. He closed his eloquent description of England by paying a glowing tribute to Wm. Ewart Gladstone, the mightest man of the present age. He had implicit faith in Britain's future, her star could never pale, so long she trusted in God, her foundation was as firm as the habitations of the globe.

The speaker dealt in a similar manner with Ireland and Scotland, and took his hearers along with him over the principal points of interest and fame. He graphically described the great personages associated with the history and prosperity of each country, interspersing his discourse now and then with a humourous story of the native wit or the peculiar characteristics of the people of each country. He closed his lecture by expressing the hope that the rose of England, the shamrock of Ireland, the thistle of Scotland and the maple leaf of Canada might ever remain in beautiful unison and be associated in one great, loving nationalistic bouquet.

Mr. Clarke resumed his seat amid loud applause.

Horse Notes and Jottings.

An Interesting Budget of Local News About Flyers, Owners, Races and Tracks.

The meeting of local horse men called last evening to meet at the Balmoral Hotel to make arrangements for winter races in Peterborough proved to be a signal failure. There was not a "quorum" on hand.

At eight o'clock there were only six present who had the idea of a two days meet at Peterborough thoroughly at heart. They were Martin Connors, Alex. Patterson, Mr. Chadbourne, R. N. Reddy, Thos. Cavanagh and F. J. Daly. The meeting adjourned in disgust. It is to be regretted that there is not get up or snap enough among the sporting fraternity of our town to have successfully carried out the idea of having a couple of days rousing meet. As it is many outsiders who had the scheme more enthusiastically at heart than even our local brethern are sadly disappointed. The expenses and purses of the race were to be defrayed by Toronto and Ottawa capital, none of it coming from the town at all. The names of many first class flyers from Toronto, Lindsay, Cobourg, Ottawa and other places had been forwarded asking to be entered. Mr. Martin Connors had received letters from the owners of such famed speeders as "Sorel George," "Samy," "Jimmy Mack," "Col. Sumer," Bay Fly," "B B." "Minnie Bell," "F. O. P.," "Billy J." and others asking their horses be booked in the list of entries. A local sportsmen had generously offered to donate fifty dollars, and gentlemen from London, Toronto and other places had written asking that their names be subscribed towards the enterprise for large amounts. It is to be regretted that Peterborough is behind Norwood, Stirling and other adjoining places in the matter of winter races. But such is the case, and we must reluctantly make the best of a bad bargain and step down and out.

NOTES.

The Cobourg races, which were to come off to-day and to-morrow, have been declared off owing to the heavy thaw which has cleared all the snow off the track.

Mr. Alex. Patterson, of Ashburnham, owner of Harold Hartwood, feels highly elated at his success in both events of his class at the annual meet in Norwood.

The Stirling races held on Tuesday and Wednesday were a "howling" success. The races were held on Oak Hill Pond and there was a large attendance. In the three minute trot held the first day "Lady Rysdick" took first place in three straight heats, "Kittie B" second and "Blue Bird" third. In the green race "Minnie Bell" took first place, Connolly's mare second, Collin's brown horse third. "Glen Miller" was not init.

In the second day of the races the track was very poor, but notwithstanding there was a large crowd of "sports" present. The judges were Messrs. Mackie McGregor, Norwood, A. Spellman, Hastings, and J. Kerr, Campbellford. Their decisions reflected credit upon them, being fair and impartial. The open race was hotly contested, the interest in the race being very keen and exciting. There were only three starters but the brush between "Daisy S" and "Dick Smith" for second money was very sharp and exciting, "May Flower" taking the race in three straight heats.

"May Flower" Jas. Dixon, Toronto...1 1 1
"Daisy S" D. Lake, Belleville.....2 3 2
"Dick Smith," Mr. Collins, Toronto....3 2 3

There was also a match pony race for $10, between a grey and a bay. The race resulted in the bay carrying off the prize.

"Dick Smith" cut his quarter rather badly owing to the bad condition of the ice.

The only gambling observed on the ground was the red faced man shaking dice.

It is to be regretted that so many drunks were present at Wednesday's races.

Yesterday Hanlan and O'Connor signed articles of agreement for a double scull race with Teemer and Hosmer, the race to be three miles with a turn; to be rowed at Chelsea, Mass., on Monday, May 30th, 1892.

A Popular Man.

Mr. E. W. Dowling, clerk at the Windsor Hotel, Montreal, is the name of the gentleman whose picture appears above, and which is doubtless familiar to every Canadian who travels and stops a Canada's leading hotel. Mr. Dowling has been receiving congratulations on all sides recently on account of his being the fortunate winner of THE CANADIAN QUEEN'S prize piano in their competition which closed February 10th, he being the first to send the correct answer in that contest. Mr. Dowling say there is nothing like the Mason & Risch piano, which is the make presented him, and that THE CANADIAN QUEEN is truly royal in her ways, and should reign forever. THE QUEEN'S new Prize problem will appear in all the leading daily newspapers to-morrow.

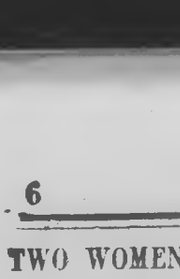
TWO WOMEN OF NOTE.

PEN PICTURES OF MRS. SOUTHWORTH AND MRS. HOLMES.

The Former, in Her 72nd Year, is Still Writing for the Great Public—Mrs. Holmes' Bright Existence—An Authoress from Childhood—Where They Live.

The two most popular novelists among women to-day have written continuously for the greatest number of years, and have published the greatest number of volumes. It speaks well, also, for the general morality of the popular taste that the literature created by them is pure. Picture the faithfulness and the persistency, the genius for hard work, and the elasticity of creation embodied in two women who, within eighty years, have produced nearly 100 novels—good, wholesome, some of them exciting, novels.

Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth has been the longest in the harness; in other words, in the author's chair. With almost incredible rapidity she has sometimes written three volumes in a year—she turned out about sixty novels, many of them really dramatic and most of them decidedly sensational. Sensational they may all be, but never impure.



MRS. E. D. E. N. SOUTHWORTH.

It would seem that a woman who had written continuously for forty-eight years, and, in her old age, is still writing, would have written herself dry of incident and plot. But her ingenuity and her energy seem boundless. The National Era, which brought out Mrs. Stowe and "Gail Hamilton," published Mrs. Southworth's first serial, "Retribution," and it was the first serial which issued from an American pen. Mrs. Southworth's first story was published by the Baltimore Saturday Visitor, and was called "The Irish Refugee." She was a teacher at the time, and continued so for several years, but demands upon her strength as an author became so pressing that she soon devoted herself entirely to her destined vocation. The Harpers, Petersons, and Bonners fought for the products of her pen, the New York Ledger monopolizing her stories for many years. Mrs. Southworth's novels have been translated into French, German and Spanish, having been republished in London, Paris, Leipsic, Madrid and Montreal.

For twenty-three years the famous novelist lived in her beautiful villa on the Potomac Heights, near Washington. During the Centennial year she left Pleasant Cottage, in which she had woven so many fancies and plots and made a fortune out of her brain, removing to another charming home at Yonkers, N. Y. There, last December, she passed her 72nd birthday, and there she still lives and labors. She loves this home, too; and who would not?

Mrs. Mary J. Holmes, as a novelist, has been compared to the late Rev. E. P. Roe. Her works never offend; their obvious aim is to teach a good lesson, and they reach an enormous number of readers. In fact, since the death of Mr. Roe, there has been no writer in America whose novels have sold as well as Mrs. Holmes'. It is said that already considerably more than 1,000,000 copies of her works have been put upon the market.

MRS. MARY J. HOLMES.

From childhood the novelist was a dreamer, and sensitive. She says of the Brookfield (Mass.) farm house in which she was born: "There was a well-sweep in the rear, and a great poplar tree shading the windows from which my young eyes first looked out upon the world, which, from my earliest recollections, has to me been filled with shadowy people." Since then, her blue eyes and yellow hair have both deepened and darkened, but she is still the same sensitive, imaginative being, of an older growth, much of whose life is spent in another world.

In person Mrs. Holmes is tall, slender, and graceful, has large, blue eyes and brown hair. She is fond of children, although her large, quiet home shelters none of her own. She and her husband are great travellers, and when they return from some foreign land nothing gives the popular author so much pleasure as to gather around her a company of young people and tell what she has seen and learned abroad. Her beautiful home with its music, its works of art, its conservatory filled with rare plants and flowers is an index of her refined and educated character.

A Woman's Terrible Revenge.

LAREDO, Tex., Feb. 25.—Across the Mexican frontier, 40 miles from here, the neighborhood has been startled by the revenge of an old woman, Marguerite Pinzon. Several years ago six of her male descendants were slain in a family feud by the Morelos clan. Old Mrs. Pinzon decided upon revenge, and a few days ago managed to get a decoction of the deadly loco weed in their food and turned four of the Morelos into raving madmen.

The Earth Rocked Like a Cradle.

HAMILTON, Mont., Feb. 25.—Great excitement has been caused here by the fall of a monster meteor, which drove itself 200 feet in the earth, but protrudes 100 feet in the air, and is still sputtering and sizzling furiously, emitting sulphurous gases that impregnate the air for miles around.

The startling heavenly visitor arrived early in the morning, leaving a lurid trail that lighted up the sky and stirred the dozing fowl untimely from the restful perch. But the horrid monster wrought death and worked havoc as it struck the earth on the ranch of Henry Chambers. It struck Chambers' cattle shed in which some 40 head of cows and two Chinamen were corralled, and so great was the circumference of the meteor that not an animal was left on earth, but, with the two Celestials all are buried beneath that awful monument of heated meteoric stone.

The earth rocked like a cradle for miles. Buildings were shaken from their foundations. The contents of pantries were demolished and sleeping inhabitants were thrown from their beds.

Great excitement exists all through the Bitter Root Valley, and hundreds of people are flocking to the scene, which is one of terrifying aspect and makes stout hearts quail.

Great globules of molten metal roll from the sides of the hissing, sputtering monster, and anon come appalling crashing sounds as its limits contract from the effects of exposure to the cold air. Fitful bolts of flame shoot high in the air from the summit and a great stream of liquid lava has plowed its way from the base down the hillside and loses itself in the basin of the extinct lake, in which was recently found a petrified sea serpent 60 feet in length and only a few miles distant from the great cave in the mountains in which were found the band of hibernating Indians, the last of the cliff dwellers.

Father Fourmond Dead.

"German Syrup"

G. Gloger, Druggist, Watertown, Wis. This is the opinion of a man who keeps a drug store, sells all medicines, comes in direct contact with the patients and their families, and knows better than anyone else how remedies sell, and what true merit they have. He hears of all the failures and successes, and can therefore judge: "I know of no medicine for Coughs, Sore Throat, or Hoarseness that had done such effective work in my family as Boschee's German Syrup. Last winter a lady called at my store, who was suffering from a very severe cold. She could hardly talk, and I told her about German Syrup and that a few doses would give relief; but she had no confidence in patent medicines. I told her to take a bottle, and if the results were not satisfactory I would make no charge for it. A few day after she called and paid for it, saying that she would never be without it in future as a few doses had given her relief."

Coughs, Sore Throat, Hoarseness,

The Trent Narrows' Bridge.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—Kindly allow me to make a few remarks regarding the article, referring to Seymour's ineffectual appeal to the county council re the Trent Narrows' Bridge, which appeared in the issue of the EXAMINER of the 16th inst.

This bridge was built in the year 1873, when the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway was an outlet and a commercial privilege not expected, and Havelock a promising village yet an uninhabited swamp, but circumstances alter cases, and as far as the township of Belmont is concerned, the circumstances in connection with the utility and usefulness of this bridge have infinitely altered, in fact instead of being now a useful and necessary outlet for the farmers of Belmont, it is merely a useful inlet to Seymour farmers, to compete with Belmont farmers in the market at Havelock.

On the 20th of June last, the Committee on Roads and Bridges of the County Council of Peterborough reported, that while repudiating any further liability for the erection, repair, or maintenance of the bridge, by the county, they recommended a grant of $600 00 towards rebuilding this Trent Narrows' Bridge, but without asking the County of Northumberland to subscribe or doing so themselves towards rebuilding the structure. The shrewd administrators of Seymour Township, simply spent $675 00 on repairs, and expected the County of Peterboro to dole out the $600.00 grant towards the bridge. This the County Treasurer was not authorized to do, as the report of the committee recommending the grant, as ratified by by law, required the bridge to be rebuilt, and only repairs had been done,

The township of Seymour claims that a baby has been left at its door, and it is asked to take care of it; all I would say is, that if the township of Seymour does not feel inclined to take care of this baby, it ought to take it to the proper orphan's home, the council of the county of Northumberland and if it desires to succor and take care of the child, I hope Seymour will receive ample returns for the same, but if the infant is allowed to pine away and die, Belmont will not wear crape in mourning for the decease.

Yours truly,
BELMONT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Excellent sleighing, and many take take advantage of the pleasure of sleighing parties.

Division Court sittings held on February 24th, Judge Dean presiding. The docket was a pretty large one. Messrs. Moore, Stuart, Hopkins and O'Leary were the legal gentlemen present from Lindsay.

Another of our old residents died last week, Mr. Tees. English, who left considerable wealth, charitably and well placed. The deceased had the respect of the whole community, always being a quiet, inoffensive man. Tals is about the seventh death since January 1st.

Our high and public schools are progressing favourably and are largely attended. Mr. Neil Robertson, principal, is the right man in this position.

On Tuesday the Tories had one of their old fashioned pow-wows over the renowned Sam Hughes, of North Victorie, and John Dobson, of Lindsay. Chas. Fairbairn failed to appear, but the doings were all the same, and no doubt the intentions were to scare the ten Grits left in Omemee to such an extent that an exit from the place would be their safest plan.

Rheumatism Cured.

SOLDIER'S COVE, N.S., Jan. 30, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR:—Your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the best medicine for rheumatism that I have ever used. Last spring I was troubled greatly with it in my leg; I used one box of Morse's Pills, and was cured.
Yours gratefully,
dw ALLEN CAMPBELL.

Pale, Weak Women need a tonic, strength giving flesh building medicine like Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine.

The Blood is the Life.

Good health without pure blood is simply impossible, and to secure pure blood is therefore absolutely necessary, especially in spring when bad blood is very prevalent. Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy, without an equal in the world of medicine. It drives out all poisonous humours of the blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

Small Sugar-coated Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They are mild and effectual.

Harassing headaches make many lives miserable, needlessly so, when a prompt cure like Burdock Blood Bitters is obtainable.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic, either one renders you miserable, and these little Pills cure both. dw

Itch, Mange, and Scratches of every kind, on human or animals, cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Our village is to be greatly improved by the addition of a new sidewalk. The township council has consented to give a grant amounting to half the cost of laying it, and it is to be laid as soon as possible. It will greatly add to the comfort of pedestrians.

Mr. Wm. Scollard has returned from North Bay, where he has been since last fall, and is ready again to resume his duties as Captain as soon as navigation opens.

The snow has been rapidly disappearing during the last few days, but much hope is entertained that it may yet remain a while.

Pacific Coast Reciprocity.

The British Columbia Legislature last week discussed the question of unrestricted reciprocity, on motion of Col. Baker, that the Dominion Government be memorialized to take steps to bring it about with the United States. Although an amendment favoring restricted reciprocity was agreed to without a vote, the mere introduction of the motion is a sign of the times, and the speeches made show that many of the British Columbians are heartily in favor of the broadest measure of reciprocity with their southern neighbours.

Nearly every one needs a good spring medicine, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is undoubtedly the best. Try it this season.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

Greatly Benefited.

DEAR SIRS,—I have been using B. B. B. for cancer of the breast during the last two years and four months, both externally and internally, and have been greatly benifited. Have had cancer over seven years, and no medicine ever did me as much good as B.B.B. I feel sure that sufferers from cancer can obtain relief or even cure from B.B.B., and will be pleased to answer any questions as to the use and benefit received from this remedy. MRS. A. ELLIOT, Waterdown, Ont.

DEPRESSION IN BRITISH AGRICULTURE FOR TEN YEARS.

Emperor Bill is Fighting Mad and His Domain is all Torn up With Internal Dissensions—Blackmail Kills a Noted Historian.

BERLIN, Feb 26.—In a speech at Brandenburg, Emperor William said among other things:

Unfortunately it has now become the fashion to criticize the wag at every step taken by the Government. As a result of this nagging persecution, many persons have been imbued with the idea that our country is the most unhappy and worst governed in the world, and that life in such a country is a perfect plague. That this is not the case we, of course, are well aware, but would it not be better if discontented persons were to shake the dust of Germany from off their feet, retiring as soon as possible to some country where such a miserable, wretched state of affairs does not exist? They will thus reap advantage to themselves and at the same time do us a great favor.

Germany is gradually emerging from infancy. She is now about to enter upon the period of youth. It would be well, therefore, if we lifted ourselves from infant malaries.

A firm confidence in the sympathies accorded your work and mine inspires me continually with fresh strength to continue my task and advance in the path Heaven has pointed out to me. I also am impressed with the feeling that what has occurred in the past is due to the hand of our supreme Lord on High. I am firmly convinced that He who was our ally at Rossbach and Donnewatz will not now leave me in the lurch. He has so constantly aided the cause of Brandenburg and my house that we cannot believe He has done all this for no purpose. On the contrary, we still have a great destiny before us, and I am leading you to glorious days.

In concluding, the Emperor urged his hearers not to allow glimpses into the future to be darkened by grumblers and the speeches of discontented parties.

A brilliant ball was given in the opera house last evening. The Emperor led the first dance with Princess Leopold.

Alsace-Lorraine.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 26.—At a banquet given last night by Prince Von Hohenlohe Soelingfurst, Governor of Alsace-Lorraine, to the members of the Provincial Parliament, the Prince made an address in which he referred to the hope expressed last year that the province would shortly return to its normal condition, and said it had been possible to fulfil wishes of the people. Continuing the Prince said, "Thanks to the Emperor's benevolent interest in the province we will be able in the future to secure and sanctify our homes and to protect our frontiers without stringent passport regulations. Parliament can proceed with its labors calmly and with good courage."

During the afternoon 5000 unemployed men met in a public square and passed a series of inflammatory resolutions denouncing their employers and the system of government.

EAST SIMCOE.

Dr. Spohn Defeated by the Conservative Candidate.

ORILLIA, Feb. 26.—The bye-election in East Simcoe yesterday for the Commons resulted in the return of Mr. Bennett (Conservative) by a majority of about 25 over the unseated Liberal member, Dr. Spohn. The majorities:

	Spohn.	Bennett.
Gravenhurst	30	..
Matchedash	..	53
Medonte	..	44
Midland	..	142
Monck	90	..
Muskoka	13	..

Majority for Bennet 35. Medara and Ward not heard from which will probably reduce the majority to 25. The seat was carried by Dr. Spohn at the general election by 207. The doctor was unseated and an unsuccessful attempt made to disqualify him.

Manitoba General Elections.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 26.—It is announced that provincial general elections will be brought on immediately after session of Legislature, which opens March 10. The session will be a short one and both sides are preparing for the struggle.

Tarte Out of It.

QUEBEC, Feb. 26.—It is said that Tarte has refused to run for Montmorency, and that Mr. Joseph Dussault, printer of this city, will be the Liberal candidate against Mr. Tarcotte, Conservative candidate.

Death Follows Liberty.

KAMLOOPS, B.C., Feb. 26.—A half-breed Indian named William Boyd, just released from confinement, was drowned on the following day. Jailer Sinclair investigated the circumstances and found that he was on his way home with two companions, from whom he separated, taking a course that led across the ice on the river. They heard him about for help, but before they could reach him it was too late for his rescue.

KILLED BY BLACKMAIL.

Europe's Brilliant Historian Crushed by a Slander.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Charles Alan Fyffe, the vigorous author of "A History of Modern Europe," died the other day, a victim of blackmail. About a year ago, at the opening of a brilliant career, his life was wrecked by a charge, afterwards proved false, that he had indecently assaulted a lad. On the scandal becoming public, April 27, the sensitive historian cut his throat, but was rescued from death. The odious charge had ruined his life, however, and he has passed away of a broken heart.

Not Guilty, But Don't Do It Again.

MALTA, Feb. 26.—The naval court martial convened to try the Hon. Maurice Bourke, captain of the Victoria, the flagship of the British Mediterranean squadron, which was stranded near Platea, Greece, in January last, finds that the charge against Captain Bourke is partly proved as he took his ship in dangerous proximity to an ill-defined shoal. The court severely reprimands Captain Bourke and admonishes him to be more careful in future.

For "David Grieve," $100,000.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—The money paid to Mrs. Humphry Ward for her latest novel, "The History of David Grisve," is probably the largest amount ever paid for a single book. For the English issue alone the authoress received a sum so much in excess of the £10,000 paid for Lord Beacons field's "Endymion" that the surplus would be regarded by most writers as a handsome payment in itself. Besides there were further sums for American and continental rights, which, added to the original amount, brings the total to nearly £20,000.

German Railway Wreck.

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Near Molbrowa on the railway between Kiel and Sasnowitz a passenger train ran into the rear of a train conveying a number of soldiers, and a number of the carriages were smashed to pieces. Three soldiers' bodies have been taken from the wreck and 10 others were injured.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A Lengthy Debate on the Proposed Incorporation of Land Surveyors.

TORONTO, Feb. 26.—Quite an animated debate took place yesterday in the Local Legislature on Mr. Hardy's moving the second reading of a bill to incorporate the Association of Ontario Land Surveyors and to amend the act respecting land surveyors and the survey of lands. In support of the resolution the presentor made a short speech, during the progress of which he outlined minutely the provisions of the legislation submitted.

The bill finally passed its second reading.

Mr. Hardy presented a bill to consolidate the acts respecting municipal institutions. Discussion was deferred until Tuesday next.

The House went into Committee of Supply and passed estimates in connection with several of the departments. The proposed salary of the new Provincial Inspector of Licenses' was a great bone of contention. The salary of the preceding incumbent of the office was $1400, while the new man is to get $1750.

His Eye Destroyed.

BANCROFT, Ont., Feb. 26.—Ira Farrell was employed in blasting for what he supposed to be a gold deposit in the township of Dungannon, when in tampering with the charge it exploded, destroying one eye completely and injuring the other so much that its preservation is doubtful.

The Curtis Trial.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—At 4.30 o'clock yesterday the jury in the Curtis murder case reported to the court that they were unable to agree and were discharged. The jury stood 10 to 2 for conviction.

How a J.P. Secured a Wife.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 26.—About 10 days ago Mr. Robert Pinkerton, J.P. of Alberni, arrived in Victoria seeking a wife. Being a comparative stranger here he was at loss how to go about inducing one of the fair sex to enter into a life partnership with him. He is, however, a practical man and inserted an advertisement in a local journal with the result that last evening, at 333 Johnson-street, Rev. Mr. Dobbs united in the holy bonds of matrimony Robert Pinkerton of Alberni and Mrs. N.M. Lincoln of this city.

THE CONTEST IN LONDON.

Mighty Efforts Being Put Forth by the Politicians—The Patrol Branch.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—To-day will decide one of the keenest political battles ever fought in this city. From the moment that Mr. Hyman (Liberal) was unseated the friends of both candidates have been straining every nerve to insure a victory for their respective sides and both are equally positive of success. The city has been thoroughly patrolled by both parties day and night this week and considering the large number engaged in this branch of the fight and the high feeling which has prevailed but few collisions have occurred and these, as a rule, did not amount to much.

Lost from a Sealing Schooner.

VICTORIA, B.C., Feb. 26.—News has been received of the wreck of the sealer Oscar Hattie off Yaguina, Oregon, and the loss of Capt. Galt, three sealers named McDonald, Whittingham and Lowe and a sailor named Locke.

Captain Alexander Galt commanded the Oscar Hattie last year during a most successful cruise and the preceding season was master of the sealing schooner Black Diamond.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. YESTERDAY'S ELECTIONS.

BOTH PARTIES CLAIM A VICTORY IN LONDON.

Conservatives Claim 15 for Carling, Exclusive of Appeal Votes, and Liberals Claim 16 for Hyman—Hon. John Hearn Elected in Quebec West.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—Both parties worked all day long like Trojans for their respective sides and the result yesterday is in doubt. The Liberals claim that Mr. Hyman is re-elected by 16 majority and the Conservatives the Hon. John Carling by 15. The first announcement gave the victory to the Conservatives by a majority of 107, but the "appealed voters" have proved a disturbing element and the result apparently depends altogether on the Supreme Court decision in the appeal. These votes have all been numbered and can be identified, but it is impossible to-night to get reliable figures in this connection, and both parties claim the election by the majorities given.

The scene in the city to-night has been of the wildest description. Thousands of people thronged the street and the cheers for both candidates intermingled.

The Conservatives formed a large procession, which was temporarily stopped opposite The Advertiser office, but on the arrival of reinforcements headed by a detachment of police a passage was cleared at the expense of a few sore heads.

At the corner of York and Richmond-streets the procession was compelled to turn down York-street, but withal the disposition of both sides was towards good-naturedness, and beyond a few individual fights no serious trouble occurred at any time.

The excellent manner in which the police force was handled undoubtedly prevented a collision several times during the evening.

The Advertiser (Liberal) gives it as 136, inclusive of the appealed votes.

The Free Press (Conservative) announced Mr. Carling's majority as 15, exclusive of the appealed votes. The Free Press says

"Mr. Carling's majority of the votes cast is 128, but on the list are 239 votes, the legality of which has yet to be decided by the Supreme Court. Of these votes 132 were polled to-day, of which Carling got 123 and Hyman 9, leaving a net disputed vote for Carling of 114. That figure subtracted from Carling's gross majority—128—puts the minister's majority at 14, so that he is elected even if the courts decide that the disputed vote is invalid."

Quebec West.

QUEBEC, Feb. 27.—The bye-election in Quebec West for the vacancy caused by the expulsion of Hon. Thomas McGreevy took place to-day, Hon. John Hearn (Conservative) being elected by a majority of 380 over Arthur H. Murphy (Liberal).

The Liberals allowed the constituency to go almost by default, none of the party managers taking any part in the contest, having taken offence at Mr. Laurier's lukewarmness. The Mercierite end of Mr. Laurier's party does not believe in fighting for anything less substantial than a collection of tolls, consequently it was only a question of how large Hon. John Hearn's majority would be.

Bennett's Majority Now 47.

ORILLIA, Feb. 27.—Three of the five divisions in Medora and Wood township have been heard from and Bennett's majority is now 47. The two divisions to hear from went Reform by 12 and Conservative by five at the general election.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

ONLY A THIRTY-MINUTE SESSION YESTERDAY.

The Debate on the Address Adjourned Owing to Mr. Laurier's Illness—New Scandals Promised—A Batch of Petitions From the Friend of Labor.

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—The spectators who assembled in the galleries this afternoon to listen to the maiden addresses of Messrs. Northrup of East Hastings and Bain of Soulanges were deprived of their promised treat. Mr. Laurier is ill and consequently not in his place. That being the case it was decided not to go on with the debate on the address until Monday, when it is hoped the leader of the Opposition will be in his place.

The only business was the introduction of three Conservative members and the presentation of a few petitions. The members introduced were Major Rory MacLennan of Glengarry, A. R. Dickey, Cumberland, N.S.

Hon. Mr. Laurier, who is quartered at the Russell House, was not able to be down to the dining room to-day. His health is not at all in a satisfactory state. He expects nevertheless to be in his place on Monday. Hon. Mr. Foster was recovered sufficiently to be in his place in the House to-day.

Mr. Coatsworth presented the petition of the corporation of Toronto to-day praying for the passage of a bill, which will be subsequently presented, authorizing the execution of the tripartite agreement between the city and the two railway companies in regard to the Esplanade and the Don improvement.

The Deputy Sergeant-at-Arms.

Speaker White and Sergeant-at-Arms Smith have arrived at a deadlock. It is understood to be the privilege of the Sergeant-at-Arms to name his deputy, but the appointment must be confirmed by the Speaker. Col. Smith has nominated Mr. Walter Todd, one of the committee clerks of the House, but Speaker White has refused to ratify the nomination. The Speaker's candidate is Mr. Douglas W. Cameron of Toronto. It is very likely that Mr. Cameron will get the post.

Mr. Ives will make a motion on Monday providing for a reimposition of the export duties on sawlogs.

The Quebec Commissioners.

Mr. Delisle will interrogate the Government as to whether it has been informed that in the Province of Quebec Judges Baby, Davidson, Jette, Mathieu and Pagnuelo have set aside their judicial duties in order to undertake political inquiries, and if so what course the Government intend to take in the matter.

Labor Petitions.

Mr. Devlin of Ottawa County had the honor of introducing a great batch of petitions from labor bodies to-day. These dealt with nine separate subjects:(1) That railway and telegraph lines should be under Government control; (2) that a Dominion board of arbitration and mediation in disputes between capital and labor should be appointed; (3) that the present contract system of performing public works should be abandoned; (4) that the right of appeal from convictions, which is denied under the Seaman's Act, should be restored; (5) that the Chinese should be excluded from the Dominion; (6) that contracts for the performance of public works shall contain a clause providing that a contractor shall pay the recognized scale of wages paid in the locality in which the work is done; (7) that steamship companies which decoy immigrants to this country by misleading statements shall have their subsidy withdrawn; (8) that the hours of labor shall be decreased by statute within three years to eight hours a day, and (9) that the Government issue legal tender, redeemable in 30 or 50 years, for the construction of needed Government and municipal public works.

The Macdonald Club will give J. C. Patterson and John Carling a great reception on their arrival in the Capital.

MONTREAL REAL ESTATE.

Business Fairly Active in Ontario With Improvement in Sales.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—There has been some improvement in the number of orders received for spring goods by Western and Northwestern jobbers and in the volume of goods shipped by them to interior merchants, as indicated in special telegrams to Bradstreet's.

In the Province of Ontario general trade has been fairly active, with prospects for demand at millinery openings next week quite favorable. Hardware sales are also more active.

In Quebec dulness continues to prevail. Demand from the Maritime Provinces is as unsatisfactory as heretofore.

SHELBURNE, Feb. 27.—A bear was seen near Mr. W. H. Ferguson's place on the sixth line of Amaranth. Mr. Ferguson took after bruin and was joined in the chase by several others, armed with axes, a blow from Mr. William Hooker's ax finally putting an end to the animal.

BERLIN MASSES RISE.

ANGRY WORKMEN MARCH TO THE EMPEROR'S PALACE.

A Forcible Reply to the Kaiser's Recent Utterances—Melees Between the Police and the People—Many Wounded and Taken Prisoners—Broadsides Gutted—Several Instances of Desperate Fighting.

BERLIN, Feb. 27.—Many persons were wounded last night, including several policemen. Many clothiers', jewelers', grocers' and other shops were broken into and ransacked. A mob thronged the streets shouting, "Give us something to eat." The usual police holidays have been suspended for a fortnight, a renewal of yesterday's disorder being feared. It is reported the Emperor witnessed the Unter den Linden affair from the castle windows. The majority of the persons arrested will probably be liberated, but the leaders will be punished severely. No unusual distress prevails in Berlin except such as results from a lack of work in the building trade, which is inevitable in the winter season, though the distress has been somewhat intensified by the recent strikes.

Emperor William's speech, made at Brandenburg, intensely excites political circles, it being held by some that a dangerous crisis is inevitable.

Inflamed by their efforts yesterday and last night, the riotous crowds, many of the members of which had passed the whole night on the street, began to renew their disturbances this morning. The first charge of the police upon them had no effect whatever and the police were compelled to withdraw, some of them having been quite severely hurt by the sticks and stones of the mob. The police then drew their swords and again charged the mob, slashing right and left.

In Weissenburg-strasse during the night small bodies of workingmen took possession of that thoroughfare. Many of them carried red flags, the emblem of the social democracy, and they rushed hither and thither, with no idea of anything save to defy the authorities. Finally they broke into a beer saloon and looted it of its contents. Then they amused themselves by breaking windows. A body of 200 men took possession of Landsburg-strasse, and forming an irregular procession marched to Gruenenwig, shouting, yelling and smashing the windows of stores and dwellings along their route.

The Emperor accompanied by a single aid, and preceded only by two mounted police, left the palace this afternoon on horseback, passed at a leisurely pace through Unter den Linden, and rode to and around the Thiergarten, returning to the palace as he had come. He was loudly cheered all along the route by the people, who gathered in large numbers when the word had got around that he had appeared.

During the afternoon the crowds thinned out and everything was quiet at night. The newspapers attach no significance to the rioting, attributing it to roughs.

Loaves and Flour.

VIENNA, Feb. 27.—The offices of The Volks Presse were yesterday besieged by hungry people, when 1000 loaves of bread and a quantity of flour were distributed. The police refused to allow the distribution of hand bills announcing the gifts.

WITH ALL ON BOARD.

Appalling Steamship Collision off Coast of Yorkshire.

LEEDS, Yorkshire, Feb. 27.—News of a terrible disaster in the North Sea by which a steamer went to the bottom carrying with her every soul on board with only one exception was received in this city at a late hour to-night. The steamers Loughbrow (British), and Forest Queen came into collision off Flamborough, a village of York County, east riding, on the North Sea.

A Terrible Crash.

The vessels crashed together with great force and the Forest Queen was torn apart by the bow of the Loughbrow.

The damages sustained by the Forest Queen were so extensive that the sea began to rush through the breeches made in her hull in a great volume.

The water poured in so rapidly that she at once began to settle, and in a very short space of time after she had been struck she plunged to the bottom.

So quickly did the Forest Queen founder that her crew had no chance to save their lives and all hands with the single exception of the captain went down with her to a watery grave.

STRONG, YET WEAK.

"Strong Man" Sampson and His Prosecutrix Cause a Scene in Court.

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Carl August Sampson, the "Strong Man," who was arrested in New York on a requisition issued by the British authorities on the charge of stealing a quantity of diamonds from Mrs. Margaret Bernstein, arrived in London today

The prisoner was taken to the Westminster Police Court and charged with the theft and remanded for trial, bail in the sum of £400 being demanded.

When the magistrate announced his decision the prisoner fell fainting in the dock, and when he was lifted to his feet he appeared to be dazed.

Mrs. Bernstein was taken with a fit of hysterics. It was necessary to remove her from the courtroom.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

Are a BLOOD BUILDER and NERVE TONIC. They supply in condensed form ALL the substances needed to enrich the Blood and to rebuild the Nerves, thus making them a certain and speedy cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, and shattered nerves, such as paralysis, spinal diseases, rheumatism, sciatica, loss of memory, erysipelas, palpitation of the heart, scrofula, chlorosis or green sickness, that tired feeling that affects so many, etc. They have a specific action on the sexual system of both men and women, restoring lost vigor.

WEAK MEN

(young and old), suffering from mental worry, overwork, insomnia, excesses, or self-abuse, should take these PILLS. They will restore lost energies, both physical and mental.

SUFFERING WOMEN

afflicted with the weaknesses peculiar to their sex, such as suppression of the periods, bearing down pains, weak back, ulcerations, etc., will find these pills an unfailing cure.

PALE AND SALLOW GIRLS

should take these PILLS. They enrich the blood, restore health's roses to the cheeks, and correct all irregularities.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. These PILLS are sold by all dealers only in boxes bearing our trade mark or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price—50 cents a box, or 6 for $2.50.

Peterborough Gaol.

Reference to it in the Report of the Inspector.

The following is taken from the report of the Inspector of Prisons for the current year:

	'89.	'90.	'91.
Prisoners committed during the year	111	161	152
Greatest number confined at any one time	23	25	21
Number of re-committals	47	71	73
Total cost of maintaining goal	$2,547.12	$2 617.84	$2,569 26

A copy of my report made to the Government upon this gaol is annexed:

I made an inspection of the Peterborough gaol on 1st April, when there were 14 prisoners in custody—12 males and 2 females.

Of the males, one was insane, and one was under sentence to the Industrial School at Mimico for larceny, and the remainder were vagrants, drunks, etc. One of the females was insane and the other a vagrant.

I found the corridors, cells, bedding, clothing, etc., all in good order, being clean and well kept.

The ventilation is defective and should be improved as soon as possible. I would also advise that a system of steam, hot air, or hot water heating be adopted, as the stoves in use are not only inconvenient, but a source of danger to the building, and as regards the safe keeping of the prisoners.

Mr. Mann made the second inspection of this gaol. His report is annexed:

I have to report that as instructed by you I made an inspection of the Peterborough gaol on the 1st September, 1891, on which occasion there were 17 prisoners in custody—14 males and 3 females. Of the males 7 were convicted for vagrancy, 3 drunk and disorderly, 1 larceny, 2 assault, 1 insane. The females were, 2 insane and 1 vagrant. The above vagrants are more fit subjects for a poor house than a gaol as they are in no sense criminals. The gaol is still heated with stoves which is of course objectable for many reasons. A system of heating by means of hot water should be introduced at the earliest possible moment. The dinner was being served during my visit, and the food was good and wholesome.

The gaol was in excellent order and the books properly kept.

The Belmont Gold Mine.

The first thorough test of the L'agham gold mine, in Belmont, and of the new apparatus for the reduction of the gold bearing rock taken from it has been made, says the Belleville Intelligencer, and the result, it is the learned or unquestionable authority, is in highest degree satisfactory. The test was the reduction of 100 tons of ore, from which 50 ounces of gold, valued at $1 100 was yesterday shipped to Philadelphia. This gives a yield of $10 to the ton but there is still a quantity of gold in the mercury and some concentrates that are not very rich. The total yield may safely be placed at about $15 per ton.

If you are troubled with hawking and spitting, dull headaches, losing sense of taste or smell, you are afflicted with catarrh, and to prevent its development into consumption, Nasal Balm should be used promptly. There is no case of catarrh which it will not cure, and for cold in the head it gives immediate relief. Try it. All dealers. dw

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed: READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

The Three Popular Blacks.

Have you seen the three Black faces,
Told of a family great?
Have you heard of all their graces,
As on ladies fair they wait?

They are Black, but O how charming
Is their conduct day by day!
Working hard with n'er alarming
Timid people on the way.

They are honest, truthful, gracious
To the young as well as old;
In the cot and mansion spacious,
Wondrous powers they unfold.

The blackest Ethiopian prince,
With his keen and piercing eyes,
Was never half as black as these
Three Blacks of Diamond Dyes.

Their names are, Black for Silk and Wool,
And Fast Black for Cotton too;
The fame is really wonderful
Of this gallant little crew.

Let all with earnestness and zest,
In their strength and might arise,
And buy these Blacks, which are the best,
Three Blacks of Diamond Dyes.

A Double Track.

The C. P. R. will shortly commence an important undertaking. It is the intention of the company to double track the line between Winnipeg and Fort William—a distance of 426 miles. This has been talked about for over six months. It was discussed in the Winnipeg press when there was really nothing but rumor to back up the statements. This morning, however, a high official stated that it was the intention of the company to undertake this work. The directorate had not actually passed upon it, nor had the plans been prepared, but it might be taken as a fact that the undertaking would be carried out in the near future.

Government Improvements in this District.

The following from the Commissioner of Crown Lands' report will be of interest to this locality:

DEVIL'S CREEK—DAM AND SLIDE.

A pier has been built to support the lower end of this slide, 10 feet in length, 6 feet in width, and 4 feet in height, and the slide has been replanked with hardwood for a length of 16 feet, and some gravelling done to the dam.

HIGH FALLS' DAM AND SLIDE—BURNT RIVER.

This dam has been provided with three new stop logs, and the pier at the head of the slide has been raised one foot in height. A pier 10 feet in length, 6 feet in width and 4 feet in height has also been constructed at the lower end, and the sides of the slide have been rebuilt with 12x12 inch square timber for a length of 50 feet. Three new cross sills of 12x12 inch square timber 14 feet in length, one new stringer 40 feet in length, and four new posts have also been provided, and the flooring for a length of 20 feet has also been renewed with hardwood planking four inches in thickness.

YOUNG'S POINT LOCK AND SWING BRIDGE, ETC.

The swing bridge at this lock has been entirely reconstructed. The bridge is 66 feet in length and 13 feet 8 inches in width, constructed on the "Howe Truss," principle with dressed material and well painted.

During the construction of the new bridge a scow belonging to the Department was placed in the canal above the lock and utilized as a temporary crossing, so that neither public travel or navigation was in any way interfered with.

The guide pier on the westerly side below the lock has been lowered two and a half feet for a length of 22 feet, so as to make it more convenient for steamers during the seasons of low water, and some bolts have been put in the valves and some stones which interfered with the working of the lock have been removed from the chamber, the Departmental diving apparatus being utilized for the purpose.

Young's Point Lock—The lockmaster's return shows that 818 steamers, 38 small boats, 160 scows and 83 cribs of timber passed through the locks last season.

LINDSAY LOCK AND SWING BRIDGES.

This lock has been provide with an entire new set of gates, the construction of which was commenced in the early part of January of the present year. The work was completed and the gates placed in position without navigation being in any way interfered with. The three swing bridges have been attended to and received the usual ordinary repairs.

Lindsay Lock—142 steamers, 156 scows and 192 cribs of timber.

GULL AND BURNT RIVER WORKS.

A dam and slide has been constructed at the outlet of White Lake, on lot No. 2 in the 1st Concession of the Township of Glamorgan, County of Haliburton.

The main dam is 299 feet in length, 12 feet in width, and an average height of 7 feet, with a wing at the easterly end 41 feet in length and 5 feet in height, the whole being constructed with 12 x 12 inch square timber, well scribed and fitted to the rock and securely rock-bolted.

The cribwork forming the main dam is compactly filled with stone, and the wing dam has been well gravelled in front to make it watertight.

The only openings in the dam are the slide and a portion 23 feet in length and one foot in depth, which has been planked over to form an outlet for the water in time of freshet.

Fainted in the Montreal Post Office.

His Friends Alarmed!

A few days ago, one of Montreal's estimable business men dropped apparently dead in the post office. Friends quickly gathered round the well known merchant, and he was soon restored to consciousness, and conveyed without delay to his home. The family physician was summoned; he pronounced the merchant's condition to be serious, and ordered a period of quiet and rest. A run-down, constitution, nervousness and weakness rendered the well-known business man unfit for his regular duties and work.

This is no uncommon occurrence in the great business towns and cities of Canada. In nine cases out of ten, the trouble arises from overwork, close application and business anxieties. The common laws of nature are disregarded; necessary exercise and rest is not taken; the brain becomes heavy and clouded; digestion is imperfect, and the whole nervous system suffers terribly. We usually find such men in the ranks of the sleepless, nervous, dyspeptic and despondent; and, at times, such characters have thoughts of self-destruction.

Would to heaven that such sufferers fully realized the worth and value of that grand restorer, builder and vitalizer, Paine's Celery Compound—a remedy prepared specially for the great work of nerve strengthening and flesh building.

The merchant and business man cannot, even with wealth at his command, open up a surer avenue of escape from his sufferings and troubles, than by a regular and daily treatment with Paine's Celery Compound. The best people of our time—professional men, bankers, merchants and others—have had occasion to test the wonderful powers of this preparation; they have found a new life, and have not thought it derogatory to their social standing to testify strongly in its favor. Physicians, without hesitation, acknowledge its superiority over all other known remedies for bringing back to health and vigor the weak, nervous, overworked and broken down.

The proprietors of this great and popular remedy are always ready to give sound and practical medical advice to all who desire it. Their Consulting Physician is a gentleman of the highest standing in the community; he has made the great nervous system a special study, and will, at all times, give correspondents the full benefit of his great experience. Communications should be addressed "CONSULTING PHYSICIAN'S DEPARTMENT," Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, P.Q.

Hidden Foes.

Among the many foes to human health and happiness dyspepsia and constipation are common greatly to be feared. With B. B. B. to drive them out of the system, however, no danger need be anticipated, as every dose brings the sufferer a long step further on the road to perfect health and strength, and a permanent cure always results. dw

THEY make one feel as though life was worth living. Take one of Carter's Little Liver Pills after eating; it will relieve dyspepsia and indigestion, give tone and vigor to the system. dw

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

THE BATTLE OF _____ (?)

One of the most remarkable and terrible ever fought. The army of the general whose previous successes had terrified Europe was posted along the ascent with Hougoumont, and the general himself had taken up his stand in a farm house called the "Belle Alliance." The opposing forces were extended over an elevation in the Charleroi Road about two miles from the little village in Belgium which gave its name to the battle. Each commander was thus able to command a view of the whole field. The first general with better equipped and better drilled troops and unable to see the reserve force of the other was over confident. The second commander, supported by the brave old Prussian marshal, divided his troops into two lines and awaited the beginning of the battle. It was between eleven and twelve o'clock on Sunday the 18th of June, 1815, that the actual engagement began. The action opened with a brisk cannonade on the house and wood of Hougoumont which were held by the troops of Nassau. The contest continued here all day with terrible fury, but without being able to expel the .....who, although the building had been set on fire, maintained their post amid the flames. Frightful slaughter and great loss ensued. Terrific and resolute attacks were made by the.....cavalry on the.....centre, and at six in the evening the allied army had lost ten thousand men. Their opponents had suffered still more severely losing fifteen thousand soldiers. Then the great general on seeing the .....sweep the old guards before them exclaimed:

"All is lost for the present," and rode from the field. The battle was over.

QUESTIONS:—1st. Name the battle referred to in above description 2nd. What two nations were principally interested? 3rd. Give names of two principal commanders. 4th. Did defeated commander ever regain his position? 5th. Where did he die?

To Whom It May Concern:—

This is to certify that we have this day contracted with the publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY to ship for them two of the "Heintzman & Co's. Upright Pianos, Style D.," valued at $350.00 each, to the two successful contestants in their Prize History Competition, and have received their order for the same.

Respectfully,

(Signed) HEINTZMAN & CO.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the FIRST correct answers to the above questions and a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the next TEN correct answers received.

All correct answers are numbered and entered on our books as received.

$100.00 in Cash will be given for the correct answers to the above questions which is the MIDDLE one received during the Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received next PRECEDING the middle one, DUPLICATE prizes will be given for the ten correct answers received next FOLLOWING the middle one.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the LAST correct answers received before the close of this Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received PRECEDING the last one.

Over $100 Given Away each Day in Special Prizes.

And the names of winners announced each day in the leading daily newspapers of Canada.

A solid gold watch will be given each day during this competition for the first correct answers received and opened at the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY office upon that day. A handsome rich glass Berry Bowl mounted on an elegant silver stand of the best quadruple plate valued $16.00 will be given to EACH province and state daily for the first correct answers received and opened upon that day.

EXPLANATION:—As the Publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY do not consider it advisable that the names of the winners of either of the pianos should be announced until the close of this contest, no daily prize will be awarded for the first correct answers received on THE FIRST DAY; The sender of such necessarily being the winner of the first piano.

In awarding the daily prizes the second correct answers received from the province or state, which have carried off the solid gold watch for that day will be awarded the Berry Bowl mounted on a silver stand, this is to prevent the first recived from that province or state from securing both the watch and berry bowl on that day.

AWARD OF PRIZES:—A committee consisting of a representative from each of the six Toronto daily newspapers will be invited to act in the award of the prizes at the close of this competition. One hundred dollars in cash will be paid for proof of any unfairness or partiality in the award of the prizes.

CONDITIONS:—Answers must be accompanied by one dollar for six months TRIAL subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY which will be sent to any address in Canada or United States that contestant desires, decision will be based on the correctness of the answers rather than on the language used in answering. Answers may be mailed any time before MAY 15th, 1892, as the prizes are equitably divided over entire time competition is open, persons can enter at any time with an equal opportunity of securing one of the leading prizes. No corrections can be made after answers are mailed unless another six months trial subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY is enclosed with corrections. THE LADIES PICTORIAL CO. is an established and financially responsible publishing concern who offer the above prizes purely as a legitimate manner of attracting attention to their elegant sixteen page illustrated weekly. The purpose is to introduce it (on trial) into every possible home in Canada and the United States. It is intended to make each prize winner a permanent advertisement for the merits of the Weekly. Each daily prize winner is expected to secure from amongst their circle of friends at least two new six months trial subscriptions, and it is expected that every winner of a leading prize will renew their trial subscription for an entire year. By this plan we shall introduce the Weekly into at least ten thousand new homes, it is simply a business plan of increasing our circulation. If you have never seen the Ladies Weekly send three two cent stamps for sample copy. There is no other like it in Canada. Address.

Why Buy Cheap Tea?

A good cup of tea whether green or black, is one of the most refreshing beverages known, but the idea of people putting into their stomachs the trash sold as tea at six or seven pounds for a dollar is simply beyond understanding; far better leave it alone. Kirk's cheapest Japan, and it is a fine one, is 25c. per pound or 4½ lbs for a dollar; try it and you will get a tea worth drinking. W. C. Kirk, Ashburnham. A Serious Delay.

A piece broke out of the face of the pulley which carries the main drawing belt of the rolls in the Otonabee Rolling mills on Thursday night. The pulley is about forty inches in diameter and makes about four hundred revolutions per minute. The flying piece in the course of its flight went through two windows, demolishing about thirty panes of glass and flew outside the mill. Happily none of the men standing near were struck. The work was delayed some thirty-six hours before a new pulley could be set in position.

The "Queen's" Prize Problem.

Mr. A. and Mr. B. have to cut down a mighty tree. The time 'twill take for Mr. A. this mighty tree alone to slay, is sixty minutes—standard time. Beneath B's. blow, the bulk sublime goes to the ground in half that time. The question now we ask of thee is, how long 'twill take to cut this tree if both begin—one on each side—and thus their labour to divide?

The Queen will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fined Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in the February issue of The Queen. Valuable special prizes will be given for the first correct answers from each Province. Each person answering must enclose ten three cent stamps for "THE CANADIAN QUEEN GALOP," the latest and most popular piece of fifty-cent copyrighted music issued during the past year. JUST OUT, together with sample copy of The Queen. The only object of offering these prizes is to increase the circulation of The Queen which already is the largest of any publication in Canada. Every prize winner is expected to add to our yearly subscription list. By sending to-day you may secure a valuable prize. Address The Canadian Queen, "X," Toronto Can.

Police Court.

Fred Baker allowed to go—The charge Against the Bakers dismissed.

SATURDAY, Feb. 27th.

George Shearer was charged with stealing a pair of trousers from John Wilson on the 25th inst. The prisoner pleaded guilty and when asked by the magistrate if he had anything to say for himself said: "I took the pants to wear for one night but I did not intend to steal them. I was afraid to return them next morning for fear Cook would say something to me." The magistrate discharged the accused on payment of all costs, amounting to $ 900.

Fred Baker, remanded a week for stealing a fur cap from the Snowden House, was brought up for sentence. The magistrate referred to the serious nature of the crime, but added that least a severe sentence might drive prisoner to do worse, he was disposed to deal leniently with him and give him one more chance, and if he would make satisfaction and pay all costs ($18.70) he would discharge him. This was done and the prisoner was discharged.

Samuel Anglesyo was charged with making and offering for sale bread of less than the lawful weight.

Wm. Stock was brought up on the same charge; the magistrate said "the by-law should be sent up to the High School for re-correction."

Mr. W. A. Stratton appeared for Mr. Stock and stated that his bread was made at six o'clock in the morning and it was not intended to be offered for sale. Mr. Stock stated that bread would lose from three to four ounces standing in court room and being drawn over the roads. He said that he could bring grocers to prove that his bread overran the required weighs from one to six ounces every day, except when left in the oven a few minutes too long. Constable Adams then weighed the bread which was piled up on two large tables in the court room. Four large loaves of Mr. Anglyso's bread was weighed, and it was found to fall short only 8½ ounces. The by-law says an allowance of two ounces will be made where the bread has been baked more than twenty-four hours before the weighing or seizing thereof. The magistrate said, "as it stands Mr. Anglyso your bread in the weighing of eight loaves, lacks only ½ ounce of the weight required by the by-law, It is lighter now than when it was made over twenty-four hours ago. I cannot find you guilty."

Chief Reesl said that the by-law was defective and that bread ought to stand weight of four pounds to the loaf, or two pounds to the half loaf, for twenty-four hours after being baked. The magistrate said to Mr. Stock: "Your bread weighs two and a half ounces short in the weighing of four large loaves. I can see that that it is better baked and browned than Mr. Anglesyo's, and may have been left in the oven too long, making it three or four ounces light. I don't think there was the slightest intention on the part of you or Mr. Anglesyo to do wrong. I dismiss the case."

The bakers decided to present the seized bread, in all some sixty eight small loaves, to the poor of the town.

The court adjourned at 11 o'clock.

Separate School Inspection.

Mr. James F. White, Inspector of Separate Schools, for the Eastern Division of Ontario, who has been in town since Tuesday last, left here this morning. He made a thorough inspection of the Convent school, the Murray street boys' school and the Luke street school. He is much pleased with the results of his inspection which show that excellent work is being done by both teachers and pupils, and that in these as in other respects the schools are in a satisfactory and progressive condition.

Town Teachers' Convention.

A convention of the Town Teachers' Association was held at the Central School this morning. It was largely attended, thirty-one teachers being present. Mr. Fessenden occupied the chair. Mr. McKay, Principal of the South Ward School, with a class, exemplified his method of teaching reading. A general discussion followed. Mr. Smith, Principal, took up the subject of inflexion with a class and in the ensuing discussion considerable "inflexion" of opinion was shown and an exceedingly warm discussion took place.

The Appeal Dismissed.

The appeal made by Mr. T. Cavanagh, of the Balmoral Hotel, against a conviction, as a third offence, against the liquor license act, was argued before County Judge Weller in Chambers to-day. Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. W. F. Johnston (in Mr. Fenssette's absence) for the appellant. After hearing arguments, Judge Weller, summing up the case, said the offence was committed against the present license act. If a man committed three offences against the act at different times, and different places, or at the same place it would still be an offence against the law. It does not matter if the violation is committed in the present license year or not it stands as a third offence against the license and not against the act. It does not commit any offence against the license in the present license year. The conviction need not necessarily be for three breaches of the contract committed in the specific year, but committed in any year. I haven't any doubt on that point I am of the opinion that the appeal must be dismissed with costs and the license cancelled. Of course Mr. Cavanagh has the privilege if he desires of getting his application from a higher court in Toronto."

Mr. Engineer Macdougall's Sewerage Report.

A Synopsis of his Proposed System—Estimated Cost. $150,000—The Separate system Suggested.

Last night the Committee of the whole town council met to consider the report on a proposed system of sewerage by Mr. Allan Macdougal, C.E., consulting and sanitary engineer, Toronto, who was also present. In his report Mr. Macdougall begins by stating that the system he has adopted for Peterborough is what is called in this country the separate system based on "Suggestions of Sewerage" by Robert Rawlinson, C.E., late chief engineer of the local government board in England. This system provides for the introduction of roof and cellar water into the the services as well as the household wastes, which constitute the sewerage proper. The system has been introduced with success with many English and colonial towns and numerous examples of it can be found in the United States. The scheme proposed provides for the construction of separate portions of it from time to time as may be deemed advisable, and of the junction of these portions to the main sewer, at the same time insuring an efficient outfall and preserving the benefits derived from working to a carefully elaborated general design.

THE SUBDIVISON OF DRAINAGE AREAS.

The general arrangement of the design is to divide the town into drainage districts, intercepting each by a special intercepting sewer, which will connect with the main on Aylmer street.

The first district lies to the north of Smith street and east of the railway; the most favorable location for the intercepting sewer will be along the east fence of the Railway from the crossing on River street to Dublin street.

The second lies to the west of Aylmer as far as Park street, and embraces the area north of McDonnell street, on which the intercepting sewer will be built.

The third lies to the east of Aylmer and south of Smith, this is perhaps the most important as it contains the present business part of the town. There are two sewers in this area, Water street joins George street at King street and then George street falls into the main outfall at Lake street, near the corner of Lock street.

The fourth lies to the west of Aylmer and includes from Smith to Lake street, as far west as Park street. Each street parallel to Aylmer has its own sewer, discharging directly into the Townsend street intercepting sewer.

The fifth embraces the district between Park street and Monaghan Road, as far south as the Edison Co's Works and will also be collected on Townsend street. The southern portions will be drained into Lake street and as much as can be reached by it into the Lock street sewer. The small district at Sheridan Terrace, south of the court house, which cannot be connected to the general system cannot have a very large increase of population and the amount of pollution from discharge of sewerage into the river cannot, Mr. Macdougall says, be regarded as a nuisance, Provision has been made to dispose of the roof water on George and Water streets at Sherbrooke street and a special overflow will be built on Townsend street to carry off all the rain water coming from the north and the extra water likely to be conveyed by the 16-inch pipe called for under the Edison agreement with the town. From Townsend street southward the outfall will carry very little roof water so that the discharge can be estimated as pure sewerage.

The population provided for is in excess of 30 000, of which 20,000 are placed between Smith street on the north, Lake street on the south, Park street on the west and the river on the east. The sewerage is calculated on a basis of 75 gallons per head per day.

As to the size of sewers, those on side streets will be nine inches in diameter, the smallest practical size. The Aylmer street or trunk sewer will be 12 inches in diameter at the north end increasing to 18 inches, at Hunter street and at King street it will increase to an egg shape or oval, 18 by 27 inches.

THE INTERCEPTING SEWER

on Townsend street will be oval 2x3 feet in diameter and a tumbling bay will be built at the intersection of Aylmer street of a sufficient size to discharge only the sewage into Aylmer street, the rest of the water discharging out at the creek at its crossing of Townsend street. The ordinary flow at the Edison works will be limited to the capacity of a nine inch pipe running full, laid at a grade of 1 in 300, all above that quantity is treated as storm water and discharged into the Townsend street overflow.

The main overflow sewer begins at Townsend street on Aylmer street, which it follows to Lake street; at the intersection of George street it will receive the sewage only of that district, and then follow down Lock street to the river, where the discharge will be pure sewage. It will be oval and 2 feet 2 inches x 3 feet 3 inches. Provision is made for flushing the sewers at dry times by water from the creeks and the water works. The annual spring rise of the water in the river below the Locks will "lock," or close, the outflow at the end of the system, and necessitate the construction of a penstock, and the pumping of the sewage into the river till the water falls, for the twenty or thirty days of high water.

Mr. Macdougal thinks that the question of river pollution is a minor one. According to a calculation of Mr. Bolster the flow of water in the river is at its lowest summer level, 375,000 gallons per minutes, while the discharge of sewage with a population of 30,000 would be only 1,560 gallons per minute, so that until a population of 20,000 is reached river pollution may not be considered a practical question. If at any time the filtration of sewerage to purify it is demanded, the town is most conveniently situated for this. Mr. Macdougal says he knows of no town in Ontario so well situated as Peterborough with its large tract of level gravelly land at the south end of the town, available for the purification of sewerage by broad irrigation and downward filtration.

The report goes on to deal with more details, including the consideration of the plan of placing sewers at the back of lots (and connecting them with the street at one point in each block) man holes, tumbling bays, lamp holes, flush tanks, house connections, cellar drainage, and concludes with placing the estimate cost of the proposed system at $150,000. The detailed estimate is appended to the report.

Knight Templars.

The Distinguished Fraters Discharge Their Chivalrous Duties and are Banquetted by the Local Brethren.

The visit of the officers and members of Geoffry de St. Aldemar of Toronto, to Moore Preceptory, town last night was an event of unusual importance in Templar Masonry in this district. The visiting fraters were accompanied by R. E. Frater E. T. Malone, of Toronto, deputy grand master of the Templar Order for Canada, and R. E Frater, Jas. Greenfield, of Kingston, Provincial prior of this district. Prominent among the visitors were:—E. Frates, Benj. Allen, presiding preceptor; N. T. Lyon, past preceptor; H A. Collins, Past Preceptor, and Fraters Ardagh, Rosf, Eakins, Reeve, King, Simpson, Walker, Beeman, Roberts, Howson, Johnston, and Pearcey, of Toronto. V. E. Frater Benj. Shortly and E Frater Chas. Cameron, received the visitors on behalf of Moore Preceptory, and accompanied them to Masonic headquarters, Water street.

During the evening the work was exemplified by the officers of Geoffrey de St. Aldermar Preceptory in a very elaborate and skilful manner, Frater Lyons distinguishing himself throughout the work. Four new candidates were installed into the Templar order, during which the service was impressively intoned, and appropriately interspersed with beautiful musical effects.

At the close of the ceremonies an adjournment took place to the adjoining refreshment rooms, where a banquet was prepared in honor of the visitors. E. Frater, Chas. Cameron, presiding preceptor of Moore Priory, occupied the chair, and Frater A. St. A. Smith filled the vice chair. The customary toasts were duly honoured, interspersed with speeches, songs recitations, and a very entertaining time spent around the fraternal table. The spread was provided by Mr. Wm. Bowman, of the Palace Restaurant Dining Hall, and reflected credit on his well known catering abilities. At an early hour the visitors were escorted to their special car at the C. P. R. station, which left by the 4 56 train this morning.

The unresting energy and enterprise of T. Dolan & Co. which has brought their clothing and furnishing trade to the front rank of such establishments in Ontario, is finding new expression in the substantial enlargement of their present premises. The casual observer would naturally think that their already extensive and elegant premises were sufficient, but this is not the case; the business has outgrown them, and preparations are now being made for alterations and improvements that involve a large addition to the space and facilities for doing business, in every department. The main store will be extended westward so as to include the shop now occupied by Mr. R. W. Erett, which admits of devoting the entire part of the first floor to the accommodation of additional stock. This addition will give the firm a shop of 22 feet in width on George street by 100 feet on Hunter street, and its situation admits of its being splendidly lighted, with double front windows on George and Hunter streets of unusual size and magnificence, and of being, as it will be made, one of the finest business premises in town. The addition of the new space will also afford more room on the second and third floors for the manufacturing department of the firm, whose demands require not only more space, but the addition of another cutter to the staff, to keep pace with the orders, and also admit of dressing rooms, cloak rooms, and closets for the convenience of the employees.

The work of enlargement is expected to begin on Monday and of course the presence of the present stock of goods will not facilitate building operations. Therefore, a great clearing sale is now on, and a genuine sacrifice of all cloths, clothing and furnishings, will prevail during the period of alterations and improvement. A word is sufficient to those who desire to buy the best of these classes of goods at the lowest prices.

This expansion of premises will permit a very large addition to the stock of every department of the business, for which import orders have already been placed. T. Dolan and Co. have faithfully earned a reputation for energy, enterprise and fair business dealing which their new departure will more than sustain.

Day after day the evidence accumulates that the "Myrtle Navy" is the people's favorite tobacco. The demand keeps increasing, and from every new circle of consumers who have been induced to try it, the evidence is emphatic in its favor. The genuine qualities always hold the friends they have once made. These qualities will be kept up to their full standard by the manufacturers of it. It is to these qualities and the reasonableness of the price that they attribute their marked success. To the quality they will adhere at all cost, and also to the price if that be possible.

A Brilliant Wedding.

One of Guelph's Favourite Daughters Happily Married.

"Sunset," the residence of Dr. Foster, Guelph, brother-in-law of the bride, was the scene of an unusually brilliant wedding last evening, when Miss Carrie A. Stevenson, daughter of Wm. Stevenson, Esq., of Maple Bank, ex-Mayor of the city, was married to Thomas J. McIntyre, of Toronto. The house was ablaze with light, and presented a scene of great beauty and animation, each of the large and commodious rooms being decorated with palms, calla lillies, and festooned with smilax and beautiful flowers. The stairway was draped with bunting, red, white and blue, which, taken with the rich and gorgeous costumes of the ladies, made a scene which the eye delighted to rest upon.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. C. Smith, assisted by Rev. E. B. Stevenson, brother of the bride. The bride entered upon the arm of her father to the strains of the Wedding March given by the orchestra. Her dress was of heavy white brocaded satin, with full train, trimmed with white ostrich feather trimming and orange blossoms. The veil was of white Brussels net. She carried in her hand a magnificent bouquet of white roses. She wore also a beautiful diamond brooch, the gift of the groom. The bridesmaids were Miss Maud Stevenson, who wore pale blue silk and carried pink roses, and Miss Lamport, of Toronto, who wore pale cream satin with yellow roses. Each of the bridesmaids had handsome diamond pins presented by the groom. The groomsmen were Mr. G. A. Schofield, of Peterborough, and Mr. Harry Higginbotham, of New York.

After the ceremony the party sat down to a substantial supper, at which the healths of the bride and and groom were proposed by President Mills, of the C. A. College, and Rev. J. C. Smith. The groom made a happy reply and Mr. Schofield responded on behalf of the bridesmaids. Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre departed on the evening train for a tour of the American cities amid a shower of rice and the best wishes of all. The presents, which were displayed in a room off the drawing-room, comprised everything known in silver, china and glass, conspicuous among them being a sterling silver coffee set from Mr. and Mrs Clark, of Newark, N.J., a music cabinet from the choir of St. Andrew's church; and a massive marble clock presented by members of the Athenæum Club, of Toronto, accompanied by a beautiful illuminated address.

Among the invited guests were:—Dr. and Mrs. Mathieson, Mr. and Mrs. Fraleigh, Miss Saunderson, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Macoun, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Mills, Miss Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Lamport, Miss Lamport, Miss Lizzie Lamport, Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Hannon, Rev. J. C. and Mrs. Smith, Rev. E. B. and Mrs. Stevenson, Col. and Mrs. Higginbotham, Mr. and Mrs. Tytler, Miss Yule, Mr. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Clark, Newark; Mr. Birks, Mr. and Mrs. Snowden, Mr. and Mrs. Barry, Dr. Beemer, Mr. P. Scarff, Miss Scarff, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McMillan, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Torrance, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. McGill, Mr. Vernon McGill, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Kirkland, Mr. George Campbell, Miss Campbell.

Miss Stevenson has been one of the most popular young ladies in this city, and has won hosts of warm personal friends by her bright disposition and womanly qualities. Her gifts of music and song, coupled with an attractive presence and address, have given pleasure to thousands in this city and Province, who will wish her all happiness. As organist of the Norfolk street Methodist church, and subsequently of St. Andrew's, she filled a prominent place in the musical ranks of this city. Her departure to reside in Toronto will leave a great blank in social and musical circles.—Guelph Herald.

Combustion

Explained, and its Products Dealt With, by Mr. J. A. Fife, Science Master of the Collegiate Institute.

The fourth lecture in the Collegiate Institute series held under the auspices of the Literary Society was given in the Assembly Room last evening. Mr. T. Dodds, president of the society, occupied the chair. There was only a small attendance. The evening's entertainment opened with an instrumental duet by Miss Lillie and Mr. Fred Clarke in an artistic manner. Then came a vocal solo, "The Willow Copse," by Miss Annie Fawcett, which was very favourably received. Mr. J. A. Fife, B. A., science master, then gave his lecture on Combustion and some of its Products. He started out by giving a definition of combustion, defining it as the union of substances attended by the evolution of heat and light. Then after a satisfactory and comprehensive explanation of the phlogistic theory, he performed some experiments to show the result of burning a candle in air. A burning candle was inserted in a jar containing air, and in a short time the flame was extinguished. This proved that the supply of air was exhausted; all the oxygen of the air in the jar had united with the carbon of the candle, and carbonic acid gas and water were formed in the jar. The presence of the carbonic acid gas was found by pouring some lime water into the jar when the lime water was turned milky. The next experiments showed that carbonic acid gas would not support the combustion of a taper but would support the combustion of magnesium, since the magnesium had so great an affinity for oxygen, that the oxygen was separated from the carbon of the carbonic acid gas. Carbonic acid gas is heavier than air and may be poured downward from one vessel to another. The lecturer then explained why it was that this gas did not collect in great quantities near large cities where so much of it was being formed every day. It was owing to the law of the diffusion of gases. The gas does not collect in one locality but is spread abroad throughout the atmosphere, and hence but a small percentage is contained in the air.

The most brilliant experiments which were given were those in demonstration of combustion in oxygen. A piece of watch spring was ignited, in air it burned very dimly, but when placed in a jar of oxygen it burned with a brilliant light. The same phenomena were shown by burning pieces of charcoal and platinum. When hydrogen and oxygen are united the greatest heat is given off, attended with a violent explosion. If one pound of hydrogen were inserted into oxygen enough heat would be evolved to raise three hundred and forty-one pounds of water from zero to boiling point.

The last experiments were given in explanation of combustion in chlorine. Powdered antimony takes fire and antimony chloride is formed.

Space will not permit us to give a full report of the lecture. The experiments were perfectly and satisfactorily performed and everything in connection with them was made sufficiently clear that all could understand. Mr. Fife and the society are to be congratulated on the excellence of the entertainment furnished last evening. Those who were present enjoyed a scientific treat, and went home with the conviction that they had spent an enjoyable and profitable evening. A recitation "Maud Miller" by Miss Eva Carey and a selection, "The guard on the Rhine," by the Glee Club brought the entertainment to a close. The next lecture will be given by Mr. Heap, on March 11th, on "The workingman in the middle ages."

JOSEPH WALKER.

Lost in the Desert.

A Tale of Suffering and Woe—After Thirty Years of Trials he is Safely Rescued From Pe: i.

There are very few Candians living who can relate such a terrible history of hardships, sufferings and woes, as a gentleman whose portrait we are permitted to use in the columns in this paper. We have often in life listened attentively to tales of sufferings in the forests, on the seas, and on the field of battle; and have been thrilled with feelings of pity and admiration when we heard of privations, daring deeds and brave actions; but never before have our sympathies and finer feeling been so keenly touched by the recital of misfortunes, sufferings and woes, than in the case of Mr. Joseph Walker, of Bloomington, a small village two and a half miles from the town of Stouffville, Ontario.

Mr. Walker started out in life with all the advantages common to true and sturdy Canadians. His ancestors were people of that grand and noble stock that best contribute to the building up of a great and glorious country; and, following in their steps, Mr. Walker was emulating their life and example. He was blessed with a vigorous life and constitution, and maintained these advantages until the cares and duties of life increased, and the pressure of daily business demanded more thought, attention and hard work. Others around him were vigorously pressing on to the goal of success and wealth with apparent ease, and why should not Mr. Walker keep abreast with his friends on the race-track of life.

Ah! fascinating and luring ambition thou art often cruel and false leader. Thy ways leading upward to honor, fame and wealth are often treacherous and fatal. There are quagmires in the way that often engulf the unsuspecting traveller; there are tracts of desert lands with their dry and parched sands which furnish no cooling waters for the weary and struggling victim.

Like thousands of other sturdy and pushing Canadians who worry and trouble about business, Mr. Walker wandered into one of these dry sandy wastes of life, known as the desert of dyspepsia. Like others he had neglected nature's golden and unerring laws regulating health, vitality and digestion. He met in his wanderings through the barren and inhospitable desert of dyspepsia scores of other victims vainly seeking an avenue of escape. They often travelled together, and took counsel with each other, and discussed various plans of deliverance, only to result in failure when tried. Now and then, they would see in the distance what seemed to be an oasis—a spot of verdure, which would be hurriedly approached in the hope that some cooling stream or healing fountain would exist from which they might obtain relief from their sufferings. Waters, medicines were often found and quickly tried, but in every case the result was disappointing and discouraging. [illegible]

Year after year passed, and life was becoming a weary burden—a load too heavy to bear, and Mr. Walker was doubtless often ready to give up. Thirty years a pilgrim—a wandering sufferer in the desert land of dyspepsia! Think of it, reader, imagine, if you can, the hours, the days, the months and years of agony of mind and body! It is dreadful to contemplate; the facts seem incredible! At last, with a deep yearning hope Mr. Walker raises his eyes, he discovers a rock towering heavenward emblematic of strength, power and safety. He hurries to its shelter, and, lo! from it there comes a stream which in years past has made happy and joyous many a soul near unto death. We cannot at this point bring out the details of Mr. Walker's rescue from suffering and death in any clearer way than he himself has done in the following letter, which is vouched for by one of the most respectable drug firms in Canada:—

I think it my duty to my fellow men to send you the following testimonial, so that you may let suffering humanity know what your Celery Compound has done for me. I have been a sufferer from dyspepsia for thirty years; have been treated by different doctors, and tried nearly all the dyspepsia remedies on the market without getting much relief, until, seeing your Compound recommended as a sure cure for dyspepsia, I thought as a last resort I would try it; and am happy to say after taking six bottles I was completely cured. I have since recommended it to a number of others, and will continue to do so, as I believe it a sure cure no matter how bad the case may be. Any one wishing to know more about this can do so by writing to myself, or Rowan & Co., Druggists, here.

JOSEPH WALKER.

The above gentleman (Mr. Walker) is widely known and respected here, and his veracity cannot be doubted for a moment.

ROWAN & Co., Druggists,
Stouffville, Ont.

This is only a sample of the marvellous rescues that are made daily in every part of country. No other human remedy has such mighty successes to record. Paine's Celery Compound is the only agency that can with a fifty and success take up the men and women who have been laid aside as incurable by physicians, and raise them again to that perfect health and soundness of body which guarantees a new lease of life. Other remedies fail in what they promise to accomplish; but nature's true vitalizer, Paine's Celery Compound, even in the face of despair and death will, if used, show its wonderful powers, and mastery over disease.

Is the evidence adduced from day to day sufficient for the suffering and diseased, or do they choose to linger on in the vain hope that time and inaction will work for them some miracle?

RECIPROCITY.

An Interesting Discussion in the United States Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—In the Senate yesterday, in discussing reciprocity matters, Senator G. G. Vest of Missouri referred to the address of General Foster of the State Department at a banquet in New York Wednesday night and claimed that the only increase in American exports as the result of reciprocity with Brazil had been in articles in which there had been no import duty at all levied by Brazil, and consequently that reciprocity could not have brought about that fact.

It had been also stated by Mr. Foster, continued the Missouri senator, that reciprocal intercourse with Canada was a very different thing from reciprocal intercourse with South America, and the principal reason given was that Great Britain controlled the tariff treaties of Canada and that Great Britain was under the system of free trade, which was entirely antagonistic to the system adopted by the people of the United States.

Mr. Foster seemed, Mr. Vest said, to be entirely ignorant of the fact that Canada was permitted to impose its own tariff duties and that the Home Country had never undertaken to interfere with the import duties of her provinces, and to be ignorant also of the fact that English imports paid as high duties in Canada as American imports paid.

He declared his conviction that so long as New England dominated there never would be reciprocal relations with Canada. On this point he quoted Senator Hale of Maine as saying:

Reciprocity with Canada is an animal of a very different breed from reciprocity with South America.

In other words, said Mr. Vest, reciprocity which brought free hides and free rubber to the manufacturers of New England was very different from reciprocity which brought free Canadian products to the consumers of the whole country.

Penny Lost, a Dollar Gained.

"How many people do you suppose really know why the retail dry goods stores knock off a penny or two from the price of articles worth the even dollars?" said an advertisement writer for one of the big retail houses up-town to a Mail and Express man recently. "Ninety-nine people out of a hundred think it is because it makes the price look smaller when displayed on the goods, and consequently attracts trade. But, bless you, you can't fool the average woman shopper in New York by such a transparent trick.

"The real object in dropping the penny and making the price of an article worth $2, $1.99 is to keep the shopper at the counter while waiting for the change. Three times out of five she will see something she wants before the change can be made, and will buy it.

"The scheme pays 100 per cent. on the investment, as has been proved over and over again."—New York Mail and Express.

Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the foreskin, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wears in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flashes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. All nations and tongues declare St. Leon perfection to assist digestion, purification of the blood, the assimilation of the food, circulation and promote healthy vigor life-long. St. Leon Water has no compeer. For sale all over. dw

A Wonderful Change.

GENTLEMEN,—For twenty years I suffered from rheumatism, dyspepsia, poor appetite, etc., and received no benefit from the many medicines I tried, but after taking five bottles of B. B. B. I can eat heartily of any food, and am strong and smart. It is a grand medicine and has made a wonderful change in my health.

VERY MANY SUCH.

RHEUMATISM.—COL. DAVID WYLIE, Brockville, Ont., says: "I suffered intensely with rheumatism in my ankles. Could not stand; rubbed them with St. Jacobs Oil. In the morning I walked without pain."

NEURALGIA.—MR. JAMES BONNER, 158 Yonge St., Toronto, Ont., writes: "St. Jacobs Oil is the only remedy that relieved me of neuralgia, and it effectually cured me."

BACKACHE.—"I can highly recommend St. Jacobs Oil as being the best medicine in existence; it promptly cured me of severe lumbago." G. N. BOYER, Carillon, Quebec.

SPRAINS.—"My mother received a very severe sprain and bruise by falling down stairs. St. Jacobs Oil cured her in a couple of days." R. BURNAND, 124 Tecumseth St., Toronto, Ont.

BRUISES.—MR. AITCHISON, Hamilton, Ont., Fire Department, says he met with a serious accident and his back and shoulders were terribly bruised, but by the use of St. Jacobs Oil he was completely restored.

Hits and Misses.

Another Pleasing and Eloquent Lecture Given by John R. Clarke in the Y.M. C.A. Hall Last Evening.

Mr. John R. Clarke, the eloquent upholder and supporter of temperance principles made his second appearance in his present engagement at the Y.M.C.A. hall last evening. In contradistinction to the large crowd which Mr. Clarke addressed in the opera house the evening previous, the company present to greet him was exceedingly small, but no doubt few and select. Mr. R. J. Colville, General Secretary, occupied the chair and in a neat speech introduced the lecturer of the evening. Mr. Clarke on coming forward laughingly said that it was not only a small audience but in his long career of twenty-eight years platform speaking he had scarcely ever addressed a slimer gathering. However he would not complain as he had had the pleasure of addressing large and satisfactory ones in Peterborough. He had chosen as his subject "Hits and Misses" a Shakespearian epithet, and one equivalent in meaning to another of the great dramatists aphorisons "To be or not to be." The vital question was are we really and earnestly living or not—living in the sense of realizing and benefitting by all our advantages, interests and opportunities. If we were we hit it, if not we sadly missed it. The human mind was composed of the will, the judgment, and the imagination. We are all living Trinitarians. Nothing was ever created greater than man. He had great capabilities and great possibilities and might make of life a noble career and a grand existence or he might make of it a woeful and lamentable mistake. There were many and various classes of people. Some fritter and giggle away the golden moments, others dream and live on visionary prospects, while others live life to the full and battle energetically and perseveringly against her stern realities and her struggle for existence. Some had made life an incomparable and eminent success by acting promptly along the lines of human action. He instanced the cases of Matthew Hall, the bright English jurist, Elihu Burritt, the learned blacksmith, Henry Kirk White, the great American poet, Brammel, the excavator of the Thames, Walter Raleigh, the chivalrous knight to ladyhood, Rutherford B Hayes, ex-President of the United States and many others. Others had succeeded along the lines of human expression having ready wit and a complete vocabulary. To this such men as John Ruskin, Benjamen F. Butler, Benjaman Franklin and others owed their signal success in life. Mr. Clark related many humorous incidents illustrative of the ready wit and clever repartee made by these noted men on divers occasions and under various circumstances. There were people of a morose and phlegmatic disposition looking as if they had just had a refreshing draughs of vinegar and gall. We were all prone to wander, human judgement was very erroneous—human perfection an ideal. Some people could see no good anywhere except in themselves. Some where exact, some lackadaisical, and some earnest. Some could discern a good deal where others could see nothing. We lived in a beautiful world where there was more beauty than blemish. There were trills of joy dancing through it and glinted gleams from and eternal world. We should all be happy, put ourselves in harmony with nature and her surroundings and enjoy to the fullest measure the possibilities of life. We should strive to be content; Godliness with contentment was a great gain. No heart ever throbbed which was entirely devoid of human kindness. The lecturer closed by giving a life like scene in all its hope and expectancy, and latterly in all its misery and woe, of boys leaving the farm before the proper time came, become disquieted and discontented, and going into the city, sooner or later to be engulfed in the whirl of wickedness and sin, or plunge into the jaws of a miserable existence and an ignominious destruction, thinking to hit it when they ingloriously missed it. He also gave some wholesome advice to the ladies, telling them they could better afford to be dubbed "old maids" than marry a drunken and dishonourable man. Many of the grandest and most notable ladies on earth were wedded to a mission and not to a man. Who would ever forget the names of such ladies as Florence Nightingale, Frances Ridley Havergall and Frances Elizabeth Willard, and the missions they were wedded to! He strongly advised all not to be precipitate or rash.

Rheumatism Cured.

SOLDIER'S COVE, N.S., Jan. 30, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR:—Your Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills are the best medicine for rheumatism that I have ever used. Last spring I was troubled greatly with it in my leg; I used one box of Morse's Pills, and was cured.
Yours gratefully,
dw ALLEN CAMPBELL.

The Blood is the Life.

Good health without pure blood is simply impossible, and to secure pure blood is therefore absolutely necessary, especially in spring when bad blood is very prevalent. Burdock Blood Bitters is the remedy, without an equal in the world of medicine. It drives out all poisonous humours of the blood from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore. dw

An Enemy's Praise.

The Kingston News (Conservative) has this reference to Mr. Harty, the new member of the Legislature for Kingston:—"It is no disparagement to Mr. Drennan to say that he was unfortunate in the time choosen for his attempt to soar in a higher firmament than that to which his experience had been limited, inasmuch as he was obliged to face an antagonist who had attained a remarkable altitude in the esteem and affection of the people of Kingston. Mr. Harty is a gentleman not only of great ability as a publicist and man of affairs, but endowed with that indefinable social charm which captivates all of human kind, irrespective of class, creed or political complexion. To be defeated by such a man might almost be termed a species of honor only second to success under more equitable conditions."

The great majority of so called cough cures do little more than impair the digestive functions and create bile. Ayer's Cherry Pectoral on the contrary, while it cures the cough, does not interfere with the functions of either stomach or liver.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

Greatly Benefited.

DEAR SIRS,—I have been using B. B. B. for cancer of the breast during the last two years and four months, both externally and internally, and have been greatly benifited. Have had cancer over seven years, and no medicine ever did me as much good as B.B.B. I feel sure that sufferers from cancer can obtain relief or even cure from B.B.B., and will be pleased to answer any questions as to the use and benefit received from this remedy. MRS. A. Small Sugar-coated Burdock Pills do not gripe or sicken. They are mild and effectual.

Harassing headaches make many lives miserable, needlessly so, when a prompt cure like Burdock Blood Bitters is obtainable.

If you are nervous or dyspeptic try Carter's Little Nerve Pills. Dyspepsia makes you nervous, and nervousness makes you dyspeptic, either one renders you miserable, and these little Pills cure both. dw

Itch, Mange, and Scratches of every kind, on human or animals, cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by H S. McDonald.

A Crying Evil.

Every crying evil should be promptly removed. Sick headache is a crying evil effecting thousands of Canadians, which can easily be removed by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, the best known stomach, liver and bowel regulator and cure for sick headache from whatever cause arising. dw

MOB VENGEANCE.

A Terrible Crime Reported from An Austrian Village.

VIENNA, Feb. 27.—The drtails of a horrible story were received here yesterday telling of a fiendish act committed, it is alleged, to avenge another terrible crime. A band of masked men at the small village of Minin went to the house of a handsome young widow named Marie Loppers during the night, forced their way into the bedroom occupied by the woman and bound her securely with cords. They then poured a large quantity of petroleum over her, thoroughly saturating her clothes with the fluid. A match was then applied to the oil-soaked garments and in an instant the unfortunate woman was enveloped in flames. The poor victim's shrieks and cries were blood-curdling, but the terrible agony suffered by the woman as she was roasted to death had little effect in arousing pity from her assailants who watched the woman's cremation. The band stood gazing on this horrible spectacle until the woman's convulsive struggles had ceased and her anguished moans had died away and not one of them stirred from the spot until nothing remained of the woman's body but a blackened and distorted mass. The murderers then left the place. The affair has caused much excitement. The motive assigned for the outrage is that the woman was suspected of having murdered her husband, and it is thought that those who took part in the burning of the woman were friends of the dead man.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Various Deputations Wait Upon the Government—Business of the House.

TORONTO, Feb. 27.—When the House met yesterday afternoon Mr. Barr asked if the Minister of Agriculture, or any person authorized by him had promised to supply each member of the Farmers' Institute with all bulletins and reports of the Agricultural College and Model Farm.

Mr. Dryden replying remarked that he had purposed sending to the members of the various farmers' institutes copies of every bulletin issued during the year 1891. His wish was that they should have received at the same time, other information of value published. These bulletins, he said, had since been sent to every member of the farmers institutes.

Crown Lands.

Mr. Snider moved for a return showing: 1. The number of parcels of real estate owned by the province, not including unpatented crown lands unless provincial buildings have been erected on any such lands. 2. Acreage of each parcel and where located. 3. For what purpose used. 4. Estimated cash value of each parcel, not including buildings. 5. Cost of improvement made on each to date. 6. Present estimated value of improvements on each parcel. The motion was carried.

Notices of Motion.

Mr. Walters—Bill to impose a license on dogs and for the protection of sheep.

The Attorney-General—Bill to further amend the law respecting mortgages and sales of personal property.

Mr. Willoughly—Resolution, That in the opinion of this House, it is expedient that the Government should make some suitable recognition to the volunteers of 1837 38, for the valuable services then rendered in defence of their country at that time.

Mr. Stratton—Bill to make obligatory voting at elections to the Legislative Assembly.

Mr. Stratton—Bill relating to the appointment of provincial auditors.

Wanted a Provincial Inventory.

Mr. Miscampbell moved for a return, showing: 1. An inventory of the ch attels at each of the public institutions in the province. 2. The prices paid for each article of the same. 3. The present value of each article of the same, to Dec. 31, 1891.

Mr. Gibson presumed that the object the hon. gentleman had in view was a very proper one, but he was afraid that he had not taken into consideration the amount of labor involved in preparing an answer to such an order of the House. During the past year, he said, inventory of the property to the minutest details had been made in connection with most of the public institutions. The work was still being prosecuted in the remaining cases. In a very short time he hoped to have a complete inventory of every article that could be produced, no matter how limited its value. An inventory, such as those asked for, was now in existence for, he thought, all the asylums but one. Under the circumstances he would ask the hon. gentleman either to withdraw his motion, taking his assurance as to what had been done and was being done, or at all events so to modify his resolution that it would not involve an unreasonable amount of work.

Mr. Miscampbell said that in view of the facts presented by the hon. Provincial Secretary he would withdraw the motion. This was accordingly done.

Deputations from the Alliance.

A deputation of the Dominion Alliance met the Ministry. Among those present were: Revs. Dr. Thomas, A. Dowsley, J. V. Smith, J. Hughes, W. M. McMillan, G. S. Youle, D. F. Milne, Dr. Emery, W. G. Storm, W. P. Page, E. H. Hilbourn, Malcolm Gibbs, A. Coxhead, F. S. Spence, J. J. Maclaren, James Dobson, S. James, Cronkyatekha and Meadames Forster, Vance, Hilborn, R. G. Dixon, R. Golley and G. Walker. J. J. Maclaren and F. S. Spence complained that the fines imposed for breaches of the liquor act were too small and wished them raised. The local option bylaws, they also aver, have been quashed for very petty reason. Mr. Mowat said that he would seriously consider the matter.

Pray, Don't Increase License Fees.

A deputation from the Hotelkeepers Association of the province waited upon Messrs. Mowat, Bronson, Harcourt, Gibson and Hardy. It was composed of Messrs. Edward Sullivan, John Beers, John Devaney, J. J. Coulter, Robert Irvine, H. W. Powers, John Stormont, John Magee and about 20 others. These gentlemen do not wish the Government to increase the license fees. Mr. Mowat promised to consider the matter.

The Single Tax Men.

A deputation from the Single Tax Association waited upon the Ministry and presented the resolution passed at a meeting recently held in St. Andrew's Hall. They wished the Government to pass an act giving all municipalities the option of collecting all their taxes on land values if they so desire. This matter, Mr. Mowat remarked, would be seriously considered.

Dined With The Speaker.

The Speaker gave the second in his series of dinners last evening. The repast, as usual, was of a very recherche description. Those present were: Dr. Daniel Clark, Mr. James Massie, Rev. William Jones, Mr. W. A. Wilson, Mr. A. H. Sydere, Mr. George McMurrich, Mr. M. H. Ludwig, Mr. A. W. Ballantyne and the following members of the Legislature: Mr. J. T. Garrow, Dr. McMahon, Dr. Baxter, Mr. E. J. Davis, Mr. Joseph Tait, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Hon. E. H. Bronson, Mr. W. Kerns, Mr. G. F. Marter, Mr. W. H. Hammell, Dr. Wylie, A. Miscampbell, A. F. Campbell, R. Ferguson, W. M. Dack, C. C. Field, J. R. Stratton, N. Awrey, W. H. Biggar, J. Sharpe and G. B. Smith.

PERRY, THE BANDIT.

Trophies Found In the Prisoner's Valise—A Bible, Religious Cards and a Bloody Butcher Knife Among His Treasures.

LYONS, N.Y., Feb. 27.—"Curt" Perry, as the daring young desperado and train robber, Oliver Curtis Perry, is familiarly known about his old Syracuse home, is decidedly less chipper than he was before the heavy shackles were put on his feet, as the result of his little plan to get out of jail with a wooden key to be made by his father, Oliver H. Perry, the Syracuse carpenter. Vanity has no small part in the youthful criminal's make-up, and it has been evident ever since his capture that he is very proud of his dare-devil exploit, and particularly of his skill with the revolver.

Perry a Bible Student.

Some insight into the curious character of this now historical criminal is gained by a study of the contents of the valise which the detectives captured at Syracuse. At some time or other this singular being seems really to have been filled with religious fervor. A beautifully-bound Bible and Testament were among his effects, and in both scores of verses had been marked, sometimes in red ink, and underscored and double underscored and marked around the margin. One of these passages was in Corinthians x., ii.:

For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through God even to the pulling down of strongholds.

Probably the suggestion of seven-shooters and jails in the "weapons" and "strongholds" of the passage is what caught the professional attention of Mr. Perry in this instance. Side by side with the scriptures was an indecent book in Spanish.

Wrapped in a red railroad flag, such as is used for danger signals and which Perry doubtless expected to use in some train-robbing exploit, were a couple of envelopes stuffed full of printed psalms and hymns and extracts from religious papers, breathing the most fervid spirit of piety. Then there was that horribly ghastly article which Perry afterwards explained that he kept because he wanted it for a mantel ornament—to wit, the severed ear of a negro with hideous chunks of flesh hanging to it and which Perry said he cut off himself.

Pictures of the Gentler Sex.

Besides this disgusting trophy were the pictures of three women; two of them in a beautiful Russia leather pocketbook made for the purpose, and one in a frame with a back support so it could be placed upon a table. One of the pictures in the pocketbook was a tin-type of a mere slip of a girl not far along in her teens, and the other was a cabinet photograph of a coarse-faced woman, and it had been taken in Wilmington, Del. Twined about the tin-type of the young girl was a long and slender braid of jet-black silky hair.

The picture in the frame was of a pleasant-faced, kindly-looking woman in spectacles, probably the Sunday school teacher in Troy who is supposed to have had some influence over the bandit. Beneath it is written in Perry's hand, "My Mother, Dec. 21, 1891," so it is pretty evident that "my mother" knew where this precious scoundrel was when the detectives were ransacking the country in search of him.

Other Strange Trophies.

A long-bladed butcher knife in a leather case, and with the blade splattered clear to the hilt with spots of blood rust, was in a bundle with two religious cards, one in the shape of an artist's palette and bearing the inscription in silver lettering, "The Lord Hath Risen"; the other in the form of a bell and inscribed in the same lettering, "Christ Hath Made Us Free."

Then came a couple of boxes of cartridges tied up with a number of implements for cleaning and caring for revolvers; the smoked glass spectacles used for disguise; a mouth organ, a buckskin bag filled with Mexican coins and two bits of gold wire, apparently made from beating broken up jewelry together and a pill box with the place where it was bought carefully scratched off.

Indeed everything that could in any way serve as a trail was carefully erased from Perry's effects. The big Bible had evidently been a present to him and had had his name in gilt letters on the outside of the cover. Perry had carefully dug this out with a knife.

STATE OF TRADE.

Several Toronto Syndicates Make Extensive Purchases of Property.

MONTREAL, Feb. 27.—The Herald passed to-day into the hands of a syndicate of Liberals, who will endeavor to put it in shape.

Toronto investors in Montreal real estate are quite active here. McCuaig & Mainwaring are making extensive investments for their Toronto clients. Another company of Toronto capitalists was formed here to-day. It is called the Montreal Freehold and Robert Jaffray is to be the president. The other directors are: F. J. Stewart, C. S. R. Dinnick, Edward Galley, John Burns, Samuel Blake, all of Toronto, and R. Archer of Montreal. They have bought the Bagg estate alongside of the property bought by The Consolidated Land Co., another Toronto concern, and they have already started to cut it up and put it on the market. Mr. Cook of Armstrong & Cook and Mr. Stimson were also at the meeting of the new company here to-day.

HANGED IN HER HIGH CHAIR.

Little Mary Clark Slides After Her Dolly and Dies.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—A tray fastened to the front of the high chair in which sat baby Mary Clark, at No. 87 Haman-street, Brooklyn, hanged the child until she was dead yesterday.

Mrs. Clark had gone out of the room and left the baby fastened in the chair with a doll and rattle to amuse the child. Little Mary dropped her doll. Trying to reach it, she slipped down until the tray caught her chin. There she hung until her mother returned and was horrified to find her dead.

Wishart Hanged Himself.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 27.—James J. Wishart, son of a wealthy English farmer residing in Macdonald municipality, 12 miles from Winnipeg, committed suicide yesterday morning by hanging himself in his father's barn. A few days ago he received word from England that a very dear friend of his had suicided, and ever since he has acted very strangely.

TERRIBLE ITCHING

Used Everything Five Months. In Three Weeks not a Scar or Pimple. Cured by Cuticura.

When my baby was three months old his cheeks and forehead began to break out with white pimples on red surface. In a few days itching commenced, which was terrible. After he would rub it, matter would ooze from the points. In a short time it spread over the top of his head, then scabs soon formed on head and face. We used everything we could hear of for nearly five months. It grew worse all the time. I saw your advertisement of the CUTICURA REMEDIES in the "Chicago Weekly." We purchased CUTICURA REMEDIES and commenced their use. In three weeks' time there was not a sore or pimple, not even a scar, on head or face. He is nineteen months old now, and has no signs of the disease. His scalp is healthy and he has a beautiful head of hair. (See portrait here with.)

MRS. OSCAR JAMES, Woodston, Kan.

My infant, eighteen months old, was afflicted with skin eruptions on his hips. Bad sores came on other parts. All remedies failed until I procured CUTICURA. Cured a year and no return of disease.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

LADIES' WHITE UNDERWEAR

We have opened out in our Millinery Show Room, (with entrance on either Simcoe or George Streets) a complete stock of Ladies' White Underwear and invite the ladies of Peterborough and County to call and inspect it whether they wish to buy or not. The work and finish on these goods is beautiful, in fact it would be impossible to have the same work done at home, and by a list of prices quoted below, it will be seen they cannot be made for the money, when you count material, embroidery, insertion, lace, etc:—

Corset Covers at 20c, 30, 45c.
Drawers at 25c, 45c, 50c, 65c, 75c, $1.00.
Skirts at 50c, 65c, 75c, $1.00. $1.25, $1.35.

CAN SUCH THINGS BE?

A Shocking Case Reported From the County of Glengarry.

CORNWALL, Feb. 28.—The result of the coroner's inquest at St. Raphael led to the arrest of the man Flaro and his daughter Josephine and their subsequent commitment for trial at the spring assizes in Cornwall. The girl, Josephine Flaro, who is but 16 years of age, lives about two miles west of St. Raphael's church and has been attending school at the above place. Last week she complained to the teacher of feeling unwell and retired from her studies. About 20 minutes later she returned and took her place in the class and remained till school was dismissed, when she walked home, a distance of about two miles. It afterwards transpired that a little infant body was found in the outhouse adjoining the school. A coroner's inquest was immediately held by Hon. Senator McMillan and it was proven that the child had been born alive. Suspicion pointed very strongly to Josephine Flaro and her arrest followed. Subsequently she confessed to the whole affair and stated on oath that her father was the father of the child. The father strongly denies his guilt.

Did They Go Over Niagara?

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 29.—All sorts of wild rumors were floating about town yesterday that two men in a boat had been seen to pass down the rapids and over the falls, but Benjamin Bigelow, a hack driver, who was driving a party of strangers around Goat Island, made the statement that while thus engaged he met a man and his wife, who told him in an excited manner that they had seen two men in a boat shoot down the river beyond the Three Sister Islands.

Another sightseer also claimed to have seen the boat and the men in it going toward the Horseshoe Falls. The park policemen were notified, but they were unable to find any trace of a boat below the cataract. The whirlpool will be watched to-day.

To Build a Big Paper Mill.

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 29.—The largest paper and pulp-making plant in the world is to be built on the Niagara tunnel. The Niagara Falls Paper Company will be the style of the owners. This company was formerly known as the Soo Paper Company. The company has signed a lease for 3000 horse-power to be furnished this fall. The lease extends to the year 1936. As the tunnel will be completed by July, the power will be ready for them then. The plant will consist of 20 large buildings and will occupy 11 acres of ground. The cost will be about $5,000,000. This company has in contemplation the use of underground chambers for grinding purposes. The wheel pit will be 140 feet deep and 14x40 feet wide. It will be connected with the big tunnel by a tunnel 500 feet long, 10 feet high and 12 feet wide.

Wiles of the Lottery Men.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29.—"The Lottery Company's move in obtaining a charter or concession from the Government of Nicaragua is simply a preparation for possible defeat at the next Louisiana election," said J. B. Planquet of New Orleans to-day. "If the next Legislature should wipe out the Louisiana concern the lottery officials would run the Central American institution. It is not intended to do business of any amount in Nicaragua. The United States and Canada are the lottery's friends. It will merely use Nicaragua as a fulcrum on which to rest the lever with which it will continue to raise the money out of the pockets of its American dupes. If the Louisiana Legislature can be 'handled' as usual, business will be continued at the old stand, New Orleans, and the Central American scheme will be utilized to pull in more cash by the sale of stock, just as the alleged Mexican Lottery was used some months ago, when shares were advanced from $40 to $400 in two months."

Could Not Tell Her Sex.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 29.—A strange creature was pardoned by Gov. Buchanan Saturday on application of 13 physicians, who declared their inability to determine what sex the convict is and that there is no suitable place to confine him or her. The convict's name is Hannah Bax, age 19, and to all appearances, so far as face, hands and feet go, she is a woman. Hannah was dressed as a man, but objected to being placed with other men convicts.

Fled With $50,000 and a Woman.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., Feb. 29.—Commission Agent James Eager is reported to have fled to America with a woman, and he is charged with misappropriating £10,000. Although the warrant for his arrest mentions £10,000, it is said that a much larger sum of money was taken. Detectives have been sent to the United States.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

ROYAL ARMORY RAIDED AND WEAPONS STOLEN.

A Hangman Drops Dead While Sizing up His Victim—Imperial Parliament—The Queen Views the Casket of Prince Albert Victor—General Foreign News.

PARIS, Feb. 29.—Lieutenant Anastay, who murdered the Baroness Dellard in the Rue du Temps, was Saturday found guilty and condemned to death.

In reply to questions put to him by the judge he said that he had spent 200 francs more than his pay justified on a ballet girl at the Bellecour Theatre. He said he imagined he would find 20,0000 francs in the house of the murdered woman. He knew the money was represented by scrip and bonds, and he had arranged for their sale by means of the financial journal, L'Impartiale.

He entered the house of the Baroness and chatted with her a while before striking the fatal blow. Continuing, he said:

"You do not know what it is to have struck your fellow creature with a knife. That woman's face is always before my eyes. I have committed a crime, not only a fault as an officer, but a crime against society. I demand to expiate that crime. I accept the responsibility and I wish to mount the scaffold."

This speech caused a profound sensation in court and the judge sketched the remaining incidents of the crime, to all the details of which the prisoner assented. He had found his victim alone, and as she went before him into her son's room he rushed upon her from behind, cut her throat, and then, after searching her pockets for her keys, he rummaged the wardrobes and drawers to find money, but the servant, Delphine Houbre, suddenly entered the room. Anastay rushed upon her and began sawing at her neck, but her long hair protected it, and, thinking that she was dead, he went quietly away.

The judge noted the cold-blooded manner in which Anastay left the house after the murder, and also his impassibility when arrested and asked him what had induced him to confess his crime. His answer was: "My conscience. It was impossible for me to live any longer with that secret on my mind. I almost regret having made a confession, because it may be looked upon as an extenuating circumstance, but do not forget that you have not only a prisoner before you but an officer."

The death sentence was then read to the prisoner, who listened quite unmoved.

A Hangman Drops Dead.

VIENNA, Feb. 29.—Franz Schneider and his wife Rosalie, who were recently convicted of murdering a large number of servant girls in the suburbs of this city, whom Schneider also criminally assaulted, and sentenced to death, may after all escape the gallows, notwithstanding the diabolical atrocity of their crimes, as the Emperor has refused to sign the death warrants. No woman has been executed in Austria since 1808.

The lower orders in Austria believe that Schneider possesses magic powers. The official hangman, Rudolph Seidfried, visited the condemned man's cell, in order to secure some idea of his weight, for the purpose of calculating the extent of drop necessary. Three hours afterwards he dropped dead.

Since the trial it has been developed that for three weeks, while the police were searching high and low for Schneider, he was concealed in the mansion of the Baroness Faulke, a leader of the nobility, and in which his wife was employed as a servant. He shared his wife's bed at night and hid under it during the day.

Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, Feb. 29.—During the debate in the House of Commons last night Mr. Balfour said he accepted the principle of a proposal to allow schools to be used for the holding of political meetings. He invited the Opposition to introduce a bill dealing with the subject, on the grounds that the Government was overworked already. Later, in response to pressure, he agreed to add such a clause to another bill.

The Times comments with pity on the fact that the Government displayed indecision in the matter. "It is not in an edifying spectacle," the paper says "to see ministers slowly making up their minds in public under pressure from a House which they are there to lead.

Mrs. Osborne's Case.

LONDON, Feb. 29.—Sir Charles Russell, after Mrs. Osborne pleads guilty on her trial on March 7, will appear in court to deal with the case under the First Offenders Act, which will enable the judges to release the accused under bond to reappear and undergo sentence. There is a question whether the act applies to this case. Legal opinion is that, although the charge against Mrs. Osborne is not included in the act, the judges have power to apply the principle.

Indignation in Bulgaria.

SOFIA, Feb. 29.—The death of Dr. Vulkovich, the Bulgarian agent at Constantinople, who was stabbed by an unknown assassin Wednesday night in that city, has caused a great sensation here and throughout Bulgaria. Prince Ferdinand has given orders that the court fetes be cancelled. Great indignation everywhere because of the assassination.

A RAILROAD SEIZED.

A Toronto Creditor Takes Possession of Ottawa and Gatineau Valley Road.

OTTAWA, Feb 27.—Deputy-Sheriff McLaughlin seized the Ottawa and Gatineau Valley Railway yesterday, or at least seized the available rolling stock.

The railway is a young one and its rolling stock is somewhat small, so that when the deputy-sheriff took possession of three or four cars the company was crippled. The regular train which leaves Hull at 5 o'clock did not go out.

The execution was made at the instance of James A. Patterson of Toronto, who has a claim of $1700 against the company.

A Terrible Death.

CHATHAM, N.B., Feb. 29.—A terrible tragedy occurred at the pulp mill Friday morning. Gustav Anderson was sent into the blow-off tank of one of the digesters (boilers in which puly is cooked in a chemical solution) and Stephen McDonald, who was sent to turn steam into another digester, blunderingly opened the blow-off valve of the one connected with the tank in which Anderson was working. The boiling pulp and acid burst in on him under a pressure of 70 pounds of steam and at a temperature of 280 degrees, choking and cooking the life out of him instantly.

CRUELTIES IN THE ARMY.

FRIGHTFUL TALES OF CRUELTIES TO SOLDIERS.

A Report by Prince George Results in the Commitment of Numerous Officers to Prison—Many of the Privates Sent to Hospital as a Result of Ill-Treatment.

DRESDEN, Feb. 29.—Since the organization of the German army after the Imperial coronation in Versailles no military announcement has created such a sensation as the order of Prince George of Saxony, heir to his uncle's crown, regarding the cruelties in the army. Coming as it does from a Royal prince and the commanding general of the Saxon army corps the effect of the exposure is all the more startling. The report discloses a state of things in the army which taxes credibility and almost persuades the reader that he is perusing an account of Siberian abuses and atrocities.

The reports show that recruits, many of them old men, have suffered chastisement regularly for months, every week and even every day. They have received, "as a means of discipline," as many as 50 blows; they have been forced to bend their knees, present arms or hold out the "schemel" (a heavy three-legged chair or stool) at arms' length so long that they have fainted from exhaustion. Such instances have occurred with especial frequency in the Regiment No. 12, Foot Artillery, and Infantry Regiment No. 1050. The following instances will give an idea of the extent of the cruelty and lack of human feeling:

"Sub-Sergeant Hoffman (of the First Company of the same regiment) ordered the man Dobert, in company with another, almost daily to receive as many as 150 blows with a boot or the hilt of a sword, and to practice drilling for long intervals. Once when he had gone through the manual of arms 1889 times, counting aloud each time, Debert became unconscious, and had to be taken to the hospital for treatment.

A Shirt Tale Parade.

"Sergeant Zehme of the First Company of the same regiment, in January, 1890, forced his men to get up in the night, put on their helmets and side-arms, and otherwise clad only in their shirts, practice the double-quick step for half an hour. The same sergeant gave his men lighted cigars, and then ordered them to continue the double-quick step while he counted fifty, requiring that the cigars be entirely smoked up at the end of that time. Once again, while Zehme ate his supper, he ordered his men to bend their knees 1800 times, at the same time requiring them to hold the schemel in their outstretched hands.

"Sub-Sergeant Liebing, while still in bed one morning, commanded the recruit Bischof to practice with the schemel, holding it at arm's length and then drawing it towards the body before him. He boxed his ears when he went too slowly. After the practice had been continued for almost an hour and Bischof was almost exhausted, Liebing poured a pitcher of cold water over him, struck him on the head with a leather belt, causing bloody wounds and then continued his chastisement with a whip until it was broken and Bischof's legs were swollen and covered with sores. In consequence of this treatment, Bischof lost his senses and was taken to the hospital.

Clubbed With a Gun.

"Sub-Sergeant Lohel of the Fourth Company of the 105th Infantry Regiment becoming angry because the recruit Neubert failed to hold his gun properly, struck him with the gun so hard on the shoulders that his collar bone was fractured. The bones in his arm became so swollen that he could not use it for a long time. Lohel prevented for several days the announcement of Neubert's injury, and in order to forego the impending punishment attempted to kill himself. Despite the wound inflicted upon himself he struck the hospital servant Ritter, who discovered the cause of Neubert's sufferings, a number of times in the face.

Boxing the Ears of the Awkward Squads.

"Sergeant Pflug of the Seventh Company of the 104th Regiment is in the list of under-officers who have specially distinguished themselves by misusing their soldiers. His troops, during almost the whole time that they belonged to the 'awkward squads,' had their ears boxed either by himself or at his orders. Often he obliged them to spring upon their trunks or chests and then practise the bending of the knee. They received blows in case they did not get up rapidly enough. Once when inspecting the clothes of the troops he found shoes which he believed were too greasy. He had the faces of the owners rubbed with the shoes. At another time he forced them to place their dirty stockings in their mouths and chew upon them for four or five minutes."

After recounting a number of other astounding instances of outrage and cruelty, the Prince's report declares that the sub-officers who have been punished have been dealt with much too leniently. Weise, he adds, had been degraded from his rank and sentenced to only two years in prison; Hoffman had been sentenced to two years and three months' imprisonment; Zehme 4c three years and disgrading; Geilsdorf to four and one-half years, and Pflug to five years. The Prince condemns their actions—"contrary to every human and military law"—in the highest terms, and declares that they destroy the spirit of obedience and devotion in the army and cause discontent.

In ending his remarkable paper, Prince George calls upon all men to aid him in bringing about the reforms which he has undertaken, and to raise the standard of the army. He declares that further disregard of the army rules and inhuman treatment by officers of whatever rank will be followed by the severest punishment allowed by the law.

Effects of Forests.

Beneficial Effects of Timber Areas.

Mr. John Craig, Horticulturist to Experimental Farms, Ottawa, before Agricultural Committee of House Commons said:

The effect of forestry on the climate of a country are nearly all beneficial; such as more equal distribution of rainfall. This is one of the most important points to be considered; another is the regulation of the temperature, by this I mean prevention in a measure of extremes, the possibilities of a sudden rise or fall in the temperature—changes so frequent in prairie districts—may be lessened. Then again evaporation from the soil is very much reduced. There is a vast difference between the condition on the surface of the bare and uncovered soil, and the soil on the forest floor. A forest floor serves the purpose of sponge in collecting and holding the moisture which comes down in the form of rain. The fine root system of the trees assist in drawing up moisture from below. As the rain falls it collects around and within these forests centres which hold and give it up gradually, thus obviating spring torrents and summer freshets. Another important point which has not been sufficiently emphasized in connection with forest influence is the prevention of the strong force of the winds, with their great evaporating power. The evaporating power of the wind is generally in direct proportion to its velocity. The greater the velocity the stronger its evaporating power. Thus we can see the value of shelter belts. The more protection we have in the way of shelter belts the less sweeping winds we have, and the moisture is taken less rapidly from the soil. There is no doubt that as soon as we get in the Northwest a sufficient amount of forest area to mitigate to some extent the force of the winds, we shall have a much less rapid evaporation and much more favourable conditions for fruit culture and agricultural operations generally.

By Mr. McGregor.

Q. Would that affect gardens too?—A. It would act in the direction of preventing the direct action of the sun's rays, and be of great assistance at the time of seed germination in the spring as very frequently the first sowing of garden seed is much disturbed by spring winds. Among the most promising varieties of forest trees for giving quick shelter, I wish to draw your attention to a class destined to be one of great service in the Northwest, I refer to the testing of a large number of fast growing willows and poplars which have from time to time been introduced from East Europe and the plains, and steppe country of Russia. We have now growing at the Central Farm raised from cuttings several thousands of these willows and poplars which will be increased as rapidly as possible. They are a remarkably fast growing hardy race of trees. We have already tested them at a few points in the North-West in small quantities, and they have given every indication of hardiness and success. We are now making arrangements to continue the work of distributing next year by sending a large selection of these to a number of points in Manitoba and the North-West. Among those which indicate great future usefulness are Populus Cor incesis, Pop. Petrovsky, Salix acutifolia and Salix laurifolia. If we can introduce and establish at different points groves of these hardy fast-growing poplars and willows, and thus obtain a little shelter, we may hope a little later on to introduce some of the more tender and valuable sorts which are not able to withstand the rigors of the climate unprotected, and so by making a small beginning our woods may be gradually increased.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

GOUGH BROTHERS

PETERBOROUGH,

ALSO TORONTO, BRANTFORD, MILTON. BELLEVILLE, MAKING THE LARGEST COMBINATION OF THE KIND IN CANADA

There is no Profit in it.

The Toronto World, (Conservative) of Thursday, 25th February, says:

"The yearly exertions put forth by the Opposition in the Local House in criticising the budget are scarcely so successful or useful as to excite the sympathy of even their friends. The fatal weakness of all their arraignments of the administration is that they do not point out how they propose to either raise revenue by a different method from that now pursued or to lessen the expenditure so much. If the revenue from the Crown Lands is required to meet the unavoidable and legitimate cost of the public services it does not matter by what accountant's lingo you term it, it has got be used all the same. The Opposition have only one point of attack. They must show that the yearly expenditure is greater than it should be. Indeed, they must show that it could be reduced to such a figure that it would not be necessary to touch the revenues from the Crown lands or the other sources which they consider objectionable. The province builds handsome provincial buildings, comes to the assistance of the University in its hour of need, and does a score of other things that are expected of it. It cannot play Father Beautiful on wind.

After the Grip

And after typhoid fever, diptheria, pneumonia, or other prostrating disease, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed to restore the strength and vigor so much desired, and to expel all poison from the blood. It has had wonderful success in many such cases.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

Burdock Blood Bitters is a household remedy for dyspepsia, it expels rheumatism and neuralgia from the system, acts as an antibilious agent on the stomach, liver and bowels, antagonizes blood poison, builds up and revitalizes the bloody functions and restores and purifies the entire system. dw

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use. dw

The Sole Survivor.

LINES RESPECTFULLY ADDRESSED TO THE MEMBERS OF LEITHOLM BIBLE CLASS.

"The members of the Leitholm Bible class have placed on the grave of Janet M'Leish in Leitholm Cemetery a very pretty wreath enclosed in a neat glass case, In the centre is a plate bearing the following inscription: "In loving remembrance of Janet M'Leish from her fellow members in Leitholm Bible Class." This was a young woman who was suddenly cut off a short time ago. She was in the Bible class on Sabbath and buried the same week."—From the Kelso Mail.

Leitholm was the place of my birth; and of four men that made the new road passing that cemetery I am the only survivor.—W. T.

As too and fro sad faced pedestrians pass,
Among the mounds marks of death's direful wave;
Sudden they stop to view a case of glass,
Glittering like sunbeams on a new made grave.
What does it mean, whose hands have placed it there,
What loving hearts the dead thus decorate,
And whence that wreath in shape and beauty fair?
For full details read that memorial plate.

It is a tribute placed with special care,
By fellow members in the Bible class;
Young friends remember Janet is not here,
A lifeless form lies underneath that glass.
Upon the sabbath she stood in your rank,
God's ways seems hard, his will and purpose love;
The following Sabbath in your class a blank,
To add one more into his class above.

In girlhood bloom and health she stood with you,
With silvery voice decisive answers gave;
Death changed her cheeks from rose to lilies' hue,
In that same week she filled a youthful grave.
Youth points to life but gives no guarantee,
Whether death be distant or is very near;
Not she nor you suspected that would be,
The last blessed Sabbath she would join you here.

Flowers bloom together in the summer's sun,
Similar in growth and beauty in our eyes,
Sudden deaths chilling icy breath smites one,
Its flowers, its foliage withers, droops and dies.
Such was your Janet's unexpected fate,
Hope, health and life seemed all to her secure;
She knew not death, for God's command did wait
To lay her low by death so premature.

Her face is absent from your class to-day,
That voice is hushed you frequently did hear;
God deemed it proper, her to take away
To train her soul in a much purer sphere.
In form of dust he fashioned her at birth,
To her an anxious grace-trimmed soul was given,
To shed its lustre a short space on earth,
Waiting God's time to be transferred to heaven.

Her life though brief endearing bonds entwined
By her kind words and intercourse with you,
Her friendship left an impress on your mind,
Death only broke, but powerless to subdue.
Your love-trimmed tribute clearly verifies,
Such a dear-loved companion she had been,
While your heart's offering on her ashes lies,
Will keep her name and honoured memory green.

When summer comes, bright flowers all blooming gay,
When pleasure prompts an evening walk for you,
No doubt young friends you often wend your way,
The grand yet lonely cemetery to view.

With slow, sad steps you walk among the dead,
Viewing each flower placed on the young or brave,
Methinks I see you stand with drooping head,
With grief-tears falling upon Janet's grave

Young friends weep not, nor worship at that mound,
A soulless form, a house of clay there lies,
But hope and trust her youthful soul has found,
A Bible class and home beyond the skies.
Her early death like solemn warnings speaks,
For age or youth death no respect doth pay,
You are not safe though youth blooms on your cheeks,
Like her you early may be called away.

Brief was her stay, life's path she shortly trod,
In life till death her walk was close to God
We earnest hope when her soul took its flight
His arm would shield, His grace afford her light.

It is quite probable that you may need the services of a physician some day; but you can postpone the time indefinitely by keeping your blood pure and your system invigorated through the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Prevention is better than cure.

For Young or Old.

Gentlemen,—One of my little girls (aged 4 years) had been troubled with costiveness in the worst form since infancy. We tried different remedies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she would be worse than before using. She lost her appetite and was growing weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B.B.B. with grand results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the Burdock Pills, which we did. She did not take the contents of one bottle before is relieved her, and not only relieved her but permanently cured her, for she has not been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.

By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country In big bottles, 50c, and $1, at the Peterborough Drug Store. dw

Remain or Divide, Which?

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I see by posters that a meeting of the ratepayers of school section No. 2, North Monaghan, is called for at the hour of 2 o'clock, on Thursday, 3rd of March, for the purpose of taking into consideration the advisability of changing the school house site, or dividing the section and having two schools. Now, Mr. Editor, admitting that the school is not "centrally situated" at present, I would ask the two trustees who are the movers in the matter if it would not be advisable for the present to let the school remain where it is, in face of the fact that the town of Peterborough is likely to extend westward in a few years, and which would then necessitate a change from the present site. As to the removal of the school, would it mend matters by erecting on the north end of lot 12 in the 10th concession a school (in close proximity to the C. P. Railway) and to have ratepayers of the north end of the section between three and four miles to send their children; and should removal be decided upon those ratepayers on the 13th concession would be unable to send their children such a distance. As to having two schools in the section, are the ratepayers willing to go to the expense of erecting another school, (which would likely be at the expense of those separating from the present school) which I do not think will meet with the approval of the majority in the south and southwest part of the section. As the school has been the bone of contention for the past few years to those south, would those of the north be in the same position by removal or not? They would, as all know. At the time the school was built, it was then "centrally situated," for the south end of the school section was then almost without a ratepayer, being in woods. Thanking you, Mr. Editor,

I remain,
ONE INTERESTED.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brookway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an

in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Obituary.

The Late James Best.

The EXAMINER records with great regret the death of Mr. James Best, which took place suddenly at his residence, 501 Water street, on Sunday morning. Mr. Best has been in ill health for about six weeks. For the past fortnight he had been confined to his room suffering from something like la grippe, with which heart affection became complicated. On the 19th he had a severe attack of spasm of the heart, which was repeated on Monday last, from the effects of which his physician had considerable difficulty in restoring him. Last week he seemed to be better and on Sunday morning was thought so much better that his sister-in-law who had been with him, ventured to go to church. Mrs. Best arranged Mr. Best's bed for the day and made him as comfortable as possible. Mr. Best turned over on his side as if to go to sleep and suddenly Mrs. Best noticed his livid face and peculiar breathing. She at once applied restoratives, and a messenger was sent for the doctor but before he arrived, death had done it work. The deceased gentleman who was of English descent, was born in Emily Township on the homestead farm, where his only brother William still resides. In his younger days he was in the employ of Messrs. Nicholls and Hall entering it at 18 years of age and leaving in 1856 to set up business on his own account in the building now occupied by Mr. W. H. Wrighton. From this he removed to a shop near where Gough Bros now are, and from here he removed to the site of his present business. He was married to Miss Crawford, of Saratoga, N.Y., and of the four children born to this marriage, one son, James is now living. Mr. Best was one of our eldest business citizens; he was quiet and retiring in disposition, and won the highest respect of the community. He was for many years a regular worshipper at St. John's church. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 501 Water street, at three o'clock to morrow.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

The praise, prayer and promise meeting conducted by Mr. Albert Hamilton was both helpful and profitable and many testified of blessing received. The singing was bright and lively being led by orchestra. Young men are missing a treat by not attending those services which are so helpful to all.

Mr. Frank Brisco led the Bible Study and Consecration service Sabbath morning with much blessing to all present.

The Personal Purity meeting Sabbath afternoon was addressed by the general secretary on "Companionships," which we trust will bear fruit in the lives of young men. The singing was a marked feature being led grandly by the orchestra.

Last evening the hall was well filled at the Gospel and Song service. Mr. Frank Mason gave a practical and impressive address on "Growth," which we hope will result in many growing in grace and truth in Christ Jesus.

Finance Committee will meet on Tuesday evening at 7.15

Board of Directors will hold their monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

Bible study for young men Thursday evening at 8 p.m.

Personal.

Mr. A. V. R. Young, U. S. Consul, spent Saturday in Belleville.

Dr. Lavelle, warden of Kingston Penitentiary, is in town on business, registered at the Oriental Hotel. Dr. Lavelle is renewing old associations. For several years he practised his profession in Peterborough, leaving here for Kingston in 1858.

Mr. L. Seward, organist of the George street Methodist church, left this morning via C.P.R. for New York, where he embarks for Jacksonville, Florida, from which he will proceed to Ocala in the same state where he proposes to spend a couple of months for the benefit of his health. During his absence, Mr. J. Crane very kindly takes the organ, and gives his services gratuitously, the church trustees very generously also allowing Mr. Seward's salary to continue as usual.

Chappel Arrested at Cobourg.

County Constable Cochrane arrested Ed. Chappel on Saturday afternoon in Cobourg. The prisoner was brought to the town on Saturday night and was remanded until this morning. He was brought up before County Magistrate Geo. Edmison at the Court House this forenoon and pleaded not guilty to the indictment laid against him for stealing a watch chain at Lakefield. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, represented the Crown. The prisoner was remanded until Wednesday in order that witnesses might be summoned, when he will be brought up for trial. The police have recovered the missing watch and chain which are of average value.

The Great Cause of Charity.

Eloquent and Powerful Sermon Preached in St. Peter's Cathedral Last Evening by His Lordship R. A. O'Connor, D.D., Bishop of Peterborough.

There was a large congregation present at Vespers in St. Peter's Cathedral to hear His Lordship R. A. O'Connor, D D., Bishop of Peterborough, deliver a special and appropriate sermon on charity in connection with the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the church. Rev. Father Dabe officiated at Vespers. Bishop O'Connor chose his text from Ecclesiasticus, 29th chapter, 15th, 16th and 17th verses:—

"Shut up alms in the heart of the poor, and it shall obtain help for thee against all evil.

"Better than the shield of the mighty, and better than the spear:

"It shall fight for thee against thy enemy."

He said among all the duties which we find in reading the sacred word of God there is none that is more binding or more forcibly inculcated than compassion towards the poor and suffering. Even in the old law in the time of Moses we read there of God's protection of the poor and of his making special laws and regulations for meeting the wants and sufferings of the needy. We find many writers of the books in the Old Testament in writing the history of the patriarchs showing what great compassion they had for the misery and sufferings of their poor brethren. In the days of temptation the alms treasured up in the hearts of the poor will fight for us against the enemy of our salvation. When Christ came upon the earth to make known his mission he laid down as one of the fundamental doctrines necessary to salvation, that of charity toward our brethren, and since Christ laid down that doctrine we find in every age the rich Christians coming forth relieving the poor in order that they may draw down the prayers of the poor and those relieved from misery and suffering in heaven. Christ tells us that we shall have the poor amongst us always, as long as the world will last. The inequality of wealth in the state of society was brought into the world through the sin of our first parents in rebelling against God. It will be with us to the end amongst the many other sufferings man is subject to. But the love, mercy and compassion that Almighty God gives the rich even to make provision for these poor suffering children of His, will forever be extended to His children. God made provision for this unequal state of society, which He tells us will be with us to the end. God entrusted some with riches more than others in order that they might be His stewards and return a good account of their stewardship. Let us go back to the early ages in the time when the law was given to Moses when he made known his prophecies until the second coming of God. Christ in the old law commanded the Jews to give a tithe of their possession, their fruits, crops and rentage to their poor, needy and suffering brethren. We have only to take up the book of Deuteronomy, where the law, laid down by Moses, given by God Himself, commanded the Jews to make special privilege for the needy brethren. When harvesting if they left a sheaf in the field they were not to go back after it, but leave it for the fatherless and the widow. In gathering their fruits a certain quantity was also left. In the Old Testament we find a command was given, "Thou shalt not harden they heart nor close thy hand, but shall give to the poor." Further on it says, "I command you to open your heart to the needy and poor brethren that liveth in the land" What more sacred command could be given than this by Almighty God. We find all the Jews faithfully fulfilled this command by the great exercise of charity they practised among their needy brethren. Other nations failing to observe this, the result was that in the course of centuries the poor and needy were neglected and made the slaves of the rich and the powerful. What was the state of the world when the Lord came upon earth? The poor man was kept in misery and slavery. They were regarded as unworthy to be anything except slaves of their masters. There was hard-heartedness among the people. Christ made the doctrine of charity towards our brethren necessary if we wished to obtain salvation. When Christ reduced the ten commandments to two they were, first, "Thou shalt love the Lord with all thy whole heart and soul," and second, "Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself." He knew that if they loved their neighbor as themselves and second only to the love of God they would look upon the poor as members of their own body. When Christ came to the earth he worked and lived among the poor and in poverty. It was the poor that he came to redeem. He gave the Christian church the command to go forth and preach the gospel to the poor proving her divinity. Since the establishment of the Church, we find her going forth to establish this doctrine. The church has been true to her mission and her daughters have renounced riches and honours to come to the assistance of the poor, needy and sick, giving them her special blessings. To show how absolutely necessary this injunction is we have only to take the Gospel of St. Matthew and see what will take place on the day of judgment. He shall separate the good from the bad, putting the evil on the left and the good on the right. He shall say to the good, "Come ye blessed, enter into the kingdom of heaven prepared for you, because I was hungry and ye gave me to eat, I was thirsty and ye gave me drink, I was naked and ye clothed me, I was imprisoned and ye visited me." To those on the left, who have failed to perform his commandment, he will say: "Get ye out into everlasting darkness, because Christ will say, "when ye did not do this for the least of them, ye did not do it unto me." Can you then any longer say that it is optional to you whether you shall give alms to the poor or not? Can we close our hearts and shut our hands to the suffering or not? The poor are the personal friends of Jesus Christ, He has shown them great wisdom and compassion, making it an article of salvation that we should give to the poor, feed, clothe and care for them. "He that giveth to the poor, lendeth to the Lord." Let none boast of his Christianity if he practice not this great gift to the poor. There is an equality kept up by the rich, giving of their super-abundance to clothe the poor, thus making them content with their lot when they are cared for. Christ has said "He that loveth his neighbor has fulfilled the law." In fulfilling this great cause of charity, you are saving your own souls, drawing down upon you the blessings of heaven and the prayers of those you have assisted. You are not to spend all your wealth upon the varieties and frivolities of the world more than providing for yourself with decent competency. If you do you are going contrary to divine command, and robbing your own souls. If in all the exercises of the church you keep this motto before you, Christ will you to enter into the joys of the Lord. When God calls you to general judgment may you be on the right hand of Jesus Christ.

His Lordship said that the object of the St. Vincent de Paul society in connection with the church was to collect alms and distribute them to the worthy poor of the parish. He said a great many of the congregwere members but he should like to see all members of the church join the society. The society meets every Sunday after mass and reports were made of what poor have been visited and what donations made during the past week. No member knows what the other gives and contributions to the needy in nearly all cases were made in provisions and clothing rather than in money. The Bishop said the society had been much blessed by the Popes since the establishment of the organization by St. Vincent de Paul himself. It was chiefly for the laity to aid the poor and needy, sick and suffering.

Report of St. Vincent de Paul Society for the past year was then read, which is as follows:

RECEIPTS.

Total weekly collections	$ 65 15
Private donations	10 00
Collections from charity sermon	80 15

His Lordship explained that this balance and considerably more, is anticipation of a liberal collection, had been expended owing to so much sickness and he hoped the contributions would be as liberal as the congregation could afford. The collection was then taken up and amounted to $117 00.

DIED.

GOUGH—At 39 St. Mary street, on Thursday, February 25th, 1892, Elizabeth Josephine, fourth daughter of E. Dudley and Mary Regina Gough, Toronto, aged 4 years.

Purity of the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

Police Court.

The Brealy-Grange Case Brought up—The Magistrate Refuses to Bind J. J. Brealy Over to Keep the Peace with Wm. Swinton.

MONDAY, Feb. 30th.

The Brealy-Grange case after a weeks enlargement, made in order to allow the defendant to give bonds as ordered by the magistrate two weeks ago in the first charge, was brought up again at the police court this morning.

The second charge laid against Brealy by Wm. Swinton, to have him bound over to keep the peace, was then proceeded with. The charge is like unto the first laid by Andrew Young and made at the same time, its object being the same—to have Mr. Brealy bound over to keep the peace. E B. Edwards appeared for Mr. Swinton, and E. B. Stone for defendant.

John James BENNETT was the first witness sworn. He and I know the defendant, Brealy. Had conversation with respect to Mr. Swinton. We were speaking of the members of Ethan Grange. I was formerly a member, but am not a member now. I think Mr. Swinton is a member. Brealy said to me that he owned the grange building and he was going to hold it by force. He could get no satisfaction, he said, from judges, courts or lawyers as they were all against him. He said that he was going to take possession of it and keep it. That he was going to take the law into his own hands. He stated that he would go out there and if anyone was in possession of the building before he got there he would order them out, and if they did not go out, then he would shoot them and then come to town and give himself up. I told him if he shot any of the grangers that he would be sorry for it. I advised him not to go near any of them or I would hang him to the nearest tree that he came to.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stone—I never lived near Mr. Brealey; tried to persuade him to do nothing desperate. He did not threaten to hurt anybody if not found in the Grange Hall. I was afraid he would do some harm.

WM. SWINTON sworn and said, I am a member of Ecthan Grange in North Monaghan, I live in the township of Smith across the line I laid complaint against the defendant because I don't think that he is a safe man to be at large, I think my own life is especially in danger. He has more prejudice against me than any other member of the grange. I have heard of his making threats against several other members besides myself. I have been told that if he ever got well again he would do me grievous harm. I would just as leave not meet him with a gun. I was present on the previous occasion, and was called upon to open the hall for the Templars. I was a trustee. It was on January 7th. I asked admittance but he would not let me in. I looked through the key hole and saw him carrying a rifle. It was about ten o'clock at night. I was sent to open the doors by the Templars, being a trustee. When I attempted to open the door, he levelled the gun at me and told me he would shoot if I came any further. I stepped to one side on the steps clear of the jam of the door when he levelled his gun and fired The shot went through the door two feet from where I stood. There was a large crowd of people outside, including Templars and Grangers. The Templars have had use of the hall close on to two years. I do not make this complaint from any malice or ill-will against Brealey. He and I up to the present occasion were always good friends.

In cross-examination by Mr. Stone the witness said—The Grange held its last meeting two weeks ago to-night. It has met always on the first and third Monday in every month. I am not prepared to say whether the lodge met in 1886, 1887 or up to 1890. It lay dormant for two or three years. Witness admitted the night that the Templars told him to go and open the hall that Brealy was in in the hall, and would not let anybody in, and that he had fired one shot. It was my duty to go and open the hall because I was trustee. I was not afraid of his coming to my house that night to do me bodily harm. I did not threaten to shoot Brealy. By advice of his counsel witness refused to answer the question whether he took a revolver with him or had one in his possession unless a criminal charge was pressed against him. I did not threaten to shoot Brealy. I did not point or snap a revolver at him. I burst the door open and put my head inside the room. I was standing on steps, two steps from the ground when shot was fired. I just backed out of the way in time. The ball could not have hit any body standing on the ground. I will not answer the question why I did not lay a complaint against Brealy before. I am the man who thrashed Brealy on the 18th of January. I asked Mr. Andrew Young and Mr. Walton to go with me. Mr. Dunlop and Mr. George Young, the other two trustees were engaged. It was on the 16th that I told Mr. Young to bring along his black snake whip. We got there at nine o'clock. I went to protect the hall against Brealy or any other man that took possession of it. When Brealy came about eleven o'clock I went out, and with the help of the others, took rifle from him. By advice of counsel, witness refused to answer question put to him whether he or any of the party had a gun in their possession or not. We got Brealy's coat off to see whether he had a revolver in his pockets or not. He was thrown on the ground. I struck him five or six times with the whip while in this position. I asked him if he had enough. He answered "No, pelt away." I struck him three or four times across the back after he got up. I used up the lash at the first three or four strokes, and after that whalted him with the stock. I now want to bind him over to keep the peace. It is not since I whipped him that I wanted to lay information. I wont give the names of any parties Brealy told that if he got at me he intended to shoot me. I think for the past two years regular meetings of the Ethan grangers have been held, but before that there were no regular meetings that I am prepared to speak of. I do not know Mr. Minore. I have heard that he has heard that threats were made from Brealy. I believe they were made.

W. J. MINORE sworn said: I saw Mr. Brealy in a store in Peterborough on Saturday, January 16th. I asked him in a jocular manner if he was the person on the shooting expedition. He replied that he was. I asked him if he intended shooting his neighbors out there. I don't remember whether he made any reply or not. I suggested to him that he load his gun with peas to which he made answer that nothing but cold lead would do for them out there. My warnings were in a jocular manner, not serious. I consider Mr. Brealy was serious in what he said. If he had said the same to me I would not regard it as a joke. I don't think that by his statements there, he really meant to shoot.

Mr. SWINTON on being recalled said that this occurrence which was on the 18th of January, was the same as when Mr. Brealey was bound over to keep the peace with Mr. Young.

Mr. E. B. EDWARDS on behalf of the plaintiff then addressed the Court. The Court said that the three men on the 18th went there with premeditation to attack Mr. Brealy, and by their action laid themselves open to the law. He said that the defendant from the assault committed was lying in bed in a serious condition. He had bound Brealy over to keep the peace with Young, which at the time of the binding included all others engaged in the attack, He is now lying bound over on these conditions, and no fear can be had of any bodily harm. There has been no evidence shown since the 23rd of January, when complaint was made asking Brealy to be be bound over, that there can be fear of any bodily harm. I decline to bind Brealy over to keep the peace with Swinton, as it is already done sufficiently.

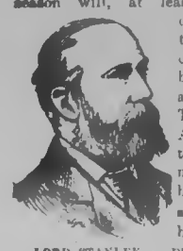
THE VICE-REGAL COURT.

THE SOCIAL SEASON AT OTTAWA NOW TO BEGIN.

Portraits of the Leaders—A Card to Rideau Hall is the Hall Mark of Social Standing—How to Secure the Coveted Invitation.

ORD AND LADY STANLEY, the representatives of Her Most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria in Canada, are now busy in making preparation for the opening of the social season in the Dominion, which is an annual duty upon the reassembling of Parliament. Although supported by the "first set," which begins to return to Ottawa with this political event, the performance of their duties in this regard is by no means as light as some suppose. As yet the society at the Dominion capital is somewhat "mixed," as might be expected in this country which has been described by the haut ton as "rough, raw, and democratic." This year, however, His Excellency and consort have the satisfaction of knowing that the society routs of this season will, at least upon one occasion, differ from the ordinary thing of civil servants, members of Parliament, and their attaches. The Canadian Press Association is to visit the home of Parliament, and its members and their wives are to be "received" by the vice-regal representatives. As the social aspiration is eminently laudable, this hall mark of standing upon citizens of this Dominion can be conferred no more worthily, for, with few exceptions, the journalists of both parties are thoroughly loyal to the Crown, and time and again, as occasion offers, do yeoman service in its behalf.



LORD STANLEY.

Everyone who lives at the capital, or who visits it, is naturally ambitious to visit Rideau Hall. Anybody who does not receive a card for Rideau Hall is not considered in society and is looked down upon by those who are invited. When the season has begun people come there from distant extremes of the country, some from British Columbia and others from Halifax. Parents bring their daughters, if they are attractive and pretty, and many of these girls go home engaged to some "good catch." The daughters of the "nouveaux riches" are on the alert for men of title or for "younger sons" who can give them a social position in England, and they obtain cards for the state ball, and the "at homes" of Her Excellency, through the influence of Cabinet Ministers, Senators and members of Parliament.

LADY STANLEY.

HOW TO GET A CARD.

The first step to take in visiting Ottawa, if you wish to be invited to Rideau Hall, is to go and leave cards for the Governor-General and his wife, and it will be good policy also to leave one for each of the aide-de-camp. Your name is taken up, inquiries are made about you, and if you are deemed worthy of the honor a large card with a coronet on the top is sent to you. The hospitalities of Rideau Hall are not numerous, consisting of a few dinner parties given to Cabinet Ministers, Senators, and members of Parliament.

LADY MACDONALD.

These dinners are formal affairs, and the guests sit down about 8, but the Governor's wife has her 5 o'clock tea, to which come those who are not of the political set. She has also quiet little dinner parties, charades, and sometimes dancing in the evening, but the public never know anything about them. Often, too, the vice-regal folk some calm night, when the moon is full, dress themselves in their blanket suits, bind on their snowshoes, and start out across the fields and through the woods, not returning till near midnight. The other Rideau hospitalities consist of a card for the "at homes" and one for the state ball. The former card announces that Her Excellency will be at home two evenings in the week from 9 to 12 o'clock, and the word "tobogganing" is printed on the lower right hand corner.

THE STATE BALL.

The state ball, however, is the great social event of the year, and in Lord Dufferin's time about 700 persons were invited to it, but this number was less than half of those who thought they ought to be asked. Lord Lorne and the Princess Louise therefore sought to solve the difficulty by having two balls and asking to one those who were not present at the other, and in this way much heart-burning was overcome. friend, who was a moccasin maker, and danced the thing through. Among some of the most conspicuous figures at the state ball, beside the host in the present regime, are the Chief Justice of Canada, Sir William Ritchie and Lady Ritchie, Sir Adolphe Caron, Postmaster-General, and Lady Caron; Sir Jno. Thompson, leader of Conservatives in the House of Commons; Major General Herbert, Commander-in-Chief of the Canadian Militia and Defence, with his stately looking wife, the Hon. Mrs. Herbert; the military secretary who lives at Rideau Hall, Major Charles Colville, son and heir of Lord Colville, of Culross; Viscount Kilcoursie, of the staff, Capt. Edward Stanley, of the Grenadier Guards, besides the ministers and their wives.

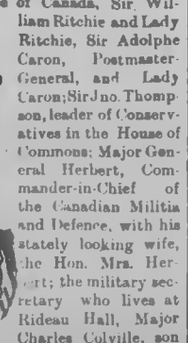
RIDEAU HALL AND ITS OCCUPANTS.

And now a word or two about the official residence of the Viceroy. Rideau Hall is an old fashioned but picturesque mansion built of gray-blue limestone. A short distance away the Rideau River goes rushing and roaring by, but early in December its thunders are hushed, for it is covered with a coat of ice thick enough to bear an army. The hall is set in the heart of a grove of firs, spruce and pine, that with their deep green show defiance in winter to the snow that covers all the land as if with a shroud. In the early summer, however, Lord and Lady Stanley spend a month or two in tents on the Grand Cascapedia, in Quebec, a picturesque spot rimmed around with cool evergreen hills. Here there is a Government preserve and, perhaps, the best salmon fishing in the world. After the fishing season is over the vice royalties return for the remainder of the summer to Quebec, residing in the citadel in Upper Town, within a stone's throw of where fell the two heroes, idolized in Canadian story, Wolfe and Montcalm, the one the leader of the French, the other the English hero.



LADY CARON.

THEIR EXCELLENCIES.

The present Governor-General, Lord Stanley of Preston, was appointed on the departure of Lord Lansdowne, who is now Viceroy of India. Lady Stanley, a very kindly and motherly-looking woman, bids fair to become as popular among the Ottawa folk as Lady Dufferin was. She has already established the "Lady Stanley Institute of Trained Nurses," which has done noble service in providing skilled nurses in the capital, a city where there is nearly always small-pox. She likes dark dresses, but in Winter she is muffled from head to foot in seal or other fur. There is no other such patron of concerts, bazaars, and all kinds of charitable work as she, and she drives to every "profession" held at either convents, where she is lavish in her liberality. As for Lord Stanley, he is somewhat of an athlete, a noted pedestrian, and of sturdy build. He has dark hair and beard, a genial face, and is nearly always seen with a cigarette between his lips.

The first society event at Ottawa, after the formal opening of Parliament, will be the Governor-General's "At Home" to the members of the Canadian Press Association, and being so auspiciously begun the season promises to be a most brilliant one. The Press "At Home" will be on Thursday, March 3.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,

H. F. ATWELL.

"German Syrup"

J. C. Davis, Rector of St. James' Episcopal Church, Eufaula, Ala.: "My son has been badly afflicted with a fearful and threatening cough for several months, and after trying several prescriptions from physicians which failed to relieve him, he has been perfectly restored by the use of two bottles of Boschee's German Syrup. I can recommend it without hesitation." Chronic severe, deep-seated coughs like this are as severe tests as a remedy can be subjected to. DEATH OF A NAVAL HERO

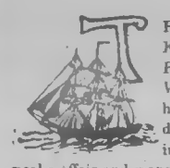
THE "FATHER OF THE ROYAL NAVY" PASSES AWAY ON FEB. 14.

A Lifetime on the Seas—The Hero of the Shannon-Chesapeake Affair—Sketch of the Life and Honors of Sir Provo Wallis.



THE death on Sunday, Feb. 14, 1892, of Sir Provo William Parry Wallis, G. C. B., the historic Canadian, who distinguished himself in the Shannon-Chesapeake affair and many other naval battles, cuts perhaps the sole remaining link between the obsolete past and the scientific present. Born at Halifax, Nova Scotia, on April 12, 1791, and beginning his naval career in 1804, his life was a most eventful one in a most memorable period of British history. From his earliest years he was a son of the sea, his father having been chief clerk in the office of the commissioner of the navy yard at Halifax. In his long and honorable service he saw many changes in the conditions of naval warfare, such as the complete revolution in the construction of iron clads; he beheld these floating fortresses fitted with engines of destruction which could never have even been dreamed of in the days when he was a midshipman, and he witnessed the abolition of purchase and patronage and the introduction of the system of promotion by merit into the force. The London Times, in an article published upon the occasion of the celebration of his one hundredth birthday on April 12 of last year, said:

"When he entered the service, and for many years afterwards, there was no steam navy. The first steam vessels, and they were only tugs, did not appear in Portsmouth harbor until nearly the twenties, and Sir Provo never served in a steam vessel of any kind. That he never served in an ironclad or even an iron ship, never was shipmate with the breech-loading gunner, indeed, with a heavy gun of any sort as heavy guns now go; never had proving acquaintance with torpedoes and electric light—these are assertions that can be truthfully made concerning no naval officer, save Sir Provo Wallis, on the active list of any service. He is old enough to have served under Lord Bridport, Lord Hood, Sir Richard Hughes, Lord Hotham, Lord St. Vincent, Lord Duncan Cornwallis, Lord Keith, Lord Nelson, Lord Collingwood or Sir Robert Calder. He is modern enough to know Lord Charles Beresford, Mr. Whitehead, Mr. Beeman, Lord Armstrong and Zalinski. The officer who was at the head of the admirals' list when Sir Provo became a midshipman was Admiral of the Fleet Sir Peter Parker, Bart, who was born in 1721, and who entered the navy about 1735.

"He may well have known and served under Admiral of the Fleet Sir John Norris, who lived until 1749, and who had been promoted captain for his gallant behavior at the battle of Beechy Head on June 30, 1690. Three service of only three officers, Wallis, Parker and Norris, are long enough to call us directly back to the revolution of 1688. Surely at no period of our history has any officer gained a better right than Sir Provo William Parry Wallis to be called the father of the royal navy."

Sir Provo was appointed midshipman on the Cleopatra in 1804, under Capt. Sir Robert Laurie. On the 17th February, 1805, he experienced his first taste of action, the Cleopatra having entered into an engagement with the French frigate Ville de Milan. The Cleopatra was disabled by her antagonist, and in great danger of being sunk. After a desperate encounter the English were overpowered and the British colors hauled down. The Cleopatra was, however, rescued and the Ville de Milan became the prize of the Leander, a 50-gun ship of the British fleet, without firing a shot. The French ship was added to the British navy under the name of the Milan. The next appointment of Midshipman Wallis was with the Cambrian, and while cruising in her off Antigua the tidings reached him of the battle of Trafalgar. He afterwards served in the Triumph, and in 1808, at the age of seventeen, he was promoted lieutenant of the Curieux—a ship which ran ashore during the blockade of Gaudeloupe and was burned by the orders of her captain. Mr. Wallis then received a lieutenancy in the Gloire, a much larger vessel, and took part in the destruction of the battery of Ane la Bergue and the French frigates, as well as in the capture of Gaudeloupe shortly afterwards. For his services on that occasion he was rewarded with a medal. In 1812 we find him appointed to the Shannon under Captain Broke, and he was with her throughout her famous cruise off the American coast. England had been humiliated by disaster after disaster at sea at the hand of the Americans, and it seemed as though her sovereignty of the sea was to be disputed. The British sailors were burning to wipe out the indignities which had been sustained, and the Shannon was one of the vessels that blockaded one of the American ports and was sailing up and down the coast in search of battle. It came in the form of the encounter with the renowned Chesapeake. The muscular and daring Capt. Lawrence of the Chesapeake had drawn up his men, and, appealing at once to their patriotism and cupidity, promised them a large amount of prize money. He closed his address with the words, "Peacock her, my lads, peacock her!" The Peacock was the name of the vessel that had fallen a victim to American prowess. The Shannon ran short of provisions, and such as they had were stale from long cruising, and Capt. Broke felt the responsibility of his position, and realised the necessity of saying a few plain words to his men. "The time, he said, had now come for which they had been waiting to avenge the repeated disasters and insults the nation had suffered, and the people at home expected news from over the sea that Britain's sons were Britons still. He told them of the taunts of their enemies, that England would have to haul down her haughty flag. "Don't try to dismast her. Fire into her quarters, main deck into main deck, quarter deck into quarter deck. Kill the men and the ship is yours" Under equal sail, upon this fateful 1st June, 1813, the ships drew near each other, the officers and men being all ready at their stations. The Shannon's main deck was commanded by Lieuts. Wallis and Faulkner, and as soon as the guns bore upon the Chesapeake's second bow port she delivered her broadside with telling effect. The gallant Capt. Lawrence fell mortally wounded, many men were slain, and the air was filled with flying splinters and a cloud of dust. After another fearful broadside Capt. Broke and his men boarded the Chesapeake, and a desperate conflict raged upon her decks. The captain was severely wounded, the first lieutenant was killed, and Lieut. Wallis was in command. For thirteen minutes the terrible onslaught lasted, and victory was complete; but 252 men had been placed hors de combat. Lieut. Wallis put a crew on board the Chesapeake and bore her away for Halifax, which he reached within a week. When the Shannon reached England her officers and crew were thanked by the Prince Regent and entertained by the City of London. Medals were struck out and distributed, and Capt. Broke was made a baronet. Lieut. Wallis, for his share in the transaction, received a "letter of approbation" from the Admiralty and a sword from his captain. Commander Wallis was appointed to the Snipe, and for a while went out of service on half pay. He was in Paris when Napoleon escaped from Elba and startled Europe by appearing at the head of the French army. He succeeded in effecting his escape from the French capital through [illegible] of a dignitary of the Catholic Church. He married Archdeacon Barnstaple. [illegible] year he was the special envoy when Tangier and Mogador were attacked by the French under the Prince de Joinville, and for the skilfulness and success of his services on this mission he received the thanks of both the British and French Government. In 1854 he was senior officer on the Syrian coast during the Syrian war. He was some years afterwards made an aide-de-camp to her Majesty, preferring that honor to the good service pension offered him. In 1851 he obtained full flag rank; in 1857 he was appointed commander-in-chief on the south-east coast of America. He was recalled the following year in consequence of his promotion to vice-admiral. Since 1858 he has not been to sea, but in recognition of his long and active services he was placed upon the active list for life. The rule is that admirals must retire from active service at the age of 70, but an exception was made in favor of Admiral Wallis, whose honor is unique. In May, 1880, he was made K.C.B., and in 1875 admiral of the fleet. He enjoyed but a few years married happiness before his wife died, and he married again in 1849, his second wife being a daughter of the late General Sir Robert Wilson, M.P.

THE POLITICAL PABULUM

BYE-ELECTION IN TWO MOUNTAINS SATURDAY.

Mr. Laurier Considerably Improved in Health—The Governor-General's Reception in the Senate Chamber—The Royal Commission Developments.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—Hon. J. A. Chapleau is expected to return from Florida on March 14.

The Governor-General's reception in the Senate Chamber last night was attended by over 400 people. The scene was quite brilliant. Lady Stanley stood at His Excellency's left hand while about him stood seven or eight Privy Councillors in their official dress. The band of the Governor-General's Foot Guards supplied music. Col. Gzowski, A.D.C. to Her Majesty, stood at Lord Stanley's right. It was a matter of general remark that the reception was the most largely attended that has been held in many years.

Mr. Laurier is reported to be better to-day, but there is still some doubt as to whether he will be in his place to-morrow. It is likely, however, in any event, the consideration of the Speech from the Throne will go on.

Hon. David Mills has arrived in the city. He is the only Liberal leader with the exception of Laurier and William Patterson who has turned up. Mr. Davies of Prince Edward is detained at his home through illness.

It is understood that Hon. Mr. Landry takes the late Mr. Baillarge's place as senator for the Stadacona division. Hon. John Dobson fills the position formerly held by the late Mr. Turner.

The Insurance Bill, which Mr. R. S. White, M.P., has given notice of, is of considerable importance to those in the business. The object of the bill is to abolish all rebates on premiums of insurers and to require agents to take out licenses from the Government before transacting any business. Penalties are also provided for any infringement of the conditions upon which these licenses are obtained. The measure has been submitted to the different life insurance companies in Canada and has their cordial support.

A change has been made by order-in-council in the regulations adopted under the Naturalization Act by which it is provided that in the case of the statutory alien who obtains a certificate of re-admission to British nationality within Canada, such certificate, with the oath of allegiance required to be taken by such statutory alien or a certified copy thereof, shall be deposited and registered in the office of the Secretary of State for Canada. It is understood that the Imperial authorities urged the adoption of this regulation.

ROYAL COMMISSION.

Mayor McShane Might Have Received Money from Contractors for Election Purposes—"Nothing Unusual in That."

MONTREAL, Feb. 29.—The Royal Commission resumed its labors in Montreal Saturday morning. The witnesses were called, and it was found that Mr. J. A. Mercier and P. Vallieres, who had been subpœnaed, were not present, and Mr. Belleau said that they proposed to ask for an order to compel their attendance.

Mr. E. A. Macdonald of the Intercolonial Railway was the first witness put in the box. Witness had personal knowledge of payments made by J. J. Macdonald to Pacaud to the sum of $18,500. Afterwards the two became intimate and did their business direct. However, he knew indirectly that other payments were made.

Jimmy Baxter Testifies.

Mr. James Baxter was next sworn. He did not pay $3000 either to Mr. McShane or Mr. Mercier in 1887 at the request of Mr. J. P. Whelan. At the time of the Ottawa county election, in the autumn of 1887, he received a message from J. A. Mercier, after banking hours, asking if he had $3000. He did not have it, but went to the Government office, where he met with either Hon. Mr. Mercier or J. A. Mercier, and he promised to try to get the money, which was wanted for the election. He succeeded in getting the money and was afterwards repaid by a draft on Quebec. He was given a voucher in the shape of a check, the signer of which was either Hon. Mr. Mercier or Hon. Mr. McShane.

Nothing Unusual in That.

Mayor McShane testified that at the time of the Ottawa election Mr. Whelan frequently offered money. He was not present when Mr. Baxter made the advance of $3000. He never made any requests for money to Mr. Whelan, but the latter frequently offered money. He was very generous and gave money to both parties. He published a letter in the papers saying that he had never received any money from Mr. Whelan and he did not receive any for himself. He had knowledge of the payment of $2000 or $2500 by Messrs. Ford and Whelan for the Laprairie election. He also understood that Mr. Whelan gave $500 to help to pay a dinner on St. Patrick's Day given by him. Mr. Whelan was always pressing money on everybody. He gave $100 towards the election of Mr. Poirier in Montreal. He might have received money from contractors for election purposes; there was nothing unusual about that. He himself had subscribed money to the Conservative fund in 1890. He might give the names. He did not receive money from Charlebois in 1887.

In answer to Mr. Macmaster, witness said that he never had any relation on money matters with Mr. J. A. Mercier. He never had anything to do with Mr. Pacaud. He had always kept clear of all irregular transactions, and he intended continuing on the same path for the rest of his life.

Mercier's Private Account.

Mr. Demartigny of the Jacques Cartier Bank next produced Mr. Mercier's account at his bank in February, 1891, which showed that in the week of Feb. 16 to 24 $40,000 were placed to his credit, among which were the $25,000 from the Langlais transaction. After these $25,000 had been transferred to Mr. Geofrion, Mr. Mercier had a balance in the bank of $10,700.

Mr. Pendergast of the Hochelaga Bank was again called and reiterated the statement that the product of Breton's letter of credit was paid to Ald. Joseph Brunet upon his signing the discount slip.

The Commission then adjourned to Monday, at 10 o'clock, in this city.

Two Mountains Election.

ST. SCHOLASTIQUE, Que., Feb. 29.—Girouard (Conservative) was elected at the bye-election for the House of Commons Saturday by 453 majority. The Conservative majority at the general election was 287.

The London Election.

LONDON, Feb 29. — Friday's election is still claimed by both parties by a small majority. The returning officer will declare the result on Tuesday. The Liberals had a procession Saturday and a large amount of fireworks were discharged along the route of march. The police were out again in full force, but their services were not found necessary.

Alien Samee White Man.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—The equalities of British law were well illustrated in the Exchequer Court yesterday. Seven suits for damages against the crown for expropriation of lands for the C.P.R. in British Columbia were entered for hearing, when Judge Burbidge goes west this summer. Among them was one taken by a Chinese squatter, who claims compensation for the loss of his land and sod dwelling. The other plaintiffs were all Canadians, yet they had no advantage over the Mongolian.

Manitoba's Average Wheat Yield.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 29.—The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Matthew Riley, the young C.P.R. machinist, has not yet been solved, and there is now very little hope that he is alive.

Edmonton's Curative Springs.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 29.—In Edmonton district wonderful mineral springs have been discovered which promise to rival those at Banff for curative powers. If half the cures reported to have been made by this wonderful spring have been really made it is a most valuable discovery.

Fire at Ottawa.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—About 1 o'clock yesterday a fire broke out in the Brown block in Sparks-street. The block was an old one, adjoining Devlin's new building, and was occupied by a cigar vendor named Daney, R. Uglow, stationer; McGiffin, gents' furnishings; Kenny Bros., tailors; E. A. Selwyn, insurance agent, and Allan Ingalls, patent solicitor. The building was fairly gutted, the loss being about $8000, covered by insurance. This is the fourth annual fire in the same block about the same time of the year.

The Hawkeye Burned Out.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Feb. 29.—The Burlington Hawkeye building was completely gutted by fire yesterday. Loss $12,000.

No Statue to Newman

LONDON, Feb. 29.—The Duke of Norfolk, the chief Roman Catholic nobleman of England, has written a letter to the committee having the memorial of Cardinal Newman in charge, saying that in his opinion it would not be respectful to the memory of the cardinal to proceed with the erection of the proposed statue at Oxford University in view of the violent opposition raised against it. The project will therefore be abandoned.

The Queen Views Victor's Coffin.

LONDON, Feb. 29.—The Queen and Princess Beatrice drove at noon to-day from Windsor Castle to the Albert Memorial Chapel, where the remains of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale are interred, and spent a quarter of an hour viewing the coffin in which the body rests.

FRANCE'S CABINET.

M. Loubet Gets Together a Ministry Which Includes Five Who Resigned.

PARIS, Feb. 29.—M. Loubet succeeded in forming a complete cabinet Saturday, M. Cavaignac accepting the Ministry of Marine and M. Ricard that of Justice. The new ministers were presented to President Carnot at the Elysee to-night. There is but little public confidence in the stability of the Cabinet, which is not considered truly representative of any combination of factions capable of commanding a majority in the chambers.

The Cabinet is as follows: M. Loubet, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior; M. DeFreycinet, Minister of War; M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Bourgeoise, Minister of Public Instruction and the Fine Arts; M. Rouvier, Minister of Finance; M. DeVelle, Minister of Agriculture; M. Roche, Minister of Commerce; M. Ricard, Minister of Justice and Public Works; M. Cavaignac, Minister of Marine.

MM. DeFreycinet, Ribot, Bourgeoise, Rouvier, DeVelle and Roche were members of the former Cabinet, in which they held the same portfolios which they will hold in the new ministry. The new Prime Minister is a staunch moderate Republican.

"PULL YOUR DAMNED ROPE."

Dick Cullen's Last Sentence Before Being Ushered Into Eternity.

MARSHFIELD, Mo., Feb. 29.—"Pull your damned rope." That was the sentenced with which Dick Cullen requested a party of lynchers to accomplish the deed for which they had taken him out of jail last night. He was at once strung up to the limb of a tree, and in a few minutes was dead.

Four years ago a babe a few days old was found at Cullen's stepfather's door. Young Cullen thought it was intended to make the child an heir by adoption. Last Monday night he tied a car link to the neck of the child and threw it into an unused well. His mother was arrested as an accomplice on account of her indifference and evasive answers

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS COMPLETED.

Speeches by Messrs. Northrup, Bain, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier and Sir John Thompson—Senator Boulton Expresses Himself Dissatisfied with the National Policy and Joins the Liberals.

OTTAWA, March. 1.—The chief piece of excitement for the quidnuncs yesterday was Senator Boulton's bolt. The worthy Senator, who is chiefly known to fame as the chief of the gallant body of horse who served in the last rebellion as Boulton's scouts, was appointed a Senator in 1890. He is a farmer in Manitoba and was the mover of the address in the session which he first attended. He was then a loyal supporter of the Government. What then was the horror of his fellow-senators to-day when he took part in the debate on the address and announced that his faith in the National Policy had departed and intimated that he was agin' the Government.

Anyway Senator Boulton went on to say that the National Policy was no good to the western farmer. It increased the price of everything he had to buy and did not increase the price of anything he had to sell.

The Debate in the Commons.

In the Commons nothing startling occurred. Mr. Laurier was in his place, although not looking very well.

The debate lasted less than two hours and was of a rather tame description. Those taking part in it were Mr. Northrop, the newly-elected member for East Hastings; Mr. Bain of Soulanges, who is not a new member, but was beaten at the general election, to be returned at the bye-election a month ago; Mr. Laurier and Sir John Thompson. Mr. Northrop is a young lawyer of Belleville. He briefly glanced at the history of the country for the past 25 years and thought there were lessons in it which would serve as an excellent guide for the epoch on which we were now entering.

Speaking of the late Sir John A. Macdonald, he said the departed statesman was the embodiment of love for Canada, faith in Canadians and loyalty to the Crown.

Speaking of the racial differences which some people told them would ultimately wreck the country, he said they need have no fear of that kind. The parent state, Great Britain, was an amalgam of many races. When the Romans landed in the island there were two distinct races abiding there, and after the Romans came the Saxon, the Dane and the Norman, and the present inhabitants of the British Isles were the happy product of these races. The same would be the case in Canada. The ultimate issue of the English, Irish, Scotch and French in this western country would be a grand one, so that the racial differences which some people chose to regard as a dark cloud upon the horizon was really a guarantee of permanency and strength.

In respect to the recent mission to Washington he said that the mission was a sign that the Ministers were sincerely desirous of increasing our trade relations with the United States consistent with the honor and credit of Canada. The fact that Canada was a British colony must never be lost sight of, and that we must never discriminate against British goods. Their friends on the other side of the House misunderstood the Conservative attitude in regard to reciprocity. The Conservative party was not inimical to reciprocity, but it was opposed to unrestricted reciprocity. They did not deny the prosperity that blessed this country under the former reciprocity treaty, but it was quite possible that a variety of other circumstances contributed to the good times that then prevailed. The building of the Grand Trunk; the Crimean war, the great American rebellion—all added to the value of and the demand for Canadian products during these years.

Mr. Bain of Soulanges.

Mr. Bain of Soulanges is a Scotchman, born in Edinburgh, who, when he was too young to know any better, drifted up the St. Lawrence to the transfluvian Quebec county of Soulanges. Here he taught the language of Auld Reekie and to-day he spoke in the Gallic tongue much to the disgust of his namesake from Wentworth.

Mr. Laurier's Reply.

The leader of the Opposition replied, in his happiest mood to-day, his recent illness seeming to have subtracted much of the vigor and fire from his tongue. He made one or two little bursts of eloquence however, just as a specimen of his mettle. His speech was very fair and betrayed none of chagrin and resentment that numerous recent defeats might have naturally prompted him to indulge in.

After the usual compliments to the mover and seconder he expressed surprise at the satisfaction which the member for East Hastings had professed in the country's prosperity. He thought that the census had caused the scales to fall from the eyes of gentlemen opposite. There was room in this young land for a hundred million happy people. We should have six or seven millions now, yet the census returns showed that they had increased but 11 per cent. They had not kept the natural increase and had lost the immigrants who had been subsidized to come here, entirely.

He felt they were all agreed upon one point. Canada required enlarged markets for her products. At present she was like a young giant shackled and manacled. The hope that England would alter the policy to which she seemed firmly wedded in favor of colonial products had recently been rudely dashed to the ground. England, although alone, was still overwhelmingly a free trade nation. It was true that the dream indulged in 50 years ago by Bright and Cobden that the whole earth would follow in the grand procession of free trade nations had not been realized in the way these statesmen had anticipated. But it was being realized in another way. The free trade idea was bearing fruit in the form of commercial treaties. The German Zollverein was being extended to Belgium, to Italy, and to Austria. The United States had been concluding treaties of commerce with all the South American Republics and West India Islands. Canada should do, and he believed desired to do, the same. Mr. Northrup's version of the attitude of his party in respect to reciprocity was scarcely correct. Did he not know that members of his party had stated on the floor of the House and were applauded by those around them that even reciprocity in natural products will be the ruin of the Canadian farmer? Speaking for the Opposition, he could say that while favoring unrestricted reciprocity they would be glad if the Government procured reciprocity, even in natural products. He read from Assistant Secretary Foster's speech at the New York Chamber of Commerce dinner, in which that gentleman said one of the chief barriers to carrying out reciprocity was that the Canadians had no power to conclude a treaty. This showed the wisdom of the Liberal policy that Canada should obtain the right to make her own treaties.

Speaking of patriotism he said it did not consist in hostility to other nations, but in love of our own land. No one on his side of the House would consent to an act that would derogate from Canada's honor. If the Americans were arrogant or unreasonable he, for one, would not submit to arrogance or unreasonableness.

He twitted Hon. Mr. Foster on the fact that no mention had yet been made of the prohibition commission.

He concluded with a feeling reference to the death of Prince Albert Victor.

Sir John Thompson's Reply

Sir John Thompson, besides congratulating the mover and seconder, could not refrain from approval of a great deal of the speech of the gentleman who had just sat down. There were few things from which he desired to dissent, but he could not allow the hon. gentleman's statement in regard to the unsatisfactory condition of this country to go unchallenged. He assured the hon. gentleman that a party which inscribed on its banners war, pestilence and famine could not rally the young men of Canada around that banner. He described Canada as "a young giant manacled and shackled." The policy which the hon. gentleman advocated was the policy that proposed to manacle and shackle the Dominion and its peoples. The Conservative party believed that the English market was the grandest market which we could have, and they were not prepared for a policy which would put British merchants at a disadvantage with the merchants of any other part of the world. Mr. Laurier had read Assistant Secretary Foster's speech in vain if he had not seen that it raised the whole question of the peculiar position in which Canada stands in this respect to the United States and Great Britain. We were bound to the latter by ties of duty, allegiance, love and interest. However, at present he could not go minutely into the questions raised by Mr. Foster's address. Last session the Government had been charged with harboring unfriendly feeling towards the United States, but when they sent a delegation to Washington they were subjected to gibes and sneers from the Opposition benches. He was glad now, however, to hear the hon. gentleman's approval of their last visit to the American capital.

The Prohibition Commission.

Speaking of the prohibition commission Sir John said it would have been mentioned in the Speech from the Throne, but that all the members of the commission had not at that time signified their intention of accepting the duties. This had now been obtained and probably before the hon. gentleman's speech was in type the Government would be able to announce the formation of the commission.

When he resumed his seat the House naturally turned its eyes in Sir Richard Cartwright's direction, but that gentleman did not move.

The Speaker paused a little while to see if anyone else proposed to speak. He then rose, but the motion was carried and the debate on the address was ended.

Toronto Topics.

The mortality returns for January show some good and some evil features. Apparently the epidemic of la grippe has not yet spent its force. It numbered 18 victims, being only five less than in the preceding month. Pneumonia, diphtheria and bronchitis were not quite so virulent as in the opening month of the year.

Gall, Anderson & Co., lumber dealers, of Tecumseh and Niagara-streets, have been compelled to seek the assistance of their creditors.

The insolvent estate of C. O. Morrow, retail drygoods merchant of London, Ont., which was placed in the hands of John McClung of this city, has been sold for an amount realizing 65c on the dollar for the goods. The estimated liabilities amounted to $13,000 with assets considerably below that sum.

Various matters are being discussed within closed doors by the Patrons of Industry. The following have been elected officers for the year: President, C. A. Mallory, Northumberland; vice-president, William Miller, Brantford; secretary-treasurer, L. A. Welch, Strathroy; trustees, Warden Foster of York, T. O. Curry of Middlesex and A. Gifford of Grey; sentinel, James Gillelan, Halton; auditors, William Vaiens, Bruce, and W. H. Windover, Kent.

Total duty collected at the port of Toronto for the month of February, 1892, $498,240.34; for the month of February, 1891, $449,195.09; increase, $79,045.15.

The fire brigade was called out about midnight last night by a fire in St. Lawrence Market. The fire seems to have originated in the floor of a lumber room adjoining the Medical Health Department rooms. The damage is estimated to be about $300, which is covered by insurance.

A Dog Carries Scarlet Fever.

BOSTON, Mass., March 1.—Three children of George Harvey of Maplewood have recently died from the effects of scarlet fever. Mr. Harvey owned a Newfoundland dog, and it is believed that the germs of the disease were carried in the dog's hair from the house of an affected family named Beatty, and that the Harvey children contracted the disease by caressing the animal, which has since been killed.

A VANCOUVER TRAGEDY.

A MANGLED BODY FOUND UNDER A WHARF.

Supposed to Have Been Murdered in Revenge By an Expressman Whom He Threatened to Kill—The Suspected Murderer Has Fled.

VANCOUVER, B.C., MAR. 1.—The first trace of Mr. W. G. Colquhoun, who disappeared mysteriously on the night of Thursday, Jan. 28, was found Saturday afternoon about 1.30 o'clock, when John Nash, a workman engaged by Palmer Bros., came on his dead body beneath the wharves belonging to that firm.

The remains were found quite a distance back from the edge of the wharf underneath the planking where it could not be seen except by someone who happened to go beneath as Nash did. It was so far back and behind so many piles that it could not possibly have been borne there by the tide. It had evidently not been disturbed since first laid there, and footprints leading to the remains seemed to indicate that they had been carried there by a man. By no conceivable manner of accident could the unfortunate fellow have fallen off the wharf and the remains been washed there by the ebb and flow of the water. There was a bluish mark encircling the neck, as if something had been pressed or drawn tight around it.

Colquhoun came here from Glasgow in October, 1890, with $2000, but went through it, and had since been working as a bookkeeper. It seems that he had threatened to castigate one James O'Connor (an expressman who earned a reputation through marrying a girl named Edith Lyle to escape prosecution for criminal assault) and who had grossly insulted a daughter of the landlord of the Richmond Hotel where Colquhoun boarded. In a conversation which happened a day or two after Colquhoun's disappearance, O'Connor is reported to have said in the heat of anger, "I have put him where he will never be heard from again, and there are others I would like to do the same with." It is a peculiar fact that though O'Connor had paid his board in advance up to February 10th, he left shortly after the 1st, without giving any notice of his intention or asking for a rebate, and since has not been seen in the city.

QUEBEC NOMINATIONS TO-DAY.

The Commission Will Take No Further Testimony Until After the Election.

MONTREAL, March 1.—The Royal Commission resumed its sitting this yesterday at 10.30 a.m.

The first witness examined was Mr. J. S. Bousquet, cashier of La Banque de Peuple. Being asked concerning a check drawn on Feb. 25, 1891, by Hon. Mr. Mercier, he stated that the same had been deposited to the credit of Mr. J. A. Mercier. It was for $3700 in favor of the Drummond County Railroad.

Mr. Tancrede Bienvenu, Inspector of the Jacques Cartier Bank, stated that on May 9, 1891, his bank had discounted a note of Messrs. Leclerc and Lamarche, endorsed by Honore Mercier for $3500, the amount being placed to Mr. Mercier's credit.

At the afternoon session Mr. Henri Brosseu, a former partner of Leclerc & Lamarche, the contractors for the court house, testified that Mr. Leclerc, who did the estimates, had told him that to obtain the contract for heating the court house they would have to pay $3000 to J. A. Mercier.

This closed the important evidence for to-day, the commission being adjourned sine die. This means that it will wait until after the elections to recommence business.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Only Formal Business at the Local House Yesterday.

TORONTO, March 1.—Yesterday's session of the Local House was of but ten minutes duration.

Mr. Meredith asked whether it was at any time proposed to open the present session of this House by commissioners appointed for that purpose by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in Council. If so, why that method of opening the session was not carried into effect. Whether a commission was issued by His Honor, and if so, to whom for the purposes aforesaid?

Mr. Mowat replied that it had been proposed to open the House by commissioners, but on receiving a friendly message from Mr. Abbott it was decided to have an administrator read the Speech from the Throne. This course, he considered, was equally good as the one proposed.

In the above connection Mr. Meredith gave notice of a motion asking for copies of all correspondence with reference to the appointment of commissioners to open the House at its present session or otherwise in regard to the opening of the House by some other than His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor.

Mr. Tait submitted a petition praying for the passage of an act incorporating the Hospital for Sick Children.

E. F. Clarke laid a petition on the table from George W. Kiely, William McKenzie, H. A. Everett and C. C. Woodworth, asking for a confirmation of the agreement between them and the city of Toronto in reference to the street railways.

Conservative Elected in Vaudreuil.

MONTREAL, March 1.—The bye-election Monday to fill the vacancy in the Commons resulted in the election of James McMillan (Conservative) by 26 majority.

The constituency was carried by the Liberal candidate at the general election by a majority of 98.

P. V. Savard, M.P., Unseated.

QUEBEC, March 1.—A despatch from Chicoutimi conveys the information that Judges Pelletier and Gagne rendered judgment in the Chicoutimi contested election case and annulled Mr. P. V. Savard's election. In the question of disqualification the judges could not agree. Judge Pelletier was for disqualification, but Judge Gagne would not concur. The case was immediately appealed to the Supreme Court of the Dominion.

U.S. Copyrights in Canada.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The State Department is engaged in correspondence with Great Britain as to the refusal of the Canadian Government to grant citizens of the United States copyright privileges in that country.

Assistant Secretary of State Adee, who has conducted the correspondence on the subject, said yesterday that it was a matter for Canada to decide. The United States did not desire to force reciprocal copyright upon any country, and if Canada did not accord copyright privileges to American citizens, the United States would not grant Canadian citizens United States copyright.

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, MARCH 1, 1892.

THE Conservatives claim that Mr. Hyman since the date of his first election, has done nothing to merit the popular displeasure implied in his having been, according to their claim, defeated at the recent election; he "has been," they say, "punished for the sins of his party." Whereupon the Montreal Witness asks: "What is the sin of the to which Mr. Hyman belongs? Evidently that of having exposed the dishonesty, corruption and demoralization of the Dominion Government last session. Evidently, those who brought the criminals before the bar of justice and exposed their crimes, and not the criminals, are to blame for the shame and humiliation of Canada. If the people of this province of Quebec act according to this provision of this code of immorality, Governor Angers and the Quebec Government have nothing to look forward to but utter condemnation next month."

The Machine is Running too Fast,

Extremes that are Fatal.

A celebrated medical writer says:—"A life of extreme labor, or, indeed, extreme exercise of any kind, of extreme anxiety about wordly concerns, of extreme moral excitement of any kind, is unfavourable to long life; whilst on the other hand a moderate degree of each favours it. Scarcely anything seems to contribute more to it than a tranquil, cheerful habit of mind, and a freedom from annoying cares."

We live in an age of harry, worry, bustle, and everlasting excitement, which is not conducive to health or longevity. Men and women, and even the young, are caught in the whirl of business, pleasures and excitements, and ere they are aware of the consequences, they are made helpless and powerless through disease and bodily suffering.

The business and professional man overworks brain and body every day in his eagerness to overtake some more fortunate brother; the young man, and the more mature woman, overtax their physical powers in the home and in the rounds of outside pleasures and frivolities.

Men and women of all classes become nervous, irritable, sleepless, dyspeptic and rheumatic before they come to the prime of life, and are subjects for the physician to work upon. While we deplore this state of things, and feel keenly regarding the future results on the coming generation of men and women, we cannot at present do more effective work than recommend strongly to the weak, nervous, broken down and dyspeptic, the use of that grand invigorater, strengthener and builder, Paine's Celery Compound—a specific preparation for the troubles mentioned above. If we are to judge by the number and character of the testimonials in its favor, we must come to the conclusion that it is truly what our people require, and what they have long sought for.

The record of Paine's Celery Compound is the grandest and noblest ever heard of; it honesty is beyond question; its works speak louder than written encomiums. It is heaven's remedy for the restoration of mind, brain and body to that perfect condition of health which tends to a happy and long life.

Grand Orange Gatherings.

The annual meeting of the Provincial Orange Grand Lodge of Ontario East will be held in the Oddfellows Hall, Napanee, on Tuesday, March 1st, and following days. The Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario will convene at Belleville on the 26th inst, at 7 p.m. On Tuesday evening a public meeting will be held in the opera house, which will be addressed by leading members of the order.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

Another Grand Trunk Dive

A new tunnel is to be constructed under the St. Clair river for railway traffic by the Grand Trunk company. The new underground passage will be similar to the existing one, and will probably be completed within a year. Its cost is estimated at two and a half millions of dollars. When the two tunnels are opened one will be used for east bound traffic and the other for west bound traffic. The new tunnel will be located 150 feet north of the existing one.

An Ode to D. D.

Twinkle, shine, ye lovely dyes,
Bright as stars in midnight skies;
Ye are all of gorgeous hue,
Bright and fast, so clear and true.

Ye are Diamonds rare and clear—
Jewels made the heart to cheer;
Home without your light is sad,
Ye can make the longing glad.

Diamonds pure—your glorious rays
Bring to us such happy days;
Days so full of sweet content,
Home seems rich and affluent.

Glitt'ring, brilliant, fadeless, strong,
To our people ye belong;
Ye go in at ev'ry door,
Friends alike of rich and poor.

Onward! Forward! Never cease
In your work of wealth and peace;
Show to eager, watching eyes,
Your great pow'r as Diamond Dyes.

Dominion Parliament.

Opening of the Second session of the Seventh Parliament—What the Government has to say About Reciprocity—Results of the Bye-Elections Excitement Over the Result in London—Mr. Laurier's Illness—Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

OTTAWA, Feb. 27.—Premier Abbott virtually began his rule of Canada on Thursday last when, with all the accustomed ceremony, the Governor General opened the second session of the seventh Parliament. For the greater part of last session Mr. Abbott was nominally the Premier, but the House of Commons, upon whose vote he depended for the life of his Government, had been elected to support his predecessor, the late Sir John A. Macdonald and the Ministry was virtually the Macdonald Ministry with a new manager carrying on its work pending re-arrangement suitable to himself. Since then the Cabinet has been made in fact an Abbott institution while the number of elections for the House of Commons held under the auspices of the new Premier have brought enough new blood into the house to make it virtually, like the Cabinet a part of the new order of things. Mr. Abbott has no reason to complain of the circumstances under which his real work begins, for they are advantageous to him except in those points in which he has voluntarily made them unfavourable. He finds himself with a majority at his back far larger than is necessary for even a strong government and with enough elections still to be held to make that majority even larger should the good fortune which has hitherto attended him continue. On the other hand, he has chosen by his selection of colleagues and by the methods he has pursued, to ally himself with all that was worst in the regime of his predecessor. It is evident however that that predecessor did his work of even better than was supposed and that the country is without the spirit at this time to rebel against corruption in politics when it is strongly entrenched behind monopoly in business. If Mr. Abbott really controls his followers instead of being controlled by them, there is no reason except his own incompetence or wilful neglect of the public interest why he should not make this session memorable for wise legislation.

The speech from the Throne which His Excellency read on Thursday is not a very re-assuring document. The longest paragraph in its deals with the recent visit of Commissioners to the United States to arrange terms of reciprocity of trade between that country and Canada, but the object of its length seems to be to conceal rather than make known the state of affairs on the most important subject. Something was done it appears, in the matter of Alaska boundaries, wrecking and salvage on lakes and the prevention of destructive methods of fishing, but nothing is said about trade unless that subject is covered by the exceedingly vague remark that "A valuable and friendly interchange of views respecting other matters also took place." There is nothing in this to give hope to the man who finds himself unable to pay his bills by reason of the restrictions upon trade between himself and his customers in the United States. Beyond the ordinary routine of legislation upon matters which, while important enough, excite no general public feeling, there is nothing notable indicated for the present session except what is euphemistically called the Redistribution Bill, but which will undoubtedly be known in history as the Gerrymander of 1892.

This gerrymander is expected to exceed in the monstrosity of its proportions, the extent of its reach and the disregard of reason and principle, anything that has yet been attempted in Canada. The ordinary onlooker would think that with the bye-elections going so strongly in his favour, Mr. Abbott would feel secure, and would restrain his confident colleagues, Mr John Thompson and Mr. Haggart, in the desire they naturally feel to for the benefit of their party. But Mr. Abbott knows perfectly well that the results in the bye elections are much more strongly in his favour than is justified by the actual state of public opinion and that the very fact that he is doing no better is the best indication that could possibly given that in a general election he would be very badly handled indeed. He will hasten therefore, to take advantage of the power entrusted to him to ensure a favorable result in that time but a few years off when the people must be again appealed to to give judgement upon his deeds.

It goes without saying, however, that even though the bye-elections indicate a strong support of the Opposition by the thinking, self-supporting, unpurchased and unpurchasable citizens of Canada, the fact that their numbers are reduced has caused a feeling of dejection among the Liberal representatives in Parliament. It would be idle to deny that such is the case; it would be idle to say that the Liberals are in as good a position for a fight, or as strong to carry on the fight, as they were at the opening of the last session. The feeling of depression, however, must be but temporary, for, with a government such as this to fight, it is impossible to believe that fighters like Laurier, Cartwright, Lister and Davies will allow boodling to go unexposed or monopoly undenounced. As if to prove the truth of the aphorism about misfortunes coming in battalions, the leaders find themselves at the opening of a critical session, with misfortune piled upon misfortune in the bye-elections, and with their leader not sufficiently strong at this time to carry on the work as he has been accustomed to do it. Mr. Laurier suffered severely from the attack of influenza which prostrated him last month, and while he did a heroic thing in risking his life to go into West Huron and South Ontario on a campaigning tour, he did not come out unscathed. La grippe has an uncomfortable fashion of certain penance in the form of rest and of compelling the observance of its decree, where that observance is not granted willingly. Mr. Laurier finds now that he is much in need of rest, so much in need of it that he allowed his friends to ask the leader in Commons, Sir John Thompson, to postpone the consideration of the speech from the throne from Friday until Monday, a thing almost unheard of before. With his usual amiability Sir John conceeded this point. Mr. Laurier is improving.

Thus nothing has been done in the way of debate since this Session opened. But then nothing will be done for sometime in any case, for the attention of all members of Parliament and all other politicians is concentrated not upon the doings of Parliament but upon the bye-elections. It is difficult even for a keen politician to appreciate the intense, though partly suppressed excitement in this the hub of Dominion politics by every event so important as a bye-election no matter in what part of the country it may be held. Everybody will have read by this time the conflicting and unsatisfactory reports from London concerning the results of the bye-election there. The Liberals had strong hopes of signal success, hopes based upon the well known popularity of the Liberal cause and the Liberal candidate in the Forest city and upon the magnificent fighting power of the band of young men whom Mr. Hyman, the candidate, has inspired with his own enthusiasm. Though they feel confident that Mr. Hyman had a majority of the good votes over his opponent and that ultimately he will gain the seat, the closeness of the vote does not effect the exceedingly uncomfortable revenues in West Huron and East Simcoe. It is, moreover, certain that Mr. Carling and his friends will take advantage of every point in their power through the control of the election machinery to delay the return of Mr. Hyman and in the mean time to give the seat to Mr. Carling. Should this be done, Mr. Carling will place himself of Queens County, New Brunswick, for whom a seat was stolen in 1857 by the election officers backed by the majority in the House of Commons and may expect to be treated with contempt which met Mr. Baird as he ventured to hold his place in defiance of popular rights and popular indignation.

About the first question asked at the opening of the session always is how soon it can be brought to a close. Should the Government carry out the determination ascribed to it by some of its supporters, the session will be considerably shortened. It is said that instead of permitting a Committee of the House of Commons to investigate the boodle charges against the Hon. John Haggart and Sir Adolphe Carron the Government will insist upon referring these matters to a commission. This will be even a longer step in the direction of Parliament abdicating its functions than has yet be taken, but this Government is evidently untrammelled by pedantic regard, or any other regard for precedent, principles or reason. The object will be to avoid investigation, or to make that investigation as little harmful to themselves as possible. It is quite feasable, however, for the Opposition to force the Government into allowing Parliament to investigate these matters for itself, and the members of the Opposition will belittle their record if they allow this important investigation to be side tracked as proposed.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Stevenson, Esq., M P., Bro. J. R. Stratton, M. P. P., and to the ladies and gentlemen who kindly assisted in the entertainment on the occasion of the visit of the R W. High Chief Ranger; to the Edison Club for the use of their parlour and piano, and also to the societies and individuals who loaned flags and decorations for the hall that evening.

In Destitute Circumstances.

A young Indian girl aged seventeen and her brother, a bright Indian youth of fourteen slept over night at the police station. They left this morning on the 6 40 o'clock train for Hagersville. The young couple have for some time past been living with their aged grandfather in an old log hut on the shores of Gull Lake, about five or six miles from Burleigh. The old man went away some weeks ago rather mysteriously, and left the children to brave out the winter alone in their poverty, squalor and wretchedness. The young couple started out for Peterborough, braving the tempest, and reached the town after two days of wearisome trudging over thirty miles of road.

Death of Mr. Joseph Griffin.

This morning, his many friends will regret to hear, Mr. Joseph Griffin, bailiff of the first Division Court, died at his residence, 108 Weller street. The immediate cause of his death was an attack of inflammation of the lungs. He was only confined to the house a few days, but the attack was the more severe, following on an attack of la grippe, from the effects of which he had not fully recovered. The deceased gentlemen was a native of Liverpool, England, from which place he came to Canada, with his parents who settled in Peterborough, at an early age. For several years he carried on a boot an shoe business on Hunter street, and in April 1888, he was appointed bailiff of the First Division Court of the County of Peterborough, and he has, up to the time of his last illness, filled the duties of the office very efficiently—"tempering justice with mercy," and consideration as much as fidelity to the demands of his official position would permit. He was well known, and enjoyed much personal popularity. The deceased leaves behind him a widow and eight children to mourn his loss. The funeral takes place on Thursday morning under the auspices of St. Peter's Court, No. 225, Catholic Order of Foresters, of which deceased was a member.

To and Fro in London.

Fourth Lecture Given by John R. Clarke the Scotchman Orator Last Evening in Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

Charlotte street Methodist church was comfortably filled last evening to hear John R. Clark deliver his last lecture in Peterborough on "To and Fro in London." The pastor Rev. Geo. Edwards in a few chosen words presented Mr. Clarke to the audience. He was sure the large crowd present had come to hear the lecturer for two reasons, one his established fame and the other the object for which he had come.

The lecturer started out by giving some general ideas of the breadth, width and immensity of the great metropolis which covered an area of 78,000 square miles and contained 5,000,000 human souls. London was a great and glad city, full of the throb, beat and panic of thronging crowds and commercial enterprise. Most striking among her many imposing buildings were the mighty St. Paul's Cathedral, looming up before you as the result of thirty seven years of patient toil and work, the genius of Sir Christopher Wren. To go to London and not see St. Paul's would be like visiting Rome without seeing the Vatican. If one wished to get a good view of the great city let him take an omnibus. A person can ride sixteen long miles for a few pennies. It is a sight never to be forgotten to watch the hurry and worry, bustle and activity of the thousands upon thousands of surging humanity. No city in the world is so cosmopolitan as London. Notable among her stupendous structures are the great Bank of England, Buckingham Palace and Westminster Abbey. London Bridge described by Charles Dickens contains one great stream of humanity. The Thames was the greatest commercial river in the old world without a doubt. Spurgeon's Tabernacle was mentioned and an account given of the great preacher now passed away to his eternal rest. The lecturer graphically described the life and eccentric career of the Rev. Rolland Hill and the church he and his friends erected on Blackfriars' Hill. Fleet street was the great literary street. It was a great literary centre. Here such men as Leigh Hunt, Chas. Lamb, Thos. Hood and Henry Kirke White were born and lived. The number of theatres, operas and musees in London were about six hundred, and the number of people attending them nightly about 300,000. Another great point of interest were Madame Tousseand's great wax works. The forms of such men as Thos. Moore, Geo. Byron, Daniel O'Connell, Father Theobald Matthews, Ulysses S. Grant and Jas. A. Garfield were strikingly noticeable. The lecture lasted over two hours and was very interesting and instructive throughout. Mr. Clarke told many laughable incidents and impersonated many different characters with a pleasing effect.

Free Social.

An Enjoyable Social and Entertainment Given in George Street Methodist Church Last Evening.

The Epworth League of Christian Endeavour of the the George street Methodist church gave a free social in the large Sunday school rooms last evening. There was a large company present who thoroughly enjoyed themselves during the evening. Mr. Geo. S. Bean, B.A., occupied the chair in an able manner.

The first number on the programme was a solo by Miss Moyse, which was loudly applauded. Then came an instrumental duet by Masters Percy and Leslie Owens, which was heartily encored. A recitation by Mr. Thos. Cochrane entitled, "The Deacon and his Cow," immensely pleased and delighted those present. Miss Noble furnished an instrumental solo, charmingly executed. The chairman then gave a brief and happy address on the work and membership of the Epworth League of Christian Endeavour. He also spoke of the great Y.P.S.C.E convention held in Toronto some four months since, when 300 delegates were present, representing the whole Dominion from Montreal to Rat Portage. Miss Mann then gave an exhibition of clever club swinging executed with grace and ease. She responded to an encore. "The Deacon in Search of a Wife" was the title of a recitation given by Miss Ames. Needless to say it was well received. Master Percy Owens favored the company with an instrumental solo and received a well merited encore.

This brought a meritorious evening's programme to a reluctant close, after which refreshments, abundant and appetizing, were served by the ladies of the church to all present.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

That Tired Feeling

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 90 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

Ashburnham Board of Education.

A special meeting of the Ashburnham Public School Board was held last evening. The meeting was called for considering the advisability of re-arranging pupils of the public school in different rooms, owing to the present crowded condition of the school. They removed ten pupils from Miss Burt's room to Miss Clark's. The Board also considered seriously of removing several pupils to the old school room, at present used as the Village Council Chamber.

Another Sudden Death.

Intelligence has been received of the sad'y sudden death in Kingston of Mrs. Samuel Parser, of Hall's Bridge, Ont. Mrs. Parser on Feb. 18th went to Kingston on a visit to her sister Mrs. Christie, wife of Rev. I. J. Christie, incumbent of St. John's church, Wolfe Island. On Monday she was attacked with sudden illness and only lived a few hours. Her husband at once proceeded to Kingston and will return with the remains of his wife to-night, and the funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Ezra Cockson, Smith street on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock p.m.

The "Queen's" Prize Problem.

Mr. A. and Mr. B. have to cut down a mighty tree. The time 'twill take for Mr. A. this mighty tree alone to slay, is sixty minutes—standard time. Beneath B's. blow, the bulk sublime goes to the ground in half that time. The question now we ask of thee is, how long 'swill take to cut this tree if both begin—one on each side—and thus their labour to divide?

The Queen will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fined Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in the February issue of The Queen. Valuable special prizes will be given for the first correct answers from each Province. Each person answering must enclose ten three cent stamps for "THE CANADIAN QUEEN GALOP," the latest and most popular piece of fifty-cent copyrighted music issued during the past year. JUST OUT. Together with sample copy of The Queen. The only object of offering these prizes is to increase the circulation of The Queen, which already is the largest of any publication in Canada. Every prize winner is expected to add to our yearly subscription list. By sending to-day you may secure a valuable prize. Address The Candian Queen, "X," Toronto, Can.

TYPE-WRITTEN "MUSQUASH."

The Latest Innovation in the Hudson Bay Region.

The most sensational bit of "musquash talk" in more than a quarter of a century among the Hudson Bay Company's employes was started the other day, when Sir Donald A. Smith, the president of the oldest of England's great trading companies, sent a type-written letter to Winnipeg. If a Cree squaw had gone to the trading-shop at Moose Factory and asked for a bustle and a box of face-powder in exchange for a beaver-skin, the suggestion of changing conditions in the fur trade would have been trifling compared with the sense of instability to which this appearance of machine-writing gave rise. The reader may imagine for himself what a wrench civilization would have gotten if the world had laid down its goose quills and taken up the type-writer all in one day. And that is precisely what Sir Donald Smith had done. The quill that had served to convey the orders of Alexander Mackenzie had satisfied Sir George Simpson; and, in our own time, while men like Lord Iddesleigh, Lord Kimberley, and Mr. Goschen sat around the candle-lighted table in the board-room of the company in London, quill pens were the only ones at hand. But Sir Donald's letter was not only the product of a machine; it contained instructions for the use of the type-writer in the offices at Winnipeg, and there was in the letter a protest against illegiable manual chirography such as had been received from many factories in the wilderness. Talking business in the fur trade has always been called "talking musquash" (musk-rat), and after that letter came the turn taken by that form of talk suggested a general fear that from the Arctic to our border and from Labrador to Queen Charlotte's Islands the canvassers for competing machines will be "racing" in all the posts, each to prove that his instrument can pound out more words in a minute than any other—in those posts were life has hitherto been taken so gently that when one day a factor heard that the battle of Waterloo had been fought and won by the English, he deliberately loaded the best trade gun in the storehouse and went out and fired it into the pulseless woods, although it was two years after the battle, and the disquieted Old World had long known the greater news that Napoleon was caged in St. Helena. The only reassuring note in the "musquash talk" to-day is sounded when the subject of candles is reached. The governor and committee in London still pursue their deliberations by candle light.—From "Talking Musquash," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for March.

An Opera Circuit

To Include Belleville, Peterborough, Kingston, Brockville and Ottawa.

The Belleville Ontario says:—W. W. Power the energetic manager of the Queen's Opera House, Belleville, is always looking after the interests of the theatre going public. He has now a plan on for the formation of a week's circuit between Toronto and Montreal including Belleville, Peterborough, Kingston, Brockville, and two nights at Ottawa. The idea has met with the unanimous support of Peterborough, Kingston and Brockville, and it is likely in view of the new opera house mooted in Ottawa that city will also come into the ring. An effort is being made in Toronto to form a week's circuit in Western Ontario. Instead of staying two weeks in Canada, as many of the better class of shows now do this arrangement will give them four weeks. Another feature of the scheme is that a great many shows will cross the line that would not go to the expense and inconvenience of coming over for only two weeks. If Mr. Power can bring about the arrangement only the best shows on the road will be booked and hence the public can see a good show and there will be money in it for the management.

MR. BEECHER'S FIRST SERMON.

His Widow Describes the Great Preacher's First Brooklyn Sermon.

Mrs. Henry Ward Beecher gives an interesting account of the first sermon preached by Mr. Beecher in Plymouth Church Brooklyn, in her fifth paper on "Mr Beecher as I Knew Him," in the March Ladies' Home Journal. A perfect flood o warnings and criticisms came to him before his first sermon. Doubtless all these warnings determined Mr. Beecher more than aught else that the people of his new church should fully understand before he was installed what course he was likely to pursue He told me that if Plymouth Church decided to instal him, it would do so with its eyes wide open. It was upon the evening of Sunday, October 10th, 1847. He sat quietly in the pulpit while the chior was singing. His eyes scanned the concourse o people before him, but it was the look o confidence that I saw. Knowing as I did something of what he intended to say, I could not but think, "Will these people accept the bold course he has marked out for his work from one so young looking?" For his ten years of labor at the West had not rubbed the youth from his face. I noticed the almost contemptuous looks o the strangers present as they watched his face. As he rose to read the Scriptures a death-like silence prevaded the great church But not a tremor was visible in the voice that spoke. With that mellow voice which the Brooklyn public learned so well to know, he read the lesson of the evening as if he were before his Lawrenceburg audience. Then he uttered the first low sentence of his prayer, as his heart rose heavenward, the effect of the preacher became visible on the congregation, and he brought his hearers close to the mercy-seat. All was changed. An almost breathless solemnity pervaded the church, and tears were on many faces.

The youthful look vanished and did not return, as, in his sermon, he plainly, and with great solemnity, showed his hearers the course duty called him to pursue. As he said of these remarks years after: "I lifted up the banner and blew the trumpet in the application of Christianity to intemperance, to slavery, and all other great national sins. I said to those present, 'if I remain here and you come to this church, it must at the commencement be distinctly understood that I wear no fetters, that I will be bound by no precedent, and that I will preach the Gospel as I apprehend it, whether men will hear or whether they will forbear, and I will apply it sharply and strongly to the overthrow of every evil, and to the upbuilding of all that is good.'"

After the close of the sermon many came to counsel Mr. Beecher. They were actuated by kindness to him and anxiety for the church. Such bold, plain speaking they did not understand. They had never been used to it. It would overthrow this young church.

"Don't ally yourself to unpopular men or unpopular causes," they told him. "There is no call for it. You will only injure yourself and break up the church."

After preaching a month in Plymouth Church, he was installed as pastor on November 11th, 1847.

MRS. HUMPHREY WARD.

Latest Portrait of a Woman of Many Literary Successes.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward's "History of David Grieve," her latest work, has set the people talking about her again, and it is of interest to introduce here a copy of her latest photograph:

[MRS. HUMPHREY WARD.

Mrs. Ward's earliest book was a children's story entitled "Milly and Olly; or, A Holiday Among the Mountains." It appeared in 1880. Some four years later "Miss Bretherton," was published and attracted considerable attention. The heroine is an actress, and it was rumored at the time that Miss Mary Anderson was the model from which some of her characteristics were drawn. In 1885 Mrs. Ward's translation, with an introduction of "Amiel's Journal," was published, and "Robert Elsmere" followed in 1888.

Cooking Made Easy.

The Junction City Co-operative Club, known as the "Bellamy Club," has just entered upon its second year with a full complement of members, most of whom have been with it from the commencement.

This club was organized to conduct a common kitchen. There are forty-four ladies belonging to the club, all of whom express their satisfaction as to the result of their experiment. During the year that the society has been in existence the sum of $5,320 has been expended for table supplies. All bills have been paid as fast as contracted, so that no debts have been carried over. The officers of the society all serve without pay.

All the cooking for the forty-four families represented has been done by a professional cook at the society's kitchen, and the prepared food delivered at the various residences. The expense is estimated to be fully one-third less than at separate kitchens.—Topeka (Kan.) Special in New York Times.

NO MARK BUT A SLIGHT BURN.

But the Shock Instantly Killed Harry Williams of New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29.—Harry Williams, aged 16, of New Brighton, L. I., was killed last night by electricity. He was standing on the corner of Fourth-street and Lafayette-avenue with some friends and had in his hands an iron hoop. With this he was striking the electric light pole by which he was standing. Suddenly he uttered a cry and fell to the sidewalk. As he fell he exclaimed, "I'm shocked." His companions bent over him, but he was dead. The only mark on his body was a burn on the hand in which he held the hoop.

FLED TO CANADA.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 29.—George S. Moore, for 12 years one of the most prominent business men in this city, and the largest broker and dealer in pig iron, fire brick and coke in the south, has disappeared, and indications are he has gone to Canada. The official figures place the shortage at $70,000.

A Street Railway Strike and Its Effects.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 26.—No less than a dozen riots have occurred here since Saturday at 6 o'clock. Mayor Sullivan ordered out the police to assist in the running of the cars. The strikers fought every inch of the ground, and at 7 o'clock three cars had been overturned in the gutters. By 8 o'clock the mobs on the different streets numbered fully 10,000 men, and business generally was stopped. The police force is composed only of 100 men. So far clubs have been the only weapons used, but the fever of the mob is increasing.

A New Immigration Scheme.

OTTAWA, Feb. 29.—Mr. Richard Seeman and Mr. F. H. Brydges, secretary of the Manitoba and Northwestern Railway Company, had an interview yesterday with the Deputy-Minister of the Interior Department in reference to the settlement of a large number of immigrants from North Germany along the line of the railway. Mr. Seeman has had great experience in locating immigrants under an agreement with the Brazilian Government, and claims to have transported nearly 50,000 persons from various European countries to Brazil in five years.

FRANCE'S CABINET.

M. Loubet Gets Together a Ministry Which Includes Five Who Resigned.

PARIS, Feb. 29.—M. Loubet succeeded in forming a complete cabinet Saturday, M. Cavaignac accepting the Ministry of Marine and M. Ricard that of Justice. The new ministers were presented to President Carnot at the Elysee to-night. There is but little public confidence in the stability of the Cabinet, which is not considered truly representative of any combination of factions capable of commanding a majority in the chambers.

The Cabinet is as follows: M. Loubet, President of the Council and Minister of the Interior; M. DeFreycinet, Minister of War; M. Ribot, Minister of Foreign Affairs; M. Bourgeoise, Minister of Public Instruction and the Fine Arts; M. Rouvier, Minister of Finance; M. DeVelle, Minister of Agriculture; M. Roche, Minister of Commerce; M. Ricard, Minister of Justice and Public Works; M. Cavaignac, Minister of Marine.

MM. DeFreycinet, Ribot, Bourgeoise, Rouvier, DeVelle and Roche were members of the former Cabinet, in which they held the same portfolios which they will hold in the new ministry. The new Prime Minister is a staunch moderate Republican.

Stole to Relieve a Scapegrace Relative.

LONDON, Feb. 27.—It is now stated that the reason Mrs. Osborne stole the pearls belonging to Mrs. Hargreaves and sold them was for the purpose of relieving the pressing necessity of a scapegrace relative who was in trouble.

Mrs. Osborne's case will come before the Grand Jury on the 2nd prox.

For Young or Old.

Gentlemen,—One of my little girls (aged 4 years) had been troubled with costiveness in the worst form since infancy. We tried different remedies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she would be worse than before using. She lost her appetite and was growing weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B.B.B. with good results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the Burdock Pills, which we did. She did not take the contents of one bottle before it relieved her, and not only relieved her but permanently cured her, for she has not been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 25, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

THE VALUE OF MILITARY TRAINING.

It Insures Good Health by Sound Discipline in Early Life.

In casting about we find no better physical advantages to be gained than those derived from the military exercises which young men undergo in the militia services. Camping out in summer in well-selected camps gives them an outdoor life which is a much needed change from the indoor life led throughout the long winters, during which so much vitiated air is breathed in crowded places of business and ill-ventilated sleeping apartments. Marching is the most rational exercise for the legs, the manual of arms always insures healthy chests and well-developed arms, and moving at the double-quick improves the breathing power of the lungs.

Unlike the athletics in college, there is here no overtraining, which so often injures the subjects by excess, and no breaking down after the training has ceased. The marching and drilling under competent instructors improve the gait of the recruit and give him a firmer, easier step and a more graceful carriage.

Military service has many advantages mentally. It cultivates intelligence among young men and does much toward improving the memory and curing absent-mindedness. The necessity of being alert, listening for each word of command and acting promptly upon it, quickens the wits and cultivates the habit of fixing the attention and concentrating the thoughts.

Marching to the sound of music gives a young man a better idea of measure and rhythm and is calculated to make him more methodical in all things. His entering upon the duties of a soldier leads him to study military history, which embodies the chief history of nations. The hardest lesson to be learned in file is that of amenability to discipline. In a land like this, where there is very little restraint among young or old, where self-abnegation is but little heard of, and where the race of life is pretty much a "go-as-you-please," there is scarcely any school in which subordination and obedience are taught except in the military service.—Gen. Horace Porter, in the Cosmopolitan.

Sandringham to Be Sold.

The Prince and Princess of Wales have determined to sell Sandringham at the first opportunity. The fact is that Sandringham is not healthy.

This has long been the opinion of the people of the district, and it is the conclusion to which the Prince of Wales and several members of his household have come. The situation of the house is comparatively low and the surrounding country is flat.

The purchase of this property for the Prince of Wales at the time of his marriage was one of the most injudicious acts which Lord Palmerston ever committed. It is no secret that the estate was bought not so much in the interests of the Prince as to help Lord Palmerston's natural son to get rid of a burdensome property.

A million dollars was the price paid for the place, and the Prince has, during the last thirty years, spent at least a couple of million more on it. If he therefore parts with it, it will necessarily be at a considerable sacrifice.

The Insect Wax of China.

Mr. Charles Denby, the United States Minister in Pekin, in a recent report to the State Department, gives an instructive account of an interesting article of export known as "insect wax," which sells in Shanghai for $1,000 per ton. In Western China, near Thibet, there grows the "crackling-flea" tree, on evergreen, on the bark of which in the spring appear small brown scales containing myriads of little animals—the larvæ of the white wax insect. These scales are gathered and carried some hundreds of miles to the Chien-Ch'ang Valley and hung in packages under the branches of a sort of an ash tree, called the white wax tree. The larvæ soon become insects, the females developing the scales to propagate the race and the males excreting the substance known as white wax, which is supposed to be interceded by nature as a protection to the scales. It first appears like snow under the boughs, but in 100 days is complete, and a quarter of an inch thick, and the branches are then cut off, as much wax removed by hand as possible, and the branches boiled to get the balance. This, of course, destroys the insects, which are fed to the pigs, and even the trees cannot be used again for three years. The following year the insects are brought from the Thibetan border and the process is repeated. The export figures, which show 1,500,000 pounds, worth nearly $500,000 in gold, give only a partial idea of the proportion of the industry, for immense quantities are shipped from Yang-tse in Chinese junks, and many thousands of pounds across the mountains or down the river to Canton.

Blood poisoned by diphtheria, the Grip, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, etc., is made pure and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c, and $1, at the Peterborough Drug Store. dw

SHOCKING CRUELTIES TO YOUNG CHILDREN.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts Writes Respecting British Waifs—French Anarchists Attempt to Kill a Princess—The Colonies and the McKinley Act.

PARIS, Mar. 1.—Tremendous excitement was caused in the fashionable Faubourg St. Germain by an explosion that occurred at an early hour this morning at the residence of the Princess of Sagan.

It appears that one of the men servants belonging to the Princess' household was sweeping out the doorway, when his broom struck two tubes.

The tubes were thrown against one side of the entrance and instantly there was a tremendous report.

In a moment consternation prevailed in the vicinity. Gendarmes were promptly at the scene and began an investigation. They expressed it as their opinion that the explosion was due to dynamite that had been placed in the doorway by friends of the Anarchists who have been arrested. They also believe the tubes were part of the lot of cartridges stolen from the Seine quarries.

The windows of the Princess' residence and a number of the adjoining houses were blown to atoms.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

Close Vote in the Commons on an Alleged Socialist Measure.

LONDON, March 1.—In the House of Commons to-day the bill promoted by the London County Council proposing to connect tramways of South and North London, was opposed by the Conservatives has putting in practice the socialist principles held by the majority of the council.

The Liberals supported the bill.

After a long debate the measure passed its second reading by a vote of 160 to 158.

The announcement of the vote was greeted with Opposition cheers, though it was not a Government defeat.

Replying to a question the Right Hon. James Lowther, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, denied the statement of the U. S. Emigration Commissioners that there was an organized movement in Great Britain to send ex-convicts to the United States.

Gladstone Arrives.

While the questions were proceeding Mr. Gladstone entered the House from behind the Speaker's chair.

As soon as he was seen he was greeted with a hearty cheer.

He took his seat between the Hon. John Morley and Sir William Vernon Harcourt. Many of the members crowded around him and he shook hands with several of them.

Mr. Gladstone remained in the Parliament buildings for an hour and then went to his home, where he held an informal conference with his colleagues.

A DEFEAT FOR THE TORIES.

The Coming Liberal Leader Claims an Opposition Triumph.

LONDON, March 1.—Sir William Vernon Harcourt made a speech at the Liberal Club last night. He said he had snatched a moment from his duties in the House, happy in the knowledge that the Opposition had just beaten the Government by a majority of two. [Cheers.] The Liberals had had the joy of welcoming to the House their commander-in-chief—[cheers]—who had returned full of life, strength and hope. Never had an army a more experienced and trained leader. Never had a leader a more courageous or a more disciplined force. These facts assured them of success in the coming national struggle. [Cheers.]

A MONSTER STRIKE.

Half-a-Million Miners in Great Britain May Strike Work in a Fortnight.

LONDON, March 1.—It is estimated 60,000 miners will cease work in a fortnight in their efforts to prevent the masters from putting into effect the scheme to reduce wages. The mining industry throughout Great Britain will be greatly affected, the only miners who stand aloof from the movement being those employed in South Staffordshire and East Worcestershire. Should the present intentions of the miners be carried out and the strike inaugurated, the branch industries will also be adversely affected, and it is intimated nearly 1,000,000 men will feel the effects of the struggle. The agitation is due to the action of mine-owners in Wales and Cumberland who gave an intimation of their intention to reduce wages on the sliding scale principle, owing to the decline that had occurred in the price of coal.

SEALERS' FATE.

Newfoundlanders Driven to Sea by a Fierce Breeze Perish Miserably.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 1.—Saturday 200 men engaged in seal hunting were driven off to sea by a fierce breeze. To-day a number landed at Heart's Delight exhausted and frozen, but they will recover.

The latest reports are that 10 men were frozen to death. Thirteen are still missing Intense excitement prevails throughout the country.

Speared by a Broomstick.

BALTIMORE, Md., Mar. 1.—Jumping from a car upon which he had been working yesterday, Charles L. Kersch alighted on a broom handle and the stick penetrated his body, making a frightful wound and causing death.

VIENNA SUFFERERS.

Thousands Out of Employment. What a Tour of Inspection Revealed.

VIENNA, March 1.—It is estimated 5000 shoemakers, 3000 carpenters, 1500 metal workers, 7000 stoneworkers and 2300 unskilled laborers are out of work here. A reporter who accompanied the relief committee on their rounds yesterday witnessed scenes of poverty and misery which it would be hard to match in the squalid courts of London. As an alleged result of the McKinley law 20,000 pearl workers were thrown out of employment, and are now classed as unskilled workmen, the Austrian laws preventing their embracing a new trade without serving a new apprenticeship, which is impossible in the case of adults burdened with families. Whole families are living and working in a single room earning a few shillings weekly and in daily fear of being evicted for arrears of rent. In one instance the father of the family declared he would commit suicide if his family would do the same. In a so-called model dwelling called the "bee hive," from the peculiar structure, 700 souls were found occupying 215 rooms. Hungry, stunted children swarmed at the entrance. The air was horrible, and in many cases the rooms were bare, the furniture having been pawned to provide food. All the occupants appeared to be suffering from grinding poverty. Many shocking cases of "sweating" were brought to light.

LONDON, March 1.—A famine prevails in North Hungary and 20,000 inhabitants of the county of Arvare are in a state of distress equalling that prevalent in Russia. The Government will not relieve the sufferers because they are of the slave race, German newspapers in Pesth indignantly protest against this inhumanity and demand that the sufferers be relieved.

RIOTING IN TRIPOLI.

Rioting Over the Proposed Conscription Laws—Many Killed and Wounded.

TRIPOLI, March 1.—Rioting has occurred here in consequence of the issuing of a firman by the Sultan making natives liable to conscription, from which they have hitherto been exempt.

Thousands of Arabs assembled at the gates and demanded the withdrawal of the firman, and in an encounter with troops several were killed and many wounded.

TWO QUESTIONS SETTLED.

Results of the Recent Canadian Conference at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—One of the questions settled at the recent conference between the Canadian Commissioners and Secretary Blaine and Gen. Foster, representing the United States, was in regard to the establishment of a boundary line between Alaska and British Columbia. The decision reached at the conference was for a joint or international prosecution of the work already begun by the United States. A question has arisen respecting the proper boundary along the Aleutian coast, growing out of a difference of interpretation of the treaty provisions on that point, but it is expected that the contemplated survey will furnish all the information necessary to reach a harmonious adjustment of the differences.

At the conference an agreement was also reached for a more definite marking of the water boundaries in front of and adjacent to the city of Eastport, Me., with a view to avoiding any further trouble on the subject of the fishing rights of Canada and the United States in that locality.

An amicable understanding was also reached for reciprocity of services in cases of wreck and salvage on the lakes.

THE SAYWARD CASE.

Decided in Favor of the United States—Behring Sea Commission.

WASHINGTON, March 1. — Sir Julian Pauncefote the British Minister met Secretary Blaine by appointment yesterday and signed the treaty of arbitration on behalf of Great Britain. The treaty is still subject, however, to the action of the British Parliament and the United States Senate.

The exact terms of the treaty cannot now be stated, but it is known the Board of Arbitration will consist of seven persons, two representing the United States, two Great Britain (one of whom is to be a Canadian) and one each representing the neutral Governments of France, Sweden and Italy.

The Sayward case, involving the jurisdiction of the United States over Behring Sea, was decided by the United States Supreme Court this afternoon against the British Government. The court also decided the case of the schooner Sylvia Handy, involving points nearly similar, in favor of the United States. Justice Field was the only member of the court dissenting.

By the suit the governments of Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada sought to obtain from the highest legal tribunal in the United States a determination of the question of the right of the United States to exercise exclusive jurisdiction over the seal fisheries in the Behring Sea.

Has 30 Wives.

CLEVELAND, O., March 1.—John Anderson, the Dane, who is claimed by upwards of 30 women as a husband, pleaded not guilty yesterday morning to an indictment charging him with robbing the last on the list (Mrs. Ellen Parcell) whom he married in St. Louis of the sum of $1200.

North Perth Decision To-Day.

OTTAWA, March 1.—At Supreme Court yesterday notice was given that judgment in the North Perth election appeal will be given to-morrow. Decision in Mr. German's appeal is expected at an early date.

BRITISH WAIFS.

Baroness Burdett-Coutts Writes of Cruelty to Children.

LONDON, March 1.—Baby farming in England, says the Baroness Burdett-Coutts in The Sunday Magazine, still remain practically unchecked by law. It is only when more than one child is taken at a time that the baby farmer's establishment has to be registered. The consequence is that only one child at a time is taken in to be foully murdered.

Revolting facts have come under the Baroness' observation at the Shelter of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. One poor little girl at 5 years of age was almost imbecile from terrors she had endured and her language on the rare occasions when she did speak was of a foul and evil kind.

She Had Been Crucified.

She had been tied up across the rails of a bedstead and beaten unmercifully by two human fiends, day after day, so that her back was always a mass of welts and blood. One of the Sisters at the home where at length the persecuted child found a refuge, showed her a picture of Our Lord's Crucifixion, more than a year after her admission, whereupon the child shrank back almost in terror. "Oh," she said, "I was like that once." In another case seven children were rescued, but four of them, alas, too late!

Had Never Known a Kiss.

It was heart-rending, says the Baroness, to see the apparent inability of these children of 3 and 7 and 5 to understand what it meant to be kissed and loved.

Little Maud M. had been locked up and tied to a bedpost behind a cellar door, where her suppressed whimpering and wailing made the neighbors think a dog was kept there. When little Maud was rescued from the clutches of the woman to whose "motherly care" she had been entrusted she could neither walk nor talk and, though 5 years old, was just like a tiny baby.

Self Application of Electricity

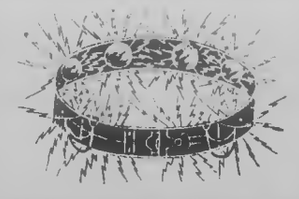
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod w

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

Yesterday's Session Developed Some Interesting Discussions—The License Inspector.

TORONTO, March 1.—The session of the House was mainly employed in the discussion of estimates yesterday.

Land and Charity.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on Mr. Mowat's bill to amend the law relating to Mortmain and Charitable Uses Mr. Meredith took exception to the fourth clause, which provides that when land is left to any charitable institution it shall, within a year, be turned into cash. He believed the time specified to be altogether too short. If real estate was in a state of stagnation at the time of the testator's death, and continued in that condition for the year following, the land under the provisions of the bill would then necessarily have to be sold at a disadvantage.

Mr. Mowat thought the hon. gentleman's conclusion was entirely erroneous, as a similar bill passed by the English House of Lords had, in that country, never been found to act detrimentally to those concerned.

Here Mr. Meredith interjected that the circumstances in the two instances were altogether different. Land in England was stable in price.

Mr. Mowat continued by remarking that again the hon. gentleman's statement was at variance with the facts. Some time ago his assertion might have been correct, but at the present moment the price of real estate in England was exceedingly low. He would, however, have no objection to making the time specified two years.

The committee then reported progress and asked leave to sit again.

That License Inspector.

The discussion in connection with the appointment of a new provincial inspector was continued. Mr. Harcourt delivered a vigorous speech in support of the appointee and read a resolution, couched in laudatory terms, which had been passed by the Ottawa City Council on Mr. Stewart's retirement from the position of alderman. This called forth the poignant strictures of R. H. Prescott of Leeds. That gentleman, among other things, thought that the motive prompting the passage of such resolutions was more often joy at seeing the recipient depart than otherwise. The inference was that such was the case in the present instance.

At this juncture two new members were introduced. The first, William Harty, Kingston, was accompanied by Oliver Mowat and Joe Tait. His advent was the signal for tumultuous applause from the Government benches. A similar scene was enacted when Henry Barr, North Renfrew, entered, supported by A. S. Hardy and J. Loughrin.

Mr. Tooley gave notice of motion asking that the Lieutenant-Governor be pleased, in accordance with a resolution passed by the County Council of Middlesex, to appoint Robert Buston, ex-warden, to the position of registrar of the country.

Political Economy.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 2.—In the Provincial Legislature yesterday Kellie (member for West Kootenay), rising to a question of privilege, drew the attention of the House to the fact that at the last sitting of the House last Wednesday he had been grossly insulted within the precincts of the House by Frank Barnard (member of the Dominion House of Commons for Cariboo). The said Barnard had called him "a traitor, a liar, a stinker, and told him to go to hell."

Kellie said: "Had such language been used to me anywhere but inside this House either Barnard or I would have bit the dust then and there, but having regard for the dignity of Parliament, which was at the time in session, I refrained from laying hands on him."

Kellie also said he had given Barnard time to apologize, but he had not done so, so as a last resource he had brought the matter before the House.

Hon. John Robson said he performed the painful duty in moving the appointment of a select committee consisting of himself, Hon. Robert Beaver, leader of the Opposition, and Colonel Baker, M. P. for East Kootenay, to enquire into all the circumstances, but he said members of the House must be protected from insult and if the offender had been his own brother instead of an intimate friend, as Barnard was, his action would be just the same.

The Select Committee will meet to-morrow morning and will report to the House.

The general feeling is that Barnard will be compelled to apologize at the bar of the House or else be prosecuted for his misdemeanor according to rules.

Another of Denman's Oddities.

LONDON, March 2.—In the House of Lords to-day Baron Denman, whose oddities the House usually pass over in silence, moved the repeal of the Local Government acts for England and Scotland on the ground that they had been passed in a hurry. The motion was rejected without debate.

Alfred Lytton to Marry Miss Balfour.

LONDON, March 2.—Alfred Lytton, nephew by marriage of Mr. Gladstone, is engaged to marry Miss Balfour, sister of Arthur Balfour, father of the Irish Local Government bill. She is a niece to the Marquis of Salisbury.

A RIDGETOWN ROMANCE.

A NEW MODE OF COMPLYING WITH AN OBJECTIONABLE WILL.

How Mrs. Benton of Ridgetown, Aged 61, Married William H. Plum of Jackson, Mich., Aged 21, in Order to Secure Her Cripple son Against Want—A Very Funny Case.

RIDGETOWN, Ont., March 2.—A paragraph has been going the rounds the past two or three days respecting the marriage of Mrs. Benton—not Bentley, as the despatches have it — the 61-year-old widow of a former well known hotelkeeper here, to a young lad named William H. Plumb of Jackson, Mich.

The marriage was the outcome of a clever scheme engineered by "Jimmy" Dart, station agent of the M.C.R. here, ex-mayor of the town, and who a few years ago won a provincial reputation as the "boy operator" in connection with another marriage he arranged in which he was one of the principals himself.

The Widow.

The Benton House here is known to every commercial traveler who has made the western circuit during the past 20 years. Several years ago Mr. Benton died and left property worth $8000 or $10,000, including the hotel. He had been twice married and had several children by the first wife. Before he died he made a will leaving his property to the widow during life. There was a clause in the will which provided that if she was to marry again the property was to revert at once to their only child, who is now 28 and a cripple. Should she die without marriage the will says the property is to be divided among the husband's heirs.

Mrs. Benton was of opinion that her husband made a mistake in the will. She believed that he fully intended the property to revert to the cripple, but in the face of the will was forced to conclude that her crippled son would be left a pauper, as it was too late in life for her to look for a husband.

Here's where Mr. Dart's ingenuity came in. He evolved a scheme to which the widow readily consented, and the two proceeded to Jackson, Mich., where the plan was successfully carried to its fruition.

The Bridegroom.

Dart and Mrs. Bentley put up at the Stowell House.

A friend was taken into their confidence. He hunted up a devil-may-care fellow named William H. Plumb, aged 21, slim, lank and boyish in appearance. It was explained to Plumb that Mrs. Benton wanted to get married real bad.

She didn't want to live with her husband, but just wanted to "hitch up" so her son could inherit some money. Plumb was introduced to Mrs. Benton, who told him that if he would consent to go through the ceremony she would pay him $10. He said that was better than laboring on the street at $1.25 a day, and he and Dart started after a license. The county clerk lost his reckoning when the old lady's age was announced and refused to take the affidavit. He afterwards did make it, and Justice Palmer tied the queer matrimonial knot, the old lady paying him $3 for his effort.

Dart took out the newly-made bridegroom immediately following the ceremony, together with the witnesses, and smashed off the necks of enough bottles of champagne to get all hands in an uproariously hilarious condition.

Mrs. Benton, or rather Mrs. Plumb, has returned home, leaving her boy-husband in Jackson. It is not likely they will meet again. Meantime her crippled son will inherit the property at once.

Whitecaps Visit this Old Lady.

BELFAST, Me., March 2.—Last night Whitecaps attacked the house of Ann French, the wealthy old lady of 90 who married the young pedlar Herbert Penny. They broke in the front door and ransacked the house. They found Penny half dressed hid in a hay mow with two revolvers and disarmed him. He was roughly handled, pelted with eggs and notified to leave town before to-night or he would be tarred and feathered and rode on a rail to the town line.

Penny captured one of the Whitecaps and locked him in a closet at the point of a revolver.

A RECIPROCITY RESOLUTION.

Introduced into the United States Congress by Representative Castle.

WASHINGTON, D.C., March 2.—In the House yesterday Representative Castle of Minnesota introduced a joint resolution expressing the desire of the American people, through their senators and representatives, for the renewal, as nearly as practicable, of the reciprocity treaty between the United States and Great Britain, signed on June 5, 1854, which concerned our trade and business relations with Canada.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—The U.S. Supreme Court has decided, in the worsted schedule case of Ballin, Joseph & Co. from the Circuit Court of New York, that the McKinley tariff law is valid. The decision upholds the power of the Speaker of the House of Representatives to count a quorum under the rules of the last House.

In all the protests in this and similar cases against the decisions of the General Appraisers, it was claimed by the importers that the McKinley law was invalid on account of the way in which ex-Speaker Reed counted a quorum of the members of the House, and by the omission of the tobacco rebate clause. The court holds that this omission does not make the bill illegal.

Indianapolis Strike Settled.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 2.—The street railway strike was practically settled at midnight, when Judge Taylor of the Supreme Court appointed Thomas Steele, the assistant superintendent recently discharged by President Frentzel, receiver of the company. Receiver Steele gave bonds in the sum of $10,000 and will start cars this morning.

The Missing Seniers.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., March 2.—Fifteen of the men driven off shore from Trinity perished by exposure. Ten are still missing. The north coast is barricaded with ice. A steamer sent to search for the missing was unable to get along and grave doubts are felt of their being found alive.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

LONDON ELECTION CASE IN THE COMMONS.

The List of Voters as Forwarded by the Clerk in Chancery Applied for by Hon. David Mills—Meeting of the Dominion Imperial Federation League.

OTTAWA, March 2.—Hon. David Mills introduced the London dispute in the House yesterday, moving that Clerk of Crown in Chancery be ordered to produce original voters' lists sent by Revising Officer to him and also list as printed. He said he understood the latter contained a number of names struck out of the original list, and if such was the case a grave irregularity had been committed, affecting the liberties of the people.

Mr. Laurier seconded the motion, for which he pleaded urgency as a question of privilege.

Sir John Thompson said this was the first he had heard of the allegation such as that made by Mr. Mills, and asked that the motion stand until the next sitting, to which Mr. Mills consented.

Notes.

On Thursday Hon. Mr. Ogilvie will move that the Senate adjourn till Wednesday, the 16th inst.

A deputation of brewers to-day asked Sir John Thompson and Hon. Mr. Foster to restore the duty on malt from 2 cents per pound to the old rate of 1 cent per pound. The Premier promised consideration. The visitors included Messrs. O'Keefe and Cosgrave, Toronto, and Mr. Scott, Montreal, representing the Dominion Company.

Before the Senate rose yesterday Hon. J. J. C. Abbott gave notice that he would on Thursday move addresses of condolence with Her Majesty and the Prince and Princess of Wales on the sad bereavement which had befallen them in the death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale.

A large number of interested parties attended the Supreme Court to-day, the rumor being current that judgment would be given in the Welland and North Perth election cases. Mr. German was among those present. No judgment was rendered and the court will adjourn to-night until Monday, so that the decision in either will not be known this week.

PROHIBITION.

No Bill Will Be Introduced Into Parliament This Session.

OTTAWA, March 2.—A meeting of the Legislative Committee of the Dominion Alliance was held this forenoon in the tower room of the House of Commons. There were present Senator Vidal, in the chair, and Messrs. A. S. Spence, McLaren, Q.C., Dougall, Montreal; Rev. Mr. Wood, Ottawa; Rev. Mr. Chown, Perth, in addition to a number of members of Parliament who are also temperance men.

A discussion took place as to the appointment of a leader of the temperance men in Parliament in the place of Mr. Jamieson, who was promoted to a judgeship. Mr. A. R. Dickey was offered the position and declined. Mr. Scriver's name was also suggested and he also refused to accept. This matter was therefore left in abeyance.

A discussion then took place on the question of submitting a prohibitory resolution the same as last year

Mr. Bain and Dr. McDonald (Huron) adverted to the idea of commencing the work of temperance among the people rather than in the House.

Mr. McMullen endorsed the remarks of Dr. McDonald and Mr. Bain. "I have," he said, "been 10 years in Parliament. I have voted for every temperance resolution that has been presented to Parliament since I entered it. There is one township in my riding which is so strongly temperance that the electors will not permit a licensed place in it, yet at the last general election there were 212 of a majority of votes against me in favor of my opponent, who was a brewer and a large maltster."

Mr. McLaren: There is some work to be done there.

After a lengthy discussion on the question it was decided not to introduce a prohibition resolution this session in view of the appointment of a royal commission. A resolution was passed to this effect, being moved by Mr. Dougall and seconded by Mr. Scriver.

A resolution was also passed asking the Government that in view of the introduction of the license system in the Northwest Territories the Government strengthen the hands of the temperance people in the other parts of the territories. The friends of temperance in Parliament were authorized to divide the House on any question affecting temperance principles if they considered it desirable.

A MISPLACED SWITCH.

Collision at Milwaukee—A Passenger Train Dashes Into a Train Filled With Mechanics.

MILWAUKEE, March 2.—The Watertown local train due at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon ran into and demolished the rear end of a train loaded with the employes of the West Milwaukee shops of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, killing 7 men.

The trains were moving in the same direction, the workmen's train having just left the main track on a short switch and strung itself out on the track parallel with the main line. The switchman, Emil Bartel, failed to turn the switch after the workmen's train passed and when the local a moment later came along it plunged into the work train.

The men killed were terribly mangled.

The engineer of the local, when he saw the switch, reversed his engine, but not soon enough to avert the disaster.

The men killed were mechanics living in the city. The bodies were taken to the Morgue and the work of identification began.

The engine and baggage car of the local and four cars of the workmen's train were derailed, but none of the local passengers were injured.

After Their Day's Work Was Done

The seven mechanics killed had just finished their day's work in the shops of the company and were returning to their homes in the city with about 175 or 200 others.

The occupants of the workmen's coach had no warning whatever of impending danger and a strange part of the accident is there was but one injured and that one but slightly.

The work of recovering bodies was begun at once. Patrol wagons and ambulances were soon at hand and in half an hour all had been removed to the morgue.

Bartel, the careless switchman, was arrested at 8 o'clock this evening.

Obituary.

The Death of Andrew Tully, Closes a Career That was Full of Romance.

The following from the Easton (Pa.) Free Press, refers to a gentleman, cousin of Mr. Robert Tully, town, and Mr. Wm. Tully, Monaghan, and nephew of Mr. Wm. Tully, 4th line, Smith:—Andrew R. Tally, a late resident of New York, died at the home of his cousin, Mrs. J. H. Dunning, at Deckertown, N.J., on Wednesday the 17th, and was buried Saturday in the family plot, in the Easton Cemetery, of his cousin, the late Rev. Andrew Tully, of Portland, one of the earliest graduates of Lafayette College.

The earlier life of Andrew R. Tully was full of romance. His father, David Tully, emigrated from Scotland to the Earl of Selkirk's settlement in British North America. After being there a year the crops failed and winter coming on, starvation faced the colony, and the settlers set out for a Southern section, having as their objective point, Fort Snelling, Minnesota.

Before reaching the Fort the colony were set upon by a band of Sioux Indians, and a terrible massacre occurred. Mr. Tully, being a small boy, witnessed the massacre of his father mother and sister.

The massacre was a frightful one, and only two survived—two boys—Andrew R. and John Tully who were rescued from the savages by an old squaw, who took pity on them. These two boys were in captivity for several months, when Major Clark, commanding at Fort Snelling, hearing of the massacre and that there were two white boys in captivity, went the following Spring with two companies to the Sioux headquarters and traded some trifling effects for the boys and brought them to the Fort. John died in the Fort from a scalp wound received in the massacre. Andrew R. was taken in charge by Major Clark, and afterward was brought to New York and placed in the New York Orphan Asylum. This asylum was founded by Mrs. Graham, the mother of Mrs. Divie Bethune, both of whom in their day were noted for their philanthropic works. Mrs. Bethune was a writer of merit, and composed a very touching poem illustrative of the early life of Andrew Tully, which he spoke on an exhibition day, and she was so impressed by the boy that she took him out of the asylum to educate him.

The late Rev. Andrew Tully, of Portland, then a young man, having heard of the massacre and the slaughter of the Tully family, started out from his father's house, in Canada, to find trace of this cousin. After searching through institutions in several cities, he found him at Mrs. Bethune's.

That evening he met at Mrs. Bethune's Rev. Dr. Junkin, then just starting Lafayette College, and instead of returning home to Canada, Rev. Tully came on to Easton and graduated from Lafayette in 1837.

Between the two cousins there had always existed a strong attachment, and Andrew R. expressed the wish to be buried by the side of his cousin, Rev. Andrew Tully. In obedience to this wish his remains were brought to Easton for burial Saturday. They were attended by Rev. Wm. K. Tully, of Fort Wingate N. M., A. C. Tully, of New York, and J. H Dunning, of Deckertown, N. Y The exercises at the grave were conducted by Rev. E. Clarke Cline, of Phillipsburg, and Chaplain Tully.

The early life of the deceased has been told in a book entitled "Three Score and Ten," by Mrs Charlotte O. VanCleve, wife of the late Adjutant General of Minnesota, who is the only person now living who was present at the fort when he was brought there by her father, Major Clarke, after the rescue.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

Mount Pleasant.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very pleasant time was spent at the tea and concert given last Friday evening by the Mount Pleasant Sunday school. The tea was partaken of in the Temperance hall by a large number, whose appetites and relishes were improved by the merry strains of the orchestra. The concert was held in the Presbyterian church where a very entertaining programme was carried out. The children of the school sang the opening piece after which the Rev. John Ewing offered up a prayer. J. D. Deney gave an appropriate reading, the choir of the church rendered two excellent selections. R. R. Hall, Esq., (of the law firm of Stratton & Hall) Peterborough, Rev. Thompson, of Omemee, Mr. W. S. Graham and Rev. John Ewing, Mount Pleasant, and Rev. Robt. Johnson of Lindsay very ably addressed the meeting. Miss Eva Elliott gave a choice vocal selection and Miss B. Cooke of Cavanville, with Mrs. John Newton, as accompanist, rendered two vocal pieces, with such a pleasing and accomplished taste as to make her the favorite of the evening. A kindergarten quartette was sung with great care and good effect. The scholars sang the closing piece after which the Rev. Mr. Thomson pronounced the benediction and closed one of the most successful entertainments of the season. Mr. James McLean, superintendent ably acted as chairman. The proceeds amounted to about $45.

Mrs John Best, of Peterborough, and Miss Lily Best, of Maganetawan, were in town last week.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

It is with feelings of regret that we reco d the demise of Mrs. John Frost, who expired on Wednesday morning, the 24th ult., after a short illness. The deceased was a kind and loving mother, and will be sadly missed by the bereaved husband and family. We deeply sympathize with them in their great loss. Mr. Frost was absent in the shanties and returned home, in answer to a telegram, to find his wife laid in her grave.

We also regret to learn that death has cut down one of the first settlers in this township in the person of Mrs. McCallum. The deceased lady was 95 years of age. She was a general favourite of all who knew her, and will be missed by her old acquaintances.

The deceased lady was a native of Inverary, Scotland, and came to this country with her husband, the late Zachariah McCallum, in 1818. Her maiden name was Isabella McIntyre, and she was a daughter of Duncan McIntyre, the Scottish poet, whose name is recorded in Campbell's collection of Scottish poets.

It is an unusual occurrence to have three deaths to chronicle in one week, and it is with feelings of sorrow that we record the death of Mr. Peter Gillespie, son of the late Alex. Gillespie. The deceased was in poor health for some time, and death relieved him of his earthly sufferings on Friday, 26th ult. His remains were followed to the Keene Cemetery on Sunday afternoon by a large concourse of friends and neighbours, where his body was deposited in its final resting place. We tender our sympathy to the widow and family in their sad bereavement.

The Keene Methodist Sunday School is in a very prosperous condition at present which must be gratifying to Dr. Harrison the Superintendent, who has been so untiring in his labors and efforts to promote the Spiritual welfare of the young in this place. During the past year the attendance has considerably increased and a large number of the pupils have professed a change of heart and joined the church which shows that the Lord is blessing the labors of the teachers. We wish the school every success.

The Christian Endeavour Society meets in this place every Tuesday evening. We are happy to learn that many of the young people are taking an active part in the meetings, and we trust that by God's help much good will result from their labors during this year.

We are very sorry to learn that Joseph, eldest son of Mr. George Hunter, is very ill. We hope that he will speedily recover and soon be able to associate with his companions again.

Neilson's Realistic Stage Weeping.

"There never was an actress who could command her lachrymal glands as Adelaide Neilson," said handsome Jack Barnes, of Jefferson's company.

"I was her leading man at one time," continued Jack, "and I learned her peculiar faculty in this way to my cost. At that time I rather fancied myself, don't you know, in such parts as Romeo and the like, and I went to considerable expense in dressing.

"For Romeo I had some lovely dresses, all silk, satin, and lace, and of the most delicate 'evening shades,' as the ladies say. A delicate pale blue jacket was my favorite in one of the scenes between Romeo and Juliet, and I was awful sorry I had it before the season was over.

"After a few performances I noticed that the beautiful pale blue silk on the front of my costume was stained in some way. There were long streaks I could not account for.

"That night Neilson and I were in one of the pathetic love scenes of 'Romeo and Juliet.' Her head rested on my breast. She looked up. I turned her face to the audience a moment, which at once burst into tumultuous applause. I saw the tears streaming down her cheeks.

"I glanced at my costume and saw the cause of the stains. Here were several fresh, wet streaks on the handsome pale blue silk make by Juliet's tears. I tried to hold her head away from me, but costumes had to be sacrificed to art, and when the season was over my costume was a striped instead of a plain blue silk, the change having been caused by Juliet's too realistic tears."—Chicago Post.

Matthew Arnold's Niece.

But few people seem to be aware that Mrs. Humphry Ward of "Robert Elsmere" fame, and whose new book, "David Grieve," is the literary sensation of the hour in London, is the niece of Matthew Arnold, to whose unfriendly and unjustifiable criticisms of America and the Americans must be attributed much of the prejudice that exists among untraveled Englishmen against this country.

Mrs. Ward is, moreover, a granddaughter of the Dr. Arnold of Rugby renown and of "Tom Brown Schoolboy" days. She was born in Pennsylvania, and is married to the principal art critic of the London Times. She is an admirer of Mary Anderson, whom she has portrayed as the heroine in her novel, "Miss Bretherton," which she published eight years ago.

Microscopic Marvels.

The microscope has revealed many wonders, among others that the common caterpillar has 4,000 muscles in his body; that the drone bee's eyes each contain 1,300 mirrors, and that the large prominent eyes of the brilliant dragon flies are each furnished with 28,000 polished lenses.

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which may do not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

Some interesting statistics in regard to the phenomenal crops harvested in North Dakota last year have been collected by the commissioner of agriculture and labor of that state for publication in his annual report. The report is very exhaustive, dealing with the counties in detail, and show that in 1890 North Dakota had 2,613,314 acres sown with wheat, giving a yield of 27,554,611 bushels, or ten bushels and a fraction to the acre, and that in 1891 2,-865,502 acres were planted with wheat, the total yield being 64,713,328 bushels, an average of over twenty-two bushels and a half to the acre. Of other crops raised in the state the figures for last year are: Oats, 17,871,528; barley, 5,270,635; flax, 1,214,-018, and rye, 310,067 bushels.

The daughter of a revolutionary soldier died at Darien, Conn., last week in the person of Mrs. Betsey Mather Lockwood. Her father, Deacon Joseph Mather, of the same town, was at the taking of Ticonderoga and at the siege of Montreal. Her grandfather, Dr. Moses Mather, pastor of the Darien church, was taken from his pulpit one Sunday by British soldiers and carried to New York, where he was confined in a prison ship. Mrs. Lockwood was granted a pension by special act of Congress in view not only of her father's military service but also of large pecuniary losses which his patriotism caused him to suffer. His daughter's age at her death was ninety-seven years nine months and three days. The names of but two daughters of revolutionary soldiers now remain on the pension rolls.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

THE "SUN LIFE"
ASSURANCE CO. OF CANADA.

HEAD OFFICE, - - - - MONTREAL.

The year 1891 has been the Banner Year in the History of the Sun Life.

The Gross Applications for the year in the Life Department amounted to the enormous total of $5,901,000.00, an amount greatly exceeding that touched by the Company in any previous year, and it is believed no other Canadian Company has ever totaled a like amount in any one year.

THE SURPLUS PROFITS

have increased to even a greater extent than the new business, thus plainly indicating that the unbounded confidence placed in this great Financial Institution by the Canadian public, has not been misplaced.

A Heavy Haul.

Mr. John Hunter's team drew the enormous load of 193 bushels and 27 pounds of barley from Otonabee to Peterborough one day last week. The distance drawn was over seven miles. It is about two miles from his residence to the main road, and the load, over four and a half tons, had to be drawn over a very rough and hilly road. He came by Ashburnham and the bridge was bare but his team managed to draw the load over without much bother.

"The Irish Broom-Maker."

There was a large attendance in the Sunday school room of St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, last evening, to witness the novel production of "The Irish Broom Maker." The entertainment was given under the auspices of the young people of the Sunday school. Rev. J. W. McCleary, pastor, filled the position of chairman. The first number on the programme was an introductory selection, by the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. J. Butcher, finely rendered. Mr. J. J. Turner, jr, then sang "There Goes McCormack." He was loudly encored. Then followed a dialogue by Masters R. Turner and Willie Armstrong, entitled "The Wonderful Gun." A mouth organ duet by Messrs. Edwards and Flack was finely rendered and encored. Another selection by the orchestra was followed by Mr. J. J. Turner and Miss Lizzie Long singing a character song. The entertainment concluded with a comic play in seven acts "The Irish Broom-maker."

Lent at St. John's.

Lent ushers in the year at St. John's church extra services, meetings and increased spiritual activities, as in other years. A letter from the rector was placed in the hands of the congregation on Sunday, indicating a definite direction for the efforts of the congregation during the season. It also contained the announcements of the services and meetings to be held. There was a service held this morning at 11 o'clock with a good attendance, and this evening at 8 o'clock the first of a special Wednesday evening series of addresses will be delivered. The subject this evening will be "Glimpses of the Church of England." The speaker will be Rev. J. C. Davidson. Next week a special layman's meeting will be held for which arrangements are in progress. The leading spirit will be Major Mayne, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, who has a splendid reputation as a speaker of experience and ability.

The "Queen's" Prize Problem.

Mr. A. and Mr. B. have to cut down a mighty tree. The time 'twill take for Mr. A. this mighty tree alone to slay, is sixty minutes—standard time. Beneath B's blow, the bulk sublime goes to the ground in half that time. The question now we ask of thee is, how long 'twill take to cut this tree if both begin—one on each side—and thus their labour to divide?

The Queen will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fined Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in the February issue of The Queen. Valuable special prizes will be given for the first correct answers from each Province. Each person answering must enclose ten three cent stamps for "THE CANADIAN QUEEN GALOP," the latest and most popular piece of fifty-cent copyrighted music issued during the past year JUST OUT together with sample copy of The Queen. The only object of offering these prizes is to increase the circulation of The Queen, which already is the largest of any publication in Canada. Every prize winner is expected to add to our yearly subscription list. By sending to-day you may secure a valuable prize. Address The Canadian Queen, "X," Toronto, Can.

Board of Education.

A Short and Uneventful Session Held Last Evening.

One of the shortest meetings which the Board of Education has held in many years took place in their rooms in the Collegiate last night. The following members were present — Messrs. Wrighton, chairman, McBain, Deane, Rutherford, Hamilton, Corkery, McKee, Ferguson, Hartley, Dr. Barnham, Stevenson and Hill.

The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, which were adopted.

The following communications were read:

From J. Coyle Brown, asking to be appointed public school inspector of the town, as he thought he could attend to the duties much better than an outsider.—Referred to the Committee on Appointments.

From the Smead-Dowd Company of Toronto, asking that the balance of $244 due on apparatus for public school be paid by check—Referred to Finance Committee the account if satisfactory to be paid.

From Town Clerk Cobb stating in answer to a request, that the average amount contributed for school purposes by each public school supporter, according to 1891 assessment was $9.75—Received.

Reports from the principals of schools showing the total and average attendance for the month of February:—

On motion of Dr. Burnham and Mr. McKee the report was adopted.

Dr. Burnham moved, seconded by W. Hill, that the chairman and secretary-treasurer be authorized to borrow the sum of twenty thousand dollars from the Ontario Bank for the use of the Board for current expenses.—Carried.

Dr. Tilley, Inspector, called the attention of the members to a lithograph stone which the board ordered some two months ago for printing certificates in any quantity wanted at a cost of about five cents each. These certificates are to be presented to all pupils obtaining honors in the promotion examinations, sixty five per cent. or over.

Moved by Mr. Stevenson, seconded by Mr. McBain, that the treasurer be paid $50 on account.—Carried.

The board adjourned at 8.30 o'clock.

A meeting of the Property Committee was held afterwards, when Mr. Stevenson retired from the position of chairman of the committee on account of absence from the town. Mr. McKee was appointed chairman in his stead.

Vital Statistics.

The vital statistics for the month are:—Births, 27; marriages, 12; deaths, 19. This large number of deaths were caused mostly by pulmonary affections of complications arising from la grippe. The cause of the deaths were as follows:—

Inflammation of lungs	1
La grippe	1
Heart failure	1
Premature birth	5
Double bronchitis	2
Pneumonia	3
Senile decay	1
Convulsions	1
Accidentally shot	1
Acute congestion of the lungs	1
Old Age	2

According to the ninth annual report of the Medical Health return of the Province, Dr. Clark, town medical health officer, gives the number of deaths in 1889 at 124, and in 1890 at 12.0 the death rate per thousand being on 12 85 one of the lowest, if not the lowest rate of any city or town in the Dominion. He thinks the low rate is owing to the sanitary work done by the town which reduced the rate some 19 per cent, The number of infectious diseases during the year 1890 were:—Typhoid fever, 6; scarlet fever, 32; diphtheria, 3; bounce placarded, 19.

Alice Rayner, Rumbel St., St. Thomas, Ont. Was the fortunate person to secure the elegant GOLD WATCH from the LADIES' PICTORIAL WEEKLY'S (of Toronto, Ontario.) Prize Competition for Friday. Watches and other prizes given away daily. Send two three cent stamps for particulars.

Annual Missionary Meeting.

Held in the Murray Street Baptist Church Last Evening—A Large Attendance And a Successful Year.

Last evening the annual meeting of the W. B. M. C. was held in the basement of the Murray street Baptist Church. There was a good representation of the church and congregation present. Mrs. Ellis, president of Foreign Missions presided. After the singing of a hymn and scripture reading, prayer was offered by Miss Nicholls. Reports were then presented showing the work of the year. According to the secretary's report, the amount received for Home Missions was $65 22, and for Foreign Missions, $84 62. A report of the Mission Band was read by the secretary, Miss M. A. Nicholls, also a report of the Y.P.S.C.E work was read by Miss Mann. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

PRESIDENT—Mrs. (Rev.) Trotter.
1ST VICE PRESIDENT—Mrs. Hunter.
2ND VICE-PRESIDENT—Mrs Ellis.
SECRETARY—Miss M. A. Nicholls.
TREASURER (for Home Missions)—Miss A. Branch.
TREASURER (for Foreign Missions)—Mrs. Colville.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. McDonald for her services as Foreign Missions Treasurer, also to Mrs. Aldridge for a beautiful motto presented to the Circle.

A recitation was then given by Miss Ida Taylor, which was well received. A reading by Mrs. (Rev.) Trotter and a song entitled "Calvary," by Mrs. Scott were well rendered. Miss Ella Stratton then read an instructive paper on Baptist Home Missions prepared by Mrs. (Dr.) Hunter. The pastor, Rev. J. E. Trotter, then gave an interesting address on missions. He dealt with the subject in relation to the heathen world, and the church's relation to the heathen. The church choir furnished appropriate music during the evening. Refreshments, sumptuous and appetizing, were served by the ladies at the close. During the evening a collection was taken up amounting to $4.

Personal.

Col. Rogers, Postmaster, who has been ill for the past fortnight with la grippe, is convalescent.

Messrs. N. D. and C. R. Phalen, of Halifax, N.S., who have been residing in the town for the past two months, left this morning for Detroit.

A report was current on the streets this morning that Mr. A. P. Pousette was dead. This we are happy to deny. His condition still continues to improve.

Rev. J. T. Hartley, assistant to Rev. Canon Harding, of St. George's church, Apsley, was in town last evening. Mr. Hartley has lately come out from England, to engage in mission work.

—Several desks in the Collegiate which were not required for use were yesterday removed to Principal McKay's room in the South Ward School, which is very much crowded.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

OUR BOARD OF TRADE

After a Year of Gratifying Prosperity

Held their Annual Meeting—The Secretary's Able Report Presented — And Carefully Considered—Action Arising from it—A Large Accession of New Members—Officers for the Current Year —A most Successful Annual Meeting.

The Peterborough Board of Trade, after a year of great prosperity, held its annual meeting in the council chamber last night. There were present, the President, Mr. W. H. Meldrum in the chair, the Secretary, Hampden Burnham, Messrs. W. Manson, Geo. W. Rannev, R. McWhinnie, J. P. Hurley, T. F. Matthews, G. B. Sproule, R Mulholland, W. G. Bain, Adam Hall, Jas. Keadry, H. S. McDonald, A. L. Davis, Charles Wynn, Macfarlane Wilson, Robert Fair, R J. Winch, J. W. T. Fairweather, H. Thompson, D. W. Dumble, J. E. Boucher, E. B. Rogers, W. A. Stratton, F. H. Dobbin and G. A. Schofield.

After routine, the president laid his address on the table, which will be given in tomorrow's issue.

This was followed by the

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the President and Members of the Board of Trade.

GENTLEMEN:—

At the first meeting of the year the question of sewerage was brought up. Since then it has been considered by the proper committee of the Board who are anxious that the Board should express a general opinion at this the first meeting held since the handing in of the engineer's report. There is a widely spread feeling that the health of the municipality has not been protected as it might have been.

When the street railway matter was first brought before the public your committees left no measures untried whereby they might assist in furthering and protecting the interests of the town.

It may be observed that the statute of Canada, creating boards of trade gives them very great opportunities for effectively looking after public affairs within the district of each one. In fact it is doubtful if any body within the contemplation of the laws of the Dominion has more real power.

A very practical undertaking just brought to a successful issue by this Board is the organization of the Merchant's Mutual Protective Association for the town and county. Many plans have been presented at various times by travelling agents to the merchants of the town, but few of them have stood the test of your committee's investigation. Those that were sound were also expensive so that they must necessarily be of limited local membership. It is manifest that unless the local membership be large subscribers will not be able to make to stamp out the system of getting credit without any intention of paying or to make delinquent debtors pay up as far as possible. This local association has been established, however, upon a sound and economical basis starting with a large membership. Your committee recommend the appointment of Mr Mahoney as registrar.

Trade has been good this year, and the farmers are in improved circumstances. The reports received by your secretary indicate a healthy condition of business. The tendency to over do merchant-trading has subsided although there is a sufficient number of places of business. Failures have been few and unimportant.

People became aware last summer of something quite new in the history of the town, viz, the comparative failure of the water supply, both for manufacturing and navigation. The board proceeded without delay to inquire into the causes of the scarcity and your secretary there upon addressed a long letter to the Minister of Railways and Canals at Ottawa asking the department to give its attention to the large system of [illegible] in the north country not yet under [illegible]vision of either the Local or the House. The minister promptly [illegible]y directing the local superintendent

[illegible]PARE AN EXHAUSTIVE REPORT [illegible]he subject. The engineer has made his report, and from the nature of it, it may be said that both navigation and manufacturing will receive a great benefit. This action on the part of the Board hitherto, should be followed up until the great danger to our water supply is effectually removed.

A great deal of time was spent upon the Trent Valley Canal project, more especially in securing the co-operation of the boards of trade along the water way, and of the cities in the Northwest. Nothing new remains to be reported with respect to it.

Your secretary has written far and wide, and despatched circulars to the four quarters of the globe. He has received acknowledgments and reports from many distant places, showing that the distribution of circulars serves at least to keep Peterborough in the public mind. Boards of trade have exchanged reports with this board and your secretary has been careful to keep a cordial relationship with them.

The railway crossings continue unprotected and dangerous. As the town will, without the necessary gates, be largely liable in case of accidents, the Board has more than once expressed its opinion that the matter with a view of removing this source of danger.

It is submitted that it would be well for the Board to direct the attention of the Municipal Committee of this Board to some scheme whereby the current expenses of the town may be met without a resort to high assessments and taxation. It is recommended that a request be made to the honorable body of town councillors looking to the publication in the newspapers or otherwise of the assessment roll. It is believed that this, if done only for one year, would be a matter of public gratification and information.

It is further recommended that a request be made for a more explicit report from the town auditors in order that the ratepayers may the more easily view the state of the town's finances.

STATISTICS—There have been held eight general meetings, ten committee meetings, five council meetings, and ten sub-committee meetings. The members number 75.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

It is submitted that the action of the Board of Health is not altogether satisfactory. On an examination of their annual report for 1890 p 37-38 of Governmental returns just to hand, under the heading of "Slaughter-houses," it will be seen that the citizens are expected to act as their own board of health. A few facts will illustrate: "On this question matters reached a climax during the year. Last winter a new slaughter-house having been established at the southern part of the town without permission from the Board of Health, residents in that locality urged the removal of all slaughter-houses and even communicated with the Provincial Board on the subject. Such strong pressure was made, numerous influential deputations making vigorous representations of the nuisance, that the Board found it necessary to withdraw permission from all slaughter-houses within the corporation," places "which although kept can hardly be other than nuisances." With all due deference and paternal regard for the local Board it is submitted by your committee on this report, that they do not appreciate their true and proper functions which are to guard the public rather than that the public should have to warn them. It is further advised that some action be taken with reference to the filling up of Spalding's bay with saw-dust which, as medical authorities say, is likely to make it a hot-bed of infectious diseases when the rotting process has set in.

The report itself upholds this view; "when the masses (that is piles of sawdust in Little Lake) begin to decay, should houses be built upon them there would be some risk to the occupants. In other parts of Canada many cases of typhoid fever have originated from that cause."

The reading of this comprehensive and carefully prepared report was received with applause.

Mr. I. A. Hay moved the reception of the report.

Mr. F. H. DOBBIN, in the absence of Mr Peblow, chairman, reported the formation of the Merchants' Mutual Protective Association, whose general object is to assist merchants and business men in the collection of dubious debts, and the distribution among the members of information as to those persons who have a chronic and practical objection to paying their debts, and who are, by reason of this moral eccentricity, unsafe persons to give credit to.

The report was adopted.

The secretary's report was then brought up for discussion.

THE REPORT DISCUSSED.

Mr. DUMBLE, referring to sewerage, said he supposed the council in dealing with so large an undertaking would be glad to get an expression of opinion from every quarter. He thought the question of a sewerage system should be regarded with reference to the future growth of the town, so as not to waste public money by replacing a system that might, by growth of the town, have become inadequate to sewerage needs. He spoke of the precipitation system, but its expense was an objection. He did not think that the proposed system of sewerage would for many years be a source of river pollution worth considering. The time had come he thought when the question of sewerage construction should be practically attacked.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Hay, that in the opinion of this Board it is expedient that the proposed system of sewerage be proceeded with and that it be built in sections, the most urgently needed first.

Mr. MULHOLLAND said if the adoption of the resolution would stimulate the town council to prompt action he would heartily support it. Sewerage was one of the most urgent needs of the town.

MAYOR KENDEY said the town council proposed acting as promptly as possible. It was proposed, as soon as the engineer's plans had been approved by the government that a public meeting should be called to exhaustively discuss the question.

THE DEADLY LEVEL CROSSINGS.

The question of unprotected level crossings was brought up, and a general discussion followed. Messrs. Geo. B Sproule, A. L. Davis, the secretary, Mr. Mulholland and Mr. Dumble gave instances of the great danger to the public from trains at the unprotected railway crossings.

Mr. Sproule, moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that the town council be requested to use their efforts to have gates placed at the railway crossings without delay, and that in the meantime flagmen be placed at the crossings, and that attention be called to the immoderate rate at which the regular Toronto trains enter the town on the Omemee branch.—Carried.

Mr. Fair, moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that this Board approve of the action of the town council in deciding, to have the assessment rolls published, and a more detailed report of the auditors, also.

NEW MEMBERS.

The election of new members was then proceeded with, the following being balloted for and duly elected:

Dr. Boucher, Dr. King, Dr. Fife, Dr. Brennan, Dr. Scott, P. Campbell, Bank of Toronto, Dr. Pigeon. A. Mercer & Co.. H. A. Mulhern, Thos. Kelly, A. Ross, dentist, R H. Gross, W. J. Devlin, R. D. Hamilton, C. B. Rowley, W. R. Greatrex, Jas. Marty, J. J. Howden, W. B. Ferguson, (Rathbarn Company), F. C. Anthony, T. A. McMarty, Brown Bros., Frank Mercer, J. Jamieson, Alf. Macdonald, Geo. W. Rabidge, W. G. Hewden, J. P. McGarrity, Jas. Galvin, R. Parker, Thos. Moore, R. Nimmo, W. H. Manning, Geo. Powell, G. B. Sproule, Clarke & Gibson, M. Quinlan, J. Armstrong, W. Campbell, H. S. THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS for the current year, resulted as follows:—

VICE-PRESIDENT—E. Peplow.

SEC'T-TREASURER—Hampden Burnham.

Messrs. Barnham and T. A. Hay were appointed a committee to nominate the members of the council.

Mr. Macfarlane Wilson and Mr. G. A. Schofield were appointed auditors.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. McWhinnie, that it would be advantageous both to the town and the railway to have the latter extend its line to the village of Young's Point.

The Board adjourned sine die.

OUR BOARD OF TRADE

After a Year of Gratifying Prosperity

Held their Annual Meeting—The Secretary's Able Report Presented — And Carefully Considered—Action Arising from it—A Large Accession of New Members—Officers for the Current Year —A most Successful Annual Meeting.

The Peterborough Board of Trade, after a year of great prosperity, held its annual meeting in the council chamber last night. There were present, the President, Mr. W. H. Meldrum in the chair, the Secretary, Hampden Burnham, Messrs. W. Manson, Geo. W. Rumney, R. McWhinnie, J. P. Hurley, T. F. Matthews, G. B. Sproule, R. Mulholland, W. G. Bain, Adam Hall, Jas. Keadey, H. S. McDonald, A. L. Davis, Charles Wynn, Macfarlane Wilson, Robert Fair, P. J. Winch, J. W. T. Fairweather, H. Thompson, D. W. Dumble, J. E. Belcher, R. B. Rogers, W. A. Stratton, F. H. Dobbin and G. A. Schofield.

After routine, the president laid his address on the table, which will be given in to-morrow's issue.

This was followed by the

THE SECRETARY'S REPORT.

To the President and Members of the Board of Trade.

GENTLEMEN:—

At the first meeting of the year the question of sewerage was brought up. Since then it has been considered by the proper committee of the Board who are anxious that the Board should express a general opinion at this the first meeting held since the handing in of the engineer's report. There is a widely spread feeling that the health of the municipality has not been protected as it might have been.

When the street railway matter was first brought before the public your committees left no measures untried whereby they might assist in furthering and protecting the interests of the town.

It may be observed that the statute of Canada, creating boards of trade gives them very great opportunities for effectively looking after public affairs within the district of each one. In fact it is doubtful if any body within the contemplation of the laws of the Dominion has more real power.

A very practical undertaking just brought to a successful issue by this Board is the organization of the Merchant's Mutual Protective Association for the town and county. Many plans have been presented at various times by travelling agents to the merchants of the town, but few of them have stood the test of your committee's investigation. Those that were sound were also expensive so that they must necessarily be of limited local membership. It is manifest that unless the local membership be large subscribers will not be able to make to stamp out the system of getting credit without any intention of paying or to make delinquent debtors pay up as far as possible. This local association has been established, however, upon a sound and economical basis starting with a large membership. Your committee recommend the appointment of Mr Mahoney as registrar.

Trade has been good this year, and the farmers are in improved circumstances. The reports received by your secretary indicate a healthy condition of business. The tendency to over do merchant-trading has subsided although there is a sufficient number of places of business. Failures have been few and unimportant.

People became aware last summer of something quite new in the history of the town, viz., the comparative failure of the water supply, both for manufacturing and navigation. The board proceeded without delay to inquire into the causes of the scarcity and your secretary there upon addressed a long letter to the Minister of Railways and Canals at Ottawa asking the department to give its attention to the large system of reservoirs in the north country not yet under the supervision of either the Local or the Dominion House. The minister promptly responded by directing the local superintendent upon the subject. The engineer has made his report, and from the nature of it, it may be said that both navigation and manufacturing will receive a great benefit. This action on the part of the Board hitherto, should be followed up until the great danger to our water supply is effectually removed.

A great deal of time was spent upon the Trent Valley Canal project, more especially in securing the co-operation of the boards of trade along the water way, and of the cities in the Northwest. Nothing new remains to be reported with respect to it.

Your secretary has written far and wide, and despatched circulars to the four quarters of the globe. He has received acknowledgments and reports from many distant places, showing that the distribution of circulars serves at least to keep Peterborough in the public mind. Boards of trade have exchanged reports with this board and your secretary has been careful to keep a cordial relationship with them.

The railway crossings continue unprotected and dangerous. As the town will, without the necessary gates, be largely liable in case of accidents, the Board has more than once expressed its opinion that the matter with a view of removing this source of danger.

It is submitted that it would be well for the Board to direct the attention of the Municipal Committee of this Board to some scheme whereby the current expenses of the town may be met without a resort to high assessments and taxation. It is recommended that a request be made to the honorable body of town councillors looking to the publication in the newspapers or otherwise of the assessment roll. It is believed that this, if done only for one year, would be a matter of public gratification and information.

It is further recommended that a request be made for a more explicit report from the town auditors in order that the ratepayers may the more easily view the state of the town's finances.

STATISTICS—There have been held eight general meetings, ten committee meetings, five council meetings, and ten sub-committee meetings. The members number 75.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

It is submitted that the action of the Board of Health is not altogether satisfactory. On an examination of their annual report for 1890 p 37-38 of Governmental returns just to hand, under the heading of "Slaughter-houses," it will be seen that the citizens are expected to act as their own board of health. A few facts will illustrate: "On this question matters reached a climax during the year. Last winter a new slaughter-house having been established at the southern part of the town without permission from the Board of Health, residents in that locality urged the removal of all slaughter-houses and even communicated with the Provincial Board on the subject. Such strong pressure was made, numerous influential deputations making vigorous representations of the nuisance, that the Board found it necessary to withdraw permission from all slaughter-houses within the corporation," places "which although kept can hardly be other than nuisances." With all due deference and paternal regard for the local Board it is submitted by your committee on this report, that they do not appreciate their true and proper functions which are to guard the public rather than that the public should have to warn them. It is further advised that some action be taken with reference to the filling up of Spalding's bay with saw-dust which, as medical authorities say, is likely to make it a hot-bed of infectious diseases when the rotting process has set in.

The report itself upholds this view; "when the masses (that is piles of sawdust in Little Lake) begin to decay, should houses be built upon them there would be some risk to the occupants. In other parts of Canada many cases of typhoid fever have originated from that cause."

The reading of this comprehensive and carefully prepared report was received with applause.

Mr. T. A. Hay moved the reception of the report.

Mr. F. H. DOBBIN, in the absence of Mr Peblow, chairman, reported the formation of the Merchants' Mutual Protective Association, whose general object is to assist merchants and business men in the collection of dubious debts, and the distribution among the members of information as to those persons who have a chronic and practical objection to paying their debts, and who are, by reason of this moral eccentricity, unsafe persons to give credit to.

The report was adopted.

The secretary's report was then brought up for discussion.

THE REPORT DISCUSSED.

Mr. DUMBLE, referring to sewerage, said he supposed the council in dealing with so large an undertaking would be glad to get an expression of opinion from every quarter. He thought the question of a sewerage system should be regarded with reference to the future growth of the town, so as not to waste public money by replacing a system that might, by growth of the town, have become inadequate to sewerage needs. He spoke of the precipitation system, but its expense was an objection. He did not think that the proposed system of sewerage would for many years be a source of river pollution worth considering. The time had come he thought when the question of sewerage construction should be practically attacked.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. Hay, that in the opinion of this Board it is expedient that the proposed system of sewerage be proceeded with and that it be built in sections, the most urgently needed first.

Mr. MULHOLLAND said if the adoption of the resolution would stimulate the town council to prompt action he would heartily support it. Sewerage was one of the most urgent needs of the town.

MAYOR KENDRY said the town council proposed acting as promptly as possible. It was proposed, as soon as the engineer's plans had been approved by the government that a public meeting should be called to exhaustively discuss the question.

THE DEADLY LEVEL CROSSINGS.

The question of unprotected level crossings was brought up, and a general discussion followed. Messrs. Geo. B Sproule, A. L. Davis, the secretary, Mr. Mulholland and Mr. Dumble gave instances of the great danger to the public from trains at the unprotected railway crossings.

Mr. Sproule, moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that the town council be requested to use their efforts to have gates placed at the railway crossings without delay, and that in the meantime flagmen be placed at the crossings, and that attention be called to the immoderate rate at which the regular Toronto trains enter the town on the Omemee branch.—Carried.

Mr. Fair, moved, seconded by Mr. Dumble, that this Board approve of the action of the town council in deciding, to have the assessment rolls published, and a more detailed report of the auditors, also.

NEW MEMBERS.

The election of new members was then proceeded with, the following being balloted for and duly elected:

Dr. Boucher, Dr. King, Dr. Fife, Dr. Brennan, Dr. Scott, P. Campbell, Bank of Toronto, Dr. Pigeon, A. Mercer & Co., H. A. Mulhern, Thos. Kelly, A. Ross, dentist, R. H. Green, W. J. Devlin, R. D. THE ELECTION OF OFFICERS for the current year, resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT—Robert Fair.

SECT-TREASURER—Hampden Burnham.

Messrs. Burnham and T. A. Hay were appointed a committee to nominate the members of the council.

Mr. Macfarlane Wilson and Mr. G. A. Schofield were appointed auditors.

Mr. Dumble moved, seconded by Mr. McWhinnie, that it would be advantageous both to the town and the railway to have the latter extend its line to the village of Young's Point.

There is a man in Pomona, Cal., who drives a horse that is a tobacco fiend. He must have his "chew" regularly, and if it is not given him he "kicks," literally as well as figuratively.

London streets are now paved with a new compound of granulated cork and bitumen, pressed into blocks and laid like wood paving. The especial advantage of the material is its elasticity.

There are 11,500,000 voters in the United States, of whom 3,100,000 are of alien birth and 1,500,000 are of African descent. Nearly 1,000,000 of the colored voters, it is said, can neither read nor write.

A man weighs less when the barometer is high, notwithstanding the fact that the atmospheric pressure on him is more than when the barometer is low. As the pressure of air on an ordinary sized man is about fifteen tons, the rise of the mercury from twenty-nine to thirty-one inches adds about one ton to the load he has to carry.

A story comes from Aroostook showing the material of which the natives of that country are made. A thirteen-year-old girl, the daughter of William Miller, who is lumbering at Moro, with the assistance of her father, loaded on a team 324 logs and hauled them to the landing, some distance away, where she would unload them alone and return for more. She was just twenty-six days hauling the 324 pieces, and is at it yet.

Some great hunting was done in the closing days of the late hunting season in Maine. A party of Boston sportsmen, with A. B. Douglass, of Eustis, as guide, chased a ten-year-old moose for eighteen days, when one of the party shot him. The animal weighed about seven hundred pounds and carried splendid antlers. Two monster bull moose were brought into Sebec Station a few days after Christmas, having been killed near Nahmakanta Lake by Benjamin Woodward and Horace Dore, of Atkinson. One of the heads, with antlers, weighed 89½ pounds, the other 87½ pounds, and the larger antlers had a spread of 4 feet 1 inch.

An inexplicable habit in church at Valshel has at last been explained. When the men went to the altar to receive the sacrament and then returned to the body of the church each made a genuflection in the direction of the women, always on the same spot. No one for a long while had known why this was done. Lately one of the walls of the church was being cleaned and a picture of the Virgin was discovered which had been covered up for four hundred years by the whitewash. The genuflections originally made to the picture had been continued by the force of habit for centuries after it had disappeared.

In Grafton's manual of his Chronicles, 1565, the unlucky days, according to the opinions of the astronomers, are named as follows: Jan. 1, 2, 4, 5, 10, 15, 17 and 20 are unlucky; Feb. 26, 27 and 28 unlucky, 8, 10 and 17 very unlucky; March 16, 17 and 20 very unlucky; April 7, 8, 10 and 20 unlucky; May 3 and 6 unlucky, 7, 15 and 20 very unlucky; June 10 and 22 unlucky, 6 and 8 very unlucky; August 29 and 30 unlucky, 19 and 20 very unlucky; Sept. 3, 4, 21 and 23 unlucky, 6 and 7 very unlucky; Oct. 4, 16 and 24 unlucky, 6 very unlucky; Nov. 5, 6, 29 and 30 unlucky, 15 and 20 very unlucky; Dec. 15 and 22 unlucky, 6, 7 and 9 very unlucky.

Boise City, Idaho, is developing and building up a strong opposition boom to Sioux Falls, S. D., in the divorce business. When the courts opened in the former city last week there were over twenty divorce cases on the calendar of the District Court. It is very easy to secure a divorce in Idaho and, as a local paper remarks, "people in adjoining states are beginning to appreciate the fact." Six months constitute a legal residence, and some county seats are so remote and secluded that actions are never heard of until after they are decided. It is as easy to tie as to untie the matrimonial knot in Idaho. No license is required and few questions are asked.

Sir Frederic Goldsmid, in a recent lecture on "Persia," says that the great poet, Omar Khayyam, who has become so well known to English readers through Fitzgerald's beautiful translation, is little known in his own country. Few people there read his poems and fewer still understand them. The most popular and honored Persian poet is the Sheik Maslith-ed-Din, who wrote in the thirteenth century, and has the highest distinction as a poet and moralist. His "Place of Roses" is appreciated out of Persia, and it may be seen in India, printed or lithographed in cheap form, packed in chests and sold in hundreds and thousands for use in the many schools where Persian is taught.

Burdette on Living by Rule.

I don't know that it is possible to divide the day into sections and assign certain duties to certain hours, without variation, writes Robert J. Burdette in the March Ladies' Home Journal. Even the mariner's compass has to have a little allowance. Living by iron-bound schedule is possible only at school, in the penitentiary, and some painfully well-regulated homes. One time I resolved to live by rule. I made the rules myself, so as not to get them too hard. I wrote a programme for a month ahead. I went to bed that night with such a conceited feeling of condescending goodness that I either forgot to say my prayers, or thought that in the case of such a superior man they were neither expected nor required, I have forgotten which. Six a. m. was the hour set down on my programme at which all the clocks in the world were to strike the hour of the new era, and the solar system was to begin running on my schedule. I think perhaps the new time-cards didn't reach some of the outlying planets. At any rate some mortal person came to my bedroom door at 7.45 a. m., and suggested that cold coffee and muffins would be served after 8 o'clock. I arose without remark and dressed on "72's" time. The bright smile that was scheduled to precede my benevolent-looking countenance into the breakfast-room had been sidetracked somewhere, and in its place I wore for a headlight an expression of countenance. It is not necessary to specify which one. I also took my place with a tone of voice which I grieve to say elicited comment. I will not follow the day's journey in detail. It is too harrowing. But the next morning I started all right; early rising, leisure toilet, moment of tranquil meditation, bright smile, cheerful voice and all; got through breakfast like a seraph and went to my lair to write from that "new inkstand," thinking how pleased my editor would be to see my "copy" on time, unless he should fall dead from amazement. Somebody thundered the forbidden knock at my door. "Have you forgotten that you lecture in Faraway Furlong to-night? Twenty minutes to train time. I packed my valise as men bale hay, caught the train, didn't get home again that month, and if my editor fell dead I got a posthumous letter from him that made my hair curl for a week. I don't want any more letters from dead editors, live ones are bad enough, but the dead ones fairly howl.

A baby was born on board the sleeping car Glyndon, attached to a Northern Pacific train, a few days ago, just as the train was pulling out of Hope, Idaho. Two doctors who were aboard attended the mother, Mrs. C. E. Brant, of Seattle. A meeting of all the passengers on the train was held to raise a subscription as a present for the baby and to choose a name for it. With the mother's consent it was christened Ida Glyndon, Ida being intended to stand for Idaho, the state in which she was born. The mother and child were taken to a hospital at Spokane, and the committee of the passengers bought there a silver cup and a Spokane souvenir spoon for the baby.

One of the coolest burglars who has been publicly interviewed for a long time was found in a Brooklyn hardware store at 7 o'clock the other evening by the clerk who went to open the store. The clerk was about to give an alarm, when the man said: "Look here, my friend, I'm a detective. Thieves broke into this place last night and it's very evident something was stolen. Run around to Mr. Bannerman's house and tell him to come here at once. I want to find out what has been taken before I make my report." The clerk did as requested, and when he returned with the proprietor the burglar was, of course, gone.

It is quite probable that you may need the services of a physician some day; but you can postpone the time indefinitely by keeping your blood pure and your system invigorated through the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Prevention is better than cure.

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS

Keep the Works in good order.

Norman, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. Comstock, Brockville, Ont.

Dear Sir,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. Atwell.

"German Syrup"

Croup. We have selected two or three lines from letters freshly received from parents who have given German Syrup to their children in the emergencies of Croup. You will credit these, because they come from good, substantial people, happy in finding what so many families lack—a medicine containing no evil drug, which mother can administer with confidence to the little ones in their most critical hours, safe and sure that it will carry them through.

ED. L. WILLITS, of Alma, Neb. I give it to my children when troubled with Croup and never saw any preparation act like it. It is simply miraculous.

MRS. JAS. W. KIRK, Daughters' College, Harrodsburg, Ky. I have depended upon it in attacks of Croup with my little daughter, and find it an invaluable remedy.

Fully one-half of our customers are mothers who use Boschee's German Syrup among their children. A medicine to be successful with the little folks must be a treatment for the sudden and terrible foes of childhood, whooping cough, croup, diphtheria and the dangerous inflammations of delicate throats and lungs. 99

DUEL OF THE GIRAFFES.

VIVID DESCRIPTION OF A DESPERATE BATTLE FOR LEADERSHIP.

A Scene That Almost Baffles Telling—Two Mature Bulls Fight Open-Mouthed, Roaring Viciously, and Neck and Neck—The Pathetic End.

To the south and eastward of Lobengula's capital is situated Macalaca Land. It was conquered by that doughty monarch's father, Mosilikatze, and still remains subservient to the Matabele. The approximate position of my camp at the time I witnessed the scene I will endeavor to describe was latitude 21° south, longitude 32° east.

The country surrounding me was marvellously attractive, although only sand very sparsely covered with bush, therefore totally useless for agricultural or pastoral purposes, but through the flat veldt's surface, at irregular intervals, rose copies of immense blocks of stone, piled one upon the other, that resembled the debris that might have been left after Titans had built a gigantic city or mammoth fortification. These eruptions from beneath the earth's surface were covered with parasitic plants, decorated with most attractive fruit or gorgeous blossoms. A species of aloe, too, was numerous, the upright stem which bears its flower having a very striking resemblance to civilization's unsightly telegraph poles.

This country is not destitute of water, as is attested by the numbers of baboons, monkeys, and leopards that frequent the copies, and the antelopes, zebras, and guinea fowl that wander over the flats. Possibly the indigenous Bushmen know where to find this necessity of life, but these astute savages carefully concealed their secret from me and my people. I was riding slowly along admiring the beautiful colors of this distant landscape. In close attendance was my Mascara guide. My reverie was broken by an unknown sound, which echoed and re-echoed from the surrounding crags. It was not the honest bark of the baboon, or the reverberating voice of the lion, or the hyena's discordant laugh, but a combination of all of them, uttered in quick, successive gasps. On inquiry from my follower, he informed me that kameels (giraffes) were the originators of the unknown sound. The Mascara begged me to follow him. This I did, and so became witness of one of the most extraordinary sights in wild life that I had ever seen. Those who have dwelt in the distant East have doubtlessly seen male camels fight and noted with what obstinacy, power, and viciousness they try to maim or disable one another; how they shriek with rage over each advantage that they obtain, and yell with pain when they are severely hurt. A giraffe duel much resembles a camel's, as will be seen from what I proceed to state.

The rivals were not well matched—the taller was out of condition and very old; the other was in splendid form and in the prime of life. I concluded that a fight was imminent, and had no difficulty in deciding which would be the victor. They roared in unison, as if each were trying to drown the other's voice; sometimes this would cease for a few moments and then begin again with renewed strength.

Presently the belligerents came within a few yards of each other. Then commenced a scene that baffles all description. Some people might call it ludicrous; it was far more, it was side splitting, and, but for my desire to see the end, I must have given way to convulsions of laughter. Although the giraffe possesses a certain beauty when at rest, it loses its grace when in motion, and the greater its speed the more ungainly does it appear. But when two mature bulls begin to waltz and dance violently around each other, each endeavoring to outdo the other in agility, at the same time mumbling their jaws and emitting fearfully discordant roars, it is certainly one of the most absurd sights human eye ever looked upon. I have often seen a crane dance—a function common enough north of the Vaal River; it is more than funny—it is ridiculous—but cannot for an instant be compared to the antics of these two mammoth brutes. Their great height added to the grotesqueness of their behavior; but even if the beasts had been no bigger than goats or sheep, the absurd manner in which they swung about their feet, contorted their bodies, and swayed their heads must have moved the most phlegmatic.

We lay hidden and quiet while the rivals were getting closer and closer to each other; at length, when they were nearly within striking distance, simultaneously each dropped upon his knees and commenced to twist and twine his long neck about that of the other, with the evident purpose of seizing his adversary's throat. This lasted several minutes, but both were "skilled of fence," and ultimately relinquished this style of fighting and adopted other tactics. They began rearing as if to bear each other down, their mouths all the time open to grip if opportunity occurred. At length the violent exercise began to tell upon the elder beast; he made some mistake in a parry, and the younger seized with his teeth the foot of the veteran, who in return laid hold of his opponent's ear. For some moments there was a pause. It was very brief, and then the struggle was renewed. With a gigantic effort the younger giraffe threw the old hero upon his haunches. He looked very much as if he had played his last card, but there was pluck in his aged heart yet, though the battle was not for him; years told against him, and victory lay with the youngster, who celebrated it by trying to drag the vanquished after him. This operation must have been painful, for the shrieks that the defeated warrior uttered were heartrending.

After a final worry the hero of the hour walked off, mobbed the two harems of ladies together, and, willingly followed by all, took the lead. Not one of the zenana of the fallen chief turned the head for an instant to see what had become of him. I fear it is much the same among our own race as it is among the inferior animals.

The veteran tried finally to pull himself together, but he was dreadfully knocked about, as well as very lame. With anxious eyes he gazed in the direction the herd had taken, possibly wishing to follow, or with a hope that one of his wives at least would return to him. Not so: the poor old fellow was doomed to disappointment and appeared to realize that he was deserted. The life before him I knew would be one of misery, therefore what better could I do but raise my rifle, glance along my sight, and send a bullet through his heart? It was a sad alternative, but after all I think it was humane.—London Graphic.

March.

Like some reformer, who with mien austere,
Neglected dress and loud insistent tones,
More rasping than the wrongs which she bemoans,
Walks through the land and wearies all who hear,
While yet we know the need of such reform;
So comes unlovely March, with wind and storm,
To break the spell of winter, and set free
The prisoned brooks and crocus beds oppressed.
Severe of face, gaunt-armed, and wildly-dressed,
She is not fair nor beautiful to see,
But merry April and sweet smiling May Come not till March has first prepared the way.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox, in Ladies' Home Journal.

It is not theory but fact—that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong. A fair trial will convince you of its merit.

NOT BARON NORTHEDGE.

A TALE OF TWO CITIES OF UNUSUAL INTEREST.

Claimed to Have Inherited a Million and a Title While Shingling Roofs in Chicago—A Toronto Law Student With a Great Head.

NEW YORK, March 2.—There arrived at the Fifth-avenue Hotel Saturday a man whoregistered as Sir Geo. W. Northedge, baronet, and who represented himself as possessing a fortune of a million and a quarter dollars, although less than a month ago he was a poor carpenter occupying a plainly furnished room at No. 8529 State-street, Chicago, and having as little notion that he would to-day be a nobleman and rich as that the heavens would fall.

It was late in the afternoon of Feb. 4, according to Northedge's story, that he was finishing some work on the roof of a barn in the rear of 3228 La Salle-street. He was weary with his day's work and anxious to get through. Just then a bustling little man called to him from the foot of the ladder:

"Come down," he said, "I desire to speak with you."

Northedge clambered down, although he hadn't the remotest idea of what the stranger wanted.

"What do you want?" he asked at the bottom of the ladder.

"To congratulate you on being the heir to a large fortune. I am Queen's Counsel J. H. Gilchrist of Toronto, Ont., and London, England. I have been searching for you, sir, for months."

"Your great grandfather," continued the stranger, "was William Northedge, a baronet and a colonel in the English army. He owned large estates in Wells, Somersetshire, about 16 miles from Bath, England. It was from him that the fortune came and to-day you are the sole heir to $856,782 in stocks, bonds and other securities."

A few hours later Northedge realized that everything he had been told was the truth. And in his case good fortune heaped upon good luck. He soon learned that he was not only the heir to one fortune of $900,000 but to another of $250,000, and not only that, but he was also the heir to an old and honored English title—Sir George Northedge, Bart. This second piece of good news came to him from another source entirely, an English advocate, A. E. de Lorimer of Montreal, writing him that he was one of three heirs to a fortune left by one of his grandfathers 35 years ago.

Northedge packed up his tools, came to New York and put up at the Fifth-avenue Hotel.

The Sequel.

WASHINGTON, March 2.—There are several people in Washington who take no stock in the "genuine baronet."

They are William Henry Northedge, who claims the million but not the title, which he says does not exist; George R. Northedge, Mary Northedge Jones, their sister, and William K. Duhamel, a well-known attorney of this city. The Chicago Northedge is declared by all these people to be George Atwater, alias Northedge, a son of Colonel Northedge before the Colonel was married, and a man who has not always looked out of windows as unobstructed as those of the Fifth-avenue Hotel.

According to the yarn of the Fifth-Avenue Hotel Northedge he was shingling a roof in Chicago on the day when "Queen's Counsel Gilchrist" of Toronto, Ont., and London, Eng., congratulated him on being a baronet and heir to large estates in Somersetshire.

Lawyer Duhamel "queers" Queen's Counsel Gilchrist. According to Mr. Duhamel and to the whole Northedge family George Atwater is an ex-convict, and according to Mr. Duhamel alone there is no Queen's Counsel in Toronto named Gilchrist, but the records show that a law student of that name was some time ago convicted there of a criminal offence.

"If the Northedge at the Fifth-avenue Hotel is the man I think he is," said Mr. Duhamel to-night, "there is but one deduction that I can make, and that is that two scamps have concocted an elaborate scheme to victimize somebody."

The alleged Sir George has given it out at the Fifth-avenue Hotel that he is after a wife. The Northedges here say that Atwater, alias Northedge, is a married man.

"I first became acquainted with George W. Northedge in 1878," said Mr. Duhamel. "He then went by the name of Atwater, but claimed to be a son of Colonel William Northedge, who organized the 59th New York volunteers. He came to Washington and set up a claim for the $7,500 appropriated by Congress for the benefit of the widow of Colonel Northedge. Atwater claimed to be the son by a former marriage. I was attorney for Mrs. Northedge, and she made affidavit that her husband had never been married to the young man's mother. She stated that her husband had told her that he had lived with Mrs. Atwater but had never married her.

"I looked into this man Atwater's record and found it to be a very bad one. Just prior to coming to Washingthn to prosecute this claim he had been released from the Massachusetts State Penitentiary, where he had served a long term for a heinous crime. This claim was included in my brief. The suit was decided in our favor.

"When I first saw the story of this fellow claiming the title I wrote, on the request of the two Northedge boys here, to investigate, to a friend of mine in Toronto, Attorney Wallace Nesbitt.

"Attorney Nesbitt replied that he had been unable to find any Queen's Counsel of that name in Toronto. The detective office, however, informed him that a law student Carling Declared Elected.

LONDON, March 2.—Returning Officer George Pritchard has declared Hon. John Carling elected M.P. for London by a majority of 109.

The returning officer for London, on the advice of his counsel, refused to either adjourn the proceedings or to take into consideration the appealed votes, and declared the Hon. John Carling (Conservative) elected by a majority of 109. Total vote, Carling 2531, Hyman 2422; majority for Carling, 109.

Application was made this morning to Judge Elliot for an appointment to hear reasons why he should not deliver judgment forthwith on the appeal to him as to the bogus votes. The statute requires him to proceed summarily with these appeals. Friday next was appointed to hear the argument.

Of Interest to Importers.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—Evidence having been presented to the Treasury Department that importations from Canada are frequently broken up into small lots for the purpose of avoiding the necessity of furnishing the consular certificate required by law for all invoices exceeding $100 in value, Acting Secretary Spalding has instructed customs officers to require the production of a certified invoice in all cases in which there is reason to suppose that such evasion of the law has taken place.

by the name of Gilchrist had been convicted there some three years before of cruelty to animals, since which time he had not been seen in Toronto.'

A well-known English gentlemen of this city informed me to-day that there is no baronetcy of Northedge in England. He not only spoke from his own knowledge, but quoted from "Burke's Peerage" to substantiate his claim.

The younger son, George R. Northedge, is a professional pugilist. His greatest laurel was won in a four round "go" with Jack Dempsey. He and the elder brother, who is quite skilful in the same line, are getting ready to-night to go to New York to interview "Sir George" at the Fifth-avenue Hotel. If he is all right the brothers will shake hands with him, but if he is Atwater he will have to protect that baronetcy with his fists.

"Sir George" Leaves His Hotel.

NEW YORK, March 2.—When the pugilistic Northedge boys arrive from Washington to punch "Sir George Northedge" for asserting that he is a baronet and heir to the estate that they claim they won't find him at the Fifth-avenue Hotel, where he has been stopping.

"Sir George" is either hiding somewhere in the hotel or has skipped out to Chicago, it isn't clear which. When I called last evening to ask him if he was an ex-convict and whether he is engaged in a swindle the clerks said he wasn't in. Many people had dropped in, they declared, but he had seen them.

His Bedfellow a Corpse.

PORT HOPE, March 2.—Bridget, wife of John Nolan, Toronto-street, went to bed in her usual health. Mr. Nolan was speaking to her about 1 o'clock and between 3 and 4 he again spoke to her, but received no answer and found her dead. She appeared to have passed away without a struggle. The cause of death was heart failure.

UNEASY LIES THE HEAD.

Another Plot to Assassinate the Russian Ruler—Important Arrests.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 2.—Another plot against the life of the Czar has been discovered, and a large number of arrests have been made in connection with it.

The conspirators planned to murder the Czar while on his way to the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, situated on an island in the River Neva, upon the occasion of the funeral on Jan. 29 last of the Grand Duke Constantine, uncle of the Czar.

The body of the Grand Duke was removed on the day referred to from this city to the fortress mentioned, and was from there deposited in the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul.

The conspirators, it would seem, planned to kill the Czar while he was on his way to the cathedral, but were arrested before they could carry out the plot.

A number of military and several naval officers, two of whom have since committed suicide, are said to have been concerned in the conspiracy.

Twenty students, several minor officers of the Government and a number of other people are under arrest, charged with being concerned, directly or indirectly, with the latest attempt to kill the Czar.

The news of the discovery of this plot has been carefully kept from the Czarina, whose health is said to be so delicate that any severe shock might prove fatal to her mind if it did not cause her death.

DUE TO A WOMAN.

How Officers Traced a $10,000 Defaulter and Captured Him.

DETROIT, March 2.—Ralph R. Chandler the defaulting cashier of the Lake Shore Railway at West Detroit, was captured last night at Ciudad Juarez, Mexico, and will be turned over to the United States authorities at El Paso, Texas, on extradition papers. Chandler disappeared Jan. 16 last, leaving his accounts $10,000 short. He was engaged to be married to Miss Cicotte, his second cousin, who is well known in society circles. A fortnight since the young lady, in spite of the protest of her mother, packed her trunks and left Detroit for Mexico, where she joined her fiancee. Her movements were watched and Chandler's arrest followed. Chandler was under the belief that he could not be extradited from Mexico.

Wound Round a Shaft.

BRANTFORD, March 2.—This afternoon a young man named W. McCutcheon, employed at the Waterous engine works, was assisting another boy to put a belt on the pulley, when in some manner he became entangled and was twisted around the shaft a number of times before the machinery could be stopped. When taken down he was almost insensible, and it was found that both arms had been broken.

Destructive Fire at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, March 2.—J. G. Frost's furniture factory fell a prey to the flames last night. Mr. Frost's loss is $3000, no insurance; Isaac Frost, manufacturer of showcases, loses $2000, insured in Ætna and Perth Mutual for $1800; Harry Ashley and William Megher lose tools to the value of between $200 and $300, no insurance; building valued at $1500 owned by the Burrell estate, not insured.

Wales Elected Grand Master.

LONDON, March 2.—The Prince of Wales has been elected G. M. Mark Master Great Britain and Sir Augustus H. [illegible] been elected grand treasurer.

Another Australian Bondsman.

MELBOURNE, March 2.—Taylor, [illegible] of Land Credit Bank which [illegible] bended, has been found guilty of [illegible] sentenced to two years' imprisonment hard labor.

A SCROFULOUS BOY

Running Sores Covered His Body and Head. Bones Affected. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using all freely. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

THE GREAT PRIZE FIGHT.

FITZSIMMONS THE WINNER IN THE TWELFTH ROUND.

The Irish Champion Easily Handled by the Big Australian—Maher's Superstition—Six Thousand Persons Witness the Fight at the New Orleans Club.

NEW ORLEANS, March 3.—Peter Maher of Ireland, an aspirant for heavyweight honors, and Robert Fitzsimmons, the New Zealander, who is middleweight champion of the world, met last night before the Olympic Club of this city for a purse of $10,000, of which the loser received $1000.

Six thousand persons witnessed the fight. Fitzsimmons came over on the early train, accompanied by Choynski, Greggains and Robertson and was in glorious spirits. He laughed, joked and chatted, but refrained from any mention of the fight.

Fitzsimmons is over six feet tall, and when he trained for Dempsey, getting down to 154 pounds, he was so thin that he seemed liable to go to pieces at any moment. This time, however, he weighed 170 pounds. Before the match he indulged in a short nap.

In accordance with the original program signed by Billy Madden and the other members of Maher's cabinet, the Irishman was kept from the madding crowd. He arose leisurely, took a short walk, breakfasted about 10 o'clock, cuddled upon a sunny corner of his bedroom and rested for about six hours. At 4 o'clock he ate dinner and took no more nourishment until the fight. Maher was in great form; although not as tall as Fitz he looked much stronger and full of vim.

From the way the Irishman spoke and acted he was very confident.

Maher's Superstition.

There was one thing that cast a gloom upon the Irish champion, and it was a good deal in the nature of a superstition. He objected strenuously to fighting on Ash Wednesday and had used every effort to secure some other date, but without success. The fact weighed on him a little and his chagrin was deepened because he had forgotten to go to church in the morning.

The gladiators entered the ring at exactly 9 o'clock, Maher first, dressed in black trousers with black stockings and black fighting shoes. Gus Tuthill, Billy Madden and Jack Fallon were his seconds. Fitz entered a moment later and grasped Maher's hand and was cheered to the echo for so doing. Jimmy Carroll followed his principal's example and Choynski and Greggains, who assisted Carroll in Fitzsimmons' corner, immediately began the preparations for the battle.

Madden was as pale as death during this preparation for the fight. Both men were stripped to the waist. Fitz wore a scarlet breech cloth with black fighting shoes and black stockings. The official weights announced were Fitz 165, Maher 178. Time was called at 9.15 and the men met in the centre of the ring.

The Fight by Rounds.

First round—Fitzsimmons knocked Maher down with the right in the jaw. Maher lunged at him, but missed, and Fitz hit him heavily in the mouth. Maher groggy. Fitz drew first blood and Maher hit Fitz a staggerer.

Second round—Both men sparring and tired. Both missed heavy face blows. Maher hit Fitz a terrific crack on the heart. Fitz landed heavily on Maher's neck. Both men tired. Maher, who was bleeding badly from the mouth, rushed Fitz. Honors about equal.

Third round—Both men commenced sparring for wind; each cautious. An exchange of light blows followed. Maher led, falling short. Maher hit for Fitz and the latter dodged him, and leading landed heavily on Maher's neck. Maher ran after Fitz, who ducked. Honors still about even.

Fourth round—Maher led and missed, and, leading again, Fitz jumped away. Maher hit Fitz lightly on the nose. Fitz led, jabbed Maher in the mouth, the latter countering on Fitz's chest. Fitz repeated the jab on the mouth. Both men cautious. Fitz ducked and jabbed Maher twice in the mouth. Fitz had the best of the round.

Fifth round—Both sparring for wind. Fitz led light on the chin, Maher countered heavily on the body. Maher was bleeding from mouth. Fitz had the best of this round.

Sixth round—Maher tried with the left and Fitz ran away. The men landed heavily with lefts and Fitz received a left uppercut as he ran away from Maher. Maher landed a left upper again as Fitz ducked to avoid punishment. Fitz was playing constantly for Maher's sore mouth and frequently pushed the latter's head back with straight lefts. Fitz staggered Maher with a heavy right-hander on the jaw and ran away to avoid punishment. Both landed heavy lefts. Fitz staggered. Fitz now landed a left on Maher's nose.

Seventh round—Fitz landed a left stomach blow. Both exchanged lefts on the head and Maher flung his right lightly in his opponents ribs. Fitz cleverly ducked, pulling himself out of a tight corner into which the Irishman had placed him. The latter, however, reached a heavy pivot blow, which was not barred in the agreement. It was a heavy blow on the neck and drew forth objections from Maher's corner. The Irishman landed a heavy right on Fitz's jaw, got in too close and received two heavy lefts in the mouth. Fitz now landed a left on Maher's jaw.

Ninth round—Maher appeared rather weak. He landed with his right, but received the left heavy on the nose. Fitz ducked neatly out of a corner, but received a right uppercut on the ribs, which made him grunt. Maher had lost a great deal of his strength by missing frequent blows. Fitz landed two lefts on the nose, was perfectly cool and avoided several heavy blows. The Australian laughed and chatted with his opponent, and landed a light jab on the nose as time was called Tenth round—Maher's left missed again and so did his right for the ribs. He got a left on the nose from Fitz's forearm, but landed a heavy right on Fitz's jaw. It was anybody's fight from appearances. Maher aimed a heavy right for the body, but struck the point of Fitz's left elbow. The latter immediately sent in a heavy blow on the sore mouth and clinched. Maher missed a right and left swing for the head. Maher was bleeding again as time was called. Barring a knock-out blow it looked like Fitz's battle.

Eleventh round—After light exchanges, Fitz hit Maher a heavy right in the jaw and avoided a return blow. Both men were cautious. Fitz feinted to draw Maher on, the latter trying a right on the body. It met only Fitz's elbow. Fitz landed a left on the sore mouth again, but got a stinging right on the back of his head. Fitz staggered his opponent with a heavy left, and jabbed the same hand under the sore nose and mouth again as time was called. This was Fitz's round.

Twelfth round—Fitz's stock went up as the battle progressed and his left shot into Maher's sore mouth again, the blood responding freely. The Australian was taking his time now, seemingly feeling secure. Maher's head went back twice with two heavy lefts, and the Australian slipped away to avoid punishment. The Irishman staggered in response to two heavy blows and played groggy to draw Fitz. The latter would none of him, however, until he with the same left again hit the sore mouth and Fitz's stock rose above par. Maher staggered as he went to his corner and gave up the battle.

The Fight Was Fair.

Fitz fought a fair fight and offered a flask to his beaten opponent. Fitz took a hearty pull himself of the red stuff and then congratulated Maher on his game tight.

The cheering for Fitz was deafening in the extreme and the same merciful methods that had marked his fight with Dempsey were offered again to the Irish champion.

A ROUGH TIME.

British Steamer Abandoned—Another on the Rocks—The Crews Saved.

LONDON, March 3.—Heavy weather prevails in the English Channel. The British steamer Plata, from Liverpool for Brazil, was abandoned yesterday in a sinking condition 160 miles west of Scilly Islands. In addition to a dangerous leak in her, her main shaft was broken and it was an impossibility to handle the vessel. Her crew were taken off by the steamer J. W. Taylor bound out from Liverpool, which landed them at Falmouth. At Dover a perfect blizzard is prevailing, and the passage across the channel is very rough. The mail boat Ville de Douvres, plying between Dover and Ostend, while attempting to make the pier at Dover, was driven on the rocks, but she was afterward towed off. On the east coast of England the storm is equally severe and all the ports are filled with weather-bound vessels.

GREAT STRIKE IMPENDING.

Thousands Will Cease Work—Coal Rising in Price—Excitement in London.

LONDON, March 3.—As the time approaches for the inauguration of the strike of the coal-miners, who on March 12 will quit work for two weeks with the object of compelling such an advance in the price of coal as will prevent the mine owners from reducing wages, the effects on the Government can be more readily gauged. It would be impossible to approximately estimate the number of persons who would be thrown out of work by the closing of mines, iron works factories, etc., but it is certain that over one million employes will be idle. With their families it is believed that close on to five million persons will directly or indirectly feel the effect of the attempt of the miners to prevent any reduction in their wages. Of the miners themselves, 460,000 men will take part in the strike. The outcome is watched with more than usual interest that pertains to labor movements for the attempt is on such a gigantic scale that everybody who uses coal will either be compelled to pay increased prices for fuel or, in the case of manufacturers, close down their works and lose the profits of their business. At Sheffield the rolling mills and the Titler associations announce the works will be closed during the miner' strike. The decision affects thousands of cutters, grinders and forgers. All the employers of the engineering works, iron foundries and wagon building works connected with Lord Durham's and Lord Londonderry's collieries have given notice that those works will be closed. Seven thousand railway employes connected with the collieries will be thrown out of work. The price of coal in Sheffield district has risen three shillings per ton. In Dublin the price is four shillings per ton higher.

A WEAPON FOR FIENDS.

Its Inventor Proposes to Use It Against Savages Only.

PARIS, March 3.—A French officer has submitted to the War Ministry a rifle that will project a stream of vitriol for a distance of 70 metres.

He proposes that this weapon be used only against savages, to prevent their making frenzied rushes.

Stopping Immigration.

BRISBANE, March 3.—The Queensland Government has decided, in consequence of the large number of unemployed workmen in the colony, to prohibit immigration for the present.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

ANOTHER SHORT SESSION OF THE HOUSE.

Child Criminality and Youthful Delinquents—A Medical School Difficulty—Considerable Discussion in the Private Bills Committee—General Political.

TORONTO, March 3.—Short sittings of the Local House seem to be the order of the week; yesterday's occupied scarcely half an hour.

When questions by members were asked for, Mr. Glendining, North Ontario, rose to ascertain when Thomas Walters of Lindsay resigned his position as Inspector of Public Works for the north districts; and who, if any person, was appointed in his stead. He also wished to know when Mr. Walters resumed his former position, if he has done so, and if not, who is at present inspector for said district.

In reply Mr. Harcourt stated that the gentleman mentioned had ceased to be an employe of the Government on Jan. 21, 1892. During the interim no one had been appointed in his stead. Mr. Walters had been again, a short time since, temporarily employed.

Mr. Marter, Muskoka, wished a return placed before the House, giving: 1. The quantity of pine in unlicensed territory disposed of since last session. 2. The persons to whom the same was sold and the quantity sold to each of such persons. 3. The prices at which each sale was effected. 4. The terms and conditions of the sales. 5. The purchase money paid, and the amount, if any, remaining unpaid, giving the name of each purchaser any part of whose purchase money is paid, and the amount unpaid by him. 6. Copies of the orders in council authorising the sales, and the reports and other material on which the same were leased.

Mr. Hardy promised to comply with the request. At the same time he explained that only pine timber had been disposed of and that the money had been paid in the same manner as timber dues. The bonus for timber cut this winter, he asserted, would be paid next September.

Child Criminality.

A return, in compliance with a wish of the Legislature, was made by Mr. Gibson relative to this matter. It showed that the number of children under 15 years of age brought before the various courts during 1890 was 1013. The number sent to the common jail was 87, to industrial schools or charitable institutions 53, to a reformatory for boys or girls 68, and otherwise disposed of 805. The number of youthful delinquents tried separate and apart, pursuant to an act for the protection of neglected children, was 137.

The Medical School Difficulty.

A return was brought down containing correspondence between members of the Government, the Chancellor of the University of Toronto and Dr. Geikie, Dean of Trinity Medical College, relating to the establishment of a medical faculty in Toronto University.

The complaint is made on behalf of Trinity that medical students in Toronto University obtain their education partly at the public expense, inasmuch as fees paid by these medical students for lectures delivered by arts professors are retained for the support of the medical faculty. It is also alleged that the biological building has been made more costly than would have been necessary for purely arts purposes.

The Minister of Education, on behalf of the Government, maintains that the biological building was needed for scientific purposes, whether a medical faculty had been established or not, and promises to investigate the charge that the fees for arts lectures are diverted from arts purposes.

Items of Interest.

The first session of the Private Bills Committee was held. A large number of members were present. Mr. Gibson presided. Several bills were passed with slight amendments. Mr. Tait's bill to incorporate the People's Life Insurance Company provoked considerable discussion. The bill, as originally drafted, did not provide for the holding of the first annual meeting. Mr. Meredith pointed out this defect. A clause was inserted stipulating that it should be held within a year after the passage of the act. Mr. Meredith then pointed out that unlimited powers of borrowing were, under the provisions of the bill as it then stood, given to the company. This he thought was a wrong principle. The company's solicitor, W. H. Hunter, appeared before the committee, and, in compliance with Mr. Meredith's suggestion, mentioned $20,000 as the limit of its borrowing powers. The clause dealing with this matter was amended as stated. The bill, with a few slight additional amendments, was passed.

RAN AMUCK IN COURT.

An Accused Murderer Scalps the Judge With a Hatchet.

BOMBAY, March 3.—A report of a most sensational occurrence in a court room was received here to-day from Nagpur (City of Serpents), capital of the Central India provinces. A murder trial is in progress there, the accused being a native of India. One of the exhibits of the prosecution was a hatchet, which had been used in the commission of the crime. This implement was lying upon a table in front of the judge's bench.

The trial was proceeding in due course when suddenly the prisoner sprang from the dock and seized the hatchet. Consternation prevailed and the frightened spectators made a rush for the doors. Before the wardens could regain their presence of mind the native sprang toward Judge Venner, who was presiding at the trial, and notwithstanding the efforts of the latter to ward off the blow aimed at his head the native struck him, inflicting a severe scalp wound. Before the infuriated culprit could raise the hatchet to strike the second blow he was grasped from behind by three or four of the wardens.

Finally, after a long struggle, with the aid of some of the court attendants, the hatchet was secured and the man was securely manacled.

ASSAULT ON A RAILWAY.

John Goodall, Evangelist, Charged With Violence by Mrs. Siddals.

LONDON, March 3.—John Goodall, an evangelist, was rearrigned at Tamworth today charged with assault on Mrs. Mary Siddals of Burton-on-Trent.

Mrs. Siddals to-day identified the prisoner as the man who had been in the compartment of the car with her. They were the only occupants of the compartment, she said, and the man engaged her in conversation. Finally he made improper proposals to her and attempted to assault her.

Goodall's counsel maintained that Mrs. Siddals was an exceedingly nervous woman, and finding herself alone with a man in the compartment became alarmed and hysterica; that she mistook a sympathetic remark for an attempted familiarity, and lost her head.

The court decided to commit the prisoner for trial.

Beheading and Hanging.

Physiologists Differ in Opinion.

Some physiologists are of the opinion that death by beheading is attended with less actual pain than any other manner of death, and is, therefore, the most humane mode of disembarrassing society of villains and murderers. Others contend and adduce strong proof to show that intense agony is experienced, after decapitation, in both the head and the body, and is a much more painful death than hanging.

This controversy, however, is uninteresting in character, when compared with the great question of saving valuable lives. The proprietors of the hundreds of common nostrums advertised from day to day, appear to be anxious to show that their remedies will cure all manner of diseases and ailments; and each manufacturer tries to impress upon the sick one the fact, that his medicine is the only medium for effecting a painless cure. Unfortunately for the public, they have had too much experience with these worthless and nauseous patents; our people have been deceived, and in many instances their troubles and pains have vastly increased.

To thousands of men and women who have endeavored in vain to quench the burning fires of pain from these fountains whose waters have no virtue, Paine's Celery Compound has come as a strong deliverer; it has conferred on the sick and weary, life and new strength, such as is given by the cool and pure spring of water to the thirsty and weary traveller on the sandy desert.

Paine's Celery Compound has taken hold of thousands of men and women after other remedies proved useless, and when physicians said there was no hope, and carried the suffering ones safely over the shoals and rocks of disease to the sweet haven of health.

"It surely cures," can only be said of Paine's Celery Compound. Our best people in Canada prove it by their testimonials and letters, and at present from ocean to ocean the name of the remedy is a household word.

We have much pleasure in informing our readers of the fact, that the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound are in a position to give the best medical advice to all, no matter what remedy they may be using. If the sufferer is still in the bonds of disease and trouble, let him or her write to the CONSULTING PHYSICIAN" of the Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, and they will be advised and prescribed for, free of charge, by one of our best Canadian doctors, Ennismore.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Ennismore Council met in the Town Hall on Saturday, February 27th, 1892. Cornelius O'Connor, Esq, Reeve in the chair, Messrs. Jas. Murphy, P. J. Galvin, John K. Galvin, Michael Perdue, Councillors. Minutes of last meeting read and confirmed. On motion the clerk was instructed to notify M. T. Cadigan, to take all the timber off the west end of the 9 con. line, except one oak tree which is reserved as a land mark. A by-law was passed, appointing overseers of highways, fenceviewers and pound keepers. On motion Mr. Paul Costello was appointed collector for the current year. A by-law was passed for the purpose of opening and establishing the original road allowance across concessions six and seven of the Township of Ennismore. On motion an order was drawn on the treasurer for $50 to deposit with the county treasurer to meet the conditional grant of the County Council and the Provincial Government grant, to be laid out on roads as agreed upon. On motion the following accounts be paid and orders drawn on the treasurer for the same:—Philip Crough, $35 40; John Sweeny $12; and Jas. Gifford, $11.40, being a refund of taxes on account of loss by fire, Mrs Ellen Sullivan $4 21 a refund of taxes as charity. On motion Philip was Crough paid $35 60, salary as collector for the year 1891. The council then adjourned to meet again at the call of the Reeve.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

Items are as scarce and almost as hard to find as muzquitoes.

The new assessor is geting on with his work, No. 1 ward is finished and No. 2 is well under way. Few changes will be made.

Indians are bringing large numbers of bass to the village caught in Chemong and Buckhorn lakes through the ice.

Two or three weeks since, a man called Ted. Chapell, boarding at Mrs Hunter's temperance house, skipped out taking a watch and suit of clothes belonging to another boarder called Dugan. Our magistrate for some reason refused to issue a warrant, and the matter remained in abeyance until last week, when Mr. Geo. Cochrane heard of the matter from Reeve Casement, and at once took the case in hand. With Mr. Jas. Morrison of this place, they traced the thief through several small villages in Northumberland to Cobourg, and while Mr. Cochrane was making inquiries of the Chief of Police there, his man walked past and was at once placed under arrest. He had the stolen clothes on, and told to whom he sold the watch in town.

Lakefield to-day loses one of her most popular citizens in the person of Mr. Donald McLean, who has conducted a large milling business here for several years past. Owing to ill health on the part of his wife, Mr. McLean has decided to remove to the purer air of the Northwest, and has decided to locate in Calgary, N.W.T., where he is offered good inducements. He takes with him the respect and good wishes of all classes, and all unite in wishing him every happiness and prosperity and happiness in his new home, and that Mrs. McLean will recover her health and strength.

On Sunday evening last some thirty members of Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F., attended the Presbyterian church in a body to listen to a sermon preached for their benefit by the pastor Rev. John McEwen, who took for his text, Luke 4th Chap. and 17th and 18th verses. After the service the members returned to their court room where a vote of thanks was passed to the rev. gentleman.

Board Meeting.

The monthly board meeting was held on Tuesday the attendance was excellent, Mr. Early, president, occupied the chair. Encouraging and cheering reports were given by Mr. Isaac Richardson for devotional, and by Mr. Albert Hamilton for Reception Committees which showed that since January 21st, about 1,000 young men have visited the rooms in the evening, 188 the gymnasium. 256 attended family worship, which gives some idea of the work the association is doing among young men. Mr. G. S. Bean reported on behalf of the Finance Committee. The annual report will be issued in a few days to subscribers and friends, when we are praying for a hearty response on behalf of our citizens to enable us to do still more aggressive work.

The General Secretary gave a review of the work for the past month and outlined future lines to be taken up, especially in Bible study. We have begun a worker's training class for the students in the Collegiate Institute on Saturday afternoon's, which promises to be both profitable and interesting. It was agreed that two members of the Board should be appointed as visitors for the month, to visit the rooms, meetings, etc., and report to the Board each month. This will bring the members closer together and all will have an excellent knowledge of the work as it is carried on. A hearty and sincere vote of thanks was tendered to the Ladies' Auxiliary for the handsome manner they have furnished the rooms, and also for their continued hearty interest in our work.

Special efforts will be made now to increase our membership, seeing we shall have a very complete association "home" when we get the new apparatus in the gymnasium, which will be under the supervision of Serg't-Major Randle. All young men should realize the great need of physical culture and join this class at once, it meets each Monday and Thursday evening, and if we can get enough business men to go in we shall have a class on Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6.

We are glad the religious services held each week at the Protestant Home and Nichols Hospital are appreciated, and that there is a request from both these institutions for more service which we hope to be able to supply shortly.

On Tuesday evening, March 22nd, Mrs. Sara Lord Bailey, Boston, one of the first lady readers of the United States, will give an Elocutionary Recital in the Opera House under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary, which promises to be the high class treat of the season.

My Visit To Mrs Long.

"I think 'twas just yesterday,
A friend of mine across the way—
A Mrs. Solomon Caleb Long,
Sent me an invitation strong
To visit her that very night,
As she would DYE by candle-light.
This news to me was strange and sad;
I hoped that things were not so bad,
As she had made them out to be
In that strange note she sent to me.
The night came on—I hurried out
To visit with a face devout
My friend, who was to DYE that night,
Under a candle's flick'ring light.
I gently rapped; my beating heart
Did almost from its place depart;
When suddenly, with smiles of hope,
Dear Mrs. Long the door did ope:
I stood and gazed with wond'ring eyes,
She said, 'come in and see my dyes.'
Of course, I quickly saw the joke,
And not a word 'bout DYING spoke;
But saw that by mistake, an 'I,'
She'd used, instead of letter 'Y.'
I grasped her hand with much delight—
She took me to her kitchen bright,
And with great confidence declared
That all her dyes were now prepared.
The fun began; a Cashmere dress
That had its day of usefulness,
But now was faded, dingy, streak'd,
As if the sun and rain had wreak'd
A vengeance terrible and strong
On this worn dress of Mrs. Long;
Now, one good bath in Diamond Black
A new life to this dress brought back.
To Raven Black a Gray was brought—
A metamorphose deftly wrought:
By Diamond Dyes for silk prepared,
Her old Drab Silk a new life shared.
She finished up with Cotton Hose,
Which once were coloured blue and rose;
And in the twinkling of an eye,
She had them deep immersed in dye;
She called this dye FAST Stocking Black,
And said the ladies were not slack
But quickly found, if they were wise,
'Twas safe to use the Diamond Dyes.
With happy thoughts I then was fill'd,
My heart with feelings grand was thrill'd,
A sweet 'good night,' then home I hied,
Well pleased that Mrs. Long had DYED."

For Young or Old.

Gentlemen,—One of my little girls (aged 4 years) had been troubled with costiveness in a worse form since infancy. We tried different remedies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she would be worse than before using. She lost her appetite and was growing weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B.B.B. with grand results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the Burdock Pills, which we did. She did not take the contents of one bottle before it relieved her, and not only relieved her but permanently cured her, for she has not been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. Women's Baptist Mission Circle.

The Secretary's Thirteenth Annual Report.

The following is the secretary's report of the Women's Baptist Foreign Mission Circle which was received too late for publication with the report of the annual meeting in yesterday's issue:—

In presenting the 13th annual report of the Women's Mission Circle of the Peterborough Baptist Church, we regret that the membership must be reported less than at our last annual meeting Some have withdrawn, and others have removed to a distance, but though not of us, are still co-workers with us in the Master's vineyard.

We have also been called upon to deplore the loss of two by death who were charter members, of whose loss we have been sensible and for whose services we have been thankful. We trust their example will not be forgotten, and that, as one generation of workers is called away, others will come forward to take their place and thus carry on the work.

This year closes with a membership of 61, seven less than last year. The average attendance at our meetings was fifteen.

As our circle includes both home and foreign missions, here the claims of each have been presented alternately at our meetings. In the early part of the year a thanks-offering service was held, which resulted in the addition of $21 14 to our treasury, which was equally divided between home and foreign missions

The balance of the money for the "Peterborough rooms" in the new building at Grande Ligne was raised by special subscription. The amount required for furnishing the room was $40, twenty-five of this was sent last year, thus leaving fifteen dollars to be raised this year, which was forwarded to the Treasurer in October.

With the above exceptions no special efforts have been made during the year to raise money. All contributions have been collected as usual, by our collectors who call quarterly on the members for the amount promised.

The members of our juvenile branch, the Mission Band, are deserving of special notice. They have been unwearied in their efforts; while we congratulate them on their work, we deeply sympathize with them in the loss they have sustained by the removal of their president, Miss Gilmour. Her ardent zeal, untiring diligence in all her undertakings, and her warm affection endeared her to all who knew her worth.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient, action.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Next Sunday at the George Street Church

Rev. John V. Smith, the eloquent and popular pastor of the Metropolitan church, Toronto, will preach the annual missionary sermon in the George street Methodist church next Sunday at 11 a.m. A platform meeting and song service will be held in the evening, when Rev. Mr. Smith and John T. Moore, Esq., one of Toronto's brighest business men, and an eloquent speaker, will deliver addresses on the subject of Missions.

Marriage Bells.

A happy event transpired at the residence of the groom, Bethune street, last evening Mr. W. G. Yelland, was united in wedlock to Miss Margaret J. Spence by the Rev. J. H. Locke, pastor of the George street Methodist church. Mr. Henry Edwards, acted the part of best man, while Miss Christina Anderson, of Dummer, assisted the bride. After the ceremony was performed the usual wedding supper was partaken of by about twenty guests. Mr. and Mrs. Yelland left this morning for the east on a happy wedding tour.

Of Interest to the Ladies.

Among the largest dealers in London, Paris and New York it is quite an established thing to contract certain patterns and mixtures and in fact in many instances the manufacturers produce only one costume at dress length, thus avoiding any sameness in fine fabrics. Mr. J. J. Sheehy informes us in his advertisement of to-day that he has been fortunate enough to make arrangements whereby he can show to the ladies of Peterborough a most tasty assortment of dress goods and while the range is large and includes all the latest novelties. No two patterns are alike. This not only means that if you buy your dress from Mr. Sheehy you get the only one he has, but you get the only one of the style, shade and pattern in Peterborough. This is certainly a step in right direction for one does not care to be wearing what anyone else has.

A Lacrosse Meeting.

A meeting of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club was held last night in the Olympic Club rooms. There were about twenty members present. Mr. W. E. Loch, occupied the chair. The following officers were elected for the present year:

HONORARY PRESIDENT—H. LeBrun.
HONORARY VICE-PRESIDENT.—E. B. Loucks.
PRESIDENT.—W. A. Sanderson.
VICE PRESIDENT—W. E. Loch.
SECRETARY TREASURER.—C. J. Phelan.
CAPTAIN—J. Begley.
COMMITTEE—J. McCabe, E. Hickey, E Wasson and the officers.
FIELD CAPTAIN.—W. E. Loch.

The treasurer's report was not read as Mr. Walter Phelan was absent in Lindsay. Judging from the enthusiasm manifested last night and the efficient officers selected for the coming season, lacrosse will again boom, as of old, in Peterborough.

Personal.

Mr. M. S. Smellie, Stirling was in town to-day.

Mr. J. B. McWilliams is in Toronto to-day on business.

Mr. Thos. McGill, the well known furniture man of Woodstock is in town.

Mr. John Burnham M.P., left for Ottawa at midnight last evening to attend to his Parliament duties.

Mr. Moosom Irwin, Nassau, entered the Peterborough Business College yesterday for a course in shorthand.

Miss M. Flood, Queen street, has returned home after spending some time visiting friends and relatives in Grafton.

Mr. G. W. Halstead, Inspector of Agencies for the New York Life Insurance Company, is in town on a business visit in connection with the local branch of his Company. Mr. Halstead is very favorably impressed with our town.

Mr. Wm. Turnbull, of Hartney, Manitoba, after a ten days visit to Peterborough, returns next Tuesday. Mr. Turnbull takes back with him ten general purpose horses purchased in Peterborough, some for his own use and some for his neighbours. Horses are thirty per cent. cheaper here than in Manitoba. Mr. Turnbull's horses are all of good quality, the lowest-priced being $100.

MR. A. E Scott has accepted the position of manager of a wholesale branch business in Winnipeg, of the Lang Manufacturing Company, of Montreal—biscuits and confectionery. He expects to leave town to assume charge of the business in about three weeks time. Mr. Scott has been a citizen of Peterborough nearly seven years, the last five of which he has been accountant in the Sun Life Assurance Company's office, town. Mr. Scott's absence from town will be greatly felt, especially in the Sunday School, and among the young people of the George street Methodist Church. Ever since he came to town he has been actively associated with the Sunday School, first as teacher and subsequently as secretary-treasurer. He has also been an active worker in the Epworth League of Christian Endeavour of the church, being at present one of the executive of the local branch, and vice-president of the Provincial Union, of the Epworth League, and also assistant secretary of the Provincial Society of Christian Endeavour. He is also a member of the Quarterly Board, and class leader of the George street Methodist, church a member of Otonabee Lodge of Oddfellows, and generally highly respected in social circles.

News Nuggets.

—A new Roman Catholic church is to be erected in Picton, costing $15,000.

—The small boy might be seen playing marbles on every street corner to-day.

—No arrests were made last night. The boys are putting on their good behaviour.

—Service will be held every evening at 5.15 p.m. in St. John's church during Lent.

—Inspector Pops has a gang of men at work breaking stone—getting ready for spring.

—Three travelling gentry soothed their weary limbs and spirits in the "chambers of the rest" last evening.

—A carter's horse fell down on Hunter street this afternoon and was raised on his feet again after considerable trouble.

—A horse ran away on Brock street yesterday afternoon. The runaway ran into the bakery rig of Mr. Lush. The shafts of the cutter were pulled off.

—Spring is evidently coming elsewhere as well as in Peterborough. Mr. J. J. Turner, jr., went this morning to Lindsay and Omemee to put up awnings.

—All the committees of the town council will hold a regular meeting on Friday night, previous to the regular meeting of the council on Monday.

—H. D. Rutledge, Belleville, has laid claim against that city for the sum of $850, for injuries received in breaking his arm by falling on an uncleaned sidewalk.

—Belleville's Mechanic Institute wants a grant of $300 from the city council. If this is not conceded it is feared the institution will have to be closed up and the library consisting of 3,000 books, sold.

—The enterprising Gough Bros., have opened a store in Belleville. This makes five stores which they now control. They also have associate stores in Toronto, Brantford and Orillia.

Funeral of the Late Joseph Griffin.

The funeral of the late Joseph Griffin, clerk of the first Division Court, took place this morning under the auspices of Court St. Peter's, No. 225 of the Catholic Order of Foresters. This was the first funeral held under the auspices of this court, and every member but two took part in the sad duties. Under the direction of Dr. Brennan, Court Physician, the brethren escorted the body from the late residence to St. Peter's Cathedral, where requiem high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Scollard. The floral tributes included a beautiful cross sent by Mrs. D. O. Frye, a near neighbour, and a wreath sent by Court St. Peter. At the conclusion of the mass, the sad procession formed, and, escorted by the Foresters, wearing court badges trimmed with crepe, and followed by an extremely large procession of citizens, the mortal remains of Joseph Griffin were conveyed to the Roman Catholic Cemetery and laid in their last resting place. The pall bearers were: Messrs. W. Clancy, John Clancy, John Halpin, J. J. Lynch, Geo. Ball and Jas. Bogue.

The Board of Trade.

The Remarks of Mr. President Meldrum at the Annual Meeting.

The following is the address of Mr. Meldrum at the annual meeting held on Tuesday evening:—

To the Members of the Board of Trade:—

GENTLEMEN,—It is with a good deal of pleasure that I address you to-night, and also see such a good attendance at this our annual meeting. I think I may congratulate you on the prosperous condition of the town, and the steady progress it has made during the past year. The locating of the Edison Company's works here over a year ago, gave our town and our people a buoyancy and faith in the future position we should occupy in the history of our country, and our merchants and manufacturers have laudably upheld the honour and name of our town. I am glad to say that we have had during the past year very few failures in business, and what we did have small and unimportant.

While there is in our northern climate at this season of the year a large number of our citizens out of employment, especially those connected with the building trade, and labourers, still so far as I can gather, there is not the amount of destitution we generally have, owing to the fine weather during the early part of the winter, giving a much longer working season. This all helps our town in its onward march.

It is surprising to note the large number of new buildings—and of the better class than ordinary—built this last season. This of itself is a sure sign of our progress, and the faith of our moneyed and enterprising men in

of Peterborough.

Then, too, we have entered upon the building of an electric street railway by the syndicate who received the franchise of our streets, and they guarantee to have part, at least, of the railway in operation by the first of July.

Then we have the enlargement of the Water Company's capacity and that company and the Light and Power Co, uniting in building a new dam to enable them at all times to not only furnish better light but also to furnish power for manufacturing purposes at the lowest possible cost and delivering it at such places as is to the advantage of the manufacturer. We have also Mr. Hilliard and the Edison Syndicate asking for the privilege and the franchise of our streets to place poles and string wires for the same purpose, so that we have that most essential thing in the progress of any town, competition, assured in the supply of light and power cheap. Power, location and railway facilities being the inducements most looked for by manufactures in locating in any town, these essentials we soon will have.

Another inducement will shortly, I hope, be provided in the shape of a clean, healthy town. We have had a report and estimate by Mr. MacDougall, sanitary engineer, of Toronto, and he has submitted plans for taking up either in sections or as a whole. This, of course, is a question for our people to decide, at the polls. Another inducement to people to locate and make our town their home is the telephone service. Thanks to some of our enterprising citizens, the Ontario Telephone Company has, so far, proven a success not only in giving a cheap service, but a good one and I understand from the President it is financially a success. Our business people have loyally supported it. In saying this I do not wish to say one word against the Bell Company. They are the only company, God bless them, that think we are in need of charity. Long may their benevolent hearts keep open.

Now, a word to you as members of the Peterborough Board of Trade. You owe a duty to your town, and should give a portion of your time to the interests of your citizens. It is easy to find fault; there are any number of grumblers and fault finders. But all the fault finding will not build up a city—it needs pluck and push. Enterprise and time will do it. There is plenty of work for you to do, and if we are loyal to our municipality we will give the time, and see that nothing is neglected that will further the prosperity and growth of the town.

Hockey.

Lindsay Victorians Last Night in the Struggle With the Peterboroughs.

Yesterday afternoon the Peterborough Hockey club left town for Lindsay to give the latter town a friendly turn of hockey. They played an excellent game throughout but could not neutralize the fine team play of the Lindsays.

The following are the names of the men composing the teams:—

Peterborough.		Lindsay.
Bradburn	goal	Short
Montgomery	point	Martin
Gemmel	cover point	F. Knowlson
Merrick, Dumble, Phalen, Sawers	forwards	Walters, Keenan, A. Knowlson, McMillan

Scarcely had a half minute elapsed after play had begun, before the Lindsay's made a fine rush and scored. Ten minutes more slid by when by a magnificent run Bradburn put the puck between the uprights for Peterborough. Play was resumed but neither side scored another goal before half time was called. In the second half Lindsay scored another point and the victory. After the match the boys repaired to the Queen's Hotel, where an excellent spread was provided by the Lindsay club. Mr. Goldie, secretary-treasurer of the club occupied the chair, while Mr. Knowlson ably filled the position of vice-chairman. Speeches, toasts, songs and jokes helped to make an enjoyable evening pass by all too swiftly away. The home team reached town at 12 o'clock last night. They speak in the highest terms of the welcome and reception tendered them by the Lindsay boys.

The Board of Trade and the Board of Health.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I noticed a charge made by the Board of Trade against the Board of Health, that the latter had not acted satisfactorily during the past year in allowing slaughter houses to be built in the south of the town, and that citizens had been compelled to act as their own board of health, and had called on the Board of Health for redress in vain, so that they were compelled to communicate with the Provincial Board on the subject to have the nuisance removed. Now, if this were true, as the Board of Trade want the public made to believe, it is rather singular that even the Provincial Board of Health ignored the complaint as otherwise the local Board would undoubtedly have been informed by communication as regards the complaint. As the writer of this has been chairman for the expired year, he is able to refute this charge as a fabrication, imaginary, without any particle of truth. No deputation of citizens or even a single individual has during last year made a complaint. The only complaint that has been made, was made by the Board of Health against the town council, which either did not receive our resolutions or ignored them altogether. The Board of Trade, it seems to me, must be scarce of material for debate, and if they are more successful in their action with the council to impress on their minds the necessity of the placing of railway gates for the safety of lives, they will have a point to grow over their success.

Referring to the sawdust in Spalding's Bay and the Little Lake, the Board of Trade seems to have changed tactics since a couple of years ago, when they decided favourably to the lumbermen for dropping the sawdust into the river to have Little Lake polluted

There are other matters the writer could refer to, which will be reserved for a more convenient time.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

I remain, your very truly,
W. LECH.

Peterborough, March 3rd.

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

A Sad Home Coming.

Mr. Fred Irwin, son of Mr. John Irwin, arrived home by the mid-day train, from California, bringing with him the body of his wife, whose sudden death was announced in the EXAMINER a few days ago. The funeral takes place to-morrow afternoon at 3 p.m.

A Serious Runaway.

A couple of young "sports" had a horse and cutter from Mr. Fred Jones livery, out last evening. They were speeding their horse up and down George street. In turning the corner of George and King streets the cutter upset, throwing both out and severely injuring the face of one of the occupants in the fall. The horse dashed up King street and in turning the corner onto Aylmer street ran into a telegraph pole smashing the cutter all to smithereens. The horse continued in its mad career until it reached the livery stable on Hunter street. The damage done to the cutter will amount to $30. It is completely demolished.

Belleville's Great Musical Gain.

The Belleville Ontario of Wednesday has the following in reference to Dr. Davies of this town:—"Dr. Charles F. Davies, late of Peterborough has been secured by the music committee of Bridge street Methodist church to take charge of the organ and choir of that church. The Ontario congratulates them upon being able to secure such a superior musician. Dr. Davies will bring his family here in about a month. From the reputation the Dr. has the standard of music will be very much improved in Belleville—as he is said to stand at the top as a musical director. A good strong philharmonic society would now be in order." The EXAMINER can endorse all that the Ontario says, and add that Belleville is to be congratulated upon adding to her citizenship, one of the best musicians in Canada, and an organist who has, as an executant and interpreter of organ music, no superior on this continent.

The "Queen's" Prize Problem.

Mr. A. and Mr. B. have to cut down a mighty tree. The time 'twill take for Mr. A. this mighty tree alone to slay, is sixty minutes—standard time. Beneath B's. blow, the bulk sublime goes to the ground in half that time. The question now we ask of thee is, how long 'twill take to cut this tree if both begin—one on each side—and thus their labour to divide?

The Queen will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fluted Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in the February issue of The Queen. Valuable special prizes will be given for the first correct answers from each Province. Each person answering must enclose ten three cent stamps for "THE CANADIAN QUEEN GALOP," the latest and most popular piece of fifty-cent copyrighted music issued during the past year. JUST OUT together with sample copy of The Queen. The only object of offering these prizes is to increase the circulation of The Queen, which already is the largest of any publication in Canada. Every prize winner is expected to add to our yearly subscription list. By sending to-day you may secure a valuable prize. Address The Canadian Queen, "X," Toronto, Can.

The Church of England.

Instructive and Interesting Address Given in St. John's Church Last Evening on the English Church and the Work Being Carried on by It in England.

This being the season of Lent, it always sees a series of interesting services ushered in St. John's church. The first of a series of special Wednesday evening services was held in the church last evening. Interesting and helpful addresses will be given at each of these services held during the period of Lent. There was a large attendance last evening, Rev. E. B. Kenrick and Rev. P. Harding conducted the opening services. The announcement was made that service would be held in the church every evening beginning at 5.15 o'clock.

The Rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson, in opening his lecture stated it has been the practice to bring the congregation into contact with other clergymen, but owing to numerous engagements, it was impossible to obtain the services of one to deliver the opening address, hence he had taken the duties of the occasion upon himself. His subject was "Glimpses of the Church in England." All had certain ideas of the church of England in their own place, diocese or in Canada. Therefore many supposed they had an idea of the church in England. So have our soldiers who go into camp every year some idea of the power, pomp and glory of the British army, but it would enlarge their military horizon to be brought into contact with her lines and regiments. The speaker said all he could do would be to take a few glimpses of the different points of view on which the Church stood. He had spent three years in England, one as a layman and two in the prosecution of clerical work. On arriving in England we are confronted with the one great edifice, stupendous and overshadowing, the Church of England. Wonderful architectural talents have been expended in her erection. Many utterances, whole lifetimes and noble sacrifices have been spent in the erection of a great cathedral. No human speaker could be heard throughout them. They rose up in their power and majesty as living monuments of Almighty God. The name of the builders and sculptors had all been destroyed, only one name remained there and that was the name of God. Their love and devotion live and are never silent. Then there was the parish church in the country, adorning every hill and landscape. In it is conducted the plain, simple and quiet devotion of a quiet and earnest people. From this church we turn to get a glimpse of the church in the great towns and cities. Here we find signs of a vigorous life and immense staffs of clergy. The greater the staff, the greater was the number of active lay workers. We find in these the prevailing characteristics were: a sincere devotion, an unostentatious reverence and a quiet service. The Cathedral in Eton Square, London, was a mighty edifice. In it we find ourselves, in an atmosphere of devotion and love, each one seeming to be lost in the very presence of God. As the service progresses we find an absence of self satisfaction and criticism. We find something to tell us that our hearts are fixed upon the presence of God. Entering the church we feel as if we left behind us all the world, with its cares, trouble and strife, and differences in rank, conditions and wickedness, to enter where all things become alike and are worthy of the very approach of God. We feel as though we are all wearing the same garment, and have a premonition of the great surprise which we will have when we enter one day into Heaven. Take, for instance, a glimpse at the services conducted Sunday in a church on a winter morning. Everything is animated. A great many are present at the early communion held at seven o'clock. Those returning meet those coming to the second communion service held at eight o'clock. The church was lighted up as if it were evening. The two or three hundred present at each of these services are earnest struggling Christians. They feel the services are no simple ordinance or ceremony to be merely attended but a thing of life and of reality. It was the speaker's privilege to see these congregations assembling at communion services every Sunday morning. He thought frequent attendance would take away some of the solemnity of the service but he learned that the people looked upon it as a great union with God. To show how peaceably blessed were these services of the holy communion, he instanced its influence upon the rich and refined and upon the poor and uneducated. In exemplification of the good effects in the former class, he took the case of a rich country gentleman which came under his immediate supervision. The man in question was a regular attendant at the Sunday morning services. He was a rich, aristocratic, social and cultured gentleman. The speaker said it would take an earthquake to stop an Englishman from going to church in the morning, it is so customary. This gentleman after attendance at service in the morning would always give lawn tennis and boating parties on Sunday afternoons. It was the general custom, nearly everyone who had means to do it, did it. Sinfulness nowadays was looked upon as a matter of fashion. In different parts of the world people do different thing and are horrified at the doings and actions of others in another part. This man who gave boating and tennis parties on Sunday would be shocked at the tricks and deceptions in trade in this country. It pleased God to touch the heart of this man. Attendance at service although it may not transform a man, still it gives a good chance for the Spirit to get at him. This man began coming to Wednesday evening service and holy communion since he had become religious. Religion was not giving up certain things or attending services. It was doing work for God. Let it enter a man's soul it crowds out all other things. Soon through the influence of this man all the Sunday afternoon parties ended in this district, so strong was public feeling against the desecration of the Sabbath. In another parish was a mission church, and here the work among the poor was carried on. This gentleman had been taught the great Christian law of humanity and if the Lord had washed his master's feet he thought it was his duty to wash others' feet. In the parish, the clergy never knew what it was to look for money. Immense sums were given to the poor and other energies of the church. In that parish there stood to-day a church costing $150,000, an offering to Almighty God from that parish. Among the poorer classes their great sin was intemperance. The first thing to be done was to induce them to sign a pledge and give up drinking. An organized temperance society was one of the first events of practical religion, a stepping stone into the wider sphere of the church militant. The great majority of the drunkards in that district were reclaimed, and were now to be seen every Sunday morning at the table of their Lord in Holy Communion and bringing others to the house of God. Their homes were revolutionized. A Band of Hope was organized, and public feeling against the liquor traffic became vigorous and indignant. Most of the clergy engaged in this work live on very small salaries, hardly sufficient to cover the necessities of life; others use their own means for the work. They become almost lost in a mass of humanity into which they have thrown themselves. Great districts in London had been purified by the Word of God. One thing that he was impressed with was the heterogenous meetings, the rush bottom seats of the churches being free in the majority of cases. A pride in worship must be spoken of with bated breath. Mr. Davidson read an article from the Congregationlist, lauding the dominant school of England and its benificial effects. Newspaper dispatches gave the impression that the service was a ritual or ceremony of forms. Take the evidence of men who have viewed the Church of England in different parts and have come in contact with her. All was forgotten in the mingling of the clergy and laity, the chasm between man and man being bridged in one grand service of God. As a Canadian citizen he was proud of his country and her commercial and manufacturing progress. But who could view with satisfaction the state of religion in this country? There was enough of it. It had absorbed so much it had lost its distinctive character and power. We look for daring events and noble self-sacrifice. The future is brightening, men are adopting higher standards. Let us go forth hopefully, our comrades being the hero church in the mother land of England.

Keeping Everlastingly at It Brings Success.

Boston's new-fangled "storm gown," or "rainy day dress, or "mudless skirt," was put to a severe test last week, and well did it perform the duties to which it was dedicated.

FRONT VIEW.

In spite of the pelting rain and liquid mud which covered the streets and besmeared ordinary gowns, this new dress emerged from the test as clean as when it entered the contest with mud.

Its practical value was clearly established. A glance at the accompanying cuts will show that there was nothing outlandish about the costume. Mrs. M. S. S. Ingersoll said she was not once guyed by street gamins, although she expected to hear some out-spoken criticism from a keen-sighted street Arab.

"Of course, people noticed the abbreviation of my skirts," she said, when relating her adventures, "and lots of them turned to take a second look. The women were more curious than the men, and I guess every woman I passed took good look at my new gown. Several commented upon it before I got out of hearing, and more than one exclaimed: 'Why, that must be the rainy-day dress. Why, that isn't very bad, with a strong accent on 'that.'

"I heard one young lady say: 'I wouldn't be seen wearing such a dress on the street. Well I looked around immediately and I noticed that that young woman's dress was covered with mud for a space of several inches. I felt like asking her which looked the better, clean ankles or a muddy dress.

BACK VIEW.

"I did not feel at all strange in the dress. Perhaps it is due to the fact that my experience on the stage accustomed me to wearing all kinds of garments. Still, I do not see how any woman could feel timid about wearing that dress. The ankles are amply protected by the boots, and there is no disturbing daub of mud disfigure the skirt.—Boston Herald.

MISS JENOURE.

Portrait of the Chief Singer in Gilbert's "Mountebanks," London.

This is a portrait of Miss Aida Jenoure, who has latterly attracted especial attention in London as the heroine of "The Mountebanks." Here is an extract from a London Queen interviewer's report of a chat with Miss J: "Oh, I see," said she, "you want me to talk about myself. All right. To begin, I learned singing at the Royal Academy of Music, where my principal teacher was Signor Raimo, from Milan. Well, at the end of the time I won the Gold Medal and an Associateship, and that kind of thing"—and Miss Jenoure (whose family name, by the way, is Ullathorne), waved her hand in a manner to signify that honors were the common lot.

MISS JENOURE.

"I sang at concerts for a short time, but I found it rather slow work; so presently I joined Mr. D'Oyly Carte's company."

"And after that?" "Then I went to America, playing in 'Patience,' 'The Mikado,' 'Ruddygore,' and nearly all the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, and afterwards to Germany. Upon those tours I took the prima donna parts."

"We shall see you as Nita-Ophelia for a long time to come," said the interviewer, in taking leave. "Yes, I expect 'The Mountebanks' will have a tremendous run."

How to Make a Brocade Gown.

As a model for a brocade, the following design is suggested by the Cleveland Leader and Herald: Make the back of the bodice high and lay it in plaits on the shoulders. Lay the front in the same folds and draw the opening together at the bottom of the front. In the shoulder seams, let the front be longer than the back by the space of the inside fold.

Join to this fold a detached fold of the brocade, which let pass round the back in a soft roll or collar, which may be high or low, as becomes one most. There should be no break in continuity where the folds join. The chemisette is of white satin with white lace laid over it, and may be as high or low, as one pleases; but, whatever other outline it has, do not make it straight across; the eye demands to see it curve upward toward the shoulder. The sleeves is of white satin, overlaid with lace, giving the effect of a lace chemisette over a sleeveless brocade. It is simply made with seams, and meets the glove just above the elbow. The lower edge of the bodice is slightly pointed and finished with a belt of satin ribbon four inches wide, folded and fitted on. The ribbon ties at the back in a knot without loops, and hangs to nearly the bottom of the skirt. The ribbon may be of white, or of the prevailing color in the pattern.

The skirt has a train of eighteen inches. Make the plaits at the back carry the W line of the waist plaits down, a la princess. The skirt border may be of lace, laid over a ribbon of the color of the flowers in the brocade. Sew two rows of lace along the edge of a four-inch ribbon. Let the under one hang, and festoon the upper one along the edge of the ribbon. A dress requires fifteen yards of brocade, and $2 a yard will buy a good one. Point lace and Irish points are in use. The Irish laces are not expensive.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

Annual Meeting of the League at Ottawa—Officers Elected.

OTTAWA, March 2. There was a lively annual meeting of the Imperial Federation League of Canada this afternoon. This resolution passed:

That in the event of the Inter-Imperial preferential trade relations being adopted in the British Empire, it is the opinion of this league that Canada will be found ready and willing to bear her just and fair proportion of Imperial responsibilities.

It was urged in support of this resolution that could preferential duties with Great Britain be secured Canada must be prepared to give something in exchange.

Another resolution was rejected: "That such trade relations can best be established and such responsibility borne both by the Mother Country and the colonies by providing a small uniform ad valorem duty on all importations from foreign countries."

Messrs. Albert, M.P., and Cockburn, M.P., hoped to have seen a resolution asking the Canadian Parliament to lower the duties on British goods, but neither of them would move it under the circumstances of the present election contest in Britain.

The officers elected were: Sir Leonard Tilley, president; vice-presidents, D'Alton McCarthy and A. McNeil for Ontario, Sir Donald Smith for Quebec.

Suspenders For Women.

Suspenders of a special kind are now being made for women. They are, if required, made to order of the same color, or, if practicable material of the waist, and have steel chain ends that slip through a small nickel cylinder, thus yielding to the movements of the body. The suspender buttons are in the outside band of the trousers; they are on the inside of the band of the skirt.—Cloak Review.

Killed by a Stove Oven.

KINGSTON, March 2.—John McLaughlin with his daughter resided in a little log cabin near Yarker. He went outside, brought in an armful of wood and in stooping over to place it in the wood box fell over against the stove with an elevated oven. The oven fell on him, pinning him to the floor. In that position he remained until help arrived. The shock was too much for him at his advanced age and he died shortly after.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

"August Flower"

For two years I suffered terribly with stomach trouble, and was for all that time under treatment by a physician. He finally, after trying everything, said stomach was about worn out, and that I would have to cease eating solid food for a time at least. I was so weak that I could not work. Finally on the recommendation of a friend who had used your preparations with beneficial results, I procured a bottle of August Flower, and commenced using it. It seemed to do me good at once. I gained in strength and flesh rapidly; my appetite became good, and I suffered no bad effects from what I ate. I feel now like a new man, and consider that August Flower has entirely cured me of Dyspepsia in its worst form. JAMES E. DEDERICK, Saugerties, New York.

A worn-out Stomach.

W. B. Utsey, St. George's, S. C., writes: I have used your August Flower for Dyspepsia and find it an excellent remedy.

A LETTER TO GIRLS.

Paris News Notes Concerning the Frills of Fashion.

A new style of trimming for evening is called "whipped cream," and consists of silken rosettes, bars of silk, beads, and ribbons in every color, all "whipped" together.

SPRING WALKING DRESS.

On black net we see pearls threaded with gold. You may find these on bands ready to be sewn on the costume as desired.

Bands of spangles may also be found ready for use. They are of the width of an ordinary band, and are sewn one over the other as thickly as possible, without an interval between them. Although sewn so thickly one over the other, they remain perfectly supple and undulating, like the movements of a serpent's skin. They are sewn quite plain on the dress, and, in greenish bronze, they look startlingly beautiful on black. There is also a great demand for them in black.

Feathers still remain in great favor for full-dress toilettes, and are used in bands, or put on in long tufts which issue from slashes made in the material, these slashes themselves being edged with jet; ostrich feathers, cut and curled cocks' feathers, and marabouts are all used for these trimmings. Marabouts are particularly in favor, in their natural state, chines, or spotted, and dyed in every color and shade of the season. For evening dress, however, the Indian marabout is decidedly the most suitable—being as light as down—and the best adapted for light materials.

Passementeries for bodices and jackets are remarkably rich, being covered with beads, metallic threads, and edged with fringe.

A novelty is a gold and silk filet, embroidered with foliage, which is coiled, a volonte, over the bust and hips.

How to Spoil a Husband.

Even the best of husbands resembles ordinary mortals in one trifling characteristic—there are some things he likes to do, and some other things he decidedly objects to doing; and among the latter may be included divers useful and admirable occupations, which do not happen to commend themselves to his taste. In nine cases out of ten the wife, instead of attempting gently and firmly to conquer his disinclination to these pursuits, humors him in his objections to them, and thus unwittingly sows the seeds of future annoyance and trial to herself.

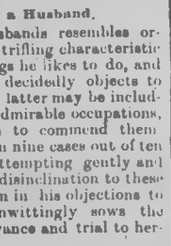
Nearly every man has some weakness. One dislikes to put on his dress suit when he goes out with his wife in the evening, preferring to mortify her by appearing in morning dress when other men are on grand tenue. Another protests against going out in the evening at all. A third objects to waiting upon himself in such matters as putting away his clothing or papers, while a fourth has a well-rooted custom of unpunctuality at meals.

Others have unpleasant little personal habits, such as a preference for sitting in their shirt sleeves on warm days, or a trick of picking their teeth or cleaning their nails elsewhere than in private. Or, perhaps, one and all have some pet slang phrase, or prevarication, or grammatical inaccuracy, that grates horribly on ears polite. If the wife condones these offences in the early days of married life, when her influence with her husband can compass almost anything, she may resign herself to the conviction that she will never eradicate the habits she condemns.

Any reforms the wife attempts to pursue should be conducted with the utmost gentleness. We none of us like to be reminded that we are not perfect, and it is intensely unpleasant to learn that our best beloved do not consider us impeccable. The wife must bear this in mind; put herself in her husband's place and resolve to be tender as well as firm. An appeal to his love for her, to her pride in him, his sense of justice and his sense of what is right, is almost always a sure plea, and the result when she succeeds justifies her efforts and compensates for her pains.—C. T. Herrick, in Ladies' Home Journal.

Creeping Frock for Baby.

A young mother has devised a "creeping frock" for babies. The garment is on the plan of the loose trousers worn by women in India. It looks like a bag gathered into a waistband, and it has four hemmed strings, two inches wide and half a yard long, that serve as braces. In each corner of the bottom of the bag the seam is left open for about 4 inches, and hemmed around for the footholes. When baby's plump little legs have been thrust through the openings, the waist-band buttoned in place, the strings tied in bows on each shoulder, and her frock and skirts smoothed into the envelope, she is protected effectually against the soiling incident to wiping up the floor with herself, and is cushioned for the inevitable falls she is likely to suffer in trying to stand alone.—New York Sun.



CREEPING COSTUME FOR BABY.

The Borrowed Ring.

Maud Cheviot was standing in her friend's boudoir. "It worked," she said to her hostess, "beautifully. There is your ring, and thank you so much. I shall always, in some sort, owe you much of my happiness, you know. It is a pretty ring. I hope your fiance may never object to my temporary use of it. Tom proposed twenty-four hours after he saw it on my finger. It's always the way with men. When they think they have lost you they find they wanted you all the time. And now, you see I've got a real engagement ring of my own on; not yours, dear. But we're to be married in three months. You must come to the wedding. Tom has very much to thank you for for your ring. He shall know that some day."—Chicago Times.

Women as Tailors' Duns.

The latest and most effectual scheme resorted to by the noble army of martyrs—the tailors—is a collecting and protective agency conducted exclusively by young women. The manager is a woman, and she has thirteen bright and pretty girls assistants all resident in the city of Atlanta. The gilded youth who is persistently in arrears with his trousers dues is confronted by a vision of bewitching girlhood, and surprised into paying his bill before he realizes it. The most amusing scenes occur daily at the office of the agency.

It is not theory but fact—that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong. A fair trial will convince you of its merit.

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c, and $1, at the Peterborough Drug Store. dw

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general toilet purposes, use Low's Sulphur Soap. w d

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use. dw

Self Application of Electricity

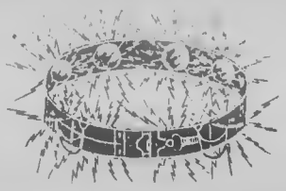
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated as some by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. sod w

OXFORD TUTOR SCANDAL.

THE PRETTY YOUNG WIDOW AND HER DUPES

Earl Russel Testifies and Produces Numerous Letters From Ruth—Repeated Attempts to Blackmail the Young Lord Proved Unsuccessful

LONDON, March 3.—Tutor Morland of Oxford was again in court to-day in the blackmailing scandal matter.

Earl Russell was the first witness called, the calm, jaunty though nervous manner of this young nobleman recalling his previous appearances in the witness box in the divorce suit brought against him by his wife, which attracted so much attention recently, on both sides of the Atlantic.

The Earl said that the prisoner was a stranger to him, but that in 1888 he received a letter purporting to come from a young woman asking for £50, which he foolishly answered, and the next year after his marriage engagement he received an unsigned letter saying that some gentleman without credentials had called upon Ruth Morland, the widow, and that he had offered £50 for his lordship's letter. A slip of paper bearing upon it Mrs. Morland's address was enclosed in this missive.

The Earl, to this letter, replied by a short note; but, he says, did not send anyone to Mrs. Morland's. He wrote, however, he would be glad to receive the information that his letters had been destroyed as hers had been. The Earl signed this letter "Your Correspondent."

Earl Russell also said that he received a letter on September 24th, 1889, declaring that if his letter meant an offer of £50 for the return of his correspondence the matter could be easily arranged, if not, it was intimated, his indiscretion in boasting of his amatory victories would be revealed and their secret would be disclosed to someone who would only be too glad to get possession of it. The writer also suggested that the Earl could hardly have been in a serious frame of mind when he asked for the destruction of his correspondence. This epistle suggested that the most simple way to solve the difficulty was to send £50 to the writer.

In answer to further questions from prosecuting counsel, Earl Russell added that on Oct. 9, 1889, he received another letter. This one was signed "A. B.," and said, among other things, that if the writer could obtain Earl Russell's letters from "Mrs. M. of Oxford," that Miss Scott, the Earl's intended bride (to whom he was afterward married, and who afterwards brought the sensational divorce suit against him), should see them.

Other letters in the same strain, said the Earl, were also sent to him by "Ruth Morland;" but he persisted in his refusal to be blackmailed and positively refused to send the £50 frequently asked for under thr ats of various kinds of exposure.

Finally "Ruth Morland" became apparently somewhat convinced that the Earl was not so green as he looked, which was saying a good deal, and so she changed her tactics and began writing anonymous letters to Miss Scott. "Ruth" informed that interesting young lady that some very peculiar letters were in the possession of a lady at Oxford, which Miss Scott might be glad to see.

Finally, said Earl Russell, he received a preliminary letter from "Ruth Morland" saying that unless £50 was sent her immediately, that the writer intended confessing immediately to her husband, that she had committed an indiscretion with Earl Russell, which would soon place them both in the divorce court.

Mr. Lewis then put a most pointed question to the Earl; he said, sharply:

"Have you ever been intimate with Mrs. Morland?"

Earl Russell: "I have never even seen her."

Mr. Lewis: "Are the statements contained in the letters supposed to have been written to you by a lady of the name of 'Mrs. Morland' pure fiction?"

Earl Russell: "Absolutely so from beginning to end."

Once More the Fatal Crossing.

ORANGEVILLE, March 3.—About 6 o'clock last evening Patrick McGarvey, a well-known farmer of Lavel, was crossing the track just outside the town when his horses took fright at an approaching train and became unmanageable. The team was struck by the locomotive. McGarvey was instantly killed and the horses so badly injured that they subsequently died. McGarvey was aged 55 years.

The Abductors of an Old Man Captured By His Wife and Son.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 3.—Two men who pretended to be officers abducted Stephen Van Clew, aged 70, from his house near Bear Hill.

They were captured by Van Clew's wife and son after they had robbed and murdered Van Clew and flung his body in a gully.

One of the murderers was shot when attempting to escape and the other was turned over to the authorities.

DEATH INSTEAD OF RENT.

Widow Sheehan's Corpse Found Seated On a Chair By the Window.

NEW YORK, March 3.—Mrs. Bridget Sheehan, a widow, lived in a couple of rooms in the rear of the second floor of No. 103 Kent-avenue. On Monday morning the neighbors noticed that she was not around as usual, and they saw what they thought to be a shawl at her window in a position that suggested that it was lying on the back of a chair.

Mrs. Sheehan did not put in an appearance all day. Her absence excited comment, and many were the speculations indulged in as to her whereabouts.

It appears, however, that no one suggested a visit to her rooms.

No. 103 Kent avenue is in the charge of Joses Jukes, a real estate agent, of No. 394 Cumberland-street. Yesterday morning Mr. Jukes called at the house to collect the rent from the tenants. He knocked at Mrs. Sheehan's room and received no reply. Mr. Jukes then turned the handle and entered the room.

On a chair close by the window, with a shawl thrown over her shoulders, sat the widow. Her head rested on the window-sill, her left hand rested on her lap and her right hung down by her side.

The agent thought that the woman was asleep and called her name. No reply came and Jukes crossed the floor and shook her shoulder. She lurched forward and would have fallen if he had not caught her. As he touched her hands Jukes found that they were icy cold and he realized that he was supporting a dead woman.

Shocked beyond measure, Jukes laid the quiet form gently back in the chair and hastened to the Bedford-avenue Police Station.

A GUN AT ITS HEAD.

Shocking Suicide of a Resident of Clinton —It Ran in the Family.

CLINTON, March 3.—William Cooper, father of the late W. H. Cooper, tired of this world's care, put an end to himself yesterday. He placed a gun in his mouth and pulling the trigger blew the top of his head off. The corpse presented a horrible sight. He died instantly. It is just one year ago that his son threw himself before an express train here and was also instantly killed.

Championship Hockey Match.

TORONTO, March 3.—The hockey match is over. Osgoode Hall is beaten. It was the old story. The score:

First half—Ottawa...	6	Osgoode.....	1
Second half—Ottawa.	4	Osgoode.....	3
Total, Ottawa.....	10	Osgoode.....	4

The opening minutes showed even play and how the spectators yelled! For four minutes Puck hovered merrily from goal to goal with no apparent advantage This pleased the crowd. But misfortune soon came and from a simple shot H. Kirby scored. It was only a goal and did not discourage the legal seven. But when No. 2 came and No. 3 and No. 4 hope forsook the pluckiest heart and it was only a matter of majority.

The Ottawa players understand all the hockey tactics and displayed their versatility in many features, new here, last night. Their forward play is most effective. The outside wings, Bradley and Russell, hugged the walls throughout. The Kirbys stuck to the centre. This clever combination dazzled the spectators as it did Osgoode Hall. Puck went with accuracy from Russell to Bradley and from either of the Kirbys to the outside. He invariably went where there was a man, and that man generally got him. Ottawa's play in front of goal was superb. The rubber was deftly landed from either corner in front of the sticks at distances ranging from 1 to 10 yards. The strength of Ottawa's defence lay in the marvelous alacrity with which Puck was stopped and thrown. They were never slow in the gypsum and were most effective in body-blocking attempted throws. And how cleverly they baseballed the flying puck! Although their shindy shots did not look the prettiest, they were most effective and frequently resorted to. Scarcely ever did they trespass, and off-side was rarely called. Their off-side man waited and so did Osgoode Hall's. Then the man who threw skated up and rushed away with the covered gypsum.

Osgoode Hall did well to tally a quartet. They at times showed a good combination. Boys, Senkler, Smellie and Kerr were the best, taken in the order named. Smith stopped scores of difficult shots. The selection of Mr. Littlejohn as referee was a happy one. His decisions were promptly given and never objected to. The goals were scored as follows:

TOOK HIM FOR A MAIL BAG.

Harry Johnson Held in the Clutch of a Fast Train's Lever Catch

DOBBS FERRY, N.Y., March 2.—Harry Johnson, 30, of Trenton, N.J., met with a singular accident yesterday.

He was working on a scaffold surrounding one of the signal towers now being erected. At 4.30 o'clock the fast mail came thundering along. The mail is taken from a stand by a lever catch, that is, the mail bag is suspended from the stand and as the train approaches it the bag is snatched with a lever while the train is going at full speed. This stand is built but a few feet from the new tower.

As the train came along the baggageman must have taken Johnson for the mail bag, as he threw out his lever, which caught Johnson about the legs below the knees. In its tight grasp it drew Johnson toward the train and dropped him to the ground, nine feet below.

Johnson's legs are terribly crushed and it is feared that amputation will be necessary.

Ended Life With His War Pistol.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., March 3.—John G. Mason, a well-known lawyer and public man of this place, committed suicide Sunday by shooting himself through the head with a pistol he carried during the war. His body was found before a large mirror in his room in the house he occupied alone.

He was a member of the historic family of his name and followed the fortunes of Lee and Jackson. So devoted was he to the Confederate cause that he made himself conspicuous by wearing on public occasions the same grey uniform he wore at the surrender.

He was about 50 years old and twice a widower. The loss of his last wife seemed to break him down.

Late Saturday night he met J. W. Colbert, one of the famous Black Horse Cavalry of Fauquier county, and when they separated he said:

"Good-bye, old 'Reb;' you will never see me again."

A will was found in which he expressed a wish to be buried in his Confederate uniform.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

300 FRENCH MINERS DROWNED IN A PIT.

Imperial Parliament—The new Treaty Between the United States and the West Indies—To Declare Alsace-Lorraine in a State of Seige in War Times.

PARIS, March 4.—It is stated that the Camillie Pit at St. Etienne has been flooded and that 300 miners have been drowned.

BERLIN, March 4.—The Reichstag yesterday began discussion on bill empowering the Government to proclaim a state of siege in Alsace-Lorraine in the event of war or serious danger.

Several speeches were made declaring that Alsace-Lorraine is in a perfectly tranquil condition and is rejoiced to be a member of the German Empire. The proposed law, it was said, would be a source of fresh mortification to the Alsatians and disturb France.

The Government urged that there were momentous reasons in favor of the measure.

It was finally referred to a committee of 21 members.

Discrimination Against England.

LONDON, March 4.—In the House of Commons yesterday, Sir John E. Gorst, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, said the Government was aware that the reciprocity treaty between the United States and the British West Indies had led to a decrease in customs revenue of colonies, but, he added, the Government would endeavor to prevent the arrangements from increasing the duties on British manufactures.

Prison Revolt in Burmah.

RANGOON, March 4—A despatch from Akyab, British Burmah, states that the prisoners in the jail there, among whom the celebrated Dacoit Chief Boh Minlaung, who, together with his father and two of his followers was recently captured by the British troops, near Kudoung, rose against their keepers and killed the warden of the jail. The revolt was headed by Boh Minlaung.

Dejected Mrs. Deacon.

CANNES, March 4.—Mr. Deacon, the American who shot and killed Abeille, the Frenchman whom he discovered in his wife's room, was again confronted with Mrs. Deacon before the judge d'instruction at Grosse yesterday.

The examination was conducted privately.

Mrs. Deacon was seen as she was leaving the room in which the examination was held and her manner appeared very dejected. She will return to Paris to-morrow.

Tree Bark and Chopped Straw.

VIENNA, March 4.—The famine in the County of Arva in Hungary is becoming more intense. Many people have died of hunger in the Namseto district. Seventy-five deaths from starvation have been reported in two months. The people's food consists of hominy mixed with tree bark, or maize mixed with chopped straw.

Bishop of Amiens Dead.

PARIS, March 4.—Bishop Jacquenet of Amiens is dead.

A TWO-POUND BABY.

The Mother Weighs 225 Pounds and the Father 185 Pounds.

NEW YORK, March 4.—The baby came last Saturday night, the tiniest baby that ever you saw. She has spidery arms, fingers like morning-glory tendrils, and a mouth which is not large enough to be called a mouth at all. Her head is the size of a baseball. A good-sized derby hat is large enough for her cradle, but she can fill a whole house with her cries.

Mamma Helmers weighs 225 pounds and Papa Helmers weighs 185 pounds.

The family live at 431 New York-avenue, Jersey City, and have had 10 children, all of whom weighed 10 pounds at birth. Shortly after this one was born the father took a ring from his little finger and easily slipped it over the child's hand.

Fifty Killed in a Collision.

RIO JANEIRO, via Panama, March 3.—There was a serious collision of trains on the San Francisco and Recipe Railway, near Cuambuca Station, more than 50 persons, it is reported, being killed and a large number wounded.

Is Robber Perry a Murderer?

ANACONDA, Mont., March 4. — Oliver Curtis Perry, the New York Central express robber, it is said, shot and killed Andy McCoy, a saloon-keeper, at the Georgetown mining camp, in Deer Lodge County, in 1886. The murder was unprovoked.

Perry escaped and afterwards was known to have been one of a gang of horse thieves operating in Idaho.

A large reward was offered for his capture by the Montana authorities, but all trace of him was lost till he robbed the New York Central express car.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE LONDON ELECTION CASE BEFORE THE HOUSE.

An Important Discussion in Which Hon David Mills and Sir John Thompson Participate — Mr. Cockburn and the Baie des Chaleurs Employes.

OTTAWA, March 4.—After the holiday and the influx of the press visitors and deputations the galleries of the House were well filled yesterday.

Mr. Laurier was in his place, looking as if regaining his old-time health.

In answer to Sir Richard Cartwright Hon. John Haggart said the earnings of the Intercolonial Railway were from July 1, 1891, to Feb. 1, 1892, $1,758,790; working expenses same time $2,404,633; loss $645,843. From July 1, 1890, to Feb. 1, 1891, earnings, $1,811,009, working expenses. $2,182,151; losses, $371,142. This shows that the losses for the latter six months were higher than for the corresponding preceding six months.

Mr. Haggart said it would take a long time to make up a return asked for by Mr. McMillan of the employes in the Government railway service. There were 4473 regular employes and over 600 temporary ones. The matter was adjourned.

Baie des Chaleurs Employes.

Mr. Cockburn brought up his motion that a select committee be appointed to take evidence under oaths, and report upon any claims remaining still unpaid of the workmen, laborers of the workmen, and of those who supplied board to the workmen and laborers, of the furnishers of building material and other privileged parties in connection with the building of the Baie des Chaleurs Railway in the Province of Quebec. He began his address by saying that his action was prompted, not by party feeling, but by the duty he owed to the Bank of Ontario, of which he was a director, and in the interest of the laborers referred to in the motion.

Sir John Thompson said in view of the fact that two Royal Commissions of the Province of Quebec were now investigating these very matters it would be inexpedient to allow the motion to pass.

Mr. Cockburn therefore withdrew the motion after Mr. Laurier had added that Mr. Cockburn should have delivered his speech down in Quebec, where the people of that province were now discussing this matter in a general election.

The London Election Dispute.

Mr. Mills brought up the most important discussion of the day in a motion: That the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery do attend this House with the original list of voters received from the revising officer of the city of London, also with list as printed and upon which the recent election for that city was held.

Mr. Mills contended in effect that the 220 voters whose names were pending appeal should not be counted in the London election.

Sir John in his statement said that the revising officer sent down his lists in the ordinary way to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. Those whose names had been struck out without opposition were ruled out in black ink. The 220 in question were also ruled out, but in red ink, and the words "pending appeal" marked in the margin. The lists as so marked were given to the Queen's Printer. He set up the list, leaving out both the names ruled out in black and in red ink. When the proofs went to the revising officer he marked these red-line names in again and put a letter "A" alongside of them, and in a footnote the words "pending appeal." The Queen's Printer referred the matter to the Department of Justice, and the deputy-minister concurred in the revising officer's decision. Sir John Thompson says that he himself was not consulted on the matter at the time, Feb. 1, but that he now fully endorsed the decision of his deputy. Sir John then went on to say that the parties whose names were so put on had a perfect right to vote, though these voters were now certainly pending appeal and how the appeal went would finally decide whether these votes should be counted or not. What is to take place after this will be elicited in the debate to-morrow, the debate of to-day, as far as Mr. Mills and Sir John were concerned, being limited to the London lists and the printing thereof. The debate to-morrow will be on what took place in the London election after the opening of the ballot boxes.

But after Mr. Mills and the Minister of Justice got through Mr. Mulock continued the discussion and he made some strong statements. In effect he said that Judge Elliot was about to make enough of the disputed votes good in order to seat Mr. Carling. He repeated the charge and the Speaker called him to order. He held that the practice was that no criticism of a judge was allowed in the English or Canadian Commons, of a court or of a judge other than by a direct impeachment.

Mr. Mulock withdrew the statement and the House adjourned.

The London election case therefore now rests with Judge Elliot to say what shall be done with the disputed 220 votes. If he says they are good, Mr. Carling will take the seat; if the contrary, Mr. Hyman will get it. It is not likely Mr. Carling will try to take it until after the decision of Judge Elliot and the recount that has been asked for.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, March 4.—When the House assembled yesterday afternoon Mr. Awrey moved for a return of all orders-in-council authorizing the payment of extra allowances to officials in the various public institutions throughout the province during the past 10 years.

Mr. Gibson, in response, remarked that he would have no objection to complying with the request presented, but would not promise when the return would be made.

Land and Charity Again.

The House then went into Committee of the Whole on Mr. Hardy's bill to incorporate the Association of Ontario Land Surveyors and to amend the Act respecting Land Surveyors and the Survey of Land. That gentleman remarked that, in compliance with a suggestion of an honorable gentleman, expressed when the matter was previously before the committee, he would have no objection to having the clause providing for the establishing of fees for professional services in connection with land surveying struck out. The bill was very fully discussed and finally passed.

The Evening Session.

Three hours were employed mainly in the consideration of estimates.

A large amount of discussion was occasioned over a grant of $100,000 towards the maintenance of High Schools and Collegiate Institutes.

Mr. Meredith, during the course of a few remarks, said that the public schools of the province were not receiving the consideration from the Government that was properly their due. What the Opposition wish to do, he continued, was to make these primary institutions efficient.

Mr. Ross followed with a lengthy address. He fully vindicated the cause of higher education and demonstrated conclusively that the amount of money expended on this department of learning was not out of proportion to its importance.

Learning and Kissing.

In connection with the Normal and Model School estimates Mr. Meredith asked the Minister of Education if some irregularity had not taken place in connection with one of these institutions. He also wished to ascertain if an investigation into the matter had not been made.

Mr. Ross replied that he had become cognizant of an alleged slight act of folly on the part of one of the teachers.

Mr. Meredith: Is that what you call it? When one of the leading male teachers makes a practice of kissing his female assistants matters assume a rather serious aspect.

Mr. Ross: I called for evidence but could not secure any.

Mr. White: Of course you couldn't. There would be no witnesses.

Mr. Meredith: And they would not stand self-convicted.

Notes of Interest.

A deputation of mining men interested in the Independent Customs Smelter at Sudbury will meet the Government after the House rises on Wednesday next.

Over 300 temperance petitions have been received so far this session.

A petition was presented by Mr. Tait from the Toronto City Council asking for 26 amendments to the Municipal Act.

At a meeting of the Printing Committee W. D. Balfour occupied the chair. The usual number of returns were ordered to be priuted. The Queen's Printer, Lud K. Cameron, presented the first proofs of the report of the Fish and Game Committee. The volume is to be handsomely illustrated and several of the members wanted an extra edition of 10,000 copies printed for distribution. Hon. G. W. Ross objected to this and promised to have an extra edition of 5000 struck off.

The investigation into the extra grants to officials of the asylum was continued at a meeting of the Public Accounts Committee.

The Committee on Standing Orders had a short session. H. P. O'Connor occupied the chair. Three petitions were passed. They are: From the City Council of Toronto praying that an act may pass to confirm the debentures to be issued in connection with the reclamation of Ashbridge's Bay; 2, From J. Ross Robertson and others praying that an act may pass to incorporate the Hospital for Sick Children; and 3, From G. W. Kiely and others of Toronto praying that an act may pass to authorize the city of Toronto to grant to the purchasers of the street railway franchise the right to operate the railway for 30 years.

At a meeting of the Private Bills Committee a bill was passed authorizing the town of Niagara to register a correct map of the town. A bill sanctioning the consolidation of the debt of Oshawa was also approved.

A deputation of the Dominion Grange was received by the Attorney-General. It consisted of Mr. Peter Hopingstall, Fordwich, master; Mr. Robert Wilkie, Blenheim, secretary; Mr. Henry Glendenning, Manilla, and Mr. Jacob Robinson, Executive Committee. The contention of these gentlemen is that the country is over-governed, and that there ought to be fewer representatives. The provisions of the present act regarding county councils were, in their opinion, cumbersome and enormously expensive. They presented a feasible plan to effect a reform.

Nearly all the cattle exporters and dealers of Toronto went up to Brampton to attend the funeral of the late D. N. Craig, whose father was buried only last week. Mr. Wragge of the Grand Trunk had placed a special car at their disposal, and among those who went up were: Ex-Ald. G. F. Frankland, President of the Live Stock Association; ex-Ald. J. E. Verral, ex-Ald. William Crealock, Ald. Crawford and Messrs. Flanagan, Harris, Rogers, McClennan, Alligan, Thompson, James Dunn, Egan, Wilson, McDonald, O'Leary, Zegman, Walker, Booth, Doyle, Hodgson, Hunter, Lambert, Hay and others. Rev. Alexander Langford conducted the services. At the station after the interment Mr. Frankland made a touching address, and upon his motion, seconded by A. J. Thompson, a resolution of sympathy from the Live Stock Association was tendered to the bereaved family. Others present also spoke of the many good qualities of the deceased. Mr. Craig was one of the best known cattle dealers of the province. He left an estate of about $100,000

A RACE OF WILD DOGS.

The Latest Pest of the Lake of the Woods Country.

PILOT MOUND, N.W.T., March 3.—In the Lake of the Woods country, which may be described as a wilderness of forest, rock and brushwood, a race of wild dogs have established themselves, and are increasing in numbers so rapidly that fears are entertained that the animals will yet become troublesome. When the Canadian Pacific Railway was under construction the camps of the workmen had of course to be frequently moved, and dogs were often left behind and eventually, like wolves and foxes, found means of sustaining themselves. The animals are large, lean, short-haired and generally red or red and white in color. They are exceedingly wild and fly on the first approach of man. In winter they live by catching rabbits that abound in the wilderness of brushwood. In summer the wild dogs catch fish that crowd the smaller streams that connect inland lakes. The Indians detest the wild dogs, as they pursue game and take the bait from traps and are a general nuisance.

The Little Bow of Blue.

Written by the S. C. of North Monaghan Council of Royal Templars.

You ask me why upon my breast,
I wear this bow of blue?
Would I forget the pledge I've signed,
If this was not in view?
Well friends I like to tell you why
I wear this little bow,
And I would like to see you all
Wear one where'er you go.

It's not I might perhaps forget
The pledge I've signed my friend,
For that I never shall forget,
I'll keep it to the end.
I love the temperance cause, that's why
I wear this ribbon blue;
I wear it that you all may see
I to my vow am true.

Thank God I'm not ashamed, to be
Upon the side of right,
And that is what this ribbon shows—
So I'll wear it here in sight.
I never want to hide it friends,
No that I'll never do!
But I want you all to know just why
I love this bow of blue.

I love to let the people see,
That I'm a temperance man,
And for the cause I mean to work,
And do what e'er I can.
Perhaps you think there's nothing in
Our wearing this bow of blue,
But friends, it brightens many a home,
What better could it do?

If all the drunkards in our land,
Would come right out like men,
And sign the pledge, and wear this bow,
Would it mean something then?
Oh! what rejoicing there would be,
In the world both far and near,
Yes what rejoicing there would be
In the drunkards home so drear.

The ribbon would mean something then,
Ah, would it not, dear friends?
For every little bow of blue
Great joy to some heart lends.
Yes, wives, mothers and sisters, they
Are the ones who too well know
The sorrows that intemperance brings,
And the value of this bow.

I pray to God the time may come
When every man shall wear
Upon his breast a bow of blue,—
I'd love to see it there.
And moderate drinkers are the men
Who should put on this bow,
For drunkards all drank moderate once,
Till on they had to go.

So if the first drink you dont take,
The second you won't need;
For the first glass is the one, friends,
That on to others lead.
I pray you then to sign the pledge,
You sign it while you may,
And wear upon your breast this bow,
In memory of the day.

But if you will not sign it friend,
This never, never do;
Laugh at some who manly wear,
A little bow of blue.
I love this little bow friends,
I'll keep it here in view,
That all may see, I'm not ashamed
Of my little bow of blue.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS,
MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS,
TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

SOME STAGE SCIENCE.

GENERAL HINTS TO AMATEURS ON THE ART OF MAKING UP.

Grease Paint and Powder—Their Judicious Use Changes the Whole Expression of a Face Progress from Youth to Age. —Wrinkles.

"A knack for 'making up' artistically does almost as much to make an actor successful as ability to play his parts well does," said an old wigmaker to Frank Falconer the other day. And this is true to a considerable extent. Good makeup will not atone for bad acting, but bad makeup will take the charm from good acting.

Moreover, making up is an art of itself. There is as much individuality in it as there is in the painting of pictures. There are actors who could never learn to be really artistic in making up if they lived to be a hundred years old, and there are others to whom it seems to come naturally. To attempt to lay down a set of rigid rules for painting the face would be as ridiculous as to try to teach how to become a landscape artist in a newspaper article; but there are some general facts which will undoubtedly be of use to beginners.

Two remarks made by experts I remember, which should be thoroughly appreciated by amateurs before they buy makeup boxes. Will Buckland, who was instructor in making up at a New York dramatic school, said, "Art in making up consists in disguising the face—not hiding it," and Joseph Jefferson, the venerable actor, said, "There is more importance in knowing what to leave off the face than there is in knowing what to put on."

The materials needed by an actor for making up depend, of course, on the kind of part he is to play. Elaborate makeups are only required in "character parts"—that is, in parts in which the actor is forced to give his face an expression wholly different from its natural one. A young man who is to play the role of a man of about his own age and facial appearance needs only to prepare his face so so as to meet the effect of the footlights (which throw light from above—a circumstance not met with off the stage), to exaggerate his features so that they will be plainly distinguished at a distance, and to disguise the real imperfections of his face—few faces are without them.

Before he begins to make up at all he should thoroughly rub into his face cold cream or some kindred preparation, wiping it off after the skin has been thoroughly softened. Put red on the cheek bone and spread it by rubbing with the fingers if grease paint is used, with a hare's foot if rouge has been applied, until it is perfectly shaded. Women may extend the red under the eyes to a considerable extent; men should avoid it as it makes them look effeminate. Then powder the face a trifle, to make the complexion look even and clear. A touch of rouge on the lips is often necessary. Under the eyes a brown or black pencil line should be drawn and a little cosmetic applied to the lashes—upper and lower—to give the eye brilliancy and make it stand out in spite of the strong lights of the stage. Ladies should also make up their ears by touching the tips with rouge, and redden the nostrils a trifle. After all this has been done the face is merely prepared to stand the lightning of the stage—no change in expression has been made.

Often, however, an actor is called upon to play a role requiring a countenance wholly different from his own. The most frequent contingency among amateurs is the necessity for young men to make up as older than they are. A "character makeup" generally requires a change of complexion. In this case the required tint of grease paint should be rubbed over the whole face as a basis of operations, after the face has been softened with cold cream as before described. Wrinkles are the clearest indication of age, and a trifling study of real faces will show how they occur in real life at different ages. The four accompanying cuts show the progress of the face of a well known actor in its various stages from youth to old age.

FIG. III.

Fig. I shows the face without makeup—that of a young man of twenty-one or thereabout. In Fig. 2 short lines have been added, running diagonally down from the corners of the mouth and from the sides of the nose. Two short lines diverge from the outer, corners of the eyes. The inner corners of the eyes have been darkened a trifle, giving the eyebrows a slightly lowering expression. From the inner corners of the eyebrows short lines run upward and there is a fine 2-inch horizontal line on the forehead. The result is the face of a man thirty years old.

FIG. IV.

In Fig. 3 the line over the chin has been deepened, the lines from the corners of the mouth and sides of the nose accentuated, another line has been added to those running from the outside corners of the eyes, the brows have been still further lowered and two short lines have been run from the inside corners of the eyes so that they extend partly under them, there are new lines between the eyes and that on the forehead has been lengthened and joined by three other short ones. The actor now wears a fifty-year-old face

Fig. 4 shows the actor made up to represent extreme and severe old age. All the previous lines have been deepened and strengthened, and new wrinkles appear in the cheeks, in the forehead and under the eyes.

These lines should be drawn with the regular makeup pencil and then softened by being shaded with powder or grease paint.

The makeup of a face with a beard or moustache is comparatively simple, for the expression can be greatly changed by the shape of that accessory. Beards are best made by the actor himself out of the soft, raw wool prepared and sold for that purpose. The ready made beards on wire should be avoided, as they do not blend into the face.

Now a few general hints as to the effect of makeup in various parts of the face:

Eyebrows that slant upward give the face a clever, villainous look.

Lines between the eyes add sternness to the face.

The eyes may be made to look larger than they really are by drawing lines along the edge of the upper eyelid.

Rose color applied around the eyes gives the appearance of recent weeping.

Light gray around the eyes gives an expression of grief.

Teeth may be made to appear missing by pasting black courtplaster over them, and yellow or gray paint will make them look decayed.

A ruddy chin makes the face look longer. A pale one makes it look shorter. White on the ridge of the nose makes it appear short. Red there makes it look long.

Short lines drawn upward from the corners of the mouth make the face look narrow; drawn downward they give a sour expression.

The appearance of death may be counterfeited by applying a bluish gray complexion. A drunkard's complexion is pale yellow.

It would be easy to fill many columns with hints of this kind, but amateurs, with such printed instructions as they are able to get from the face paint manufacturers, can form a basis for working out their own problems from the above.

Makeup should be removed by wiping off with a cloth after the face has been besmeared with cold cream.

For Young or Old.

Gentlemen,—One of my little girls (aged 4 years) had been troubled with costiveness in the worst form since infancy. We tried different remedies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she would be worse than before using. She lost her appetite and was growing weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B.B.B. with grand results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the Burdock Pills, which we did. She did not take the contents of one bottle before it relieved her, and not only relieved her but permanently cured her, for she has not been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.

People Wonder

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that this preparation contains only the purest and most powerful alteratives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. Jos. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "Liver complaint and indigestion made my life a burden and came near ending my existence. For more than four years I suffered untold agony. I was reduced almost to a skeleton, and hardly had strength to drag myself about. All kinds of food distressed me, and only the most delicate could be digested at all. Within the time mentioned several physicians treated me without giving relief. Nothing that I took seemed to do any permanent good until I began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which has produced wonderful results. Soon after commencing to take the Sarsaparilla I could see an in my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength improved each day, and after a few months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself a well woman, able to attend to all household duties. The medicine has given me a new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular and entitled to full credence."—O. P. Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A. Wells, Druggist.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sores on his foot. I sent him Ayer's Almanac and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now a well man, working in a sugar mill at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."—A. Attewell, Sharbot Lake, Ontario.

Improvement of Premises.

Many of our merchants have recently, or are at present making great exterior and interior improvements to their business houses. Among the latter class may be instanced the enterprising firm of Messrs. Jos. Armstrong & Co., 396 George street, dealers in staple and fancy dry goods. The store now extends the whole depth of the building. Mr. Armstrong has made improvements which for giving a business place a cheerful, bright and inviting appearance cannot be excelled. The premises have been extended back some twenty-two feet, thus giving the shop about 400 square feet more of much needed room. A plate glass window and plate glass doors have been placed in the rear allowing old Sol the greatest possible chance of entrance. An elegant stairway and a fine business office are also included in the additions. The shop has been papered, painted and grained all through from front to rear and from floor to ceiling. Mr. Armstrong, although in business only six months has already created a favourable impression and won a name for politeness, integrity and attention to business. He has an obliging and courteous staff of clerks. Mr. Armstrong is an experienced and practical merchant and his many friends will be pleased to learn of his continued success and prosperity. His handsome and commodious premises are situated near the corner of Hunter and George street, in the stand occupied for some eighteen years by LeBrun & Co.

Personal.

Mr. H. LeBrun is in Toronto on a business trip.

Mr. Tierney S. Spellman, of Hastings, the well known horseman is in town to-day.

J. Davidson, M.A., Principal of the Norwood High School, is still suffering from an attack of la grippe.

Mr. Jas. Simpson, of Beaverton, has removed to town with his family and taken up his residence on Louis street.

Mr. J. R. Tait, Crown Land agent of North Hastings is in town for a few days, the guest of Mr. Hugh McIndoe.

Mr. R. Freeman, of the firm of Moffat, Hodgins, Clarke & Co., waterworks contractors, Watertown, was in town to-day. He left this afternoon for Belleville.

Rev. Jas. Carmichael, M.A., pastor of the Norwood Presbyterian church demands a complete cessation from work. As soon as the reverend gentleman recovers, he will visit Clifton Springs where he will spend several weeks.

Archbishop Cleary, the Kingston Whig says, has started on a six weeks tour through the southern states. He is accompanied by Very Rev. Dean Gauthier, a companion of former journeys. His grace has not very robust health, the great work of his office taxing a not very vigorous condition.

Peterborough Victorious With Port Hope Last Night—The Match This Morning With Lindsay.

Curling is booming at present in Peterborough. Last evening the Port Hope's came up but with only two rinks, they being unable to get together a third. The match lasted over four hours but there was a great lack of interest on the part of the numerous spectators as the Peterborough rinks had a complete "walk over." The Peterborough team had full revenge upon the Port Hopers for the defeat which they sustained at their hands some three weeks ago. The names of the teams and scores are as follows:—

RINK NO 1.

Two rinks from Lindsay came down this morning and gave the Peterboroughs a match. The game is not to be decided on this morning's issue alone, as two rinks went back with the Lindsays on the noon train to-day, and the result of the afternoon match will decide the contest.

Skips McGill and Rutherford accompanied the Lindsay rinks on their return trip. The two rinks from Peterborough will play the return match with the Lindsays this afternoon.

The Torontos will be unable to come down to-day, as they were unable to get their rinks together. It is probable that neither the Granites nor the Torontos will come now as the season is growing late.

The bonspiel will not be continued at the rink this week.

The Two Boards—Trade and Health.

A reporter of the EXAMINER met the Secretary of the Board of Trade and, in conversation in reference to the letter of Mr. Loch which appeared in yesterday's EXAMINER, the Secretary said that while he appreciated Mr. Loch's vigilance in the public interest, and his courteous criticism, he thought that he (Mr. Loch) is altogether mistaken with regard to the wording of his (the Secretary's) annual report, which quoted from the latest Governmental returns which are those for the year 1890—not 1891, these returns being not yet issued. The Secretary says that if Mr. Loch will note this fact he is sure he will think the strictures in the Secretary's report perfectly justified. What the Board of Health did in 1891 is not yet officially made known.

Next Week at the Y. W. C. A.

The directors of the Young Women's Christian Association held a meeting in their rooms last night and decided upon a programme for next week. On Monday night Mrs. Crane will have charge. The evening will be devoted to music. Tuesday evening Miss Code's Bible class meets. Wednesday evening Miss Moore will supervise; it will be known as a "general evening." Thursday evening Mrs. (Rev.) Thom will have charge. Music and singing will be in order. Friday evening will be devoted to millinery instruction under Miss Armstrong, and Saturday evening will be a recreation evening with games and other amusements, Miss Innes in charge. Each lady in charge has the privilege of choosing her assistants for that evening. The rooms of the association are being largely patronized every evening, and already instruction in music, sewing and millinery has begun. Shorthand classes will soon be commenced. The lady directors hope in the near future to receive assistance enough to be able to engage the services of a competent general secretary.

Separate School Board.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held on Wednesday evening, March 2nd.

There were present: Dr. Brennen, in the chair, and Messrs. Leonard, Sheehy, McGrath, Quinlan, Kelly. Rev. Father Rudkins, the local superintendent, was also in attendance.

The minutes of last meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. QUINLAN gave notice of motion, that at the next meet, a resolution will be presented asking the Board to have shade trees planted on the Murray street school ground.

THE BOARD IN A MOVING MOOD.

Moved by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. McGrath, that the secretary be authorized to have lists of Separate school supporters printed as certified by the Town Clerk.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the Board approve the action of Mr. Brick in suspending a pupil and that the question of receiving him into the school be left in the hands of the principal.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Leonard seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the secretary be instructed to make application to the Education Department for the grant towards night schools.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Sheehy, that the Chairman, Messrs. Leonard and Kelly be a committee for inquiring into the Kindergarten system with a view of introducing it into the schools and report to the Board.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Leonard, seconded by Mr. Sheehy, that the Committee of Management with Messrs. Sheehy and McGrath be a committee to investigate into the condition of the Lake street school building, with the view of making an addition to the building with the propable cost and report at the next meeting of the Board.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McGrath, seconded by Mr. Quinlan, that a fee of 50c. per month be charged the children of non-supporters attending the several schools, and the Secretary notify teachers and that they report to the Board each month the amounts so received.—Carried. The Board then adjourned.

Gemmel's Carpet Factory.

A Flourishing Industry with a Large and Increasing Trade.

We have many industries and manufactures great and small in the flourishing town of Peterborough. Manufactures of every kind and description adorn the banks of the Otonabee and other parts of the town. Situated on Simcoe street near the banks of the river and in the building formerly used by Parker's Dye Works is the carpet manufactury of Mr. Thomas Gemmel. Mr. Gemmel has been in business for some four years and during that time has been carrying on a large and increasing trade.

The building occupied by him, No. 99 and 101 Simcoe street, is a two storey frame structure 120 feet in length and 24 feet in width. Down stairs are nine Jacquard looms and at each loom a weaver sits, and by the aid of it and woolen and cotton yarn and warp, the beautiful all wool ingrain and union ingrain carpets which Mr. Gemmel turns out are respectively manufactured. Upstairs are the warping and winding departments of the business. Mr. Gemmel manufactures carpet in over seventy different patterns, some of them of the prettiest and handsomest designs imaginable. He also has two other looms, one for manufacturing fancy rag carpets and the other for manufacturing stair carpet.

Mr. Gemmel manufactures his all wool and union ingrain carpets exclusively for the wholesale trade, but he intends during the coming season to begin manufacturing more for the local trade—Peterborough, Belleville and other towns. From twelve to fifteen hands are employed the year round and the output of carpet per month averages about 1,200 yards. The firm has over 1,000 pounds of imported cotton yarn and warp in stock at present. Mr. Gemmel has be highly successful in the manufacture of first class carpets. His all wool super ingrains, all wool fine ingrain and union superfine ingrains are the best that can be made in that line of carpeting, and worthy of the good name they have received. Mr. Gemmel's many friends will wish him continued success and properity.

Piano Tuning.

Mr. G. Gampricht is in town. Orders may be left at Messrs. Taylor & Macdonald's or at the Peterborough Bookstore.

News Nuggets.

—There were no arrests last night and no police court this morning.

—At a meeting of the Peterborough lodge, I.O.O.F., No. 111 held last evening there were seven initiations.

—Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., gave notice in the Ontario Legislature yesterday of a bill to amend the Assessment Act.

—There were several loads of wood and hay offered for sale on the market this morning. Hay is selling readily at $12 and $13 per ton. Sawed wood sells at $4.25 and $4.50 a cord while long wood brings $4.00

—Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows, No. 111, contemplate holding an entertainment in the opera house, on March 25th, consisting of tableaux, music and drill by the lodge team. The canton will also be present.

—It is probable that the Peterborough's will play the Ellison's at hockey to-morrow night. Negotiations are in progress for a game with Cobourg, but the Cobourg club want to play both Lindsay and Peterborough.

—Rev. Mr. Torrance, last night held the first of a series of weekly prayer meetings in the Mission school building, for the benefit of members and adherents of St. Paul's living in the southern part of the town. There was a good attendance.

—A meeting of the Manufacturers' Committee was held yesterday afternoon to meet Mr. B. E Ackerman, of Port Perry, in reference to the location of a wholesale harness manufactory here. The committee considered favourably his proposition, and in all likelihood Peterborough will soon have another industry established here.

FRIDAY, MARCH 4, 1892.

THE question of protecting the lives of our citizens by placing gates, or at least a flagman, at the several level crossing, receives additional importance from the fatal accident that took place at Orangeville on Tuesday last. The father of a family was instantly killed, and this same crossing has a previous death to its debit. This is mentioned as an accident, but it should not be classed as unforseen, unavoidable and unexpected—the elements necessary to constitute it an accident. Any corporation, municipal or railway, is morally guilty of manslaughter if fatal accidents occur at crossings, such as exist with regrettable frequency in Peterborough on both lines of railroad, without any means of protection. On both lines there have been this winter several remarkably narrow escapes from sudden and terrible death, and that this did not happen is not due to any care exercised by the corporations of the two railways, or of the Town of Peterborough. It seems that a paltry question of cost is the cause of nothing been done. What is the expenditure of money, compared to the loss of a human life? The citizens willingly pay taxes for the maintenance of a police force for the protection of their property and they will not object to paying their share of the necessary cost of preventing the slaughter of citizens at unprotected railway crossings. The Board of Trade at its annual meeting talked the matter over, but something more practical than talk is needed,

THE Dominion Government affect a great fondness for royal commissions, especially for dealing with the charges of corruption, boodling and malversation of office which will be brought against both ministers and members of Parliament at the present session. Royal commissions if properly constituted, are very good means of getting at the truth and settling matters of public importance, and if the government approve of them for one purpose they should also use them for another. The speech from the throne foreshadows a redistribution bill—alias, gerrymander, and it will be a gerrymander in all probability worse than the last, for the present government have bettered the lesson in sharp practice taught by the past leader of the Conservative party for forty years and can be counted upon to act with the most unscrupulous disregard of fair play and justice in the distribution seats. The country cannot expect a fair adjustment of the representation from the Abbott Government, therefore it is suggested that it would be the proper thing to appoint a royal commission to do the business fairly. A commission composed of judges would have a regard to justice and the representative interests of the country, which cannot be expected of a government backed by a strong majority and capable of rogging the dice to any extent in order to secure party advantage.

The Firm of Gough Bros.

An Enterprising Business House of Good Standing — Extensive Improvements and Alterations Being Made to Their Already Large Premises.

Extensive interior and exterior improvements are now being made in the two large stores now occupied by Gough Bros. 377 and 379 George street. The firm has been established over nine years and their trade has grown to such large and enormous proportions that it has made a change absolutely necessary. They have occupied in the past three large floors 90 feet in length and 45 feet in width, but this large space has been found to be far too limited and inadequate to meet their ever increasing demands and accomodations. A great change is now in progress and one which will be of great benefit and advantage to this enterprising firm. Some $5,000 are to be expended in extensions, alterations and renovations to the building. A brick addition, 30 feet long and 45 feet in width is to be erected at the rear of the premises. The new addition will be two stories high, and will give an extra flooring space of 2,700 square feet. New plate glass will be placed in position at the front of the store, giving it a fine appearance. New flooring is to be laid down throughout the whole ground floor. The premises are also to be painted, grained and papered all through. A fine arch has been cut through the partition between the two buildings, whereas there was in the old premises only one, and that being at the front of the stores was often very inconvenient. When the new addition is completed the firm will have a flooring space of 15,000 square feet. Their departments are ready - made gents' and boys' clothing, gents furnishings, boots, shoes, trunks and valises. One of the stores is used exclusively for the clothing and furnishing departments while the other is used for the boots and shoes. The large upstairs stores are used for the jobbing business and wholesale trade. The firm now own four large stores in different cities and all doing a flourishing business. Their other establishments are situated in Toronto, Brantford and Belleville, the business being opened in the latter city on the 27th ult. Mr. Charles A. Gough returned home from North Carolina last week in order to assume the management of the Belleville store. He had been absent in various parts of the United States for the past eleven years. Mr. C. A. Gough is one of the pillars of the present firm. It was he and his brother, R. V. Gough, who first established the present business in 1883. He remained in partnership for over a year, then sold out his interest to Mr. Geo. J. Gough, and went to Mexico in the interests of the World's Publishing Co. of Guelph. He remained in employ of the firm, travelling in various parts of the United States and South America in their interest until two years ago, when he went to South Carolina to engage in the lumbering business, in which he had had a previous connection some years before. On his return home he was highly gratified at the firm's great success and prosperity during his long years of absence.

A Boon to the Bed-ridden.

Dr. Wilkinson's Ingenious Sick Bed Appliance.

With all the attention and devotion that love can suggest the nursing of the sick and suffering is necessarily imperfect for lack of suitable appliances. This latter deficiency has been effectively supplied by Dr. Wilkinson, of this town, who has invented what he denominates "The Florence Nightingale sick bed appliance," which facilitates the nursing and care of sufferers in the home. The leading advantage of this appliance over all others is that, unlike all others, it does not need a specially constructed bed-stead, but can be applied to or removed from any ordinary bed-stead. It is so simple in its mechanical construction that any one can operate it, and raise or lower the patient at will, in any desired position. When in position the appliance admits of the patient being raised with ease and without inconvenience so that his bed can be "made;" it admits of turning easily and gently a heavy patient. In hot weather or when a patient is burning with fever the appliance can be used in the manner of a hammock, which in case of painful complaints when the slightest movement of the patient is agony, is a great desideratum; in such cases as well as others the raising of the patient to take nourishment is easily effected. In cases of fracture of lower limbs there is a perfect appliance for raising the foot. The appliance has too many advantages to be enumerated in this notice. It is, in fine, simple, strong, effective aid in the sick room, a decided boon to both patient and nurse, admitting of the gentlest and most effective treatment of the one, with the least possible fatigue to the other. This appliance meets with the warmest approval of eminent physicians and surgeons and in recognition of the great merit of his invention, Dr. Wilkinson has been present with a gold medal and diplome, and made an honorary corresponding member of the Academy of Science, Invention and Manufacturers, Paris, France. This appliance has been the subject of numerous testimonials from the hospitals and prominent physicians of the Dominion. It is patented in both the United States and Canada.

A WORTHY DISCOVERY.—A discovery producing the effects which we claim for Father Matthew Remedy, (the antidote to alcohol)in promoting the welfare of mankind, should make an epoch in the history of medicine, like the discovery of the vaccine for the prevention of small pox.

Let Honesty Prevail.

The Toronto Telegram says: "London Conservatives would be entitled to sympathy if they were fighting to keep on the lists the names of qualified electors whom their opponents were seeking to remove by the unscrupulous use of a fine point of law.

That is not their position. They plead a miserable technicality as a an excuse for keeping on the names of persons who have been denied a vote by a Conservative revising officer.

The question is too important to be settled by the quibbles of lawyers. Surely if the people who gave Hon. John Carling his majority had the faintest shadow of a right to vote, a partisan official would have kept them on the list. Their names were struck off, and on appeal they plead, no their own merits, but the demerits of the Liberal objection to their names.

Even if the existence of the Dominion Government depended upon the result of the London election it would be a crime to give Hon. John Carling the seat to which another man was elected by a majority of voters placed upon the list by the revising officer. The Government is safe beyond peradventure. It has not the villian's excuse of necessity and cannot allow a Cabinet Minister to become the beneficiary of an act of political scoundrelism. Seating Hon. John Carling in defiance of law and justice will be a crime, and the judges who may be consenting parties to it—yes, and Sir John Thompson, if he does not use his power to avert the disgrace—will be accomplices in that crime."

THE HOUSE AND HOME.

A WIDE AND PRETTY CROCHET L'CE FOR SKIRTS AND APRONS.

Details from the First to the Seventeenth Row and How It is Finished, with Cut Showing How it Looks When Finished —Home Hints.

Make a chain of 22 stitches, turn.

First Row.—Make 1 tr in sixth stitch from hook, 2 ch, skip 2 stitches, make a shell of 3 tr, 2 ch, and 3 tr in next stitch; 12 ch, skip 12 stitches, shell in last stitch (the shell is always the same), 3 ch; turn.

Second Row.—Make shell in shell, 12 ch, shell in next shell, 2 ch, 1 tr in the single tr, 2 ch, 1 tr in third stitch of chain at the end, 5 ch; turn.

Third Row.—Make 1 tr in single tr, 2 ch, shell in shell, 6 ch, 1 dc over the 3 loose chains, 3 ch; turn. Hereafter the 1 dc will be in the 3 ch at corner of a block.

Make 5 tr on ch of 6, 3 ch; turn.

*Make 5 tr in 5 tr of last row, 3 ch, turn. Repeat from star twice, making a block of 4 rows of 5 tr. Make a shell in shell of last row, 3 ch; turn.

Fourth Row.—Like second row.

Fifth Row.—Make 1 tr in tr, 2 ch, shell in shell, 12 ch, shell in shell, 3 ch; turn.

Sixth Row.—Like second.

Seventh Row.—Like third.

Eighth Row.—Like second.

Ninth Row.—Make 1 tr in tr, 2 ch, shell in shell, 12 ch, shell in shell, 15 ch. This begins the pinwheel border. Make 1 dc in seventh stitch from hook, for the center of pin-wheel; 12 ch, 1 dc in the chain of 3 between the fifth and sixth rows of the insertion, 5 ch, turn, 1 tr in third stitch of chain of 12, 2 ch, skip 2 stitches, 1 tr in next stitch, 12 tr under remaining chain, 1 dc in center loop, *8 ch, 1 tr in tenth tr of first spoke, 2 ch, skip 1 tr, 1 tr in next tr, 2 ch, 1 tr in next tr, 5 ch, tr, 1 tr in first tr, 2 ch, 1 tr in second tr, 12 tr under the ch of 8, 1 dc in center loop. Repeat from * till there are 8 spokes. Now make 12 tr on the empty chain to bring you back to the insertion, then 2 ch, and repeat from second to the seventh rows, inclusive, except when you repeat fifth row, made 1 dc in the first hole of the eighth spoke of wheel to join the 2 parts, 2 ch, and proceed with sixth and seventh rows.

This completes the fifteenth row of the insertion. For the border around the pin-wheel, * make 5 ch, shell in the end hole of the wheel in the first spoke, repeat 7 times from * always making the shell in the top hole; 2 ch, 1 dc in ch of 3 between third and fourth rows of the insertion, 2 ch, turn and work back, shell in shell, * 2 ch, 1 dc in ch of 5 of last row, 2 ch, shell in shell, repeat from * 6 times, ending with 2 ch, having made 8 shells.

Sixteenth Row.—Like second.

Seventeenth Row.—Like fifth.

Then make 5 ch, and make another row of shells with 5 ch between, around the wheel, making shell in shell. Make 5 ch after the last shell, and 1 dc in the ch of 3 between the first and second rows of the insertion, turn, * 2 ch, 1 dc on ch of 5, 2 ch, 8 tr, in shell with a picot on each tr made of 5 ch and fastened in the top of each tr with slip-stitch, making 7 picots. Repeat from * around the wheel, making 8 shells with picots; end with 2 ch, 1 dc in 5 ch, 2 ch. Repeat from the second to the ninth rows; at ch of 15 in ninth row stop and repeat the second and third rows as there must be 18 rows of the insertion before the next pin-wheel is begun, no matter where the blocks come. Make the second pin-wheel and join the two scallops in the last row by the third picot from the insertion.—The Housekeeper.

Noiseless Buckets.

A company has been formed in London for the manufacture of noiseless iron buckets, the principle of the invention consisting in the use of rubber feet, eyelets and handle guards. This form of bucket is being adopted to a considerable extent by the hospital authorities at many of the leading cities in England, the noiselessness of it being an important consideration in the sick chamber. It has also been found to be desirable for household uses, there being no appreciable wear in ordinary use, while the rubber protector leaves no ring marks on the carpet. The arrangement has been adopted for various other articles in common use.

VON MOLTKE'S FORESIGHT.

At an Early Date He Was Getting Ready for the French.

LONDON, March 3.—The first volume of Count von Moltke's war correspondence is of interest chiefly to students of military tactics. The volume contains 146 letters relating to the Danish war of 1864.

The foresight of von Moltke was shown as early as 1863, when writing to Von Roon of the necessity of a plan of concentration, so the army would be ready to meet the French. He said the plan ought to be based upon the solid co-operation of the whole of Southwest Germany, especially Bavaria.

He repeatedly urges the maintenance of the strength of the general staff as a necessity for partial or general mobilization.

He wrote to King William in January 1864, that should Saxony and Hanover, as then seemed possible, join Denmark; the seat of war would be transferred and a fresh mobilization would be necessary.

His reports to King William comment upon the strategy leading to the siege and capture of Duppel in March. He thought the time would have been better spent in landing in Alsen and occupying Funen. Subsequent events proved the criticism correct, as one month later the Danes retreated from Alsen.

Among Von Moltke's characteristic phrases occur the following in letters to Gen. Blumenthal: "For goodness sake don't make extensive reports on events about to happen"; and again, "Make history; leave the writing of it to others. Take Alsen and 6000 pairs of boots and all other sins you ever committed will be forgiven you."

BLINDED HER RECREANT LOVER.

An Aged Widow Throws Vitriol in the Face of a Boy Who Deserted Her.

AKRON, O., March 3.—Catharine Mehrle, a widow, 65 years of age and mother of four children, became acquainted four years ago with William Belke, then a lad of 15. He he left his home to live with her as her husband. A few weeks ago Belke deserted Mrs. Mehrle and returned to his home.

Belke has received anonymous letters recently threatening his life and intimating that he would better return to Mrs. Mehrle. When returning from work this morning at 4 o'clock he was accosted by Mrs. Mehrle, who threw the contents of a bottle into his face.

Blinded by the liquid, which was a strong solution of vitriol, Belke staggered to his home and fell unconscious through a window, which he mistook for the door. He will lose his eyesight and his face is badly disfigured. The woman has disappeared.

PADEREWSKI AND POKER.

An Experience Which the Pianist Is Said to Have Had in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 3.—Paderewski recently played before a select company at the house of Charles Schwartz, a wealthy citizen, and received, so the story goes, a check for $1000 as a pleasant acknowledgment of his skill and the enjoyment he had given.

Not long after, according to the sequel, he sat down to a quiet game of poker with his former host and several friends and lost not only the check, but also several notes other than musical.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

"German Syrup"

The majority of well-read physicians now believe that Consumption is a germ disease. In other words, instead of being in the constitution itself it is caused by innumerable small creatures living in the lungs having no business there and eating them away as caterpillars do the leaves of trees.

A Germ Disease.

The phlegm that is coughed up is those parts of the lungs which have been gnawed off and destroyed. These little bacilli, as the germs are called, are too small to be seen with the naked eye, but they are very much alive just the same, and enter the body in our food, in the air we breathe, and through the pores of the skin. Thence they get into the blood and finally arrive at the lungs where they fasten and increase with frightful rapidity. Then German Syrup comes in, loosens them, kills them, expells them heals the places they leave, and so nourish and soothe that, in a short time consumptives become germ-proof and well. @

A novel style of metal pole for overhead electrical construction, from which many of the difficulties and objections attending the use of wooden or iron poles are entirely absent, has been designed by a Wisconsin inventor.

The construction of this pole is simple and extremely ingenious. A framework is made of three strips of steel, T-shaped, held apart in the form of a triangle by steel girders or braces fixed about every six feet, the three steel uprights being laced together by means of a continuous steel wire threaded through holes bored at regular intervals in the projection of the T-shaped strips. The skeleton standard made in this manner is strong, light and rigid, and, as will be seen by our illustration, presents a not unsightly appearance. At the base the three uprights are stayed about eighteen inches apart, gradually taper upward until they are about six or seven inches apart at the top. The wire lacing, as before stated, is in one continuous length, and serves as a ladder by which the linemen can mount the pole.

SKELETON STEEL ELECTRIC POLE

These poles are made of any length up to sixty feet. A forty-foot pole weighs only 300 pounds.—Electricity.

Brown Paper Made of Dirt.

The Refuse Disposal Company, Limited, in London, is engaged in the manufacture of paper from the contents of the dust bin, of which 3 per cent. at least is paper and rags, besides quite a quantity of straw and other rough material.

The process is thus described: The dust on its arrival at the works is shot into a large revolving riddle having a three-inch mesh through which the heavier and smaller matter finds its way, while the paper rags, larger bottles, tins, etc., are received at the delivery end of the riddle, and are duly sorted by hand. The heavier materials which pass through this riddle are received on a travelling band and elevated to a second riddle having a one and a half-inch mesh; at the delivery end of this second riddle an air blast blows the lighter material away from the heavier; the lighter portion principally consists of material suitable for making rough paper; the heavier is automatically delivered on to a revolving table, where it is overlooked by boys, who separate the bones, glass, etc., while the clinkers and organic matter are ground up in a kollergang.

This ground material is sent out from the works for manure. The heavier and smaller pieces which pass through the one-and-half-inch mesh of the second riddle are again received on a travelling band and mechanically sifted through a half-inch mesh which divides them into two qualities—ashes, which are automatically delivered into barges, and "breeze." This "breeze" consists to a great extent of small pieces of coal and other organic material, and is used by the company as fuel, being burned in their boilers.

To prevent any disagreeable smell, the drafts for the fires is obtained by exhausting with a fan and the products of combustion passed through an ordinary "scrubber," thus avoiding all nuisance. The paper-making materials are at once run into a common brown casing paper on the premises.

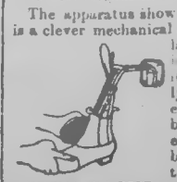
Never was a paper mill with a 60-inch machine got into a smaller space. The company are now making about fifteen hundred pounds of brown paper in twelve hours.

The refuse received in the morning leaves the works as finished paper in the afternoon.—Paper World.

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

It Saves Labor in Polishing the Shoes.

The apparatus shown in the illustration is a clever mechanical aid to the domestic labor of shoe cleaning. As will be seen it holds the shoe firmly in position so that every part of it may be thoroughly and easily cleaned. With both hands free for the purpose it naturally effects a considerable saving in time and labor. When not in use it can be lifted out of the socket, turned to the wall, and slipped into the socket again, thereby being out of the way.



MECHANICAL BOOT-BLACK.

Black Ink.

No chemical black ink has yet been made which will write black immediately on exposure. The common black ink is made of nut galls, and is by all odds the best ink ever made. Manuscripts written in this black ink five hundred and six hundred years ago are just as legible to-day as when first written. The chemical inks of the present are of too recent invention to determine whether they will last, but it is quite probable that most of them will be as legible at the end of fifty or seventy-five years as they are to-day. There is, however, a fortune in store for the man who will invent a chemical black ink which will write black at the first and remain so.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

The prostration after the Grip is entirely overcome by Hood's Sarsaparilla. It really does make the weak strong.

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c, and $1, at the Peterborough Drug Store. dw

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general toilet purposes, use Low's Sulphur Soap. w d

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills: they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use. dw

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
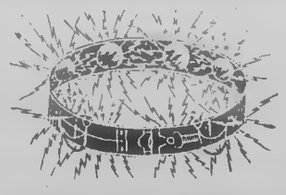
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a consulting electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough cod w

CANADIAN PRESS ASSOCIATION.

The Press Gang Takes Possession of the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 4.—The Canadian Press Association meeting yesterday was fairly well attended, the Reform journalists being in the majority. The meeting was held in the Parliament building. Mayor Durocher welcomed the visitors.

The president, Mr. Andrew Pattullo of Woodstock, in opening the first session of the annual meeting, departed from the usual custom of reading a printed address. He talked briefly in an informal way upon various matters connected with the work of the association for the past year and the present meeting. After alluding to the time and place of meeting, he congratulated the members on the fact that the association had never been so vigorous and prosperous as at the present time. The interest in it had been increasing in all directions. Many additions had been made to the membership and the work done had been of a practical and beneficial character. Through the concerted action of members letter advertising rates were now being secured in many directions, and there were hopeful signs of greater benefits that would ensue from friendly conference and co-operation among the publishing fraternity.

The growth of the association and the increasing interest felt in the practical work it is doing should suggest to its members the advisability of a permanent official with a central office and enlarged duties. It should also suggest the establishment of an official organ such as is published in connection with the National Editorial Association of the United States.

Quoting a statement of an eminent journalist at the last annual meeting, that all other professions had their code of honor and that journalism could not exert the influence which it should without a code of honor, Mr. Pattullo expressed the hope that in this direction the influence of the C.P.A. would be felt even more than it had been in the past. It might become so strong and so influential as to lay down and enforce by united example ethical standards above those generally observed in the past. It was interesting to suggest how far the good influences of united journalism could be exerted in this direction.

Referring to the death of Col. Wyllie of Brockville, who was long the Nestor of the Canadian press, Mr. Pattullo suggested that in its printed proceedings the association should preserve a record of their fallen comrades and pay a just tribute in the case of death among the membership of departed worth.

The present year would be memorable in the printing business from the introduction into the large newspaper offices at Toronto and elsewhere of typesetting machines. The full effect of these wonderful labor-saving inventions could scarcely yet be fully seen. They would probably increase the profits of the publishers for a time, create some disturbance in labor circles, but the result would be, in time, larger papers, cheaper papers and more of them, and a new and increased employment of labor in many directions. But whatever the effect, the typesetting machine is here. It will soon be used largely if not entirely in all big offices and in many of the small ones throughout the country. It marks a change to which publishers must quickly adjust themselves.

Looking over the work of Canadian journalists during the past year, there were new and very hopeful signs of an increasing independence in the party press. In not a few cases writers were breaking away from the old bonds and showing a freedom in the discussion of men and things within their own party lines which was as new as it was hopeful, for there never was a time in the history of the country when the moral responsibility of the party press in relation to the political parties was so great as at the present time. The speaker claimed that not a little of this new and improved spirit was due to the influence of the members of the Press Association.

Mr. Pattullo concluded by references to the extent and growth of newspaper interests in Canada and to the functions, the influence and the future of the press.

A committee joined with the Employing Printers Association of Toronto and Montreal in asking for further protection of their industry and asking for a modification in the duty on plates and stereotypes, including boiler plate. The Ministers present, Messrs. Bowell and Foster, promised consideration of the petition. Mr. Shepard of The Mail job room headed the deputation. The delegation included the paper-makers and all the big printing houses. In the afternoon the journalists drove round the city to Eddy's new big paper mill and in the evening were guests at Lord and Lady Stanley's at home and toboggan parties.

Ran Into An Open Switch.

STITTSVILLE, Ont., March 4.—No. 48 Brockville, mixed train due here at 8.20 this morning, ran into an open switch as it was coming into the station and collided with some empty cars standing on the siding. The engine of the train was badly wrecked and also a number of freight cars.

Nothing Was Saved.

CAMPBELLFORD, Ont., March 4.—Last evening the residence of George Johns of Seymore East was burned. As Mr. and Mrs. Johns were away at the time nothing was saved. The cause is unknown.

Smothered in a Wheat Bin.

ESSEX, March 4.—Lawrence, the 14-year-old stepson of S. M. Serson, had been playing in a large wheat bin in A. J. Green's warehouse unknown to the men. When the slide was pulled at the bottom of the bin in order to let the wheat run out it is thought he was carried down by the force of the wheat and thus smothered.

The first intimation that he was in the building was when the wheat, becoming clogged and refusing to run, one of the men looked up the spout and saw a pair of feet. As it was impossible for the boy to come through the spout, the wheat, which covered him to a depth of five feet, was hastily dug out, but when found the boy was dead.

Prominent Haligonian Dead.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 3.—Robert G. Noble, at one time a prominent business man, dropped dead on the street yesterday.

HAVE NOT AGREED.

Alleged Failure of the Behring Sea Commissioners to Reach an Agreement.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The joint English and United States Commission on the Behring Sea fisheries held a long session at the State Department yesterday and practically concluded its deliberations. The members are pledged to secrecy and it is therefore impossible to obtain any official information as to the result of their conferences. There is good reason, however, for the prevalent belief that the commissioners failed entirely in their endeavors to reach a satisfactory agreement as to the best method of conducting the seal fishing industry with a view to the preservation of the species.

Behring Sea Arbitrator.

LONDON, March 4.—It is stated in insurance circles that Mr. Ross, claim settler of the National Marine Insurance Company, has been appointed British arbitrator in the case between Great Britain and the United States regarding Behring Sea.

BRUSSELS, March 4.—The papers here deny the report that the Government has received a communication relative to the appointment of a Belgian arbitrator in the Behring Sea dispute between Great Britain and the United States. They assert that the arbitrators will be drawn from Italy, France and Sweden.

BOLD BURGLARS.

Michigan Bank Robbers Drill Through Safes and Vaults and Secure $20,000.

COLDWATER, Mich., March 4.—The Coldwater National Bank was robbed last night. The estimated loss is $20,000. The robbers drilled the outer door of the vault and with a punch broke the lock off. The middle door was secured with a padlock. This was probably broken with a sledge. The inside vault contained one burglar-proof combination lock safe and also a steel safe with a time lock. These were drilled and charged, it is thought, with dynamite. The doors of both safes were blown completely off, wrecking both safes and leaving nothing but a shell of each. The concussion shattered the wooden shelves inside the vault and scattered the contents of the safes and shelving about the floor. There is no clue to the robbers.

BRITISH COLUMBIA MURDER

The Body of a Sailor Found Lying Across a Log.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 4.—The body of one of the crew of the bark Colorado was found lying over a log at Chemainus yesterday. The man's two arms and back had been broken and the body was badly bruised. The crew had been drinking last night, and had to walk a long plank to get on to the bark from the wharf. They indulged in a dispute, and it is believed the dead man was killed by his companions.

WENT WITH AN ABORIGINIE.

A White Woman Deserts Her Husband for an Indian.

HALIFAX, March 4.—The Halifax S.P.C.A. has received a letter from a respectable man at Rawdon, Hants County, yesterday, who states his wife eloped with an Indian and has taken their youngest child with her. He has succeeded in locating her, but she refuses to return to her home or give up the child. The S.P.C.A. will likely take the child from the woman and hand it over to the father. The latter says he is willing to live again with his wife.

KILLED THE COOK.

Two Windsor Colored Men Fight Over A White Woman.

DETROIT, March 4.—David Howard, colored cook at Roo's restaurant, was shot, but not fatally, at his home, Mullett-street, yesterday at 3.30 by Philip Ray, also colored, of Windsor. The shooting was the result of a quarrel several days ago between the two men over Howard's white wife, sometimes known as Annie Green. It appears Ray got the worst of the fight and declared he would "get even." The police are still looking for Ray. It is presumed he has skipped to Windsor. Howard also claims Windsor as his home.

South Perth Nominations.

ST. MARY'S, Ont., March 4.—The nomination of a candidate to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons in South Perth took place here yesterday, Mr. W. R. Davis acting as returning officer. Mr. William Pridham, farmer of Fullartou township, was nominated in the Conservative interest, and Mr. James Trow, gentleman of Stratford, in the interest of the Reformers. After the nominations were closed an immense throng packed the Opera House, when addresses were delivered by Messrs. W. Morton of Toronto, Hugh Morrison of Lucknow and J. S. Lamb of Oshawa in the Conservative interest, and by Mr. James McMullen, M.P., for the Reformers. In the evening the Opera House was again well filled, when addresses were delivered by Messrs. W. T. R. Preston of Toronto, G. C. Gibbons, Q.C., of London, and Mr. James Trow in the interest of the Reform candidate.

MONTREAL, March 4.—With six divisions to hear from, Dugas, the nominee of the Conservative convention, is 70 ahead of Therien, Independent Conservative, in the bye-election for the Commons in Montcalm. There will be no further returns to-night.

Twelve Decades Was Her Life, She Said.

NEW YORK, March 4.—Lucy Stone, who declared that for over 90 years she was a slave, died at her granddaughter's home on Tuesday morning. Her age was supposed to be 118 years. She was born in Oxford, N.C., on Dec. 22, 1774, it is said.

Toronto Lady Teachers.

TORONTO, March 4.—The question of increase of salaries paid to lady assistants in the Public schools has long been agitated here. Last night the Public School Board by a considerable majority resolved to adhere to the old schedule. By it a teacher begins at $324 per year and may rise to $636.

Killed at Megantic.

BANGOR, March 4.—An engineer named Allen of the C.P.R. was killed at Megantic on Saturday. It is reported that he was under his locomotive when it was started by the fireman, who did not know that Allen was there. It is said that Allen belonged in St. John, N.B.

Killed His Sister.

NANAIMO, B.C., March 4.—Ellen F. Maguire, aged 8, is dead as the result of a wound received by a bullet from a revolver which her brother was handling.

Asleep a Year and a Half.

VALPARAISO, Ind., March 4.—Mrs. Mary Robinson, an inmate of the Starke county poorhouse, has been asleep 18 months. The regular pulsations of the heart alone indicate that she is alive.

Milk, her only nourishment, is given her through a rubber tube inserted in her nose.

The sleeper is placed in a rocking-chair during the day and at night is carried to her bed near by.

Dropped Dead in the Street.

WINDSOR, March 4.—George Van Clefe, aged 42, a carpenter foreman in the employ of Mr. Babcock, dropped dead this morning in front of the McLaughlin House. Heart failure.

The Peacocks Must Die.

BUFFALO, N.Y., March 4.—The eight Highland Park peacocks, which have awakened babies and annoyed nervous persons by their harsh night cries for some time, are to be killed, the Park Commissioners having ordered their execution.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated, Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

CALL AND SEE THEM.

NO AFFINITY RELIGION.

PRINCE MICHAEL'S FOLLOWERS DUCKED AT DETROIT.

Toronto Girls Lured to the Mecca of the Long Haired Israelites—Their Friends Follow Them There and Succeed in Inducing Some of Them to Return Home.

DETROIT, March 4.—The return of the writ of habeas corpus against "Prince" Michael and his "Affinity Lovers," issued at the instance of Joseph T. Richardson, was made before Judge Brevoort to-day. Prince Michael, with his long hair, and Mrs. Richardson, the respondent, were present. The room was packed with people, and among the crowd were a dozen of the ugliest "angels" imaginable. The case was adjourned until the afternoon.

When the Prince and his followers started out of the court-room and got in the corridor the crowd swooped down on them and almost carried them bodily out of the City Hall. Shouts of derision were raised and cries of "Throw them in the river!" "Give the Prince a cold bath!" went up.

The crowd chased the party around the streets for half an hour. When the hooting crowd reached Congress-street a man was seen running in the middle of the road with a gun in his hand and a dog at his heels. The man threatened to shoot the "Prince," but was dissuaded.

The persecuted fanatics finally found refuge in the office of their lawyers, but even then the crowd kept up a hooting for a considerable time.

Police Interference.

The police have begun to take a hand in the troubles arising out of the peculiar customs of the lost tribes of Israel. Yesterday Henry Cobley of Norway, Ont., and Charles Rawlinson of North Toronto, came to Detroit in search of their son and daughter, respectively, who had joined the fanatics last December. The son had run away but the daughter had her parents' consent.

Officers were sent with the two men to the Flying Roll colony, and the boy and girl were located at No. 47 Hamling-avenue, with Prince Michael. When the latter heard of the officers' errand the children were produced and told they could go if they desired to.

Cobley and Rawlinson had letters for Mary Armstrong of East Toronto and Nellie Morley of Toronto, both inmates of the house, asking that they return to their parents. Both girls, however, refused to leave the premises. Cobley and Rawlinson's children were also averse to leaving, but the officers ordered them to dress and accompany their parents.

The young people were taken to the Central Station, where their parents and Captain Miller tried to induce them to return home. For a long time they were steadfast in their refusal, and had to be locked up. The right of the parents finally dominated, and both fathers left for home with their children last evening.

How the Seed Was Sown.

Cobley's story is to the effect that while the Israelites were making converts at North Toronto, 7 miles from his home, his daughter became infatuated with the revivalists. She was driven to and from their meetings by his son Charles.

The latter finally joined the order. Cobley then forbade them having any communication with the long-haired fanatics, and eventually cured the daughter of her folly. The son persisted in his erratic belief, and when the call came from Prince Michael for all his "faithful" to make Detroit their Mecca Charles Cobley left his home a week ago.

Alive in Her Coffin.

CLEAR LAKE, Wis., March 5.—Miss Mertie Knutson, a girl of 19, was supposed to have died after a sickness of but one day. The lady was laid out in her coffin and placed in a cold room until the day of the funeral. When that day arrived a perceptible change in the countenance of the girl was noticed. The face was flushed, the hands and body limp and still warm. The funeral was postponed and two doctors summoned, who applied electric batteries, etc., and the girl is recovering.

Dropped Dead at His Bench.

SIMCOE, March 5.—Last evening a tinsmith named Bouncer dropped dead in the store of Palmerton & Maddon, where he had been working since Tuesday. He was about 32 years of age and leaves a wife and five children at Langton. Cause of death heart disease.

Death in the Plaything.

SHELBURNE, Ont., March 5.—The 4-year-old daughter of Robert Kitchen of Redickville got hold of an old coal oil lantern and was playing with it at the stove during the temporary absence of an elder sister who had been left in charge. The oil became ignited and set fire to the little one's clothing, and when discovered all the clothing was burned from her body save a small piece near the waist. She only lived a few hours.

Gladstone Redivivus.

LONDON, March 5.—Mr. Gladstone seems to have been rejuvenated by his sojourn in the south of France. Alert and sprightly in gait he looks like a healthy man of 60. With the voice of a clarion he converses full of spirit, and debates with all his old readiness and emphasis. He tells his friends that he is a wonder to himself.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED

IN THE LONDON ELECTION DISPUTE.

Judge Elliot Will Not Wait Until After the Supreme Court Considers the Matter, But Will Hand Down His Decision In Writing In a Few Days.

LONDON, March 5.—Application was made to Judge Elliot yesterday on behalf of Mr. Hyman for judgment on the appealed votes.

Mr. Aylesworth, Q.C., of Toronto, appeared for Mr. Lilley, the original objector to the votes as secretary of the Reform Committee, and detailed the circumstances surrounding the case at considerable length, besides quoting numerous authorities in support of his contentions.

Judge Elliot said: The question is whether I am to proceed to give judgment in the matter or not. The only point that I ever had anything to do with is with regard to these notices. I gave the opinion that these notices were invalid. I suppose if that opinion had been acted upon these votes would have been retained. It was not acted upon, however, and a mandamus was obtained and on this point I suppose the revising officer would have something to say. That is all I have to say about it. So far as I am concerned I would rather proceed at once, but when it was brought up some time ago by Mr. Hellmuth that I ought not to proceed by way of appeal, I did not feel myself in a position to stand up against that view of the case and it was left over. Now it is before me again, and whatever I do I will try to do to the best of my judgment, and I would rather that we did proceed in the matter and not put it off until the decision of the Supreme Court. I wish it to be understood that I am not prepared to give any judgment now. I shall give my judgment in writing. [His Honor read his authority from the Franchise Act.] I suppose no one will object to giving these men the right to show whether they are qualified or not.

Sessional Chit Chat.

OTTAWA, March 5.—On Monday next Mr. Kaulbach will ask the Ministers when copies of all correspondence relating to the Newfoundland Bait Act will be laid on the table, what position the Government has taken to induce the Newfoundland Government to suspend the operations of the act against Canada and Canadian fishermen and what action the Imperial Government has taken in regard to Newfoundland's discrimination against Canada.

Mr. Fraser, M.P., will move Monday next for a statement of all petitions for prohibition presented to the House during the session of 1891.

Mr. Hughes will move for a return of the total quantity of Canadian flour exported to Newfoundland in 1890-91, the laws and regulations of Newfoundland respecting the importation of flour and the total quantities of Canadian cattle and beef, pork and hogs imported into that colony in the two years.

Hon. C. H. Tupper on Tuesday will introduce an Act to further amend the Fisheries Act; also an Act to amend the Pilotage Act respecting fishery vessels of the United States. He will also introduce an Act respecting the Department of Marine and Fisheries, an Act to repeal the Act respecting the harbor river police of the Province of Quebec and an Act to amend the Steamboat Inspection Act.

Liberal Convention in West Huron.

CLINTON, March 5.—A special meeting of the West Huron Reform Association has been called to meet at Clinton on Tuesday, March 8, to take action in reference to the recent election in the constituency.

ACQUITTED.

The Grand Jury Throw Out the Bill Against Young Shinnawin.

ORANGEVILLE, March 5.—At the Dufferin Assizes in the case of William Shinnawin, jr., charged with the murder of John A. Montgomery at Hockley in October last, the grand jury returned no bill. Shinnawin was then brought before the grand jury on the charge of manslaughter, which also fell through. Prisoner was charged with having struck deceased a blow on the head with a stone during a saloon row, Montgomery subsequently dying from the effects of the wound.

MAUD'S UGLY WORK.

But It is in the Throat of One of the Notorious Kyle Gang.

SARNIA, March 5.—Maud Collins tonight slashed George Kyle with a razor, making a deep and dangerous cut down one cheek and into his throat. He is in a dangerous condition. She was arrested. Both are about 22 years of age and belong to what is known as the notorious Kyle gang.

FIVE MEN MISSING.

Are Their Bodies Buried in the Niagara Falls Hydraulic Tunnel?

LOCKPORT, N.Y., March 5.—Five men have been missing since the recent accident in the Niagara Falls hydraulic tunnel, and their bodies are supposed to be under the debris of the crumbling roof and walls. One of them is Charles Deggs, a negro, and the others are said to be Italians and Hungarians. Three men were hurt, and Foreman Robert Addison, who had a leg broken in two places and his spine dislocated, is not expected to recover.

It will be several days before the part where the bodies of the five workmen are supposed to be buried is reached.

An Attempt to Burn Their Property Brings Death to Incendiaries.

ST. LOUIS, March 5.—"God has punished us" was the moaning semi-confession by Mrs. Marcus Cohen yesterday of an attempt at arson, which resulted in the death of her husband and brother-in-law, Marcus and Abraham Cohen.

About 3 o'clock this morning, after carting all their effects from the store, the Cohens prepared for an apparently mysterious conflagration by the aid of escaping gas and free use of gasoline, but inadvertently probably one of them lighted a match and the gas laden atmosphere of the store immediately exploded. Marcus Cohen after being removed to the hospital died of his injuries. The insurance which it is believed the men planned to gain but lost their lives instead was $2500

Found His Brother's Corpse.

ORMEPE, Ont., March.—William Arthur Nugent, aged 15, son of Henry Nugent, near here, retired to bed in his usual health. Next morning his brother Fred found him dead in bed.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A TALK ON TEMPERANCE IN THE HOUSE.

The National Park and Forest Reservation—A Fusion of Courts Not Required, Says Mr. Mowat—The Speech From the Throne Discussed.

TORONTO, March 5.—The much-discussed temperance question cropped up rather unexpectedly yesterday afternoon. Undercover of asking for a return of copies of the case submitted for the opinion of the Court of Appeal as to the validity of the local option provisions of the Municipal Act, and of the opinions of the judges of the said court thereon, Mr. Meredith launched forth into a vigorous arraignment of the policy of the Government in regard to this question.

He had substantial grounds, he thought, for the complaint that the Government had played with the temperance question. The Government by its action had done much to make the Scott Act a nullity in this province. Being avowedly a prohibition party, its members had not been sincere at any time in their motives. At present they were ringing out of the country by taxation an amount of $4000 and which, if the public prints were to be relied upon, they intended to increase.

There was one aspect of the question, he said, which should receive special attention. If the Government were sincere in pledging themselves to advance the cause of prohibition throughout the Dominion they should show it by prohibiting the sale of intoxicating liquors in every hotel, grog shop and tavern throughout the province. If it was within the competence of the Legislature to allow municipalities the right to act in this manner, it was also within the jurisdiction of the Government to discontinue, finally, a similar course of procedure. In conclusion, he called upon the Attorney-General to say whether this were so or not.

The Attorney-General's Reply.

On rising to reply Mr. Mowat, that benignant smile so characteristic of him suffusing his features, said that the speech just concluded certainly contained very pronounced opinions for a gentleman who had never prete. ded, and was not at the time of speaking, in favor of prohibition. In fact, the Attorney-General continued, the leader of the Opposition thinks it would be very convenient for his party if the Government adopted such a measure. It would afford him a better opportunity of crossing the House than had been presented during the past 20 years or was likely to be presented during the next 20.

Continuing Mr. Mowat averred that the question as to whether the Government had the authority or jurisdiction to make a pronouncement similar to the one desired by the hon. gentleman was, at the present time, extremely doubtful. As a matter of fact, however, the Government was not avowedly a prohibition party.

Mr. Ross, proceeding with the debate, made one of the best speeches he has ever delivered.

He did not, he said, think the hon. gentleman should charge the Government with playing with the temperance question. The history of its every action in this regard belied the assertion. Every church throughout the land had, at some time, expressed its confidence in the Government's legislation on this question. The leader of the Opposition had charged the Government with plotting to defeat the Scott Act. Again he forgot the record and conveyed, in his remarks, a completely false impression.

The motion was carried.

The National Park.

Mr. Meredith submitted a motion asking for copies of the order in council for the appointment of a commission as to the proposed forest reservation and park in the Nipissing District, of the commission issued in pursuance thereof and the instructions to the commissioners.

In support of his motion Mr. Meredith said he thought it would be well if a more definite statement were made by the Commissioner of Crown Lands as to the objects of the commission.

Complying Mr. Hardy described the position of the proposed forest reservation. The Government, he continued, had thought as the townships mentioned were as yet practically unsettled, were unfit for agricultural purposes, and as the pines had been to a great extent untouched, it would be well to establish a national park or forest reservation in order to restore and keep the forests in their primeval condition.

To save the expense attendant upon the employment of outsiders, Mr. Hardy went on to explain: The following officials of the Government were appointed as a commission: Messrs. Blue, Kirkwood, Dickson and Phippa. The immediate object of the commission, he said, was to investigate the character of the townships to be set apart and to ascertain their resources. This having been done the information would be collected and published in the form of a report to be presented to the House.

Another object of the commission, he said, and one no less important, was to ascertain from the experience of the United States and other countries the manner of maintaining such parks, the system generally employed and the expense usually incurred.

The Fusion of Courts.

Mr. Meredith also asked for a return of copies of all correspondence with the Attorney-General or his department on the subject of the fusion of the several divisions of the High Court of Justice and of changes in the practice of the said court, and in the provisions for holding sittings for the trial of actions, and otherwise with regard to the distribution of the business of the courts with a view to the more speedy despatch of such business.

In support of his motion Mr. Meredith said that there was at the present time a waste of judicial power, and expressed himself as strongly in favor of a feasible scheme of fusion.

Mr. Mowat did not think a fusion of the courts was required.

The Speech From the Throne.

Mr. Meredith again asked his question relative to the manner in which the House was opened.

Mr. Mowat said that the speech from the Lieutenant Governor was a mere formality, anyhow.

Go Back to the Provincial Lists.

Toronto Evening News, (Tory.)

The objections to the Federal Franchise Act are many and admitted. It involves an expenditure of half a million of public funds every time it is put in operation, and the cost to the two parties necessitated by looking after the lists prepared under it is not less. Even after all this outlay there is still a possibility that the country may be appealed to on a voters' list four years old; on a bungled one such as that which is causing endless confusion up in London, and there is, too, the ever present danger that it may be loaded up with bogus votes while being printed in the Government printing bureau.

It is folly, as a means of removing these admitted evils, to discuss measures intended to secure the co-operation of the Federal and Provincial Governments in providing one uniform list for use in provincial and federal elections. The co-operation required to carry out this scheme cannot be secured, and even if it could the evils complained of would only be minimized, not removed. The gravest objection to the present system would still remain in that the preparation of a voters' list for a province at least would be in the hands of one body, and there would thus be the same opportunity, only applied to a somewhat smaller area, of stuffing the list as there is now.

The only feasible plan is to abolish the Dominion Franchise Act, and the old law will once again come into force. We will then once more have one list of voters for municipal, Provincial and Dominion elections, and one prepared by the officers of the various municipalities. This will not only effect a large saving in public and private funds, but the list will be revised annually, and as the work of preparation will be in the hands of numerous small bodies, each independent of the other, it will be impossible to perpetrate such frauds as may be perpetrated where the officers and partisans of the central government make out and print the lists for the whole Dominion.

The Three Favorite Blacks.

Three names there are of great renown,
Well known in each Canadian town;
They have acquired a wondrous fame—
Are friends of every country dame:
These characters throughout our land
Have made a most determined stand,
And, in a bold and honest way
Have come to every home to stay.
Kind fate to ladies did ordain,
That they should kindly entertain
These three black characters of note,
And to them special care devote;
All this was, because fair eyes
Discovered they were Diamond Dyes—
Three members of a noble clan
Who've blessings brought to home of man.
The first of fame, is Black for Wool,
Giving a Jet or Blue as full—
A one dip dye of wondrous pow'r,
And fast e'en with a strong soap scour.
The second, for your Silk or Feather,
Gives such a Black, that sun or weather
Can never in the least reduce
The brilliant shades they can produce,
And last, not least, the Cotton Black
To faded goods at once brings back
A look of freshness, grandeur, style,
That makes the house-wife sweetly smile.
Each member of this trio grand
His special work has well in hand;
Their reputation never dies,
For they're allied to Diamond Dyes.

True genius will surmount all obstacles, no matter in what shape they may arise. A poet will write poetry, and continue to write it, even though every editor in the world be set against him and his finances reduced to nothing while he revels in the joys of song. So it is with journalism—editors are born, not cultivated, and the born editor will prove himself at the north pole, and give vent to his opinions on a sheet of ice in lieu of paper. Inborn genius absolutely and firmly declines to be downed. Mr. W. E. Fairbridge, of Fort Salisbury, South Africa, seems to be a born editor in hard luck. He publishes the Mashonoland Herald and Zambesi Times, and a picture of the editor and his publishing office is given herewith. It would discourage any one but a sure enough genius to editorially advise the government how to run things of state, and know that before they may receive the benefit of the advice that the question will have been settled, but Mr. Fairbridge must rise superior to the occasion. If there is one thing in favor of journalism in South Africa it is that native boys may be pressed into service as "composing devils," and all the ink they may acquire will not disfigure their natural beauty, and cause sorrow to the editor's heart by their appearing in the editorial rooms disguised as camelopards in jeans aprons.

DOG-SLED TRAVELLING.

DETAILS OF THE OUTFIT AND HOW TO SUCCESSFULLY USE IT.

"Huskies" and Their Habits—Scene of the Dogs on the Frozen Highway—The Typical Dog-Sled—The Hudson Bay Factor's Fancy Toboggan.

The dogs and sleds form a very interesting part of the Hudson Bay outfit. One does not need to go very deep into western Canada to meet with them. As close to our center of population as Nipigon, on Lake Superior, the only roads into the north are the rivers and lakes, traversed by canoes in summer and sleds in winter. The dogs are of a peculiar breed, and are called "huskies"—undoubtedly a corruption of the word Esquimaux. They preserve a closer resemblance to the wolf than any of our domesticated dogs, and exhibit their kinship with that scavenger of the wilderness in their nature as well as their looks. To-day their females, if tied and left in the forest, will often attest companionship with its denizens by bringing forth litters of wolfish progeny. Moreover, it will not be necessary to feed all with whom the experiment is tried, for the wolves will be apt to bring food to them as long as they are thus neglected by man. They are often as large as the ordinary Newfoundland dog, but their legs are shorter, and even more hairy, and the hair all along their necks, from their shoulders to their skulls, stands erect in a thick bristling mass. They have the long snouts, sharp-pointed ears, and the tails of wolves, and their cry is a yelp rather than a bark. Like wolves they are apt to yelp in chorus at sunrise and at sunset. They delight in worrying peaceful animals, setting their own numbers against one, and they will kill cows, or even children, if they get the chance. They are disciplined only when at work, and are then so surprisingly obedient, tractable, and industrious as to plainly show that though their nature is savage and wolfish, they could be reclaimed by domestication. In isolated cases plenty of them are. As it is, in their packs, their battles among themselves are terrible, and they are dangerous when loose. In some districts it is the custom to turn them loose in summer on little islands in the lakes, leaving them to hunger or feast according as the supply of dead fish thrown upon the shore is small or plentiful. When they are kept in dog quarters they are simply penned up and fed during the summer, so that the savage side of their nature gets full play during long periods. Fish is their principal diet, and stores of dried fish are kept for their winter food. Corn meal is often fed to them also. Like a wolf or an Indian, a "husky" gets along without food when there is not any, and will eat his own weight of it when it is plenty.

TRAVELLING BY DOG-SLED.

A typical dog-sled is very like a toboggan. It is formed of two thin pieces of oak or birch lashed together with buckskin thongs and turned up high in front. It is usually about nine feet in length by sixteen inches wide. A leather cord is run along the outer edges for fastening whatever may be put upon the sled. Varying numbers of dogs are harnessed to such sleds, but the usual number is four. Traces, collars and backbands for the harness, and the dogs are hitched one before the other. Very often the collars are completed with rows of sleigh-bells, and sometimes the harness is otherwise ornamented with beads, tassels, fringes, or ribbons. The leader, or foregoer, is always the best in the team. The next dog to him is called the steady dog, and the last is named the steer dog. As a rule, these faithful animals are treated harshly, if not brutally. It is a Hudson Bay axiom that no man who cannot curse in three languages is fit to drive them. The three profanities are, of course, English, French and Indian, though whoever has heard the Northwest French knows that it ought to serve by itself, as it is half-soled with Anglo-Saxon oaths and heeled with Indian obscenity. The rule with whoever goes on a dog-sled journey is that the driver, or mock-passenger, runs behind the dogs. The main function of the sled is to carry the dead weight, the burdens of tent covers, blankets, food, and the like. The men run along with or behind the dogs, on snowshoes, and when the dogs make better time than horses are able to, and will carry between 200 and 300 pounds over daily distances of from twenty to thirty-five miles, according to the condition of the ice or snow, and that many a journey of 1,000 miles has been performed in this way, and some of 2,000 miles, the test of human endurance is as great as that of canine grit.

Men travelling "light," with extra sleds for the freight, and men on short journeys, often ride in the sleds, which in such cases are fitted up as "carioles" for the purpose. I have heard an unauthenticated account, by a Hudson Bay man, of men who drove themselves, disciplining refractory or lazy dogs by simply pulling them in beside or over the dash-board, and holding them down by the neck while they thrashed them. A story is told of a worthy bishop who complained of the slow progress his sled was making, and was told that it was useless to complain, as the dogs would not work unless they were roundly and incessantly cursed. After a time the bishop gave his driver absolution for the profanity needed for the remainder of the journey, and thenceforth sped over the snow at a gallop, every stroke of the half-breed's long and cruel whip being sent home with a volley of wicked words, emphasized at times with peltings and sharp-edged bits of ice. Kane, the explorer, made an average of 57 miles a day behind these shaggy little brutes. Lilton and Cheadle, in their book, mention instances where the dogs made 140 miles in less than 48 hours, and the Bishop of Rupert's Land told me he had covered 20 miles in a forenoon and 20 in the afternoon of the same day, without causing his dogs to exhibit evidence of fatigue. The best time is made on hard snow and ice, of course, and when the conditions suit, the drivers whip off their snowshoes to trot behind the dogs more easily. In view of what they do, it is no wonder that many of the Northern Indians, upon first seeing horses, named them simply "big dog." But to me the performances of the drivers are the more wonderful. It was a white youth, son of a factor, who ran behind the bishop's dogs in the stunt of 40 miles by daylight that I mention. The men who do such work explain that the "lope" of the dogs is peculiarly suited to the dog-trot of a human being.—From "Talking Musquash," by Julian Ralph, in Harper's Magazine for March.

Gentlemen,—One of my little girls (aged 4 years) had been troubled with costivness in i s worst form since infancy. We tried different remedies which gave relief while using, but as soon as discontinued she would be worse than before using. She lost her appetite and was growing weak and delicate. A friend of mine who had used B.B.B. with grand results for the same disease advised me to try it, and also the Burdock Pills, which we did. She did not take the contents of one bottle before it relieved her, and not only relieved her but permanently cured her, for she has not been troubled once since, and she is now eight years old.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

A Peterborough Vocalist.

An entertainment and reception was given in the town hall, Millbrook, on Friday night last, under the auspices of Court Ivanhoe, No. 327, I. O. F. The Millbrook Reporter in speaking of Miss May Richardson of this town, says: "Then came a song by Miss May Richardson, of Peterborough, which was rendered in a sweet and impressive manner. * * Miss Richardson again delighted the audience with a solo, and in response to renewed applause sang 'Annie Laurie,' as an encore, playing her own accompaniment.

Elsewhere in this issue we publish the particulars of a remarkable cure that fairly outrivals the celebrated case of John Marshall, of Hamilton, which created such a sensation throughout the country. The particulars of this case are vouched for by the Albany Evening Journal, recognized as the leading newspaper at the New York State capital, and one of the leading papers of the United States. There is therefore, no room to doubt that the particulars of the case are accurately and carefully set forth, in every respect true, and must therefore prove of the deepest interest to our readers. We therefore commend the article to their careful perusal.

"Poor Peterborough."

Mr. Smiff, editor in chief of the Bobcaygeon Independent, say:—"The Ontario Inspector of Prisons has made a report on the condition of the Peterborough jail. He requires the county either to build a separate wing for destitute persons, or otherwise to provide a poor house. A Peterborough paper points out that poverty has brought more of the inmates of the jail into custody, than crime. The number of destitute persons is constantly increasing, and although the municipalities provide for the largest proportion of the destitute within their own boundries, yet a very large number have to be provided for in jail. Peterborough is one of the most prosperous counties in Ontario, yet we find that within the last dozen years pauperism has made its appearance, and now has numbers of victims. What about "tall chimneys," "protected industries" and "national prosperity." Peterborough has to build a poor house!

Masonic.

There was an unusually large attendance of members and visitors at the regular monthly communication of Peterborough Lodge, No. 155, A. F. & A. M., held on Friday evening in the Masonic Hall. W. Bro. A. St. A. Smith presided in the East, and was supported on both sides by a large representation of Past Masters. R. W. Bro. Jas. Greenfield, of Iconic Lodge, Toronto, P. G. J. W., occupied a seat next the W. M., and during the evening delivered and address full of interest to the brethren. A contingent of visiting brethren from Clemente Lodge, Lakefield, headed by W. Bro. J. J. Bird, registered during the evening, who was invited to a seat in the East. The work in the First was practically exemplified on two men E. A.'s, the impressive ceremonies being conducted in an efficient manner by all the officers. About eleven o'clock refreshments were served amid a social interchange of fraternal greetings, the evening concluding with the usual "Happy to Meet, Sorry to Part, Happy to Meet Again" valediction.

Charity Concert.

A grand charity concert in aid of the House of Providence will be given under the auspices of St. Peter's Branch No. 21, E.B.A., in Bradburn's Opera House, on Thursday evening, March 17th. This promises to be the concert of the season. One of the features of the entertainment will be a lecture by Rev. Father Jeffcott, of Pickering, and the outside and home talent will be represented by ladies and gentlemen of well know ability. Look out for large posters. Plan of hall at W. R. Greatrex's drug store. Popular prices.

A New Boat for Bobcaygeon.

It is understood, says the Bobcaygeon Independent, that a company has in serious contemplation the building of a new steamer for the lower lakes. It is proposed to have it as large if not larger, than the Esturion, and to be of low draught, and extra width in beam. The great fault in all the boats hitherto built on these waters, has been narrowness of beam. What is wanted is room and stability. As for speed, it has been demonstrated that the widening of the bearing of one of our best boats, increased rather than diminished her speed.

The only variation in quality which will ever be found in "Myrtle Navy" tobacco is in the degrees of moisture which it contains. Tobacco is a very ready absorbent of moisture, and in unusual states of the weather it may become a little too moist or a little too dry to suit the taste of some. This is a minor matter, however, as the essential quality of the tobacco is not changed. Its combustion is a little slower or a little faster according to the degree of moisture, that is all. The darker the plug the greater the moisture, and many prefer the dark. In each caddy, however, the preference for either can be met.

Still Watching the Millinery Openings.

Close upon her extended tour through the principle cities of the United States, Miss Delaney has spent the whole of this week in visiting the important Canadian millinery openings in Montreal and Toronto, and arrived home last evening. She returns with enlarged experience, and well repaid for all the time occupied in visiting these great centres of fashion. Miss Delaney brings with her the leading ideas in millinery for the approaching season. Her early spring selections include a handsome variety of beautiful designs in veiling, hats, flowers, ribbons, mantles, ulsters, etc. Ladies are invited to call and inspect these new arrivals. Miss Delaney promises her customers an early exhibition of spring styles which cannot be excelled. 1d

An Old Inhabitant.

Burnley, in the township of Seymour, has a centenarian in the person of George B. Hannen, who will be 102 years old next month. Mr. Hannen is a smart active old gentleman, lives alone, cuts his own wood, and walks to Burnley, one half mile distant from where he lives, every day. He is the oldest man in the counties, and is probably the oldest Orangeman in Canada. He joined old No. 1, of Brockville, half a century ago. He is a great reader, and has always been a Conservative in politics. He is a widower, but knows nothing of the whereabouts of his children. The residents of the neighborhood in which he lives are often entertained by amusing incidents in his life's history.—Cobourg Star.

The Heavy Hand of Affliction.

Misfortunes seldom come singly, and of this Edward O'Connell has had sad experience. He is a labourer and has been working near Lakefield. His wife was ill with consumption and he brought her to town for for treatment. He could not get her placed in a hospital, but he had through charity, been able to get her a home in a small house on Water street. He was without means, and the poor woman had to depend on the charity of the neighbours. On Sunday morning the wife was confined of a child, which died soon after birth. On Monday last an infant child, which has been ill in St. Joseph's hospital, died also, and yesterday morning Mrs. O'Connell succumbed to her illness. Without means of any kind and bereft of wife and children the husband's case was a sad one. By the liberality of Mr. D. Bellegheem he was given gratis a coffin for the remains of his wife, which will be taken to night to Norwood for interment. The remains of the two children will also be removed to Norwood. The deceased wife has only been married about two years.

Chappel Sentenced.

He Gets One Year in the Central for Stealing a Suit of Clothes and Another Year for Obtaining Goods Under False Pretences.

Ed. Chappel was brought up before County Magistrate Eimison at the court house this morning. County Crown Attorney Wood appeared for the prosecution. James Dougan, of Lakefield, from whom Chappel obtained the watch and chain under false pretences and also the owner of the suit of clothes which prisoner took away with him in his flight, indentified the missing coat and vest as his. The magistrate on the charge of stealing the coat and vest sentenced Chappel to one year in the Central Prison. Prisoner admitted his guilt and had nothing to say on behalf of his crime. He took his sentence coolly. On a second charge, that of obtaining goods under false pretenses, prisoner admitted his guilt and was sentenced on this charge to a year in the Central Prison, the two terms to run concurrently. He will be removed to the Central Prison to-night.

Police Court.

SATURDAY, March 5th.

Mark Zeels, a German mendicant, was brought up before the magistrate this morning on the charge of being without food, money or work. In explanation as to the cause of his appearing there, he told the Court that he hailed from Grand Haven, Michigan, and was a journeyman in search of work. He was on his way to Ottawa, where he had friends, and expected to secure work. He told the magistrate that it would take him about ten minutes to get out of town if allowed to go. The magistrate told him that he must either get out of town or get to work at once. He was allowed to go.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

A WORTHY DISCOVERY.—A discovery producing the effects which we claim for Father Matthew Remedy, (the antidote to alcohol) in promoting the welfare of mankind, should make an epoch in the history of medicine, like the discovery of the vaccine for the prevention of small pox.

—The Peterborough Hockey Club will play the Ellisons at the Charlotte street rink to-night.

—The sleighing in town is disappearing—Marching, as it were. Wheels are beginning to replace runners.

—The market this morning was an exceedingly large one. There was a great attendance of buyers and sellers.

—Some of the best musical talent of Peterborough will assist at Miss Jessie Alexander's entertainment in Port Hope on April 18th.

—The electors of Pickering township, Ontario County, have had the local option by-law passed by them last January, quashed by Chief Justice Armour, and licenses are in order for another year.

—A prominent and, hitherto regarded, solvent business man on George street has "shipped." When last heard of he was in Lindsay skipping a rink in the curling competition there yesterday.

—While John Chapman, hostler at the Simcoe House, Orillia, was lowering a barrel of sugar into the cellar on Tuesday afternoon, it slipped and fell on his leg. The limb was badly crushed and broken just below the knee.

—One of the attractions at the Salvation Army barracks this evening and to-morrow will be the presence of the Green family, of Stirling. The members of the family are good musicians, and play on brass, string and reed instruments.

—A valuable as well as valuable addition was made to the library of the Mechanics Institute yesterday. Mr. John Burnham, M. P., presented the Institution with three volumes containing the debates of the last session of Parliament.

—A school teacher in Elgin county washed a boy's mouth with soap and water for using abusive language at school recently. For this she was fined $10 and costs by a local magistrate, but the judge of Elgin county has quashed the conviction.

Purity

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is heredited and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poison and germs of disease from the air we breathe, the food we eat, or the water we drink. There is nothing more conclusively proven than the positive power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.

Daily Examiner.

SATURDAY, MARCH 5, 1892.

The wise and economical rule of the Mowat administration does not depend for vindication upon the praise of its political friends, who might be accused of being partial in their judgment; the journals of the opposite party are giving praise to the integrity of its rule. The Toronto News, which writes nearly as much (and by the way, vastly decenter) Toryism as the Empire, says of Mr. Clancy's petty probing into the public accounts:—"Mr. Clancy is making brave efforts to find something wrong down at Government Buildings; but, so far, isn't he rather on the trail of a mare's nest?'

Ontario Finances.

Ontario is the only Province of the Confederation of which the finances may be said to be in a satisfactory position save the "Monetary Times." The Treasurer claims an accumulated surplus of over five millions ($5,303,077) of dollars. There is some dispute about whether an amount payable in the form of annuities should not be capitalized and deducted from the surplus. It is of course, a debt, but a debt that is being yearly diminished; in this respect, it is analogous to a debt in course of reduction by a Sinking Fund. It is a debt that will not survive many years, and is being paid off out of current revenue, if we place in this category the proceeds of Crown lands and timber. No other Province has a surplus. Quebec has a crushing debt of between thirty and forty millions; New Brunswick has a bounded debt of $2,342,000; Nova Scotia has a debt of $321,294.

Springville.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

This village has of late become noted and far-famed for its enterprising merchants and of being beautifully surrounded by some of the best grain and stock farms in Central Ontario, having in close proximity the Lowlands Stock Farm owned by Messrs. Dundas & Grandy, who make a specialility of importing the Clydesdales, together with Messrs. Brown Bros. & James Beattie the former being the foremost breeders of sheep and swine. Mr. Babpbie owns a very fine stock of short horns and blood horses, among them being the celebrated standard trotting stallion, "Boxer." Together with this group of enterprising farmers the name of Mr. Levi Bowles, who is resident owner of "Fairview Farm," about one mile west of our village, is now occupying a foremost place in fancy stock. "Fairview Farm" consists of one hundred and fifty acres of choice grain and grazing land, sloping to the south and east. Mr. Bowles has erected one of the most spacious and best finished barns that your correspondent has ever had the pleasure of inspecting. The barn is built in an "L" shape, being 120 x 50 feet, with stone basement under the entire building. The stable is extremely well finished, stalled for fourteen horses, and extravagantly furnished Mr. Bowles has now in possession a fine stock of horses. He has the past few years been engaged in raising thoroughbred Clydesdale's but has timely discovered that they are falling into disrepute and has disposed of almost his entire stock to eastern purchasers, but with a keen eye to business and the welfare of the farmer at heart, Mr. Bowles, ha purchased one of the best imported Hackney stallions ever brought into Ontario and is evidently the class of horse that is suitable for the farmers to raise with profit. The purchase was made from the firm of Irving & Brown, Winchester, Ont., importers. The noble animal is given the name of Holderness 2nd, No. 2,114, C.H.S.B. Holderness is a handsome dappled bay four years old, of the purest strain of Yorkshire Hackneys. He stands 16 hands high and weighs 1400 lbs., and is perfectly clear of white, one of the grandest gears of the day with perfect symmetry and high all-round action; was bred by R bt. Taylor, Wetherwick, imported June 1891, sire, Confidence, 163; g sire, Denmark, 177; g g sire, St. Charles, 768; g g g sire, Performer, 850; g g g g sire, Phenomenon, 673; g g g g g sire, Wildfire, 864. Holderness' dam, Florence, 1118 by Fireaway, 249; g dam, Fanny, 1103, by Kindal's Performer, 391; g g dam by Wildfire, 867; g g g dam by Fireaway, 222. Mr. Bowles is to be commended for his enterprise in bringing into this district such a highly bred horse, and there is no doubt that it will prove remunerative to the farmers to raise this class of horses for the home and foreign market in the future.

Peterborough Successful in the End Over the Lindsay Club.

The two rinks of the Peterboroughs which went to Lindsay yesterday afternoon succeeded in subduing the latter town, and downing the score which the Lindsays had made over them at the rink here yesterday morning.

The match was with four rinks. The two rinks of Lindsay which played here yesterday forenoon succeeded in defeating the Peterboroughs by 8 shots, but the two town rinks which played at Lindsay yesterday afternoon reversed the tide of fortune, and defeated them by 15 points. Thus the match belongs to the home team by a majority of 7. The ice was rather soft.

The rinks and scores yesterday afternoon at Lindsay are as follows:

RINK NO. 1.

Lindsay.	Peterborough.
A. Lumsden,	D. Bellegham,
J. Meadham	Wm. Sallsbury,
J. Mathie	J. B. Pentland,
J. Keith, sk.....14	C. McGill, sk.....27

RINK NO. 2.

A. Kennedy,	A. Blade,
T. Sadlier,	J. Stanger,
F. Knowlson,	S. Clegg,
J. G. Edwards, sk..18	T. Rutherford, sk....20

The two rinks of Lindsay which played the Peterborough's yesterday forenoon, went to Port Hope from here and succeeded in defeating the Port Hope at curling by twelve points.

Toronto Accountant Missing.

TORONTO, March 5.—James Blair, chief accountant in the Inland Revenue Office, has been absent from the city since Friday last, a fact which has been kept pretty quiet by the officers and only leaked out yesterday. He is believed to be in Buffalo, having with him his child, a little girl. Blair was separated from his wife and she had an action pending for alimony to be tried at the next assizes. In the meantime the courts had awarded her alimony of $5 a week. Blair was heard to say that he wouldn't pay her a ——— cent. He had been drinking heavily for a year past.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. ced w

A SARATOGA CO. MIRACLE.

Helpless for Years and Excluded From Hospitals as Incurable.

The Remarkable Experience of Charles Quant as Investigated by an Albany (N. Y.) Journal Reporter—A Story of Surpassing Interest.

Albany, N.Y., Journal, March 4th.

SARATOGA, March 4th.—For some time past there have been reports here and elsewhere in Saratoga county of a most remarkable—indeed, so remarkable as to be miraculous—cure of a most severe case of locomotor ataxia, or creeping paralysis, simply by the use of a popular remedy known as "Pink Pills for Pale People," prepared and put up by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Morristown, N.Y., and Brockville, Ont. The story was to the effect that Mr. Chas. A. Quant, of Galway, who for the last six or eight years has been a great sufferer from creeping paralysis and its attendant ills, and who had become utterly powerless of all self-help, had, by the use of a few boxes of the Pink Pills for Pale People, been so fully restored to health as to be able to walk about the street without the aid of crutches. The fame of this wonderful, miraculous cure was so great that the Evening Journal reporter thought it worth his while to go to Galway to call on Mr. Quant, to learn from his lips, and from the observation and testimony of his neighbors, if his alleged cure was a fact or only an unfounded rumor. And so, he drove to Galway and spent a day and a night there in visiting Mr. Quant, getting his story and interviewing his neighbors and fellow-townsmen. It may be proper to say that Galway is a pretty little village of about 400 people, delightfully located near the centre of the town of Galway, in Saratoga county, and about 17 miles from Saratoga Springs. Upon inquiring, the residence of Mr. Charles A. Quant was easily found, for everybody seemed to know him, speak well of him and to be overflowing with surprise and satisfaction at his wonderful cure and restoration to the activities of enterprising citizenship, for Mr. Quaint was born in Galway and had spent most of his life there. Mr. Quant was found at his pretty home, on a pleasant street nearly opposite the Academy. In response to a knock at the door it was opened by a man who, in reply to an enquiry if Mr. Quaint lived there and was at home, said :—"I am Mr. Quant, will you come in?" After a little general and preliminary conversation, and after he had been apprised of the object for which the Journal reporter had called upon him, he, at request, told the story of himself and of his sickness and terrible sufferings, and of the ineffectual treatment he had had, and of his final cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for pale people, and cheerfully gave assent to its use for publication. He said : "My name is Charles A. Quant. I am 37 years old. I was born in the village of Galway, and excepting while travelling on business and a little while in Amsterdam, have spent my whole life here. My wife is a native of Ontario. Up to about eight years ago I had never been sick. I was fully six feet tall, weighed 180 pounds and was very strong. For 12 years I was travelling salesman for a piano and organ company, and had to do, or at least did do, a great deal of heavy lifting, got my meals very irregularly, and slept in enough spare beds in country houses to freeze any ordinary man to death, or at least give him the rheumatism. About eight years ago I began to feel distress in my stomach and consulted several doctors about it. They all said it was dyspepsia, and for dyspepsia I was treated by various doctors in different places, and took all the patent medicines I could hear of that claimed to be a cure for dyspepsia. But I continued to grow gradually worse for four years. Then I began to have pain in my back and legs and became conscious that my legs were getting weak and my step unsteady, and then I staggered when I walked. Having received no benefit from the use of patent medicines, and feeling that I was constantly growing worse, I then, upon advice, began the use of electric belts, pads and all the many different kinds of electric appliances I could hear of, and spent hundreds of dollars for them, but they did me no good. (Here Mr. Quant showed the Journal reporter an electric suit of underwear for which he paid $124.) In the fall of 1888 the doctors advised a change of climate, so I went to Atlanta, Ga., and acted as agent for the Estey Organ Company. While there I took a thorough electric treatment, but it only seemed to aggravate my disease, and the only relief I could get from the sharp and distressing pains was to take morphine. The pain was so intense at times that it seemed as though I could not stand it, and I almost longed for death as the only certain relief. In September of 1888 my legs gave out entirely and my left eye was drawn to one side, so that I had double sight and was dizzy. My trouble so affected my whole nervous system that I had to give up business. Then I returned to New York and went to the Roosevelt hospital, where for four months I was treated by specialists and they pronounced my case locomotor ataxia and incurable. After I had been under treatment by Prof. Starr and Dr. Ware for four months, they told me they had done all they could for me. Then I went to the New York hospital on Fifteenth street, where, upon examination, they said I was incurable and would not take me in. At the Presbyterian hospital they examined me and told me the same thing. In March, 1890, I was taken to St. Peter's hospital in Albany, where Prof. H. H. Hun frankly told my wife my case was hopeless; that he could do nothing for me and that she had better take me back home and save my money. But I wanted to make a trial of Prof. Hun's famous skill and I remained under his treatment for nine weeks, but secured no benefit. All this time I had been growing worse. I had become entirely paralyzed from my waist down and had partly lost control of my hands. The pain was terrible; my legs felt as though they were freezing and my stomach would not retain food, and I fell away to 120 pounds. In the Albany hospital they put 17 burns on my back one day with red hot irons and after a few day they put 14 more burns on and treated me with electricity, but I got worse rather than better; lost control of my bowels and water, and upon advice of the doctor, who said there was no hope for me, I was brought home, where it was thought that death would soon come to relieve me of my suffrings. Last September, while in this helpless and suffering condition a friend of mine in Hamilton, Ont., called my attention to the statement of one John Marshall, whose case had been similar to my own, and had been cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

In this case Mr. Marshall, who is a prominent member of the Royal Templars of Temperance, had after four years of constant treatment by the most eminent Canadian physicians been pronounced incurable, and was paid the $1000 total disability claim allowed by the order in such cases. Six months after Mr Marshall began a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and after taking some 15 boxes was fully restored to health.

I thought I would try them, and my wife sent for two boxes of the pills, and I took them according to the directions given on the wrapper of each box. For the first few days the cold baths were pretty severe, as I was was so very weak, but I continued to follow instructions as to taking the pills and treatment, and even before I had used up the two boxes of pills I began to feel beneficial effects from them. My pains were not so bad, I felt warmer, my head felt better, my food began to relish and agree with me, I could straighten up, the feeling began to come back into my limbs, I began to be able to get about on crutches, my eye came back again as good as ever, and now after the use of eight boxes of the pills—at a cost of only $4—see!—I can with the help of a cane only, walk all about the house and yard, can saw wood, and on pleasant days I walk down town. My stomach trouble is gone, I have gained 10 pounds, I feel like a new man, and when the spring opens I expect to be able to renew my piano and organ agency. I cannot speak in too high terms of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as I know they saved my life after all the doctors had given me up as incurable."

Other citizens of Galway, seeing the wonderful cure of Mr. Quant by the Pink Pills for Pale People, are using them. Frederick Sexton, a sufferer from rheumatism, said he was finding great benfit from their use, and Mr. Schultz, who had suffered from chronic dysentery for years, said he had taken two boxes of the pills and was already cured.

Mr. Quant had also tried Faith cure, with experts of that treatment in Albany and Greenville, S. C., but with no beneficial results.

A number of the more prominent citizens of Galway, as Rev. C. E. Herbert, of the Presbyterian church; Prof. James E. Kelly, principal of the academy; John P. and Harvey Crough, and Frank and Edward Willard, merchants, and many others to whom Mr. Quant and his so miraculous cure by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, are well known, were pleased to have the opportunity of bearing testimony to the high character of Mr. Quant, and of verifying the story of his recovery from the terrible affliction from which he had for so long a time been a sufferer.

Truly, the duty of the physician is not to save life, but to heal disease.

The remarkable result from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the case of Mr. Quant, induced the reporter to make further enquiries concerning them, and he ascertained that they are not a patent medicine in the sense in which that term is generally used, but a highly scientific preparation, the result of years of study and experiment. They have no rival as a blood builder and nerve restorer and have met with unparalleled success in the treatment of such diseases as paralysis, rheumatism, sciatica, St. Vitus' dance, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling which affects so many, and all diseases depending upon a watery condition of the blood or shattered nerves.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females, such as suppressions, irregularities, and all forms of weakness. They build up the blood and restore the glow of health to pale or sallow cheeks. In the case of men they affect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

On further inquiry the writer found that these pills are manufactured by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and Morristown, N.Y., and are sold in boxes, (never in bulk by the the hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., from either addresses. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies, or medical treatment.

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1892.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

DEAR SIR,—For many years, I have been a firm believer in your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills." Not with a blind faith, but a confidence wrought by an actual personal experience of their value and merit. My business is such that I spend much of my time away from home, and I would not consider my travelling outfit complete without a box of Morse's Pills.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. THE PHOTOGRAPHIC DRY PLATES.

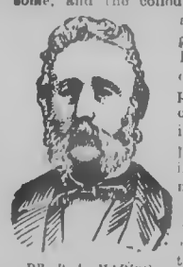
The Inventor and How He Discovered It and Revolutionized Photography.

To Dr. R. L. Maddox, of Southampton, England, the art of photography owes its most important step forward since the time of Daguerre. It was in 1871 that he invented the gelatine dry plate, as the result of experiments intended to improve on the collodion process. His objections to that process were manifold. It was costly and slow, the manufacture of the cotton was troublesome, and the collodion vapor injuriously affected the photographer's health. To Dr. Maddox's own opposition to the vapor was joined that of his household, as its oppressive odor pervaded every room in the house. He met the case in a characteristic way, not with the submission of one who regards the evils of an imperfect method as inevitable, but with the spirit of an inventor confident that thought and experiment will find a way of escape.



DR. R. L. MADDOX.

Using paper and glass by turns, he began. Exhausting the contents of his chemical shelves, he proceeded to draw upon the resources of the family pantry. Lichen, linseed oil, quince seed, tapioca, and wax were, each in succession, combined with varying proportions of silver salts and made into plates. Then the happy thought struck him: Why not try gelatine? Fortunately a packet of it happened to be in the house, and by dissolving it he secured a much better surface than he had with the isinglass. Just then he had been photographing some laurels, making a rather poor picture. What could improve this imperfect plate? He remembered having heard that for foliage the bromides were better suited than the iodides. To the bromides, then, increasing the quantity and lessening that of the iodides, he turned. So marked, at that point, was the success, that he settled on the use of bromide alone. Then the first effective dry plate saw the light of day. Dr. Maddox at once published his experiments. To some of the most ingenious minds in the ranks of photography, professional and amateur, their promise was as certain as dawn. Very soon the gelatino-bromido plate, as we now know it, was brought to perfection. In the final improvements Dr. Maddox took no part, as his health had broken down and he was forbidden to work. In 1892 a subscription, toward which American photographers are making handsome contributions, is being raised for him because he is infirm and poor. Apart from the subscription, the man whose skill, fertility of resource, and perseverance led the way to so many triumphs of science and art has been utterly without reward.

Our Wrecked and Disabled Friends!

Can they Regain Vigor and Health?

That mysterious and dread disease, La Grippe, has caused more deaths than all other diseases combined, during the past few months. It has wrecked and disabled thousands of old and young in our midst; and, while we write, the work of death and wrecking is still going on at an alarming rate.

While our hearts are sad and sore over the loss of near and loved ones, we should not allow our sorrow and grief to cause us to forget the weak, wrecked and disabled friends who are left around us. Our duty just now, is to do what we can for these helpless ones, so that they may be restored to their former health.

Many friends of the sick and suffering, and some physicians too, have their peculiar methods for restoring the weak and broken-down; but true wisdom and experience dictates a sure and infallible recuperator and restorer, known as Paine's Celery Compound. It is the only effective and reliable agent that can justly guarantee true results.

The testimony of hundreds, who once were wrecks from the ravages of La Grippe, prove clearly and strongly the wisdom of using Paine's Celery Compound. It is the most approved remedy of physicians for building up the broken down constitution, for bracing up the great nervous system, and restoring lost vitality. Paine's Celery Compound today in Canada and the United States is building up and bringing back to health, strength and vigor, thousands of men and women who were victims of La Grippe.

The proprietors of this wonderful medicine have now in connection with their vast business a thoroughly qualified physician, to whom is referred all correspondence from the sick and suffering. This step is deemed necessary for the benefit of thousands who do not care to consult a physician personally. Our physician will prescribe for, and carefully treat and advise all who are anxious regarding their condition and general health. All advice and prescriptions sent to the people of Canada; and all correspondence is strictly confidential. Address: Consulting Physician's Department, Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.

A Handsome Russian Bandit.

The famous Russian woman bandit, who has for the last ten years been the terror of Servia, has been captured in a cave on the Roumanian frontier, where she was nursing her sick lover. Young, handsome and a perfect markswoman, she went about in man's dress, with her belt full of weapons and her rifle slung on her saddle, at the head of a band of devoted Haiducks, with whom she committed her robberies. Her people warned her that she was in danger of capture, but she refused to abandon her lover, and only surrendered after she had killed two gendarmes.—Nashville American.

The Fuel of the Future.

As the world moves, and as surely as the sailing vessel replaced the galley, as the swift locomotive took the place of the post-horse and stage-coach, as the trained lightning displaced the courier, so will coal, cumbrous, costly and grimy, give place to some more perfect, more ethereal essence, evolved from itself, distilled from its liquid essence, or it may be to that kindred invisible agent that springs forth spontaneous and perfect at the touch of the drill.

Did it ever occur to you to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine? Try a bottle this season. It will do you good.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles, 50c, and $1, at the Peterborough Drug Store. dw

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general toilet purposes, use Low's Sulpher Soap. w d

You hardly realize that it is medicine, when taking Carter's Little Liver Pills; they are very small; no bad effects; all troubles from torpid liver are relieved by their use. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, mankind often groans from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw

A PRINCE AMONG SWINDLERS.

A Fraud Who Has Many Imitators, But In a Smaller Way.

BUFFALO, March 5.—Thomas Simons, alias Harris, the great insurance swindler, who was arrested at St. Thomas, Ont., and extradited to this city, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to three years in Erie County Penitentiary. He said that after he got out he would work for the insurance companies at $1800 a year and save them twice that sum by exposing agents who are swindling them.

"I don't believe more than five claims out of 20 are honest," he said, as the deputy sheriff led him away.

Since his case was written up the discovery has been made that Harris has been working the companies during the past four years, has 32 aliases, and one time succeeded in getting $1300 out of the Travelers' Company of Hartford. He has swindled them all the way from New York to Denver, and in Canada as well as the United States. He was very slick at counterfeiting sprains and dislocations.

He was a good actor, and could make a sound limb look as if it had been run through a threshing machine, while at the same time he suffered little pain and but slight inconvenience from the frauds he perpetrated. He had in his possession the necessary printed form of certificate, and did not give physicians the trouble of writing it out.

HER CORPSE TIED TO THE BED.

Another Supposed Murder Reported from British Columbia.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 5.—May Hunter, a prostitute, familiarly known as "Dutch May," was found dead in her bedroom. In her mouth was a small handkerchief and her limbs were tied to the bed. There are suspicions of foul play. The inmates of the house say the Hunter woman retired to her room at 2 o'clock this morning. The Chinaman employed as cook went to call her at noon for breakfast. He could not arouse her and broke in the door and discovered the dead body.

LINED WITH GOLD.

A Paris Absconder Who Stole Nearly $200,000 Captured.

LONDON, March 5.—Octave Mellorio, a prominent jeweler of Paris, who absconded from that city three weeks ago, after robbing the safe of the firm of which his father had been a member of the sum of 875,000 francs, was arrested yesterday at Bayswater.

The police found concealed under the floor of his room 375,000 francs.

Mellorio was accompanied in his flight by a woman, said to be his mistress. She is at present in Brussels, where she is liable to arrest.

THE BRUTE AND THE BOY.

Shocking Treatment of a Child—His Raiment Rags Tied on With strings.

REGINA, N.W.T., March 5.—Archibald McDonald of Red Jacket was committed to the Regina jail to await trial on a charge of having brutually used a child, aged seven, named William Stracey. The boy was allowed by his mother to go from Moosomin to stay at McDonald's house for the purpose of visiting his children. When he left home Stracey was well clothed, in good health and free from wounds, but is now in a shocking condition, with hands and feet frozen, one toe being nearly off, and wounds all over his body. When taken from the prisoner the child was covered with rags tied on with strings.

A NEEDLE'S TRAVELS.

Was in the Mother's Hand, Found in Her Child's Head.

SPRINGFIELD, O., March 5.—Mrs. Frank J. Saums of No. 255 West Mulberry-street, while combing her 6-year-old daughter's hair Monday, pulled a broken needle an inch long from the child's head.

A short time before giving birth to the child Mrs. Saums ran a broken needle into one of her hands. It buried itself under the flesh, and she has never been troubled with it since.

It is believed that the needle found in the child's head is the one she ran into her hand. She says it looks like the same one.

The case is a remarkable one, and doctors differ about it.

Wilhelm Compared to Nero.

BERLIN, March 5.—The Frankfurter Zeitung's issue of the 1st inst. has been confiscated for publishing an article which condemned a sovereign's giving free rein to his speech. It said that the Emperor ought to have first written the address which he made at the Brandenburg banquet, and the article concluded with a suggestive reference to Emperor Nero, describing him as vainglorious and with a mania for greatness. He was, it said, impulsive and had hallucinations, with accesses of geniality. This was a typical form of decadent majesty.

Dead, Aged 101.

EDITORS FOREGATHER

Second Day's Session of the Canadian Press Association Convention.

OTTAWA, March 5.—The Press Association met yesterday and passed resolutions of thanks to Lord Stanley, Speaker White and the mayor and city council.

Letters of regret were read from United States representatives who intended being present but who could not attend.

Mr. Roy Somerville of New York wrote the association asking that the Dominion Government reduce the duty on baking powders. He said that if the duty on powders were reduced the firms dealing in that business would advertise more largely than they do now.

Mr. Preston of The Brantford Expositor spoke of restricting the membership of the association to editors and publishers of newspapers, as at present the association was largely controlled by representatives of class and trade newspapers who were not dependent on the publication of such journals for a livelihood. Some of those who represented such papers and who were present put in a plea for their respective journals.

The constitution was amended so as to confine the membership to editors, proprietors and publishers of papers published not less than once a month.

N. F. Davin, M.P., addressed the meeting and R. S. White, M.P., read a paper on Trade and Commerce.

Mr. John King, Q.C., of Berlin, concluded the morning session with a paper on the law of libel, which probably was not the least interesting feature of the morning to the publishers.

In the afternoon a number of further papers were read of much interest to the association. "The Legitimate Profits of a Newspaper Office and How They Are Curtailed" was dealt with by Mr. J. C. Jamieson of The Belleville Intelligencer.

Mr. C. W. Young of The Cornwall Freeholder dealt with "Office Management."

The banquet in the Russell in the evening was a great success. Lord Stanley, Sir John Thompson, Wilfrid Laurier and Messrs. Bowell and Mills were present.

LAWYER AND CRIMINAL.

Charged With Indecently Assaulting a Little Girl.

ORANGEVILLE, March 5.—James Fletcher, the Shelburne lawyer who was arrested a few weeks ago for indecently assaulting a little girl, was placed in the dock yesterday afternoon, the grand jury having found a true bill against him the day before. The particulars of the assault were narrated at the time of the occurrence. Fletcher a few years ago was a law student in the office of the very judge before whom he was arraigned in the dock. The jury brought in a verdict of common assault against Fletcher. The judge refused to accept this, but allowed Fletcher out on his own bail to appear when called on.

Behring Sea Matters.

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The joint commission on the Behring Sea seal fisheries held its final session at the State Department this afternoon.

After signing a joint report embodying a statement of facts as to all points connected with the sealing industry where there is no dispute, the commission adjourned sine die. It is understood that no agreement was reached on the main question at issue as to whether or not a closed season and a prohibition of pelagic sealing are essential for the preservation of the seal species.

It is said that the representatives of the United States advocated a policy of this kind for a limited period and that the representatives of Great Britain opposed it. There will therefore be two separate reports on this point. These, together with the joint report on matters of minor importance, will be submitted to the board of arbitration when that body shall have been organized. In the meantime the Treasury Department is making the usual arrangements for the enforcement of the laws in regard to the seal fisheries.

Red River Improvement.

WINNIPEG, March 5.—At a meeting of the joint committee of the City Council and Board of Trade on Red River navigation improvement held here, Major Ruttan presented a report submitting a memorial to the Dominion Government praying that $500,000 be expended by Parliament in improving navigation on the Red River so that the stream would be passable for steamers from Lake Winnipeg to the North Dakota boundary.

The Indians' Great Potlach.

VANCOUVER, B.C., March 5.—The Indians of British Columbia will have a great potlach on Queen's Birthday at North Arm. Chief George Musaneu will give away 3000 blankets and a number of canoes, his brother Johnny will give $5000 and the other four brothers will give large sums in cash and blankets. The family of which the chief is the head is one of the richest in the province, having made a large amount by fishing on the Fraser. In fact the amounts they intend giving away represent the profits of their work during 1891.

Death of Ex-Sheriff McEwan.

WINDSOR, March 5.—Ex-Sheriff John McEwan died at the residence of his son yesterday. Some time ago deceased suffered a paralytic stroke, from which he never recovered. He was 79 years old. He was at one time editor of The Windsor Herald.

Senator Vidal on the Commission.

OTTAWA, March 5.—Senator Vidal's name is mentioned in connection with the new Prohibition Commission.

A. O. F. Beneficiary.

TORONTO, March 5.—A special meeting of the Beneficiary Board of the Ancient Order of Foresters was held in the Rossin House last evening. There were present Messrs. Buckingham, Hamilton; Duff, London; MacWatt, Barrie; H. Griffith, Toronto; Dr. L. Secord, Brantford; J. Ford, Toronto, and W. Baird, Galt. Considerable business of importance was transacted. A resolution was passed authorizing the investment of some $20,000 of surplus funds. The report of the secretary was read showing a very large increase in membership and funds during the past quarter.

Bradstreet's on Trade.

NEW YORK, March 5.—The movement of staples from distributing centres, as wired to Bradstreet's, continues about as heretofore reported.

Toronto's millinery openings last week attracted buyers from far distant Canadian provinces and were quite successful. Demand for drygoods and staples in Ontario is likewise good.

In the Province of Quebec jobbers report a better request for drygoods, hardware and groceries, and collections are improving.

There were 33 failures in the Dominion this week, against 48 last week and 30 a year ago.

Bank clearings at four Canadian cities this week equal $17,631,000, or 12.7 per cent. more than last week.

Western Mail Clerks' Remuneration.

WINNIPEG, March 5.—The railway mail clerks of Manitoba and the Northwest intend making big effort during the present session of the Dominion Parliament to have their mileage restored to the old scale of one cent per mile. They urge restoration of one cent scale on the ground that living expenses are higher here than in Ontario, Quebec and other eastern provinces.

Resuscitation After Death.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 5.—It was learned yesterday that President Collins of the defunct California National Bank, who committed suicide yesterday, had assigned his life insurance of $35,000 for the benefit of the creditors of the bank. This was the last dollar's worth of property he had to turn over.

A 300-lb. Bear Killed.

WALKERTON, March 5. Joe Caskanett of Chepatow succeeded, after three days' hunt, in shooting a large black bear, which was driven out of his winter quarters in the Greenock swamp. He weighed over 300 pounds.

A SCROFULOUS BOY

Running Sores Covered His Body and Head. Bones Affected. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using all freely. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out; then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.

My grandson remains perfectly well. No signs of scrofula and no sores. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

BEHRING SEA

The Proposals of Lord Salisbury Not Acceptable to the United States.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Behring Sea matter has assumed a most serious phase and public officials make no attempt to disguise the grave concern at the outcome. It was developed to-day that Lord Salisbury has made proposals which it is claimed cannot be accepted. In the language of a prominent official his proposition is "wholly unfair, arrogant and even insulting to this country." It is said by experts that the opening of Behring Sea for one season in the manner suggested by him would result in the speedy extermination of the seal, and there then would be nothing left to arbitrate; as one official expressed it "it would be like arbitrating the ownership of something that had gone out of existence."

The news from British Columbia that the sealing fleet is making preparations for unusually extensive operations this season is confirmed at the State Department.

LONDON, March 6.—Inquiry was made at the Foreign Office by a representative of the Associated Press regarding the Behring Sea negotiations. The official seen said that although he did not wish to make a statement at this juncture, yet he could say that no information had been received that the Behring Sea Commissioners had failed to arrive at a satisfactory understanding regarding the methods to be employed in the seal fisheries. He deprecated what he called the animus which permeated the information received here from the United States concerning the matter.

The Leader's Founder Dead.

TORONTO, March 7.—James Beaty, sr., died at his residence, 17 Fuller-street, on Saturday. Mr. Beaty was born near Killashandra, county Cavan, Ireland, in 1798, and came to Canada in 1818. In his early years he had learned shoemaking, and for many years carried on a leather business in this city. In 1852, however, he established The Leader and conducted that journal for about a quarter of a century. He founded the Toronto General Hospital, was a director of the Grand Trunk and a charter member of the Western Assurance Co. He sat in Council for a number of years and represented East Toronto in the first Parliament of Canada. Mr. Beaty was married shortly after reaching this country. His wife died in 1829. His only surviving child, Mrs. Mullaney, resides in this city.

Stanley's New Military Secretary.

OTTAWA, March 7.—Major Colville has resigned the position of military secretary to Lord Stanley, and will be succeeded by Major St. Aubyn of the Grenadier Guards.

Major St. Aubyn comes of an old West of England family, which, though not included in the peerage, figures honorably in Burke's county families and is allied with the most illustrious houses in England.

Impaled on a Sleigh Stake.

OTTAWA, March 7.—At Plantagenet a 14-year-old son of Mr. Thomas McNulty, while assisting in loading a sleigh with hay from the loft of a barn, fell from the door and landed on one of the stakes of the sleigh, being literally impaled alive.

Killed by a Log.

KINCARDINE, March 7.— Saturday John McCallum, farmer, of the 10th concession Kincardine township, while in the act of loading sawlogs slipped, the log rolling over his body and inflicting injuries from which he died.

The Law of Libel.

OTTAWA, March 7.—Messrs John King, Q.C., Berlin; Pense, Kingston Whig, and Brierley, St. Thomas Journal, representing the Press Association interviewed the Minister of Justice yesterday and suggested certain changes in the law respecting criminal libel. Mr. King dwelt at length on the changes which the Press Association considered desirable in their interests. The Minister and Deputy Minister listened attentively and asked the deputation to send them a written communication, which should receive their best consideration.

A Recount in London.

LONDON, Ont., March 7.—Acting on behalf of Mr. Hyman, James Magee, Q.C., appeared before Judge Davis in chambers to-day and asked a recount of the ballots cast in the recent Parliamentary election here. The application was granted. Wednesday afternoon next at 2 o'clock was fixed as the hour for beginning the recount.

The Deadly Car Stove Has an Imitator in the Radiator.

TOPEKA, Kan., March 7.—On a Santa Fe and St. Joseph passenger train Saturday at Meriden the heating apparatus in the smoker exploded with terrific force. The passengers in the car were hurled from their seats and two of them, Almon Richards and Alexander Erickson, both of this place, were killed. Five others were painfully injured. The interior of the car was wrecked.

LONDON'S PARLIAMENT.

RESULT OF THE COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTION.

Issues and Methods of the County Council Campaign—The Radical Attempt to Capture London Proves Successful—A Liberal Triumph.

LONDON, March 6.—Saturday London was fought for. Her five millions of people were called upon to say whether they wished to be governed the next three years as they have been governed the last three.

While the result of the County Council election is not absolutely certain, the returns indicate that the progressives have have again gained the day.

Seventy-seven progressive candidates and 17 moderates are already known to have been elected.

The Duke of Norfolk (moderate), Lords Carington and Monkswell (progressive) and the avowed Socialists Messrs. Tims, Bruce, Cooper and Sidney Webb have been returned.

The Chronicle, commenting on the results of the election, says: "The Reactionists are snowed under. They have made their exit as the party came in as a squalid rump. They cannot complain as they did in 1889 that they were caught napping."

The Daily News says: "It is difficult to exaggerate the consequences of the Progressives victory. It cannot be doubted that a Liberal Ministry and Parliament will confer the increased powers which the progressives ask and will subject landlords' revenues to their proper share of municipal taxation.

NOT UNTIL NOVEMBER.

Not Likely That the British Parliament Will be Dissolved for Some Time.

LONDON, March 6.—The Sunday Sun says that the fact that the Government is allowing some of its supporters to go abroad for several weeks indicates that it does not intend to dissolve Parliament yet awhile.

"The whole tendency of parliamentary opinion," The Sun continues, "is that the general elections will be postponed until July and perhaps November.

"It is believed that Mr. Gladstone prefers that the elections should be postponed until July, because an election in the middle of the parliamentary session would compel him to produce his bills hurriedly and risk the disaster which resulted from the break-neck pace that he was compelled to pursue in 1886. He will probably take months instead of weeks to prepare his Home Rule bill and to carefully study every detail of the measure. Therefore the Liberals have been enjoined not to press the Government to dissolve Parliament."

To Make Herself Solid.

LONDON, March 6.—In the House of Commons there was a long-continued debate on the proposition to vote £20,000 for a survey for a railway line from Mombasa to Victoria Nyanza, in British East Africa.

Sir William Vernon-Harcourt declared that if the proposed railway was built it would soon be torn up by the natives and that it would require a soldier to be placed every hundred yards along the line to prevent it from being destroyed. He ridiculed the idea that the railroad would extend the influence of the missionaries in Africa, who, he said, would be following a band of filibusters.

Right Hon. George Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, supported the project. He said that the railroad would be an invaluable aid in suppressing the slave trade, which undoubtedly existed in these regions.

Mr. Balfour moved the application of the closure rule, which was adopted.

The credit asked for was then granted by a vote of 206 to 126.

Train-Robber Perry Trying to Escape.

LYONS, N.Y., March 7.—Oliver Curtis Perry, the desperado train robber, attempted to escape from jail late last night. When Sheriff Thornton opened the office door to go into the hallway, which separates the jail from the house, he noticed Perry, who was standing at the corridor grating, start suddenly for his cell. In the lock of the door which opens into the corridor the sheriff found a key made of lead scraped from a bucket and lead foil which comes around tobacco. It is thought Perry was trying the key when the sheriff opened the door and did not have time to take it out of the lock.

An Alleged Smuggler.

SARNIA, March 7.—George Logan, a merchant doing business at Sombra village below Sarnia, was to-day arrested at Marine City by United States Detective Day on a charge of smuggling. Considerable goods were seized. Logan is charged with smuggling clothes in large quantities across from Sombra to the United States side for customers.

Must Pay Their Own Postage.

OTTAWA, March 7.—An order in council has been circulated through the department this morning, informing members of both the inside and outside services that the franking privilege for private correspondence will be withdrawn on and after the 15th inst., and that no postage for this purpose will be allowed to be charged against the Government. This announcement occasions no little stir amongst the members of the service.

Can Manage Its Own Affairs.

WINNIPEG, March 7.—At a Liberal meeting which was addressed by ex-Attorney-General Martin a resolution was adopted declaring the just right of the province to control its own school system, protesting against the attitude of the Dominion Government towards the province, and expressing the determination of the province to carry the "school case" to the highest court in the realm for decision.

Newfoundland Trouble May be Settled.

OTTAWA, March 7.—It is currently reported that there are good prospects of a speedy settlement of the present unfortunate dispute and war of tariffs between the Dominion and Newfoundland Governments.

Belgium's White Slaves.

BRUSSELS, March 7.—A discussion between the friends and foes of the Congo enterprise occurred last night at the Maison de Peuple, the Socialist headquarters.

All the Congo enterprises were strenuously defended by Herr Wanlers, secretary of the Congo Railway Company and editor of The Mouvement Geographique.

The Socialists carried by a large majority a resolution declaring that the money spent on the Congo Free State would be better employed in favor of the white slaves in Belgium.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

ANOTHER PLOT TO KILL THE CZAR OF RUSSIA.

Attempt to Blow Up the Spanish Legation in Brussels—A Dynamite Candle Presented to a Church With a View to Kill Worshippers—Body in a Cesspool.

BRUSSELS, March —An attempt to work destruction at the Spanish Legation here with an infernal machine containing two pounds of explosive matter was discovered just in time by some workmen, who promptly quenched the burning of a fuse attached to the death-dealing apparatus.

AN AWFUL PLOT.

A 60-Pound Dynamite Candle Presented to a Church.

LONDON, March 7.—A dispatch from San Sebastian, Spain, states that a lady presented to one of the churches there a huge candle weighing 60 pounds, to be burned during Lent. It was explained that the candle was intended to furnish light throughout the Lenten period. The gift was suitably acknowledged in the presence of an immense congregation, and the sacristan proceeded to light the candle, but there seemed to be some fault in the construction, as the wick failed to remain alight. After three futile attempts had been made the officiating priest, becoming suspicious that something was wrong, ordered that the candle be removed and examined. This being done, the startling discovery was made that the interior of the candle was filled with powerful explosives. Had the sacristan succeeded in making it burn a terrible explosion must have resulted with consequences awful to contemplate, in view of the crowded condition of the church.

The lady who gave the candle had disappeared before the deadly character of the gift was discovered. It is conjectured that she was an agent of the Anarchists, their object being to destroy the building.

An Infernal Machine for the Czar.

LONDON, March 7.—The Chronicle's Moscow correspondent says that while the Czarina and the Czarewitch were driving in the Nevsky prospect in St. Petersburg a day or two ago a parcel supposed to have been an infernal machine was thrown at them but missed them and fell harmless in the snow.

The culprit who threw the parcel escaped.

FOUND IN A CESSPOOL.

The Murder of an English Governess Comes to Light After Many Months.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 7.—The British living in this city are greatly excited over the case of the English governess who was foully murdered here some months ago, and whose body has just been discovered.

The young woman came from England to be governess in the family of Mossolovsky, one of the most respected houses in the Russian capital.

The young woman attended the Anglo-American Church. Last summer she suddenly disappeared. She had gone to church on Sunday, prayerbook in hand, and never returned.

Her absence remained a mystery, and when the prayerbook was found near the cavalry barracks the suspicion deepened that she had met with foul play.

It is now stated that the body of the young woman, or what remains of it, has been found in the cesspool of the barracks near which the prayerbook was discovered.

Suspicion attaches to officers and soldiers connected with the cavalry, but no definite evidence can be found to fix guilt upon them.

Morning Sessions Proposed in Parliament.

LONDON, March 7.—Mr. Balfour moved Friday in the Commons to take morning sittings for the rest of the session. Such a motion in the third week of a session is unprecedented, and is due to the attempt of a Government to drive three important bills abreast. The Opposition offered strong resistance. Mr. Gladstone said that he would oppose the motion unless the period be restricted to Easter. Mr. Balfour accepted this limit, and the motion was adopted after a lively debate.

Boiling Greece.

PARIS, March 7.—The Eclair states that 300 of the partisans of M. DeGannis, the late Greek Prime Minister who was removed by the King, have been placed under arrest. The ex-ministers of the DeGannis Ministry are being closely watched.

Another Steamer Wrecked.

LONDON, March 7.—Grave anxiety is felt concerning the safety of the British steamer Trewanna, Captain Wren, which sailed from Cardiff Jan. 16 for Jamaica and St. Thomas and which has not since been heard from. She had a crew of 21 men.

An Italian Spy.

PARIS, March 7.—A man named Origlio has been arrested in Toulon on the charge of being an Italian spy. Papers in his possession prove that he was in the employ of Italy to obtain details of the garrison and the artillery defences of Toulon.

Foot and Mouth Disease in Germany.

BERLIN, March 7.—Twenty-two cattle markets in Schonfliess, Marchewin, Inneradorf and Chonow have been closed for a month in consequence of the prevalence of the foot and mouth disease.

Barcelona Anarchists.

BARCELONA, March 7.—The police have discovered a regular Anarchist organization here and have seized a large amount of Anarchistic literature that has been privately printed in various languages. The leaders, who are mostly intelligent educated foreigners of determined character, have been arrested.

Grand Duke of Hesse Critically Ill.

BERLIN, March 7.—The Grand Duke of Hesse had a stroke of paralysis that has affected the whole right side of his body. His condition is critical.

Ludwig IV., the reigning Grand Duke of Hesse, was born on September 12, 1837. He succeeded to the throne on the death of his uncle, Grand Duke Ludwig III., on June 13, 1877. On July 1, 1862, he married Princess Alice, second daughter of Queen Victoria, who died on December 14, 1878. His eldest daughter, Princess Victoria, married Prince Ludwig of Battenberg; his second daughter, Princess Elizabeth, married the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia; while his third daughter, Princess Irene, married Prince Henry of Prussia. There is yet another daughter, Princess Alice, who was born on June 6, 1872.

Lonesome but Not Lovely.

A bachelor physician was once called to see a young widow. "You are lonesome," said the doctor. "Your husband has been dead three years. I'd advise you to marry again."

"Oh, doctor, I'll marry to-morrow if you will have me."

"Ah! ah! Well," murmured the doctor, stepping back and blushing, "you know madam, that physicians never take their own prescriptions."—Texas Siftings.

A Word of Caution.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed:

READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

LAND OF THE RISING SUN

JAPAN'S PROBLEM AND PROGRESS IN SELF-GOVERNMENT.

Efforts to Reduce Taxation Result in the Dissolution of Their Youthful Parliament—No Advance in Industrial and Commercial Enterprises Possible for a Year.

Special correspondence from the Land of the Rising Sun shows that Japan has been making very interesting history during the past few weeks. Constitutional government in the Orient has come to the test, and a fiery trial it is. The second Parliament of Japan assembled on November 26, in the new buildings of the Diet, which are very commodious, convenient and tasteful. For several days before the convening of the houses the buildings had been thrown open to the general public, and immense crowds pressed in to see the place—the first in Asia where plebians even may hope to influence the national government.

The session was again opened by H.I.M., the Emperor in person. He made a short speech to the houses, in which he said: "We thoroughly appreciate the fact that the Constitutional progress of this Empire has been in every way satisfactory."

But no sooner had Parliament convened and got to work than the battle between it and the Government began. The Government brought forward measures for the transfer of prison expenditures from the local to the national treasury, for the State purchase of railways, for the relief of the earthquake sufferers, the founding of an immense iron foundry, and other schemes which had as their object the development of the national resources. Nearly all of them were rejected by the House of Representatives. The Prime Minister had told the House at the outset that the Cabinet could not consent to any reduction being made in the current budget. The House, however, was not so easily overcome, as they had been told the same thing a year ago, and the Cabinet had finally consented to a reduction of six and a half million yen. They had, therefore, the same hopes for this year also, and accordingly proposed a reduction of nearly ten million out of the budget's eighty million yen.

The reason of the House making these sweeping reductions, ostensibly was that they wished to lighten the burden of taxation. The real reason, however, was that they professed to have no confidence in the ability and integrity of the present Cabinet, and it was therefore desired to oust the ministry, since they could not be entrusted with the carrying out of the immense schemes now proposed. Under such circumstances there was clearly no alternative left the Cabinet but to resign or to appeal to the country. They resolved to appeal to the country by dissolving the House and ordering a new election.

It should be stated here that only the lower of the two Legislative branches is subject to dissolution, as the peers are not elected but are appointed by the Emperor for a term of seven years. The upper House was therefore prorogued. The notice of dissolution was couched in the fewest words possible, and reads as follows: "We do hereby, in accordance with Article 7 of the Constitution, order the House of Representatives to be dissolved."

The practical effect of the dissolution is that last year's budget will have to stand for another year, the Constitution so providing. This means that there can be no improvements over last year, no new industries or enterprises fostered by the general Government; in short it means a comparative standstill of the National progress. It will also have the effect of increasing the surplus in the treasury to some thirteen million yen without lightening the burdens of the people.

The country has been appealed to and must now decide what shall be the future policy of the Government. There are five strong opposition political parties, the leading one among them being the Kaishinto, and while they cannot agree on minor points they have, nevertheless, combined against the Government in the coming struggle. They propose to unite in electing the candidate of the party strongest in the respective election districts. If they can unite thus they are almost sure to defeat the Government. It is, however, quite doubtful that they will hold together sufficiently well for success, even though their only hope lies in this coalition.

The opposition has shown itself too radical, and has forfeited much of the public sympathy it once had. The bill for the purchase of railways by the State, which was introduced by the present Ministry, was very popular throughout the country. The House rejected this. Many prefectural assemblies have for several years petitioned to have the local prison expenditures transferred to the National Treasury, and popular opinion favored it, but that also was killed by the House.

In consequence of all this the keenest interest is being felt in the result of the elections which will occur probably on February 15. The third Parliament will be convoked about the first of April next. What its political complexion will be is difficult to foretell. While the whole nation is panting for greater liberty of speech, press and public meetings, and longs to see the franchise extended, beside other necessary advancements made, yet most people seem to doubt that a change in the Cabinet, such as the opposition desire to effect, would afford the relief sought.

Japan has arisen from her centuries of slumber in seclusion. She has long since rubbed her eyes and fallen in line with the nineteenth century progress.

A HOME-MADE NOVELTY.

How to Put Together and Decorate a Sunflower Table.

A very pretty novelty for clever fingers to concoct is the sunflower table. Draw the outer outline of the diagram on a large sheet of brown paper two feet in diameter, and either take it to a steam scroll sawmill or cut it out yourself from a one and one-half inch plank of yellow pine. Brace the underside to prevent warping with narrow strips of wood, and with an auger bore a hole one-half inch in depth, wherein to insert the bamboo stem later on. Now stain the table top with yellow ochre for the leaves of the flower, and vandyke brown for the centre, having first with fine sandpaper smoothed away all roughness on the surface and edges. Finish afterward with a coat of varnish.

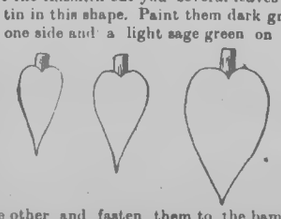
Then cut a piece of bamboo from a fishing rod three feet in length, and with a hot poker make three holes in the bamboo in which to insert three other pieces which will serve as supports to the central stem. Let the tinsmith cut you several leaves out of tin in this shape. Paint them dark green on one side and a light sage green on the



the other and fasten them to the bamboo stick at the stem with small wire staples as they are placed in the sketch of the completed table and bend them to suit your fancy. Place the supports at the right angle to hold the table steady, glue them tightly into position, and cover the place where they are joined and where the leaves are fastened with a bow of green ribbon.

Finally, fill the hole in the table top with strong glue, and insert the central stick. This makes a charming little table to place in the corner of a room for knick-knacks.—New York Tribune.

That Tired Feeling.

Is often the forerunner of serious illness, which may be broken up if a good tonic like Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken in season. This medicine invigorates the kidneys and liver to remove the waste from the system, purifies the blood and builds up the strength.

Constipation is caused by loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore the action and invigorate the liver.

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

BY THE

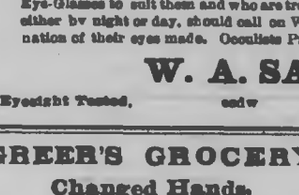
DORENWEND

ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCY, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them last, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

Curling Notes.

A scratch match was played at the rink on Saturday night for the oysters, between rinks skipped by W. Snowden and A. McNeil. Mr. McNeil's rink won scoring two more shots than their opponents who made 12.

It is probable that Lakefield and Campbellford will play here to-morrow forenoon, with two rinks each.

Skip Sam Ray will play Skip T. E. Bradburn at the rink to morrow night. The winner will play the by—skip R. M. Denniston—when the bonspeil for the president's medal will be concluded.

The present warm weather is playing havoc with ice at the rink.

Salvation Army.

Special services were held at the Simcoe street barracks on Saturday night and Sunday. The attendance at the various services yesterday was very large. The musical part was greatly enhanced by the addition of the celebrated Green family from Stirling. The family is composed of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Green, May, aged 16, Joseph M., aged 14, and Charles S., aged 12. They are excellent musicians, and play on various brass, reed and string instruments. They arrived in town on Friday night, and were met by the local corps, under the leadership of Ensign Steele, at the G.T.R. station. In the march yesterday afternoon over seventy-five took part. The Green family will remain in town for a part of this week. A special service will take place this evening, the music and singing taking a prominent place.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Joseph Dyell.

On Sunday Susanna Matchett Dyell, wife of Mr. Joseph Dyell, died rather suddenly at the residence of Mr. J. A. Bennett, Lake street. The deceased lady, who was a daughter of Mr. Robert Matchett, Otonabee, and sister-in-law of Mr. Bennett, resided in Emily, on the Verulam boundary. During the winter she had an attack of la grippe from which she partially recovered—sufficiently to be about. A short time since she came to town for medical treatment, staying at the residence of Mr. Bennett. The heart and lungs became affected, but under treatment her condition seemed to be improving and her medical advisor held out hopes of recovery, but on Sunday a change came and Mrs. Dyell died rather suddenly. Her death carries sorrow to a large circle of relatives and friends who have the sympathy of the community in their sad and sudden bereavement.

Charity Concert.

A grand charity concert in aid of the House of Providence will be given under the auspices of St. Peter's Branch No. 21, E.B.A., in Bradburn's Opera House, on Thursday evening, March 17th. This promises to be the concert of the season. One of the features of the entertainment will be a lecture by Rev. Father Jeffcott, of Pickering, and the outside and home talent will be represented by ladies and gentlemen of well know ability. Look out for large posters. Plan of hall at W. R. Greatrex's drug store. Popular prices.

Death's Harvest.

Mrs. Geo. Frank died at her residence in Emily township on Sunday morning of inflammation. Deceased was thirty five years of age and leaves a sorrowing husband and six small children. Mrs. Frank was a daughter of Mr. Michael Lowes, Emily township, and had only been married seven years. Mrs. Frank is a sister of Mrs. Thos. Moore, Peterborough.

Mr. Wm. Wescott died at his residence, Lake street, Ashburnham, on Sunday afternoon. Deceased, who was an old resident was born in Devonshire, England, in 1835. He worked a number of years for Mr. Henry Calcutt and was a faithful employee. He has been ailing for some two years past. Mr. Wescott was in his sixty fourth year. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon.

A Smashing Runaway.

A horse belonging to Sloan Bros. livery ran away on Sunday evening about 8.30 o'clock. Two young gentlemen had the horse and cutter out and were enjoying a drive down George street when a barking dog ran out from a house near Murray street and caused the animal to take fright. The two occupants were thrown out. As the runaway pursued its course down George street it became more terrified at the cries or "whoa" from hundreds of people returning from church. The cutter collided with a telegraph pole near Tully's drug store and smashed one side of the cutter. The horse at a furious pace ran down George and up Charlotte to the stable, when on going in the yard the other side of the cutter collided with a post and was smashed. The damage done is about $25 worth. The cutter is completely demolished.

Grand Entertainment

The Belleville Intelligencer thus refers to a concert given under the management of Dr. Davies of this town, organist of the Bridge street Methodist church, Belleville. The entertainment in the Bridge street Methodist church last evening was a brilliant success. A very large audience greeted the performers, and testified their delight by repeated applause. Dr. Davies is a master of his instrument—the organ—and, since the concerts of Frederick Archer, nothing of superior character has been given in the city by any organist. The pure, sweet soprano of Miss Lily Jackson, won much praise, and in "Angels ever Bright and Fair," brought to mind the silver notes of Frederick Williams. Sara Lord Bailey stands in the front rank of American elocutionists, and gave a varied and intensely interesting programme. Her "Life for Life" and "the Chariot Race" were her best selections. "While the Engineers signed" and "the drummer's bride" showed a versatility that was amazing. May the Association be as successful in their future efforts to please the public as in the past.

A New Jewelry Business.

Muncaster is at it again—the shop No. 415 George street, next door south of the Peterborough Bookstore, has been elegantly fitted up for the business, and was opened up to day. The shop has been very handsomely papered for the purpose. The wood work has been done in cherry, and the walls and ceilings artistically prepared by Mr. J. Shevelin, with stock obtained from the Peterborough Bookstore. Incandescent electric lights have been put in, and the shop is as neat and tasty for the business as can be found anywhere. In addition to the usual jewelry store equipment, the workshop of the establishment has been provided with the most modern and improved machinery for the manufacture of jewelry, which is to be a prominent feature of this business. Mr. Muncaster has had a large experience of this branch of the business, and the reputation he has gained gives the public every confidence that all orders for jewelry of every description will be executed with every regard to taste, excellence and artistic results. Besides the public will gain in the matter of price. Dealing directly with the manufacturer, means, of course, a distinct reduction in cost. In addition to the manufacturing department, there will be kept a fine and varied stock of watches, clocks and jewelry, a part of which is now on the shelves, and more will arrive daily until the stock is completed. Make a memo. of Muncaster's new jewelry shop and manufacturing establishment, and when you wish to procure the best of watches, clocks and allied goods at the most reasonable prices, or to give orders for jewelry that will be sure to be satisfactorily filled, you can be at no loss where to go—and that is to 415 George street.

Church Chimes.

Yesterday being the first Sunday in Lent, the first and second masses at St. Peter's Cathedral were largely attended. At the second mass Rev. Father Dube officiated, and Rev. Father Scollard gave a profitable discourse on the important duties of Christians celebrating this important period of the year by prayer and abstinence. He spoke from the words contained in Matthew 4th chapter, 1-11 verses. At Vespers His Lordship Bishop O'Connor gave a very instructive address on the seventh commandment "Thou shalt not steal." He strongly advised his hearers to deal justly and honestly in all things, always rendering a full equivalent for everything received or exchanged. The singing rendered by the choir during the evening was very fine.

Hockey.

The Peterboroughs do the Ediscons up on Saturday Night in Great Shape.

For the third time this season the sticks of the Peterborough's and Edison's clashed at the rink on Saturday night and once again victory perches upon the brow of the Peterborough's. This time the score stood well in their favour, six goals to one being the creditable record made by them. The following players lined up at 8.15 o'clock for blood of a rich carmine hue :—

Peterborough.		Edisons.
Bradburn	goal	White
Montgomery	point	Elliott
Crofton	cover point	Barnes
Gemmel	forwards	Wiggett
Phalen		Foster
Sawers		Taylor
Dumble		Ross

Referee, Mr. John Langton. Umpires, Messrs. R. A. Cockburn and Penfold.

The players on both teams started off with a vengeance and for the first fifteen minutes the puck shot hither and thither, but always in close proximity of the Edison goal. The first goal was taken by Peterborough and an excellent shot made by Sawers about twenty yards from the uprights sent the puck whistling between the iron uprights. This opened the eyes of the electricians and they went to work with vengeance dire and energy unflagging. They were rewarded in Foster, a clever forward, securing one after ten minutes' hard play. Ten more minutes elapsed with varying success, and the admirers of each team cheered themselves hoarse until half time was called. After ten minutes suspension the contestants went at it again, but this time the tide of battle changed and the Ediscons were not in it. They seemed to have got rattled, and played a rather rough game during this half. A good deal of playing "off side," was indulged in during the strife which the referee did not take note of, although his decisions in all instances were fair. Five goals were taken by the Peterboroughs, the last three being secured one after the other within ten minutes, and Messrs. Phelan, Sawers, Dumble and Gemmel participated in the honor thereof. Thus ended the memorable occasion the score at the close standing six goals to one in favour of the Peterborough boys. For the Edison's, Taylor, Ross and Wiggett, did good and faithful work but the town team out-played the doughty electricians at every turn and corner.

NOTES.

Sawers secured two goals, so did Phelan.

The game lasted an hour and twenty minutes. A large crowd witnessed the memorable struggle. The play was very rough; especially so during the second half.

The Peterborough's will play the Cobourg's a game of hockey at the rink to-morrow night beginning at 7 o'clock.

Bridgenorth Roller Mills.

To the Editor of the Examiner :

DEAR SIR,—I wish to call the attention of the farmers in the surrounding country to the Bridgenorth Roller Mills. This mill having passed into new hands and undergone some repairs, is now turning out a first class quality of flour. Now every farmer in the community who has been compelled to patronize the Peterborough Mills is well aware of the treatment they have received at the hands of these millers for some years past. I would say to every farmer who brings a grist to the Peterborough Mills, that no matter how far they live from town, they will find it decidedly to their advantage to give the Bridgenorth Mills a trial, where they can rely on fair, honest treatment and get a first class quality of flour. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space.

Yours truly
A FARMER.

Makes the Weak Strong

The marked benefit which people in run down or weakened state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparilla, conclusively proves the claim that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength from which there must follow a reaction of greater weakness than before, but in the most natural way Hood's Sarsaparilla overcomes creates an appetite, purifies the blood, and, in short, gives great bodily, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

"I derived very much benefit from Hood's Sarsaparilla, which I took for general debility. It built me right up, and gave me an excellent appetite." ED. JENKINS, Mt. Savage, Md.

Fagged Out

"Last spring I was completely fagged out. My strength left me and I felt sick and miserable all the time, so that I could hardly attend to my business. I took one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it cured me. There is nothing like it." R. C. BEGOLE, Editor Enterprise, Belleville, Mich.

Worn Out

"Hood's Sarsaparilla restored me to good health. Indeed, I might say truthfully it saved my life. To one feeling tired and worn out I would earnestly recommend a trial of Hood's Sarsaparilla." MRS. PHEBE MOSHER, 80 Brooks Street, East Boston, Mass.

THE CAUSE OF MISSIONS.

Annual Missionary Services at George Street Church.

Rev. J. V. Smith, Pastor of the Metropolitan Church, Toronto, Preaches in the Morning—In the Evening a Platform Meeting Addressed by Messrs. Wm. Calvert, John T. Moore, Toronto, and Revs. J. V. Smith and J. E. Locke—A Large Attendance and Liberal Collections.

The annual missionary anniversary services were held in the George street Methodist church on Sunday. There were large attendances at both morning and evening services. In the morning the Rev. John V. Smith, pastor of the Metropolitan Methodist church Toronto, and one of the foremost and eloquent divines in Canadian Methodism graced the pulpit. He chose as his text, Numbers, xxiii chapter, 23rd verse. "What hath God wrought," "My Father worketh hitherto and I work," were the sublime words uttered by Jesus Christ. The number of channels in which God had been working was an interesting and inspiring study. It was a theme upon which the prophets liked to dwell with increasing light as they pointed out the footprints of the Deity along the centuries of time. God's plan concerning this world was a great question and no fragmentary answer would do. The preacher thought the answer to this great question was the moral and spiritual regeneration of mankind. Christianity is essentially optimistic. We live in an age when men are trying to prove their position or the solidity of their position by statistics. Many men who are optimistic can evidently prove by statistics that the gospel of Christ is prospering and that the whole earth in time will become the kingdom of His children while others who are pessimistic can prove to their entire satisfaction that the church is not prospering as she ought and that the influence of God is not as wide spread or as far reaching as it should be. The moment we begin to theorize and speculate how many Christians there are in the world to-day and what will be the outcome, we are engaged in DOING AN UNCHRISTIAN BUSINESS.

Would Paul have been so successful in his mission had he done this? It was with him the power and wisdom of God unto those that believe. Mathematics might establish mathematical truths but they were a poor guage of character or Christian light. There might to-day be danger among the Christian church and Christian institutions but there was no danger to the real Christ. Whatever is corrupt in society or individuals, there is danger to that, but there is none in Christ or Christian truth. Those who have Jesus Christ in their hearts do not fear danger. If ever Christianity was cast down it was when Christ was crucified on the cross. Yet it was the grandest time the had ever had. Fifty days of Pentecost followed in which 3000 souls were converted to God. Look at the redemption of mankind notwithstanding the forces of evil. Some men argued that the world was right when God gave the command to his disciples "Go ye forth and preach the Gospel to every creature. The apostles found the world at that time armed to the teeth against them to dispute their contentions and arrest their mission, yet they spoke of a seemingly forlorn and blasted hope with a God-given mission. It takes fanatics and enthusiasts to make the Gospel run through this world as it ought to. We are too respectable in the present day for that. If the same fire, zeal and energy kindled the church of the present day as characterized it during the first three centuries, the world would have known nothing about the dark ages. He thanked God for the Reformation. The morning light was appearing;

THE LIGHT OF MILLENIAL GLORY

is coming over the hill tops. The world is a different world to-day from what it was four hundred years ago. The present age was one of rapidity, invention and discovery. It has left all other worlds behind. The celerity of divine footsteps keeps pace with the capacity of his people. Look around and see what God is doing in the world to-day, not in our environments or narrow spheres, but go to the dark and benighted countries to find out what God has done. China thirty years ago was frozen to the advance of Christ; now there were 30,000 worshipping with the redeemed. Carey, Martin, Duff and Taylor have wrought wonders through the potent agency and power of God in India, the land of idolatry and caste, of dissensions and strife, and of skepticism and oppression. In Africa, with her 200,000,000 heathen creation, God was only yet beginning his work. Central Africa and along the banks of the Congo he expected to be christianized in twenty-five years. In Madagascar, 225 miles long and 100 miles wide God had done marvellous things. For a thousand years her fathers roved in darkness and superstition, to-day there were thousands of earnest loving and faithful Christians, worshipping the true and one great God. Among the Fiji islands fifty years ago there was not a soul who knew the refining grace and power of God. To-day there were 1,200 churches and 100,000 out of a population of 113,000 were going to church regularly every Sunday. We have only to look around to see what is being done and such manifestations of power ought to inspire the church of God to do and undertake great things. We ought to emphasize the facts and thrilling realities of glorious endeavour. We are priveliged to make the greatest marches ever accomplished through human instrumentality. Let us go on preaching God and the resurrection. Others may sneer at us as fanatics. God is not dead yet. Have faith in God and the old gospel. We cannot fail to see

THE END TO WHICH GOD IS WORKING.

All is gravitating towards one idea, and that one idea is the world for Christ. There may be conflicts, anarchy and skepticism, bickerings turmoil and strife, but above and around all is a power working for Christ and the world. He know of no reason why this should not be fulfilled before another century was born. The drink bill of England last year was $710,000,000—sufficient to build 50,000 ships, ballast them with Bibles, and man with missionaries enough to evangelize the world within twenty years. The time for action had fully come. Let us lift high the banner of righteousness and advance. No such a question ever had so grand a chance and so great opportunities as the present one. Theoretically the Church of Christ had accepted her mission, but she had not accepted the Christianity of Christ to undertake her mission. No church could or would prosper where orthodoxy and creed took the place of brotherhood and love. We are going to have a better church in the future than we have had in the past. God wants a deeper and fuller inconsecration of Himself in the world. What is needed is divine enthusiasm which alone can conquer the spirit of want. We want a church the aggressor of evils in the state and society rather than put Christ to sleep in gilded mansions. We want a church jubilant, the protector of the weak, and, glorious in its supreme devotion. We want a church true, loyal and faithful to the highest interests and welfare of God and man. Our hearts must be right with God if we are to have a church like this. God has given great opportunities to work. It might be years before Christians would see the glorious outcome of this victorious work.

The preacher closed an hour's eloquent and powerful discourse by urging upon all the necessity and duty of giving liberally to the great missionary cause.

AT THE EVENING SERVICE

there was an exceedingly large attendance, completely filling the seating capacity of the church. A platform meeting, instead of the former Monday evening meeting, was held and addresses delivered by the Revs J. E. Locke, and J. V. Smith, and Messrs. Wm. Calvert and John T. Moore, of Toronto. The choir rendered special music for the occasion, which was very fine and impressive, Rev. Mr. Locke, in opening the evening's proceedings, called attention to the sixty-seventh annual report of the missionary society of the Methodist Church. He said the society was managed by a central board composed of an equal number of ministers and layman. He stated there were eleven conferences in Canada and that George street Methodist Church belonged to the Bay of Quinte conference. He congratulated Mr. Benjamin Shortly, treasurer of the missionary association, upon his excellent and painstaking efforts in connection with the association. In the eleven conferences there were 38,109 members. In India they had 47 missions, 35 missionaries, 19 assistants, 27 teachers and 4153 members. In French missions they had 7 missions, 6 missionaries and 3 assistants with a membership of 254. In the British Columbia conference among the Chinese they had 3 missions, 3 missionaries, 8 interpreters and 165 members. In the Japan conference they had 19 missions, 28 missionaries, 22 assistants, 12 teachers and 1819 members. In Domestic missions they had 399 missions, 342 missionaries, 73 assistants and 38 109 members. The income for the past year was $243 000, an increase of $23,000 over last year. George street church had given $874 towards this fund last year which was an increase of $150 over the proceeding year. He was pleased with the plate collections that had been received. It was his desire to see the number of contributors increased rather than have the present contributors double their contributions. He urged the necessity of giving and the duty of learning to give while young to the great missionary cause.

Mr. Wm. CALVERT of Toronto expressed his pleasure at being present and said that God was doing great things for the missionary work and was still going to do greater things. He spoke of the degradation, hostility and benightedness of India. God is in our midst; when he converted our souls, it was not for mere enjoyment, it was to induce you to seek others and induce them to partake of the same enjoyment. Whenever the grace of God takes good hold of the heart and conscience of a person, they would become missionaries. If people were willing they could do great things for God. He closed by impressing upon all the necessity and importance of the great missionary work

Mr. JOHN T. MOORE, Toronto, said his heart was very warm towards the great missionary cause. He had come in contact with different missionaries in different fields of labor in the Northwest Territories, British Columbia and other places. The missionary theme was a wonderful theme, and it was something to live up to it. The blood of martyrs was in our veins, and the martyrs were not all dead yet. It was a glorious work, and we were to canvas this small globe of ours with the blessed tidings of salvation. Although the banner might fall, another hand picks it up. We shall not know what recruit is until the battle is for the army of the Lord. The religion of the Lord Jesus Christ had gone forth and is laboring. We should be thankful for what it is doing. He thought of the church militant and the church triumphant, how they rose up in their majesty and glory, tier after tier and are lost in wonder, love and praise. Out of the cloud of witnesses let us look upon those who have died in the harness and those are labouring for the cause, such men as John George McDougall, Hopkins, Adamson, Thos. Crosby and others. He closed his address by referring to his tour in the Northwest, describing the different missions, stations, missionaries, churches and fields of labor among the Indians in the great west. He paid a glowing tribute to the progress and importance of the Methodist missionary work in the far west.

Rev. JOHN V. SMITH stated that the fund last year given to Missionaries amounted to $243,000, while, when the missionary association of the Methodist church was organized sixty seven years ago the amount contributed for the first year was only $128. What a growth! He said the establishment of Sunday schools, Bible societies, consecrated Christian womanhood, and Young People's Societies of Christian Endeavor were recent and mighty additions to the cause of Christ.

The collections were large during the day, a number of new names being added to the list of contributors to the missionary funds of the church.

Forest Preservation.

A National Park in the Nipissing District.

In the Ontario Legislature on Friday in reply to Mr. Meredith's motion for papers relating to the Forest Preservation Commission appointed of the government, Hon. Mr. Hardy explained.

Mr. Hardy said the scope of the commission was not so extensive and the park was not of such magnitude as Mr. Meredith's expressions implied. Neither was the result which was expected to to flow from the commission. The district which it was proposed to reserve was north of Haliburton, south of the Mattawa River, west of the Ottawa and east of Parry Sound, embracing about fifteen or twenty townships, more or less. In six, eight or ten of these was a number of small lakes, which are the fountain heads of several river flowing east and west. There is is a great accumulation of water in these townships. They are practically unsettled and are considered unfit for agriculture; the pine is off them, the hardwood remains. It would be to the interest of the Province to establish such a reservation for several purposes. In the first place, a forest reservation would help to a rainfall. There is no doubt that the rainfall lessens as the forest is removed. The reservation will not involve any great cost or any considerable cost. The commission consists of Mr. Aubrey White, Assistant Commissioner of the Crown Lands Department; Mr. Archibald Blue, Director of the Bureau of Mines; Mr. A. Kirkwood, chief clerk of the Crown Lands Department; Mr. Dixon, of Fenelon Falls, inspector of surveys, and Mr. R. W. Phipps, superintendant of forests. Mr. Gibson of the Department of Mines, is secretary. The only person who will be remunerated for his services will be Mr. Dixon, the surveyor. The object of the commission will be first to investigate the character of the townships and ascertain those best adapted for the purpose, having regard to the nature of the soil, etc., and then to tabulate and schedule the information for the benefit of the House. In the next place, the commission will ascertain by correspondence the mode, system and cost of maintaining such reservations as the Adirondack and the Yellowstone Parks. The commission will also investigate what may be done in the way of reforestry. Mr. Hardy said that when this subject was discussed some years ago, about the time he assumed office, he thought that it would be a difficult process; that the planting of some seed might be sufficient. But on inquiry he found that sowing seed was impracticable; that there would be no result from scattering seed. The young trees must be grown in nurseries. Mr. Joly, who has devoted a great deal of attention to the matter, says that sowing seed is impracticable in this country, and that the only practicable method of reforestry is by means of a nursery, and then transplanting the young trees. But this would be an extremely expensive process. Mr. Hardy believed that their greatest hope was in preserving the young pines which were too small to cut and in protecting them from destruction and fire. There were other reasons which warranted a limited expenditure. These lakes and streams abound in fish, and the district is also the home of game and deer. It was thought it might be well to set apart this country as a refuge for all wild animals and a place where fish could not be caught by seine, or to any large extent, and to do both of these things at no great cost to the country.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

A Chance in a Lifetime.

KIRK, the tea blender, has bought a lot of one hundred twenty-pound boxes of fine Japan tea, which he is enabled to sell at the extremely low price of 20 cents per pound. This is a chance that does not occur every day, so all who want a nice caddie of good tea hustle up to Ashburnham and get one before they are gone. W. C. KIRK. GOING TO A MADHOUSE.

The End of the Historic Career of Sarah Althea Hill-Sharon Terry.

The last act in the tragedy of Sarah Althea Hill-Sharon Terry's stormy life will be her commission to an asylum for the insane. This woman, who has figured so prominently as the putative wife of a millionaire Senator, the widow of Judge Terry and the bitter foe of United States Justice Field, is now in San Francisco, penniless, disowned by her kin, almost friendless, and as mad as a March hare. Mrs. Terry's mania is of the violent type, with occasional intervals of lucidity. She sits in her room and holds a handkerchief to her ear. She said it was a spiritual telephone and that she was receiving communications from the other world. On the bed lay a photograph of Judge Terry, her dead husband. She said she had received messages from him. The other night she eluded her nurse and was found on the front steps clad only in a sealskin sacque. Then she climbed upon a bureau and sat crouching there for four hours, talking to the spirits all the while. At night her madness is the worst and there is a tendency toward homicidal mania.

SARAH ALTHEA TERRY.

Sarah Althea Hill was born in Cape Girardeau, Mo., in March, 1850. She came from one of the best families in that section of the country, and was related to the old and wealthy pioneers. Her father was Samuel Hill, an attorney, and her mother, Julia Sloan, daughter of a wealthy lumber merchant. She had one brother, Hiram Roger Hill. The children were left orphans in 1854, with an estate of $30,000. Hiram Sloan, the grandfather, assumed charge of the estate and the children, and allowed them to do much as they pleased.

Sarah Althea was sent to school at Danville, Ky., and finished her education in St. Vincent's Convent, in her native town. She grew up the loveliest girl in all that country. Although a flirt, her reputation was untarnished and not a hint of scandal was breathed about her here. Her terrific temper manifested itself in her love affairs, and she compelled her lovers to bow to her iron rule. After repeated amours, her relations with Senator Sharon, the bonanza millionaire, first attracted public attention when she sued him, claiming that she was his lawful wife by a common law marriage, and also produced a bill on which she demanded a portion of his bonanza millions. David Terry, who resigned from the Supreme Court of California to kill Senator Broderick in a duel, espoused her cause, and after a long fight forced a compromise. In July, 1885, while the case was on trial, Terry assaulted one of the lawyers for Sharon. The marriage bill was pronounced a forgery, and Sarah Althea sustained serious defeat. In 1888 the Supreme Court held that her marriage to Sharon was legal and decided that she was entitled to part of the property of Sharon, who had died in the meantime. His executors revived the bill and decree of 1885 in the United States Circuit Court. In the meantime Judge Terry created a sensation by marrying Sarah Althea, a move that was in keeping with his long, pyrotechnical career, and he appeared as husband and attorney when the decision of the United States Court was filed. It was read by Justice Stephen J. Field, of the United States Supreme Court, and was against Sarah Althea Hill Terry. In August, 1889, while she and Terry were on a still hunt for Justice Field's life for events arising out of this trial, Terry, her husband, who slapped Justice Field in the face in an eating house, was shot through the heart by the Deputy Marshal accompanying him on circuit. Sarah Althea attempted then and there to revenge her husband's death, but was taken care of. Since then she has not made much stir, until the other day when she was taken and held for the lunatic asylum. Her notorious career created great interest in both the United States and Canada, especially the Sharon incident, owing to her beauty and the magnitude of the interests involved.

A DARING TRAIN ROBBER.

Herewith is a portrait of Oscar Curtis Perry, the train robber, who robbed the American Express Co.'s special on the Central Hudson Railway the other day.

Perry shot Express Messenger McInerney, rifled a valuable safe, took possession of another engine, and for thirty miles fought a duel with the crew of another engine running parallel on the four-track line of the Central Hudson, and finally took refuge in a swamp where he was captured. The event furnishes an exhibition of nerve unsurpassed even in the fiction or by the daring deeds of Jesse James and other Western outlaws. Perry is now in jail at Lyons, N.Y., awaiting trial.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it Beware of substitutes.

Humorous Paragraphs.

Hotel Clerk—Is this thousand-dollar bill the smallest thing you have about you? Departing Guest—I am afraid it is. Clerk (to bell boy)—Here, take this bill out to one of the waiters and ask him to change it.—Life.

Humorous Contributor—Do you pay well for your fun? Editor (with a towel about his head)—Well, I should say I did. I went out with the boys last night, and I'm paying pretty well for my fun to-day.—Yonkers Statesman.

Smith—Did you reply to one of those personal advertisements? Brown—Yes, I once answered one from a lady who pined for congenial companionship. Smith—With what result? Brown—She turned out to be Mrs. Brown.—Boston Jester.

After the Quarrel.—He—Maud, I should like to walk home with you, if you will let me. She (coldly)—You may, if papa gives his permission. He—All right. I'll ask him. Where is he? She—He went to Chicago last night.—Harper's Bazar.

Not Likely.—Barrister—What! you have the audacity to ask me to take you as my servant after I have defended you in a case of robbery? Rogue and Vagabond—That's just the reason why, sir! You told the jury so many things about me, such as nobody ever did, that, of course, I thought as how you would only be too pleased if I made you the offer.—Zur Erheiterung.

A Case of Favoritism.

"I can't see," said the woman who was having her flat papered, "why the landlord should give me a brown-and-yellow paper like that, when the folks on the next floor got a beautiful blue paper on their wall."

"I can tell you, mar'm," said the paper-hanger, "I warn't going to let on, but it's a clear case of favoritism."

"Of course it is," snapped the woman, "enny one with half an eye can see that, but why should he favor that slab-sided, cross-eyed—"

"'Taint her—it's you he's favorin'," said the paper-hanger, dropping his voice to a mysterious whisper, "her paper's blue, ain't it? Well, do you know why he gave her the blue color, and you the brown? You must swear you won't say a word—there's Paris green enough in that blue paper to kill a hull fam'ly!"

"Lor'! you don't say so!"

"Yessum, it's a fact. Now this yere paper's made of mineral color and won't hurt a fly," and the perfidious man hung another roll upside down, while the woman hurried out to tell the neighbors.

A Carlyle Find.

A new literary sensation is expected in the publication of a hitherto unknown manuscript of Thomas Carlyle. It is to be a novel and will be issued in book form by the Appletons. As Carlyle was known by his friends as having attempted a novel, the publication of the book is expected to arouse an amount of interest proportionate to the length of time it has been delayed in its issue. The name of the novel is "Wotton Reinfred," and his biographer, James Anthony Froude, has said, after a reading of the manuscript, that it reveals the suave power that characterizes Carlyle's other works, while it has an added interest in the characters presented, many of whom are well-known men with whom he has had an acquaintance, and whom he could without difficulty indentify, although they appear under fictitious names, and are surrounded by partly fictitious circumstances.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio., writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest. dw

"German Syrup"

A Throat and Lung Specialty.

Those who have not used Boschee's German Syrup for some severe and chronic trouble of the Throat and Lungs can hardly appreciate what a truly wonderful medicine it is. The delicious sensations of healing, easing, clearing, strength-gathering and recovering are unknown joys. For German Syrup we do not ask easy cases. Sugar and water may smooth a throat or stop a tickling—for a while. This is as far as the ordinary cough medicine goes. Boschee's German Syrup is a discovery, a great Throat and Lung Specialty. Where for years there have been sensitiveness, pain, coughing, spitting, hemorrhage, voice failure, weakness, slipping down hill, where doctors and medicine and advice have been swallowed and followed to the gulf of despair, where there is the sickening conviction that all is over and the end is inevitable, there we place German Syrup. It cures. You are a live man yet if you take it.

DICKENS' LITTLE NELL.

THE AUTHOR AND HIS CHARACTER IMMORTALIZED IN BRONZE.

A Statue of Charles Dickens as It Would Best Have Pleased the Man Himself — Philadelphia Sculptor's Much-Admired New Group—A Subtle and Scientific Conception.

I have found says Mr. W. H. Goodyear, in Harper's Weekly, in Edward Bellamy's Looking Backward, the following passages relating to Charles Dickens: "The genius of the great novelist of the nineteenth century, like that of Homer, might indeed defy time; but the setting of his pathetic tales—the misery of the poor, the wrongs of power, the pitiless cruelty of the system of society,—had passed away as utterly as Circe and the Sirens, Charybdis and Cyclops . . . Judged by our standards [i.e., of the twentieth century], he overtops all the writers of his age, not because his literary genius was highest, but because his great heart beat for the poor, because he made the cause of the victims of society his own, and devoted his pen to exposing its cruelties and shams. No man of his time did so much as he to turn men's minds to the wrong and wretchedness of the old order of things, and open their eyes to the necessity of the great change that was coming."

Without debating the social ideals of Mr. Bellamy, there is no doubt that he has here correctly defined the greatness of Dickens, and that he has also wisely suggested that Dickens' literary art was one thing, and that his great soul was another. Aside from all questions of literary criticism, the transcendent popularity of Charles Dickens with the English-speaking and English-reading races may be easily admitted, and as easily will it be admitted that his popularity has its cause and foundation in the greatness of the man himself.

If, then, it has been the mission of a sculptor to present this great author to the eye of later generations as he will appear to its mind; if it has been the mission of a sculptor to present Dickens to our own time in imperishable bronze, to stamp his greatness in eternal form, and so recreate his moral image that every reader of his works must say, "Here is a man I love"—clearly that sculptor has done a noble and an immortal work, has won for himself a great renown, may claim to be the worthy rival and the worthy equal of any modern sculptor.

CHARLES DICKENS AND LITTLE NELL.

That sculptor is Mr. F. Edwin Elwell, already known as a man of talent and a man of genius, henceforth to be known as the recreator of Charles Dickens and Little Nell.

It has been already made known to the public that the highest honor attainable in this country by a sculptor has been awarded Mr. Elwell, in the gold medal of the Philadelphia Art Club, for his statue of Little Nell; but it has possibly not been so generally known that this statue of surpassing beauty and subtlest study is portion of a colossal work which could not, on account of its dimensions, be placed in the rooms of the Philadelphia Art Club, and which has so far been seen by few critics.

I should prefer to pose in this paper rather as a prophet than a critic. As a prophet I will venture to say that every one who loves and appreciates Charles Dickens, whether as the author of The Old Curiosity Shop or otherwise, will be enchanted by this group. If my prophecy turn true, the critics may stand aside. The public will take their place, and the science, the painstaking labor, and the consummate technique of Mr. Elwell will be lost to view in the magnitude of his popular success. This is as it should be. What a work of art has cost an artist should never be considered, especially when it is a great success. The whole is greater than its parts. The result is one thing; the means of its achievement are another. According to their various lights, sculptors and critics will appreciate the marvellous details of this group; but worshippers of Dickens will be satisfied to feel that their beloved author is before them, that he sits in dreamland, a seer and a prose poet, gazing down at the form of his beloved creation, who in turn looks up to him. The poetry of the conception is so obvious that we begin to wonder why every great author has not been conceived in some similar fashion by the sculptor's art. But it was the mission of Mr. Elwell to conceive an author in this way, and to choose that author for his subject whose greatness and whose popularity were fully worthy of his own creative mind and of his own noble art. Let us say, finally, that here is the portrait statue of Charles Dickens as it would best have pleased the man himself.

A Strong Man Drops Dead.

TORONTO, March 5.—William J. Brown, formerly a well known butcher, dropped dead in Power-street. In his young days Brown was one of the strongest men in Toronto. He held a certificate from Captain Prince, formerly warden of the Central Prison, that he had lifted 1700 pounds of pig iron. He has of late been employed on the city weigh scales.

Another of Keeley's Patients is Dead.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., March 5.—Ex-Congressman Stephen T. Hopkins of New York was found dead beside the West Jersey Railroad track, one mile from Pleasantville, at noon to-day.

The body was lying in the tide water on the meadows. There was not a scratch of any kind on the corpse.

Ex-Congressman Hopkins was a patient at the Keeley Institute, White Plains, N.Y., for one month, leaving there seven days ago. He was president of the Bi-Chloride of Gold Club and was very popular with the patrons of the institute.

BRITISH COLUMBIA HEARD FROM.

Premier Robson Says Her "Rights" Must Be Demanded.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 6.—In the Provincial Legislature yesterday J. H. Turner, Minister of Finance, moved a long resolution regarding the Behring Sea fisheries, urging the Imperial Government to grant compensation to sealers for losses sustained last season, and to refuse to renew the modus vivendi for another year.

Turner said 51 vessels in the province were engaged in sealing, 46 registered in Victoria and five in Vancouver. Besides these there were 16 now on their way from Nova Scotia. The total cost of the 51 now here is $400,000, and the outfit annually required cost $160,000. The number of white men actually engaged is over 800, and 541 Indians are likewise occupied.

John Robson, Premier, said that the time had now come when the British Columbia Government must speak with no uncertain sound and demand her full rights. Information received by the Government proves that the present season was likely to be one of the best for years, and it would be extremely unfortunate to have any interference with sealers.

BLOOD TO RUN STREET CARS.

A Galena Crank Claims at Dubuque to Have a Substitute for Electricity.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, March 7.—A stranger who said he was from Galena and had divine power asked permission to experiment with his invention for running overhead electric street railways without poles or wires.

When invited to begin by Superintendent Rhomberg of the Main-street line, he called for a quart of lamb's blood. He calls himself the god of electric street railways.

IS HE A SPY?

A Clan-na-Gael Member Said to be a British Government Agent.

MANCHESTER, N.H., March 5.—Considerable excitement has been created in Irish-American circles by the report that John P. Hayes of this city has sailed for England to become an emissary of the British Government. Hayes came to this city from Philadelphia, and it has been charged was concerned in the Dr. Cronin murder at Chicago. At the time alleged he was a prominent and influential member of the Clan-na-Gael and one of the famous trial, and subsequently was charged with being a traitor to the order and in the pay of the British Government. He was also at one time an intimate friend of Parnell. He sold out his saloon business in Manchester in February, and sailed from Boston on a Cunarder one week ago It is alleged he was called to England by the British Government to assist the Conservatives in the coming Parliamentary elections.

DEATH WAS HIS BRIDE.

Everything Had Been Prepared for the Nuptials When the Summons Came.

KINGSTON, March 5.—Samuel Jackson, brakeman on the Grank Trunk, was killed here last evening at about 9 o'clock. One of the engines being disconnected from the coaches was shunting and Jackson thought it was on a side-track next to him and took no notice of it. The engine struck him from behind, killing him instantly.

Jackson was to have been married shortly to a young lady of Gananoque and had everything ready for the reception of his intended bride.

Suicide Six Days After Marriage.

CHICAGO, March 7.—Mrs. Kate Brown of 249 Rumsey-street killed herself last night by putting three bullets into her brain. She was 23 years old, and was married to Martin Brown last Saturday by Justice Wilcox. When Mr. Brown returned from work last evening he found her lying on the bed dead, with a revolver clenched in her right hand. Why the woman killed herself is not known, although she had threatened to commit suicide before her marriage.

Skipped to Her Heavenly Home.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., March 6.—Nine-year-old Lilian Weeks died yesterday from rope-skipping. She and several schoolmates contested to see who could skip the longest without missing. Lilian outlasted the others and kept on jumping until she fell down in a faint. She died a short time afterwards.

The trial of Edward Parker Deacon for the murder of M. Abeiller, the alleged paramour of Mrs. Deacon, will probably open on May 2, in the Assizes Court of the Department of the Alps, Maritimes of France. Meantime Deacon will be liberated.

Cotton Wharves Burned.

GLASGOW, March 7.—There has been serious outbreaks of the foot and mouth disease among cattle in this city. All sales and movements of cattle in the counties of Lanark, Renfrew, Sterling, Dumbarton and Clackmann have been prohibited by the authorities. This prohibition will be a great stimulus to the cattle trade.

Kyle May Die.

SARNIA, March 7.—Jennie Collins, who last night cut George Kyle's throat with a razor, was before the Mayor Saturday and remanded. Kyle is in a precarious condition.

The Gas Killed Him Finally.

LONDON, Ont., March 7.—J. E. Goldner of this city, who was nearly asphyxiated at the Commercial Hotel, Woodstock, Wednesday night, died this evening.

BRAINED HIS KEEPER.

One Prisoner Escapes from Brockville Jail and Another Man Attacks the Turnkey With an Iron Bar.

BROCKVILLE, March 5. — Moore, the tramp stranger, recently committed on a charge against a young lad named Shaver, has escaped from jail.

Before leaving his cell Moore tore up the blankets of his bed, converted it into a rope and fastened it to the jail wall which he could reach from his window.

When taken into the jail yard, he caught hold of this rope, climbed rapidly hand over hand to the top of the wall and jumped over. He is still at large.

Saturday morning a young man named Eaton, under sentence of six months for burglary, attacked Turnkey Downey with a piece of the leg of his iron bedstead when the turnkey opened his cell door

Eaton struck Downey a terrific blow on the head, inflicting a dangerous wound. Downey closed with the prisoner, who kept on striking him on the head with the piece of iron, inflicting eight wounds.

A prisoner named Blair hearing Downey's cries came to his rescue and secured the prisoner.

Downey's wounds were stitched up by Dr. Moore. He is suffering great pain and his condition is considered critical.

After Eaton had been put in a dark cell and handcuffed a search resulted in finding a rope made of bedclothes around his body.

A rope was also found under his pillow in his cell made of bedclothes.

DEATH IN THE CANTEEN.

An Old Nitro-Glycerine Can Used as a Water Pail Explodes.

WINNIPEG, March 7.—Frank Ericson and George Savage were instantly killed at Parrywood Station on the C.P.R. Saturday. They had been using an old nitro-glycerine can for taking water to the camp. It was placed too near the fire and exploded, killing both men instantly.

Jim Dawson Is Dead.

KINGSTON, March 6.—James Dawson died in the hospital last night. The deceased was for years an advertising canvasser for several of the Toronto dailies. He then drifted into commercial pursuits and traveled extensively over Canada and the United States. He grew sick over a year ago, beginning with rheumatism and dropsy and finally developing into cirhosis of the liver. He was a member of the Toronto Typographical Union. The deceased was a native of Kingston.

Illegally Married Couples.

WINNIPEG, March 6.—A man styling himself Rev. W. Fawcett, and claiming to be a Methodist minister from the United States, recently performed several marriage ceremonies in the district of Lake Dauphin. It now turns out that Fawcett is not a minister or legally qualified to marry, and the Manitoba Methodist Conference has found it necessary to publish a statement denouncing him.

A Bigamist at the Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 6.—Detectives are here in search of Adelbert Houck, an employe of the Adams Express Company, who eloped from Scranton, Pa., with Miss Mary Pency, the couple going to Binghamton, where they were married. Houck is a bigamist, having a wife and child at Scranton. He was previously married at Binghamton 11 years ago and lived there up to a year ago.

Destructive Fire at Sarnia.

SARNIA, March 6.—Saturday fire destroyed the tailoring establishment of R.H. Thompson. The building was owned by Mrs. Bell and Miss Kenny. Both were insured. The building and drygoods stock of T. Symington were damaged somewhat. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

Aylesbury's Creditors.

LONDON, March 7.—The first meeting of the creditors of the Marquis of Ailesbury was held Saturday. The statement submitted to the meeting showed net liabilities of £321,051 and attributes the bankruptcy to the losses the Marquis has sustained through betting and other forms of gambling. Sam Lewis, the money lender, appears as a creditor in the sum of £230,000.

The Marquis is at present sojourning abroad for the benefit of his health.

After listening to the statement the meeting adjourned until Dec. 20 to allow for the completion of the sale of Savernake Forest.

Rioting in Eastbourne.

LONDON, March 7.—Eastbourne yesterday was once more the scene of disorder arising out of the hostility for the Salvation Army frequently shown there. During the day a mob fiercely attacked the Salvationists in the street and the police were overpowered.

Many persons were injured, including a number of Salvation "lassies," several of whom fainted.

One of these woman was so badly hurt that she had to be sent to the hospital.

Disorders in Leipsic.

LONDON, March 7.—The Berlin correspondent of The Times reports that there was some disorder in Leipsic yesterday. A crowd of workmen which gathered in the Schonfield suburb in the forenoon was forcibly dispersed.

The crowd gathered later in the market place and assumed a menacing attitude, which compelled the police to interfere.

A strong force of police now occupies the market place and adjacent streets. Many persons were arrested.

PREPARING FOR SPRING BUSINESS

Our usual Stock-Taking has just been completed, and we are very pleased to be able to say that the past year's business has been particularly successful.

In all lines of business to-day one season has scarcely closed before another has commenced, and in no line is this more clearly illustrated than in the Retail Dry Goods. Scarcely has the demand for heavy goods ceased before the Spring trade is in full blast, and in order to be fully prepared for this we have passed into stock SPECIAL VALUE IN FACTORY COTTONS, PRINTS, SHIRTINGS, COTTONADES, WHITE COTTONS AND EMBROIDERIES. These lines may be said to constitute the staples of the Spring trade, and are usually purchased early in order that they may be "made up" during the many spare moments caused by the inclement weather during the months of February and March.

OUR FACTORY COTTONS (Samples of which we distribute on the Market on Saturdays) are admitted by all who have seen them to be

The Very Best Ever Offered in Peterborough.

Our Prints a Splendid Range, all new, and including "CRUMS" Celebrated Wide Cloth, should be seen by every lady who intends purchasing a Print Dress. Our EMBROIDERIES, for which we have always had a reputation, sell at sight. Our WHITE COTTONS, COTTONADES AND SHIRTINGS are the very best that can be procured for ready money.

From this date forward we will daily receive the Latest Novelties in DRESS GOODS, HOSIERY AND GLOVES, CORSETS, RIBBONS, LACES AND TRIMMINGS, and we want everybody who intends making a spring purchase to at least see our New Goods, feeling confident that business will surely be the outcome.

ONE DEAD, OTHERS DYING

NEGROES AND ITALIANS FIGHT AT THE FALLS.

Bad Blood Between Navvies Employed on the Tunnel Results in a Terrible Tragedy—Many Bullets That Found Billets—The Murderers Taken Into Custody.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 8.—There are some 600 or 700 navvies employed on the construction of the great tunnel at the American side of the river at the Falls, composed principally of negroes and Italians imported to the village especially for the work.

Frequent fights between the two races have occurred, and the village police being unable to cope with the gang, respectable residents have lived in a state of terror.

Affairs culminated last night when three negroes made a raid on a shanty occupied by some Italians near shaft No. 2 for the purpose of securing a keg of beer in possession of the latter.

Pistols were drawn, and as a result one Italian is dead and several others wounded, one of whom will die.

The dead Italian is named John Risco, and the one who will die is Ignatius Dongoso. Tony Hays has a ball in his neck, Tony Mobrash a wound in the region of his heart and Joe Smith a ball imbedded in his cheek.

The town police succeeded in arresting the three colored men. They pretended innocence and tried to throw the pistols away.

The colored men are named Henry Barker, William Chambers and Charles Kelly. Kelly and Chambers have "squealed" on Barker. Barker used a five-shooter, making every ball count.

INSPECTOR MEWBURN DEAD.

Hamilton's Well Known Customs Officer Passes Away Unexpectedly.

HAMILTON, March 8.—Customs Inspector Thomas C. Mewburn died at 4 o'clock yesterday at his residence, Main-street west. His death was quite unexpected. Mr. Mewburn had been ailing for about two months, his health having been impaired by an attack of the prevailing influenza. Last evening he so far recovered as to be able to come downstairs to tea, and he was then quite cheerful and bright. During the night, however, alarming symptoms set in; his condition rapidly grew worse and he died at 4 o'clock. The cause of his death was heart failure.

Mr. Mewburn was born in Whitby, Eng., Jan. 8, 1822. He was the youngest son of the late Dr. Mewburn of Stamford, Ont. In 1845 he was appointed collector of customs at Port Colborne, but resigned the position in 1852, and, coming to Hamilton, engaged in the banking business. In October, 1875, he was appointed to the position of Customs Inspector, which he held to his death.

Mr. Mewburn was twice married. His first wife was Miss Jane Gourlay Hamilton, daughter of the late Hon. Robert Hamilton of Kingston. When she died she left one daughter, now Mrs. J. W. Young of Carrying Place, near Trenton, Ont. His second wife (who survives him) was Mrs. Baker of this city, a daughter of Dr. B. S. Cory, formerly of Wellington, Ont. The only issue of the second marriage is Sidney C. Mewburn, barrister, of this city.

Father of American Free Trade.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Joseph Solomon Moore, who became famous through the letters on the subject of tariff reform over the signature of "The Free Merchant," died yesterday. On account of his extensive knowledge of political economy and persistent endeavors for 25 years for the gradual reduction of duties he was known as the "Father of Free Trade in America."

Judge Wetmore.

ST. JOHN, N.B., March 8.—Hon. W. B. Wetmore, judge Supreme Court of New Brunswick, died yesterday morning. He was born in Fredericton in 1820. Deceased ran for St. John city on the anti-confederate ticket in 1865, and for the city again with Sir L. Tilley in 1866 on the confederate. He was made attorney-general in 1867 and was appointed judge in 1870.

A Well-Known Vocalist.

WELLAND, Ont., March 8.—Annie Blanchard, the well-known vocalist, died suddenly here on Saturday at her father's residence. She was around town during the day, and complained of feeling unwell only a few minutes before she died.

Prominent Men Dead.

LONDON, March 8.—Sir William Henry Gregory, K.C.M.G., member of the Privy Council of Ireland, is dead. The death is also announced of Louis Joseph Martel, the French statesman.

A Division Court Clerk.

BROCKVILLE, March 8.—Gideon Fairbairn, Clerk of the Tenth Division Court, Spencerville, died last night of la grippe.

Admiral Graviere Dead.

PARIS, March 8.—Admiral Jurien Graviere of the French navy is dead.

Gotham's Population.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The complete census returns of this city, received at the county clerk's office, show a population of 1,765,805. These figures do not include the inmates of public institutions.

Under the Wheels.

BROCKVILLE, March 8.—William Carbonneau, 17 years, endeavored to jump on the rear of an east bound freight at the G.T.R. station, but caught the wrong handle bar and was swung under the wheels. He was dragged several feet along the track and one leg cut off.

Is Identity Disclosed by Death.

MONTREAL, March 8.—Messrs Mac-Mast and McGibbon have received instructions from the Marquise de Salelles of Toulouse, France, to endeavor to have the regis of the death of Paul Dupuis, formerly editor of La Semaine Religieuse in this city, altered, in order to establish that Mr. Dupuis was really the Marquis de Salelles, a wealthy nobleman who left France some 10 years ago and came here, changing his name to Paul Dupuis. The Marquis devoted himself to journalism in this city and died here about a year ago. His widow La Marquise residing in Toulouse, in order to obtain possession of the estates, requires to have the fact established that he was not Paul Dupuis but the Marquis de Salelles and the lawyers have been instructed to investigate the matter and have the register changed.

Will Be Extradited.

CHATHAM, March 8.—John Penman was locked up here yesterday on information from Independence, Iowa, where he is wanted for stabbing a man at a race course.

Safe Blowers at Kingston.

KINGSTON, March 8.—Early Sunday morning thieves entered the offices of the Rathbun Co., Capt. Crawford, coal merchant, and the gas works' coal office and attempted to break open the safes with wedges, but beyond knocking off the combinations failed to do any damage.

All the drawers of the desk were ransacked, but $4 was the sum total of the under secured.

WHISKEY AND DEATH.

FATAL SHOOTING AFFRAY IN DURHAM COUNTY.

Farmer McCann of Garden Hill Attempts to Pay an Old Grudge and is Shot by the Man He Assails—The Murderer Surrenders to the Police.

PORT HOPE, March 8.—Thomas McCann and A. Rowe, two young farmers of Garden Hill, 10 miles from here, spent Saturday in Millbrook drinking heavily, and left the village about 2 a.m. Sunday considerably the worse of liquor.

McCann determined to vent an old grudge on a neighbor named Thomas Forsyth, and broke into the latter's house, frightening his family into fits. They dragged Forsyth out of bed and would have probably murdered him had it not been for the timely arrival of John McCann, who, suspecting his drunken brother was into mischief, was hunting for him about the neighborhood. He pulled the men off Forsyth and succeeded in getting them out of the house. They evinced an inclination to return and were warned by Forsyth, who had suffered serious abuse at their hands, that he would shoot them if they did so.

Disregarding the warning they made a rush for him and Forsyth fired, the shot hitting Thomas McCann in the left thigh, about four inches above the knee. The shot scattered in all directions, some of it penetrating the bowels and resulting in the death of the young man.

Forsyth gave himself up to the police. He says he fired low and intended only to frighten the men off.

An inquest is being held.

SHOT HIS FRIEND.

Careless Handling of a Revolver—A Ball let in a Man's Breast.

OTTAWA, March 8.—Two young chaps from Prescott, en route to the Northwest, entered Livings' hardware store to purchase a revolver. Livings showed them two revolvers, placing a 32 calibre cartridge in one of them. Just then another customer entered and Livings turned to see what he wanted. Whilst his back was turned one of the men caught up the loaded pistol and snapped the trigger. The weapon exploded and his companion, named Cunningham, fell unconscious to the ground. Dr. Hanna found that the ball had penetrated the muscles of the right arm and lodged in the breast.

TOOK MORPHINE.

A Montreal Dentist, on Suicide Bent, Takes a Powerful Dose.

MONTREAL, March 8.—Dr. Gird, one of the leading dentists here, purchased 25 grains of morphia and at 1 o'clock yesterday morning injected the whole amount subcutaneously. At 2 o'clock his wife suspected there was something wrong and called in a doctor and the man was removed to the hospital, where he revived, and up to this hour he has not succumbed. Dr. Hamilton, the superintendent, says that recovery has never been known after so large a dose.

THE WINE WAS DRUGGED.

Plot Against the Life of Phil Armour, the Chicago Millionaire.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The murderous "crank" has reached Chicago. He had marked Phil D. Armour for a victim, but failed in his purpose of murder or robbery.

Yesterday Mr. Armour received a bottle of wine, purporting to come from his friend, Potter Palmer, who praised its quality highly.

James B. Fitzgerald, a former employe, had, however, warned him that he would receive a bottle of drugged wine, and instead of drinking it he sent it to a chemist for analysis.

Armour has authorized the statement that he believes the plan one to extort money rather than an attempt against his life, but he declined to go into details, as he does not desire unpleasant notoriety. The facts were reported to the police.

Murray to Retain His Seat.

OTTAWA, March 8.—In the Supreme Court Mr. Ferguson made an application to have the Pontiac election case tried at the present sitting, as it reached the court too late to be inscribed on the list before the court. Mr. Thomas Murray, who is the sitting member, and who was unseated by the court below, is the appellant in the present case. Justices Ritchie, Gwynne and Strong held that as the law had been complied with so far they could not punish appellants for negligence which it was not even said they committed. The application was refused, and meantime Mr. Murray retains his seat for this session. It cannot come in the court before May next at the earliest period.

Recount in East Simcoe.

BARRIE, March 8.—The recount of the election commenced yesterday before His Honor Judge Ardagh. Mr. F. D. Armour appeared for Mr. Bennett, and A.B. Aylesworth, Q.C., for Dr. Spohn. The count will not be concluded before to-morrow night.

A HEAVY VERDICT.

The Owner of the Trotter Secures a Heavy Verdict from the G.T.R.

ST. CATHARINES, March 8.—The Spring Assizes opened for the County of Lincoln yesterday before His Lordship Judge Falconbridge. The coat of arms and flag recently ordered were both in their proper places when His Lordship arrived at the Court House.

The first case on the list was Robertson v. G.T.R. This was an action brought by George D. Robertson against the G.T.R. for $6000 damages for the loss of the trotter Henry R, killed in a railway collision near Winona.

The railroad people endeavored to nonsuit the case and judgment on this point was reserved.

The jury brought in a verdict for $5000, however.

TO SQUEEZE THEM OUT.

The Wholesale Grocers and the Drop in Sugar—Another Combine.

MONTREAL, March 8.—A number of the wholesale grocers held a secret meeting in the city on Saturday night. There they met Messrs. Davidson & Stuart, the two wholesalers from the west. It is understood that effort is being made to form another combine stronger than the last one, by which the offending wholesale firms which have caused the present trouble will be squeezed out altogether, but apparently the wholesalers are finding some difficulty in arriving at any amicable understanding.

Strike Rumors on the C.P.R.

MONTREAL, March 8.—During the past few days rumors have been current that there was every probability of a general strike occurring among the conductors and brakemen employed on the Western division of the Canadian Pacific Railway, owing to a disagreement between the employes and the management of the road on the subject of wages. The dispute is complicated by a difference between the men and the authorities as to the amount allowed for detentions over schedule time on the road.

Stabbed by His Sister.

NEW YORK, March 8.—William Henry McGinn was stabbed to death by his sister, Mrs. Mary Henkler, at a christening party at the residence of Mrs. Mary Wiggin of Williamsburg, last evening. McGinn and his sister had not been on good terms for a long time and it was by accident that they met at the party, where a quarrel between them ensued with above result.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Interesting Discussion on the Upper Canada College Grant.

TORONTO, March 7.—Yesterday being Monday should have been a quiet day in the House. The great majority of members hie homewards on Friday night and many do not return till Tuesday. For that reason Monday is usually distinguished by the brevity of the session and the funereal gloom of the chamber. Yesterday was decidedly exceptional, and the members who were absent will count themselves unfortunate that they were not on hand.

The whole excitement arose out of a motion by Mr. Meredith for a return of all order in councils sitting apart or allotting out of any fund any sum for the purchase of a site for Upper Canada College or the erection of the college buildings. Mr. Meredith with this as a text made a brief speech. He premised his remarks by disclaiming any hostility to Upper Canada College. He then recounted the acts that had led up to the settlement by which Upper Canada College abandoned her various endowments and found a new home on its present site. That settlement was that, in consideration of the abandonment of all claim to the old site and the various endowments of the school, a new site was to be provided not to cost more than $20,000, a building to be erected not to cost more than $120,000 and a permanent fund to be established of $100,000, the revenue from which would go to the maintenance of Upper Canada College. The residue of the property after these sums were subtracted was to go to the University of Toronto as an endowment. Mr. Meredith then gave the House a number of quotations from the report of the trustees of Upper Canada College, in which it appeared that $37,000 had been spent on the purchase of the site and $18,000 in laying it out. On the building $137,417 had been expended, and in addition there had been expended a sum of $23,070 on what was called a commercial room, on the laundry building and on the engine room, making a total on buildings of $160,487.

Then there was a series of items under the head of "Equipment," as follows: Water supply and fire protection $25,411, plumbing $9573, heating $20,850, lighting and ventilation $13,000, a total of $68,533. Thus a building which the Legislature had absolutely bound them down to an expenditure of $120,000 had actually cost the country in the neighborhood of $220,000. Mr. Meredith read the provisions of the statute, in which it is definitely laid down that no expenditure exceeding $120,000 could be incurred, except by order in council to be approved by the House. Mr. Meredith further pointed out that the report of the bursar of the University showed that the sum of $157,000 had been "overdrawn" from the Bank of Commerce. He confessed he could not quite understand this item, but it looked to him as if the Minister had borrowed this sum from the University.

Hon. Mr. Ross began his reply by a sarcastic allusion to Mr. Meredith's interest in Upper Canada College. He then went into a glowing picture of the splendid position Upper Canada College now occupied. The site had cost some $17,000 more than they had expected it would cost, and the expense of clearing it and putting it in order had been large, but the property was triple the value of the sum that had been paid for it. He admitted that the cost of the building had exceeded the sum of $120,000, but the excess had been met out of funds accumulating to the credit of Upper Canada College. He held that while they were laid down by statute as to the cost of the building, there was no limit to what they could spend on equipment. It was a matter of opinion what came under the heading of equipment. Mr. Meredith might hold that water services, plumbing, heating and lighting did not come under the heading of equipment, but he (Mr. Ross) held a contrary opinion and his view was shared by experts. He then went on to congratulate the House on the fact that Upper Canada College was at length self-supporting. This year there would be a surplus of $4000 or $5000. He explained the overdraft from the Bank of Commerce by saying that it was a mere matter of bookkeeping. Instead of selling the property of the trust they had borrowed from the bank, or rather overdrawn their account, to that extent on that security.

Mr. Balfour criticised the action of the Government in connection with Upper Canada College. Them moneys were just as much the common funds of the province as any other of our properties or assets. Moreover, he saw by the report of the trustees that we were threatened by still further expenditures. He would not be surprised to find the university knocking at their doors to make good the waste of its endowment.

Mr. Wood of Hastings said that the House had consented to the $120,000 expenditure most unwillingly, and he was simply astonished that the Government had exceeded this sum by nearly $100,000. Whether the sums had been well or ill employed did not come into the question at all.

Mr. Meredith characterized the action as a breach of trust, an expenditure without authority and in direct violation of the spirit of the statute.

Mr. Hardy caught the Speaker's eye. He said that Mr. Meredith appeared to attach no meaning to the word equipment, whatever. He read the statute, and said that the $120,000 was for building, but that there was no limit set on what the "equipment" might cost. He admitted that the cost of laying out the grounds was large, but they must keep in mind that Mr. Ross was only one of an influential board of trustees. He could not have his own way.

Mr. Meredith pointed out that the accounts were all authorized by the Minister's signature.

Mr. Hardy replied that that was purely formal. Once the decision of the board was made it had to be carried out. He pointed out that the province would not lose anything, for they were only bound to pay over to the University what remained after paying for the building and equipping of Upper Canada College.

Mr Whitney of Dundas replied to Mr. Hardy, and Mr. Ross announced that the government intended to get the consent of the House to a small expenditure over the amount authorized.

Toronto Gossip.

When the Grand Trunk express from Montreal reached Cobourg last night on its way here a man was found lying dead in the lavatory. The passengers were at supper at the time, and soon everyone in the train knew what had occurred. The man was soon recognized as T. Herbage. He lived in Toronto and had recently been on a visit to the Old Country. He came from Liverpool on the Mongolian. He was very ill during the entire voyage. When he arrived in Montreal he was so ill that a fellow-passenger, Mr. Baird, felt assured that he could not stand the journey to this city, and advised him to go to the hospital. He would not, however, and his desire to reach home cost him his life.

Many white-haired friends gathered around the remains of James Beaty, sr., as he lay in a casket at his late home in Fuller-street yesterday afternoon. The remains were soon to be taken to the Necropolis, and although there were no loud manifestations of grief, yet sorrow at the loss of the aged friend, who had outlived the Psalmist's limit, was pictured on every face. The body was embalmed and enclosed in a plain casket of draped cloth.

According to the wishes of the deceased, expressed many years before his death, everything in connection with the funeral was plain, and this served to increase its solemnity.

J. B. Blair, accountant Inland Revenue Department, who has been absent from the city for the past week, and who, it was said, had permanently left the city, returns to his duties to-day. Mrs. Blair has rejoined her husband and their domestic differences seem to have been happily healed.

The people of West Toronto Junction were asked yesterday to decide whether they were willing to expend $45,000 on the Weston road bridge and the Keele-street subway; $9000 on the electric light system, and $8000 for the new subway. The vote showed that they did not entertain the first proposition, but were favorable to other two.

The Committee on Railways of the Legislature will on Wednesday take into consideration the bill to incorporate the Ontario Ship Railway; also the bill to incorporate the Hamilton, Grimsby & Beamsville Electric Railway Company; and on Thursday the bill to incorporate the Niagara Falls Park & Queenston Electric Railway and Steamboat Company.

THE FIGHT IN QUEBEC.

Intense Excitement All Through the Province Over the Elections.

MONTREAL, March 8.—Veteran politicians declare that no provincial contest has ever awakened such a deep interest as the present. One gentleman said: "It would seem as if the fate of the Province and its very existence were to be decided to-morrow."

The candidates and their friends and workers took up the day arranging for the final contest. The bulletin boards of the newspapers were scanned for news. Feverish anxiety prevails. The Conservatives and their allies, the independent Liberals, are working with great enthusiasm and feel confident that great victory awaits them. On the other hand the Mercierites are leaving no stone unturned.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

Are a BLOOD BUILDER and NERVE TONIC. They supply in condensed form ALL the substances needed to enrich the Blood and to rebuild the Nerves, thus making them a certain and speedy cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, and shattered nerves, such as paralysis, spinal disease, rheumatism, sciatica, loss of memory, erysipelas, palpitation of the heart, scrofula, chlorosis or green sickness, that tired feeling that affects so many, etc. They have a specific action on the sexual system of both men and women, restoring lost vigor.

WEAK MEN

(young and old), suffering from mental worry, overwork, insomnia, excesses, or self-abuse, should take these PILLS. They will restore lost energies, both physical and mental.

SUFFERING WOMEN

afflicted with the weaknesses peculiar to their sex, such as suppression of the periods, bearing down pains, weak back, ulcerations, etc., will find these pills an unfailing cure.

PALE AND SALLOW GIRLS

should take these Pills. They enrich the blood, restore health's roses to the cheeks and correct all irregularities.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. These Pills are sold by all dealers only in boxes bearing our trade mark or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price—50 cents a box or 6 for $2.50.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Death has again visited our neighborhood in the person of Joseph, eldest son of Mr. George Hunter. The deceased has been in failing health for some months, and death relieved him from his earthly afflictions on Thursday evening last. He was seventeen years of age and much beloved by all who knew him. His smiling face will be missed by all his friends and associates. The deceased being a member of the Good Templar lodge, his remains was followed to the Pine Grove Cemetry on Saturday last by a large concourse of the members of the order and others, where his body was deposited according to the ritual of the order. We tender our heart-felt sympathy to the mourning parents and relatives in their sad bereavement. We trust that their loss is his gain. This death should be a warning to the young, that in the midst of life we are in death.

It affords us pleasure to learn that Mr. William Wedlock, who has leased the Keene grist and saw mill, is doing a rushing business. Mr. Wedlock is a hard working honest enterprising young man and is worthy of the patronage of the public. We wish him every success in his new enterprize.

It is said that dogs are a sure protection against the intrusion of tramps. Probably that accounts for their absence in our village for without exaggeration there is a dog for every three human souls in our little village.

Crows have made their appearance in the neighborhood which is a sure indication of the near approach of spring.

The sleighing is almost gone and unless we are favoured with some more snow the sound of wheels will soon be heard rolling along again.

The musical sound of the corporation fiddle can now be heard in almost every woodshed in the village. The professors all appear so play the same tunes but vary much in time.

Considerable sickness prevails throughout our neighborhood at present no doubt owing to the changeable weather. It is an old saying that it is an ill wind that blows nowhere Our doctors certainly have the advantage of the good in this case for they are kept on the move.

Several of our jockeys have been testing the speed of horse flesh on Rice lake during the past week but we have found it impossible to ascertain a correct record of their speed.

We are sorry to learn that Mr. John O'Keefe is at present suffering from an attack of congestion of the lungs. We trust that he will soon recover and be able to attend to his duties again.

Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison and her daughter Mabel are at present away from home visiting friends.

Our young people have always been noted for their good behavior in church but of late two or three young men who have become greatly impressed with the idea of their own cleverness and importance have disgraced themselves by their disorderly conduct at service. They are detected and we hope these individuals will take timely warning and behave themselves in a decorous manner in the future.

Dr. E. T. Miller, of Cross Plains, Wis., has expressed the opinion that, for obstinate cases of syphilis and scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the most effective remedy known to pharmacy. Wonderful cures have resulted from its use.

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, mankind often groans from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. All nations and tongues declare St. Leon perfection to assist digestion, purification of the blood, the assimilation of the food, circulation and promote healthy vigor life-long. St. Leon Water has no compeer. For sale all over. dw

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

Burdock Blood Bitters is a household remedy for dyspepsia, it expels rheumatism and neuralgia from the system, acts as an antibilious agent on the stomach, liver and bowels, antagonizes blood poison, builds up and revitalizes the bloody functions and restores and purifies the entire system. dw

Glad News For Canadians!

The Cast-Off are Taken Up—Wonderful Results.

Yes, it is in truth a great joy; every heart will hail the tidings with manifestations of delight. It is no idle boast to say that a new era has dawned—one that the weary, sick and diseased in Canada have long been waiting for. It is now for you to decide the momentous question, "Will you accept the decision of your physician and die—or will you accept the dictates of truth, proof and rescue, and live?"

There are thousands in Canada of all class-s who have been cast off—cast aside by physicians as incurable. True and mighty science has come to the aid of this class and offers to take them up—to renew, revitalize, and give them another lease of life. This grand agent is set before the world in the form of Paine's Celery Compound. It is not an untried remedy; it does not come seeking favor or recognition like the dishonest and worthless concoctions of the present day.

It has a wonderful record; it is a prescription of one of the ablest physicians that God ever blessed with success; it has a record of magnificent results and achievements already known to the world. It takes up every where those who have been pronounced incurable owing to Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Nervousness and Sleeplessness, and by its mighty powers it renews life. Canadians know of it too well, to require any minute details of its worth to the human family. Our best physicians recommend it every day, and consider it as one of their best agents in all nervous troubles.

Reader, are you one of the cast-off? Have any of your friends been laid aside as incurable? If you value your own life, or the life of your friend, you must at once urge the necessity of using this priceless remedy. It CURES in every case; it will never fail when used as directed.

"EVERYTHING IS AT END."

Pathetic Story Illustrating the Despair of Russian Peasants.

A characteristic incident reported by the correspondent of Novoye Vremya illustrates the manner in which the Russian peasant accepts his lot when all his efforts to help himself have failed. The reporter went to a large village, with a public school and a cotton factory. The peasants there eat bread made of the goose-foot plant, but those who are employed at the factory make their bread of a mixture of two measures of bran to one of rye flower. Still there are many there who have not even that kind of bread to eat. The reporter entered a hut where he heard children crying. Everything was bare. Two small children sat on the floor crying. When he began talking to them a little girl of 12 years came forward. As soon as she saw the reporter she began making the sign of the cross over herself, as if she had seen an apparition.

"Is the master of the house at home?" he asked.

"At home. What do you want?" answered a gruff voice from the top of the oven.

"I want to buy from you a piece of goose-foot bread; I will pay you well."

"Who are thou? What kind of a man art thou? We have no bread at all here, neither of goose foot nor of anything else," the man said, angrily, looking down from the oven.

"But why do you let your children cry? Why don't you do anything for them?"

"I can do nothing; we must die; my woman and I have lain down since yesterday."

"Lain down? Are you sick? The doctor is in the village to-day."

"No, we are not sick. But we laid ourselves out, because everything is at end," the peasant answered.

On further inquiry the reporter was informed that the poor fellow had done all he could to procure bread. He had applied to the authorities of his borough, had borrowed and begged from his fellow-villagers and had determined finally that there was no hope for him any more, and "laid himself out" to await death. He begged the reporter to leave his hut and allow him and his wife to die in peace.

The British Succession.

The London Times has recently given an interesting list of the first eighteen names in the succession to the British throne. The letters S., G.S., G.D. and G.D.D. stand for son, grandson, grand-daughter and great-grand-daughter to Her Majesty the Queen.

	Ages.
1. Prince of Wales, S.	50
2. Prince George of Wales, G.S.	26
3. Duchess of Fife, G.D.	25
4. Lady Alexander Duff, G.G.D.	1
5. Princess Victoria of Wales, G.D.	23
6. Princess Maud of Wales, G.D.	22
7. Duke of Edinburgh, S.	48
8. Prince Alfred of Edinburgh, G.S.	17
9. Princess Marie of Edinburgh, G.D.	16
10. Princess Victoria of Edinburgh, G.D.	15
11. Princess Alexandra of Edinburgh, G.D.	13
12. Princess Beatrice of Edinburgh, G.D.	7
13. Duke of Connaught, S.	41
14. Prince Arthur of Connaught, G.S.	9
15. Princess Margaret of Connaught, G.D.	10
16. Princess Victoria of Connaught, G.D.	5
17. Duke of Albany, G.S.	7
18. Princess Alice of Albany, G.D.	4

Contrary to the opinion we should form from the American "cable fiend" reports, the present Duke of Fife is said to be himself a great-grandson of William IV., and, therefore, the tales regarding aristocratic jealousy of his possible advancement are made out of whole cloth.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

A Great Surprise

is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. dw

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of this dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Beliot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

I FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are as satisfactory as I could expect, indeed much more so than I did expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and buoyant * * * It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it."

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed: READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

Holland's Great Diamond Trade.

Amsterdam and Antwerp, in Holland, control the diamond trade of the world. Fully 25,000 carats of rough diamonds reach the hands of the Amsterdam manufacturers each week. When finished these vary in price from $4 to $55 per carat, while some command much higher prices. After these are ready for market they are shipped to London, Paris and the other European capitals; cross the ocean to New York and other points of the world. The aggregate amount paid in wages to diamond workers in Holland is about $5,000,000 a year, and it is estimated that eight or ten thousand persons are employed in this industry. Two million dollars' worth of these precious stones come direct from Holland to the United States every year, and the same amount is also shipped from London to Paris. Experienced calculators estimate the value of diamonds received annually in America at fully $5,600,000.—Baltimore American.

A Test in Pronunciation.

The following is a list of all the words which have recently been mispronounced in the course of an extended contest at various school teachers' conventions throughout the country. The list is copied from New York Truth. In one instance not less than 1,400 school teachers failed in properly pronouncing the words. It is a test, by the way, which very few men of wide study and great precision of speech could understand:

Gladiolus	Spinach	Maritime
Grimace	Condolence	Recess
Grimy	Cassimere	Resume
Gyve	Cognomen	Sacrifice

Bright Paragraphs.

Four-year-old Bertha, after watching her kitten wash its face for some time, gravely remarked, "I believe I'll call my cat 'Licorice,' it licks itself so much."

Bertha's mother saw fit to punish her for some little naughtiness. After a minute the little girl sobbed out, "Well, mamma, that hurt; you whipped me right where there weren't any bones."

A number of children were talking about what they would like to be when they were men and women. One little girl wanted to be a teacher. "Oh, my!" said little Mary, who lived on a farm, "I don't want to be a teacher. I'd rather be a summer-boarder than anything else."

Little Dudley had learned what an eyebrow was; so when he saw a man with a mustache he called it a "mouth-brow."—Youth's Companion.

Miss Grove and Her Work.

Evangeline Grove,
Stood at the stove
Preparing her Diamond Dyes;
Her mother looked on,
Watts fat brother John
Stood gazing with wondering eyes.

Now little Miss Grove,
She dearly did love
A dress or a costume to dye;
And mother, she smiled
Whenever the child
Her skill to this work did apply.

This fine afternoon,
With stick and with spoon
The dye she was closely tending;
'Twas Fast Navy Blue,
So rich and so true,
O'er which she was eagerly bending.

Now into the pot
She gently did drop
A faded blue French wool serge dress;
'Twas boiled in the dye,
Rinsed, and then put to dry,
And restored quite to usefulness.

The neighbours around,
Have all quickly found
What wonders with dyes can be done;
And now they all use,
And never refuse
The dyes that stand washing and sun.

The moral taught here,
Would all women cheer,
Hers to economy rare;
The agents are small,
Is useful to all
The Diamond Dyes fadeless and fair.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

Mr. A. D. Russell one of the auditors, was heard in reference to the auditors' report. At the last meeting the auditors had presented their report which the council had declined to receive unless the auditors made out a list of the pay sheets. This the auditors had done, and he submitted that, the extra work was worth an additional $2 00, making the total remuneration $10. On motion the auditors were allowed the sum of $10 for the entire work.

IN ADVANCE.

A motion was adopted requiring all new tenants of the village hall to pay three months rent in advance,

Mr. Adams gave notice of motion, that during the coming season $2.50 per day, be paid teams on street for the corporation.

BLANK CARTRIDGES.

On motion the treasurer was instructed to procure for the use of the Charity Committee 500 printed blanks for charity orders.

AUDITORS' REPORT RECEIVED.

The auditors' report was received and the clerk instructed to have the abstract statement published according to law.

A COALITION SIDEWALK.

Mr. Hoskins was heard asking for a walk to be built on the boundary from Brown street east to the Smith street bridge—a distance of some 1,200 feet—he to lay the walk himself, if the council would furnish the material. Two persons interested were willing to give $5 each towards the expense of the walk.—Referred to the Finance Committee.

The Wonderful Success

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier entitles it to your confidence. No other preparation has such a record of cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Blood Poisoning, or other blood diseases. To try it is to know its merit. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills. They should be in every home medicine chest.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a rock that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

News About Town

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis and consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The large bottles cost 50c and $1. dw

An inactive or torpid liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are best for old or young. dw

Parmelee's Pills possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulates to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of a most every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O. Ont. writes:—"I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well." w10

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

MONTREAL, Aug. 4th, 1891.

"August Flower"

Biliousness, Constipation, Stomach Pains.

"I have been afflicted with biliousness and constipation for fifteen years; first one and then another preparation was suggested to me and tried but to no purpose. At last a friend recommended August Flower. I took it according to directions and its effects were wonderful, relieving me of those disagreeable stomach pains which I had been troubled with so long. Words cannot describe the admiration in which I hold your August Flower—it has given me a new lease of life, which before was a burden. Such a medicine is a benefaction to humanity, and its good qualities and wonderful merits should be made known to everyone suffering with dyspepsia or biliousness

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable. They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

MUNICIPAL MARCH WINDS

Oratorical Breezes and Business Combined.

Regular Meeting of the Town Council.—Market Fees to be Put on the Market.—The Ackerman Exemption Business.—Portable Merchants Prosecuted.—$100 Invested in Court House Park.—The Citizens to Enjoy the Dividends.—Street Extension.

A regular meeting of the town council was held in the Council Chamber last evening. There were present: Mayor Kendry, in the chair, and Councillors Cahill, Best, Winch, Kelly, Young, Bradburn, Dowson, Ferguson, Meldrum, Mellwain, Dennistoun and Mulhern.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and confirmed.

The following communications were then read:

From Isabella Roger, treasurer of the Peterborough Protestant Home, stating that the institution had undertaken to board R. Coe and W. Appleyard for the town at the rate of $2 per week, or $8 66 per month. There was due the home some $45.30 for the board of these men, which amount the trustees hoped would be paid promptly. — Referred to the FINANCE COMMITTEE.

From John McClelland, applying for the position of caretaker of the town clock.—Referred to Committee on Appointments.

From James Judge for remission of taxes. —Referred to Court of Revision.

From Geo. Brownlee, for exemption from statute labor on the ground of being over eighty years of age—Referred to Court of Revision.

From H. Wills to have license fee for a two horse truck reduced from $10 to the single license fee of $6 per year—Referred to License Committee.

THE BREAD BYLAW.

From E. B. Edwards, town solicitor to J. E. Cobb, town clerk, stating,

Upon your request that I should if necessary prepare a by-law amending the bylaw No. 597, respecting light weights in bread, I have carefully considered the bylaw and I am of the opinion in the present form that it fully meets the case. There is in the first place an express prohibition of the sale of bread of less weight than 4 pounds to the loaf and 2 pounds to the half loaf respectively. In respect to bread seized within 24 hours of the baking of it, there is no exception or qualification and any shortage of weight however slight in such bread renders the baker liable to a penalty and to the confiscation of the bread. This was the effect of the original bylaw (No. 395, secs. 17 and 18), "Any baker or vendor of bread who shall offer for sale bread under weight shall forfeit the same for the use of the poor as well as the whole batch of bread of which it is a part, if, on inspection the batch in the aggregate shall be found light in weight or any eight loaves indifferently selected, and shall also be subject to the penalty herein mentioned." In a case which rose before the Police Magistrate in 1889, he suggested that there should be an allowance made where the bread has lost weight by being over 24 hours old. In the present bylaw accordingly an amendment was introduced to meet the case of bread baked more than 24 hours. To give the defendant the benefit of the saving clause, the magistrate must find the combination of three things; first, that the bread so seized, or in respect of which the complaint shall have been laid, was baked more than 24 hours before the weighing and seizing thereof; secondly, and that none of it was at the time of such seizure more than two ounces to the loaf under the proper weight; thirdly, that the defendant was not attempting to evade or violate the bylaw. If the magistrate find any of these three points against the defendant he must convict. If he find all three in favor of the defendant then it shall and may be lawful for such magistrate to find specially the fact that such bread although of light weight at the time of seizure, has been baked over 24 hours and on that ground to dismiss the complaint with costs. It is therefore quite clear that before the magistrate can thus give the defendant "the benefit of a doubt," he must find specially the fact that bread had at the time of seizure and weighing, been baked over 24 hours; where he finds that the bread was not baked over 24 hours at the time of seizure there is no saving clause. I think there is no occasion for any amendment and I return the by-law.—Received.

From Frank Anthony and Wm. Lee presenting a petition signed by a large number of the leading citizens of the town, asking that council that they be allowed to keep peanut stands on the public streets as they had done for years past. It was their only means of livelihood and kept their families out of want. They were good citizens and large tax payers—Received.

THE BAND GRANT.

From John Fraser, President of the Peterborough Fire Brigade Band, asking that the usual fee be granted them. The band had repaired their instruments during the past year and had procured three new clarionets. They had only missed being in attendance once at the park last summer, and large crowds had listened to their playing. The band was now composed of some thirty pieces and their present stand in the park was too small. They trusted some measure would be taken to remedy this.—Referred to the FINANCE COMMITTEE.

From H. M. Francis, Canadian General Auditor of the Edison General Electric Company, asking that the subject of flushing the sewer connected with the work receive attention. Sewer was not flushed as regularly as was required and it was requested that necessary action be taken having above in view.—Referred to STREET and BRIDGE COMMITTEE.

R. M. DENNISTOUN,
Chairman.

Mr. Dennistoun moved, seconded by Mr. Mulhern, that the report be adopted—Carried.

NO INCREASE.

Committee of Appointment and Supervision of Police reported recommending that no increase in the salary of the police force be made during the present year.

Mr. Kelly (chairman) moved, seconded by Mr. Young that the report be adopted—Carried.

Mr. DENNISTOUN suggested that the police in cases of special bravery be granted an extra amount. Several cases of heroism and gallantry had been done by the local constables and he thought in such cases the officers should receive some recognition at the hands of the council. It would be a good thing for the Committee on Police to consider and report at next meeting.

CHARITY.

Mr. WINCH, Chairman of the Charity Committee reported that during the months of January and February $561.42 had been distributed, divided as follows, No. 1 ward, $163.86; No. 2, $194.38; No. 3, $100.25; No. 4, $93.71. The names of persons receiving relief and the amount received were attached to the report.

Mr. Winch moved, seconded by Mr. Dawson that the report be adopted.

STREETS AND BRIDGES.

The Street and Bridge Committee reported recommending that the recommendation of the town solicitor be acted upon and that the town engineer and the chairman of the Street Committee be authorized to carry out the said recommendations.

The committee also recommended that the Smith Street Bridge be repaired under the supervision of the town engineer at a probable cost of $150. The report was adopted.

TO BE SOLD BY AUCTION.

The Market Committee reported recommending the market tolls beginning on April 1st, '92, and ending on March 31st, '93, be sold by public auction at 10 o'clock on Monday, March 21st, subject to terms and conditions contained in the market by-law. The town will not hold itself liable for any loss or damage that may arise by reason of the working of the by law otherwise howsoever. The committee also recommended that clause 12 of the said bylaw which prevents hucksters and others from purchasing on the market until after twelve o'clock be amended to give them the right to purchase after nine o'clock.

Mr. Winch, chairman, moved to adopt the report.

Mr. DAWSON said that part of the report was left out.

Mr. KELLY said the whole of the report of the market committee was not presented. There was a clause passed stating that parties selling meat on the market had a right to cut it up and sell it as cheap as possible, which was adopted in committee.

Mr. WINCH said it was moved in the committee by Mr. Cahill, and seconded by Mr. Kelly, that the butchers' license be done away with, and that farmers be allowed to cut up meat. Three voted for the motion and three against it, the motion thus being lost. Mr. Kelly said that the motion was carried, and he (Mr. Winch) let him have his own way. That's how the matter stood.

Mr. FERGUSON—He declared it carried then, according to your ruling.

Mr. DAWSON said he did not think there was any occasion for changing the hours on the market. There was scarcely any market at nine o'clock in the morning, and changing the hour would cause more to go into the business of hucksters and butchers.

Mr. CAHILL said he believed every man should sell produce in the best way he could. There was not a butcher in town who purchased a hog from the market. He would like to see the hour abolished and all go on the market and purchase the best way they could.

Mr. WINCH said it was not to benefit the butcher. If we wanted to bring farmers here we must have it so that they can dispose of their stuff as soon as possible.

Mr. DAWSON thought we had a very good market. He would move that the second clause be struck out and that the rules of the market remain the same.

Mr. MELDRUM thought that people had the first right to purchase on the market. The butchers paid taxes and had a right to be protected. If the market was going to be a benefit we should go there and have produce at first cost rather than pay for it at second cost.

Mr. YOUNG said if it was fair for outsiders to come in and purchase at nine o'clock why should not hucksters be able to dispose of their stuff at ten o'clock. If any profit was to be made it ought to be [illegible] benefit of [illegible]. He would move an amendment to the amendment that the hour be made ten o'clock.

Mr. CAHILL moved that a clause be inserted allowing sellers to buy in any quantity during the months of June, July and August. He thought that all should be able to get all they could for their money whether buying meat or any other article. It was cruel to debar persons from buying in small quantities when they could not buy in large. He believed that people wanted to get all they could for their money.

Mr. KELLY stated that most parties who buy meat on the market are poor men. They are in the majority, and should be looked after.

Mr. DENNISTOUN would like to give the matter further consideration. It was necessary to do so that the subject might be properly dealt with, and the motion would be unsatisfactory unless the committee was able to present a unanimous report. He moved in amendment to the original amendment, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that the report be adopted, but that the second clause be referred back to the committee to report at the next meeting of the council.—Carried.

A PUBLIC MEETING TO BE CALLED.

Moved by Mr. Cahill, seconded by Mr. Meldrum, that a public meeting be held on Friday, March 18th, for the purpose of discussing the proposed system of sewerage for the town.—Carried.

GRANT TO COURT HOUSE PARK.

Messrs. J. H. Roper and Jas. Stevenson were heard in reference to the grant for Court House park asked by them from the council.

Mr. ROPER stated that the park was a very pretty place, was visited by thousands during the summer and should be kept up. He hoped the council could see their way clear to assist with a liberal grant. The society had been encroaching upon their funds and have had to cut down the prizes. The show next year, he hoped, would be better and it was the intention of the society to revise the prize list and increase the prizes if possible.

Mr. STEVENSON, M.P., said they had used funds which they ought not to have used. We gave Mr. Mason $370 for taking care of park, buying hose, lawn mowers and laying mains. They owed $34 on last year's account. He as one of the largest ratepayers in Peterborough, paying over $1,200 a year taxes, and was willing to hold up his share of the burden. The park was a beautiful place and one of the pleasantest resorts in the town for visitors and citizens. We have kept it up in the past. We receive $75 a year from the county council. The members of the board were unanimous and if the council did not support them by a grant of $500 they would have to abandon the enterprise. The best value for money in the town of Peterborough was in that park.

Mr. MELDRUM endorsed Mr. Stevenson's remarks. He said that it was good value for the money, and that the park was one of the finest places in the town or province.

Moved by Mr. Meldrum, seconded by Mr. Kelly that a by-law be prepared, giving the grant asked for—$500.

Mr. CAHILL strongly recommended economy and said many of the members of the council who preached economy at election might exercise some of it too good advantage on the present occasion He would move in amendment that the grant be the same as last year, $400, if he could get a seconder. No one volunteered to second the motion and Mr. Cahill remarked that it was seconded by "economy."

Mr. STEVENSON,—We want take it.

The original motion was carried unanimously.

THE STREET MERCHANTS.

Mr. E. B. Stone was heard on behalf of Mr. Frank Anthony and his petition, to allow his stall to be placed on the street. Mr. Stone said the business might not be of sufficiently much importance but it was of as much interest to Mr. Anthony as a larger business was to another man. No contra petition had been presented, and the petition had been signed by a great many leading business men of George street. Mr. Anthony paid taxes, was a good citizen, had stood in the rain and stand for years and they'd be protected by the council. He asked the council to allow Mr. Anthony and Mr. Job to continue their businesses in the same places as heretofore.

Moved by Mr. Young, seconded by Mr. Winch, that licenses be granted to Mr. Anthony and Mr. Job for the coming year.—Carried.

STREET EXTENSION.

Moved by Mr. Kelly, seconded by Mr. Bradburn, that it is desirable that George and Aylmer streets be extended to the exhibition park for the purpose of having a more direct approach thereto, between Romaine street and boundary, and opened up for building purposes and stores, and bring a large revenue to the town, and that the Street and Bridge Committee be requested to take immediate steps to ascertain the probable cost of same, and report at the next meeting of the council, and that the opinion of the town solicitor be obtained regarding the town's right to institute arbitration proceedings in case of dispute with property owners. After considerable discussion the motion carried.

THE BAKER'S REQUEST.

Messrs. Samuel Anglesye and Wm Stock addressed the council. They wanted a bylaw passed providing that bread could not be seized until it was offered for sale or sold and taken out from the oven when in pans. Mr. Stock said he could prove that bread in Peterborough weighed one ounce more to the half loaf, and two ounces more to the loaf than it did in any other town in Canada. It was moved that bakers meet the license committee and report their grievances to them to be brought before the council.

G. T. R. DEMURRAGE CHARGES.

The check from the G. T. R. for $551 for demurrage charges on Edison car shocks was accepted. The former check of $624 which was tendered to the Mayor was refused by him because it was not the right amount.

THE ACKERMAN EXEMPTION BY LAW.

The by-law to exempt from taxation Mr. B. F. Ackerman was introduced and read a first time.

The bylaw exempting from taxation Mr. Ackerman was read a second time.

The bylaw granted exemption from taxation for ten years from Jan. 1st, '92, on condition that he (Ackerman) establish a wholesale harness factory on George street and employ for 10 months in the year not fewer than 25 hands.

On the second reading:

Mr. DAWSON said the local retail harness makers had no objection to exemption, provided Mr. Ackerman signed an agreement to not establish a retail business.

Accordingly Mr. Dennistoun moved, seconded by Mr. Mulhern, that on Mr. Ackerman entering into an agreement not to enter into the retail business for a period of ten years, he be granted the exemption required—Carried.

Mr. Dennistoun moved, seconded by Mr. McElwain, that the bylaw be read a third time as soon as Mr. Ackerman shall have signed the stipulated agreement not to interfere with local dealers.

A bylaw introduced by Mr. Dennistoun to regulate certain local licenses was duly passed.

EQUAL TAXATION.

Moved by Mr. Mulhern, seconded by Mr. Dawson that Wm. Croft shall pay his licenses as other carters for 1892—Carried.

Mr. Mulhern brought up the application of Mrs. Robinson for $27 50, expenses incurred by her in funeral expenses, etc., of her little boy drowned in the drain on Aylmer street a year ago.

A motion to pay the bill was adopted.

IMPROVEMENTS.

Mr. Young moved, seconded by Mr. Bradburn, that the Property Committee be empowered to make the necessary improvements in the town clerk's office. — Carried.

Mr. MULHERN called attention to the large number of unregistered dogs in town. The council adjourned at 11.15 p.m.

News Nuggets.

—There was no arrest last night and no police court this morning.

—The Mercantile Committee of the Board of Trade meets to-night.

—The Peterborough Lodge, No. 113, Sons of Canada Benevolent Society will meet to-night in the Oddfellows Hall.

—Some people still persist in going with sleighs. The sleighing is nearly as good at present as it was last summer.

—Mr. W. A. Sanderson, has Ontario telephones placed in his jewelry store and residence, Nos. 136 and 170 respectively.

—The Ladies' Auxiliary of the George street Methodist church met this afternoon. Mrs. (Dr.) Harrison, of Keene, addressed the meeting.

—Thos. McCann was shot and killed at Garden Hill, ten miles from Port Hope, by Thos. Forsythe on Sunday morning. See our telegraphic despatches.

—A meeting of the stockholders of Myers' Cave was held yesterday afternoon in the Peterborough Lock Works. Mr. Ireland of Port Perry was present and gave a brief address.

—The Otonabee Lodge I. O. O. F., held a regular meeting last night. There was a large attendance of members. The first and second degrees were conferred upon several candidates.

—Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I.O.O.F., are going to give a grand entertainment in the opera house on the 25th inst. A grand musical, literary and military entertainment will be given. The band of the 57th Batt. will be present to enliven the proceedings.

—The reports on the proposed system sewerage for the town of Peterborough as prepared by Mr. Allen MacDougall, C.E., Toronto, have arrived. Each report contains a fine large map of Peterborough, showing the sewerage system as laid out on the various streets of the town. Any ratepayers may obtain one and study up the proposed sewerage system by calling on Town Clerk Cobb.

Personal.

Mr. R. M. Denoistoun went to Lindsay to-day.

Mr. Jas. Jack, Portage la Prairie, and Mr. Jas. Hand, Orillia, are in town.

Mr. S. S. Beatty, of Detroit, representing in Western Canada the great wholesale clothing house of John Calder & Co., Hamilton, accompanied by Mrs. Beatty is in town for a few days, the guest of Mr. T. H. Graham, 80 Gilmour street.

Mr. M. A. Morrison, whose marked success at the late dental examination, was noted yesterday, has been for the last year and a half a student in the office of Messrs. Robertson & Rose and will be found in future with Dr. Rose. Mr. Morrison is unusually skillful in his profession and deserves great credit for the success he has achieved.

Curliania.

Lakefield and Campbellford did not put in an appearance this morning. They were to have been down with four rinks but they did not receive word until last night when it was too late.

Mr. C. McGill, this morning, received a telegram from the Torontos wanting to play the Peterboroughs here on Saturday.

A "scratch" match took place at the rink last night between rinks skipped by D. Bellegham and T. Rutherford. Mr. Pentland won by three shots, the score standing 22 to 19 in his favor.

In all likelihood the bonspiel which has been continued on and off at the rink for the past week will be concluded to-night. Skip Ray will play Skip Bradburn and the winner will play the by, Skip Dennistoun.

The ice is very sticky at present for the polished stones.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions makes it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Stafford's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

Wabash Line.

A man going west should remember the great Wabash Route is the easiest route to all south and south-west points. They run the finest equipped trains on earth. The only railroad using the palace reclining chair cars (free) from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. All trains go through the great tunnel at St. Louis. Time tables and all information from your nearest ticket agent or J. A. Richardson, Canadian Passenger agent, 28 Adelaide street east, Toronto.

Church Chimes.

The Epworth League of the George street Methodist Church, had an unusually large attendance at their meeting last night. Miss Fries, president, presided. It was a consecration meeting. Mr. Brico gave an interesting address on "The Results of Sin." It was decided by the League to hold an "At Home" on March 17th, when an interesting programme will be presented.

A very interesting meeting of the Charlotte street Epworth League of Christian Endeavour took place last evening. Mr. O. C. Rowse presided and conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. T. H. Brooks then introduced the subject, "Evidences of Christianity" by reading an excellent paper on the same, which was followed by short addresses by Mr. McCallum and Rev. Geo. Edwards, and a reading by Mr. L. Charlton, all dealing with the evening's topic, and making the meeting a very profitable one to those present.

King of Medicines

A Cure "Almost Miraculous."

"When I was 14 years of age I had a severe attack of rheumatism, and after I recovered had to go on crutches. A year later, scrofula, in the form of white swellings, appeared on various parts of my body, and for 11 years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed 6 years. In that time ten or eleven sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. I feared I never should get well.

"Early in 1886 I went to Chicago to visit a sister, but was confined to my bed most of the time I was there. In July I read a book, 'A Day with a Circus,' in which were statements of cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I was so impressed with the success of this medicine that I decided to try it. To my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better and in a short time I was up and out of doors. I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for about a year, when, having used six bottles, I had become so fully released from the disease that I went to work for the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since then on account of sickness. I believe the disease is expelled from my system, I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I am now 27 years of age and can walk as well as any one, except that one limb is a little shorter than the other, owing to the loss of bone, and the sores formerly on my right leg. To my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous, and I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of medicines." WILLIAM A. LEER, 9 N. Railroad St., Kendallville, Ind.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE BILL RESPECTING INSURANCE CORPORATIONS.

Mr. Hardy's Bill to Reduce the Number of Grand Jurors from 18 to 13—Annual Session of the Order of Chosen Friends.

TORONTO, March 9.—In moving the second reading of his bill respecting insurance corporations, Mr. Gibson elucidated fully and clearly several of the more important of its provisions.

The bill, he said, that has been presented to the Legislature for some time is looked upon with much interest by the people of the province at large, but especially so by benevolent, friendly and other corporate bodies. The courts, he explained, had concluded that the province had exclusive jurisdiction in matters of insurance, and in compliance with the right thus granted it was already exercised in regard to fire and life assurance. The province, in accepting the jurisdiction mentioned, assumed a great liability and had, as an outcome, to see that acquiescence was given by insurance companies to the rules laid down by the Government as absolutely necessary. It was also incumbent that a record of all companies entering this jurisdiction should be kept.

The Government should know the nature of the powers of all such companies; understand clearly their extent; and apprehend without doubt the relations existing between the members comprising them. It would also be well to know whether these persons were merely stockholders, whether there was a reserve fund, or whether the contracts made were carried out. For this purpose certain machinery was necessary, and consequently the act had provisions in this respect. Two registrars were to be appointed. One would supervise insurance licenses and the other would bear the appellation Friendly Societies Insurance Registrar.

Mr. Gibson then went on to explain that a line of demarcation should be made between bona fide friendly societies and "wildcat" schemes of a similar nature instituted by adventurous spirits. He concluded his speech by remarking that since the printing and circulating of the bill he had been surprised by the unanimous approval which had been accorded it.

Mr. H. E. Clarke did not wish to oppose the bill. He believed it to be legislation in the right direction. He though, however, that it would be well, in order to give members an opportunity for mature consideration, if the discussion were adjourned for a few days.

The Government were not in accord with the suggestion, and the bill consequently received its second reading without further consideration.

Mr. Hardy's bill for reducing the number of graud jurors was given its second reading. It provides that the number in future shall be 13 instead of 15.

Smoking By Minors.

Mr. Mowat's bill respecting the use of tobacco by minors, when it came up for its second reading, occasioned considera ble discussion.

J. P. Whitney was opposed unequivocally to the bill in its entirety. He could see no good in it whatever. The second clause was to him especially obnoxious. It was, he asserted, preposterous as well as criminal to entertain for a moment the idea of enforcing its provisions and, in conclusion, he remarked that the Attorney-General himself could not get over the "bald, clear outlines of jagged facts." The latter remark elicited a broad smile from the gentleman referred to.

J. Barr, Dufferin, was speaking when cries of "6 o'clock" from his brother members constrained him to move the adjournment of the House. After recess he continued his argument in support of the bill. He believed that the members on both sides should strive to perfect the legislation submitted. In so doing, he affirmed, they would be conferring a boon on the community.

The bill passed its second reading.

These Estimates Again.

The House went into committee of supply and continued the discussion of the estimates. The following were passed: Asylum for Insane, Toronto, $100,442; Mimico branch, $67,158; Asylum for Insane, London, $130,-966; Asylum for Insane, Kingston, $79,674; Asylum for Insane, Hamilton, $122,857; Asylum for Idiots, Orillia, $45,022; Central Prison, Toronto, $131,990; Ontario Reformatory for Boys, Penetanguishene, $38,050; Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, Belleville, $43,971; Institution for the Blind, Brantford, $35,634; Andrew Mercer Reformatory for Women and Refuge for Girls, Toronto, $49,-306. The total is $834,968.

COL. COLLIER DEAD

The Well-Known Railroad Boomer Passes Away in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, March 9.—William Collier, better known as "the colonel," died this morning at 3.30 at his residence, 16 Stinson-street, of pneumonia. Since the Stinson election case he had been living in Buffalo, doing business as a machinery broker, but his wife and family remained here. On Friday he came back feeling very ill. He had been suffering from grip and it settled on his lungs. He lingered on until this morning, when he died.

The Colonel was 55 years of age and was an Englishman by birth. He came to this country and was in the iron business at Jersey City for some years. Later on he came to Canada, and had a contract on the Port Dover & Lake Huron Railway about 15 years ago. It was at that time that he accomplished the feat of stealing a locomotive. He seized it from his creditors for money due him and got away with it, but the law called it theft and he was arrested, but acquitted.

The Colonel's latest appearance was in the Stinson election trial, when he accused Mr. Stinson of having engaged him to bribe electors. He carried on a restaurant in King-street west for several years.

The body will be taken to Port Dover tomorrow for interment.

Cute Toronto Chinamen.

DETROIT, March 9.—The irrepressible Chinaman has found a new inlet into Uncle Sam's dominion. Thursday night 17 Celestials came up from Toronto and traveled to Amherstburg by the Michigan Central. Ten of the number had lived in Toronto for some time, but seven were new importations. Boats and men were in readiness at a point up the river. The crowd were soon rowed across, and it is thought took the Michigan Southern train for Chicago at a point near their landing place.

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS.

AN OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR DEBOUCHERVILLE.

Less Than 20 Mercierites Elected Out of a Total of 73 Members—Conservatives and Liberals Unite to Stamp Out the Count.

MONTREAL, March.—The Conservatives have swept the province.

There are 73 seats in the Quebec Legislature. At midnight the returns stood thus:

Straight Conservatives returned including all the ministers, 55.

Mercierites 15, including Mercier, Sheyhn and Bernatchez, ex-ministers.

Independents pledged to oppose Mercier three, including Mr. George Washington Stephens, who stands elected for Huntingdon

Giving the Mercierites the three Independents they can only show 18 against a solid phalanx of 55 at the back of the Government.

A Majority of 37.

Mercier's majority in the House when it was dissolved was 25. To-day the De-Boucherville Cabinet has with it a majority at the least of 37.

The Island of Montreal, out of 8 members sends 7 straight Conservatives to Quebec, a turnover of 4 in their favor. The defeat of McShane in Montreal Centre is a notable feature.

Of the Montreal candidates Bond and Bondreau will lose their deposits.

Mercier was elected in Bonaventure by a majority of 336.

PREMIER DEBOUCHERVILLE.

Brief Sketch of Hon. Charles De Boucherville and His Cabinet.

Hon. Charles E. B. De Boucherville, M.D., is descendant from Lieut.-General Pierre Boucher, Sieur de Grosbois, Governor of Three Rivers in 1653 and founder of the seigniory of Boucherville. He is a son of the late Hon. P. Boucher de Boucherville, a member of the Legislative Council of Canada. He was born at Boucherville on May 4, 1822, and educated at St. Sulpice College, Montreal. He pursued his medical studies at Paris, where he graduated. His first entrance into public life was in 1861, when he was elected to the Canadian Assembly from Chambly, and he continued to represent the county until Confederation. In July, 1867, he was appointed a member of the Legislative Council of Quebec, which seat he has ever since held. He was a member of the Executive Council from July, 1867, until February, 1873, and was entrusted with the formation of a new Cabinet on the resignation of Mr. Ouimet—a duty which he successfully accomplished on Sept. 22, 1874. He continued in office until March, 1878, when his Government was dismissed by Mr. Letellier. He was called to the Senate in February, 1879.

The other ministers are T. C. Casgrain, Attorney-General; G. A. Nantel, Commissioner of Public Works; E. J. Flynn, Commissioner of Crown Lands; J. S. Hall, Provincial Treasurer; Louis Beaubien, Commissioner of Agriculture; L. P. Pelletier, Provincial Secretary; L. R. Masson, L. O. Taillon, J. McIntosh, ministers without portfolio.

WEST HURON PROTEST.

Liberals in Convention at Clinton Decied Upon This Step.

CLINTON, March 9.—A largely attended meeting of the West Huron Liberals was held yesterday to take steps towards protesting the election of the Hon. J. C. Patterson. Mr. Proudfoot stated that the recount held before the County Judge had reduced Mr. Patterson's majority by 9 votes, leaving it at 16. It was unanimously resolved to enter a protest, and at once raised the money necessary for that purpose.

The London Dispute.

LONDON, March 9.—Judge Elliot will give his decision on the voters' list question this morning at 11 o'clock, and at 2 o'clock in the afternoon the re-count will begin before Judge Davis.

Bennett Retains the Seat.

BARRIE, March 9.—The recount in East Simcoe was concluded to-day, Mr. Bennett's majority of 16 being confirmed without going into reserved ballots, some 30 of which were in Mr. Bennett's favor and 10 in favor of Dr. Spohn.

Brome Election March 17.

MONTREAL, March 9.—The date of the bye-election contest in the county of Brome, which had been fixed for March 12, has been changed to March 17.

ORANGE GRAND LODGE.

Opening of the Annual Session at Owen Sound.

OWEN SOUND, March 9.—The Orange Grand Lodge of Western Ontario opened yesterday, when the annual reports were presented.

Grand Secretary Birmingham reported that the year just closed has been a very prosperous one for our association, as shown by the returns received; 1920 members have been added by initiation, 828 by certificate and 154 have been reinstated; while our loss by expulsion has been 53 and by death 111; thus showing a most gratifying increase in membership as the result of the year's labors."

Grand Treasurer E. F. Clarke reported that $21,662.38 had been disbursed during the year, including $18,700 for death endowments. The receipts for dues were $2087.30, over $300 more than last year, being a larger sum than that received by the Grand Lodge from primary lodges in any previous year in its history.

Sir Edward Kinahan Dead.

LONDON, March 9.—Sir Edward Hudson Kinahan, the well-known manufacturer of Irish whisky, is dead. He was descended from an old Cork family that was staunchly attached to the House of Stuart and suffered persecution and confiscation for that reason. His father, Robert H. Kinahan, grew rich in the whisky manufacturing business and was High Sheriff and Lord Mayor of Dublin. Sir Edward was also High Sheriff of Dublin, and was created a baronet in 1887. He was very wealthy, and had two country seats besides a town residence. In politics he was a Conservative.

Hamilton Coffee Tavern Closed.

HAMILTON, March 9.—About 12 years ago the Hamilton Coffee Tavern Company was formed to supply this city with a long-felt want in the shape of temperance restaurants. A coffee tavern was opened in Hughson-street near King, and subsequently branches were established in Johnstreet and elsewhere. The company has lost $1700, and it has decided to go out of business.

Watching for Dynamiters.

BERLIN, March 9.—All persons crossing the Russian frontier are subject to detention and close examinatson. The police have been apprised that the Nihilistes are trying to smuggle into Russia a quantity of the dynamite recently stolen from the French quarries, and the efforts of the police are to prevent the consummation of their plan. An engineer named Leluze has been arrested at one of the frontier towns, and there was found in his possession matter which shows he was connected with the plot to smuggle the dynamite.

BEHRING SEA.

The U.S. Cabinet Insists on a Renewal of the Modus Vivendi—What Mr. Tupper Says.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The meeting of the Cabinet yesterday was devoted almost entirely to the consideration of the Behring Sea question with a view of deciding on a plan of action in case Great Britain adheres to its refusal to renew for the present season, pending arbitration, the modus vivendi of last year.

The Cabinet Discusses It.

The cabinet meeting yesterday was of a most important character, notwithstanding the absence of Secretaries Blaine, Foster and Noble. The entire session of two hours was devoted to the consideration of the Behring Sea question in general and to Lord Salisbury's last communication in opposition to a renewal of the modus vivendi of last year in particular. The President and every member of the Cabinet present participated in the discussion, and the opinion was unanimous that the position assumed by the British Government was untenable and not justified by the condition of the sealing industry. The argument was made that the opening of Behring Sea for the present season to the indiscriminate slaughter of seals by poachers would undoubtedly result in serious injury, if not total destruction, of the industry, and thus defeat the very object sought in the negotiations between the two countries.

It was therefore decided to insist on a modus vivendi somewhat similar to that of last year, having for its object the protection of the seal fisheries by the joint action of Great Britain and the United States pending the settlement of the questions at issue by arbitration.

A Talk With Pauncefote.

Late this afternoon Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister, had a conference with Mr. Wharton, who is acting Secretary of State, during which the latter delivered to the British Minister the reply of this Government to Lord Salisbury's note declining to renew the modus vivendi. This reply reiterates the position of this Government and insists on a renewal of the modus vivendi of 1891 for the coming season. It is understood that Sir Julian Pauncefote cabled the entire text of the note to Lord Salisbury this evening.

As one of the results of the Cabinet meeting to-day the President sent to the Senate the Behring Sea Arbitration Treaty, where it was considered in executive session for an hour and referred to the Committee on Foreigh Relations.

The President's letter, which came with the documents, was simply one of transmittal without suggestion or recommendation.

The text of the treaty was read in full and a concise explanation of its terms and of the necessities of the case was made in behalf of the administration by one of the senators.

When he had concluded there followed an animated but not acrimonious discussion of the document. It soon became apparent that the treaty was to receive severe and formidable opposition in its consideration. This opposition took several forms, and there were at least three different views of the subject.

Opposed to Arbitration.

On the one hand a body of senators resented bitterly the idea of ratifying any arbitration treaty. They held the right of the United States to the waters acquired from Russia was beyond question and that it would be a cowardly surrender on the part of this Government for it to consent to submit its right to the uncertain decision of foreign arbitrators.

Attention was also called to the fact that one of the three foreign arbitrators, who would really hold in their hands the final decision of the questions at issue, would be the subject of a power with which our relations are very much strained, meaning Italy.

A Distinct Gain to Uncle Sam.

A considerable number of the Senators appeared to believe that the approval of the treaty would be a distinct gain in the diplomatic battle inasmuch as it committed Great Britain to recognition of the fact that the United States had a claim to jurisdiction over the waters of Behring Sea under the Russian title, a point which she has heretofore steadily refused to allow.

Bellicose Senators.

A third party thought the treaty should not be approved finally without the addition of a clause renewing the modus vivendi.

Indeed there was manifested a general feeling of disappointment growing out of the refusal of the British Government to accede to the request of this Government in that respect, and some senators took the ground that while the treaty might safely be ratified by the Senate the administration should be instructed, in the event of the continued refusal of the British Government to ensure the protection of the seals during the course of the arbitration, the vessels of the United States should seize every offending vessel without regard to nationality. They announced that if trouble resulted from the adoption of this course they were prepared to fully support the administration in taking all necessary steps to give effect to existing laws of the United States for the protection of seals.

After the discussion had progressed in this strain for an hour, on motion of the chairman (Sherman) the treaty was referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

OTTAWA, March 9.—Minister of Marine Tupper stated to your correspondent today that the chief contention against the renewal of the modus vivendi in Behring Sea was that it was not necessary for the preservation of seal life as is held by the United States. Pelagic sealing did not threaten the extinction of the seal as alleged, the only danger of extermination lying in the wholesale slaughter which had been carried on by the natives and Alaska company on the rookeries or breeding grounds.

Mr. Gordon, M.P. for Nanaimo, said that the idea of the British cruisers doing police duty for the protection of the Alaska company in Behring Sea was absurd and should be denounced. Had the Alaska company kept faith last year and restricted their catch to the number limited by the agreement entered into by Great Britain and the United States there might be some grounds to justify a renewal of the modus vivendi this season, although he doubted whether pelagic sealing in the least endangered the seal fisheries or threatened them with extinction, as had been contended in certain quarters.

Seven Wives, Yet a Widower.

PEEKSKILL, N.Y., March 9.—The census enumerator here has unearthed a man who has had seven wives and is now a widower. His name is Barton Turner, and he is 81 years old. His children number 17.

Lynched a Negro.

FLORENCE, Ala., March 9.—A negro, who beat two white women in Hardin County, Tenn., last week, was caught near Florence and lynched last night.

MURDER BY PROXY.

Farmer Collins Convicted of Hiring a Negro to Kill His Wife.

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., March 9.—Rufus Collins, who paid a negro $50 to kill his wife, was convicted of murder yesterday.

Collins was a well-to-do farmer of North Carolina. He fell in love with a neighbor's daughter, but his wife was in the way. He then moved into Georgia, buying a farm 20 miles from here.

One day a negro farm hand shot and killed Mrs. Collins.

The widower took her body to the old home in North Carolina. There suspicion was aroused, and investigation developed that Collins had hired the negro to kill her.

HAD GOT HIS TICKET.

But He Was Arrested at Bremen as He Was Leaving For New York.

BERLIN, March 9.—Lieut. Krapf of the Third Battalion of Infantry, stationed at Stuttgart, who disappeared with all the money of the regimental treasury on last Monday, was arrested yesterday in Bremen. He had already bought a steerage ticket for New York and was wearing the clothes of a workingman.

In his pockets were found Imperial Bank notes to the amount of 18,000 marks. His total defalcation is said to be between 60,000 and 76,000 marks.

North Monaghan.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The council met at the town hall on Monday the 7th inst., the reeve and the council present. The was quite a number of ratepayers present with petitions for changes in the school sections. The minutes of the last two meetings were read and confirmed, after amending those of January the 18th, by adding a bylaw confirming appointment of clerk and fixing salary at the sum of $80 00. The appointment of Jos. T. Green was made to the office of treasurer at a salary of $25. per annum, and Allan Walton to caretaker of town hall at a salary of $5. A bylaw passed its several readings confirming those appointments. A petition from Wm. Collins and 41 other ratepayers of the township was presented asking the council to remodel the school sections of the township. Also a petition from George H. May and 20 other ratepayers of school section No. 2, asking the council to divide said section, and the line between concession 11 and 12 to be the dividing line. Also a request from I. Harbour for work done by him on roads, snow drifts on road to get to his property—on this no action was taken. Mr. Oswy Carver addressed the council requesting them to have William Landy's fence to be removed off the highway along the gravel road on part lot 12, con. 12. The Clerk was instructed to notify Mr. Landy or his solicitor to remove said fence. On motion a public meeting is to be called to discuss the advisability of remodeling the school section, to be held on Monday the 21st inst., at 2 o'clock p.m. On motion the petition of Geo. E. May and others was received and laid over until the next meeting of the council. The Reeve and Clerk were instructed to get legal advice with reference to the legality of changing the boundries of the Union School Section, and if they cannot be legally changed to dispense with the public meeting. The following accounts were presented and ordered to be paid: W. J. Hall for cleaning out ditch, $5.00; W. J. Hall, leading bridges with stone (when certified to,) $10 00; W. J. Hall, for Taylor Combination Sale, $60.00; Oswy Carver, overseer on the drain on Gravel Road in 1891 $2 00. The council then adjourned to meet at the Reeve.

Dr. E. T. Miller, of Grass Plains, Wis., has expressed the opinion that, for obstinate cases of syphilis and scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the most effective remedy known to pharmacy. Wonderful cures have resulted from its use.

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Moller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Moller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. Warnaw.

Patrons of Industry Entertainment.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Justice Association, Patrons of Industry, No. 168, held a successful entertainment in the town and agricultural hall, Warnaw, on Friday evening, March 4th. There was an unusually large attendance. The worthy president occupied the chair. The following programme was excellently rendered:—

Instrumental music	String Band
Glee, "Away, away in Hazy Dell"	Choir
Song	Mr. Lusby
Violin and Organ Duet	Robt. Payne and Miss Taylor
Duet	Mrs. Payne and Miss Campbell
Instrumental	John and Alick Darling
Song	Miss Campbell
Reading	R. Jones
Duet	Miss Campbell and James Kidd

SECOND PART.

Instrumental	String Band
Glee, "Hail, Smiling Morn"	Choir
Song	James Kidd
Duet	Mrs. Payne and Miss Campbell
Dialogue	Messrs. Matthews and Alfred (Payne, John and Alick Darling
Song	Miss Payne
Instrumental	Miss McDonald
Song	Miss Taylor
Chorus	Messrs. Choate, Kidd and Lusby

Chorus, "For we are Jolly Good Fellows."

The programme was an excellent one, which reflects great credit on our local talent. The evening's enjoyment came to a close by singing "God Save the Queen."

O, this dull, depressing headache,
That won't wear off;
This hawking and this spitting,
And this hacking cough.
I've lost my sense of smelling,
And taste's going, too.
I know catarrh's what ails me,
But—what shall I do?
My hearing and my hawking
Keep up a steady din;
I'm haunted by the fear that
Consumption may set in.
I feel supremely wretched;
No wonder I'm blue,
I know my health's failing.
But—what can I do?

Dr. Sage: Tell you what to do, my friend, if you'll lend me your ear a minute. Go down to the drug store and buy Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and take it according to directions given, and you'd soon find that this miserable headache is a thing of the past; the hacking, hawking and spitting, so disagreeable to others as well as yourself, will come to an end, and in a short time you will feel like a new man. A new man—think of that—and all for fifty cents, which is the price of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, the unfailing cure for this terrible disease.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

Warm bright days, clear frosty nights, good maple sugar weather.

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F. meet in their court room on Thursday evening; one initiation.

The village council meet in the town hall next Monday evening and will have a lot of work to dispose of.

Our reeve had a good afternoon's sport Saturday, getting two fine fox's and a "coon tail."

Mr. Richmond Knox, an old Lakefield boy but not residing in Minnesota was in the village Monday renewing old friendships and went back to see his mother who resides near Apsley.

The members of the Presbyterian church will hold a social in the town hall next Friday, tea served in the engine room in the afternoon, speaking, music, etc., in the council chamber in the evening.

Reeve Casement left on Tuesday afternoon to join a deputation of the County Council at Peterborough, who are going to Toronto to interview the Government on the subject of maintaining bridges, not in but adjacent to the county.

The warm sun of the past few days has created an undesirable quantity of water on some of our streets, so soon the road master has had to give his attention to opening up the drains etc., to give it free access to the river. Monday any number of our citizens might have been seen engaged in the same laudable occupation.

On Tuesday morning while Mr. Thomas Watson was under the Lakefield mill yard his arm caught and became fixed the shaft breaking the bone of his arm below the shoulder, he had a narrow escape, for if the mill had been running at full speed he would have been torn to pieces.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

A Great Surprise

is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on the merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. dw

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, making often grems from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. All nations and tongues declare St. Leon perfection to assist digestion, purification of the blood, the assimilation of the food, circulation and promote healthy vigor life-long. St. Leon Water has no compeer. For sale all over. dw

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

Burdock Blood Bitters is a household remedy for dyspepsia, it expels rheumatism and neuralgia from the system, acts as an antibilious agent on the stomach, liver and bowels, antagonizes blood poison, builds up and revitalizes the bloody functions and restores and purifies the entire system. dw

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaints my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Baltic, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I am truly glad, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—O. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Great Attractive Sale!

Owing to extensive alterations in our Two Big Stores, we have determined to inaugurate the Greatest Clearing Sale we have ever held. Since our inception with Peterborough we have held many successful sales, but this is the first time we have determined to make a clean sweep of our entire stock.

AND WHY!

Because we wish to avoid the dust and dirt of the Plasterers, Bricklayers and Carpenters. Therefore, when we say this will be a Clearing Sale Extraordinary, the public may rely on us carrying out our determination to the letter. The builders take possession Monday, and during our alterations the public can depend on getting Genuine Bargains. In fact, cost of the goods will not be taken into consideration. The knife is plunged into every line, and in many cases the prices will be cut in two.

Line to be Sacrificed: READY-MADE CLOTHING FOR MEN AND BOYS, MEN AND BOYS' FURNISHINGS, HATS & CAPS, TRUNKS AND VALISES, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Special quotations given to Peddlers and other Dealers. We expect a big rush Saturday, and those who attend this sale will be more than delighted with the Wonderful Close-Cut, Hard-Pan Prices. Don't forget the Place.

IMPERIAL PARLIAMENT.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NEW ROUTE TO ASIA.

Important Announcement in the British Commons—The Esquimault Harbor Should Be Rendered Safe for the Protection of Commerce.

LONDON, March 8.—In the House of Commons to-day, on a motion to go into Committee on Supply, Sir Henry Stafford Northcote, Conservative member for Exeter, took occasion to move that the House of Commons urge upon the Government the necessity of immediate steps to complete the harbor of protection at Esquimalt, British Columbia, which is the station for Her Majesty's fleet in that section of the Pacific.

Sir Henry argued that the route from Great Britain to Asia by way of the Canadian Pacific route would not be secure unless steps should be taken to make Esquimalt harbor safe for the protection of commerce.

Rear Admiral Edward Field, Conservative member for Eastbourne, supported the motion of Sir Henry, urging that the defence of British Canadian interests imperatively required that the Government push to a completion the work at Esquimalt.

Secretary of War Stanhope, replying to the motion of Sir Henry Stafford Northcote, said he regretted that the fortification of Esquimalt was not yet completed, and the more so for the reason that this made it an exception to other foreign stations whose fortifications, with the single exception of Esquimalt have been brought to completion. The delay had been due to the reluctance of Canada to stand a fair share of the cost. Under the circumstances the Government would be unable to accept the motion.

After a brief debate Sir Henry withdrew his motion in deference to the wishes of the Government as expressed by the Secretary for War.

William H. K. Redmond, Nationalist member for Fermanagh, said in the debate that the defence of Esquimalt was of more importance to England than to Canada and that England's action had not been generous toward the Canadians in insisting that they should stand a share of the burden in excess of what they thought to be fair.

Col. Thomas Waring, Conservative, ridiculed the statement of Redmond and defended the Government.

The Right Hon. George Osborne Morgan, Liberal, said that in behalf of the Opposition he desired to approve the extremely fair attitude of the Government.

The motion created a decided sensation in the House of Commons owing to the excitement on the Behring Sea issue. It is believed that the object in putting forward the motion was to get the sense of the House as to how far the Government would be supported in a firm attitude as to the seal fisheries.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

I Will Pulverize Russia.

LONDON, March 8.—The Standard's St. Petersburg correspondent says that a gentleman who was present at the Brandenburg banquet when Emperor William made his memorable speech, remarked to the Emperor: "Your Majesty should not forget Russia." To this remark Emperor William is said to have shouted: "I will pulverize Russia!"

The Czar, when told of the remark, summoned to his presence Gen. Von Schwernits the German ambassador at St. Petersburg and after recounting to him the statement said, "Tell your Emperor that when he wants to begin pulverizing, I will throw half a million of men across the frontier with the greatest pleasure."

Metalic Bank Notes.

LONDON, March 8.—Sir Henry Bessemer recommends the issue of bank notes made of metal, and says that forgery or fraud would in that case be impossible. He proposes that a thin plate of aluminium should be suitably stamped and engraved, about the size of a florin, and be used to serve the purpose of a one pound note.

Your Blood

Undoubtedly needs a thorough cleansing this season to expel impurities, keep up the health-tone and prevent disease. You should take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and system tonic. It is unequalled in positive medicinal merit.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, effective, but do not cause pain or gripe. Be sure to get Hood's.

An inactive or torpid liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are best for old or young. dw

PARMELEE'S PILLS possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulates to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of a most every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O. Ont. writes:—"I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well." w10

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

A PORTUGUSE STORM.

Six People Killed, Houses Unroofed and Trees Blown Down.

LONDON, March 8.—The hurricane which passed over the Portuguese coast yesterday did much damage to property and to the harbor work here. A number of houses were unroofed and trees prostrated. Six persons were struck by flying debris and killed. A number of others were more or less seriously injured by falling bricks, ties, etc. The River Tagus, which in some places had already overflown its banks, continues to rise rapidly and threatens considerable damage. The river is full of driftwood, and navigation of the stream has become so hazardous that few if any vessels attempt it.

"German Syrup"
For Throat and Lungs
Hemorrhage Five Years.
"I have been ill for about five years, have had the best medical advice, and I took the first dose in some doubt. This result-ed in a few hours easy sleep. There was no further hemorrhage till next day, when I had a slight attack which stopped almost immediately. By the third day all trace of blood had disappeared and I had recovered much strength. The fourth day I sat up in bed and ate my dinner, the first solid food for two months. Since that time I have gradually gotten better and am now able to move about the house. My death was daily expected and my recovery has been a great surprise to my friends and the doctor. There can be no doubt about the effect of German Syrup, as I had an attack just previous to its use. The only relief was after the first dose." J. R. LOUGHHEAD, Adelaide, Australia.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
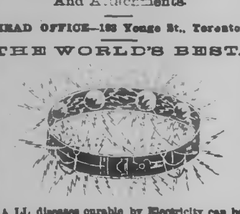
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—168 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.



ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the NERVOUS and MUSCULAR SYSTEMS.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not claim this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and meta with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.
Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. eod w

Preliminary Opening of the Spring Season.

We do not wish to speak as yet of our Spring and Summer stock in general, because it is rather early, but we DO wish to direct the attention of Gentlemen to the fact that our goods for Spring wear are coming in now without interruption. Some of the Choicest Selections are already laid out for inspection.

In all departments throughout our splendid new establishment our importations have been on a much larger scale than heretofore, enabling us to offer the choicest productions of the leading European and Canadian Markets in Cloths, Ready-Made Clothing and Gents' Furnishings.

KNOCKING THE SPOTS OUT OF PRICES!
Some people may think that's rather a coarse way of putting the case, but, if it isn't very elegant, it is at least pointed and direct and it tells just what we are doing, so that you can't misunderstand it. We are knocking the spots out of prices. 25 lbs. of Yellow Sugar for $1.00. 20 lbs. of Extra Granulated Sugar for $1.00. 5 lbs. of Rattling Good Japan Tea for $1.00. We are also selling a Tea for 40c. that you can't beat for 50c

The Union also extends its hearty thanks to all who have so generously responded to former requests, but must also say that there are still many worthy poor who deserve the kindness of our more fortunate citizens. —COM.

A Grand Hunt.

Yesterday afternoon a grand hunt took place, and one that will not soon be forgotten. Mr. Harry Winch yesterday afternoon gave a most enjoyable fox hunt to half a dozen sportsmen. The hunting party was composed of Messrs. Michael O'Brien, Alex Patterson, Hector McIntyre, Herbert Kent, Vancouver, B. C., and others. They left town about two o'clock with twenty-five hounds, and returned before supper time. The party went out in Smith some four or five miles. The hounds were successful in running down a fine silver fox. This morning the fox, which is a fine one, was viewed by many at Mr. Winch's butcher shop on George street. Silver foxes are scarce in this locality, and for that reason the prize is the more valuable.

What's the Matter with the Gates?

A mishap occurred in the factory of the Peterborough Mattress Co., Mr. W. Faint, proprietor, last evening. When stopping at six o'clock the gates could not be closed on the water wheel, something serious being wrong. The machinery in the mill could only be stopped after a prolonged effort by means of heavy levers pressed against the large driving shaft, and by throwing off several belts in the mill, which made a rather lively time for a short period. This afternoon another effort was made to shut down the power but without success. The Canada Woollen Mills and Mr. Faint's factory have had to close down in order to make the necessary repairs and investigate what is wrong with the gates.

The Northwest Exodus.

The annual spring movement of settlers for the Northwest has set in in earnest. The C. P. R. colonist cars passing through Peterborough are always loaded down with settlers. Peterborough county and district are also furnishing their quota. Beginning with the month, Mr. P. M. Nelson, of Havelock, started for Carovale, Manitoba, with a car of household effects, and ten horses. On March 8th, Mr. William Turnbull, who has been visiting in Peterborough, was drawn into the Northwest stream, and started to return to Hartney, where he has been living for several years. He takes with him ten horses purchased in this vicinity. The same day Mr Joseph Kerr went west with a car of settlers' effects. His objective point being Souris Mountain, Manitoba. Others are preparing to follow. Mr. Joseph Sheffield goes to Brandon on the 15th with a car load of settlers' effects. On the same date Mr. R. Donnelly leaves for Brandon with a car of settlers' goods. On the 22nd Mr. W. Stewart starts for Melita, Manitoba, with a car of goods, and Mr. T. Emerson and his family start out for the same place on the 27th.

Hockey.

The Cobourgs, After a Hard Struggle, do up the Peterboroughs at the Rink last Night.

The Cobourgs came down at 5 o'clock last evening to give the Peterborough boys a match at hockey. The struggle commenced at the early hour of 7 o'clock in order that the game might get through in ample time for the Cobourgers to return home on the 8 50 o'clock train. The following are the names of the men on the teams as they faced each other for the second time this winter:—

Peterborough.		Cobourg
Bradburn	goal	Stevens
Montgomery	point	Fenwick
Crofton	cover point	Crum
Phelan	forwards	Carmichael
Sawers		Grierson
Dumble		McDougall
Gemmel		Shepherd

Referee Mr. Geo. Schofield, Umpires Messrs. R. A. Cockburn and Wm. Delaney.

The contest began sharp and eager and continued so until the end. Both sides played an offensive game, now the puck hovered close to the Cobourg's goal, then it glanced back to unpleasant nearness in Cobourg's territory. Each side claimed a goal during the game, which was not allowed by the referee. Cobourg made a goal on a foul during the first half, and Peterborough one during the second half, which was declared off side. The Cobourgs secured their only goal and victory by Shepherd's clever shot, about ten minutes before full time was called. The Edison boys were present during the game, and as they bear no particular love for the home team, they rent the air again and again, cheering for Cobourg, and shouting "foul" "offside" and other pet appelations at the Peterborough's.

NOTES.

Some $11 was taken in for admission fees at the door. The game was too early in the evening to draw a large crowd.

For Cobourg, Fenwick, Shepherd and Grierson did noble and faithful work.

When Cobourg and Peterborough clashed on Feb. 9th, the Cobourg's defeated the home team by 4 goals to none.

Cobourg has played ten games this season. They have won eight and the other two were ties.

The home team wanted the visitors to remain over but they were bent on "getting home early."

The ice was very soft. It is going fast this weather.

Just as full time was called by the referee last night, Dumble, Phelan and Sawers of the Peterborough, were making a splendid rush with the puck up the rink, carrying all before them. It is very probable had not "time" been called the game would have resulted in a tie.

The Edisons and the Peterboroughs are not contented yet. They will play another match this week.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

A Serious Accident.

Yesterday afternoon as Mrs. Hartley, Aylmer street, was on her way to the Rathbarn Company's office on Murray street. When turning the corner of Aylmer and Murray, Mr. John Wolstenholme had three or four boards of the sidewalk removed for the purpose of letting down barrels into the cellar of his grocery, Mrs. Hartley who is an old lady and being near sighted did not notice the opening in the sidewalk and stepped off the walk, falling a distance of some six or seven feet into the cellar. She was picked up and carried into Mrs. Adam Kernaghan's residence where a doctor was summoned and her injuries dressed. She is progressing favorably to day.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of Court St. Peter, Catholic Order of Foresters held on Monday, the following resolution was adopted:—Moved by Bro. Ball, seconded by Bro. Attridge,—That we the members of St. Peter's Court No. 225, C O F, in regular meeting assembled, desire to place on record our intense feeling of sorrow and regret for the unexpected death of our highly esteemed and universally respected brother, Joseph Griffin. Resolved, that by his death this court has lost one who endeared himself to us all by his frank, manly and straitforward manner Resolved that we tender to Mrs. Griffin for the irreparable loss she has sustained by the demise of a considerate, kind and affectionate husband, our deep, sincere and heartfelt sympathy in her sorrowful and painful trial, and beg with all humility of Him who doeth all things well to be a father to the widow and orphans of our late brother. Resolved that a copy of these resolutions with the seal of court attached, signed by the C R. and R. S. be given Mrs. Griffin, and published in the daily papers, and that our charter be draped in mourning for the space of thirty days out of respect to the memory of him we mourn.

BABY ONE SOLID SORE

Tried Everything without Relief. No Rest Night or Day. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My baby, when two months old, had a breaking out with what the doctor called eczema. Her head, arms, feet, and hands were each one solid sore. I tried everything, but neither the doctors nor anything else did her any good. We could get no rest day or night with her. In my extremity I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES, but I confess I had no faith in them, for I had never seen them tried. To my great surprise, in one week's time after beginning to use the CUTICURA REMEDIES, the sores were well, but I continued to use the RESOLVENT for a little while, and now she is as fat a baby as you would like to see, and as sound as a dollar. I believe my baby would have died if I had not tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. I write this that every mother with a baby like mine can feel confident that there is a medicine that will cure the worst eczema, and that medicine is the CUTICURA REMEDIES.
MRS. BETTIE BIRKNER, Lockhart, Texas.

Cuticura Remedies

Cure every humor of the skin and scalp of infancy and childhood, whether torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, scaly, crusted, pimply, or blotchy, with loss of hair, and every impurity of the blood, whether simple, scrofulous, or hereditary, when the best physicians and all other remedies fail. Parents, save your children years of mental and physical suffering. Begin now. Cures made in childhood are permanent.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. George Fowler.

Jessie Robertson Fowler, wife of George Fowler, who died at the family residence on Monday, March 7th, was a daughter of Mr. Alex. Robertson, of the township of Cavan, near Springville, and sister of Mr. Josiah Robertson, Peterborough. Twenty years ago last September she was united in marriage to Mr. Geo. Fowler, the same day on which Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Green were married, the two couples mutually assisting each other at the double wedding. For some five or six years Mr. and Mrs. Fowler resided in Peterborough, but three years ago they returned to the farm, lot 23 in the 1st concession of Emily. Mrs. Fowler has been ailing for about two years, but it is only a month, since her disease—an affection of the stomach complicated with heart disease—assumed an alarming form, and on Monday it terminated in her death which leaves a husband and two children, nearly adults, sadly stricken. Mrs. Fowler was a faithful and affectionate wife and mother, and an exceeding kind and obliging neighbour, always ready with a kind act or word and many are the poor and destitute who have reason to bless the memory of her charitable deeds. Though unostentatious and quiet in her life, she won the highest respect and esteem of all those who knew her. The largely attended funeral took place to-day (Wednesday) to the Little Lake Cemetery where the remains were laid to rest.

Notes and Jottings on the Great Game.

The Bonspiel for President Dennistoun's medal is nearing an end and to-night will in all probability see the contest among the various local rinks closed. Last night at the rink Skip Ray played Skip Bradburn, the former won an easy victory.

Skip Ray will play Skip Dennistoun in the final at the rink this week. The ice is getting very sticky and soft.

Two teams from Lakefield came down this morning at 10 o'clock to play the Campbellfords at curling. A telephone message was sent to Campbellford last night to be on hand this morning but for some reason or other not yet explained the Campbellforders did not "show up."

In order not to disappoint the Lakefielders, two rinks of the Peterboroughs gave the visiting brethren a game. Eighteen ends were played by each rink, and the home were defeated by six shots. The ice was very sticky and soft.

Mr. R. S. Davidson who was to have umpired the game between Campbellford and Lakefield declared that the medal given by the Ontario Branch of the Caledonian Society of Toronto, went to Lakefield by defeat.

The Lakefield rinks are to be congratulated upon their attaining the Caledonian medal this year. They left for home at two o'clock in jubilant spirits and pleased also by their victory over the home rink. The Peterboroughs, however, had no notice that they were to to play until this morning, and it was a case of picked rinks with them.

The Ladies' Auxiliary met yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. Coyle Brown presided, and completed arrangements for the engagement of the talented and accomplished elocutionist Sara Lord Bailey, of Boston, who is creating such a furore every where she gives her recitals. Some of the best local talent will assist at the recital to be given on Tuesday evening, March 22nd in opera house. To give all our citizens the privilege of enjoying this great treat, the tickets have been placed at the popular price, 25 cents, and can be procured from any of the ladies. Friends desirous of reserving their seats can do so on and after Wednesday, March 16th, at G. A. Schofield's drug store, on payment of 10c. extra.

The Cause of "Northern Lights."

The investigations of scientists have convinced them that the aurora borealis is the effect of the sun's electrical and magnetic agency and this influence seems to pervade the planetary system; at intervals of eleven years the appearance are much more marked and frequent; at these eleven year periods the spots noticed on the surface of the sun are of greater magnitude and more in number; that the present year is one of these eleven-year cycles, and the first two months of 1892 have fully sustained the theory, as the spots on the sun are large enough to be seen without the aid of a telescope and the aurora have been splendid,

Dyspepsia

Intense Suffering for 8 years—Restored to Perfect Health.

Few people have suffered more severely from dyspepsia than Mr. E. A. McMahon, a well known grocer of Staunton, Va. He says: "Before 1878 I was in excellent health, weighing over 200 pounds. In that year an ailment developed into acute dyspepsia, and soon I was reduced to 162 pounds, suffering burning sensations in the stomach, palpitation of the heart, nausea, and indigestion. I could not sleep, lost all heart in my work, had fits of melancholia, and for days at a time I would have welcomed death. I became morose, sullen and irritable, and for eight years life was a burden. I tried many physicians and many remedies. One day a workman employed by me suggested that I take Sarsaparilla. It had cured his wife of dyspepsia. I did so, and before taking the whole of a bottle I began to feel like a new man. The terrible pains to which I had been subjected, ceased, the palpitation of the heart subsided, my stomach became easier, nausea disappeared, and my entire system began to tone up. With returning strength came activity of mind and body. Before the fifth bottle was taken I had regained my former weight and natural condition. I am today well and I ascribe it to taking Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Intense Suffering 8 Years

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured his dyspepsia, as it has thousands.

The Farmer, the Lawyer, the Mechanic, the Doctor, should know his financial position. In the Dominion of Canada, every mercantile person is required by law to keep proper books of account. Young man or young woman before starting business, prepare yourself. Understand the various business papers. Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

AMENDMENTS TO THE MUNICIPAL ACT.

The Middlesex Registrarship—No Grant Towards Celebrating the 400th Anniversary of the Discovery of America—The Value of Crown Lands.

TORONTO, March 10.—In response to a question by Mr. Hammell, Mr. Mowat responded that it was not the intention of the Government, at this session, to place in the supplementary estimates a sum of money to be applied for the purpose of celebrating the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the North American continent. The chief reason urged for such a decision was that the celebration affected the whole Dominion and not this province peculiarly. If a grant were required it should be secured from the Dominion Government.

The Value of Crown Lands.

Mr. Wood (Hastings) wishes to secure a report showing the estimated quantity of pine timber now standing upon the Crown domain of the province, together with a computation of its value. In support of his m on he made an exhaustive speech. From every standpoint, he thought, the information asked for was desirable and most important.

Mr. Hardy in reply said that a great deal of the information asked for could be readily supplied. Much, however, was too minute for successful collation. He then launched into a vindication of the Crown Lands Department.

The Middlesex Registrar.

Mr. Tooley's motion praying the Lieutenant-Governor to appoint Robert Boston Registrar of the County of Middlesex was placed before the House. It was promptly met by an amendment.

Mr. Waters thought a name should not be mentioned; the Government should be permitted to make the appointment without any recommendation, and moved to that effect.

Mr. Mowat wished to say something in regard to the question. Some time, he admitted, had passed without the appointment of a registrar, but the onerous duties connected with the office had been satisfactorily performed by the deputy registrar. He was a competent man. He performed all duties, assumed all responsibilities and received all fees. Continuing, the Attorney-General said that he was disposed to congratulate Mr. Boston. While that gentleman was a good Liberal, he was receiving, as the motion stated, the "unanimous" support of the Conservatives.

Mr. Mowat then remarked with a bland smile: "The Conservatives are always exceedingly anxious to relieve the Government from any embarrassment. He maintained that there was not unanimity in regard to the matter under discussion. It was this fact that rendered the matter of appointment so difficult.

The motion was ultimately withdrawn.

The Municipal Act.

In moving the second reading of his bill to amend the Municipal Act, Mr. Balfour made a characteristically energetic speech. He explained fully and clearly its several provisions. He thought the public interest demanded a repeal of the bonusing clauses of the Municipal Act.

Mr. Whitney thought the bill was illiberal, that it was more worthy a country like Russia than the Province of Ontario. What right, he asked, had the Government to dictate whether a municipality was to give a bonus or not? He hoped that a bill so tyrannical and coercive as this one then before them would never become law.

Messrs. White, Waters, Wood of Hastings, continued the debate in a similar strain. Mr. Dack moved the adjournment.

Notes From the House.

A number of gentlemen interested in the erection of an independant custom smelter at Sudbury will wait upon the Government this evening.

The Speaker gave another dinner last evening. Those present, judging from the prevalent jollity, evidently appreciated this recreation from legislative duties. They were: W. R. Meredith, R. Tooley, J. Fell, Dr. Barr, J. Reid, J. Hiscott, H. Smith, G. Campbell, A. Miscampbell, J. Glendining, J. A. Sprague, D. Porter, W. Harty, Harry Barr, R. Paton, J. Kirkwood, N. Awrey, J. Loughrin, Dr. Dowling, A. Robillard, A. Evanturel, W. M. Dack, A. S. Allen, J. Rayside, G. F. Marter, H. McKenzie, E. J. Davis.

A deputation interested in legislation in relation to the Seymour, Bobcaygeon and Kinmount bridges waited upon the Government last evening. The spokesman, W. A. Stratton, also urged the non-passage of any amendments to the Municipal Act in respect to bridges. Those composing the delegation were: John Maloney, reeve of Douro, Joseph Foster warden of County of Peterboro; Michael Sanderson, reeve of Township of Smith; William Anderson, reeve of Otonabee; Robert Shaw, reeve of Harvey; William Casment, reeve of Lakefield; James Moore, reeve of Township of Asphodel; Edgecomb Pearce, treasurer of the County of Peterboro; John E. Belcher, engineer of the County of Peterboro; and W. A. Stratton, solicitor of the County of Peterboro.

Well-Known Torontonian Dead.

TORONTO, March 10.—Ex-Mayor James E. Smith died yesterday at his residence, Wellesley street after a prolonged illness in his 61st year.

Mr. Smith was born in London, Eng., on Christmas Day 1831. At the age of 10 years he came to Canada with his parents, who settled in Toronto. Young Smith, after having received a first-rate education, turned his mind in the line of mercantile business. He was energetic, frugal and ambitious, made money and many friends.

At the age of 26 he was elected councilman for St. John's Ward, a position which he occupied most honorably for 10 successive years. In 1867 Mr. Smith was elected mayor of the city and again in 1868. In 1872 he accepted the customs collectorship for the port of Toronto.

During the time of Mr. Smith's services to the city he was engaged mainly in the wholesale grocery business at the corner of Church and Colborne streets. In later years he was engaged in the real estate and insurance business.

Shot the Judge in Court.

LINCOLN, Neb., March 10.—Charles Warning, who was tried by Acting Judge Borgelet on Saturday, this morning entered the court room and attempted to murder him, firing two shots at him as he sat in his court room. The first shot took effect in the region of the heart, but was turned from its course by some article in the vest pocket. The second bullet struck the judge over the left eye and plowed through the flesh in an upward direction. Warning was locked up.

Tried to Rob Her Majesty.

SARNIA, March 10.—A. E. Cullis, a young Sarnian, was committed for trial on a charge of attempt at fraud. He registered a letter to Thomas Sanderson, Meldrum Bay, and purported to enclose $10. When the letter reached Sanderson there was no money in it, and the matter was placed in Inspector Fisher's hands. On investigation Cullis admitted that he did not enclose the money.

Convicted of Infanticide.

CORNWALL, March 10.—At the assizes yesterday Angus Flare, farmer, living near St. Raphaels, was acquitted on a charge of incest.

His daughter, Josephine, aged 15, was then put on trial for infanticide and found guilty. She was sent to the Mercer Reformatory for two years.

Starkey Returns to Chicago.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10.—After three years spent in evading justice M. Starkey, the alleged jury briber and writer of the Cronin decoy letter from Canada, entered the office of the Clerk of the Criminal Court and voluntarily gave bonds in the sum of $13,500 for his appearance. Starkey has been living in Canada since his flight.

JEKYLL-HYDE'S DOUBLE.

Stevenson's Famous Character Has a Counterpart in Ohio.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, March 10.—An exact counterpart to Robert Louis Stevenson's famous character, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, has been found here in the person of Mr. William Bender, one of the wealthiest, most prominent and hitherto most respected citizens of this city. The astounding revelations about to be related were brought to light last night. The whole city is intensely excited over the affair.

For several weeks the city has been troubled with a criminal who lay in wait in dark places for passers-by, and with fiendish brutality clubbed them with a heavy iron rod. He attacked rich and poor alike. When he had clubbed his victim into insensibility he would depart. No attempt at robbery was made.

The community became so agitated over these constantly repeated clubbings that a vigilance committee was organized to hunt down the fiend. For several nights he baffled them and each night another victim was struck down.

Last night James Curry saw the figure of a man answering the description of the fiend skulking along the street in the shadow of a fence. He gave an alarm and headed a party of citizens which started in pursuit of the fellow.

Curry soon caught up with the man. He turned quickly, dealt Curry a heavy blow with his club and ran towards the open country. The pursuers gave chase and gradually gained on him. Suddenly the man turned at bay. His appearance as he faced his pursuers was so terrible that the cititzens turned and ran. The man also rushed back towards town. The crowd recovered its courage and again gave pursuit. Suddenly the man ran towards William Bendee's house. He startled through the door and disappeared.

The pursuers, believing he would assault Mrs. Bender, rushed in after him. On a lounge in the sitting-room they found the man they had pursued. He was dead. He was as death, his eyes were bloodshot and he was panting for want of breath. He was William Bender, the master of the house. He confessed the crimes, and as he was forced to it by an irresistible impulse.

A BAD WOMAN'S WORK.

Her Flirting Placed the Brand of Cain on Her Husband's Brow.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 10.—Dr. Northfleet, surgeon of the United States ship Menacacy, who knew the Hetherington well, explains the singular conduct of the lieutenant's wife by the assertion that the woman was fond of admiration. He said: "On the voyage from San Francisco to China she caused much gossip by her flirtations and when she reached Yokohama she set tongues wagging by her indiscretion. She was the prettiest woman in the foreign colony at Yokohama, by those who knew her best say she had no heart and flirted for amusement, and the sequel proved they were right. From the first day of her stay at the Grand Hotel she seemed to lay herself out to fascinate Yokohama. She would glance about the different tables at dinner time, ogling the men and smiling with a self-consciousness that amused most of the men whom she made her target. At dinners and balls she would flirt desperately, and her light, shrill laughter could be heard on the piazzas and conservatories at almost all hours. While her husband was aboard the Marion she took luncheons and dinners with Gower Robinson and went riding with him on his drag. Hetherington finally had his eyes opened on New Year's Eve at a ball, when he discovered his wife and Robinson in a lover-like attitude in a secluded corner. Robinson left town, but was injudicious enough to write to Mrs. Hetherington some very tender letters, and these she carelessly let fall into her husband's possession. The latter related his discovery to his captain and brother officers in the Marion and they persuaded him that his honor had been violated and that the slight put upon him by Robinson could only be wiped out by blood. The feeling in Yokohama is bitter against the woman. The only criticism on Hetherington is that he did not shoot Robinson down like a dog."

RE-WEDDED HIS FIRST WIFE.

After She Married Three Other Husbands—A Woman Who Grows Weary of Old Home—and Loves New Men.

SCRANTON, Pa., March 10.—The sequel to a remarkable story of a woman of this neighborhood who had been four times married and as many times divorced turns out to be a re-marriage to her first husband and the lover of her girlhood days.

In the summer of 1875 Miss Kate Landis, a rosy-cheeked Pennsylvania girl, of German origin, kept house for Leaton D. Sperry. Albert Babcock was the farm hand and in the fall he and Miss Landis were married. He rented a farm the next spring, but he did not get along so well as his wife thought he ought to and in 1877 she left him and got a divorce.

Tried Two New Husbands.

Seven months afterwards Mrs. Babcock married Jake Starkweather, a Carbon county farmer. Starkweather was a widower with two children, and he owned a small place. His wife did not like the neighborhood and he sold out and moved to Cameron county. In 1880 Mrs. Starkweather got a divorce from her husband in another county.

In 1882 she moved to McKean county and married a middle-aged farmer, Azro Fellows. He had been married twice before, but he had no children, and they lived together until 1885, when Mrs. Fellows went to the western part of the State and got a divorce.

No Luck in No. 4.

In 1887 she married H. L. Phelan, a farmer of Washington county. He was a well-to-do widower, with a large family of girls, and Mrs. Phelan lived with him until June, 1890, when she went away, got a divorce, and began to work again.

Meanwhile Babcock, her first husband, stayed in Colley township, this county, worked hard, and accumulated considerable property. Last fall his former wife returned to Colley township. Babcock began to court her again.

Back to Her Old Love.

A week ago Thursday she gave up her place, and said she was going to Washington county. Babcock went away the same day and on Wednesday last they returned together.

They were married in Buffalo.

Will the Steamship Companies Unite?

NEW YORK, March 10.—A report reached this city last night from Boston, stating that the Anchor and Allan State steamship lines were to be consolidated. Austin P. Baldwin of Austin, Baldwin & Co., the New York agents for the Allan State Line, states that the story is not only a canard but a ridiculous one.

Both steamship companies run vessels between Glasgow and New York, and the Anchor Line also runs lines to the Mediterranean and the West Indies.

One Thousand Slain.

LAPAX, Bolivia, March 10.—An Indian outbreak occurred a few days ago and Government troops were sent to quell it. Advices just received state that a battle has been fought and that the Indians have been completely routed, with a loss of 1000 men.

The Heslop Trial.

HAMILTON, March 10.—The Wentworth Assizes opened yesterday before Judge Rose. The Heslop murder trial will not open until Monday.

The suit of Blackford v. Green, arising out of a split among the local undertakers was settled out of court.

A MELODRAMATIC TRAGEDY

The Villain in the Case Entraps a Poor Lass Murdering Her Lover.

SANTE FE, N.M., March 10.—Arrigo Martinez, a miner, just returned from a long stay in Mexico, was stabbed to the heart by his mother last evening in Rito, a Mexican plaza about 15 miles from here. Martinez went to Mexico some years ago to engage in mining, leaving behind a sweetheart whom he promised to return to and marry when his fortune was made.

George Ballston sought to marry the girl, and concocted the story that Martinez had been killed. The girl, however, refused to marry him. Then he sent word to be sent to Martinez that his lover was dead and the girl married.

Martinez returned to his native town, however, to find his sweetheart unmarried and his mother alive. But the first man he met was his supposed friend, Ballston, who persuaded him to visit his mother with him in disguise. Martinez was disguising himself his rival ran to the mother's house and said he would bring the slayer of her son in a few minutes, and that she should kill him.

When Rodrigo entered the enraged woman stabbed him to the heart. A moment later she discovered her mistake, whereupon she went raving mad and cut her throat.

LILLIE'S REVENGE.

Miss Russell Dismisses Her Rival for Theatrical Honors.

BOSTON, Mass., March 10.—Lillian Russell, the "fay fairy," has had revenge upon Miss Callie Claire, her leading lady, by dismissing her. Several Columbia College students were in the habit of bestowing costly floral offerings upon Miss Claire, greatly to Miss Russell's annoyance. The boys presented a floral chariot to Miss Attalie here, and the jealous Lillian kicked it, so to speak, into the street. Now the favored actress has been discharged.

PASSED A CONFEDERATE BILL.

And was Committed for Trial on a Charge of "Counterfeiting."

EXETER, March 10.—William Tyson, known as the dude tailor, handed a $10 Confederate bill to Frederick Miller, one of his employes. Miller passed the bill and Tyson was arrested.

Tyson said he got the Confederate bill at a store and had carried it six months. He had no idea that Miller would attempt to pass it.

The magistrate committed Tyson for trial. "You acted wrong," said he, "in having such a bill."

Orange Grand Lodge Officers.

OWEN SOUND, March 10.—The Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario West elected these officers yesterday: William Nicholson, grand master; J. L. Hughes, D.G.M.; W. Lockhart, A.D.G.M.; E. F. Clarke, grand treasurer; R. Birmingham, grand secretary; Rev. William Walsh, grand chaplain; Charles H. Baillie, grand lecturer; Charles Polling, G.D. of C.

The management of the Orange Mutual Benefit Society was discussed at length and transferred to Grand Lodge of British America.

The proceedings of the Grand Lodge came to a close at 6 o'clock. Orangeville was chosen as the next place of meeting.

At 7.30 p.m. the delegates marched in a procession headed by the Owen Sound band to the First Methodist Church, where the Grand Chaplain, Rev. William Walsh of Brampton, delivered an eloquent and interesting sermon.

Provincial Horse Show.

TORONTO, March 10.—The annual provincial stallion show which opened at the Drill Shed yesterday is a great success. An enthusiastic throng of horse-breeders were present. There was a full complement of entries in all classes, the quality of the candidates invariably grand, which shows the pains taken by Canadian importers and breeders. Here is the complete list of the awards:

Thoroughbred stallions, foaled previous to Jan. 1, 1889, Thorncliffe Stock Farm, Todmorden, Ont., Mikado 1; S. B. Fuller, Woodstock, Ont., Goodfellow 2; John B. Martin, Masonville, Ranelagh II. 3; Carter & Quinn, Brampton, Ont., Wiley Buckles, 4; James Carruthers, Toronto, Ont., Sam Wood.

The show will be commenced to-day, when a great array of shires and Clydesdales of all descriptions will be exhibited.

LOVES TO HEAR GLASS JINGLE.

Mary Rix Confesses That She Has Smashed Over 1000 Windows.

ASHLAND, Wis., March 10.—Mary Rix, known throughout the country as the "window-smasher," was arrested here this morning. She is quite portly and respectable, but cannot resist the temptation to smash windows.

She was a long time in the asylum at Oshkosh, but was released because she did not show the least symptoms of insanity. She was married recently to Otto Rix, a St. Paul druggist.

Damages For a Life.

WATERTOWN, N.Y., March 10.—The lawsuit resulting from the St. Lawrence-Catherine disaster of July 17, 1890, at Alexandria Bay, has been begun before Judge Williams at Watertown. Five persons met their death by drowning in this accident, which was due to a collision between the St. Lawrence, owned by the Thousand Island Steamboat Company, with the steam yacht Catherine, a Canadian craft owned by the Senecal family of Grenadier Island. The widow of John Senecal brings suit to recover $5000 damages against the company, holding that the St. Lawrence was responsible for the accident.

Bonding Our Coal Area Down East.

OTTAWA, March 10.—It is rumored that a syndicate of American capitalists has been bonding a considerable area of coal lands in Nova Scotia, in the belief that Congress will remove the duty on bituminous coal imported from Canada. One of the results of the free admission of coal to the United States would be the removal of duty on American bituminous imported into Ontario.

Gold in the Northwest.

WINNIPEG, March 10.—An explorer named Benson has brought into Rat Portage samples of gold which have set the town wild with excitement. Experts say the samples will run $2500 to ton.

TURNBULL'S.
LADIES' WHITE UNDERWEAR

We have opened out in our Millinery Show Room, (with entrance on either Simcoe or George Streets), a complete stock of Ladies' White Underwear and invite the ladies of Peterborough and County to call and inspect it whether they wish to buy or not. The work and finish on these goods is beautiful, in fact it would be impossible to have the same work done at home, and by a list of prices quoted below, it will be seen they cannot be made for the money, when you count material, embroidery, insertion, lace, etc:—

Corset Covers at 20c, 30, 45c.
Drawers at 25c, 45c, 50c, 65c, 75c, $1.00.
Skirts at 50c, 65c, 75c, $1.00. $1.25, $1.35.
Chemises at 25c, 50c, 65c, 75c.
Night Dresses at 50c, 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.25.
Aprons at 20c, 30c, 45c, 50c.
Blouses at 75c, $1.00 $1.25, $2.25, $2.50.

For our general stock this season, we have purchased more largely than ever. We are determined to procure for our customers the best value and newest goods in the market.

Our Dress Goods are beginning to arrive. We will have all the latest novelties as the season advances.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

Are a BLOOD BUILDER and NERVE TONIC.

They supply in condensed form ALL the substances needed to enrich the Blood and to rebuild the Nerves, thus making them a certain and speedy cure for all diseases arising from impoverished blood, and shattered nerves, such as paralysis, spinal disease, rheumatism, sciatica, locomotor-ataxy, erysipelas, palpitation of the heart, scrofula, chlorosis or green sickness, that tired feeling that affects so many, etc. They have a specific action on the sexual system of both men and women, restoring lost vigor.

WEAK MEN

(young and old), suffering from mental worry, overwork, insomnia, excesses, or self-abuse, should take these PILLS. They will restore lost energies, both physical and mental.

SUFFERING WOMEN

afflicted with the weaknesses peculiar to their sex, such as suppression of the periods, bearing down pains, weak back, ulcerations, etc., will find these pills an unfailing cure.

PALE AND SALLOW GIRLS

should take these Pills. They enrich the blood, restore health's roses to the cheeks and correct all irregularities.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS. These Pills are sold by all dealers only in boxes bearing our trade mark or will be sent by mail, post paid, on receipt of price—50 cents a box or 8 for $2.50.

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1892.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Young's saw mill has again started working, and is now in active operation, turning out lumber and shingles.

A petition signed by all the business men of Peterborough to have the G.T.R. line extended from Lakefield to Young's Point has been in circulation here during the past week. As the matter has been under consideration some time by the railway authorities, and as good facilities are offered for its construction, the road will likely be built at no distant date.

Mr. C. Young, who received the contract for supplying timber for the dam on the Otonabee River, has the timber cut and all the material ready for its construction.

Mr. McFarlane, of the Carlton House, has returned from a few days trip to Mr. Young's camp in the north. In his absence the business was ably conducted by our esteemed friend, Mr. Jas. Johnston.

Mrs. McFarlane is at present in Peterborough attending her sister, Mrs. Pope, who is very ill.

Dr. E. T. Miller, of Cross Plains, Wis., has expressed the opinion that, for obstinate cases of syphilis and scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the most effective remedy known to pharmacy. Wonderful cures have resulted from its use.

Cavanville.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The school concert has been postponed till the 18th inst. Practice is progressing and everything points towards a good time. Dr. N. C. McKinnon, of Mount Pleasant, will solemnly chair the meeting, while Brother William Pritchard will assume the role of tyler. Lovers of diversion call on us on the 18th—sure.

Mr. and Mrs. John Newton are indisposed at present, but we hope not seriously so.

The funeral of the late Kate Jeffrey took place on Friday last at 2 p.m. The place of interment was St. John's church, and the large concourse of friends who followed the body to the grave, showed the high respect in which deceased was held. The father and brothers of the deceased have the heart felt sympathy of the entire community.

The lecture on Thursday evening next by Rev. C. O. Johnson promises to be a drawing card. To hear Mr. Johnson on the subject of "Influence" will be a rare treat.

The success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is because it possesses true merit, and no claim is made for it which is not fully supported.

True Economy.

No matter how many hundred doses of any other medicine are offered for a dollar, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through drug gists, because it's guaranteed, and your money is returned if it doesn't benefit or cure. With its use you only pay for the good you get.

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1, at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

HIS BODY WAS FOOD FOR COYOTES.

A Nevada Ranchman Frozen to Death Three Miles From Home.

AUSTIN, Nev., March 9.—Leopold Bauman left Santa Rosa, Cal., last December for his ranch, 40 miles from here. He arrived at Cortez, Nev., Jan. 11, and left for home on horseback, about 35 miles.

The snow was 30 inches deep and the mercury very low.

His brother had occasion to go to Cortez a few days ago. Three miles from home he found Leopold's saddle, blanket and over-coat. Going to Cortez, he found that his brother had left there as related, though he never reached home. A searching party returned and found two human skeletons.

The supposition is that the horse gave out and Leopold started to walk home, but was frozen to death. The body was eaten by coyotes.

Monument for Lowell.

LONDON, March 9.—Leslie Stephen yesterday presided at a meeting of authors which was called to consider his project of erecting in Westminster Abbey a monument to the late James Russell Lowell. Those present included Sir Frederick Pollock, Edmund William Gosse, Walter Besant, William Lyon and William Jones Linton. A committee was appointed to raise a private fund for the Lowell memorial. James Bryce, Richard Blackmore, Archdeacon Farrar, Prof. Huxley, Andrew Lang, Sir John Lubbock, Justin McCarthy, the Earl of Portsmouth and other eminent men have written letters expressing approval of the project.

We Behold Their Workings and Stand Amazed.

How doth the lovely Diamond Dyes
Improve the days and hours,
By giving profit and surprises,
To those who test their pow'rs

How skilfully they do their work
At morning, noon and night,
On dresses, jackets, wraps and suits,
To every one's delight.

They spread their colors like a charm
It shades both dark and gray;
There's nothing 'bout them that can harm,
Or cause the least dismay.

A child can with the greatest ease,
These lovely colors use,
Can get results that always please—
That no one can refuse.

This lesson then is surely fraught
With hints so true and wise;
It means, if you would n'er be caught,
You must use Diamond Dyes.

GRAND DUKE LUDWIG VERY LOW.

Most of the Members of His Family Are at His Bedside.

BERLIN, March 8.—The Grand Duke Ludwig IV. of Hesse, who was stricken with paralysis at dinner on Friday evening, has surprised his physicians by living through the day. His pulse is very low, and he has frequently fits of unconsciousness. Only liquid food is administered to him. He has not spoken articulately, although he made several efforts to do so.

Most of his family are at his beside including her daughter, the Princess Henry of Prussia, and his heir, Prince Ernst Ludwig.

Despatches of inquiry as to his condition have been receiving from Emperor William, Queen Victoria, Luitpold, Regent of Bavaria and other German princes.

Found Dead in His Room.

WINNIPEG, March 8.—R. A. Spark, a well-known citizen, for many years in the employ of the Hudson Bay Company, was found dead in his room this morning.

Another Comet Found.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 8.—Prof. Swift of the Warner Observatory, discovered yesterday a bright telescopic comet. As read from the circles it was right ascension 18 hours, 59 minutes, declination south 31 degrees 20 minutes. It is moving in an easterly direction. It can be seen with an opera-glass, but no tail was visible through the great telescope.

A Wife's Dreadful End.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Richard Scanlan says he went home last night and found his wife in a compromising situation with his own brother, Michael Scanlan. Richard threw a lamp at his wife, setting fire to her clothing. She died in terrible agony. She would not admit that she was guilty of any indiscretion. She leaves a boy of 7 years and a babe of 8 months.

The Tunnel a Failure

CHICAGO, March 8.—The immense tunnel extending out four miles under Lake Michigan and large enough to drive a team of horses, which has been built for the purpose of increasing Chicago's water supply, has been pronounced a failure.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, mankind often groans from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw

Canada's Wonder.

The more it is known and the further it is carried to distant shores the greater grows the wonder. "Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Oarley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—E. S. Drake, M. D., Bellos, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

TRAIN ROBBER PERRY IN WAX.

The Bandit Sends for a Lawyer to Enjoin a Rochester Museum.

LYONS, N.Y., March 9. Oliver Curtis Perry, the train-robber, was shown to-day an advertisement in a Rochester newspaper announcing that a wax figure of Perry, clothed in the garments he wore when he shot Express Messenger McInerney, would be shown this week at the Robinson Musee.

Perry telegraphed a Troy attorney named Patterson to serve an injunction against the exhibition. The lawyer arrived this afternoon and went to Rochester.

Perry says he will stop the exhibition and see what there is in it for him afterwards.

RECIPROCITY AGREEMENT DRAFTED.

The Canadian Commission Will Report to Parliament.

OTTAWA, March 9.—In the House this afternoon Mr. Laurier asked Sir John Thompson whether there had been any result of the visit of the Canadian Commissioners to Washington which could be announced to the House. The Minister of Justice replied that there was some information in the form of correspondence which might be laid on the table of the House. An arrangement between the two governments had been drafted.

Mr. Laurier: "Have you this in writing, or was the agreement merely verbal?"

Sir John Thompson: "We have the draft agreement in writing and will shortly announce the terms to the House."

Capital Chit Chat.

OTTAWA, March 9.—It is just 40 days to-day since William Gibson, David Henderson and James H. THE LONDON PARLIAMENT.

An Overwhelming Victory for the Liberal Faction in the County Council.

LONDON, March 8.—The final returns of the elections for members of the London County Council, which were held Saturday, show the return of an overwhelming majority of Progressives or Liberals. The new council will consist of 84 Progressives and 34 Moderates or Conservatives.

Among the Conservatives elected is the Duke of Norfolk, one of the largest landlords of London, who is bitterly opposed to the so-called Socialistic tendencies of the Liberal members of the council.

Her Son Married Patti.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

A FEU DE JOIE BRINGS DEATH TO MANY.

Nineteen Members of a Wedding Party Killed or Injured — Hangman Berry Resigns Owing to a Disagreement With a Doctor About "The Drop."

CETTINJE, Montenegro, March 9.—A despatch from Kolaschin, on the frontier of Albania, reports that 40 Albanians who were escorting a wedding party to-day met a number of Montenegrins, who were building a bridge at Tara.

As the Montenegrins were passing the wedding party several of the Albanians, who were armed with rifles, fired a feu de joie.

One of the weapons had been unwittingly loaded with ball cartridge and one of the Montenegrins was shot.

The comrades of the wounded man became infuriated and poured a volley into the wedding party, killing and wounding 19 of them.

Hangman Berry Resigns.

LONDON, March 9.—Berry, the hangman of world-wide reputation, has resigned all of his official duties here because he was ordered by the prison doctor to change the length of the drop. Berry maintained that his long experience was worth more than all the doctors' theory and would not obey the order. When informed that he must change the length of the drop or resign, he promptly resigned.

To Swim Niagara River.

LONDON, March 9.—William J. Davis, the well-known swimmer of Sydney, N.S.W., who has been visiting here for a few weeks, left on Sunday for New York to attempt the feat by which Capt. Webb lost his life. Davis intends to swim the Niagara River, wearing nothing but ordinary swimming trunks. He will probably make the attempt from the Canadian side. He is powerfully built, 34 years of age and unmarried.

Changed on Account of Religion.

DUBLIN, March 9.—The case of Mrs. Anne Margaret Montagu, daughter-in-law of Lord Montagu, accused of causing the death of her infant daughter by cruel and inhuman punishment, has been removed for trial to Dublin. This has been done in deference to a feeling that as a convert to the Catholic religion from the Protestant she could not get justice in the county of Derry, where the alleged crime was committed and where the Orange element is very strong.

Murderer Wise.

LONDON, March 9.—At the trial to-day before the Dorset Assizes of George Wise, 16 years old, an apprentice on H. M. Majesty's training ship Boscawen, on the charge of murdering another lad named Salter, belonging to the same ship, the jury returned a verdict that Wise was not responsible for his actions, and it was ordered that he be confined in an asylum.

After the Grip

And after typhoid fever, diptheria, pneumonia, or other prostrating diseases, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what is needed to restore the strength and vigor so much desired, and to expel all poison from the blood. It has had wonderful success in many such cases.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver, rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

An inactive or torpid liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are best for old or young. dw

PARMELEE'S PILLS possess the power of acting specifically upon the diseased organs, stimulates to action the dormant energies of the system, thereby removing disease. In fact so great is the power of this medicine to cleanse and purify, that diseases of almost every name and nature are driven from the body. Mr. D. Carswell, Carswell P.O. Ont. writes:—"I have tried Parmelee's Pills and find them an excellent medicine, and one that will sell well." w10

POST MORTEM REVENGE.

A Widow's Unique Way of Murdering a Rival and a Faithless Lover.

PARIS, March 9.—The well worn Byronic quotation regarding the fury of a woman scorned is again recalled by a terrible tragedy at Rainey in the Department of Seine-et-Oise.

One of the leading residents was the Widow Tardiveau, wealthy, fat, fair and forty. One of her favorites was young Raoul Gomillin. He was not enamored of the widow but found it profitable to allow her to suppose that he was, and in time she became so infatuated that she proposed to set him up in business, an offer that he gladly accepted.

Raoul fell in love with Rosalie Bertol and an engagement and betrothal soon took place, which was necessarily followed by a severance of all relations between Mme. Tardiveau and young Gomillin. The widow at first was furious, but by degrees she grew more calm and then professed herself heartbroken. She soon fell into a decline and died of rapid consumption after a brief illness.

On her deathbed, Mme. Tardiveau granted a full and free pardon to the two amorous young people and in her will left the prospective bride a small gift of money accompanied by a pint of very rare old Malaga with a yellow seal. The bottle was not to be opened until the wedding day when it was to be drunk to the memory of the dear departed.

The widow died last month and on Wednesday of this week, the marriage took place, during the joyous festivities and at the end of the supper the wine was uncorked and the bride and groom, together with the best man, drank the contents. In a second they had fallen to the floor, dead. The wine had been mixed with prussic acid, and the widow was avenged.

THERE WAS A RESEMBLANCE.

At Least the Jury Thought So and Gave Plaintiff $500.

ST. CATHARINES, March 9.—At the Assizes Miss Sumner of Louth township obtained a verdict of $500 against Courtland Overholt for seduction. Counsel for plaintiff produced the baby in court and pointed out its resemblance to defendant.

"August Flower"

Dyspepsia. There is a gentleman at Malden-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., named Captain A. G. Pareis, who has written us a letter in which it is evident that he has made up his mind concerning some things, and this is what he says:

"I have used your preparation called August Flower in my family for seven or eight years. It is constantly in my house, and we consider it the best remedy for Indigestion, and Constipation we Indigestion. have ever used or known. My wife is troubled with Dyspepsia, and at times suffers very much after eating. The August Flower, however, relieves the difficulty. My wife frequently says to me when I am going to town, 'We are out Constipation of August Flower, and I think you had better get another bottle.' I am also troubled with Indigestion, and whenever I am, I take one or two teaspoonfuls before eating, for a day or two, and all trouble is removed." ●

A Masonic Lecture.

The regular communication of Corinthian Lodge held last evening was made unusually interesting by the visit of V. W. Bro. Dr. G. Sterling Ryerson, of Toronto, G.S.D., of the Grand Lodge of Canada. After the regular business the distinguished officer gave his historical lecture on Freemasonry. The address, which was full of new interest to the members of the craft, was heard with great attention and profit by the large number of brethren and visiting brethren present. A vote of thanks was tendered to Bro. Ryerson for his lecture.

A Large Real Estate Deal.

Mr. John Garvey, of London, has been in town for the past few days. Yesterday he sold his interest in the business block in which the City Hotel, Frank Fairen's billiard parlors, the vacant store formerly occupied by J. H. Pratt as a restaurant and Mr. Garvey's grocery and liquor store, are situated. Mr. Garvey sold out his interest to his former partner Mr. James Dolan, who now owns the whole block. The frontage on Geo ge street is 100½ feet and on Charlotte street 57½ feet. The block is three stories Title is a big deal to stars off the real estate business with this spring.

Belleville and the Grand Junction.

The city of Belleville has organized a deputation to wait on and ask the Ontario Government to refund to the city the bonus of $150,000 paid to the Grand Junction Railway. The city claims to have paid also an equivalent amount in interest. It also claims that the amalgamation with the Grand Trunk completely swept away all the rights and privileges that had been guaranteed the city, and because of which only the city was induced to grant the large sums mentioned. The controlling interest has passed from the city, the head offices have been fixed elsewhere, and the road now forms part of a through line from the Georgian Bay to the sea-board, thus diverting traffic past the city. It is in view of these facts that the city asks for a refund of the money that was given to the road originally.

Abolishing the Tramp Nuisance.

Alderman Curtis, Kingston, proposes to abolish the tramp nuisance in that city by providing a heap of stone and hammers and making tramps earn their bread. No work, no grub is his motto. He outlines his scheme as follows: He says:—"With the assistance of the council I will make a law that will make offenders sincerely believe the way of the transgressor is hard. I will have a stone pile in the middle of the market square and here criminals can pound stone from seven o'clock in the morning until six o'clock at night. I will allow them only two meals a day and I will guarantee they will not be troubled with indigestion. When sufficient work is got out of them I will have policemen escort them to the confines of the city. The officers will here part company with the loafers by using their boots on that part of the anatomy devoted to chairs. If this scheme is adopted I will guarantee that within three months after its inauguration members of this council, if they want to feast their eyes upon a tramp, will have to advertise for one."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

Business is Booming.

Messrs. J. J. Turner & Son have received an order for thirty boats for a large lumbering firm, of Calumbiaville, Michigan, now operating in the Parry Sound District.

Clearing Sale of Groceries.

As I am going extensively into liquors, I find it necessary to run off my entire stock of groceries to make room. So all requiring groceries will do well to bear this in mind as the stock must be run off within 30 days. W. J. MORROW, 340 George street.

Early in the Morn.

As early as six o'clock this morning Mr. R. Fair had a gang of a dozen men hauling a large consignment of English floor oil cloths to the carpet floor of the Golden Lion block in the fourth story. The hoist was made by means of a block and tackle. This looks as if there was big business on the tapis.

A Broken Arm.

This morning Mrs. T. Leplante, mother of Mr. N. T. Leplante, corner Locke and Romaine streets, fell from a chair to the floor and fractured her arm at the elbow. Dr. King reduced the fracture and the injured lady who is about 70 years of age is resting comfortably.

New Novels.

The latest issue of John Lovell & Son's "Star" Series of Choice Fiction, are "A Fatal Silence," by Florence Marryat, price 40c.; and "The Princess Mazaroff," by Joseph Hutton, price 40c. — both capital and entertaining writers. Remember March 23rd.

Yes, that is the date when the Peterborough Lodge No. 111, I. O. O. F., give their great entertainment in the Opera House. There will be manoeuvres by the Canton, a drill by sixteen members of the lodge in costume and quartettes by the best male voices in Peterborough. Secure your tickets early and see the tableaux "David before King Saul," and "Damon and Pythias." Tickets 25 and 50 cents.

Making Fast Friends.

Also fresh tenderloin, spare ribs, pigs feet, shanks, leaf lard, etc. Three pounds of sausage for a quarter. Prices and goods bound to please. New customers flocking to us every day. GEORGE CARTON, Pork Packer and Family Grocer, corner of George and Charlotte streets.

Electric Appliances.

Electricity is every day enlisting new enterprise in converting its wonderful energy to the uses and conveniences of man. Mr. G. L. Schaffer is now in the field, and has complete facilities for supplying hotels and private residences with electric bells, burglar alarms, medical batteries, annunciators, as well as all kinds of electrical supplies. Attention is called to the advertisement in another column.

Queen Esther Again.

The beautiful cantata of Queen Esther will be given again in Bradburn's Opera House April, 7th, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Charlotte street Methodist church, and under the direction of Mr. Ketcham. The first rehearsal will take place at Crosby's music hall to-morrow night at 8 o'clock. All those who took part in the first production are requested to be present on this occasion.

They Found What was Up.

An "investigation" was held yesterday afternoon in cause of the obstruction which prevented the gates from shutting down on the water wheels which run Faint's Mattress Factory and Mann's Woolen Mill. Several stones were found to be washed under the gates. They had been carried down by the ice in Dickson's race and been lodged under the gates, thus preventing them being closed. The manufactures which depend upon these waterwheels for their power, resumed operations this morning.

An Unfortunate Accident.

On Tuesday afternoon as Master J. H. Dixon, the twelve year old son of Mrs. Jas. Dixon, was turning a straw cutter in the barn, his hand slipped from the handle and was caught in the cogs of the wheels which were revolving rapidly. The index finger of his right hand was cut off close to the hand. His thumb has three or four bad gashes cut in it rather deeply. It is also broken. The second and third digits are also badly gashed and bruised in several places. Drs. Bell and Carmichael dressed the injured member. It is probable the thumb may have to be amputated.

Charity Concert.

The 17th of March being a day dear to the heart of every Irishman, the occasion will be celebrated by a grand concert in aid of the House of Providence, Peterborough, at which some of the best talent that can be procured will take part. The committee have been very fortunate in securing the assistance of Miss. W. J. MORROW, whose well known fame as a pianiste should of itself ensure a crowded house. In connection with the concert will be a lecture delivered by the Rev. Father Jeffcott, of Pickering. Popular prices of admission. Plan of hall at Greatrex' Drug store.

Funeral of Master Arnold Green.

The funeral of the late Arnold Green, son of Mr. John W. Green, 32 Division street, took place at 3 o'clock this afternoon, and was largely attended by his young friends and companions. The deceased was only in his thirteenth year. He was a student in Miss Davidson's room in the Central School. The pupils of Misses Perry, Davinson and Jeakins sent a handsome wreath. The deceased was kindly remembered by floral tributes from the Boys' Branch of the Junior Y. M.C.A., of which he was a member. They attended the funeral in a body. The remains were interred in the Little Lake Cemetery.

Wedding Bells.

Last evening a very pleasant time was spent at the residence of Mr. Alexander Edmison, of Smith, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Annie Alice Horwood, an adopted daughter, to Mr. James McEwan, of Turtle Mountain, Man. The Rev. Mr. Macwilliams, of St. Andrew's, Peterborough, performed the ceremony. There was a large number of young people present, chiefly friends and relatives of the bride and bridegroom. The very many handsome presents received indicate the high esteem in which the bride is held. The kind wishes of a large number of friends will follow the young couple to their new home in the West, for which they start early next week.

Useful Recipe.

To prepare at a small cost a good TONIC WINE, for improving the appetite, aiding digestion and strengthening the system.

Taking a 25cts packet of Indigenous Bitters which will make two quarts of the best tonic wine, procure a two quart bottle of cold water and pass through the marc which remains in the strainer three bottles of sherry wine at from $1.75 to $2.00 per gallon. This wine is very valuable on account of its medical properties. It strengthens the stomach, increases the appetite, prevents or arrests nausea, regulates the bowels and invigorates the whole system. If care be had to take it regularly in doses of at least one tablespoonful before or after meals it will prove of wonderful service to all whose stomachs do not perform their proper functions and every one knows the importance of the stomach to the human organism. As the Indigenous Bitters are only composed of plants, roots and barks, and contain no mineral drug nor any dangerous medicine whatsoever this tonic wine may be administered without the slightest inconvenience alike to the weak and the strong.

Important notice—Do not take anything in place of the Indigenous Bitters. If your druggist has none ask him to get them for you. Without the true "Indigenous Bitters," this receipt is worthless. And they are not sold by weight but only in 25cts. packets. 1d

All Night Electric Lights.

The New System About Ready for Operation.

A representative of the EXAMINER this morning dropped into 134 Brock street, the up-town laboratory of the Peterborough Electric Light and Power Company and found H. O. Fisk, electrician of the company, in the midst of nearly two score of blazing arc lamps, among which he moved like some mediæval alchemist in his cell. He was begoggled as to his eyes, for the intense glare of so many electric lights in so confined a space—a little room about 12x30 feet—was almost as painful to the unprotected eye as the noon day blaze of the sun. The intense heat emitted made the room exceedingly hot, and the newspaper man had no reason to complain of the warmth of his reception, while he was charmed with the kindness with which Mr. Fisk answered the few questions asked. Mr. Fisk is an enthusiastic electrician, and from pure love of it goes far deeper into the study of electricity and electrical subjects than the mechanical requirements of his position demands, and therefore he is always ready to talk of the subject, which he can do with great intelligence. After illuminating the mind of the scribe with a flow of electric light, which, however, would if detailed throw no pertinent light on the subject of this article, Mr. Fisk explained that he was adjusting the new lamps for the

and also re-adjusting some of the old lamps for the same service. The new lamps, as well as the older ones, are filled with carbons of larger diameter, combustion being slower, so that the carbons will last all night. Everything is in readiness now for beginning the all-night service at an early date. The poles are all in place, the wires are all in place, and the lamps have only to be placed in position, and the current turned on, to have seventy-five brilliant electric lights pouring their radiance over the town. To provide electricity sufficient for the increased lights demanded under the contract, it was necessary to increase the dynamo capacity. A new 40-arc light dynamo has been put in, making six arc dynamos with a total capacity of 370,000 candle power, together with one incandescent dynamo. There is 200 h.p. available for driving three dynamos with any amount of reserve power in sight.

There has been some remark made of the delay in getting the extra lights burning. It must be borne in mind that it was well on in the first week in January that the contract with the town was signed. The company at once placed their order for the new dynamo needed and for the extra lamps. The new dynamo only came to hand a few days ago, and has been put into working order in the shortest possible time, and the lamps only came yesterday and they were, as stated above, adjusted to-day, and are ready for mounting on the poles. The new lamps will be ready for the current in a few days, and within a short time the all-night system of seventy-five lamps will be in full blaze.

St John's Lenten Lectures.

Rev. C. B. Kenrick tells of Cathedrals he has Visited.

Last night there was a large congregation at St. John's Church to attend the regular Wednesday evening Lenten services. Rev. W. M. Loucks conducted the services. At the conclusion of the services Rev. C. B. Kenrick lectured on the subject of "Cathedrals I have visited." He stated first that his lecture would be of a simple and informal nature, a description of Cathedral buildings in England, not from a technical stand point, but just as they had struck him. He then proceeded to describe the various parts of a Cathedral at considerable length, as well as the functions of its various clergy and the uses of its different parts. He portrayed the glories of the majestic towers and sculptured interiors, of the traceried windows with their many hued panes, the massive buttresses and graceful pinnacles, the mosaic floors and carved screens, and the beautiful chanted services of the white robed priests and choristers who sang their daily matins and evensong throughout the entire year. Of especially, Canberbury, Oxford, St Paul's, Ely, Lincoln, York and Peterborough. Visits to all of these had wonderfully impressed him. The grandeur of their proportions and the vastness of their size—some being upwards of 500 feet from end to end, and 200 feet across the transepts—the height of their towers, the long narrow vista of their interiors, the altitude of their vaulted roofs, the splendour of their ornamentation, the beauty of their music, had left impressions never to be effaced. After speaking of these various things at considerable length, he pointed out what valuable lessons might be learnt from the contemplation of these great works of piety; chiefly the unchangeable character of the Christian faith as suggested by those mighty piles rising up from the forest of roofs, where men dwelt far below them; the duty of worship as taught by the majesty of the buildings, which had been erected solely for God's glory in contrast to the rush-bottomed seats and hard floors, where the worshippers sat and knelt; and, lastly, the historic continuity of the church to which they belonged, in common with their forefathers, who had worshipped in those fanes from the remote ages of the past.

PARTICULAR CATHEDRALS, HE DWELT ON,

St. Luke's Laconics.

Last night there was a large congregation at the regular Wednesday evening Lenten services. Rev. J. W. McCleary, rector, conducted the services and the special sermon was preached by Rev. W. Allan, of Millbrook, who took for his text the words "Jesus of Nazareth passeth by." In the course of a very able and earnest discussion he impressed the necessity of using the season of Lent with its special opportunities of drawing near to Jesus Christ as he is "passing by."

Last Sunday was temperance Sunday in the Diocese of Toronto and it was fittingly observed at St. Luke's.

Next Sunday Rev. G. Warren, of Lakefield, will take the services at St. Luke's, and Rev. Mr. McCleary will take those service in Lakefield.

There will be daily services in St. Luke's at 5 p.m. except on Wednesday when it will be special with an address at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. McCleary, rector, after this week will exchange work with his brother, Rev. J. A. McCleary, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Washington, N.J. He comes next week and on Monday the rector of St. Luke's will start for New Jersey, visiting Buffalo and New York en route.

Real Estate Changes.

The real estate agents of the town report spring sales as beginning well. A great number of properties, blocks, residences and lots have already changed hands, and the prospects for more sales and changes as the spring advances are very favourable. This speaks well for the progress and growth of Peterborough and her interests.

Messrs. [illegible] & Skinner, real estate agents, report the following sales which they have made recently:

Mr. Ralph Carton has sold a lot on Homewood avenue to Mr. Thos. Wilson.

Mr. Harry Cross, of Montreal, formerly of this town, has sold a lot on Rubidge street to Mr. Samuel Hall.

Mr. Arthur Tebb, who has removed to Vancouver, B.C., has sold his lot on Smith street, on which are situated a fine frame house and barn, to Mr. John Kerr.

Mrs. Jas. Dixon has sold five lots on High street to Mr. Robert Fife. These transactions represent about $3 000.

Y.M.C.A. Notes.

The gymnasium classes are filling up. New apparatus has been added and will be in position this week, which will make the gymnasium very complete and attractive to the young men. Any young man of good moral character without regard to creed can become members. We aim at body building and discountenance the making of athletes. The class meets to-night at 8 p.m., and is under the supervision of Sergt.-Major Rundle, who will be pleased to welcome many more to the classes.

Bible class for young men to-night from 8 to 9. All are welcome to enjoy the study of the word of God.

Personal.

Mr. W. R. Greatrex was in Toronto on a business trip yesterday.

Mr. Adam Hall was able to come down to his place of business to-day after his recent attack of la grippe,

Mr. W. E. G. Thompson, Orono, entered the Peterborough Business College yesterday for a course in ornamental penmanship.

Mr. H. E. Brentnell and wife stopped over night at the Grand Central hotel. They are a new married couple hailing from the Bay City and are on their honeymoon. They left this morning for Lindsay.

Mr. J. A. Richardson, of Toronto, Canadian passenger agent of the Great Wabash Line, was in town last night on his way from a trip east in the interest of his company—arranging for one of their popular Southern California excursions, which leaves Toronto next week. The Wabash claims to be the banner excursion line from Ontario to Mexico, California and Pacific Coast points, and if "Joe's" persuasive powers do not succeed in educating the travelling public into a practical belief in the correctness of this claim, they must be very dull of understanding.

The Gzowski Challenge Cup.

The Durham Field Battery Holds it "For Keeps."

On Monday, says the Port Hope Guide, Major McLean received the Col. Gzowski Challenge Cup, over which so much artillery powder has been burned. It is now the property of the Durham Field Battery and is no longer open for competition. The Battery and its commander are not proud of this valuable trophy without cause. Aside from its monetary and artistic value, it is a prize which an organization may well be proud of. It is on exhibition in the window of the telephone office. The following are the inscriptions:

THE ELECTIONS.

Liberal Whip Trow Defeated in South Perth—Other Contests.

ST. MARY'S, March 11.—The election to fill the South Perth vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the unseating of James Trow (Liberal) took place yesterday, and resulted in the return of Mr. William Pridham, the Conservative candidate, who defeated Mr. Trow by a majority of 26. The majorities:

	Trow.	Pridham.
St. Mary's	9	..
Dowuie	170	..
Usborne	..	110
Hibbert	138	..
Mitchell	..	28
Fullarton	..	48
Blanshard	..	157
	317	343

Majority for Fridham, 26.

Mr. Trow's majority at the general election was 176. The constituency had been Liberal since Confederation.

By Acclamation in Brome.

QUEBEC, March 11.—E. A. Dyer, Conservative, has been elected by acclamation in Brome county for the House of Commons.

At the general election Mr. Dyer was declared the choice of the electorate by a majority of 3, but on a protest was unseated. His old opponent, Mr. Fisher, was expected to have again made a struggle to capture the honors.

Israel Tarte's Seat.

QUEBEC, March 11.—Mr. Joseph Dussault, Liberal candidate in Montmorency, has resigned, and Mr. Turcotte (Conservative) is therefore elected by acclamation.

Montmorency at the general election returned by a majority of 107 Mr. Israel Tarte, of La Canadien newspaper, and who made himself notorious by his prominence in the Langevin-McGreevy scandal enquiry. Mr. Tarte was unseated on account of corrupt practices by agents.

The Writ for Carleton.

OTTAWA, March 11.—The writ has been issued for an election in the county of Carleton, N.B. Nominations take place on the 30th March, and polling a week later.

Hon. Mr. Chapleau.

MONTREAL, March 11. The Hon. Mr. Chapleau, who has been taking a southern tour for the benefit of his health, will arrive home next Wednesday. The trip has done Mr. Chapleau much good, and letters from him state that his health is considerably improved.

SUPPOSED SUICIDE.

Mysterious Disappearance of a Stranger at Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 11.—Lothrop Cook of Lewiston, N.Y., arrived at the bridge, on the American side, yesterday afternoon and went direct to the Rapids View elevator, a point of interest on the river between the old Suspension and Cantilever bridges, arriving there about half past four. He was lowered by the incline railway to the landing below the bank.

Two strangers who were visiting the place noticed Cook pass along the path towards the water's edge below them. That was the last seen of him. Whether he committed suicide or accidentally slipped into the rapids has not been ascertained.

His brother, William Cook, superviser of the town of Lewiston, has had the river at Lewiston closely watched for the body.

It is said the missing man was related to President Hayes, also Judge Lothrop Cook, Captain Cook, United States Army, and Bates Cook, comptroller of the State of New York.

Gigantic Coal Combine.

NEW YORK, March 11.—It was definitely learned yesterday that binding agreements have been entered into between nearly all the anthracite carrying and producing companies for the purpose of maintaining rates and restricting production.

Slain on His Sled.

DURHAM, Ont., March 11.—James Wilson, grandson of William Wilson of the 3rd concession south, was coasting on the crust of the snow near his home on a sleigh drawn by a dog The dog endeavored to pass a team laden with ice driven by Mr. Mark Willis and turned into the track in front of the horses a little too soon. The front foot of one of the animals was planted on the boy's head and his body immediately afterwards kicked out of the track by the frightened horse. Twelve pieces of bone were removed from the brain, but he cannot recover.

Death Followed Mumps.

ODESSA, Ont., March 11.—Herchel Stover, the victim of a serious case of paralysis contracted from a relapse of the mumps, passed away on Tuesday.

Left His Leg in a Hay Press.

BARRIE, March 11.—A young man named William Emms, while assisting to press hay at the farm of Oliver Bell, Oro, got his foot caught in the hay press while it was in motion. The foot was mangled, and will have to be amputated.

The Heslop Trial.

HAMILTON, March 11.—The grand jury at the Assizes are considering the Heslop cases. Detective Greer states that the case against the accused has been materially strengthened. Admission to the court, which will only seat 400, will be by ticket.

$25,000 Opera House At Lindsay.

LINDSAY, March 11.—A joint stock company is being formed to erect an opera house here at a cost of $25,000.

Born With Two Bodies.

PERTH, Ind., March 11.—A child with two perfect bodies from the stomach up was born to Mrs. Amy Briggs Monday night. Both heads were well formed and thickly clad with hair. The little wonder only had one stomach and two legs. It lived 30 minutes.

In Favor of Arbitration.

LONDON, March 11.—Petitions are now in circulation for signatures among the various labor organizations of England and will soon be presented to Parliament, favoring the submittal of all disputes between Great Britain and the United States to arbitration.

No More Free Bread in Vienna.

VIENNA, March 11.—The police of this city have issued orders forbidding the further distribution of free bread here to persons who are out of employment and are in needy circumstances.

Tupper Honored.

EDINBURGH, March 11.—The University of Edinburgh will confer the degree of LL.D. on Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian High Commissioner.

Ludwig May Pull Through.

DARMSTADT, March 11.—The Grand Duke of Hesse, who on Saturday last was stricken with paralysis, shows marked improvement.

Why Women Shouldn't Vote.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 11.—The Legislature yesterday voted down, by a majority of four, the bill to extend the provincial electoral franchise to widows and spinsters now qualified to vote under the municipal franchise.

Attorney-General Longley did not think women would be able to fulfil their divine mission of rearing families if given the electoral franchise.

Mr. Tupper, member for Digby, raised a great laugh at the Attorney-General's expense by pointing out that the bill only proposed to give votes to widows and spinsters.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

ESQUIMALT FORTS AND BEHRING SEA.

Important Discussion in the British House of Commons—Fierce Fighting at Witu—1,000 British Miners Idle—Fierce Storms in Britain.

LONDON, March 11.—The question of the defences of the harbor of Esquimalt, Vancouver Island, was raised in the Commons yesterday.

Ronald Ferguson, Liberal member for Leith, asked the First Lord of the Admiralty a series of questions. As to the proportion of cost of protection to be met by and authority over the garrison held by the Canadian Government.

The impression left by his enquiries and by the emphatic "Hear," with which the last six were greeted from the Opposition was that he intended to say that Canada had drifted too far toward the United States to be trusted to co-operate with the Mother Country in case of trouble with the American Government.

In his reply First Lord of the Admiralty Hamilton stated that the questions were prompted by suppositions at once injudicious and dangerous, and declined to answer them.

Behring Sea.

Under Secretary Lowther of the Foreig Office in response to questions of Mr. Gourley as to the report of the Behring Sea Commission said that points upon which no agreement could be arrived at and these were the main points he added, concerned the length of the season round the islands. These questions would be referred to the Arbitration Committee for settlement."

LONDON, March 11.—The news from America is the absorbing topic of discussion so far as foreign affairs are concerned, and it is intimated strongly that should the American Government attempt retaliation against Canada England will withdraw from arbitration and meet any issue the United States may choose to raise in Behring Sea with a plain assertion of the right of English subjects to hunt for seal outside of the recognized limit of United States jurisdiction.

LONDON, March 11.—The Standard, commenting on the Behring Sea question, says:

"We can not help thinking that President Harrison is trading overmuch on our past amiability. The Wharton message completely represent the attitude and argument of Lord Salisbury besides begging the whole question in dispute. The suggestion that England would only be too glad if arbitration was abandoned is too ridiculous to be discussed. Lord Salisbury is bound to protect English rights as far as it is possible and just to do so, and we must assure our friends in America in all good humor that no amount of browbeating is likely to force him into abandoning that responsibility.

WASHINGTON, March 11.—Inquiry of the various executive departments dealing with the question elicits the information that the President will take no further action in regard to the Behring Sea matter until he shall have received a reply from Lord Salisbury to Mr. Wharton's note of March 8 insisting on a renewal of she modus vivendi of last year as an essential condition to the settlement of the controversy by arbitration.

10,000 Miners Will Be Idle.

LONDON, March 11.—The Durham miners have decided in favor of quitting work for two weeks or longer, beginning on Saturday next.

The Scottish miners, with the exception of those employed in the Stirling district, have decided not to strike, but will limit their work to five days a week.

The Durham miners' decision to strike has caused the Athole and Cleveland iron masters to prepare to damp down their furnaces. The iron and steel works will also close, throwing out of work 10,000 men.

The Xeres Anarchists.

CADIZ, March 11.—All the Xeres Anarchists were discharged yesterday.

Immediately after their acquittal the Anarchists were charged on other counts and were ordered back to prison.

On the way to the prison the gendarmes conducting the prisoners were attacked by an Anarchist mob, and a severe conflict ensued in which several gendarmes and ten Anarchists were wounded.

Thirty persons were arrested.

Fighting at Witu.

ZANZIBAR, March 11.—The British East Africa Company's troops have sustained a severe defeat in Witu at the hands of a large force of natives, losing many men and a Maxim gun.

Emperor William Ill.

BERLIN, March 11.—Emperor William is confined to bed. His physicians say he is suffering from a slight cold. Some alarm, however, is felt concerning his condition, for it is known he has not recovered the repose of state affairs which it is customary for heads of the different departments to make to him daily.

Dr. Vulcovitch's Murder.

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 11.—Christo Lew, a Bulgarian, who has been arrested here, has confessed that the Odessa Committee of Bulgarian refugees recently commissioned him to murder Dr. Vulcovitch but that he declined, whereupon two Russians, unknown to him, were entrusted with and carried out the task.

A Faint-Hearted Emperor.

VIENNA, March 11.—Emperor Francis Joseph has commuted the sentence of Rosalie Schneider to penal servitude for life. Her husband, Frank Schneider, will be executed.

The Schneiders were found guilty of robbing and murdering a number of servant girls whom they enticed to their home on the pretence of giving them employment.

Saved by the Life Line.

LONDON, March 11.—The British steamer County of Salop was driven ashore at Bede, a seaport of Cornwall, on the British channel, yesterday. The crew of 30 men were rescued after great difficulty by the coast guard with life lines.

Sensational Murder in Vienna.

VIENNA, March 11.—The aged sacristan of St. Stephen's Cathedral in this city was found murdered yesterday in his room at the residence of the Prince Bishop of Vienna. The case is surrounded with mystery and has caused considerable excitement.

A Victory for the Army.

LONDON, March 11.—The bill depriving the Eastbourne municipal authorities of the power to prevent the Salvation Army from parading the streets of that town with bands passed its second reading in the House of Commons yesterday.

Another Keeley Patient Crazy.

CHICAGO, March 10. Farmer L. Williams, an inventor and patentee of a process of making cordage twine out of paper, shot himself through the breast last night and will probably die. Williams left Dr. Keeley's institute at Dwight four weeks ago and has acted strangely at times, but was cured of the liquor habit.

Erastus Wiman Resigns.

NEW YORK, March 10.—Erastus Wiman has sent a letter to the directors of the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company, resigning his position as president of that organization.

NEWS FROM THE CAPITAL

MANY DEPUTATIONS INTERVIEWED THE MINISTERS.

White, Fish and Salmon Trout Close Season—The Millers and the Trouble With Newfoundland—Marine Men and Canadian Canal Rebates.

OTTAWA, March 11.—A large delegation representing the Dominion Millers' Association arrived in this city yesterday, and during the forenoon had an interview with Premier Abbott and other members of the Cabinet. The delegation was composed of Messrs. M. McLaughlin and John Brown, Toronto; Mr. Baird of Whitelaw, Baird & Co., Paris; Messrs. J. D. Saunby, London; W. B. Robson, Hamilton, and Charles B. Watts, secretary of the association, Toronto.

One of the principal questions which affects the milling industry for the present is the trouble which exists between Canada and Newfoundland, and which culminated in the latter colony imposing an extremely heavy duty on Canadian products entering the Island. This is most particularly felt by those engaged in the flour trade.

Some changes in the Inspection Act were pressed upon the Minister of Inland Revenue, under whose department the matter comes. At the last annual meeting of the association resolutions were passed asking changes in the manner of choosing delegates to select the standards of flour and desiring that the Dominion millers should have representation on these boards, and also requesting a change in the time of selecting these standards. In the meantime the millers have no representation on these boards, although they have large interests at stake.

The Government was also asked that the standards be selected twice a year instead of once. This is desired because the original standard will bleach so much in the course of time, and consequently it will take more wheat to make flour of the same color after the winter months have gone by.

There were one or two other minor changes which the delegates desired in the act.

A deputation will interview the Government and ask that no alteration be made in the direction suggested by the United States authorities regarding the question of rebates on grain passing through the St. Lawrence canals.

Manitoba School Question.

D'Alton McCarthy, M.P., put in an appearance in the House yesterday. He had a long conference with Lieut.-Col. O'Brien. Mr. McCarthy said that a motion would be made by Sir Horace Davey before the Judicial Committee of the Imperial Privy Council on Saturday asking leave to appeal in the Manitoba school cases from the judgment of the Supreme Court and the Court of Queen's Bench, Winnipeg. If this was granted he would go to England next summer to argue the case for the Manitoba Government.

White Fish and Salmon Trout.

A deputation from the Canadian Inland Association of Fishermen arrived here today and urged upon Mr. Tupper to do away with the close season on white fish and salmon trout in the inland waters, and also to increase the number of hatcheries. This increasing of the hatcheries would more than compensate for the loss of the close seasons. Mr. Tupper would not promise to abolish the close season.

A Kingston Deputation.

Messrs. R. T. Walkem, Q.C., Muckleston, Campbell and Richardson of Kingston had an interview with the Deputy-Minister of Public Works this morning in reference to the lighting of Government offices, buildings and wharves in Kingston.

Nearly all the Kingston visitors are also here with the idea of forming a committee of Senators and members to assist in the movement for erecting a national memorial to Sir John Macdonald in the Limestone City. They have already secured promises of assistance from several of the ministers and many of the members.

The Duty on Binder Twine.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 11.—A private message says that the Dominion Government will take the duty off binding twine at this session as a special concession to the Northwestern farmers.

HEMMED IN BY FLAMES.

A Woman Drops Five Stories into Men's Arms and Escapes Injury.

NEW YORK, March 11.—At 12.30 p.m. yesterday fire broke out on the fourth floor of the five-story tenement house, 236 East 59th street.

A family named Knobloch live on the top floor. Katie Knobloch, 18 years old, was in charge of two children when the fire broke out. Smoke rendered escape by the stairway impossible.

Katie was panic-stricken. She held one child out of the window until weakness compelled her to let it fall. The child fell five stories to the sidewalk and died soon afterwards.

Katie held the other child out of the window and let it fall into the arms of Peter Clancy. This child was only slightly injured.

Katie then climbed out of the window herself, and after hanging suspended from the sill for two minutes let go and dropped.

Clancy got several other men around him, and as the girl fell they caught her in their arms, thus saving her life.

RICHES HAVE WINGS.

How the Late Bishop Fuller's Estate Has Dwindled.

HAMILTON, March 11.—No better instance of the evanescent character of worldly wealth could be cited than the case of the late Bishop Fuller's estate. Six years ago the will of the late Bishop of Niagara was probated at a large amount, the personalty alone being over half a million dollars. Yesterday application for the probate of the will of the late Mrs. Fuller was filed, and in the schedule the estate of the widow is valued at $400. The applicants for probate are Shelton B. Fuller and H. H. Fuller. In addition to the late bishop's estate, which amounted to about $600,000, the widow had a fortune of her own, valued at nearly $300,000, all of which she turned over to the creditors of the family when the assignment was made. Where did it go? Into unremunerative ranches in the west, Jersey stock raising in Ontario, dairy farming on a large scale and various business ventures that failed to pan out.

Ballot for Women in France.

PARIS, March 11.—The Chamber of Deputies yesterday adopted a proposal giving to women the right to vote in elections for members of the Conseils des Prudhommes, but rejected a motion making women eligible as members of these conseils.

Died While Combing Her Hair.

PORT ROYAL, Ont., March 11.—Mrs. Walker of Houghton, who was visiting Mrs. Henry Procunier here, arose as usual, dressed and washed herself and was in the act of combing her hair when she sank to the floor and died in two minutes.

Swallowed a Castor Lid.

RIDGETOWN, Ont., March 11.—James Page was swallowing a raw egg. The top of a pepper box cover happened to be dropped into the cup containing the egg. Mr. Page swallowed the egg, pepper box cover and all. The cover lodged in his larynx. The holes in the cover by admitting air to his lungs prevented Page choking to death. Drs. Young and Stalker were called and finally succeeded in fishing out the cover.

Saved by the Staple.

MARKHAM, Ont., March 11.—A young resident of Sutton, named York, who recently married a daughter of David Torbitt, of the same place, tried to hang himself in the barn, but the staple to which the rope was attached drew out and he was discovered before the attempt could be renewed.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A regular meeting of the Lakefield School Board was held in the town hall on Tuesday evening, March 8th. Present, Mr. Thos. Gordon, chairman, Messrs. Dr. Fraser, White, Payne and Deuch. Minutes of last meeting read and adopted. A communication was received from the head master giving the honor roll, (which is given below), and wanting a new hand bell and black board brushes, also calling attention to the water pipes. The report was on motion adopted and the necessary wants to receive attention. Moved by Dr. Fraser, seconded by Mr. White, that our former teacher, Miss Sherin's request for a testimonial from the board as to her efficiency as a teacher in our school be granted, and that Messrs. Graham, Deuch and the mover be a committee to draft same—Carried. Moved by Mr. White, seconded by Mr. Payne, that the Finance Committee be empowered to make an estimate of the amount of money required for school purposes for the current quarter, and that they notify the clerk of the municipality with regard to same.—Carried. Moved by Mr. Payne, seconded by Mr. Deuch, that the accounts of Wm. Smith for 50 cents for supplies be paid, it having been found correct by the Finance Committee.—Carried. The Board then adjourned.

HONOR ROLL FOR FEBRUARY.

DEPT. I, senior third—Nellie Cox, Zoe McKinney, Ella Hourigan; junior fifth—Isaac Garbutt, Jessie Campbell, Annie Springer; senior fourth — Fred Stubbs, Mary Morrison, Willie Snow; junior fourth — Rollie Garbutt, Evelyn Chaney, Rollie Richardson.

DEPT. II. senior third—Wessley Wagner, Aggie Buckley, Theodore Crawford; Intermediate third—Clara Cunnigham, Ethelbert Moore, Maggie Blakely; junior third—Alfred Nichols, Robert White, Lillie Ridpath.

DEPT. III, senior third — Myrtle Fitzgerald, David Haston, Tryphena Chaney; intermediate third—Elizabeth Noyes, Emerson Moore, Elsa Stubbs; junior third — Lillie Martin, Winfred Fisher, Mary White.

DEPT. IV, senior part two—Reg. Hendren, Edward Watson, Annie Wannamaker; junior part two—Richard Shannon, Ella Down, Ida Mary Millage; part one—Henry Stubbs, Morley Sloan, Richard Warren.

WARD SCHOOL—Senior part two — Willie Blakely, James Hanrahan, George Whatley; junior part two—Fred Crawford, Maggie Murdoff, Joe Carveth; senior part one—Carrie Murdoff, Willie Foley, Violet Crawford and Wm. Hanrahan equal; junior part one —Sam Edwards, Willie Morrison, Frank Blakely.

The Port Hope Times is evidently astonished at the action of the village council consolidating all their minor offices under the management of one man, as evinced by the following remarks:

"The Lakefield council at its last session employed Wm. Doidge at a salary of $300 to act as assessor, collector, constable and road-master. Mr. Doidge has a contract on his hands; a breach of the peace may take place at one end of the village while he is at the other assessing. An accident may happen to one of the streets while he is performing his duty as constable, and while he is doing the collecting the whole blooming corporation may be stolen by a couple of clever burglars. We are surprised he had not been appointed fire brigade, street waterer and market clerk.

The letters, etc., should have followed the word roadmaster, which implies he is also to act as caretaker of fire hall, drive the water cart in summer, the snow plough in winter, act as truant officer, attend the electric lights, the school board, and council meetings. So you see we are ahead of your southern contemporary's surmises. He does not know what clever men we have in the back country, and if they require an all round man in Port Hope, send up and there are several disappointed applicants for Mr. Doidge's duties.

The Indians are still bringing in large quantities of fish to the village, one brought in a muskinonge on Tuesday that weighed 26 pounds, and two of 18 and 20 were brought in last week.

Dr. E. T. Miller, of Cross Plains, Wis., has expressed the opinion that, for obstinate cases of syphilis and scrofula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the most effective remedy known to pharmacy. Wonderful cures have resulted from its use.

True Economy.

No matter how many hundred doses of any other medicine are offered for a dollar, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the cheapest blood-purifier sold, through druggists, because it's guaranteed, and your money is returned if it doesn't benefit or cure. With its use you only pay for the good you get. Can you ask more? a

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and raised thousands. About Canadian Newspapers.

Sketch of the Rise and Progress of the Press.

The progress made by the British North American provinces since they became a Confederation is in no way more strikingly illustrated than in the advance made by the Press. This can be shewn, whether we regard the literary talent attracted to the Canadian press, the growth in mere numbers of newspapers, or the expansion in the circulation and wealth of the leading journals. No town nor district of importance is now left without a newspaper champion of its local rights, while almost every leading branch of science, art and trade has some journal making its particular interest a special study.

Many highly instructive facts bearing on the progress of Canadian newspapers appear in a new hand-book of the Canadian Press just issued by A. McKim & Co., Newspaper Advertising Agents, Montreal, to whose enterprise we are indebted for the first Directory of Canadian newspapers that at all approaches a completeness.

It is certainly time that Canada had a newspaper directory of its own, instead of looking to foreign sources for information of its press, and the work just issued reflects credit upon the skill and enterprise of the publishers. It has over 200 more papers than are reported in any other directory, and the information is very comprehensive indeed, as the gives a gazetteer of each newspaper town which embraces everything that could be of interest, from a business point of view. Regarding each newspaper it gives full particulars, touching every point on which accurate information is obtainable.

Mr. Anson McKim, the proprietor of the Advertising Agency from which this work is issued, has been in the advertising business about 13 years, having started as special agent of the Toronto Mail in Montreal in 1879.

It is now less than 4 years since he opened out in the Newspaper Advertising Agency business in Montreal under the style of A. McKim & Co., and the success already achieved by this enterprising firm can only be the result of experience, industry and indefatigable attention to every detail of the business.

Perhaps it is not too much to say that this agency now handles more business with Canadian newspapers than all other agencies combined, which shows that the firm not only enjoys the confidence of the many large advertisers whose business they control, but that of the Canadian publishers as well.

One of the most interesting features of the work is a history of Canadian journalism, in which an account is given of the first papers published in each province, with a sketch of the rise and progress of the most noteworthy papers down to a comparatively recent period. Many curious facts are given about these early papers, and the sketch, which contains much material that has not hitherto seen the light,

IS THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE

one yet published on the subject. Accompanying the history is a facsimile of the first newspaper printed in the Dominion. It was supposed that the Quebec Gazette was the first Canadian newspaper, but the Halifax Gazette here reproduced, appeared in March, 1752, twelve years before the Quebec paper saw the light. It consisted of only two pages 9 x 15 inches, and it is a lamentable fact, strikingly illustrating the mortality of the early newspapers, that not a single copy of the Halifax Gazette is known to exist in Canada. A copy, supposed to be unique, is in the library of the Massachusetts Historical Society in Boston, and after some trouble and expense, Messrs. McKim & Co. obtained a photograph of it. This souvenir alone is worth the price of the book, which is $2.00. To give an idea of the labor required in a work like the "Canadian Newspaper Directory," it may be stated that the book contains 30 000 separate facts, apart from its history.

The compilers have been at considerable pains to gather facts regarding newspapers of the past, and they have framed what appears to be a very complete table of the newspapers of all the provinces, as far back as 1864—just three years before Confederation. There were then in all British North America only 298 papers, of which 12 were in Newfoundland. At the end of 1891 these had increased to 1044, including Newfoundland which now has 11. In 1864 Manitoba had but one paper, now it has 57; British Columbia had 3, now it has 33; then the Northwest Territories had not a single one, though now they have 19. And though the increase in the other provinces does not bear so great a ratio,

IT IS STILL REMARKABLE.

The papers of Ontario have increased from 172 to 573; Quebec from 55 to 209; Nova Scotia from 25 to 80; New Brunswick from 22 to 48; Prince Edward Island from 8 to 14; Newfoundland alone stands with one less paper to-day than it had in 1864, and Newfoundland alone of all the British American Colonies, has remained out of the confederation. The progress of the press means the material progress of the people, and no doubt if the ancient Colony were now a member of the confederation, her newspapers and her resources would alike increase and multiply. In 1864 Canada had scarcely any of what are known as class papers. Now we have 26 devoted to agriculture and rural interests, 34 to the interests of benefit societies and brotherhoods, 10 to the law, 15 to medicine, pharmacy and hygiene, 15 to temperance and prohibition, 32 to literature, 7 to education, besides 29 published as school and college papers, and 43 to trade, finance and manufactures. There are also many papers devoted to other special topics. This new directory brings out the interesting fact that there are 160 religious publications in Canada, of which the Roman Catholic church claims 24 the Church of England 15, the Methodist 13, the Presbyterian 10, the Lutheran 6, the Baptist 6, while 26 belong to various denominations or are classed "unsectarian." There are 144 papers published in Canada in languages other than English. Of these no less than 126 are published in French, distributed as follows: 115 in the Province of Quebec, 6 in Ontario, 2 in Manitoba, 2 in New Brunswick and 1 in Nova Scotia. To show the remarkable advance the French Canadian press has made in the past 30 years, it is only necessary to mention that in 1864 only a single paper was issued in French outside the province of Quebec, and this was at Ottawa; while in Quebec itself the total number of French papers, according to the British North American Almanac, was but 18. In other words, French Canadian papers have increased more than six-fold in the Province of Quebec, and exactly seven-fold in the Dominion at large.

If you feel weak, tired, and all run down, Hood's Sarsaparilla is just what you need to build up strength and purify your blood.

"Like Magic,"

THE effect produced by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Colds, Coughs, Croup, and Sore Throat are, in most cases, immediately relieved by the use of this wonderful remedy. It strengthens the vocal organs, allays irritation, and prevents the inroads of Consumption; in every stage of that dread disease, Ayer's Cherry Pectoral relieves coughing and induces refreshing rest.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for thirty years and have always found it the best remedy for croup, to which complaint my children have been subject."—Capt. U. Carley, Brooklyn, N. Y.

"From an experience of over thirty years in the sale of proprietary medicines, I feel justified in recommending Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. One of the best recommendations of the Pectoral is the enduring quality of its popularity, it being more salable now than it was twenty-five years ago, when its great success was considered marvelous."—R. S. Drake, M. D., Bellot, Kans.

"My little sister, four years of age, was so ill from bronchitis that we had almost given up hope of her recovery. Our family physician, a skilful man and of large experience, pronounced it useless to give her any more medicine; saying that he had done all it was possible to do, and we must prepare for the worst. As a last resort, we determined to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and I can truly say, with the most happy results. After taking a few doses she seemed to breathe easier, and, within a week, was out of danger. We continued giving the Pectoral until satisfied she was entirely well. This has given me unbounded faith in the preparation, and I recommend it confidently to my customers."—C. O. Lepper, Druggist, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Self Application of Electricity

FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES BY THE

DORENWEND ELECTRIC BELT

And Attachments.

HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto

THE WORLD'S BEST.

ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliance. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT of QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular Systems.

Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.

Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and metal with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy them but, if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.

MRS. OSBORNE'S SENTENCE.

The Pearl Purloiner Gets Ten Months' Imprisonment With Hard Labor.

LONDON, March 10.—Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne, against whom the grand jury a few days ago returned a true bill for larceny and perjury, was arraigned for trial in the Old Bailey Police Court yesterday.

She pleaded guilty to the charges against her, and was sentenced to 10 months' imprisonment at hard labor.

Captain Osborne had a short interview with his wife after sentence had been imposed upon her. He then left the court room and retired to his house greatly affected at his wife's position.

THE IMPENDING STRIKE.

It Causes Much Alarm Among Miners' Associations and Manufacturers.

LONDON, March 10.—The officers of the two great miners' associations have become alarmed at the great increase in the price of coal. This increase has resulted in many manufacturers threatening to close their factories, throwing thousands of hands out of work. So menacing has the situation become that the miners' officials have telegraphed to the newspapers that the miners have no intention to adopt action that will result injuriously to trade or to the public.

Many British manufacturers have placed orders in Belgium for their coal supply, and the increased demand in that country has resulted in an increase of prices there.

The Durham miners who do not belong to the Miners Federation, are considering the advisability of accepting a 5 per cent. reduction, and it is thought that if they accept the lower rate of wages other miners will follow their example.

Address and Presentation.

On the evening of the 8th March, there was a large gathering of neighbors and friends at the residence of Mr. Edward Emmerson to take an affectionate farewell on the occasion of his removal to Manitoba, when the following address was read by Mr. Walter Dixon:—

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Emerson and family:

VERY DEAR FRIENDS.—As in the order of Providence, you are about to take your departure from our midst to your new home in the Northwest, our only apology for this gathering and taking you somewhat by surprise in the quiet of your home this evening, is to afford an opportunity to the members and friends of the Methodist church, of which you are highly prized members, to give an expression of their high appreciation of your valued friendship and our united Christian regard and esteem for you, as well as to assure you that your genial spirits and friendly relation have not only secured to you the love and approbation of the church of your choice, but also the confidence and respect of the entire neighborhood. We voice the whole section when we assure you that there is very deep regret in your removal from our midst. Our loss will be felt in the church, in the Sabbath school and in the social circle. Yet, trusting to the Guiding Hand we fondly hope by the blessing of God it may be overruled to your temporal and spiritual profit, as we feel assured it will be to the gain of the Prairie Province. As it is, the sterling worth in Christian character that gives intrinsic value and security to any country, we therefore congratulate the people of your new abode on the accession of a family characterized for their industry, moral honesty and noble Christian work in the several departments of the Lord's cause. You may be further assured that your friendly intercourse and social Christian fellowship amongst us will be among the pleasant memories of our life, when absent, although not forgotten by us. In conclusion, we hope for you a bright and prosperous future. Trusting by the mercy and love of Christ "In the bye and bye" to join you in our Heavenly Father's home, where there is no parting.

It is now with great pleasure we present you with these mementoes as tokens of our love and esteem.

Signed on behalf of all,

JOHN R. KINDRED,
WALTER DIXON.

MISS EMERSON REMEMBERED.

The following address and presentation was made last Sabbath to Miss Emmerson.

TO MISS EMMERSON.

DEAR TEACHER,—We the pupils of your Sunday School class having learned with deep regret that you are about to leave us, to make your home in a distant place, and cannot let this opportunity pass without showing our true respect for you as a teacher and true friend. As we were assembled here Sunday after Sunday, we always found you ready to lend us a helping hand in the way of directing our work, and trying to direct us to a higher sphere where we all hope to meet by and by. It was always a pleasure to us to be able to attend Sunday School, there to hear you explain so many of the blessed truths contained in the Bible. Your departure from our midst forcibly reminds us all that there is no lasting union of friends here below. In conclusion we wish you to accept this present as a token of our respect towards you, hoping you may be long spared to work for the Master and when life's journey is over be taken home to be forever with the Lord, is the wish of us all.

Signed in behalf of the pupils of your class:

LIZZIE KINDRED, SUSY BENNETT,
ADA SMITHSON, LOTTIE KINDRED,
LIBBIE TAYLOR, CLARA RUTHERFORD,
SARAH ROBERTSON, EDITH KENT,
JOSIE KINDRED.

The presentation was a beautiful lemonade set presented to Mr. Edward Emmerson, an extra pair of telescopic glasses, also a gold watch chain.

To Mrs. Emmerson a large silver sugar bowl, and one dozen silver tea spoons.

To Miss Rillie Emmerson a very beautiful album.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson, and Miss Rillie, made very appreciative and feeling replies. Rev. James Curtis led in prayer. The evening was delightfully spent in singing, recitations and addresses. The ladies served a very bountiful lunch.

It is not What we say

But what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that makes it sell, and has given it such a firm and lasting hold upon the confidence of the people. The voluntary statements of thousands of people prove beyond question that this preparation possesses wonderful medical power.

Hood's Pills cure Constipation by restoring the peristaltic action of the alimentary canal. They are the best family cathartic.

An inactive or torpid liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are best for old or young. dw

The Head Surgeon

Of the Labon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, lothing or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all disease peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flushes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUSON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

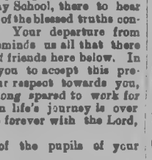
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.



CURE

Sick Headache and relieve all the troublesome dent to a bilious state of the system, such as Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Distress after eating, Pain in the Side, &c. While their most remarkable success has been shown in curing

SICK

Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint, while they also correct all disorders of the stomach, stimulate the liver and regulate the bowels. Even if they only cured ache they would be almost priceless to those who suffer from this distressing complaint; but fortunately their goodness does not end here, and those who once try them will find these little pills valuable in so many ways that they will not be willing to do without them. But after all sick head is the bane of so many lives that here is where we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

HEAD

ACHE

Won an Office, But Lost His Wife.

FORT DODGE, Ia., March 10.—August Lindhol worked at the polls all day yesterday and was elected alderman. When he returned home he found that Mrs. Lindhol had packed up her household goods and left home with her children, leaving word that she would not return. Mrs. Lindhol objected to her husband going into politics.

The Garden Hill Fracas.

PORT HOPE, March 10.—The coroner's jury which enquired into the death of John McLean of Garden Hill returned a verdict to the effect that he died from a gunshot wound inflicted by Thomas Forsyth.

The evidence was submitted to the crown attorney, who will take proceedings against Forsyth at the next assizes. It is probable, but it is not likely, that the latter will be confined in jail, as the evidence showed the shot to have been fired in self-defence.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

Cure for A Constipation and Head ache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

"German Syrup"

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and work late. At the beginning of last Winter I was on a trip to the City of Vicksburg, Miss., where I got well drenched in a shower of rain. I went home and was soon after seized with a dry, hacking cough. This grew worse every day, until I had to seek relief. I consulted Dr. Dixon who has since died, and he told me to get a bottle of Boschee's German Syrup. Meantime my cough grew worse and worse and then the Grippe came along and I caught that also very severely. My condition then compelled me to do something. I got two bottles of German Syrup. I began using them, and before taking much of the second bottle, I was entirely clear of the Cough that had hung to me so long, the Grippe, and all its bad effects. I felt tip-top and have felt that way ever since." PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines Co., Miss.

Ashburnham Charity Concert.

A charity concert in aid of two destitute families in the village, will be given in the Town Hall, Ashburnham, on Tuesday evening, March 22nd. The successful play, "The Irish Broom-maker" will be presented and other attractions will make the evening one of rare enjoyment aside from the commend able object of it. Further particular later.

School of Instruction.

A school of instruction for county delegates from the various lodges will be held on March 31st, under the auspices of the Cameron Lodge No. 312 I.O.G.T. in the R.T. of T. Hall. It is expected Bro. John L. Robertson, G. C. T., Bro. Thos. Lawless, G. and Mrs. W. L. Scott, G. S.J.T., officers from the Grand Lodge, Toronto will be present to participate in the important event. It is also probable that Bro. F. S. Spence Secretary of the Dominion Alliance, will also be present to take part.

Wabash Route.

A man going west should remember the great Wabash Route is the banner route to all south and south-west points. They run the finest equipped trains on earth. The only railroad using the palace reclining chair cars (free) from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. All trains go through the great tunnel at St. Louis. Time tables and all information from your nearest ticket agent or J. A. Richardson, Canadian Passenger agent, 28 Adelaide street east, Toronto.

The Coming Entertainment.

The evening to be given in the opera house by Peterborough Lodge No. 111 I.O. O.F., promises to be the event of the season. Before the entertainment there will be a grand street parade. The Patriarchs Militant will be out in full force with their magnificent uniforms. The 57th Batt. Band will march from the opera house to Brock street, and return. They will be guarded by a company of Roman soldiers. Secure your tickets early for the most entrancing event on record in the history of entertainments in our town.

Resolution of Condolence.

At a regular meeting of Peterborough Lodge Sons of Canada B. A., held Wednesday evening, the following resolution was adopted: Moved by Bro. Ray, seconded by Bro. Metheral, that we, the members of Peterborough Lodge, No. 13, Sons of Canada B.A., desire to place on record our deep feeling of sympathy for Bro. Charles Marshall in his sad bereavement in the loss he has sustained by the death of his affectionate mother. Resolved, that a copy of this resolution, with the seal of the Lodge attached, and signed on behalf of the officers and members by the W.P. be given to Bro. Marshall, and published in the daily papers. JAMES W. KENNEDY, W. P.; D. S. HARVIE, 1st V.P.

A Dangerous Fire Averted.

About 6.15 o'clock last evening Miss Mary Sanderson left a lamp setting on a dresser in a bedroom of her residence on George street. When she returned to the room a few minutes later she found the burning lamp had exploded and the furniture and other articles ablaze. By the timely arrival of assistance the fire was quenched, and what might have been a disastrous conflagration happily prevented. The dresser, which holder, some white skirts, a bracket and several other articles were burned. The damage sustained is slight. No theory can be advanced for the sudden explosion of the lamp. Fortunately no one was in the room at the time, as the glass flew into a million pieces.

Cricketing for 1892.

Their seems to be a probability as there is abundant possibility of securing a strong boom in town the coming season. Mr. Sam Ray, the veteran, is moving in the matter and collecting the names of several new arrivals in town, who are said to be first class cricketers. These, with what may be called our permanent resident material, combined, will form the elements of a strong eleven, such as will be able to restore the cricketing prestige and performance of Peterborough, which last season's record did not invest with any superabundant degree of lustre. It is to be hoped that an earnest and combined effort will be made to place the grand game of cricket in the forefront of manly sports which is its rightful place.

News Nuggets.

—Some dozen plasterers and bricklayers are at work making renovations in Gough Bros.' store.

—There was no police court this morning, no one slept in the cells last night, and no arrests have been made for a week.

—The hunting party which left town yesterday found no Reynard, no game or no luck of any kind. They returned home unsuccessful from the chase.

—The Belleville Intelligencer says:—"Mr Herford Ashley drove to the city to-day with a colt 9 months old, leading another a trifle over a year old. Mr. Lockett is driving a fine yearling colt."

—Every ratepayer should call at the Town Clerk's office and procure for himself the Engineer's report on the proposed sewerage system. The discussion of the system will come up at the public meeting, which the council appointed, to take place in the opera house on Friday evening, week.

—A great deal of furious driving is indulged in the north end of the town by several parties. Smith, George and Water streets seem to be special fine race courses. A number of youngsters while speeding their flyers not only engage in furious driving but whoop and shout in unearthly tones disturbing the residents in that locality.

—Peterborough Lodge No. 111 I.O.O.F., conferred the first degree upon five candidates last night. Bro. D. H. Moore, P.G., read Dr. Wild's famous lecture on "Secret Societies" before the members of the order. The attendance was very large, and Bro. J. Nugent, D.D.G.M., highly complimented the team and the lodge upon their excellent work. Among the visitors present was Bro. Cumming, of Norwood.

Personal.

The condition of Mr. J. J. Bresly shows no improvement.

Mr. A. E. Ostrom is spending a few days visiting friends in Belleville.

Miss Ida Scollie is confined to her room through an attack of la grippe.

Mr. Chas. E. Fulton, Orillia, agent for the Canada Land Company, is in town.

Mr. J. W. Doxsee, real estate agent, returned this morning from a trip to Omemee and Lindsay.

Mrs. Renfrew, mother of Mrs. Edward Peplow, Water street, is prostrated with an illness of a severe character for her advanced years.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Skuse, of Mount Horib, are at present occupying the apartments in the Snowden House. They are on their honeymoon.

Mr. William Dayman, Peterborough, was in town to-day. He came in to bid good bye to his brother, who left for Detroit this morning.—Port Hope Guide.

Mr. Herbert Kent left for his home in Vancouver, B.C., to-day. He will be greatly missed by the local sportsmen, with whom he has gone on several hunts.

Mr. A. McCallom, draughtsman of the Wm. Hamilton Manufacturing Co., leaves on Monday for Scotland. He will sail on the "Teutonic" by way of Liverpool, and will be absent some four or five months. Mr. McCallum has been suffering from the effects of malarial fever, and the trip is taken to the home of his birth and adoption to recuperate and visit his many relatives in Glasgow.

An Unfortunate Accident.

A Young Man Meets With a Painful and Perhaps Serious Accident.

Yesterday evening two young men from town, W. J. Thompson and Fred Dickson went out to Bridgenorth, being driven by Matthew Dean in one of Snowden's livery buggies. They started to return to town about 11.30. About mid-way between town and Bridgenorth, near the residence of Mr. John Finlay, the horse became restive and springing suddenly and the road being icy and sloping, Dean who was sitting in front between the other two, was thrown out carrying the robe with him, and the wheels passed over his head cutting it open. The other two were also thrown out, and the horse dashed on homeward, and reached Smith street, where he was caught unharmed. Dickson walked home, the parties missing each other in the darkness. This morning at two o'clock Mr P. Hartnett and another gentleman started for Bobcaygeon, using a cutter. The sleighing being poor, they were walking, one on each side of the cutter, when they came across Dean and Thompson. Dean who had, he claims, been stunned by the wheel, was found wrapped in the robe, but Thompson was found lying on the ground unconscious. He was carried into Mr. Jno. Finlay's residence and his friends notified. Dr. Yelland and others went out to the scene of the accident, and the young man was removed home. Dr. Yelland found that the fingers of his right hand were badly frozen, and it is not known yet whether amputation may be necessary or not. The fingers of the left hand, as well as both feet, were frost bitten, and his body was thoroughly chilled. He is resting well at last accounts.

Clearing Sale of Groceries.

As I am going extensively into liquors, I find it necessay to run off my entire stock of groceries to make room. So all requiring groceries will do well to bear this in mind as the stock must be run off within 30 days. W. J. MORROW, 340 George street.

Collegiate Institute Lecture.

The fifth lecture of the series under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society will be given in the assembly room of the Institute this evening. The subject of the lecture is "The working man in the middle ages," and the lecturer is Mr. Heap. A musical programme will also be provided. Admission 20 cents.

Mission Band Organized.

A Mission Band was organized on Wednesday, March 9th, in Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham, by Mrs. Kendry, district organizer. Twenty members joined as organization. The officers are:—President, Miss E. Smith; 1st Vice President, Miss Styles; 2nd Vice President, Miss E. Thom; Recording Secretary, Miss M. Hamilton; Corresponding Secretary, Miss W. Throop; Treasurer, Miss E. Throop; Organist, Miss A. Wood.

Another Accident this Morning.

The maxim "It never rains but it pours" seems fully established to-day and yesterday from the number of accidents we have had to record in Peterborough. This morning the Snowden House 'bus was down to the C.P.R. station to meet the 11.45 train going east. After the train had come in, the Grand Central 'bus was driven off, and the horses attached to the Snowden House 'bus started to follow. Master Archie Turcotte, son of Mr. Daniel Turcotte, Sherbrooke street, who is employed as bell boy around the House started to climb up over the front wheel to catch the lines and stop the horses. He was thrown off and a hind wheel of the 'bus ran over his right leg. He was picked up and put into Mr. Harry Drake's cab and driven to the Snowden House. It was not found necessary to call a doctor. His leg although badly swollen and bruised, is not seriously injured, no bones being broken. Happily no one was on the bus at the time the horses started. The team was stopped about half way between the depot and the hotel by Mr. Wm. Duncan before any damage was done.

Certificate.

Marieville, Sept., 12, 1882.

S. Lachance, Esq.—Sir, my dyspeptic condition is natural and hereditary; although it does not cause me much suffering, I require from time to time some remedy to aid digestion. To do justice to Dr. Soy's Remedy, I should say that of all the medicines which I have used, none have given me so much satisfaction as this preparation.

Believe me your very devoted servant,

A Worthy Remembrance

Mr. Wm. Moore, C. P. R. Station Agent Kindly Remembered by Fellow Associates on the Eve of His Removal to Toronwater—Sorry to Part but Hope to Meet Again.

A happy event and one not soon to be forgotten occurred in the ticket office of the C. P. R. last evening at precisely six o'clock. Mr. Wm. Moore who for the past two years and a half has been the genial and obliging station agent of the C. P. R. has received orders to remove to Toronwater and his fellow employees could not allow him to take his departure without expressing in some tangible form their high esteem and appreciation of his services and his many noble attributes and characteristics as an associate and a friend.

Last evening Mr. Moore was allured from his home on the pretext that the Company's auditor wished to interview him before leaving, and that he would arrive on the 5.45 p. m. train. Mr. Moore was consequently on hand at the depot to meet the senator. He was busily engaged in a conversation in the baggage room when he was requested to step in the ticket office as the operator wished to see him. Here he found all the Company's employees, some fifteen in number, and two reporters. The air seemed wrapped in mystery, but nevertheless he crossed the threshold and "boldly ventured in." The time for action was short, but taking time and opportunity by the forelock, Mr. James R. Baker, the courteous and obliging ticket agent, confronted Mr. Moore by reading the following address, while Mr. A. W. Wray, senior freight clerk, made the presentation of a handsome gold-headed ebony cane for Mr. Moore and a fine gold alarm clock for Mrs. Moore:

Mr. Wm. Moore, Station Agent, C.P.R.:—

DEAR SIR,—We your fellow employees of the C. P. R. in Peterborough have learned with very great regret that you are to be removed to a distance from the town where you have spent the past two and a half years, during which time we have learned to respect you both as a friend and a fellow employee of the "greatest line on earth." We have all noted the painstaking diligence with which you have watched over and promoted the company's interests in Peterborough; while at the same time you have done so with a kindness and consideration towards those over whom your position has given you charge, which has won our warmest thanks and appreciation. In earnest of our interest in your welfare, in token of our respect, and and as a remembrance of your old friends in Peterborough, we ask your acceptance of this gold headed cane, coupled with the wish that you may enjoy many happy years of health and strength and that you may never need it for any other purpose than a reminder of the friends you leave behind "on the line" in Peterborough. At the same time accept for Mrs. Moore, this gold alarm o'clock, which we hope will mark only happy hours for you and her and the family who may gather under your roof. Wishing you health, happiness and prosperity, we remain, your sincere friends.

J. CHRISTIE,	THOS BAKER,
J. MCDONALD,	A. W. WRAY,
C. CLEMENTI,	JAS. R. BAKER,
JAS. TEGG,	JOS. SNIDER,
WM. BULLEN,

Mr. Moore who was taken completely by stonishment and surprise could only make a brief reply. He said, "I cannot express my thanks to you for your many kinds words, and the kindness which you have shown me. I shall always cherish my relations and associations with you as among the happiest and proudest moments of my life. I had not the slightest idea before that you, my fellow employees, ever thought so much of me. I assure you that your kindness to myself and Mrs. Moore will never be forgotten, and I trust the pleasant relations which have always existed between us will be tendered and extended to my successor. Although I did not require anything of this nature, still I gratefully accept it and shall keep it as a reminder and memento of my stay and work among the C P R employees in Peterborough. Wishing you one and all, success and prosperity in all your efforts, and assuring you that your kindness and love will never be forgotten by me—not while memory lasts—I reluctantly take my departure from Peterborough."

The cane and clock were purchased from Mr. W. A. Sanderson. On the cane is engraved the following: "Presented to Wm. Moore by C.P.R. employees, March 10th, 1892."

Mr. Moore who was transferred from Norwood here, left this morning at 4 45 o'clock to take position of station agent at Toronwater.

Mr. W. B Bamford, of Elora, succeeds to the position of C. P. R. station agent at Peterborough.

The Inter-County Bridges Bill.

Mr. McKay's Bill Passed in Committee.

The Globe's "Legislative Notes" of Thursday says:—The great fight over the maintenance of bridges between the counties of Victoria, Peterborough and Northumberland was renewed this morning before the Private Bills Committee, when the bill introduced Mr. McKay (Victoria) to amend the act respecting the Township of Harvey came up. The original act passed in 1879 had the effect of removing the road used as a boundary line between Peterborough and Victoria and the bridges on it and also the road traversing Bobcaygeon, which therefore were maintained jointly, from the joint jurisdiction of the counties and casing the whole burden of maintaining them upon Victoria. Mr. McKay's bill proposed that these roads and the bridges known as "Big Bob" and "Little Bob" and "The Forest House," shall be again under the joint jurisdiction and be maintained jointly by Peterborough and Victoria. The same deputation of reeves of the different townships of Peterborough, headed by Warden Forster, which interviewed the Government last night, was again on hand and energetically opposed the bill. After a long discussion the bill was carried by a majority of one, the vote being 23 to 22.

Killed at Play.

LINDSAY, March 11.—Jack MacGachen, 9-year-old son of A. F. D. MacGachen, manager of the Bank of Montreal, whilst engaged in a game with several of his playmates, received an injury from one of them in the stomach. Inflammation set in and, despite the efforts of several physicians, death resulted.

Penetang Reformatory Fire.

PENETANGUISHENE, Ont., March 11.—The carpenter shop of the Reformatory was totally destroyed by fire last night.

The fire is supposed to have originated in the blacksmith shop. A quantity of lumber, coal oil, turpentine, tar, lead and iron piping, etc., were stored in the building. The walls of the building are still standing and only the top story will have to be taken down and rebuilt.

Mr. McCrosson places the loss at about $10,000.

Fire at Belleville.

BELLEVILLE, March 11.—John Stout's house and barn in Benjamin-street were totally destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss $500, no insurance. William Huffman's house adjoining was damaged and his barn destroyed. Loss about $550. Insured in the Queen.

A Chance in a Lifetime.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Curling Jottings.

The Bonspiel Concluded at the Rink—Other Notes of Variety on the "Roaring Game."

The President's medal competition was concluded at the rink last night after nearly two weeks of continuous playing for it. Skip R. M. Donaldson played skip Sam Ray, and the former won by four shots. Mr. Donaldson being the President of the Peterborough Curling Club has won the bonspiel, and therefore the medal which was given by him need not revert from his own hands as he has won the contest himself. The match lasted two hours and a half, sixteen ends were played and much interest manifested by the numerous spectators in the outcome of the contest. The ice was fairly good for curling.

Is highly gratified with Hood's Sarsaparilla. He was badly run down, had no appetite, what he did eat caused distress and he felt tired all the time. A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla effected a marvellous change. The distress in the stomach is entirely gone, he feels like a new man, and can eat anything with old-time relish. For all of which he thanks and cordially recommends Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is very important that during the months of March April May the blood should be thoroughly purified and the system be given strength to withstand the debilitating effect of the changing season. For this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses peculiar merit and it is the Best Spring Medicine.

March April May

The following, just received, demonstrates its wonderful blood-purifying powers:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen: I have had salt rheum for a number of years, and for the past year one of my legs, from the knee down, has been broken out very badly. I took blood medicine for a long time with no good results, and was at one time obliged to walk with crutches. I finally concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken one bottle the improvement was so marked that I continued until I had taken three bottles, and am now better than I have been in years. The inflammation has all left my leg and it is entirely healed. I have had such benefit from that I concluded to write this voluntary statement." F. J. TEMPLE, Ridgeway, Mich.
